Speaker Knew Time Keep Hat On—St. Laurent

BRANTFORD, (CP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent Saturday night lauded Hon. Ross MacDonald as one of the greatest speakers the Commons has ever had and as a man who knows when to keep his hat on, even when kings are around.

Speaking at a testimonial dinner in honor of Mr. MacDonald, the Prime Minister called him "one of my very dear friends" and said no speaker since Confederation has been greater than he and few have been his peer.

Mr. St. Laurent said Mr MacDonald's knowledge of the rules of the House is "remarkable" and "it is true to say he has become steeped in the tradions of his high office," one which is a century older than the office of prime minister in British tradtion.

He cited the time Mr. MacDonald participated in the ceremonies at the opening of the rebuilt British House of Commons in 1950 and led the procession of Commonwealth speakers with a dignity which won high praise.

When the dress rehearsal for the precession took place "Mr. MacDonald was told he should not wear his famous tricorne hat in the presence of the King. He thought quickly for a moment and then said he should because in Canada it is worn in the presence of the governor-general.

"He also recalled that in 1939 when the King and Queen were visiting Canada the speaker of the day had worn his hat in their presence. The authorities went away and looked up the records and came back and said yes, the Canadian speaker was right but that he was the only one who could wear a hat in the presence of his majesty.

"it is that careful attention to detail and passion for accuracy which has given Mr. Speaker MacDonald much of his deserved reputation."

Admits Breakin Jailed 5 Months

Volney Woodcock, 35, 404 Wellington St., was sentenced to five months in the Ontario Reformatory by Magistrate W. R. Philp in police court today when he pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking and entering Fanning's Laundry on King Street, Thursday evening, with intent to commit theft. He admitted having been sentenced on a number of similar charges previously.

ASKS FOR MIMICO

The father of several children, Woodcock said that liquor had been his downfall and asked to be sent to Mimico where he could obtain treatment for alcoholism. Magistrate Philp made a recommendation to that effect.

Woodcock was discovered crouching in a corner of the lunch room at the back of the laundry by the proprietor, whom police summonded after the automatic alarm in the building sounded. Five paper bags containing clothing were discovered and the desk in the office had been ransacked.

Police said that Woodcock smelled of beer at the time of his arrest and admitted having had "a few."

Harry Gainey Named Manager In Cooksville

Resume Hearing On Applications For Seaway Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal power commission today resumes its interrupted hearing on two applications for authority to join with Canada in construction of a giant St. Lawrence river power project.

The hearing, considering applications filed by the power authority of New York and Public Power and Water Corp. of Trenton, N.J., has been in recess since Jan. 12.

At the latter time the commission's own counsel, Willard W. Gatchell, moved that Public Power's application be tossed out. Examiner Glen R. Law has taken no action on the motion.

Neither, for that matter, Gatchell told a reporter, has public power—a private corporation—actually filed an answer to his motion.

Gatchell added he plans to seek a rule by law on the motion today. Gatchell contends the Public Power pl'ea'tion i ni's'aude'ate'—among other things.

WANTS TO HAVE ROLE

New York, whose application is supported by FPC counsel, seeks to be named the American entity in the joint development of the International Rapids section of the St. Lawrence river for power purposes.

Canada has already designated the Ontario hydro-electric power commission as the Canadian partner in the development.

Officials of Ontario hydro have testified they are ready to proceed with the multi-million-dollar development within a matter of hours after the American commission grants its approval.

New York witnesses have testified that the project, which engineers estimate will yield more than 12,000,000,000 kilowatt hours a year, will cost about $300,000,000.

Churchill Made No Commitment In U.S. Talks

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill told an uneasy British Parliament today he made "no formal or informal commitments" to President Dwight Eisenhower during their meetings in New York early last month.

Answering questions about the meetings, he said all his conversations were private and confidential and he therefore did not propose to make any statement about them.

"I can, however, assure the House that no commitments formal or informal were entered into by me," he added.

GREAT ADVANTAGE

Churchill went on:

"I am sure that it was a great advantage to me to make or renew these friendly contacts and I feel better equipped to form conclusions on the many complex issues on which cordial agreement between Great Britain and the United States is desirable and important."

Churchill also announced that Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden will make a statement about the island of Formosa Tuesday — a statement that is expected to express Britain's concern at a reported change in American policy towards the island on which Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist Chinese Army is based.

CGIT Girls Of All Churches Hold Service

"Be doers of the word of God, not hearers", said Miss Dencey McCalla, secretary of Girl's Work for the United Church, who was guest speaker Sunday night at Mark St. United Church, to open Christian Youth Week in Peterborough.

Girls, wearing their C.G.I.T. uniforms, from all the churches in Peterborough, comprised most of the congregation. Senior girls of the C.G.I.T. also took part in the service. Pat Weston read the call to worship, the scripture lesson was read by Joan McMillan; and Margaret Bowman led in prayer. The P.C.V.S. Double Trio, were guest soloists for the evening.

The theme "Be Doers of the Word of God" will be exemplified during Christian Youth Week across Canada, Miss McCalla said. The "Word" is the word of God, and can only be found in the Bible. For the Bible tells us how the Word of God became flesh, in the form of Jesus.

It takes both listening, and acting upon what the Bible says, she added, "He that has ears, let him hear." You have to hear not only with your ears, but with your mind and heart, wanting to understand, she said. "For there is none so deaf that will not hear" she concluded.

DEAR MIS SDIX: I am a girl of 17, undecided as to my career. I have a talent for painting and drawing, which has been highly developed, and I also am a talented singer. Which field do you think offers the best opportunity for me?

DANIELLE K.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You are certainly a lucky girl to have been so gifted. Your teachers are the best judges of the career you should follow, and if their opinions aren't satisfactory to you, consult the vocational guidance director in your local high school. I'm sure, however, that the teachers will lead you in the right path.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MIS DIX: At 22, although I have had several dates, my parents still object to every boy friend I have. I have been dating one particular boy for some time and we are quite in love with each other. But—my mother objects to him, yet gives no reason for doing so. She wants me to stop seeing him.

IRENE T.

ANSWER: Your mother is being very unreasonable to insist on your giving the young man up, while not providing a reason for her decision. At 22 you should be sensible enough to select your own friends, and you are well within your rights to insist on an explanation from Mom.

Miss Frost applied her brakes but was unable to stop the car because of the slippery condition of the street and struck Mrs. Armstrong, knocking her to the road.

Says Legislation Not Way Improve Morals

OTTAWA, (CP)—Rev. J. A. MacInnis of Orillia, moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, said Sunday he doesn't think legislation and censorship is the way to improve the morals of the country.

"The onus is on the church and parents through the process of education in the higher things such as truth and beauty," he said in an interview.

Dr. MacInnis said he did not feel indecent literature is a seribus problem, since it was read by only a fraction of society. It should not be a danger to youngsters if parents accepted their responsibility.

A certain amount of "judicious censorship" was necessary, but it came "perilously close to being too narrow and possibly infringing on the freedoms of the press."

"I do not believe we will make a moral generation through legislation against obscene literature or on observance of the Lord's Day and liquor laws."

Dr. MacInnis is in Ottawa on a three-day visit, the first since he was elected moderator last June.

Pope Can't Attend Special Ceremony

VATICAN CITY (Reuters)—The pope, convalescing after an attack of influenza, was absent today when delegations from Rome's basilicas and religious institutes came to offer him candles on the feast of the Purification of the Virgin Mary.

It was the first time in his 14-year reign that the Pontiff could not personally accept the traditional Candlemas gift. Msgr. Giovanni Batista Montini, the Vatican's pro-secretary of state, received them on his behalf.

In all parts of the world today Roman Catholics walked in procession with lighted candles and had them blessed in churches before mass.

The feast recalls the day when Mary, with her husband Joseph, carried her 40-day-old son to the temple for her ritual purification, in accordance with Hebrew law.

Let Vancouver Return To Football

By AL VICKERY

REGINA (CP)—Vancouver returned to big-time football during the weekend but not before stiff opposition was registered by Winnipeg Blue Bombers.

The Vancouver football club was granted a franchise into the Western Interprovincial Football Union for 1954 under special conditions when WIFU delegates met in a two-day conference here.

This action was taken Saturday when Calgary Stampeders, Edmonton Eskimos and Saskatchewan Roughriders voted in favor of accepting the west coast application.

Winnipeg delegates voiced strong opposition to the entry of a fifth team, but relented after the vote and made the decision unanimous.

LONG FAVORABLE

Edmonton and Calgary have long been favorable to the Vancouver bid, but it took a complete about-face by the Riders to swing the deal. Much of the credit for changing Riders' heart was a three-man delegation from Vancouver which visited the four participating cities and presented a good case.

Included in the conditions the Vancouver entry must meet or forfeit the franchise are: A stadium with a seating capacity of 15,000 by 1954; a certified report that 6,500 season tickets have been sold, and payment of all additional travelling expenses for the four other clubs created by Vancouver's entry.

After the Vancouver issue was cleaned up, the executive agreed to play the Ontario Rugby Football Union champions in a sudden-death game in the home of the Western titleholder, the winner to advance into the Grey Cup final against the Big Four champion.

Walter H. Sprague of Edmonton was elected president of the union, succeeding Ralph Misener of Winnipeg.

F. GLEN CORNELL, of R.R. 3, Omemee, recently appointed Dairy Herd Improvements Supervisor for Victoria County, assumed his new duties Feb. 1. He has been a member of the Grain Club, Tractor Club, and Calf Club. Last fall he placed first in all three. His duties will include supervision of some 25 herds in the county, owned by members of the Improvement Association.

Three-Dimensional Films Being Made By Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Twentieth Century-Fox is converting at once to a big new photographic and sound system so realistic, a spokesman says, that "a guy in the eighth row can kiss Marilyn Monroe."

The device, cinemascope, creates a third-dimension illusion, the studio announced Sunday, and presages an era "as far-reaching as the transfer from silent pictures to sound in 1927."

Fox's method permits filming in color and projection on a screen 2½ times ordinary size "so as to give almost life-like animation to the players. This creates the same feeling of audience participation as attendance at a performance by living players on the speaking stage."

Screens specially developed for extra brilliance may be any length desired to fit any theatre. The screen used in tests at the studio is 64 feet wide and 25 feet high and curves inward to a depth of five feet at the centre.

SIMPLE DEVICE

"Cinemascope is a simple, inexpensive color film device which simulates third dimension to the extent that objects and actors seem to be part of the audience. Its sound imparts additional life-like quality as it moves across the screen with the action," the studio said.

"Cinemascope will be made available to all studios, producers and theatres in the United States and to producers and theatres throughout the world as soon as additional equipment can be manufactured."

Fox announced the first cinemascope film in color "The Robe," based on Lloyd C. Douglas' novel, goes into production Feb. 16, with premieres planned for Oct. 1.

Meanwhile, three dimension production is spreading through other studios.

Producers Bill Pine and Bill Thomas are shooting "Sangaree" in a two-camera, three-dimension system developed by their releasing studio, Paramount. It requires viewers to wear polarized spectacles to get a three dimensional effect. So does the Natural Vision system, first used with the film "Bwana Devil."

Warner Brothers is shooting "House of Wax" in natural vision. Columbia starts "For Ticonderoga" in the same system in a week. M-G-M, with a similar system of its own, starts its first three-dimensional film, a western in three weeks. Universal-International is working on a system of its own.

Jimmy Durante Finds Double In Composer

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "That's my boy," exclaimed Jimmy Durante as he gazed at a young man who possessed the same sandpaper voice and outsized nose.

His "boy" was Jackie Barnett, Durante's composer, writer, confidante and imitator for more than a decade.

Barnett, who looks much younger than his 32 years, is also currently portraying the early - day Schnoz in "The Eddie Cantor Story."

"How come they didn't ask me to play the role?" asked Durante when he visited the set. "Put a toupee on my head and I'll look just like a juvenill."

But young Keefe Brasselle is playing Cantor, so that required someone even more "juvenill" than the ageless Jimmy. Barnett, who was seen in action by a talent scout at a Durante TV rehearsal, was chosen.

He has the Durante voice and gestures down pat, and the illusion is complete with a big nose from the makeup department.

After 11 years with Durante, Barnett has no trouble imitating him. In fact, his main trouble is not imitating Durante.

"I can hardly talk English any more, because of the years with Durante. The other night a girl corrected me because I kept saying 'dilemmia.' I had been with Jimmy so long that I had forgotten it was 'dilemma.'"

Barnett started with the trumpet-nosed comedian in 1941 and has written him about 300 special songs. He also writes on the TV show and acts as the voice of Jimmy's conscience, stages and sometimes appears in the night-club acts.

Nationalist Guerrila Raids Beginning To Pay Off Now

By FRED HAMPSON

HONG KONG (AP)—It begins to look as though the raids of Chinese Nationalist guerrillas on the coast of Communist China are paying off.

The Communists are diverting more troops into unprofitable, unwelcome and expensive guard duty which takes manpower and money away from Korea and the Communist effort to industrialize at home.

Red defence forces along the coast were nominal until mysterious guerrilla raids from the sea started about a year ago.

"Guerrillas from the sea" sounded to Hong Kong ears like something out of an opium pipe. No one except the Nationalist newspapers paid much attention to them until the Communists began to impose martial law on coastal areas, rounding up hundreds of "Nationalist sympathizers" and closing roads to all except the military.

FOLLOWED PATTERN

The raids followed a pattern. Small bands of expertly-trained men would land at night on an undefended point near a small Red garrison. The raiders would overwhelm the garrison, nab a few arms, prisoners and food, and leave. Usually they were reported operating from three small gunboats with landing craft.

Formosa, Chiang Kai-shek's island bastion, said nothing. Since the start of the Korean war, the U.S. 7th fleet has patroled Formosan waters to see that both Reds and Nationalists stayed on their own sides.

As the Korean war dragged on and the Reds stalled at the truce table, Chiang's men on Formosa learne dthe amphibious arts. There were more frequent appearances of the sea guerrillas and their gunboats.

Red coast defences became jittery and called for reinforcements.

SUDDEN PUNCH

Three months ago, the guerrillas threw a Sunday punch. They pulled a smashing raid that may have been almost division strength (about 10,000 men) and came back to their island base with 800 captives. Incidentally, the base was not Formosa.

A division is a lot of men to put on the water and bring to bear silently and quickly. They struck Nanjih Island, north of Quemoy, part of the Communist coastal defense network, and in three days of heavy fighting reported 2,000 Reds killed including the commander of the Communist 83rd division.

With 800 prisoners who have been counted and interviewed by neutral observers including correspondents, the pretense that Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists had nothing to do with the raids wears pretty thin.

ATTITUDES CHANGE

But attitudes have changed. The feeling here is that if Chiang can raid, let him. If he can invade, let him try.

The talk appears to be slipping from "raid" to "invasion" in 1953. This is partly a hope stemming from a "more aggressive" Asian policy expected of the new Eisenhower administration, in some quarters. It doesn't look like a solid hope yet.

The Communists seem definitely to fear invasion, possibly because they cannot trust their coastal population.

New Cardinals May Help Ease Heavy Burden Carried By Pope

By FRANK BRUTTO

VATICAN CITY (AP)—At full strength now for the first time in two centuries, the college of 70 cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church may ease the tremendous burden the Pope has carried for the last 14 years.

Spiritual leader of 425,000,000 Roman Catholics, the Pope has aged visibly in the post-war years in which the church's fight with communism has become almost total.

The seemingly frail Pontiff will begin the 78th year of his life next March 2. His birthday will mark the start of the 15th year of his pontificate.

This month's consistory in which he named 24 new princes of the church—among them Paul-Emile Cardinal Leger, archbishop of Montreal—to fill the college's roster was prefaced by the rupture of the Vatican's relations with Yugoslavia, its last diplomatic tie with any communist country.

Since the death in August, 1944, of Luigi Cardinal Maglione, Vatican secretary of state, the Pope has named none to succeed him, but himself has carried the top responsibility in this increasingly burdensome office.

How intricate and important its ramifications have become, as, one by one, diplomatic ties with Iron Curtain countries have been broken, was dramatically indicated by the Pope himself at the consistory.

He told the assembled cardinals that the two men he had chosen to head the list of the new princes of the church had begged him to be permitted to decline the high honor.

These were his chief assistants in the secretary of state office—Monsignors Giovanni Battista Montini and Domenico Tardini.

Vatican sources said one reason for their request, granted by the Pope, was that they might continue the work they have been directing for several years. The Pope named them pro-secretaries when the list of new cardinals was made public.

Several members of the Vatican curia, charged with administration of the sacred congregations, have doubled up on their tasks.

Two or possibly three of the four apostolic nuncios who have been created cardinals may be called to curia work.

The fourth, Giuseppe Cardinal Roncalli, apostolic nuncio to France, is spoken of as a possible candidate for patriarch of Venice, filling the vacancy caused by the death of Archbishop Carlo Agostini.

Apostolic nuncios, once they become cardinals, no longer may serve as nuncios.

Twelve Italian cardinals and one Frenchman, Eugene Tisseran, are now assigned to the Vatican curia.

Of the 10 Italian prelates elevated to the college of cardinals, in addition to the four apostolic nuncios, three already are engaged in curia tasks.

Reds Turn Over Railroad Chinese Find Worthless

By FRED HAMPSON

HONG KONG (AP)—Russia's return of the Changchun Railway in Manchuria to sole Chinese Red operation on Dec. 31 has about convinced Asiatic skeptics here that the Soviets didn't give up anything but a lot of expenses.

The turnback of this maze of tremendously vital rail links took place in Harbin. No less a personage than the Chinese premier and foreign minister, Chou En-Lai, attended while Russia sent Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushkin.

The fanfare that followed told about Russia's generosity and the "new international relations" among Communist countries, but not a word was said about farewells to Russian engineers, traffic managers, train crews, technicians, rail guards and administrators who shared the actual operation of the line with Chinese.

You don't have to know much about Chinese Communist propaganda to realize that Peiping never would pass up material like that—even if the trainmen were merely given other jobs in Manchuria.

To expert China observers in Hong Kong, it looks as if the same Russians are working on the same jobs on the same railroad system. Nobody here would bet the Soviet trainmen won't still be there at this time next year.

Under joint operations the costs of administering and running the railroad were shared by Russia and China. There was no mention of joint costs in the agreement reached at Moscow last fall for return of the line to sole Chinese operation.

Russia still retains occupation rights in the old Japanese Kwangtung leased territory which embraces Port Arthur and Dairen. These make up the most important terminals of the railroad inside Manchuria.

The Siberian terminals of the rail network already are Russian-controlled, so both ends are in Soviet control and Russian workers are presumed still on the line.

The official Communist organ Pravda hailed the turnback as an "example of the entirely new international relations among countries of the socialist camp." Skeptical Chinese are asking one another what that means.

At the moment, everything indicates the Muscovite still is on the railroad, still controlling the terminals and still getting a free ride.

UK PUTS THOUSANDS INTO DIKE BATTLE

Full Co-operation Given By Defence Department–Currie

OTTAWA—(CP)—George S. Currie said today he got the fullest co-operation from the defence department in preparing his sensational report on the army works services, and just smiled at a suggestion that the department had "intimidated" him. The Montreal accountant and former deputy defence minister made his long-awaited appearance before the Commons defence expeditures committee in a room packed to the point where interested members of Parliament, and others were forced to stand.

It was the most magnetic committee session in years but the first hour gave no sign of fireworks.

Mr. Currie, a grey, bespectacled man in a blue suit, said he found that the army works services was "overwhelmed" by the post-Korea expansion because it didn't have enough skilled men, couldn't offer enough money to get them and was saddled with an "obsolete" organization.

ELABORATES ON REPORT

He was elaborating on the report in which he described "a general breakdown" in control of the works services and made recommendations for improvement.

George McIlraith, Ottawa lawyer and parliamentary assistant to Trade Minister Howe, took up the first half hour with questions. The first time he reached a delicate point was when he noted that both in the report and in a three-page prepared statement Mr. Currie read today Mr. Currie said he got the fullest co-operation from the defence department and had full access to any information he wanted.

"I say this because there have been suggestions that you were intimidated," Mr. McIlraith said.

Mr. Currie smiled. when Mr. McIlraith added "I take it you had full access to all information," he answered "That is right."

Opposition members in the Commons have charged that Defence Minister Claxton overrode Mr. Currie's objections to letting the defence department have an advance look at his report.

TO FIND CAUSE

Mr. Currie emphasized that his main task in the seven-month investigation touched off by the Camp Petawawa irregularities was to find the cause of those irregularities.

He said the police handled the irregularities themselves and with competence to the point where most if not all have been uncovered and much of the stolen property recovered.

He had seriously considered not dealing with the irregularities in the report at all but decided that he would be expected to refer to them.

A FIRE THAT CAUSED NEARLY $20,000 DAMAGE early today at the Canadian Legion Hall, Murray St., gutted the south end of the top floor. The blaze started in the storage room, shown above, and spread to the small bar and a lavatory. Flames ate through the ceiling which had to be ripped down by firemen with pike-poles, such as the one beside the ladder. A large refrigerator was destroyed, a television set, chairs and other furnishings and 17 cases of beer. Water and smoke damage added to the heavy loss. Only injury was a sore eye to Captain George Gimblett who had a blazing ember fall on his right eyelid.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

House Promises To Help Flood Victims

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The aid of Canadians was pledged Monday to flood-devastated Britain, Holland and Belgium.

As mounting reports of the week-end havoc continued to reach Canada, members of Parliament at Ottawa unanimously expressed "the earnest desire of the Canadian people" to send help as soon as the stricken countries can say what would be best.

Other volunteer moves to collect flood-aid funds were started independently across the country.

Leaders of the many Netherlanders who have emigrated to Canada formed a special relief committee to raise money across the country among fellow countrymen. The money will be sent to the national disaster funds in Holland.

The campaign was started in Ottawa by the Netherlands-Canada Society, Ottawa, under its president, Dr. J. Auer, and was echoed at Vancouver by the Netherlands Society there.

USE RED CROSS

It is anticipated that most Canadian aid will be channelled through the Canadian Red Cross, which has already offered its stockpile of clothing, bedding and flood-fighting equipment stored at Geneva, Switzerland.

Cities such as Oshawa, Ont., and Victoria proposed relief funds.

Premier Bennett of British Columbia offered the province's aid to Britain. The Vancouver Province proposed editorially that a "generous portion" of the $500,000 remaining in a 1948 fund to aid Fraser valley flood victims be sent to Britain and the Lowlands.

Manitoba, which received widespread international help during the 1950 Red river floods, looked for some way to return that aid. Premier Campbell telephoned the British foreign office in London to express his province's sympathy and learn first-hand about some of the havoc.

Board Blamed For Price Rise

OTTAWA (CP)—The agriculture price support board was blamed Monday for "an inevitable shortage of butter in many parts of Canada forcing sharp increases in the consumer price."

W. K. St. John, secretary-treasurer of the National Dairy Council of Canada, said a shortage and increases in price are inevitable unless the price support board immediately resumes distribution of government-held butter stocks.

Mr. St. John said the board for "some reason officially unexplained" cut off sales a week ago.

Sales of government butter had been continuing since last November. Government accumulations resulted from the 58-cent-pound floor price of butter. The department has been selling its butter in wholesale lots at about 62 cents a pound.

He said responsible distributors feel there is not enough butter in circulation today to keep production moving through all channels to the consumer.

Canadian Engineers On Way To Holland

HAMELN, Germany (CP)—Forty-five Canadian engineers, equipped with power - driven assault boats, headed for The Netherlands today to help in the fight against the floods.

A detachment under Capt. Fred Huxstable of Toronto rolled out of Hameln to join with a party of British engineers. The joint group then proceeded in convoy toward the low-lying disaster areas of The Netherlands.

The Canadians will use their five assault boats to tow barges carrying equipment for building Bailey bridges. They will also staff vital drinking-water facilities in stricken areas.

The Canadians are from the 58th Independent Field Regiment, Royal Canadian Engineers. They have been standing by since Brig. J.E.C. Pangman, commander of Canada's 27th brigade in Germany, offered to help The Netherlands government. The bulk of the 27th brigade is stationed at Hannover.

Fired From Hospital Post

Held Windsor Job For 20 Years, Morgan Out

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — DR. P. J. G. Morgan was dismissed Monday night as medical superintendent of the East Windsor Hospital for the Chronically Ill. He held the post for 20 years.

The recently-appointed board of directors of the hospital unanimously agreed to pay Dr. Morgan three months salary as a separation allowance, amounting to a total of $3,000.

In a letter forwarded to Dr. Morgan, vacationing in Florida, the board said that in view of the recent inquiry into the hospital's affairs and the resultant reorganization, the East Windsor Health Association, governing body of the hospital, "cannot continue to retain you as medical superintendent."

Under Dr. Morgan's guidance as medical superintendent, the hospital expanded from a made-over private home in 1931 to the present 370-bed institution valued at $1,500,000. It is the second-largest hospital for the chronically ill in the province.

At one time during the hospital's growth, the city decided it could no longer finance its operation. Dr. Morgan is said to have found six men to back the institution financially.

These men were charter members of the East Windsor Hospital Association, a group of 28 when the hospital's affairs were being investigated last spring. They were nominal owners of the institution under provincial charter.

Cutter Sights Oil Slick In SOS Area

NEW YORK (AP)—The Coast Guard cutter Campbell reported to headquarters today it had sighted an oil slick and dye markers near the scene where a British troop-ferrying aircraft is missing with 39 persons aboard.

The Campbell said it had "sighted several large area oil slicks and dye markers" on the north Atlantic about 120 miles southwest of the position from which the plane sent out an S O S early Monday. The Coast Guard estimated that area was between 250 and 300 miles east of Argentia, Nfld.

BOUND FOR GANDER

The plane, a four-engine York operated by Skyways, Ltd., of London, was bound for Gander, Nfld., from the Azores.

The Campbell said it was searching the area in the midst of snow squalls.

Last report from the plane was received at Gander at 12:35 a.m., EST Monday. A short time later Gander picked up the S O S.

The plane was being used to ferry British troops between London and the West Indies.

Chiang Gives Approval

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)— Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek said today President Eisenhower's decision to lift the ban on Nationalist operations against the Red mainland was "not only judicious but militarily and morally sound." In a formal statement, however, Chiang gave no hint of any impending action against the Communists.

Firemen Quell $20,000 Fire In Rear Of Legion Hall

For an hour and a half firemen fought a blaze that broke out shortly after 2 a.m. today at the rear of the Canadian Legion Hall on Murray St. The small bar, a storage room and a lavatory — adjoining each other on the top floor at the south end of the building — were completely gutted.

Damage by a combination of flames, water and smoke is estimated at $15,000 to $20,000 by Fire Chief Ralph Leonard. Probably the whole annex will have to be rebuilt. Cause of the fire has not been definitely determined. Chief Leonard thinks it started inside the storage room, near a chesterfield.

The flames spread through the storage room to the lavatory next door, and then into the small bar that runs along the southeast corner of the biulding. They then licked down the winding staircase and damaged the mezzanine floor below.

DAMAGE FROM HEAT

When the firemen rushed up the stair case with hoses at the ready they found that from the mezzanine up it was "a roaring mass of flame." The fire-damaged portion is all in the annex of the building, on the south end. But damage caused by the intense heat, heavy smoke and the large volume of water from the firemen's hoses, extends throughout the whole third floor and all the rooms directly below.

Hurrell Dodds, secretary-treasur of Branch 52, Canadian Legion, said both the building and the contents were insured.

Guard Turns Queen Back

SNETTISHAM BEACH, England (AP—"Keep out, it's no place for sight-seers," said a constable who stopped a station wagon entering this flood-ravaged community Sunday.

So Elizabeth II, Queen of England, and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, who were in the station wagon, ordered the chauffeur to turn about, and get out.

The constable hadn't recognized the lady, and he was ruddy with blushes when told today he had turned back the Queen.

The Queen saw a great deal on her tour of the devastated region, and learned at first hand that the greatest need of flood sufferers was wood for their fire places to dry out homes as water receded. She ordered that wood be sent from her Sandringham estate, and lorry loads of it were being delivered today to Kings Lynn.

Many were encouraged by the Queen's show of personal solicitude.

Today, the Queen and Queen Elizabeth drove from Buckingham Palace to Benfleet to visit rest centres for the thousands rendered homeless.

Britain's Toll Reaches 514 Dead

Report 280 Breaches In Seawalls In Essex Alone

LONDON—(CP) —The toll in Britain's worst hurricane and flood in history hit the staggering total of 514 dead today. Thousands of troops and civilians, wet and exhausted, fought the English Channel and North Sea in a great battle to save other lives and lands still threatened.

While the nation mobilized for relief, the fight went on to bulwark the dikes against future floods. Four million sandbags were issued by the army alone to fight the "battle of the gaps." The giant operation was led by thousands of Royal Army engineers, air force men and sailors.

The town council of Great Yarmouth, almost in the centre of the stricken area, ordered emergency measures "on a full wartime basis" as the four-mile tidal basin threatened to burst its walls. Many small breaks already had been plugged by 20,000 sandbags.

NO REST

At Great Wakering in Essex, 250 engineers ordered to "work until you are told to stop" sandbagged all night to repair the 20-foot-high, two-mile-long seawall.

The receding waters along London's Thames banks were suspected by police of carrying 10 missing cans of poison hydrogen cyanide gas out to sea. One could kill anyone who might open it. Ten other cans were found lodged under windows in east London.

At the army's experiment station in Foulness, another flooded Thames island, work went on to save huge quantities of flooded secret equipment. No offficial would say what the equipment was.

Canadians Aid Flood Victims

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Communities across Canada are rallying quickly to the aid of disaster-stricken Britain and the Low Countries.

Mindful of the generosity of Europeans during the 1950 Winnipeg floods and the Fraser valley disaster of 1948, cities and towns are organizing hurriedly for an all-out program of volunteer aid.

The province of Ontario offered its assistance. Premier Frost today telephoned Prime Minister St. Laurent with a promise to act in whatever way is considered best by the federal government.

Leaders of the many Netherlanders who have emigrated to Canada in the last few years have formed funds of their own to aid the homeland. The KLM Royal Dutch Airlines has promised to ferry all relief supplies to Holland without charge.

It is anticipated most Canadian aid will be channelled through the Canadian Red Cross.

2 Dutch Villages Plead For Help In Race With Death

AMSTERDAM—(CP)—Icy flood waters threatened today to engulf hundreds still marooned by the hurricane and flood disasters already claiming 1,500 lives in Britain, The Netherlands and Belgium. While tens of thousands of troops and volunteers raced frantically to save lives and property and rebuild shattered seawalls and dikes, two Dutch villages appealed by radio for quick rescue from death. The burgomasters of Oosterland and Bruinisse pleaded urgently for amphibious planes or helicopters to evacuate their 3,877 villagers. They warned that if aid is not rushed there will be a "big loss of life".

It is feared the final total of dead in the three countries will surpass 2,000.

The damage from salt water to nearly 1,000,000 acres of flooded land in England, The Netherlands and Belgium was reckoned in uncalculated millions of dollars. In Holland alone 50,000 persons will have to resettle in new homes.

The sea waters were slowly receding in Britain, but in Holland distress calls still came in from isolated villages. There was fear in The Netherlands that new high tides might force the waters even further inland than the 40 miles so far reported.

This was the latest count from official and reliable unofficial sources:

The Netherlands—991; England—514; Belgium—2. Total—1,527.

Premier Willem Drees told the Dutch Parliament 50,000 persons will have to be evacuated from stricken areas, most of them under sea level and protected by dikes that broke in 60 to 80 places in the week-end flood. These refugees must be resettled in new homes. Drees called it a national catastrophe. It was the worst flood here in five centuries.

More than 600,000 acres including rich potato fields were inundated in Holland, 250,000 in England and a relatively small area in Belgium. Holland forebade the export of potatoes and imposed ceiling prices.

The desperate work of piling sandbags against the threat of new spring tides went on endlessly as rescuers continued to haul survivors from rooftops, attics, dikes and surrounded high spots where they had shivered days and nights in the snow, hail and icy winds.

Offers of aid and expressions of deepest sympathy poured in from Canada, the United States, and from neighboring Western European countries.

600,000 ACRES FLOODED

Prime Minister Churchill termed his country's tragedy a "national responsibility" and orders went out for servicemen and Home Guards to join the thousands of volunteers working around the clock in the grim work of rescuing the living, recovering the dead and bringing food and medicines to those huddled in makeshift refuges.

The first burials began in Holland.

British Red Cross Declines Canadian Help

LONDON (CP)—The British Red Cross Society today declined with thanks an offer of flood-victim aid from the Canadian Red Cross Society.

A spokesman for the British body said it will advise the Canadian society that for the time being at least "we will try to get by on existing stocks."

The Canadian Red Cross had cabled Sunday asking whether aid was needed and suggested that Canadian stores of clothing and bedding in Geneva might be used.

The Canadian offer was one of scores flowing in as news circled the world of Britain's flood disaster.

Meanwhile the Red Cross, the St. John Ambulance Brigade and the Women's Volunteer Reserve are concentrating on bedding and clothing for some 35,000 evacuees as their relief role.

Report Explosion On Carrier, Several Hurt

VALETTA, Malta (CP)—An explosion occurred today aboard the Royal Navy aircraft carrier Indomitable and one man was blown overboard. Several other members of the crew were injured.

The explosion took place in the hangar deck of the 65-plane vessel. The damaged ship later put into port here.

The 29,000-ton Indomitable was returning here for a flying-training cruise when the blast occurred, at noon today. Other ships are searching for the missing man.

NO EXPLANATION

In London the navy said no explanation of the explosion had been given. A spokesman declined to say whether it might have been sabotage.

Police in Britain still are investigating cases of suspected sabotage last week in two other Royal Navy fleet carriers, the 13,350-ton Warrior and her sister ship Triumph.

The Triumph reported "minor defects of an unexplained nature" in her machinery during flying exercises last week. A faulty electric cable with a nail driven through it was discovered in the Warrior while she was undergoing a refit in Devonport dockyard.

The Indomitable, built in 1940, arrived in the Mediterranean only a week ago.

Order Firemen To Disband

WELLESLEY, Ont. (CP)—Village trustees Monday gave the Wellesley fire department until Wednesday to disband and hand the department over to Joseph Logel, chairman of the board of trustees.

The dispute in this village about 12 miles east of Kitchener began early last month when the trustees dismissed fire chief Joseph Wagner. The firemen then resigned in support of their chief.

The issue went to Wellesley township council. David Low of the Ontario fire marshal's department said the township, not the village, controlled the department. Mr. Logel said the dismissal action was taken with the consent of the township. He then accepted the resignation of the firemen who, meantime, had been reinstated and organized another department with himself as acting chief.

The trustees said if chief Wagner and his men do not turn the department over to Mr. Logel by Wednesday they face an injunction and damages.

Walcheren Invaded Twice In 9 Years

Wage Never-Ending Battle Against Sea

By JEAN STENTON

The history of Holland is the story of a battle against the sea, and once again the Dutch have lost another round to their arch-enemy—water. Twice within 10 years, the people of Holland have had their dikes smashed and the salt water has poured inland, taking many lives and ruining the land they have struggled so hard to reclaim and protect.

The Dutch have not only built dikes to hold back the water, but converted lakes almost as big as inland seas into rich land. The fight against the sea is the most heroic and finest war which these people have fought and the struggle has formed their character.

Forty per cent of the nation would be under water if the dike builders had not pushed back the sea. There were periods of great activity alternating with others in which little was undertaken and with numerous setbacks as storms drove the water before them. Years of work have many times been lost in a matter of hours, to say nothing of lives and property.

Today Holland is reeling from one of her severest disasters. Hardest hit are the island of Walcheren at the mouth of the Scheldt; provinces of Zeeland and Northern Brabant in southern Holland; the Frisian island of Texel; Graveldeel—55 dead; twin islands of Goeree and Over-Flakkee—40 casualties; in the province of Zeeland, 32 drowned; North Beveland, 60 square miles totally under water; Schouem-Duiveland, also out of touch. Rotterdam and Dordrecht, two biggest cities in the flood area, are apparently out of danger.

WALCHEREN EXAMPLE

The death and destruction in any of these areas is appalling. But since the island of Walcheren is better known to thousands of Canadians, it can serve as an example of the tragedy and courage for all of Holland.

The lovely island was once known as "The Garden of Zeeland." Then came the Second World War. Damaged in 1940 with the German occupation, the country and its people suffered still further as the Allied armies advanced on Germany.

To many Peterborough soldiers as well as other Canadian veterans, the name Walcheren means heavy casualties — both military and civilian. It was a great battle and the sacrifices which the Dutch had to make were heavy. The Germans had occupied the area along the Scheldt, including Walcheren, and in order to have Antwerp as a free port, the Allies had to capture this section.

Walcheren was a veritable fortress for the Germans. It seemed almost impossible to take, surrounded by water. But the Allies employed an exceptional weapon. They enlisted the services of the old Dutch enemy—water. It was hard for the people to see their beautiful island sacrificed. But they realized it was absolutely

WAGE BATTLE

THE PEOPLE OF HOLLAND are fighting fiercely to drive back the sea which has broken through the dykes as in Walcheren above. This is the second time in 10 years that the salt water has created havoc in a peaceful island. In 1946, the hardest job of securing the sea walls and reclaiming the land had been completed. With the weekend storm, the job must be done once again.

Taylor Takes Command

Van Fleet's Successor Begins Briefings

SEOUL (AP) — Lt.-Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor arrived today and began a round of briefings prior to launching a personal survey of his new command—the 8th army.

The famed paratroop "jumping general" of the Second World War flew in from Tokyo shortly after outnumbered South Koreans drove off 650 attacking North Koreans on the frozen eastern front. The battle line elsewhere was quiet.

U. S. Sabre jets patrolled MiG alley, but for the first time in 16 days failed to flush any Communist planes.

Taylor will take over as United Nations field commander from retiring Gen. James A. Van Fleet. He said the change in command would come within a few days at a time designated by Gen. Mark Clark, UN Far East commander.

Taylor said he would continue Van Fleet's planned expansion of the South Korean Army.

The new commander called on the South Korean president, Syngman Rhee.

"The American people are intensively behind our effort here," Taylor told newspaper men. "I think they will support any reasonable action."

Will Outline Budget February 19

Earliest Date Used In Many Years; Taxes May Be Cut

OTTAWA — (CP) —The budget is coming Thursday, Feb. 19. It will tell Canadians whether higher or lower taxes are in store and may give a clue as the possibility of an election.

Finance Minister Abbott announced Monday in the Commons that he will bring down on that day the government's annual financial statement. It is one of the earliest dates in many years and two months ahead of last year.

Hopes for tax relief hinge on the generally-accepted belief that this is the last budget before a general election. Pre-election budgets often mean lower taxes. That was the case before the 1949 election.

Mr. Abbott has said that lower taxes depend on increased production. That statement, coupled with the buoyancy of the Canadian economy, has engendered predictions on Parliament Hill of decreased levies, especially in personal income tax.

EXTENDED DEBATE

An extended debate developed on the government's proposal to appoint an associate defence minister. A Progressive Conservative amendment calling for a closer definition of his responsibilities was defeated by a vote of 111 to 52.

Mr. Abbott's choice of an early budget date appeared to have two possible explanations. It fits into the drive to end this session of Parliament by May 1 so members can attend the Queen's coronation June 2. Past sessions have run into June and July. It also supports persons who forecast a snap-election this spring.

However, Prime Minister St. Laurent said during the week-end in Brantford, Ont., that any election this year likely will be in the fall. One must be called by August, 1954.

Oct. 5 and Oct. 12, both dates a Monday, have been mentioned as the likeliest times for a fall election.

The government's financial needs already have been made known. The estimates tabled last week showed that the government expects to spend a record $4,404,976,236 in the fiscal year starting April 1.

Canadian Engineers May Go To Holland

HANNOVER, Germany (Reuters)—Canadian Army engineers at nearby Hamelin stood by Monday night, ready to go to the flood-stricken areas of the Netherlands, should the Dutch government require their help.

No Canadian troops are engaged in rescue or rehabilitation work so far, a Canadian Army spokesman said.

The 27th Canadian infantry brigade is stationed in the Hannover area.

House Promises

All members in the Commons at Ottawa supported the motion of sympathy and promised aid moved by Prime Minister St. Laurent and seconded by George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader.

It expressed "the earnest desire of the Canadian people to manifest their sympathy to the sufferers in such concrete form as, after more accurate information is available about the exact need, will prove to be the most helpful... ."

Through the reigning monarchs of the United Kingdom, The Netherlands and Belgium, it expressed sympathy to those stricken by "the appalling disaster."

Spokesmen for all parties recalled the help given by those countries to Canada at the time of the Red river flood and in other disasters.

Mr. Drew suggested that the Commons Speaker, Hon. Ross Macdonald, be named at once as chairman of a committee to co-ordinate relief campaigns across the country. This could hasten aid once it becomes clear what form the aid should take.

Firemen Quell

The alarm was turned in by three people about the same time.

Constable Sherman Keliele was patrolling his beat about 2.15 a.m. at the Aylmer-Murray St. intersection. He noticed wisps of smoke coming from the rear of the Legion Hall and a "reddish glow."

"Then there was a puff of smoke," said Constable Keliele, "and the fire increased."

He raced east along Murray St. to the home of Arnold Beatty, 226 Murray St. There he phoned in the alarm.

At about the same time Mrs. Verna Rashotte, a housewife who lives in an apartment at the rear of the Legion Hall, looked out of a side window and saw flames in the Legion and gusts of smoke coming out of the eaves. She also phoned the fire department.

Russell Finley, the caretaker, was cleaning up in the basement beverage room when he was tipped off that the building was on fire.

SAW NO SMOKE

"I had just been upstairs about 10 minutes before," said Mr. Finley. "I walked through the recreation room and down the back stairs (past the storage room where the blaze started) and there was no sign of smoke or fire then.

"I was downstairs piling up chairs when somebody came to the east side of the building, rattled on a fan, and shouted 'fire'! I grabbed couple of extinguishers and went up the back stairs but there was too much fire and smoke; so I turned in the alarm."

The annex portion of the building will probably have to be torn down completely. And a new roof will have to be put on.

In the storage room about a dozen chairs, a couple of old chesterfields, and some other furnishings were destroyed. Both it and the lavatory will have to be rebuilt as nothing remains now but charred timbers.

A double-door refrigerator in the small bar was badly damaged, 17 cases of beer were either broken or made undrinkable, and the interior of the room was also gutted. All the floors are intact but water seeped down through them into the main hall causing some damaged, and into the kitchen which will require a new ceiling.

Water also dripped down into the basement beverage room, causing some damage to the cooler.

CHARRED DOOR

The centre of the blaze was just outside the back entrance to the recreation room. As the door was closed the flames did not get through, but the heat was so intense that it charred the door and the woodwork around the door, and it peeled plaster from the ceiling in a wide arc inside the recreation room.

A television set, some 30 feet from the door, was heavily damaged; varnish on the rafters, as far away as the centre of the room, was blistered. Both pool tables were covered with a grimy soot and will have to be cleaned.

The whole interior of the recreation room will have to be washed and renovated.

The last big fire at the Legion was early in the Second World War when about $25,000 damage was caused. It broke out in the beverage room downstairs, broke through the floor of the main hall in a couple of places, and damaged the kitchen and upstairs rooms.

Pearson Deplores Acts Of Political Witchhunting Within Canada's Borders

GUELPH—(CP)—Communism has both a "fifth column of disciples and a sixth column of dupes" in Canada but that is no excuse for political witchhunting, External Affairs Minister Pearson said Monday night. He said the threat of Communism within Canada from these "crypto-Canadians" is a real threat which requires "vigilance, protective measures and, whenever necessary, effective acti[illegible]. But he add[illegible]

[illegible] a prep[illegible]reu spee[illegible]n, fears o[illegible] them raise "a counter-threat to freedom," demands for extreme procedures and counter-measures "which go beyond the requirements of the situation and which, if carried to their logical but probably inevitable conclusion, might produce a remedy almost as bad, and with about the same result, as the disease."

"This counter-threat to freedom, though in Canada it has not yet reached the danger point, is one against which free democracies should be on guard. Otherwise we may one day find that we have created a tyranny in the name of protection against tyranny."

COMMUNIST THREAT

The leaders of communism wanted nothing more than to unleash "the vicious process" of internal divisions and bitter controversies about what to do about Communists.

"The stronger we become to resist external aggression, the more anxious the Communists are to weaken and divide us internally, especially by fostering suspicions, settling class against class, group against group. . . We assist in that work if we permit or encourage witchhunting, guilt by association, accusation by implication, if we sit idly by and allow all the progressive elements in our society to be lumped with Communists as 'Reds.'"

Mr. Pearson spoke at a citizen-of-the-year banquet sponsored by the B'Nai Brith. A presentation was made to Gordon Grierson, elected Guelph citizen of the year.

Secretary-manager of the Royal Knitting Company, Mr. Grierson has been active in the YMCA for many years and served on the planning board.

KOREA EXAMPLE

Mr. Pearson described Korea an example of "propaganda of the deed," a deliberate aggression designed to panic the West. It had boomeranged because the West had not panicked and had been spurred into action.

The results, however, "will be changed for the worse if, because of the fear, we go too far in our defence plans and policies: if they become provocative militarily and crippling economically. At the moment, however, that is certainly the lesser danger."

Two Dutch

A young Dutch farmer, trapped by the flood waters, carried his ill wife to the attic only to stumble near the top of the stairs and drop her into the water below to drown. A father was rescued clutching his tiny infant, born two months prematurely in a flood-menaced attic. Two volunteers trying to save a herd of stranded cattle drowned when their cart overturned into the flood waters.

The dead xx para 8 dl

The Thames estuary in south-east England and the Zeeland section of southwest Holland emerged as the chief centres of death, destruction and misery wrought by the hurricane-fanned giant waves and tides which crashed inland during the weekend, smashing everything in their path.

STILL ISOLATED

Many sections of Holland still were isolated, with as-yet-unrecorded dead. Early today, 48 hours after the disaster struck, word finally reached Amsterdam that 200 persons had drowned in the tiny village of Stavenisse.

An exhausted messenger from the burgomaster of Oude Tonge staggered to safety telling of 180 corpses piled high in a shed on the twin islands of Goeree and Over Flakkee. The same messenger said 1,500 persons spent their third night on an open dike, in sleet and snow, without water or medicine.

Another 70 persons are missing from the village of Stellendam, on the same island.

REFUGEES POUR IN

From dozens of stricken towns and villages in England and Holland the refugees flowed into hastily set up camps and centres. Many of them were ill, most of them hungry, all of them homeless.

With communications still widely disrupted, Dutch officials as yet could make no accurate estimate of the missing or homeless. Up to 1,500 square miles were estimated flooded—most of the 23 islands of Zeeland and south Holland and some of the world's richest soil. More than 50 Dutch cities, towns and villages reported deaths.

amsterdam add dl flood rdup

Offers of help and sympathy came from all parts of the world. Canada will start mobilizing aid as soon as the stricken countries can say what would be best. It probably will be handled through the Canadian Red Cross.

Officials in Britain and Holland met to assess the damage and make plans.

CAN'T ESTIMATE TOLL

From the submerged Dutch island of Schouwen-Duiveland an official radioed early today that the "number of deaths is not estimated." The town of Zierikzee there was reported under five feet of water and a tug and oil tanker left to evacuate survivors.

The fate of some 8,000 people on the island of North Beveland, in the lee of Walcheren, was unknown. One report said the island was completely under water; a further report said evacuation was under way.

Allied armed forces in Europe rushed construction and relief supplies and personnel to the Netherlands. Lt.-Gen. Manton S. Eddy, U. S. commander in chief in Europe, ordered in 300,000 sandbags, 30,000 spades, six helicopters, 15 slow planes, 200 amphibious "ducks," landing craft, and numerous specialists. Many other units were on the alert to move in when needed.

Charge $40,000 Embezzlement

TILLSONBURG (CP)—A railway employee has been suspended here pending investigation of alleged embezzlements totalling $40,000.

The employee, whose name was not made public, is under investigation over reports he swindled persons who sought advice in bringing relatives to the country from Europe.

Complaints to police said the employee accepted money with which he was to arrange passages. Instead of turning it over to the proper agencies, he allegedly pocketed the money and informed the customers that ships "were all filled up." Some of the cases are said to go back more than a year.

Officials said the money was spent on horses and high living.

HORROR STORIES

The survivors — many of them badly injured and gravely ill from exposure — brought from the flooded areas new stories of horrors unmatched since the war.

One woman, trapped in her house in Felixstowe, heard a mother screaming all night, begging someone to "open the window and take my baby." Later she saw the bodies of children floating in the streets.

Damages to two Royal Navy ships at Sheerness, in the Thames estuary, were estimated officially at £1,000,000. They were the frigate Berkeley Castle and the submarine Sirdar, both battered and knocked on their sides.

The 15,000 people of Sheerness were without electricity. They suffered, too, from an acute water shortage and the sewer system was blocked.

HUGE DAMAGES

Huge damages were suffered at two oil refineries on the Thames estuary. One will be out of commission for several weeks.

The Queen and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, visited Norfolk and talked with the homeless refugees. At one rest centre, a child not knowing who the lady in the fur coat was, chanted cheerfully: "Pussy cat, pussy cat, where have you been? I've been to London to see the queen."

The government's special flood relief co-ordinating committee already was in action. One big question was how the seawalls in stricken East Anglia would be rebuilt and where the money would come from.

Churchill has promised the government will help on the distress fund opened by London's lord mayor "on a scale to be announced when the magnitude of the disaster has been assessed."

Agriculture Minister Sir Thomas Dugdale told the House of Commons Monday that rebuilding the sea defences "will present one of the greatest civil engineering problems we have ever had to face."

He said there were 280 breaches in the seawalls in Essex alone.

Firemen Battle Pulp Fire For Three Hours

CAMPBELLFORD— (ENS) — Firemen battled a smouldering fire in processed pulp for three hours in the two-storey warehouse of the Gair Company of Campbellford Ltd., 60 Trent Rd., before subduing it.

Cold weather made it impossible to ring the alarm bell and firemen had to be phoned individaully after the alarm was turned in at 5.45 a.m.

Several tons of pulp were destroyed in the blaze, but how much and the value of it is still not known.

The company, operated by Percy White, runs a pulp mill. It has many tons of the processed pulp in the frame stucco covered building.

BEGAN IN BASEMENT

It is believed the fire started in the basement boiler room over one of the blower heating units. Spontaneous combustion was thought to be an unlikely cause. Very little damage was done to the building itself.

The fire generated considerable heat and clouds of steam arose when water was poured. The mixture of the steam with smoke made the fire appear much worse than it was.

While the fire was still burning, firemen helped carry out the undamaged pulpwood and much of the pulp that could not be removed will probably be salvaged, said Mr. White.

BOMBED DYKES

To flood Walcheren, the British bombed the great sea dyke of West-Kapelle on October 4, 1944. A great breach was made and the water poured in over the land. The inundation was completed by the destruction of dykes to the east and west of Flushing and around Veere. The Germans then were forced to make a stand either in the dunes or on the dykes.

The defences of Walcheren were so seriously weakened then, that after the fall of Breskens (opposite Flushing) to the Glengarrians, the Allies were in a position to land at Flushing. Prior to the landing of the 52nd Lowland Division, 38,000 shells had been fired into the town. In spite of that it took four days to capture. The liberators of Flushing just beat the Canadians into Middleburg.

As soon as the battle swept on, the patient Dutch began the first steps of reclamation. Turning back the sea at Walcheren has been one of the unsung achievements of these people following the war. Three thousand Dutchmen worked on the closing of the dykes. They had to stand up to their knees in water and mud. They shivered in the cold mist and penetrating winds.

Engineers, contractors and laborers all fought in one big community to gradually narrow it down, yard by yard. They were filled with hope and then with disappointment, but they were never beaten. There were four big gaps in the dykes and a typical one was closed at Nolledijik, northwest of Flushing.

This was the heartbreaking schedule:

July 20—a gap of 160 yards wide
July 27—a gap of 180 yards wide
August 9—a gap of 150 yards wide
August 10—a gap of 190 yards wide
Auguts 21—a gap of 50 yards wide
August 22—a gap of 30 yards wide (a.m.)
August 22—a gap of 70 yards wide (p.m.)
Sept. 2—Nolledijk closed
Sept. 25 — Nolledijk collapses again
October 2—Nolledijk closed.

AMAZING ACHIEVEMENT

The closing of this dike was amazing. Three thousand men fought and won, assisted by technical material. As soon as it was no longer possible to form a normal piece of dike they used ships, torpedo nets, cement blocks and parts of artificial harbors. The story is told of one engineer who said he wouldn't be surprised if a herd of white elephants was tossed into the gap

What was completed during the winter of 1945-46, and crowned with success in February 1946 is one of the finest pages in Dutch history. In this manner Walcheren was saved and the dikes built again. However, it still had to be made habitable and the walls reinforced.

There were 12,000 seriously damaged buildings and in a short period they were largely repaired. The first harvest yielded 30-60% of the sown soil, despite salt water damage. New trees were planted in place of the stark dead ones. Death had ruled over Walcheren, out now life started afresh.

DEATH RULES AGAIN

Now death once again rules over the island. In only seven years after this magnificent undertaking was completed, Walcheren has been invaded by waves again. Her casualties are high and may go higher. The land must be reclaimed all over again and the dikes renewed. It is a challenge which the people of Holland can be expected to answer once more with grim determination to win.

The name "low country" is an apt one, for a large part of the soil is below sea level. In several drained areas where millions live and work, the ground is 16 feet below sea level.

About the year 1200, a large area of Holland was inundated. In the years after that, the first efforts were made to recover the lost territory. They realized the necesity of dikes. The first water boards date from that time. These are independent public bodies which administer certain well defined hydraulic units. Members are elected by and from the landowners concerned. These boards play an important role in the older districts.

IMPROVED TECHNIQUE

An important advance in the drainage technique was made after 1500 when windmills were used. The wind was made to serve a good purpose, to drain the areas below sea level. There were great advances in the 16th and 17th centuries. In 1852, there were 45,000 acres in the neighborhood of Amsterdam and Haarlem reclaimed.

When this storm subsides, the latest in technical equipment will be used to beat back the sea. But it will depend even more on the sturdy, patient citizens of Holland to rebuild their country again.

Clearing Weather To Help In Search For 3 Planes

HALIFAX—(CP)—Sea and air searchers looked to clearing northern skies today for new hope in the long and weary hunt for three downed planes and their 50 occupants. The weather office here predicted good flying conditions over Labrador, where a crippled RCAF Lancaster crashed Sunday in the snowy wastes southeast of Goose Bay. Nine men were aboard.

Snowflurries were forecast over the North Atlantic, but winds were expected to abate from the fury which kept all but one of 11 search planes from reaching the area where a British airliner disappeared Monday.

The big four-engine York, peacetime version of a Lancaster, had 39 persons on board when she was last reported 360 miles southeast of Gander, Nfld. They included British servicemen, their wives and 13 children bound for Jamaica.

SEE NO WRECKAGE

An RCAF Lancaster circled the reported crash area Monday and reported no sign of wreckage or survivors. Two other Lancasters and two American C-47s continued the search during the night, and today five Lancasters and five American aircraft set out for the crash area.

A British freighter prowled through icy, pounding seas without success and three United States Coast Guard cutters continued a surface search during the night.

Eleven Dakotas from the air navigation school at Summerside, P. E. I., droned over Labrador throughout the night in search of the missing Lancaster. Today 12 Lancasters from Greenwood, N.S., and Goose Bay joined in.

Blinding snow thwarted searchers Monday.

The Lanc was returning to Goose Bay airport with two motors useless when it disappeared. It had been diverted from a routine training flight to hunt for a Philadelphia-owned civilian aircraft missing since Friday on a trans-Atlantic hop from Goose Bay.

No trace has been found of the plane or its two occupants.

PETERBOROUGH FLIER

In addition to the crew members identified Monday, the air force released these names of the others aboard:

FO Douglas David Richard Wood, navigator, Peterborough; next-of-kin, mother, Peterborough.

FO Thurland Mabury Tate, radio officer, Ingalls Head, N.B.

Cpl. Roger Lalonde, flight engineer, Kirkland Lake, Ont.; next-of-kin, wife, Greenwood.

He had obtained his information about the irregularities from the RCMP and Provost, had tested some of their findings but was mainly concerned with tracking down the cause.

Mr. Currie, dealing with the problems facing the works services, said they were handicapped by "great delays" in getting the civil service commission to approve changes in their manpower establishment, by the inability of the army to appreciate the need for certain skills and by pay scales so low they couldn't attract competent men to look after the technical stores.

He said he soon found, after starting his investigation last April, that the department was acting "to improve conditions."

Plowmen's Group Stresses Youth

TORONTO (CP)—The emphasis was on youth when the annual meeting of the Ontario Plowmen's Association opened here Monday.

Speakers told of the group's efforts in recent years to arouse the interest of farm youth in both the mechanical and practical side of farming.

G. S. Moggach, field engineer for the department of agriculture, discussed the government's program in relation to 4-H tractor maintenance clubs and junior farm machinery groups organized last year.

Real "Birdie"

NEWCASTLE-UPON-TYNE, Eng. (CP)—Driving off at the sixth hole at Westerhope golf course Fred Prior scored a genuine "birdie." His ball killed a pigeon in flight. The bird will be stuffed and placed on the clubhouse trophy shelf.

Heavy Snowfall In Ontario Slows Traffic

TORONTO (CP)—Five inches of snow fell in the Toronto area Monday—the heaviest in the province—and slowed traffic. Several minor accidents were reported.

Described by the weatherman as a "minor disturbance," the storm moved across Southwestern Ontario, dumped three inches on St. Catharines and blanketed the Hamilton district.

The department of highways described the main area of snowfall as running south from Peterborough and Kingston regions.

Light snow was reported at Ottawa.

RASH OF ACCIDENTS

There was a rash of accidents in Oshawa and many cars pulled off the highways to wait for better visibility.

A dozen accidents were reported in Hamilton and one boy was injured. Police said district roads are heavy with snow, but passable. Snowplows are working to clear highways.

Stock Market Trading Slow, Prices Weak

TORONTO (CP)—Stock market trading continued to slow and prices continued weak in early afternoon dealings today.

Volume for the first three hours totalled 2,247,000 — some 800,000 shares lower than Monday's third-hour figure. Most of the volume was supplied by speculative trading in low-priced mining stocks.

A majority of the active "penny" issues showed small losses, led by New Larder U which dropped 23 cents in a turnover of 156,000 shares. Ladulama, New Highridge, Nubar, Rix, Villbona and Orlac slipped, Kelore made a small gain.

Steels led the losses in the industrials and papers, textiles and miscellaneous issues also slipped. Constructions held firm although Canada Cement dropped $6 and manufacturing companies, banks and utilities gained.

Senior golds were firm but McIntyre dropped 50 cents. East Malartic was weakest in juniors, dropping 22 cents. Holding companies mixed.

Higher-priced base metals gained but most others slipped. Mindamar Anacon and Noranda led the losse

A few sharp losses weakened the western oils as Britalta dropped 55 cents and Pacific, 37 cents.

Charge Paratrooper With Murder

Former Girl Shot on Stratford Street

STRATFORD (CP) — A 24-year-old army paratrooper was charged with murder Monday, four hours after his former girl friend was shot and killed on a busy city street.

Pte. Reuben Henry Norman, a native of Wellesley in the Kitchener district, was charged with the pistol slaying of 17-year-old Jean Marie Satchell, a drug store clerk.

Attached to an airborne platoon of the army service corps at Camp Borden, Norman showed no emotion as Magistrate A. F. Cook read the charge and remanded him until Friday.

The shooting took place 50 yards away from the Stratford police station and as a crowd gathered about the crumpled body of the young girl, Norman walked towards the police headquarters and gave himself up, the gun still in his hand.

SEEN ARGUING

Witnesses said they saw the girl and a soldier arguing as they walked along the street. Suddenly he whipped out an automatic, put it against her head and fired. She fell screaming to the sidewalk as he continued to pump bullets at her.

Inspector Joe Taylor had heard the shots, and running out of the station, met Norman in the middle of the street. He made a grab for the gun, but Norman handed it to him saying:

"It's all right. You can have it. I won't need it any more."

Dr. Alex Sinclair of Sebringville, who was near the scene of the shooting, hurried to assist the girl. She was still alive, but died before arrival at hospital.

REJECTED SUITOR

Relatives said the girl who was living with her grandparents here had turned down Norman and had found another boy friend.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Satchell and her two brothers and a sister live in the Gadshill district about five miles from here. She left Stratford Collegiate last June after completing grade 10 and had been working in a Stratford drug store.

...es' Bylaw Contested Cobourg Court

COBOURG (ENS) — The tree conservation bylaw passed by counties council for Durham county some years ago, was tested in a police court action Monday. The defendant was Charles Chapman of Pontypool, former reeve of Manvers township.

The bylaw was found to be defective in that it did not define the exemption clause sufficiently, and Magistrate R. B. Baxter dismissed the charge.

J. C. M. German, QC, acted for the defendant and Harvey Brent appeared for the Crown. The charge was that Mr. Chapman had cut undersize trees during the period of May to July 1, in 1952.

Howard Millson tree commissioner for the Ganaraska Conservation Authority, said that he inspected the property in question, some 20 acres of woodlot. There were some logs still lying around and he estimated that 20% of them were smaller than the ten-inch minimum diameter set by the bylaw for a specified distance above the ground. The trees he found cut were in good condition and undamaged or otherwise defective He found some lying on the ground which were less than six inches in diameter at a measured distance of 4½ feet above the ground.

Cross-examined by German, the tree commissioner agreed that in felling a tree, smaller nearby trees could be damaged when it came down. He said that he didn't think that the remaining trees, in some parts of the woodlot, would help conservation of soil moisture to much extent.

John Moore said that he had sold the property in Cavan township to Mr. Chapman last year. On occasions he had gone by the woodlot since that time, and noticed some cutting going on in July by a Mr. Buatt. The wood was being trucked out.

Malcolm Kirk, forester of the Department of Lands and Forests, stated that he visited the woodlot in September of last year and had observed that a great deal of cutting had gone on, much of it smaller than the legal limit of ten inches.

German told the court there was no evidence that Chapman, or anybody working for him, had cut wood for other than use by the defendant. At the time that Buatt was cutting the wood in July, Chapman was not the registered owner of the woodlot.

The deed was executed on July 16 and Mr. Chapman was not the legal owner until that date. The bylaw stipulates that it shall not interfere with the rights of the occupant in cutting trees for his own use.

Magistrate Baxter commented that the bylaw was lacking, in that it doesn't specify what is meant by the clause "for his own use." The magistrate expressed the opinion that the prosecution should have shown on whose authority the wood was cut and if it had been taken to the mill and cut up for sale. Accordingly he ordered the charge dismissed.

Stole Briefcase Didn't Remember

LINDSAY (ENS). — Elmer Brooks of Lindsay was convicted of theft by Acting Magistrate R. I. Moore in Lindsay Police Court Monday morning, and was sentenced to six months in jail.

He was accused of stealing a briefcase from a car on Lindsay's main street Saturday. He was arrested in a drunken condition by Constable William Mosley of the Lindsay police, with a briefcase belonging to Clare Staples, a Lindsay real estate salesman.

Brooks stated that he had no recollection of having a briefcase in his possesion, and denied having stolen anything in his life before, although Crown Attorney Jordan read a list of 10 former convictions of the same nature.

14 Apply For Post Of Lindsay Assessor

LINDSAY (ENS)—A total of 14 applications were received at last night's meeting of town council for the position of town assessor. Most were from out of town. Council decided, after much discussion, to set the matter over until next week's meeting, when the applications of four men will be reviewed. There was some support last night for the appointment of acting assessor James Ellam who formerly assisted assessor Kilner before he left the town's employ.

Mayor Lamb expressed doubt that Mr. Ellam could handle the job, but several members of council backed his appointment.

See Quick Return Of Bus Service

LINDSAY (ENS)—Buses may be due for a quick return to Lindsay streets following approval by town council of an application, presented last night by a Lindsay resident, to replace the Lindsay Lines service which was discontinued last month.

Albert Crimmons, a former bus driver in the town, asked council for the privilege of bringing a bus service back to the town, and promised better buses to do the job, replacing the "wrecks" he claimed the Lindsay Lines had used in their service. Crimmons said he would bring in two new buses and try to keep the same schedule formerly operated by Lindsay Lines, using three buses.

Council approved the application with the stipulation that the same half-hour service be maintained with a ten-cent fare. Council also made the condition that Crimmons would have to give a month's notice on discontinuing the service. The service will start February 20. Mayor Lamb commented that he viewed with disfavor the Lindsay Lines' move in stopping the service without warning to the public or to council.

Rotary Plans Hospital Aid

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — Campbellford Rotary Club has undertaken furnishing the waiting room, and supplying oxygen equipment for the new Campbellford Memorial Hospital when it opens here next spring.

President F. G. DeCarrol outlined a plan to the members at the luncheon meeting Monday, under which the club will raise $1,000 for this purpose.

A captain for each of four teams was named, and he in turn drew the names of club members from a hat. Each team consists of some 10 members. It is their objective to raise $250 among their group within six weeks.

President Frank DeCarrol promised a new $10 hat to each man on the team raising most money.

Election of officers and directors will be held at the February 16 meeting.

Minor Traffic Toll From Snow And Wind

BANCROFT (ENS) — Only two minor accidents were reported to police Saturday night as a severe snowstorm and high winds made side roads and highways hazardous.

At Maynooth a car driven by Roy Lockwood of Bancroft skidded on icy roads and collided with a parked car owned by Gerald Jackson, Trenton, causing minor damage.

While attempting to turn into a side road at L'Amable, five miles south of Bancroft, Jack Laundrie, Boulter, collided with a sign-post.

Obituary

WILLIAM H. ASHTON

CAMPELLFORD (ENS) —William H. Ashton, a well known and highly esteemed resident of this town for the past 72 years, died at his home here Sunday in his 95th year. Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon.

A native of Little Britain, Mr. Ashton married Nellie White in 1884. She predeceased him in 1945.

Surviving is a daughter, Mrs. W. A. Johnston of Campbellford; three grandsons, Ashton Johnston and Jack Johnston of Toronto, and Doctor Donald Johnston (Major), who is at present serving in Korea. There is one brother, Wesley Ashton, in Alberta.

Mr. Ashton came to Campbellford in 1881 to assist in the construction of the plant of the Trent Valley Woollen Mills, now Campbellford Cloth Company. He was a foreman machinist on construction. Up to his retirement a number of years ago, he had served 50 years continuously with the cloth plant.

He was active in church work. He was a former Methodist, and later United church member. He served as an elder and honorary elder and as treasurer of the Sunday school. He was at one time a commissioner on the public utilities commission of the town. In recent years he spent most of the summer at his cottage at Presqu'ile Point.

The Rev. D. M. Smith of St. John's United church, conducted services from the family residence on Tuesday afternoon. Burial was in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

Campbellford Council Has Heavy Agenda

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — Campbellford town council held its regular meeting on Monday evening, with all members present.

R. J. McGregor addressed council requesting the Loyal Orange Lodge be allowed to hold the Orange walk on July 11 in the town. The date marks the 100th anniversary of the establishment of the Orange lodge in Campbellford. The request was granted.

APPROVES LOT SALE

Council approved the sale of property located on Front Street, adjoining the PUC office, to Thomas Gillibrand. Mr. Gillibrand received the lot for the sum of $1 plus legal expenses for transfer of title.

It was decided that all requests from groups and organizations for grants from the council be turned over to the chairman of the finance committee, for consideration when preparing the budget.

TRY FOR NEW INDUSTRY

A motion was made to have Mayor R. J. Locke contact the Hon. W A. Goodfellow and request the minister to go to Toronto together with the industrial committee of the council, and the committee of the local Chamber of Commerce, to interview the Trade and Industry branch of the Ontario Department of Planning and Development.

Replies to an advertisement place in an English newspaper, by the town, were read by the mayor. The advertisement sought inquiries from British firms, with the idea of establishing branch plants in Campbellford. One reply from a sheet metal working company that would employ 200 semi-skilled and unskilled workers drew the attention of the council. The company would train the semi-skilled workers and wanted to know what facilities are available.

BRITISH FIRMS REPLY

Another reply, received from the Multi-Purpose Alloys Limited, and still another from the Freshel Engineering Company Limited, were both promising.

Replies to all these firms will be made immediately.

It was agreed that all correspondence concerning industrial expansion in the town would be acknowledged immediately by the clerk.

ROAD PROGRAM

Councillor P. H. Macmillan reported for the road and bridge committee, and moved that all road machinery be repaired, all necessary tile be ordered, and arrange for a quota of 500 bags of cement from Godden and Sons Lumber Company.

Truck and snow removal and loading rates remain the same as last year. No wage increase would be considered this year for the town foreman.

Councillor Ness reported for the police committee and said he felt a certain obligation to the widow of the late police chief George Hardy. The police committee will bring in a report at the next meeting. Chief Hardy paid into a pension plan, started a little over a year ago by council, but anything his widow would receive from this source would be negligible.

REPLACEMENT FOR CHIEF

Councillor Ness also offered two alternatives in securing a new chief of police for the town. He said the council could advertise the job, and accept applications from the two present constables, as well as from any others who wish to apply, or they could make Constable W. E. Cargin officially the acting chief, until such time as council decided what to do.

Council adopted a motion to have Cargin continue as acting chief, until police committee brings in a recommendation as to advisability of having him continue as chief.

CORONATION PLANS

Council decided that they would consider plans for a celebration on June 2, Coronation Day.

A lot at the rear of the bowling alley was offered for sale at a price of $150.

Mrs. Isaac Watson

The funeral service for Mrs. Isaac Watson of 3125 Trumbal Ave., Detroit, who died Thursday after a prolonged illness in Detroit, was held at the Comstock funeral home in Peterborough Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Watson was born and educated in Lakefield, daughter of the late James H. Preston and the late Mary Ann Frise.

She leaves her husband, Isaac Watson; one daughter, Mrs. William Cartolano of Detroit; and a brother, James Preston of Omemee.

Mrs. Watson was a member of Detroit Presbyterian Church and was a member of the Damanac Rebekah Lodge. The Rev. H. Kaye of the Lakefield Presbyterian United Church conducted the funeral service.

The pallbearers were: William and Gordon Watson of Orono, James Preston Jr. of Peterborough, Herman Rusaw of Norwood, Bruce Fitzgerald of Selwyn and Allan Preston of Smith Township. Burial was in the Lakefield Cemetery.

Foresters Elect Lew Blackwell Chief Ranger

Lew Blackwell was elected and installed Chief Ranger of the Peterborough Court of the Canadian Order of Foresters Monday night.

Retiring Chief Ranger Errol Hess was presented with the PCR's jewel by W. Booth, who conducted the installation and presentation ceremonies, assisted by H. Hamilton, who acted as high marshal for the installation.

Make Wrong Guess

TORONTO (CP)—Suburban York township spent $500 on 25 extra chairs to accommodate the turnout expected for Monday night's council meeting, the first to be held at night in an effort to attract public-spirited residents.

One public-spirited resident showed up.

Two Fined $75, Costs For Impaierd Driving

Two men were each fined $75 and $2.50 costs or 45 days in jail by Magistrate W. R. Philp in magistrate's court today, when they pleaded guilty to charges of driving while their ability to do so was impaired by alcohol.

Crown Attorney J. A. Bradshaw, QC, said that Fred Scott, 31, of Cavan, had driven over the centre line of the highway and sideswiped the fender of another vehicle.

Walter Hawara, 31, 674 Reid St., while driving away from the front of a hotel, backed into the front of another car and the bumpers locked.

John Murphy, 40, no fixed address, was fined $10 and $2.50 costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of being drunk.

No Special Coins For Coronation

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott said in the Commons Monday the government does not plan to mint coins to commemorate the Coronation of the Queen.

He said in reply to Frank Follwell (L—Hastings South) that new coins with the Queen's effigy have been issued by the mint. The government does not plan designing new ones for the June 2 Coronation.

5-Year Term For Seguin To Be Appealed

VICTORIA (C)—The attorney-general's department Monday appealed the five-year prison sentence imposed on Henry Seguin at Williams Lake, B.C.

Seguin, also wanted for murder in the gun slaying of taxi driver Leonard Hurd of Maxville, Ont., made an abortive attempt to hold up the Williams Lake branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce Dec. 16. He shot bank manager Leonard Hellier in the hip and then was felled by an RCMP bullet in the chest after a posse cornered him in the Cariboo badlands.

HEARD IN MARCH

Deputy attorney-general Eric Pepler said the appeal will be heard at the March sitting of the Court of Appeals at Vancouver.

Seguin was first charged with attempted murder. The charge was reduced to wounding with intent. Pepler said the department felt the five-year sentence was too light, and added that he had not approved reduction of the charge.

The appeal order means that Ontario provincial police will not be able to return Seguin east until the British Columbia charge has been disposed of.

"This Order Implies No Aggressive Intent"

President Eisenhower's first State of the Union message showed, as much in its tone and its reception by Congress as in its terms, that the United States has indeed new policies and new leadership. It had the freshness and range of a man new to office, surrounded by new advisers. With the sweep of an outsider brought in to analyse a complex situation—the world itself—and his directness of approach to the heart of the matter, President Eisenhower cleared cobwebs which had been accumulating in the previous administration's cupboards, removed from American government the tiredness and tatters which had marked it in foreign eyes, and even in his generalizations on policy gave positive direction where, for almost a year before the elections, there had been fog and inertia.

* * *

It is said that a country's foreign policy does not change, because it is based on national self-interests which are the same and continuing, no matter what the colour of the government. This is only hypothetically true. The roots may be the same, but the American soil is now getting different vitamins. The applause which greeted President Eisenhower's statement that the American fleet will no longer keep Chinese Nationalists penned away from the China mainland showed this. Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist troops, like the native troops in Korea, are to be a branch of American military policy, which in President's Eisenhower's mind, as revealed in his speech yesterday, is a prime part of foreign policy. In fact, the new direction of American foreign policy is militant. That is what Congress cheered.

* * *

Other nations with troops committed to U.N. and therefore to American charge, may not be as cheerful. When foreign policy is closely equated with military policy, rather than with diplomacy, sabres rattle. When President Truman in 1950, ordered the fleet to protect Formosa against Chinese Communist invasion and at the same time ensure that Chiang Kai-shek's forces did not rashly make sallies into Communist China, Chinese Communists were not fighting U.N. troops and Americans. Now they are, President Eisenhower pointed out:

> "There is no longer any logic or sense in a condition that required the U.S. Navy to assume defensive responsibilities on behalf of the Chinese Communists . . . I am therefore issuing instructions that the Seventh Fleet no longer be employed to shield Communist China".

The reasoning is specious, many outsiders may be pardoned for believing. The original order was given only two days before the attack on Korea, when the State Department knew that it was about to be launched. No one can believe that Red China needs protection from Chiang Kai-shek's troops, which Mao's armies had already driven out. The real reason for the order was to prevent the Chiang Kai-shek nationalists from foolhardy action against the Chinese mainland which might result in an extension of the war to China proper. Chiang's troops have been provisioned, equipped and to some extent directed, by the United States. They still are. Yet President Eisenhower says "This order implies no aggressive intent on our part". We fear that this statement will not carry conviction in many parts of the world, Communist and non-Communist. What in fact the order removing the fleet does is to invite the Chinese nationalists to make war raids on Red China. These nationalists are still members of U.N. and their troops are as dependent on the U.S. as the South Koreans are for their bread, guns and military advice.

* * *

Americans are desperate to end the Korean war. To permit the use of Chinese Nationalists in harrassing forays against China proper may be a useful diversion and cause China to retrench in Korea. It is a calculated risk. President Eisenhower said that the only way to win the peace was to win the Cold War. One may whisper! "Even if it makes the Cold War hot?"

Legislation Cannot Create Virtue

We are in agreement with the Moderator of the Presbyterian Church, the Rev. J. A. MacInnis, in his opinion that laws and censorship cannot improve the morals of our country. We are impressed, also, by the common sense of his statement that indecent literature is not a serious problem in Canada, as it affects a comparatively small part of the population. Mr. MacInnis made these remarks during a visit to Ottawa, a city which is at present conspicuous for its attempts to create virtue by process of law.

Books which might be considered obscene under certain circumstances are offered for sale everywhere in Canada. But these books can only be described as mildly obscene, and obscenity is not their whole purpose; they are usually stories of adventure, spiced with sexy passages, or else they are about people in degraded social conditions, whose way of life is in part a reflection of the misery of their economic circumstances. Nobody is likely to argue that these books are uplifting, but we doubt if anyone who reads many books would think them particularly harmful.

Our own opinion is that these books will do no harm to young people who read a reasonable number of books in a year; if their homes are places where reading has its place as a pastime, and where good books can be found, boys and girls will not read "shockers" exclusively. And it must be recognized that young people—and most people, indeed—like to read a sensational book now and then. If they read a book which contains a few lurid and sexy passages, we do not think that they will be eager to put into practice what they have read; it is more likely that the book will satisfy what is, after all, a natural appetite which society does not permit them to gratify by direct methods.

Further, the suppression of sensational novels of the kind which can be sold publicly will simply create a market for the kind of obscene book which is sold on the sly; such books outdistance in obscenity anything which is now likely to fall into the hands of a reader who picks up his books at the corner drugstore.

Mr. MacInnis is right; boys and girls from decent homes are not in danger from the kind of books which they will read in the ordinary, uncensored course of Canadian life. And parents want an extremely dangerous thing when they want laws to do for their children what they should do themselves; the law cannot provide a ready-made moral code for adolescents whose parents have neglected their duty.

Precaution In Alberta

Our attention has been called to a public notice which has appeared in the press of the Province of Alberta. The important part of it reads thus: "Please note that your application for 1953 car licenses will not be accepted unless you can produce proof that your car has been 'Inspected and Approved' within the past twelve months. Your current Approval Certificate number must be inserted on your 1953 application for registration". In other words, if your car is not in reasonably good mechanical condition you cannot get a license.

It is hard to tell how valuable such a regulation is. Some accidents are caused by faulty mechanism in cars, but this is not the principal cause. Neither is drunkenness or bad driving conditions. The chief cause of accidents, according to Ontario statistics, seems to be simple carelessness. Nevertheless, every minor cause of mishap that can be eliminated should be a matter for official and personal care. We would like to have some figures which would give us an idea of how effective the Alberta system of compulsory inspection is in practice. If it makes an appreciable difference in the number of accidents attributable to mechanical fault, Ontario should give thought to adopting a similar regulation.

Forty Thousand In Round Figures

The Assessor's rolls show the total population of Peterborough now numbers 39,348. The figures may not be as exact as a formal census, but they are close enough for general calculation. They include 1,080 persons added by the recent annexation of part of Smith township. We mention the population figure not to gloat about Peterborough's metropolitan or cosmopolitan status, but to contrast the assessor's fairly precise estimate with sign-painters' figures at the highway entrances to the city. For instance, the Department of Highways' sign at the east entry on Number 7 proclaims that Peterborough's population is 35,000. It's high time that the Department sent out a man with a can of paint and a brush to change that figure to another, more truthful figure: 40,000.

NOTES AND COMMENT

We hear that progress is being made toward three-dimensional TV. What! And have those people right in the room with us?

A Texan won the 1953 Burlington Liars contest by not only telling one of the biggest lies of all time, but one of the oldest.

"Few modern boys will ever know the fun of choosing a new horse blanket," writes the Ottawa Journal, in one of its spells of nostalgia. Oh, come—they call them sports jackets now, but what's the difference?

An English judge warns men against marrying saintly women, as they are hard for ordinary people to get along with. But then, look how many ordinary, sinful and erring wives manage to live with the vast number of saintly husbands!

Kremlin Makes Most Of Fear

By EDWARD CRANKSHAW

THE KREMLIN is making the most of the atmosphere of fear which has now dominated Moscow for the past fortnight and has meanwhile spread to the farthest frontiers of the Soviet Union.

During the past week there has been no new major action to develop the terror; but the pot has been kept quietly simmering with a number of small actions, inconsiderable in themselves, and with two deliberate reminders of the serious trouble brewing over the affairs of the nine doctors with their alleged poisoning activities.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE FIRST REMINDER occurred in the oration delivered on the anniversary of Lenin's death last week, this time by Mikhailov, who has lately been elevated from leadership of the Komsomol (Youth Organisation) to the Presidum and Secretariat of the Central Committee. The second occurred in a "Pravda" article, which celebrated in a somewhat arbitrary manner the eighteenth anniversary of the death of the old Bolshevik, Kuibyshev. He, too, the paper pointed out, had been poisoned by his doctors.

✧ ✧ ✧

WE ARE STILL in the dark as to what individuals are being prepared for the slaughter; nothing new has happened in the past week to throw further light on the position of the most convenient candidates for a show trial in Moscow, or on the struggle for power among the various contenders in the Kremlin. One thing, however, has become much clearer; and that is, that a major theme in the action to come will be concerned with the clarification of the Kremlin's policy toward the non-Russian peoples of the Soviet Union.

✧ ✧ ✧

IN ADDITION to the crescendo of purging and self-criticism in the party organizations of the national republics, and the unceasing attacks in the press on the crimes of bourgeois nationalism and separatist aspirations, some of the larger guns have lately been brought to bear on this extremely thorny subject. Thus, while the right of secession is assured by the 1936 constitution and is boasted about by fellow travellers everywhere, it has always been a commonplace inside the Soviet Union that any republican government indicating a desire to break away from the Soviet Union would be asking for trouble.

✧ ✧ ✧

LATELY, however, there has been a number of pronouncements in which for the first time for many years the Kremlin has come out into the open with its views on this subject, and stated in unambiguous terms that its considered policy is towards greater centralisation in the Soviet Union, dominated by the Russian people.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE MOST IMPORTANT of these pronouncements occurred, as already reported, in a special "Pravda" article by Poskrebyshev, Stalin's chief private secretary for many years. He said flatly that it would be impossible for the Soviet Republics to develop an effective economic life if they were separated from the Soviet Union. He said, further, that it would be impossible to put up an effective resistance to the "Imperialist aggressors" if separation were allowed.

✧ ✧ ✧

LATER in the same article, and with an air of casual unconcern, Poskrebyshev offered the first official explanation of the main idea behind Stalin's own celebrated essay on linguistics, now two-and-a-half years old. It was, in effect, he said, an essay to demonstrate the dominant role of the Russian language in unifying the various peoples of the Soviet Union and enriching their national cultures and languages.

✧ ✧ ✧

WHEN I MYSELF interpreted Stalin's essay in this sense when it first appeared, the interpretation was assailed indignantly by Communists and fellow-travellers. Now, Poskrebyshev, speaking from the Kremlin, has made it clear that Stalin's curious excursions into the development of languages was in fact an action in the long progress towards the Russification of the non-Russian minorities and towards the assurance of the dominance of the Great Russians, "first among the equal nations of the Soviet Union."

✧ ✧ ✧

ALREADY, the increasing use of Russian in non-Russian schools has gone a long way towards making this policy more effective. One of the most recent acts of the Central Government has been to attack the roots of local consciousness by reducing the number of newspapers published in the various republics. Thus, in Daghestan which had five separate newspapers, there is now only one.

✧ ✧ ✧

WHAT appears to be happening now is that because of the slow progress of Russification, despite the sustained and violent efforts of the agents of the Kremlin during past years, all nationalist aspirations of any kind (and these may be betrayed by a wrong emphasis in a school book on some past national hero once applauded by Stalin but now disgraced; or in another way, by passive resistance to Russian overseers in the cotton fields of Uzbekistan) are to be identified, in effect, with high treason. Every crime or deviation in the republics will from now on be stigmatised as nationalism; and the pundits of the Kremlin are now laying it down in black and white that all striving for any kind of national autonomy, no matter how trivial in detail, must in fact be inspired by the separatist idea. Further, all efforts towards separatism can only be instigated by the "Imperialist powers" in their campaign to disrupt the Soviet Union.

✧ ✧ ✧

GRANTED these premises, it is easy to see how all those charged with the crime of bourgeois nationalism are liable to find themselves automatically denounced as agents of the Western Imperialists engaged in a vast conspiracy against the Soviet Union.

"CALM DOWN, IT'S ONLY BURNING ON ONE SIDE"

Rome Normal and Uneasy

By CECIL SPRAGGE

ROME has now regained a normal appearance. Omnibuses, motor-cars, scooters, horse-cabs, hand-carts and disdainfully careless pedestrians have regained normal freedom to jostle and bump for space in the sixteenth century alleys which in the old town do service for highways. They are no longer (as in the last fortnight) suddenly blocked by police cordons or forced to turn right-about because access has suddenly been forbidden to the central squares adjacent to Montecitorio, the palace of the Chamber of Deputies. It is bitterly cold, but no special man-made vexations are superadded to the trials of the climate.

For several days the Piazza Colonna had been crowded with the jeeps and other vehicles of both the chief police corps, the Carabinieri and the more forceful and unpopular Celere (mobile squads) massed in Central Rome in their hundreds. Traffic was intermittently forbidden in the Corso, the main artery of Rome. To park a car became a grim adventure. This was because the Communists and their sympathisers had announced that the filibustering in the Chamber (which at one stage sat for fifty hours on end) against the electoral reform bill would be backed up by action "outside." In fact, nothing more serious was organised than a few rowdy little processions and a brief transport strike.

The Government, being unwilling to take any chances, had in the event to throw the life of the capital into confusion by its own semi-military displays. Moreover, whereas on other occasions Communist anti-Government agitators have always had to reckon with certain antagonism from the elements in the crowd who may be loosely called Fascist, on the present occasion the Fascist and Monarchist political groups used just the same language as did the Communists about the "fraudulent" electoral reform, although they did not come out into the streets nor did they imitate the Communists by putting up filibustering orators to harangue the Chamber for five hours on end. Nor did they (being any way much less numerous) make themselves physically aggressive in the Chamber as the Communists did when a policeman outside Montecitorio did them the signal service of clubbing one of their front benchers, enabling him to walk dramatically into the Chamber with a bleeding head.

STILL, it has been— and it remains—very uncomfortable for the Government to have the Extreme Right arranged against it practically shoulder to shoulder with the Extreme Left. On the part of both of these the agitation against the electoral reform is mainly symbolical. The reform betokens the resolution of Signor De Gasperi, the Christian Democrat premier, to stay obstinately in power, and the Communists have found in it a better text than many others for their denunciations, for there is a widespread suspicion in the country that the law will vitiate the representative character of Parliament. The Extreme Right are actuated chiefly by revenge for the "Scelba" (after Signor Scelba, Minister of the Interior) law of last summer which put teeth into the vague provisions of the Republican constitution for punishing all attempts to resurrect Fascism.

After four different campaigns of obstruction in the Chamber of Deputies, the Bill has now been passed to the Senate where already a new type of obstruction has been devised. The Communists have put before the Senate an alternative Bill on exactly the same subject and they are claiming under the rules of procedure that the two should be examined simultaneously in committee. The Government is weaker in the Senate than in the Chamber, but it simply must get the Bill through by early spring if the general elections due next June are to be organized on the new system. Whether the Senate's deliberations will also be accompanied by "outside" agitations remains to be seen.

It was of little help to Signor De Gasperi that in the middle of the Chamber debate he went off on his long-arranged visit of friendship to the Greek Government in Athens. The visit was cordial, but meanwhile neither Greece nor Turkey shows any signs of cooling down their new friendship for Tito's Yugoslavia. With relations between Rome and Belgrade as bad as they have ever been, and a complete deadlock on Trieste, it is most bitter for the Italian Government that Marshal Tito should unofficially enter the Atlantic Alliance (for that is what the development seems to amount to) through the back door of a special arrangement with the youngest members of that Alliance, Greece and Turkey.

This circumstance alone suffices to keep the hot-head publications of the Italian Extreme Right, and, more cynically, those also of the Extreme Left, well furnished with material for proclaiming Signor De Gasperi's policy to be bankrupt abroad as well as unprincipled at home. Signor De Gasperi's courage and determination remain quite undaunted, but this is certainly a chilly winter for him.

The Electric Sheet

(Wall Street Journal)

There's a new wrinkle in bedcovers — the electric sheet.

This cousin of the electric blanket was designed for use at times when the blanket might seem too warm.

The sheet is made, like most of its non-electric kind of cotton broadcloth. Waterproof-coated wiring is woven into it. It has six heat-regulating units, against nine in a blanket. A double-bed sheet retails for $39.45. The sheet is more easily washed than the blanket and, being lighter in weight, is more easily portable.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Hear my prayer, O Lord, give ear to my supplications: in thy faithfulness answer me, and in thy righeousness .... For the enemy hath persecuted my soul; he hath smitten my life down to the ground; he hath made me to dwell in darkness, as those that have been long dead ....

Hear me speedily, O Lord: my spirit faileth; hide not thy face from me, lest I be like unto them that go down into the pit .... Teach me to do they will; for thous art my God; thy spirit is good; lead me into the land of uprightness. Discipline

(Winnipeg Free Press)

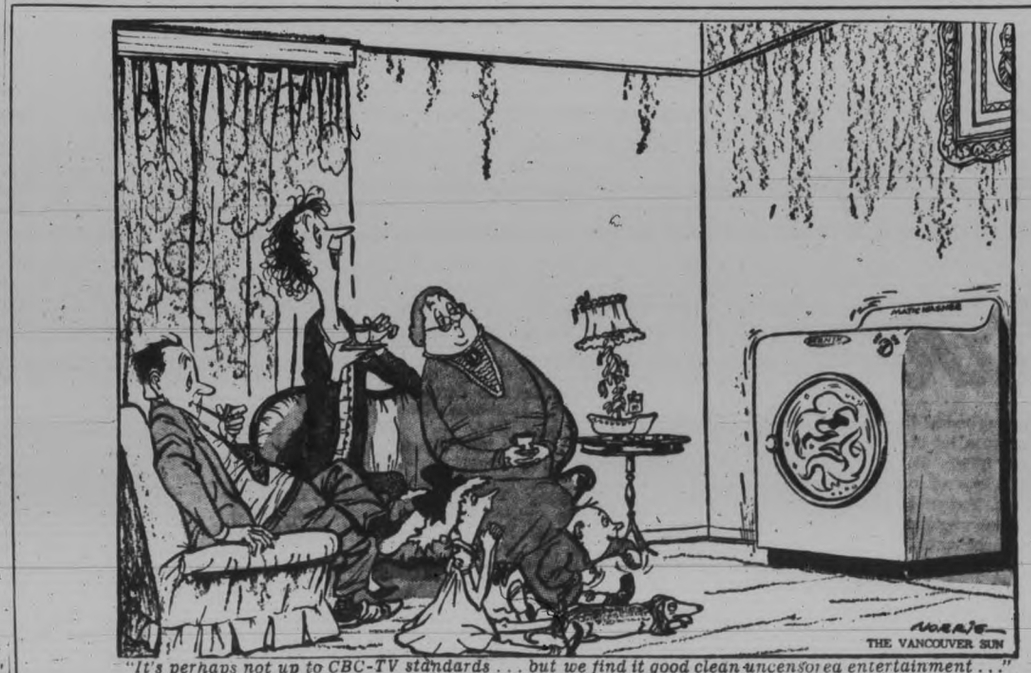
Sir William Slim, who has just relinquished the post of Chief of the Imperial General Staff, in a BBC broadcast has recalled some amusing experiences of his military career.

Forty years ago as a young lance coporal he fumbled the "present arms," greatly to the indignation of the sergeant-major. He recalls that the sergeant-major, a small man, raised himself on tip-toe until his waxed mustache was level with Sir William's chin. Then with "ineffable contempt" he thundered: "Call yourself a lance-corporal? I've spat better lance-corporals than you."

Another anecdote concerned King George VI. After he had been made a field marshal, Sir William had to appear before the King. He did his best but it was not good enough. King George VI, keenly enjoying the incident, told him that like the lance corporal he had fumbled the salute. His Majesty proceeded forthwith to show him how to do it properly.

The moral?

"Yes, discipline's good for the lance corporals, and for the field marshals. It's good too, believe me, for your sons—and a little mightn't be a bad thing for your daughters either."



Beastly Nomenclature

(Montreal Star)

A speaker in Montreal asserts that political and economic servants of the devil control all governments, "a group referred to in the Bible by the word 'beast'." To clinch his case he insists that people have recognized this by referring to governments as beasts. And he calls to witness the British lion, the Russian bear, the Chinese dragon, even the useful and industrious Canadian beaver.

He could have gone on if he'd done a little more thinking. This beastly habit is world wide. There comes to mind the Republican elephant, the Democratic donkey, the American eagle, the German eagle, the Australian kangaroo, the New Zealand kiwi (or is it the duck-billed platypus?), the Scottish lion, St. George's dragon, the South African springbok, to say nothing of Paddy's pig. Rommel was known as the Desert Fox and there was an Italian division, which on the whole didn't really do very well, that called itself the Wolves of Tuscany.

The list is endless and if these have anything to do with the "beast" of the Bible we'll eat the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse.

"It's perhaps not up to CBC-TV standards . . . but we find it good clean uncensored entertainment . . ."

Glens Beat The Petes 5-3 In Exciting Senior Scrap To Tie K's For Third Spot

Belleville Glens downed the Petes 5-3 here last night before about 1,100 fans to climb into a third place OHA senior "B" group tie with Kingston, leaving the locals in the cellar. In a speedy, clean contest—just three penalties a side—Red Doran's bunch started strong to lead 2-0 in the first period. They were outplayed by 2-1 in the second but outscored the Ellis' crew 2-1 in the third, the final goal being tallied on an empty net with Ray Harding pulled out of the cage toward the end to permit another forward on the ice. The win improved the Glens' chances considerably of making a playoff berth and put Petes pretty much in the position of depending on the old mathematical chance of reaching the dough blows.

BEST OF THE PETES—While all the Petes battled hard in a losing cause here last night—Belleville senior puckists taking a 5-3 win—husky Roy (Army) Armstrong, left, and Chum Fryia were probably the pick of the local squad. Army turned in a fine game on defence and Chum led the team in scoring with two markers.

JERRY GETS TWO

Jerry Desjardins led the visitors' attack with two neat goals, and he also helped on one in a good showing. Jud Semark, Peter Jones and Sammy Mulholland each lit the lamp once, an assist apiece going to Johnny Green, Jack Wardhaugh, Keith McDonald and Ted DeGray. Wardhaugh had his wrist hurt in the second period but remained in the game. Tony Parisi turned in a staunch chore in the Quinte cage, as the Petes outshot the Glens in the first two frames.

Chum Fryia of the Petes continued his hot pace to tally two goals, Freddy Mortimer getting the other one. An assist apiece was counted to Keith Montgomery, Gus Leonard, Toodie Greenlaw, Ted Collins and Don Floyd. The best home defenceman was Roy Armstrong. Goalie Ray Harding pulled off a flock of fine saves, especially late in the fray.

GLENS SCORE FIRST

Fryia tested Parisi early but Glens scored first when Semark hit the hemp with a hard angle drive, partly screened, on a pass from Desjardins. A Mortimer-Floyd thrust was thwarted and then McDonald was gated for charging, followed by Mason for hooking, a penalty that drew hefty boos from the fans. Both were back, with no damage done, and play was quite fast and generally clean the rest of the route. The Petes pressed for a spell, but Belleville made it 2-0 late in the heat as Jones skirted defence a mile a minute with Green's pass to hoist a sizzling high one by Harding. Mason and Mulholland roughed it up to draw sentences near the close of the chapter.

The Ellis squad hustled more in the second and had a big margin on play but only outscored their rivals 2-1. The Leonard and the Hill lines in particular kept Parisi busy. Fryia scored the Petes' first marked in close on a rebound after a play built up by Montgomery and Leonard. McDonald was thefted by Harding, and the Leonard trio again came close. Fryia tied it up halfway through from Greenlaw with some hard battling around the net, the Petes slapping repeatedly at the rubber before it was cooked. Desjardins got that one back shortly as he stickhandled in fast from the side with Wardhaugh's pass and pulled Harding out of position at the short end. Armstrong drew a laugh later when he thought he had a penalty on a check and skated off, only to be called back. Goyer did get the finger toward the finish for hooking, and the Petes pressed hotly but in vain.

THAT DID IT

Desjardins cuffed home a rebound early in the third on a goal-mouth scramble with DeGray and McDonald in on it after a corner passout. Play was hot and even for a spell, and then Mortimer got in close with Collins and Floyd to whip the cookie into the oven, Freddy building up the play from the start. The Hill line peppered Parisi then but he turned everything aside. Later, Gus Leonard and his mates threw the works at the Quinte cage custodian and it was all Petes' play for quite a time, but they couldn't sink one. With a minute and a half left, they pulled Harding and stormed the fort with five forwards and a defenceman, but Mulholland broke away at 19:55 to put in the clincher. Montgomery got a penalty on the play for throwing his stick at Sammy.

Teams:

Belleville: Goal, Parisi; defence, Goyer and Green; centre, Doran; wings, Jones and Mulholland; alternates, Day, Wardhaugh, McDonald, Desjardins, DeGray, Bastedo, Semark and Reeves.

Toronto-Born Jockey Aims At $12,000,000

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Jockey Ted Atkinson looked for more winners today and pointed for the $12,000,000-mark in his all-time mount earnings.

The Toronto-born rider boosted his winnings to $11,004,077 Monday at Hialeah Park when he scored on Big Perry in the $3,500 third race and on Straight Face in the $5,000 seventh event.

That gave him 2,684 winners, dating back to May 18, 1938 at Beulah Park when he scored aboard a horse named Musical Jack.

Ted explained the money was what his mounts had earned and not his share. Riders receive 10 per cent of the winnings in stakes races and lesser amounts in cheaper races.

Atkinson, now 37, began riding when he was 20. Only two other jockeys, Eddie Arcaro and Johnny Longden, have ridden more winners in the United States than Ted, and both started several years before he did.

Strydom Plans Ring Return

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — Piet Strydom, who quit the ring when he was South African heavyweight champion because he said boxing didn't agree with his religion, is going to make a comeback to "regain the title for my family."

Strydom said he made his decision after listening to a broadcast Saturday night of a South African title fight between his younger brother, Lou, and Johnny Arthur.

Although ahead on points Lou Strydom was forced to quit after nine mauling rounds because of a badly cut eye.

Piet said he would fight Arthur for the title without any warmup bouts if the boxing board of control will agree.

Piet Strydom won the South African heavyweight title in 1950 and retired in July, 1951.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

An outfit in Chicago writes asking some information on us, with a view of training to break into a "thrilling technical job in one of today's most spectacular and fast-growing fields — television!" Yes, sir, (and you, madam) TELEVISION. This includes radio and electronics in Canada. Alas, we fear we'll have to pass up this golden opportunity as one of the first questions asked lets this guy out. Do things mechanical or electrical interest you? While we manage to manipulate a typewriter, things mechanical always scared us silly. Even have trouble with that bolt on the timer's door at Civic Arena. Anything electrical— especially a storm— drives us to distraction. Have to step outside while the pop-up toaster does its stuff. No, the TV job is for somebody else.

It may be that there's nothing new under the sun, but the stunt dreamed up by Wings' officials at Detroit's NHL Olympia Stadium strikes us as being something of an innovation. They're trying out a tinted ice surface of a pastel-green shade. The claim is that such a scheme cuts down on the overhead glare of lights during games. One wag remarked that they should maybe use a red puck as a color contrast. It was in the same busy city of Detroit that we ran across our first colored ice-cubes served in highballs, but that was some years ago and no doubt has nothing to do with tinted ice in Olympia. Wonder when someone will invent reddish grass for tennis courts and putting "greens" in golf.

Ted Liked 'Em Rugged

Ted Reeve mentions a magazine article by Lionel Conacher but doesn't seem to think too highly of the Big Train's all-time NHL selections. Ted Says: "Broda, Peg Cleghorn, Clapper, Reg Noble, Ebbie Goodfellow and Bill Cook (later was also picked by Lionel), would wear most of them into the ice in a head-on encounter." It is a w.k. fact that large Ted preferred the more rugged guys in sports, whether lacrosse, football or hockey, and he often spoke admiringly of tall Dit Clapper when he was teaming up with Ed Shore on Boston Bruin's defence. Dit was never rated a rough or dirty player, but he was as rugged and able as they came over a long span.

If we may go a lot further back still, here's a puck item from the Bowmanville sheet of a few weeks ago, sent to us at the request of R. H. Bradburn. Isn't it fine how these old gents look back so fondly on their earlier athletic activity? The item is an oldtime picture of a seven-man Bowmanville team of 1894-95. Bowmanville first hockey team One of the officers was R. H. Bradburn, electrician, who went from Peterborough to coach the team. He now lives in California, according to the accompanying story. One of the players shown was Scotty Lang of Peterborough, but the Bowmanville writer says he has lost track of him. That was taken 59 years ago.

Petes Bow To The Glens

Starting a bit slow, the Petes spotted Belleville Glens two goals in the first period here last eve and it wound up 5-3 for Glens— last tally being on an empty net when the goalie was taken out of the game. Yes, it was close enough, but close doesn't count, and Belleville are now back in a third-place tie and the Petes' hopes of a playoff spot are fading. They still have the old mathematcal chance, but not much more than that. They have three more jousts with Kingston, one with Stouffville and another with Belleville, and if they should hit the winning streak — with either Kingston or Belleville dropping a few— they could still make it. But it'll be hard digging from here in, and no fooling. None of these clubs are soft touches at this stage of the schedule, which winds up two weeks from Saturday. Petes plan an exhibition weekend at Lake Placid after their Friday game in Kingston.

Minor hockey schedules in the PMHA are finished, with playoffs due to start this Thursday in Civic Arena. Series will be home-and-home affairs, goals counting, on Feb. 5-12, play going from seven p.m. till 11. Swartz bantams meet Shamrocks, followed by Aces vs. the midget Shamrocks, and then Marines juves vs. the Aces, games being slated for seven, eight and nine o'clock. Two periods of straight time and one with time 'out to prepare the winning clubs for OMHA playdowns later this month. Probably the district teams of the PMHA, Norwood, Havelock and Otonabee Wolves, will hit the provincial playdown path, too, in a lower category than the city winners.

Offer Site For Olympics

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—The Melbourne conference decided unanimously Monday to seek international approval for the Melbourne cricket ground to be the site for the 1956 Olympic Games.

At Melbourne, Premier Cain of Victoria sent a cable to Avery Brundage of Chicago, international Olympic committee President, inviting him to Melbourne to inspect the grounds.

There had been much discussion as to determining the Olympic site. Brundage, irked by Australia's uncertain preparations, had hinted that the games might be transferred to some other city.

Brundage mentioned Rome and Los Angeles as "practically ready" to handle the games.

Yukon Eric And Red Mask Clash With New Mat Official Appointed

There will be a different referee appointed to be in charge of the feature wrestling match at the Brock Arena on Wednesday night, when Yukon Eric, the mighty Alaska lumberjack, will meet the Red Mask, the scarlet-robed mystery matman, in a return bout.

The officiating last week when these two power-houses collided drew much criticism from the fans, so that a new arbiter is assured for this test. Yukon is determined to prove his superiority conclusively over the red-hooded horror this time. He plans to use his famed Kodiak Krunch, a hold he failed to apply last week.

The semi-final will see Earl McCready, one of the best, against Frank Valois, the Un-Masked Marvel.

Frank Taylor will oppose Ovila Asselin of Montreal, a newcomer, in the first event. Asselin is highly-regarded.

THE Calvert SPORTS COLUMN

by Elmer Ferguson

Russian publicists claim everything was invented in that country, from the electric toaster to baseball, and most other sports, for that matter. And one which they haven't yet boasted of devising, but one to which they're entirely welcome, is the "fire the coach" system which, at that, does sound like a Russian conceit.

Not long ago there filtered through the Iron Curtain, via Berlin, where the curtain must be thin in spots, stories of a series of "investigations" that followed the Olympic Games, and a series of dismissals of trainers and athletes.

Students of the decadent democratic version of this fire-the-coach process will be struck by the most stringent, Muscovite variations. For the more drastic Russian regulations likewise carry more drastic penalties, because in Soviet Russia, sports are tied directly into the scheme of Russian defense and Russian propaganda; they are affairs of State, and as such, are directly under supervision, not of a graduate manager or hired coaching expert, but of the Russian Secret Police.

It may seem a trifle drastic, and in poor sporting spirit to even the most biased, anti-coach groups on this continent, to complain of a hockey or football coach whose team fails to win all the time, or a track coach whose athletes don't capture every event. But the Russian system allows no such weaknesses. Either you're a winner, to the greater glory of the invincible state; or if a loser, you're just a low-down traitor who is disgracing his country, and should be shot at sunrise in the Red Square, as a lesson to all who can't go out and beat the rest of the world.

"Soviet sportsmen" said a recent official critique, "are proving the superiority of their country's government by their achievements." So when the cry of the comrades echoes out on the night air, "Fire the coach" it's really the cry of the Secret Police, backed by a state where "win or else" is the sinister policy. No use the coach and his proteges trying to still such voices by promises to do better at the next Olympics, or European championships. There is no next time. The coach, and probably the losing athletes just go out of that business. Next stop, the salt mines. Or, if Uncle Joe happens to be in a merciful mood, the firing squad.

So let's give Russia a monopoly on the fire-the-coach system. It's silly, and unfair and non-sporting idea to start with, and as such should fit smoothly into the Russian ideology.

Your comments and suggestions for this column will be welcomed by Elmer Ferguson, c/o Calvert House, 431 Yonge St., Toronto.

AMHERSTBURG, ONTARIO

Miles In NHL Acclaimed After Smart Shutout Week

MONTREAL—(CP)—The association of harassed goalkeepers has just come through shutout week with merited acclaim but elsewhere in the National Hockey League's newest official statistics the seven-day span takes on the appearance of shakeup week. Detroit Red Wings, idle when Montreal Canadiens brashly took over first place, shook off a minor slump by walloping the opposition in three games and moved back on top with 59 points. Canadiens had two wins and a tie in four starts and trail the Red Wings with 57 points.

Toronto Maple Leafs, with a win and a tie in three games, snatched third place from the faltering Chicago Black Hawks who dropped three in a row. The Leafs have 50 points; the Hawks 48.

Boston Bruins, with recovered cripples back in action, came out of three games with a win and two ties as a start in recovering lost ground. They now trail the Hawks by only two points. The cellar-dwelling New York Rangers, with one victory and three losses, are 12 points behind the Bruins.

SHARP REVISION

The individual point-scoring standing also underwent sharp revisions. Detroit's brilliant Gordie Howe, collecting six goals and four assists for a 37-30 count, is far in front with his 67 points. His nearest rival is teammate Ted Lindsay with 50 points. Maurice (Rocket) Richard of Canadiens now has third place to himself with 47.

Every goalie except Al Rollins of Chicago helped himself to a piece of shutout cake. Gerry McNeil of Canadiens and Jim Henry of the Bruins grabbed theirs at the same time when the teams played a scoreless draw.

Five shutouts in a week's play cropped up once before this season—in mid-January — but four goalies figured in that display compared with five this time.

McNeil leads in shutouts with eight but is second in goals-against average with 2.14. Sawchuk leads with 2.02. All the goalies except Rollins shaved thin slices off their averages during the week. Jim Henry has 2.46, Harry Lumley of the Leafs 2.48, Rollins 2.70 and Lorne Worsley of New York 3.14. The figures include games in which other goalies have appeared.

GEOFFRION MOVES UP

Bernie Geoffrion of Canadiens moved into the "Big 10." His one goal and two assists lifted him from a 13th-place tie into a deadlock for 10th with Jim McFadden of Chicago and Ted Kennedy of Toronto, each with 31 points. Kennedy is out of action with injuries.

Ted Lindsay still sets the pace as the league's bad man, with an even 100 minutes in the cooler. Toronto is the most penalized team, with a total of 630 minutes.

Sailors Trample Tigers 9-3; Tied For Fifth

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Sarnia Sailors, striving hard to make a playoff spot in the rough-Association Senior A series, moved into a fifth-place tie with Chatham Maroons Monday night on a convincing 9-3 victory over the lowly Hamilton Tigers.

Now only five points behind Brantford Redmen in fourth spot, the Sailors had little trouble with the tail-end Tabbies who have won only one game in 41 outings.

In a North Bay exhibition game, Pembroke Lumber Kings of the Eastern Canada Hockey League played to a 7-7 tie with the Trappers of the Northern Ontario Hockey Association Senior A southern group.

However, the Trappers were forced to score four third-period goals to gain their deadlock with Cully Simon's high-flying club.

LEAD ATTACK

Jim Wilson and Bill MacFarland led Sarnia's attack with a pair of goals apiece while singletons went to Rollie Beauchamp, Skip Frezell, Alf Lewsey, Clark Horner and Chuck Glaab. Gord Peebles tallied twice for the Tigers. Bill Hammond collected the other.

Sees Re-opening Of Wheat Futures Market

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Canadian Grain Journal in its January issue says re-opening of the wheat futures market at Winnipeg is a "distinct possibility" following Britain's announcement of plans to quit grain-buying in non-dollar areas.

The wheat futures market at Winnipeg has been closed since 1943.

The Journal says it has been expected that Britain would encourage re-opening of a futures market there so she could regain her pre-war position as the grain-trading centre of Europe.

FORCED TO ACT

"If future markets are established at Liverpool or London and exchange difficulties are overcome, Canada would be forced to do something about the marketing situation here for her own protection.

"Prices established on the British open markets would dominate export price levels in Canada as many European nations would prefer to use these markets as they did in pre-war times for hedging their purchases."

Costly Kiss

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—A girl friend's kiss cost a St. Catharines youth $29.50 Monday when he was fined for careless driving. Police said the girl kissed him while the couple was driving in nearby Grimsby. Magistrate H. D. Hallett, a bachelor, said kissing "may be a pleasant occupation—but it is not meant for the front seat of an auto on the higwhay."

Wheat Flour Output Increase 5 Per Cent

OTTAWA (CP)—Wheat flour production increased five per cent during 1952 to 24,106,000 barrels from 22,968,000 barrels during 1951, the bureau of statistics reports.

Exports of wheat flour during 1952 increased to 13,246,000 barrels from 12,079,000 the previous year. During the first five months of the current crop year, 5,632,000 barrels were exported compared with 3,680,000 in the corresponding period of the preceding crop year.

Family Of 4 Shares $30,000

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—A young Ingersoll widow and her three small children will share $30,000 in settlement of a court action approved by Mr. Justice F. H. Barlow in weekly court Monday.

The amount is in settlement of damage claims of Mrs. Marion V. Sharp, 26, against the H. L. McConnell Lumber Co. Ltd., of Brantford, arising from a highway crash last June in which her truck-driver husband, Morley Homer Sharp, 39, was killed.

Mr. Justice Barlow ordered $12,000 paid to Mrs. Sharp. The remainder he directed to be paid into court to the credit of her three children—$5,000 for Stephen Wayne, 5; $6,000 for Susan Arlene, 3; and $7,000 for Dennis Morley, eight months.

Carriers Enjoy Parliament Hockey Game

Forty-three city and suburban Peterborough paper carriers, including seven girls, were awarded a trip to Ottawa and Montreal over the weekend.

The excursion was sponsored by the Peterborough Examiner for those who obtained eight or more new subscriptions within one week.

Their first stop on their tour was at the House of Commons, where they heard two speeches on the discussion of the level crossing problem in Canada. They were then taken to the Chateau Laurier cafeteria, where they had their dinner.

Next stop on their tour was Montreal, where they spent part of Saturday morning taking in the Waxworks Museum, inspecting the more prominent Biblical scenes. They spent the rest of the morning taking in the sights around Mount Royal.

The famous McGill University Redpath Museum was their next stop. While Mrs. Ethel Hunter, chaperone for the group, took the girls on a shopping spree, the boys had a chance to swim in the mammoth McGill University pool.

The same evening they saw a National Hockey League game between Montreal and Boston, at the Montreal Forum. After the game, some of the boys were taken down to the Canadiens' dressing room to meet the players. Jack Lyons rode with his cousin, Fleming Mackell, and the rest of the Boston team to the train.

City carriers who were on the trip included: Vincent Kennedy, Gerrard Byrne, Bob Parks, Wayne McCarthy, Tom Pearson, Bernard Ferren, Gerrard Terpstra, Ronald Pearson, Ronald Cavanaugh, Dorland Wagar, Bob Hutton, Patrick McGarrity, Charles McNulty, Bill Douglas, Joseph O'Neill, Peter Dunsford, Johann Terpstra, Walter Dainard, Gerald Foy, Ronald Jay, Fergus O'Connell, Margaret Dainard, Ray Henwood, Jack Bradley, Carl Anthony and Jack Lyons.

Suburban carriers who were present on the trip: Bob Moore, Clifford Chase and Bill Deline, Havelock; Michael Barry, Hastings; Shirley Cruikshank, Keene; Elaine Drimmie, Lang; Stanley Coones, Joanne Wannamaker and Bob Wannamaker, Lakefield; Jane Borland, Deloro; John Godfrey, Young's Point; Evelyn Towle, Bancroft; Donald Dalton, Chemong; Douglas Blewett, Bridgenorth.

Naguib Plans To Give Egypt Senate

CAIRO (Reuters) — Gen. Mohamed Naguib plans to give Egypt a Senate, it was learned Monday night.

It will be a Supreme State Council with powers to pass decree laws, and Premier Naguib's cabinet will be responsible to it.

This is the first clue to what Naguib intends to do with the three years of one-man rule he proclaimed last month when he abolished all political parties.

It suggests that he meant it when he said he didn't want to be a dictator, but wanted to set Egypt on the high road to democracy.

The council will be a one-house body and will also pass on budget demands. The government is expected to announce its official creation soon.

Egypt has had no parliament since Naguib seized power a little more than six months ago. However, he has a 50-man committee drafting a new constitution—which some observers say may usher in a republic.

The nature of the new Senate and how it will be set up were not disclosed.

Two Drivers Negligent In Accident

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—A Supreme Court jury Monday found negligence on the part of both drivers involved in a highway accident near here last June which claimed the life of Paul Steffler, 24, of Guelph.

Leo Wentzell, 21 of London, Ont., driver of a Maris Automobile Transport vehicle, was found 60 per cent responsible for the crash. Steffler's negligence was assessed at 40 per cent.

Mr. Justice J. M. King awarded damages of $1,399 to Michael Steffler, brother of the victim and owner of the car, and damages of $360 to William Steffler, father of Paul. The damages were assessed against Wentzell and the transport company.

COUNTERCLAIM

In a counterclaim, the company was awarded $1,122 against Michael Steffler for damage to the transport trailer and its load of three new cars.

Witnesses said the transport was on the wrong side of the highway at the time of the crash. Wentzell said he turned sharply in an attempt to avoid the accident after the Steffler car veered to he right.

Allow Importing Countries To Buy Full Wheat Quotas

WASHINGTON (AP)—Importing countries now may buy their full quotas under the international wheat agreement, it was announced Monday.

The quotas for the current year amount to 580,917,000 bushels, sold at the low ceiling price of $1.80. Until now, buying had been limited to 95 per cent of the quotas because Australia doubted it could deliver its full $88,700,000 bushels. Canada, U.S., and France had been relieved of their obligation to export to the same extent. These four are the exporting countries under the agreement.

The 42 importing countries might have had to spend another $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 if they bought the remaining five per cent at current world prices.

The announcement that the quotas would be filled 100 per cent was made by he international wheat council, meeting in Washington to see if a way can be found to renew the agreement. It expires July 31, after working to stabilize international wheat prices and supplies during the last four years.

The council said the Australians had reported their crop conditions were much better than expected.

Gilmour Baptist Reports 1952 Activities

Gilmour Memorial Baptist Church held its annual meeting in the Sunday school room with record attendance.

The Rev. Wm. Leaton conducted the devotional period. C. E. Moore, chairman of deacons' board, was elected chairman. Mr Moore addressed the meeting, stating that the church will be celebrating its 115th anniversary in the fall.

The clerk, Vera J. Scott, read the minutes of last meeting and matters of importance arising from meetings throughout the year and activities of 1952.

Mr. A. E. Edmison, secretary-treasurer, read the financial report which showed the greatest missionary givings in the history of the church. He reported a balance of $1,449 after expenses of $5,460 had been paid.

Mr. Leaton presented his pastoral letter, in which he reported attendance at Sunday school and worship services had been well maintained. He reported the purchase of an electronic organ.

Reports from each of the various organizations indicated a year of real achievement. Milton Clark, superintendent of Sunday school, spoke enthusiastically of the value of the work of the Sunday school and he reported increased attendance.

For their part in the work of the church, a motion was recorded expressing the appreciation of the congregation to the women of the church, the choir, the organist, the clerk, the treasurer and all those who helped in any way in the work of the church.

Milton Clark, representing Farm Forum, asked permission from the church to beautify church grounds as a project of the Farm Forum. The decision was left with the trustees.

James Young, hon. deacon, closed meeting with prayer.

A social half hour was enjoyed over a cup of tea, sandwiches, cake and cookies served by social committee.

Inequitable Income Tax Laws Brief To Government Charges

OTTAWA (CP)—Income taxes are being charged where they shouldn't be charged, a joint committee of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants and the Canadian Bar Association said today.

The committee made its representations to Finance Minister Abbott and Revenue Minister McCann and recommended a considerable list of changes in the Income Tax Act and its administration.

It said the act, and the government's assessing policy, are "upsetting long-established ways of doing business and causing great concern and even alarm among both large and small business firms."

"Sound accounting principles are not being followed in computing income for tax purposes and, in many cases, taxes are being exacted on more than the true profits for the taxation year."

CITES EXAMPLE

Spokesman for the chartered accountants gave an example. He said distributors of dairy products have to pay tax on receipts from milk tickets sold at the year's end, without any deduction being allowed for the cost of the milk which has to be supplied for the tickets in the following year.

As a result, he stated, many companies "find it necessary to change policies which are perfectly sound from a business point of view so as not to pay tax on uncarned profits.

"One large company went as far as to stop selling milk tickets in the last week of 1952, to the annoyance of its customers and its drivers.

Companies in other lines of business have given up the practice of charging deposits on containers and are prepared to take the resulting loss rather than pay tax on deposits which are refundable.

HAS BIG EFFECT

"This procedure of taxing business on their receipts rather than on their profits affects businesses of almost every kind."

Clem L. King and Melville Pierce of Toronto and Frank L. Coffey of Montreal represented the chartered accountants, and Stuart Thom, Toronto, and Palmer Howard, Montreal, the bar association.

They said a wife is penalized if she is employed by her husband or carries on a business with him.

They asked a broader application of income tax relief for payments towards retirement pensions, so as "to encourage more citizens to provide for their old age out of earnings."

Until recently, said the brief, the purchaser of a bond was taxed only on the interest accrued after the date of purchase. However:

"A short while ago the tax department began taxing purchasers of bonds on the full amount of the interest coupon." The deputation recommended that the tax be apportioned between sellers and purchasers of the bond, as formerly.

The ministers were asked for a modification of the present rule which restricts capital cost allowances to the aggregate of depreciation allowances shown in its accounts. The effect of this requirement was to place a premium on unsound accounting practices by making it advantageous to claim higher depreciation allowances than are justified in fact.

Set Up Road Blocks In Intensive Search

HAMILTON (CP)—Ralph Grubisich, wanted by police in connection with the Dec. 9 murder of a Buffalo, N.Y., jeweller, was the object of an intensive search throughout the area between here and Kitchener Monday night.

Road blocks were set by provincial police at several points following tips that the wanted man had been seen.

The hunt was touched off by the discovery Saturday of Grubisich's car near New Hamburg. Since then he has been reported seen in several municipalities throughout Southwestern Ontario.

Ex-Russian Soldier 'Highly Intoxicated'

TORONTO (CP)—A medico-legal expert testified Monday that Peter Siminow, 39-year-old former Russian soldier, was "quite highly intoxicated" when he examined Siminow three hours after Helen Szalapata's head had been smashed in with an ax.

Siminow is being tried before Chief Justice J. C. McRuer for the murder last Nov. 22 of Mrs. Szalapata, with whom he had been living for two years.

Throughout the day's hearing, Siminow sobbed and cried, particularly when the dead woman's son, Paul Domenchuk, 18, told the court of his mother's wish to break off her relationship with the accused man.

Escape With $45

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Two young men, one armed, held up a nut shop clerk and escaped with $45 Monday night. Arthur Stevenson said he was in the back of the shop when he heard the cash register being opened. He went into the store to find the two men, both masked. One pointed a gun at Stevenson and told him to stay where he was. The other emptied the cash register of $34. They also took Stevenson's wallet which contained $11.

Thieves Get $12,000 From Beverage Room

FORT FRANCES, Ont. (CP)—Thieves who entered by a rear door early Monday escaped with about $12,000 from a beverage room at nearby International Falls.

Julius Koch and Magnus Carlson, owners of the establishment, said the thieves gained entry to a wall safe. They said $250 in the safe and a large amount of silver in the cash register was untouched.

Fort Frances is 200 miles west of Port Arthur.

Cripple Saves Brother

ST. CATHARINES (CP) — Pat Marshall, a 13-year-old Girl Guide who walks with the aid of a polio brace, dived into icy creek water Sunday to rescue her younger brother. The children were sledding down a golf course hill. Pat's brother, nine-year-old Bobbie, went into the creek when the ice gave way. He is a non-swimmer.

His sister dived in and grabbed him. Gail Marshall, 11, held out a stick and Pat pulled herself and her brother to safety.

Czech Red Bosses Set Up Russian-Type Presidium

VIENNA (AP)—Czechoslovakia's Communist bosses have reorganized the Soviet satellite's government and set up a Russian-type praesidium to "direct and control" the Czech ministries, Prague radio said Monday night.

The new praesidium includes Premier Antonin Zapotocky and his deputy premiers. The number of deputies was boosted from four to nine, however.

In addition, two ministries were split into four separate departments and two new ministries and two state committees were founded. Also created were three independent government agencies which will control printing, publishing and the cinema.

FOLLOWS SHAKE-UP

The shakeup followed repeated admissions by Czech leaders that there is a state of "discontent and rebellion" in the country.

The broadcast said the praesidium will include three former deputy premiers—Vilem Siroky, who was dismissed as foreign minister; Jaromir Dolansky, and Zdenek Fierlinger, who was dismissed as head of the office for church affairs.

REMINDER TO PUBLIC

For the public meeting at the City Hall Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. to organize for Peterborough's celebration of the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth, Ald. Syd Black is hoping for a large attendance to begin the planning for this June event. "I think it is just a matter of reminding the people of this meeting," said the chairman of the reception committee. "I feel certain we are going to get off to a good start."

A 1930-model Ford coupe was found wrecked and abandoned on the Wallace Point road early today, southeast of Peterborough. The car is believed to have swung off the road and slammed into a telephone pole, shortly after midnight.

The front end was badly smashed in and the engine was displaced. The car was then abandoned in the same position as when it bounced off the telephone pole. It was left partly across the road, blocking traffic.

One motorist drove his car into the ditch so he would not strike the damaged vehicle.

OPP Constable Harold Armstrong, investigating the accident, found blood on the steering wheel indicating somebody was injured. He is checking to see who owns the abandoned car.

43 Students From Bancroft Inspect City

Forty-three high school students from Bancroft are visiting Peterborough today with a view to improving their education. And while they're at it they may get some idea on what they'd like to do when they are graduated.

They are Grade 12 students from the academic and the special commercial class of the Hastings High School in Bancroft.

Their itinerary has been planned by the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce. It permits the students to inspect local industries, the Normal School, or Civic Hospital, and also permits them some free time to enjoy themselves while they are here.

They arrived by chartered bus early today and were promptly divided into four groups.

SEE NORMAL

One group was escorted by Leo Copp, principal of the Normal School, through the school. Presumably those students are interested in becoming teachers ultimately.

A second group took a trip to the office of the Outboard Marine and Manufacturing Co. to give them an inkling of what clerical work in an industrial office is like.

A third group went through the plant at the Western Clock Co.

And the fourth— presumably interested in medicine, or in becoming nurses, dieticians and other skilled hospital occupations —went through Civic Hospital.

Starting at 2 p.m. they were scheduled to take a two-and-a-half hour tour of the Peterborough works of the CGE plant.

Afterwards they will be free to shop or sightsee. And they will be on their own for dinner.

Ladies' Tankard Starts Off With Upset, Close Games

With a rash of close ends, an upset, a game not decided until the final end and several overwhelming victories, the Ontario Ladies' Tankard opened today at the Peterborough Curling Club. The early results of the first round left rinks from Bobcaygeon, Peterborough, Woodstock, Toronto High Park, Oakwood and Midland still in the competition for the tankard trophy.

Mrs. Woolley's rink finally won to advance into the tankard play and after another end was played in the Knapman-Smith game to break a tie, Mrs. Knapman won 9-8.

The morning's upset was the defeat of the Hamilton Thistle rink, skipped by Mrs. K. McLaren. With two threepoint ends Mrs. A. Cameron's Oakwood rink rounded out an 11-6 victory. Mrs. McLaren's rink was a heavy favorite to enter further tankard play.

But the day's best was a last-end decision in the Toronto High Park-Lakefield game. Mrs. R. H. Reive's High Park rink staved off a final rally by Mrs. E. H. Northey's rink to edge out a 9-8 win.

The Reive rink counted largely upon an early nine-point lead, but in the eighth Mrs. Northey scored a four-end to put her back in the game 9-6. The Lakefield rink pulled one closer in the ninth.

REFUSED SHOT

The shot changed hands several times in the tenth and once Mrs. Northey was laying the tying points. With the skips up and Mrs. Northey only laying one for shot, the first stones were either heavy or too short. With her second stone Mrs. Northey took off the guard, but left Mrs. Reive's stone laying second shot. Mrs. Reive refused the final stone, conceding a single to Mrs. Northey, making the score 9-8.

Mrs. Vern Selkirk, skipping a Peterborough entry, recorded an overwhelming 10-3 victory over Mrs. M. Sayles' Brantford rink. Other trouncings were: Mrs. R. McIntosh of Bobcaygeon 16-2 over Mrs. R. Thomson of Gravenhurst; Mrs. C. M. Elliott of Woodstock 11-5 over Mrs. T. J. Donnelly of Kingston; Mrs. D. Hastings of Midland 10-7 over Mrs. J. L. Babcock of Galt.

Two games of the first round were just being played at press time. At the end of the second end bonspiel favorite, Mrs. L. E. Woolley's Toronto Granite rink was up 3-1 on Mrs J. Rutherford's Kingston rink, and Mrs. E. Schmidt's Kitchener rink was up 2-1 on Mrs. C. Knapman's Hamilton Victoria rink.

Winners of the first round advanced into further tankard playdowns while the losers entered a consolation competition for the Northey Trophy.

Peterborough ladies' club chairman, Mrs. Jack Fanning, told the curlers in the opening ceremony that "it is a privilege to stand among such good curlers." Then Mrs. J. C. Green, host club bonspiel convener, pointed out several ice rules.

Mayor Hugh Waddell welcomed the curlers to Peterborough, recalling that it is nine years since the event was last held in Peterborough, and added that he hoped everyone enjoyed the visit to the city.

Boy, 10, Slips Trucks Runs Over Body

Condition Reported "Rather Critical" But Improving

Ten-year-old Paul Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jones, 664 Gilchrist St., was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital early Monday evening suffering from severe shock and possible ruptured kidneys after he fell beneath the wheel of a one-ton truck at George and Murray Sts.

Hospital authorities reported his condition had improved today, although it was "rather critical."

Bystanders who saw the accident said that they boy got off the Jackson Park bus on the east side of George St. at the corner of Murray St. together with a group of other boys and started to run across George St. behind a halted bus.

When he emerged from behind the bus he saw the truck, driven by Stewart Bell, 26, R.R. 1, Bailieboro, which was proceeding cautiously at about 15 miles an hour through the falling snow.

The lad attempted to stop but his feet slipped on the icy pavement. He slid into the side of the truck and fell beneath the rear wheel, which passed over his abdomen.

A crowd quickly gathered around him and an unidentified soldier removed his greatcoat and placed it around the boy until police and an ambulance arrived.

Paul was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital in a Nesbitt ambulance and authorities reported that he had rested fairly well during the night. He had recovered considerably from the initial severe shock of the accident today and his recovery is "confidently expected." He is a Grade 4 student at Queen Mary School.

Del Crary Heads Variety Show

Del Crary, formerly a Peterborough bandleader and CHEX radio announcer, is now a band sergeant heading a variety show that is entertaining troops in Eastern Ontario.

His two-hour show "Stars On Parade" has been greeted with enthusiasm. If present plans mature it may be the nucleus for an all-Canadian show that will travel to Korea and Europe to bring a touch of home talent to Canadian servicemen serving overseas.

Sgt. Crary is no novice at this sort of thing. He was in charge of a similar troupe that toured Europe during the Second World War.

Last Friday night more than 1,000 troops stationed in Kingston saw the show—produced by members of the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals under the direction of Sgt. Crary—at a drill hall in the Vimy camp. Tonight the performance is being repeated at the RCEME school at Picton.

Sgt. Crary is master of ceremonies and does a number of solos —"The Lord's Prayer," "Lady of Fatima," and "Bells of St. Mary" —against a vocal background provided by members of the band.

This type of army variety show is only the second post-war production in the Kingston area. The first was before Christmas and was also produced by Sgt. Crary.

Construction For '53 Gets Off To Slow Start

Peterborough's new construction year opened weakly in January with permits estimated at $64,400, as compared with 27 permits in January last year representing property value of $238,000.

Thirteen miscellaneous permits last month accounted for $49,400, and two dwellings $15,000, totalling $64,400.

Corresponding details a year ago were: eleven dwellings estimated in value at $90,850, and 16 miscellaneous permits for $147,150; amounting to $238,000.

January Less Wintry Weatherman Reports

According to the weatherman's report, last January proved more wintry than this January in the Peterborough district.

Highest temperature recorded in January, 1952, was on the 15th, when the thermometer reached 46 degrees. It was a coincidence that the highest temperature for January, 1953, was 46 degrees, recorded on the same date.

Lowest the mercury dropped to this January was one below zero, recorded Jan. 8, compared to the 19 below zero weather experienced on Jan. 30, 1952. Average temperature last month was 23.7, compared to the 19.7 average for January, 1952.

During January this year, eight inches of snow fell, which barely covered the ground, compared to the 16½ inches of snow last January.

This January there was more rain, the total fall being .74 inches, compared to the .31 inches of rain last January.

Trade With Tokyo

KARACHI (CP)—A new agreement between Pakistan and Japan is the object of a trade delegation from Pakistan to Tokyo. Four Japanese banks have already requested permission to open branches in Pakistan.

Carry On At Legion

Despite the $20,000 fire early today at the Canadian Legion the hall will be available tonight for the annual meeting of the Peterborough Liberal Association at 8:15 p.m. Water has leaked through the ceiling in a couple of places but the room can be used. The Hon. F. Gordon Bradley, secretary of state, is guest speaker. Wednesday night the Legion bingo— proceeds to go to the fund for the widow and children of the late Henry Corbin—will also be held as scheduled.

Taxis To Be Used By Officials On City Business

Call-A-Cab taxi tariff in the bid of J. J. Donnelly, Hunter St., was accepted by the council Monday night for the use of city employees on city business who no longer wish to use their own cars in that work on the present mileage allowance. Another tender was received from Capitol Taxi.

Call-A-Cab rates to the city are: Local, 25 cents a mile or fraction thereof, minimum charge 50 cents.

By the hour, $3 an hour, allowing 15 miles; additional mileage 12½ cents a mile.

Out of town, 25 cents a mile, one way, one to five passengers.

Waiting time, $1.50 an hour.

Driveurself: 75 cents an hour, plus 9 cents a mile, or $5 a day, plus 9 cents a mile. Rates include all gas and oil, and insurance. "We would allow 10 per cent discount on the drivurself rates."

CAR ALLOWANCE

Car allowance to employees of the council when engaged on business of the city have been: 10 cents a mile up to 2,000 miles, and 8 cents thereafter.

Ald. Norman Graham was chairman of a special committee considering terms for private car use on city work. He was in favor of 10 cents a mile plus 10 cents a mile depreciation, plus business insurance, up to $500 maximum, for one year. The committee was not unanimous. There was some estimate that the annual cost on that basis would be too large an increase.

Board of works, composed of all the members, recently asked City Clerk Outram to enquire into and report on the cost of taxi service for city employees. Tenders were invited.

Council Monday night adopted the motion of Ald. H. S. Longhurst, seconded by Ald. Gordon Farquharson, to accept the Call-A-Cab bid. It is an experiment in car costs on city business, of indefinite duration. One comment was: "Try them for two months."

WITHDREW CARS

Information to the council was that A. G. Metheral of the welfare department, and one of his staff, had withdrawn their cars from civic use at the former allowance. One item of cost to Mr. Metheral was an annual expenditure of $51 a year "business insurance," and that was for the business of the city.

Ald. Graham said today that the 10 cent a mile allowance for business of the city should not be considered as sufficient for comparatively short runs within the city, although that rate might apply in commercial work extending over long distances.

"I'm just as interested as anyone else in getting as cheap a rate as we can for the city, but I don't want to see any of our civic employees using their cars for the city at a personal loss," Ald. Graham said.

Mayor Waddell suggested Monday night that in the present taxi experiment a report be obtained of the number of calls a day by Mr. Metheral's department, for at at least one week.

The report should list the number of calls and the mileage, he said.

STATEMENT FOR WEEK

"As chairman of the committee I'd like to see a statement for the first week from the taxi people and one from our own department," Ald Graham said. "What I have been suggesting is that if any of our city employees are going in the hole using their cars for the city that they get more money. I'm willing to sit back and see what it amounts to."

Ald. W. J. Beggs roughly figured that the taxi method might amount to $1,300 a year for one department.

Mr. Metheral said this morning that he had already made two trips to Civic Hospital before 11 o'clock on welfare matters.

Local Flyer Missing In Labrador

F.O. Douglas Wood One Of Ten In RCAF Bomber

Flying Officer Douglas D. R. Wood, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Wood, 72 Kent St., is one of the 10 crew members of an RCAF Lancaster that is missing over Labrador.

The four-engined bomber was engaged in a search for another missing aircraft when her skipper radioed that two engines had failed and he would try to make it back to Goose Bay, the RCAF base in Labrador.

FO Wood is the second district man to be reported missing within several days. First to be reported missing was PO Murray D. Hill of Lindsay, member of the crew of a Mitchell bomber lost on a flight from Saskatoon to Vancouver.

RESUME SEARCH

Snowflurries driven by gales barred efforts to continue the air search on Monday, and it was expected the search would resume today. About 15 aircraft waited all Monday in readiness but were unable to take off.

FO Wood, educated in Peterborough schools, joined the RCAF more than three years ago and took training at Summerside, P.E.I. and Greenwood, N.S.

He has two brothers and two sisters: Donald K. and Robert, both of Peterborough, Mrs. Clarence Campbell (Norma), New Romaine St., and Nancy at home.

Boy, 8, Looses Tooth When Struck By Truck

Eight-year-old Paul Donoghue, 463 Mark St., suffered a bruised lip and broken tooth when struck by a light truck as he was crossing the intersection of Rogers and Douro Sts. early Monday evening.

John J. Hodson, 36, 628 Park St. S., was driving north on Rogers St. when an unidentified car went through the intersection without stopping. To avoid hitting the car, Hodson swerved to the left and was unable to avoid hitting the boy.

Making Decisions

Council Buys Trucks For City Jobs

City council Monday night accepted the low tender of Al Winslow Motors for a panel truck recommended for purchase by the parks committee. List price of a 1953 International, equipped as specified, is $2,135.25, minus trade-in allowance of $300.25 on the parks 1946 pick-up truck, leaving the tender price at $1,835.

Ordered a half-ton pick-up truck for the sanitation department from J. K. Hughes, a 1953 Chevrolet, at a net price of $1,401.20. Trade-in allowance was $450 from the total price of $1,851.20.

Approved the recommendation of Chief Leonard, through the fire and light committee, to add eight men to the strength of the fire department, "and that the administrative staff be increased by the addition of two captains to increase the efficiency of the department."

Empowered City Engineer Chalmers to call for tenders for this equipment: one 1½-ton dump truck; one ½-ton pick-up truck; and trailer type road oil distributor.

Granted a licence to John Baldock to continue operation of the used car lot on property south of the Gilders garage on the Chemong Road, in the area annexed from Smith.

Accepted indefinitely the terms of Call-a-Cab taxi service for those city employees requiring the use of a motor car on city business, instead of using their own private cars on the present mileage basis of remuneration.

Adopted the recommendation of the board of works: "That the communications from the Peterborough Trades and Labor Council and from the Peterborough and District Labor Council (CCL), dealing with the procedure for marking the ballots for aldermanic candidates be referred to the City Clerk and City Solicitor for detailed report on the development of this procedure in the city."

Directed A. B. Burrows, chairman of the parks committee, and Armar Butcher, superintendent, to interview Basil D. Hall about his strictures on the manner in which the city has carried out the deed gift of Fleming Park at Aylmer and Brock Sts.

Invited Wm. Burnie, Industrial Commissioner, to address the next meeting of the committee of the whole as recommended by the manufacturers' committee.

Received the $6,400 requisition of the Victorian Order of Nurses for inclusion in the 1953 budget.

Received from City Engineer Chalmers his statement of board of works expenditures last year at $705,509.26, and also showing a credit of $44,194.25 in the department's depreciation account.

Referred to the parks committee a request from Peterborough-Whitaker Cricket Club for the use of Nicholls Oval for the playing season, when the grass puts on again its vernal green.

Authorized Mayor Waddell by bylaw to proclaim daylight saving time from April 26 to September 27.

Also authorized Mayor Waddell and City Clerk Outram to sign an agreement with Douro council permitting township residents on the north side of Parkhill Road to connect with the city's sewer on the terms previously in effect with Smith township.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Frizzelle received in a gown of royal blue and wore a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother assisted, gowned in black velvet with bodice of French lace.

The bridal couple will make their home at 539 Downie St.

Gypsy Dresses Featured In Style Showing

PARIS (AP)—A mixed style menu ranging from flaunting gypsy dresses to flowing court robes complete with crown, was served up Monday by the Lanvin-Castillo fashion house.

For daytime wear, designer Castillo sat on the fence, neatly balancing his collection between loose-waisted models, and bodices that fit so tightly the mannequins look melted and poured in. His unwaisted silhouette suggests the long, graceless lines of the 1930s. To go with it there's an unsophisticated rounded neckline, underlined with a flat cuff of frame.

Bell buttons jingled merrily on a pert red and white linen dress and bolero; a rose perched smack on the tummy of an evening gown, and a mink tippet sported a bouncy tail ruffle as saucy as a wink.

Fresh, light-colored and lightweight silk prints over-ran the collection, taking their motifs from sweet pea, heliotrope, rose and violet. A new deep rose red was color queen.

London's Coronation Shows Pleasing Fashion Writers

By ALISON SETTLE

Never have the London dress collections (presented each half-year by the Incorporated Society of London Fashion Designers) been more polyglot, with almost any language to be heard but with French predominating.

French fashion writers have come over who had never imagined London dress designers to have importance. From many nations there are correspondents who felt that British fashion began and ended with tweed. Now they, with a very big American contingent who know well what Britain offers, have to be fitted into salons already overcrowded by the normal number of visitors.

The importance of these dress collections is that they are not only the first of Coronation Year but also the last from which Coronation orders, for export or home, can be placed: the next showings will take place some weeks after the Coronation is over.

The Americans are entirely delighted with what they have so far seen. They are pleased by the suits with their elegantly smooth lines, pared of all superfluity, slope-shouldered, close-fitted to the body, jacket bases curving in front, skirts showing fulness to the front in the form of pleats or folds. The French, too, praise these suits without stint: they commend particularly Victor Stiebel, Hardy Amies and Cavanagh. But Michael of Lachasse, praised by trans-Atlantic buyers as the leading creative spirit in the London group, is considered by some French critics as "moins strict, moins Anglais" (less severe, less English) than the others—a criticism that might well be met with the response that, like Digby Morton, he is in fact Irish and not English.

The grandeur of the evening dresses overwhelms most observers, and the beauty of the gold and silver run brocades in palest colourings, some designed by Mr. Oliver Messel, others by Mr. Miki Sekers, but all woven in the West Cumberland mills, have startled Continental observers who had never before imagined England capable of such exquisite designs and restrained colour sense. Mr. Messel not only designed many Coronation themes of roses, acorns, thistles, leaves and plumes, but, when Mr. John Cavanagh proposed to embroider and "jewel" over the thistles, shamrocks and acorns which he chose, the artist came down, for his own satisfaction, to supervise in the workrooms the manner of their workings, out of his wide experience as designer both for the Covent Garden and Glyndebourne Opera Houses.

John Cavanagh does what some others have failed to do: he keeps the "jewelling" of brocades and embroideries away from the wearer's face and throat, so that the real jewels to be worn at Coronation functions shall not clash with their imitations. On satin, lace and brocade, he puts superb hand-work round the backs of low moulded bodices, at the base of brief tunics, and on skirts.

Both he and Mattli in their collections run a theme of sashes in contrasting colours. Cavanagh puts a coral sash slotted under the hip-lines of a white organza ball-dress, also a black sash on a blue printed silk cocktail dress. Mattli does more: he conjures silk sashes from the hip pockets of jackets and, causing them to disappear, makes them fall from the opposite hip under the jacket curve. He, too, puts black silk sashes on slim, printed afternoon dresses and also drapes either hip of embroidered gold brocade balldresses in sash form.

Victor Stiebel romanticises sashes by using them like swags on the vast width of the tulle ball-room skirts (which may use as much as 250 yards, he says) contrasted with minutely small satin bodices, and then festoons over them garlands of white roses. Like other designers, he uses for these dresses the most delicate pale shades, such as mother-of-pearl irridescents, a pale washed turquoise, shell green, water blue, often shot through with pale gold thread.

The contrast is tremendous between such grand-occasion gowns, often mounted on hoops, and the figure-fitting, gentle suits and straight-hanging tweed and woollen coats.

The greatest possible concessions are made to practicality in day clothes. Add-and-subtract wardrobes are to be found in most collections, dresses being given two entirely different aspects with two bodices, worn one over the other or either alone. Peter Russell makes jacket-like tops to day dresses and puts below what he calls "bra-bodices," which are sleeveless, low-cut bodices with narrow shoulder straps. Digby Morton does not separate skirt and bodice but offers "slip dresses," topless, slim affairs, under blouse-like bodices, boleros, or the brief and almost straight "match-box jackets" which are having a great vogue in America.

These two (under and over) bodices bridge the gap in acceptance of the trend for very low-cut decolletages for daytime, replicas of what has so far been worn only for sunbathing and on the beach. They make it possible for a woman, wearing the same ensemble, to be well-dressed from the time when she starts out in the morning until she dines at a restaurant or visits the theatre, discreetly dressed.

These add-and-subtract outfits now have their own coats, lined to match the fabric or detail of the two-bodice dresses and may be in the figured silks that show small, blurred, discreet patterns such as of fern fronds, scribble-patterns, some vague Chinese theme, or the spattered inkspots which are a much-liked print of the year.

Top favourite colours for the coming season are oatmeal and honey beiges, cream tones, copper and bronze, also a vivid turquoise blue. Yellows like straw or like primroses are much seen, and late afternoon clothes show muted cyclamens, faded violets and steel-blue. Digby Morton uses one of the most interesting daytime woollens, shaded from one side to the other in lichen-green to grey. OFNS—Copyright.

WE WONDER how much finer you can get than the aluminum wire used in delicate apparatus which records the earth's tremors. Drawn out almost to the vanishing point, it is about one-twelfth the diameter of a human hair. One pound of aluminum would make enough of this unbelievably fine wire to stretch 20,000 miles!

We know no more striking example of the way people make use of the lightness and strength of aluminum for all sorts of jobs. DOROTHY DIX:

Fault-Finders Need Dose Own Medicine

DEAR MISS DIX: What do you think of these "frank" people who pride themselves on "speaking their minds"? I have a friend who is driving me crazy. Whenever she comes to my home she finds fault with something—always for "my own good, of course." She makes disparaging remarks about my clothes—even in the presence of others. It is embarrassing to me, as well as upsetting. She is a person who will do anything for you, but spoils it all with these "remarks." While I don't believe in being deceitful, I do think it's better to make no comment at all than to be continually belittling.

G. S.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: It's really wonderful how some outspoken people can set themselves up to be highly virtuous. They throw overboard every vestige of tact, consideration, politeness and kindness for the dubious distinction of being perfectly honest at all times. Of course, actually they are not being perfectly honest; the law of averages alone would necessitate at least an occasional kind comment, which people who pride themselves on telling us things four our own good never make. It's only human failings that are worthy of the malicious one's attention.

FRANKNESS BEGETS FRANKNESS

Try giving tit for tat. The next time your friend brags about her frankness, tell her you agree wholeheartedly with her principles, adding: "How did you ever come to pick a hat that particular shade of brown? It makes your dull hair look even more drab! And with your sallow skin—!" The lady will be annoyed, that's sure; it's one of the strange anomalies of human nature that people who expect others to have hides like elephants are themselves so sensitive that their fragile skins are pierced by anything that even remotely resembles a barb.

This particular failing is, like so many others masquerading under different guises, an outward manifestation of a deep, inward inferiority. People who suffer from inferiority complexes often take the oddest means to focus attention on themselves. That the attention is usually unflattering is a minor point they overlook. If a fairy godmother could teach these folks to bring out their better qualities both they, and their associates, would benefit. Why not try the role of godmother? If you can draw the lady out, win her confidence and learn what she would like from life, and what she has to contribute—though she may be unaware herself just what her abilities in this line may be—you may be able to turn a menace into a blessing.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a young man of 28, sensitive and artistic, married 3 years to a woman of 39, a fine person whose wealth has enabled me to have the luxuries and objets d'art I have always desired. At first we were completely happy, but now I find myself in love with her 18-year-old daughter of a previous marriage. The girl has inherited her mother's charm and has, in addition, a fine vibrant beauty. Do you think my wife will understand if I ask for a divorce?

F. C.

ANSWER: There are probably fine, succinct words to describe a creature like you, but I'm afraid no newspaper would print them if I used them.

You marry an older woman solely for money, then decide that your avaricious possessiveness might as well include her daughter—who is, in herself, a charming 'objet d'art'. When you approach your wife with the proposition you have in mind, she should pick you up bodily and toss you out of her home. I'd give anything to see her do it.

Too many women are similarly beguiled by the blandishments of young men who would rather marry money than earn it.

I hope your wife takes full advantage of the opportunity to be rid of you, and that her daughter has developed enough sense to see through your cupidity.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a single girl of 21, and have been seeing a young man for about three months. Neither of us has dated anyone else in that time, and for the past month I've been sure I want to marry him. I have been hoping he'd say something to this effect, but so far he hasn't. When I asked him to make something definite between us, he said I was rushing him. I have no desire to rush him into anything, but would like to know where I stand.

TROUBLED

ANSWER: You certainly are an impetuous young lady, definitely ready to risk romance for practicality. Proposing to a man you've known only three months is rushing things even in this jet- propulsion age.

You aren't even being fair to yourself. An acquaintance of more than three months is needed before two people can get to know each other sufficiently well to be sure they want to be together for the rest of their lives. At 21 you're scarcely ready to be put on a shelf if you happen to miss the boat with this particular young man. If you should lose him in six months, as you seem to fear, you still have lots of time for marriage, and you have had the pleasant memories of a good friendship. By this time I wouldn't be a bit surprised if the boy hasn't been permanently scared off by your precipitation. If you're lucky enough to have him around yet, take things a little easier and let him do the courting.

Nobody knows the cause of rheumatism but we do know there's one thing to ease the pain . . . it's INSTANTINE.

Bethany Anglican Church Hold Vestry Meeting

BETHANY (ENS).—The annual Vestry meeting of St. Paul's Anglican Church was held at the rectory, Rev. T. S. Gault presiding. Officers for the coming year are: Emory Smith and Robert Read, wardens; Robert Morton, lay delegate to the Synod; Miss Laura Morton, vestry clerk; Allan Gribble, church treasurer; John J. Coburn, auditor; James M. Gay, organist and choir leader; William Phillips, sexton.

Society representatives are H. F. Rayson, superintendent of Sunday School; Rev. T. S. Gault, leader of Church Boys' League; Mrs. H. Rayson, Mrs. E. Smith and Mrs. D. Smelt as leaders of Junior WA; Mrs. Allan Gribble, president of Woman's Auxiliary; Mrs. Charles Reynolds, president of Ladies' Guild.

In his parish report, the Rev. T. S. Gault said, "The year 1952 has been a happy and progressive one. In the year ahead, may St. Paul's continue to stand as a very fertile field for Christian endeavor. For reasons of ill health, Mrs. J. J. Hamilton was forced to relinquish leadership of the Woman's Auxiliary. She is one of the first members of the branch, and has been active in church work for many years. Mrs. Alice McGrath had to give up her duties as organist. For more than 50 years she has been organist, except for brief intervals. During her last months as organist, she was largely instrumental in robing the choir members with their vestments, for the first time in St. Paul's, and also furnishing the choir room. "We wish renewed health to both and the happiness they both so richly deserve," Mr. Gault said.

The treasury report showed all obligations met, and a balance of $446. The choir reported 20 members, highlight of the year being the presentation of a Christmas cantata, "The Holy Advent." The Sunday School enjoyed a successful year of religious study and social activities under direction of H. F. Rayson, superintendent.

The Junior Girls' Auxiliary listed a balance of $4.55. They had donated money to Missions, and sent a quilt and other gifts to the St. Faith's Messengers. The Church Boys' League, newly organized last year, also reported a successful term. All members have received their armbands, shields and first crest.

The Woman's Auxiliary listed 25 members. Missionary work carried on during the year consisted of a bale of clothing and quilts sent to headquarters, a donation to the Canadian Sunday School Caravan Mission, a box of gifts sent to St. Faith's Guild, a quantity of homemade jams and jellies sent to Strachan House in Toronto, and a donation to the Diocese of the Arctic. They had also given $150.00 to the wardens of the church, $31.95 towards the allotments; $25.00 to help buy gowns for the choir and curtains for the choir room. They had remembered the aged and sick with gifts of fruit and flowers, and started a $1.00 bank account for each new baby in the parish.

Receipts totalled $1,061.48; expenditures $619.62. Balance on hand is $441.36.

The Ladies' Guild reported 17 members. Their funds totalling $606.00 had been raised by holding pot luck suppers, bake sale table and fish pond at the bazaar, collections at each meeting, an amateur concert and several other entertainments, and a garden party.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Week's Meat For Family Living On $15

Because Julia's letter is full of little nuggets of wisdom I am giving you this second instalment,—continued from last week. As you will remember Julia is doing all of this clever managing on $15.00 per week for four people, her two girls being of school age.

Julia continues: "Today for lunch by way of variation we had soup and homemade bread and pancakes with honey butter (made by melting sugared honey over hot water with a good-sized piece of margarine added to it.) Served hot over pancakes it is delicious. We also had salad. The pancakes were made from a packaged mix bought last fall when there were specials on. I add buttermilk instead of plain milk. They are much more feathery.

Here is my week's supply of meat bought today: 2 lbs. riblets, cheaper than spareribs but delicious barbecued, 15c per lb.; 1 lb. bologna at 33c; 2 lbs. pork liver at 29c per lb.; ½ lb. bacon at 25c ½ lb.; 1 soup bone 10c, 1 roast $2.51 at 55c lb. (blade). This last I shall cut in two. It was large but lovely, so I will keep half in freezer for next week as we don't like a lot of cold beef or pork. We'll have bacon and eggs one meal. The liver will do 2 meals, riblets 1 meal, bologna 1 meal (sometimes I steam it to heat it and serve with fluffy mashed potatoes), beef 2 meals and maybe the soup made very hearty with perhaps the roast end or ground up bits of liver if any left; soup mix will be added, lentils and bits of celery and carrots . . . the meats I have mentioned were all specials for this weekend and that's why prices are quoted . . . . I must close now Mary—I've followed your column as long as I've been married. Then I could only bake scalloped potatoes, cake, macaroons, so you've turned out another good cook to your credit as I can make Fluffy Hot Biscuits and the bread everyoneloves from your column.—Julia T."

✧ ✧ ✧

Isn't she a whiz? Isn't her husband lucky? It's people like you Julia that keep this country ticking. Thanks for sharing your ideas with us.

✧ ✧ ✧

My 5 cents worth comes now.

Years ago I concocted a dish that without my intention has become sort of famous. It was made out of what might be termed "nuthin' much." The day was Thursday (refrigerator clean-up day in our house) and the cupboard was bare—except for 3 eggs, about 2 cups ground leftover veal and about 1½ cups cooked rice. I pondered the possibilities and came up with a sort of Chinese Omelette, topped with the veal, made into a cream sauce. I'm sure all of you have been in the same kind of a fix, so, sparked by Julia and her ideas, I'm going to give it to you.

EMEM'S "ANYTHING GOES" OMELETTE

One and one-half cups cooked rice, 4 tablespoons each butter or margarine, and flour, 2 cups milk (or ½ cup skim milk powder and 1¾ cups water), 3 eggs, yolks and whites separate, ¼ teaspoon each dry mustard and paprika, 1¼ teaspoon salt, about ¼ or ½ cup dry grated cheese. Make a sauce by melting the butter or margarine, stirring in flour until smooth, then milk until thick. Pour this over the beaten yolks, then add the rice, seasonings and cheese. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites. Pour into greased shallow dish and bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for 35 minutes OR cook in large frying pan as you would an omelette, drying off the top in the oven. This amount serves 6. When ready to serve turn out on hot platter and pour over it

Creamed Meat: Make another white sauce just as the one in the omelette is made. Add 2 cups chopped or ground meat (ham, veal, beef or chicken or even salmon), and some celery salt. Heat through. One cup chopped cooked vegetables may be substituted for 1 cup of the meat—peas, celery, carrots, asparagus have all been used by me.

If readers have "make-do" ideas that will match these of Julia's and mine send 'em in to the paper "attention Mary Moore."

Revision Court Hears Appeal

NORWOOD —(ENS) —A Court of Revision, presided over by Judge John de N. Kennedy, was held at Westwood town hall.

An appelant, Ralph Cuthbertson, appealed to the judge following the annual court of revision.

This is the first appeal from the county assessor's verdict, and it was represented for the county by W. B. Gordon of Peterborough. Mr. Cuthbertson had as his representative Thomas Carley, QC.

Mr. Carley claimed and proved to the judge that the county assessor had been unfair to Mr. Cuthbertson.

The owner was fairly attended.

Parish Council Protests Negligence

WALBERSWICK, Suffolk (CP)—The parish council of Walberswick protested today against what it called "extreme negligence on the part of the government department concerned" for not spreading a public warning of the week-end's great tides.

Some survivors of the village, which has a population of 408, said the government should have given a country-wide radio warning.

The air ministry's weather office said it issued two general warnings to the proper authorities. From the time they were given, an air ministry spokesman said, the areas had "about 12 to 14 hours notice that trouble was likely to develop."

Pick Special Committee On Sewage Disposal

LINDSAY (ENS) — A special committee of the board of works to assist the chairman and to control the operation of the sewage disposal plant was appointed last night by town council.

Chairman of the board works, Deputy-Reeve Bert Hick, asked for the committee, in view of the fact that his committee was the largest in council, and that he had a great deal of responsibility to handle at present. The committee would meet a week in advance of council, he said, and thrash out many problems that required many hours of time in council, under ordinary circumstances. Aldermen Baker, Stevens, Breeze and chairman Hick were appointed to the new committee.

Britain Anxious About Action In Formosa

LONDON (Reuters) — Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden today told the House of Commons Britain has already expressed to the United States her "concern" over the withdrawal of the U. S. 7th fleet from the Straits of Formosa.

He said Britain was informed in advance of the U. S. decision, announced Monday by President Eisenhower, and promptly expressed her unfavorable reaction.

Eden said the British government took the line that the decision would have unfortunate political repercussions without compensating military advantages.

"This continues to be the view of the British government," Eden said.

He added that it was important, however, to keep the matter in correct proportion and perspective.

"The neutralization of Formosa was a universal act of policy in which the British government was not associated. It was made before Chinese intervention in the Korean war," he said.

Blame Slippery Roads For Evening Mishaps

Streets slippery with snow which fell during Monday afternoon's storm were blamed for two accidents which occurred early Monday evening. Russell Cole, 44, 678 Hopkins Ave., was driving west on King St. and attempted to cross the Stewart St. intersection but could not get traction.

Harold Sage, 22, 781 Water St., driving a light truck, could not stop in time to avoid a collision but swung to his left in an attempt to do so. Damage to the left side of Cole's car was estimated at $500 and $75 to the front of the truck.

Damage to a car driven by Mrs. Charles Huffman, 41, 615 Charlotte St., was estimated at $500 when it was in collision with a truck driven by Laurence Olver, 49, concession 7, Smith township. Mrs. Huffman was turning into her driveway and Olver, driving behind her, was unable to stop owing to the icy condition of the street. He swung his truck to the right into the driveway and the two vehicles came to rest side by side. Damage to the truck was estimated at $25.

PCVS Pupils Visit Schools To Consider Teaching

First interest group from PCVS to look over future vocations was a group of about 20 who visited city public schools Monday afternoon.

In ones and twos, they spent the afternoon at the various schools, observing and in some cases taking a brief fling at teaching. The visit was part of the career planning program of PCVS, under vocation guidance director Howard Moebus.

"These students are considering teaching as a career," said Mr. Moebus. By visiting schools and observing teachers at work, they got an idea of whether they might like it.

VISIT NORMAL

The visit to the schools will be followed later in the year by a visit to the normal school, where the prospective teachers will have a talk with Principal Leo Copp.

Usually a dozen or more go from PCVS to Normal School, Mr. Moebus said.

Other interest groups will pay visits to various places in the city during the remainder of the school year. One, of about 30 girls, interested in nursing, will go to Civic Hospital Feb. 12. From now unit year's end, said Mr. Moebus, one interest group weekly will be paying a visit somewhere in the city.

Science Can Make Every Girl A Jane Russell, Surgeon Says

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A plastic surgeon disclosed today how any girl can become a Jane Russell through science — and fool everybody but her surgeon.

That means that girls whom nature has forgotten need no longer stuff their bras with cotton. Instead, reports Dr. Robert Franklyn, an inside falsie can be made with plastic, inserted under the skin.

"A size 34, which is insufficient, can become 36, which is sufficient, and a 36 can become a 38, which is more than sufficient, even in Hollywood," states the surgeon, who numbers many a movie queen among his patients.

Dr. Franklyn claims he has successfully performed the operation on 25 women, some of them well known to movie fans. The plastic, first developed by him in a soft form, is a sponge-like substance that feels fleshy. It can also be used to build up hollow cheeks or chinless chins.

SURGICAL INCISION

The operation requires a surgical incision that will allow the spongy plastic to be pushed into the spots required.

"So far," he commented in an interview, "we have found it inert and well-tolerated by the body."

Dr. Franklyn has backed such movies as "The Fighter" and "The Blue Gardenia."

But his value to the studio is more than financial.

"Sometimes early in a picture, we'll find that an aging actress is showing her age too much. A 20-minute operation can fix that."

He performs a modern version of the face-lifting operation. This consists of an incision in the hairline, then drawing up the skin so that the wrinkles disappear.

Finds Horror Overwhelming As Island Gives Up Dead

By JOHN DUDMAN

CANVEY ISLAND, Eng. (Reuters) — I wished today that I had never become a reporter as Canvey Island gave up its dead from the grey floods. The horror was overwhelming.

From first light the little boats went out on the lake that only a day or two ago was a flourishing, happy community at the mouth of the Thames.

Then the horror began as the boats rowed back with the bodies.

One by one they were found—floating in the front gardens, sprawled along the shattered sea wall, some still in their beds.

A boy who returned to the island this morning to search for relatives saw something white floating in the front garden of his cottage home.

White-faced and trembling he plunged into the water, forced down the fence and cried, "It's my mother."

With a group of air force men I saw another boat ease up beside a clump of bushes fringing a small red topped house.

One of the men threw a rope into the bushes and gave a tug. A hand appeared above the surface. From a finger came the glean of a wedding ring. It was a young man still in his pajamas.

It was slow, terrifying work. Slow because the boats were hampered by the fences around the houses. They had to knock many down to reach the windows and peer in, fearful of what they would find next.

Some of the bodies had already floated out of the doors and the windows. A woman still in her nightgown was found sprawled in the mud of the sea-wall.

Sugar Refineries In 2 Places May Be Closed

CHATHAM (CP)—W. J. McGregor, president of Canada and Dominion Sugar Co., Ltd., said in a statement today that the company's sugar refineries at Chatham and Wallaceburg will be closed this year unless imports of Cuban refined sugar are stopped or restricted.

Mr. McGregor said that for 20 years no Cuban refined sugar came to Canada but that following last year's over-production in Cuba, sugar started to come to Canada last February. He added:

"The way 1953 has started with regular weekly boat and rail shipments from Havana to Ontario via New York, I anticipate Ontario will be swamped with a volume of Cuban refined sugar this year at least twice that of 1952, unless the Canadian government steps in.

"Canadian imports of Cuban refined white sugar in 1952 were 32,000,000 pounds, of which 23,000,000 pounds came to Ontario."

The imports, he stated, are "displacing more and more sugar made from Ontario-grown beets."

He said Trade Minister Howe is expected to discuss the matter at a trade conference in Havana Wednesday.

In addition to the refined sugar, Canada buys raw sugar from Cuba. Canadian consumption of sugar is about 1,200,000,000 pounds a year, with Canadian beet-sugar production supplying about a quarter of the total.

Engineer Reports Expenditure Of $705,509 In City New Construction $392,531

A four page compilation is City Engineer Chalmers' statement to the council of the expenditures by his department in 1952.

The net total is $705,509.26 in accounting categories as follows:

Roads: $135,307.03; bridges $1,949.21; sidewalks $21,190.23.

Sewers: $51,871.03; general items amounting to $180,494.90 but reduced by credits to a net of $48,274.09.

New construction: totalled $392,531.34, reduced by $134,325.51 credits to a net of $258,205.83.

Capital accounts: $16,798.61; credits $11,654.86; net expenditure $5,143.75.

Local improvement work amounted to $449,233.38 against which there was $7,073.70, leaving a net cost of $442, 159.68.

Mr. Chalmers also mentioned his depreciation account which stands at a credit of $44,194.25.

Maintenance column embraces roads, bridges, sewers, etc. Some of the items under roads, for instance, (were spent in 1952).

Pavement Cleaning	$21,715.51
Street patching	$33,340.27
Street gravelling	$14,216.19
Oiling streets	$22,885.40
Snow clearing	$12,369.49
Sanding roads	$ 8,809.83
Resurfacing	$ 3,376.90

One of the items under the "walks" sub-caption was: snow cleaning walks $12,702.01; sanding walks $7,227.13.

Biggest item in the sewers brackets was: sewage disposal maintenance $30,689.32; pumping stations maintenance $2,386.69; cleaning sewers $6,266.88; cleaning basins $5,041.99; storm drains maintenance $5,620.49.

A few quotations follow from the "general" expenditures: Signs and guardrails $6,471.76; creeks and watercourses $4,679.42; weed cutting $5,327.42; railway crossings $3,230.59; equipment operation $11,565.55.

So much for the maintenance section of the report of expending. Most of the new construction items are small (apart from local improvements): Road-mix Romaine Street $2,820.91.

This appears to relate to the objections last year of Romaine St. ratepayers, in the Park-St.-Monaghan Road block, who protested that the asphaltic pavement which was to have been laid on that street was too expensive. Their case was to the effect that they were willing to accept some new pavement on the street if the cost was reasonable. Finally, a road-mix was laid, accompanied by official information that it was unlikely to be long lived.

Bolivar St. road-mix $1,894.75; Park St. road $556.16; McFarlane Road $481.50; Erskine cinder path $411.73; Cameron St. cinder path $550.84; Park St. cinder path $1,538.77.

Up to that stage of the accounts, total expenditure was $392,531.34, reduced by credits of $134,325.51 to the net expenditure of $258,205.83; and on that basis the proposed appropriations for this year are $270,900.

LOCAL IMPROVEMENTS

Local improvements gather all the jobs which were done under the provisions of the local improvement act, by which part of the cost of such works is attached to the fronting property and the other part is charged to the rest of the citizens through the general treasury. A great deal of this work is financed by the debenture borrowing.

Some of the items in this list are:

George St. resurfacing	$ 8,418.66
Albert St. paving	$46,381.05
Monaghan Rd. paving	$24,488.39
Aylmer St. paving	$ 7,752.33
Charlotte St. paving	$34,451.09

The two men sustained the injuries when the car in which they were proceeding east on Highway 2 hit the back of a parked truck just beyond the Newcastle subway, shortly before 7 a.m. Monday. The pair were extricated from the car and rushed by ambulance to Port Hope. Condition of McDougall was given as satisfactory Tuesday.

Provincial police at Bowmanville intimated that charges are pending as a result of the accident.

Liberal Party Plans Challenge

TORONTO (CP) — The Liberal opposition will challenge the Ontario government to take action in reorienting its perspective and rediscovering its responsibilities to the people when the legislature opens next week, Alvin P. Cadeau, president of the Ontario Liberal Association, said Monday night.

Speaking on a free-time political broadcast over the CBC provincial network, Mr. Cadeau said the Liberal party was not opposing the government simply for the sake of opposition.

"There is a task for an opposition party here in Ontario," he said. "There are crowded highways and the resulting deaths, the critical tax and real estate situation in cities and towns, the lack of metropolitan planning and lack of direction in the preservation of our natural resources."

A'S SIGN SHANTZ

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Bobby Shantz signed a two-year contract Monday to pitch for Philadelphia Athletics in 1953 and 1954 for a total of more than $50,000.

The tiny five-foot-six-inch southpaw, most valuable player in the American League last season, thus becomes the highest-paid pitcher in the history of the Philadelphia American League baseball club. That includes Robert Moses (Lefty) Grove, long since voted into baseball's Hall of Fame.

The 27-year-old Shantz, smallest pitcher in major league baseball, signed the pact with club general manager Arthur Ehlers.

"Now I can stop worrying about money and concentrate on baseball," commented the little southpaw.

Asked about his left wrist, the one broken by a pitched ball last September, Shantz said: "I've forgotten all about that. It feels fine."

Shantz is confident that he can equal or better his 24-7 record of 1952.

Phillips Quells Merchants' Fear

TORONTO (CP)—Health Minister Phillips said Monday the proposed new Pharmacy Act will not prevent any person registered under it from selling patent or proprietary medicine as long as it is registered under the Pest Control Act.

Dr. Phillips spoke to quell the fears of many merchants that the proposed act would deprive them of much of their business, including the sale of many household remedies.

Fears were roused through circulation of a draft act drawn up by the college of pharmacy and outlining what the druggists would like to see included in the new legislation.

Dr. Phillips said the draft was just a place from which to start and was sent out to obtain constructive criticism.

He was driving with his seat adjusted so that his head protruded above the open hatch. As the tank plowed under the ice, sheets of ice slid up the front of the tank and crushed him against the cowling.

The animal was later sent to the Dominion department of agriculture's health of animals branch in Ottawa where it died.

Following a public service at Fairlawn United Church, Toronto, the funeral cortege made the 75-mile journey past scores of constables on point duty at intersections and railway crossings—constables who turned out in near-zero weather to honor the memory of the man who had fought to get them better salaries and provided them with the finest police radio network in North America.

GUARD OF HONOR

Dozens of parishioners and district residents gathered in the little 100-year-old white frame church where the rector, the Rev. Thomas Gault, conducted a brief service. Then the long oak coffin was borne to the graveside through a driving snowstorm past a guard of honor composed of OPP officers of all ranks from every district in the province.

Honorary pallbearers were Premier Leslie Frost, Attorney-General Dana Porter, C. R. Magone, QC, Chief Coroner Smirle Lawson, Chief Constable John Chisholm of Toronto, Assistant Commissioner J. Howe of the RCMP of Toronto, Professor Joslyn Rogers and Mayor R. M. Simpson of Arnprior.

Active pallbearers were: Deputy-commissioners A. Moss and E. V. McNeill, Staff Inspector T. Trimble and Inspectors C. F. Airey of Niagara Falls, A. McDougall of Belleville and A. R. Knight of Dundas.

Representing the Peterborough police department at the funeral service in Toronto were Chief Constable John Thompson, Inspector of Detectives W. A. Clarke, Sergeant of Detectives John Stevenson and Sgt. Leo Murphy. At the burial service were Sgt. C. J. McGillen and PC's Harold Andrew, Victor McConnell, William Scott and Bert Howden.

Commissioner Stringer, who was 66 years old, died Thursday night from an attack o fbronchitis. He had returned to work last summer after a six-month illness.

BORN IN IRELAND

Born in County Dublin, he came to Canada in 1903 and joined the Toronto police department in 1909. The next year he transferred to the newly-formed Ontario Provincial police, and was appointed commissioner in September, 1939. He inaugurated the system of highway patrol cars and was credited with building the finest police radio network in North America.

Surviving besides his wife are a son, Leslie R. Stringer; a daughter (Eva), Mrs. Gilbert Nettleton, and a sister, Miss Lilly Stringer of Ireland.

Ferry Caught In Ice

KINGSTON (CP)—The motorship Wolfe Islander was stranded for some time in ice Monday, a couple of hundred yards from the dock here. The boat, a ferry plying the three-mile harbor trip between Kingston and Wolfe Island, encountered heavy ice during her regular run and was stuck near her destination. Workmen were able to free the ship and she managed to make her way back to Kingston.

Ken Watson's Curling

No one fault is as glaring among young curlers today as a common tendency to "ride the broom" during delivery, to help maintain balance. In effect, they are thumbing a ride because they are not in sliding using their own sense of balance. It is similar to using a side-car on a motorcycle to maintain easy riding. Well, what's wrong with that? . . . you may ask. Plenty! If it's results you want, take heed. If you merely want to look graceful on the ice, go ahead and don't bother reading the rest of this. But if you are one of those sliders who ends up his delivery with the body swivelling to the right after the rock is released, you are a "sucker" for an in-turn take-out. Any smart skip playing against you would in-turn you to death because with this delivery your body drifts off line and it is necessary to hook your rock back on the proper line of delivery, just as you release the handle. Out-turns will not bother you as much because you drift to the out-turn side or right side of the ice.

This type of delivery will get you into real trouble on tricky ice where there are "runs" or ridges that require pin-point accuracy in "getting the broom."

A few years ago, the young high-school champions representing Manitoba in the Canadian school championships that year, all had developed that type of delivery with one exception. Playing on very tricky ice, they missed the broom consistently with in-turn shots. They were trimmed by teams with far less experience, yet when the shouting was all over, they were still innocently unaware of the real cause of it all.

Hold Out Hope For Quick End To Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Competing counsel held out hope today for a quick end to a power commission hearing on two rival applications for authority to jon with Canada in construction of a big St. Lawrence river power project.

Even examiner Glen R. Law indicated the hearing, which opened in December, might be ended today after final testimony from witnesses appearing for Public Power and Water Corp., Trenton, N. J., a private firm.

The other applicant, the power authority of the state of New York, has completed its case.

Clarence S. Jarvis, 72-year-old retired U. S. Army engineer, now retained as a consulting engineer by Public Power, takes the stand in today's resumption.

Still pending is the motion by Willard W. Gatchell, FPC counsel, to deny the Public Power application.

Gatchell contends that Public Power has failed to show financial responsibility for the $300,000,000 project and, also, that the corporation is not acceptable to Canada as partner in the development.

SAYS IT'S IMPOSSIBLE

Gatchell Monday told the examiner that in view of public power's showing at the hearing, it would be "impossible" for the commission to grant it a licence.

Engineers estimate that the development will yield annually more than 12,000,000,000 kilowatt hours of energy. The output would be divided equally between Canada and the American partner yet to be chosen.

Canada has designated the Ontario hydro-electric commission as its entity in the construction. Robert Saunders, commission chairman, was present briefly at Monday's hearing.

Saunders has testified that as quickly as a power commission decision in the case is forthcoming, his group will be ready to move "in a matter of hours" toward construction of the huge project.

Opposition to the development was expressed Monday by witnesses for Pennsylvania coal producers. They contend the project will dislocate the coal market in the area to be served by St. Lawrence power.

Dogs Kill 18 Sheep

GALT (CP)—Three roving dogs fatally wounded 18 sheep and mauled 16 others on the farm of W. C. Barrie near here Sunday. Loss was estimated at $1,500. Barrie's collie drove the marauders off and injured two. Then Jim and George Barrie followed the dogs' trail for 15 miles across fields. They killed all three with rifle bullets.

Lively Dream

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (CP)—A 12-year-old boy from an orphanage at Grahamstown who spent a day at the seaside dreamed that night he was swimming. He dived out of the second-storey window of the orphanage and was found on the ground, dazed, with a sprained arm his only injury.

2 Legislatures Open On Both Coasts

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Two provincial legislatures open today, both probably for the last time before elections are called.

In British Columbia it will be the first session of the 23rd legislature and the first time a Social Credit government has been in power. Premier W. A. C. Bennett has indicated he will call a spring election in an attempt to increase Social Credit strength in the 48-seat house. At present the standing is: Social Credit 19; CCF 18, Liberals 6, Progressive Conservative 2, Labor 1, vacant 2.

In Nova Scotia the 44th legislature opens its fourth and probably last session. The Liberal government of Premier Angus L. Macdonald was elected four years ago and, although it could legally continue for another year, it is customary to hold an election every four years.

LIQUOR LAW CHANGES

The speech from the throne at the B. C. house opening is expected to include proposed changes in the province's liquor laws and increased taxes on natural resources. The liquor inquiry commission recently recommended liquor by the glass in cocktail bars and with meals in restaurants. The province voted in favor of such a change in a plebiscite last June.

The Nova Scotia house opening will be the first for Lieutenant-Governor Allistair Fraser, who succeeded J. A. D. McCurdy several months ago. There has been no indication of possible legislation. But the opposition is expected to continue its attacks on Liberal management, particularly teachers' salaries and school expenditures.

District Teams Tie

MILLBROOK— (ENS) — Top spot in the intermediate ORHA league was the added prize that went along with a win in the recent Brooklin-Millbrook clash in the latter village but so evenly were the teams matched that neither could connect for the tie breaker. The final score was 5-5. It was a cleanly played contest with but one penalty handed out by Referee Herb Payne. This went to L. Vipond of Brooklin for holding. It was no gentle fray, however, and a lot of hefty bumps were exchanged during the game. Brooklin took the lead at 4.30 on a Reynolds-Moore tally which McDowell equalized from Walling at the 8.00 minute mark. McDowell, who packs a fast accurate shot, then picked up another from Allan Hutchison which kept the locals in the lead until 19.30 when Tran clicked with Bradley assisting.

In the second, for Brooklin, it was L. Vipond from Bradley, Tran from Schell, and D. Vipond from Moore; while Millbrook kept the margin cut down on Ginn's goal from Lunn, and Allan Hutchison's counter from McDowell. Brooklins one goal margin looked big enough until Millbrook in a desperation move threw caution to the winds and sent out five forwards. Mitchell, a smart young goalminder, stopped everything blasted at him until a passout from behind his net by Walling and Wright got out to Allan Hutchison who was parked on his doorstep. He made no mistake in sinking the rubber behind the overworked goalie. It was hot and heavy but scoreless for the final two minutes.

Brooklin— Goal, Mitchell, defence, Booth, Reynolds; forwards, Moore, Bradley, Tran. Alternates: Schell, D. Vipond, Roberts, Johnston, L. Vipond.

Millbrooks— Goal, Hubbeard; defence, Dawson, R. Edwards; forwards, McDowell, Walling, Hutchison, Olan, Agnew, D. Edmonds.

Referee: Herb Payne, Peterborough.

Leafs Win At Civic

The winners were: Daynes, Fowler, Beavis, Julian, Billingsley, Connors, Allan, Theobald, Johnston, White, Trotter, Hamilton, Cullen. Manager of the Leafs is L. Maudsley.

Forecast Quick Approval Of Eisenhower's Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Speedy approval of President Eisenhower's plan to repudiate any secret agreements with the Kremlin was forecast today in a Congress applauding his decision to free Formosa Nationalists for raids on Red China.

Senator Robert Taft of Ohio, the Republican leader, said he sees no reason why Congress can't act quickly to pass a resolution proposed by Eisenhower in his "state of the union" message Monday.

The President said the resolution should make it clear that "this government recognizes no kind of commitment contained in secret understandings of the past with foreign governments" which permit "enslavement" of any peoples.

SUGGEST YALTA

Taft said he is wholeheartedly for the Eisenhower plan.

Eisenhower didn't say what agreements he had in mind, but the general assumption in Congress was that he may have been speaking of Yalta, where the U. S. and Britain made concessions to Russia to persuade her to enter the Pacific war. The state department during the Truman regime said the Yalta pact has been fully public since 1947, two years after its signing.

Representative Charles Kersten (Rep.-Wis.) introduced a resolution he said was designed to nullify the Yalta agreement.

Some Democrats said they didn't see how the action the President proposed would alter the facts of Soviet conquests based on military power.

GOOD PROPAGANDA

Senator Richard Russell (Dem.-Ga.), often the voice of the majority of southern Democrats in the Senate, said such a resolution would have "tremendous propaganda value in the world," and that he would support it. He added wrily:

"But I don't believe the Russians will move out of Port Arthur the day we pass it."

Republicans long have criticized the Yalta conference of February, 1945, in which the late president Franklin D. Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Prime Minister Stalin participated, as having led to Russia's position of power in the Far East and in former Nazi satellite states. The pacts included promises to hold "free elections" in eastern European countries which were overrun first by Hitler and then by the Russians. Red governments were set up instead.

Yalta also recognized Russian territorial gains in eastern Poland.

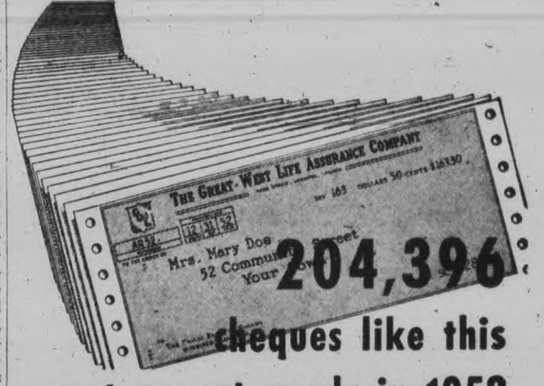
Roosevelt and Churchill also agreed to let Russia take over all of Sakhalin Island and the Kurile Islands which lie north of Japan. Russia got back her lease on Port Arthur as a naval base which she lost to Japan in the Russo-Japanese war in 1904.

CARRYING OUT PROMISE

Eisenhower's proposal was regarded in Congress as a first move toward carrying out his presidential campaign promise that the U. S. will move in ways short of war to bring about the liberation of captive peoples in Russia's satellites.

While the congressional reaction to the repudiation proposal was almost all favorable, some Democrats voiced dissents in the chorus of Republican approval for Eisenhower's order unfreezing the Formosa Nationalists.

Senator Theodore Green (Dem.-R. I.), a foreign relations committee member, said he doesn't know "where it would land us and the President doesn't tell us where it leads."



But Senator Walter George (Dem.-Ga.), another foreign relations committeeman, applauded the order as a move which not only may divert Chinese Communist troops from Korea but also may prevent the Reds from sending troops to Indo-China because they will need men to guard their own coasts.

Senator Wayne Morse (Ind.-Ore.) and some Democrats said they feared the order might mean extension of the Korean war.

Name Ralph Evinrude Chairman Of Executive

WAUKEGAN, Ill.—Ralph Evinrude was elected vice chairman of the board of directors and chairman of the executive committee of the board at a meeting of the directors of the Outboard Marine and Manufacturing Company Monday. The committee, headed by Mr. Evinrude, it was announced, will engage in planning the company's engineering, product development, production and merchandising.

During 1952, The Great-West Life made 204,396 separate benefit payments to policyholders and beneficiaries—amounting to over $38,000,000. Sharing this huge sum were elderly people who had saved for an independent retirement; widows and children to whom the payments were of vital importance; and many others whose share, often coming in an emergency, was of special significance.

In addition to benefits paid out, a further $28 million was added to the funds held for the future benefit of policyholders.

In every other phase of Company operations, progressive achievement was apparent. Great-West Life representatives carefully planned and arranged new protection amounting to $327 million for more than 45,000 people. Great-West Life policyholders now own more than $2 billion of life insurance and annuities in the Company. Assets, which are soundly invested in productive enterprise, grew to $446 million.

New Princess Pats Find Korea Warfare Strange

By BILL BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

IN KOREA (By Mail)-(CP)—War in Korea, say the Patricias, isn't quite what they expected.

But the 3rd battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, quickly got "clued up" during its first tour in the static line the United Nations are holding here.

The battalion learned a little about the Chinese, too.

Says Lt.-Col. Herb Wood, the commanding officer:

"The troops have met the Chinese and kept them at arm's length for a month. They've learned the Chinese are no better than they are if they remember their lessons."

IN THE LINE

The battalion relieved the 1st Patricias early in November. It had a brief period in the line a fortnight later when, in discharging a counter-attack role, it occupied a position the Black Watch had briefly lost.

The Patricias returned to the line Nov. 28 as part of Brig. M. P. Bogert's 25th Canadian infantry brigade and stayed in until Dec. 28. Their share of the front included the famous "Hook" position, a 150-foot-high horseshoe ridge about 15 miles north of Munsan and under enemy observation.

The forward platoon there was under Lieut. Peter Worthington of Ottawa. The position formerly had been held by the United States Marines and then the Black Watch.

The Patricias had Christmas in trenches and outposts, were relieved Dec. 28 by the 1st battalion the Royal Canadian Regiment, and rolled New Year's and Christmas into one bang-up day Jan. 1.

WELL-TRAINED UNIT

Wood says: "The battalion had been well trained in the more conventional methods of war, drills we used in the Second World War. It had been exercised in the attack and in the defence, and had had the usual road and wireless schemes.

"But we got here to find we had a lot to learn that was special to this theatre. The war here now is built around the static defence.

"It means a lot of digging and, having dug, keeping the hole intact against shelling through revetting and sandbagging. It means, too, constructing strong bunkers.

"We've done more digging in the last month than the average soldier does in his entire career."

WORK NIGHTS, REST DAYS

The Patricias, Wood said, learned to work by night and rest by day.

They learned how to build barbed-wire fences rapidly, developing their own "blitzkrieg wiring" technique. Military school methods were abandoned for speed so that ticklish areas under enemy observation could be wired off quickly.

They learned how to keep their weapons in fighting condition in zero weather.

The battalion developed its own patrolling technique so effectively that the Chinese gave it a wide berth most of the time. It had between seven and 12 Patricia-type patrols covering its own front every night and never a casualty on one of them.

The men got two hot meals daily. Four of the five rifle companies (the Patricias had a company from the 1st battalion, the Royal Canadian Regiment, under command throughout the month) had their kitchens bunkered into the company areas like the rest.

They learned water discipline, and got along well on the gallon a day per man could be carried into the hills for drinking, cooking and washing.

QUICK TO LEARN

Brigade headquarters gives the "new boys" full marks for application. Said one senior officer: "They were modest and ready and willing to learn. In no way is that an admission of inefficiency, quite the contrary."

"The Patricias have learned a lot," he said, "but they'll be learning new lessons all the time. We all do. The great thing is to keep that enthusiasm to learn and not get blase about it."

Among the several hundred routine patrols performed three were considered outstanding. They were led by Lieut. Russ Campbell of Saskatoon, Lieut. Maurice Barnett of Vancouver, and Cpl. Peter Freund of Finchley, London, England, and now in the Canadian Army.

Freund's reconnaissance patrol on Christmas Eve has been described as a classic.

Enemy shelling and mortar fire accounted for most of the battalion's casualties during the period—10 killed, 13 wounded and 12 battle accidents.

Surgery Offers Good Chance Of Permanent Rupture Cure

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, MD

A rupture, or hernia, is caused by some of the soft tissues of the body bulging through the wall or covering which is supposed to keep them in place. It is most common in the groin.

Most hernias occur through weak places which nature has not built any too well. A rupture also can develop through the scar of an old operation or place which has been weakened by injury.

Most ruptures appear for the first time after some strain, such as lifting something heavy. This does not mean that the weak spot was not there before, but the strain causes the addominal muscle to tighten. This raises the pressure inside the abdominal cavity, the contents of which push through at the weak point.

One method of treatment is to try to keep the contents in place and support the weakened wall by means of a support or truss. This is fairly satisfactory for some people, especially elderly people and those who do not have to engage in heavy exertion. The value of a truss or support also depends to a large extent on where the rupture is located, as well as its size.

With modern methods of surgery, it is possible in most cases to put the soft tissues, such as the intestines, back where they belong and to repair the wall so strongly that they are kept in place permanently.

Constant improvement in surgical methods has made the chances for permanent cure better and better. The likelihood of a recurrence is thus much less than it used to be.

SCAR TISSUE FORMED

Mr. M. has recently asked about the injection treatment for hernia. The purpose of this method is to irritate the tissues surrounding the hernia so that a thick scar will form at the point where the hernia is bulging. The presence of this scar is supposed to force the contents of the hernial sac back where they belong.

A good deal was written on this form of treatment several years back, but as a rule it requires several treatments and the scar tissue does not always do what it is supposed to do. For such reasons comparatively few physicians are now using injection treatments for hernia, and it seems that surgery is usually to be preferred.

4 'Teen-Agers Under Arrest

LONDON, Ont. (CPV(7/8/8 MO 'teen-aged youths were arrested by police Monday, bringing to seven the total implicated in what police term a roundup of a Western Ontario gang believed responsible for a minor crime wave in the district — including 20 entries of schools.

The latest suspects picked up are Mike Ready, Allan Park and Bill Loker, all of nearby Komoka, who were arrested and held for questioning, and Gordon Westbrook, 18, also of Komoka, who appeared in Middlesex county magistrate's court, charged with breaking into a Caradoc township school.

Alberta-Ontario Have Reciprocal Agreement

EDMONTON (CP)—Alberta highways minister Taylor announced Monday that Alberta has just completed a reciprocal agreement with Ontario under which commercial vehicles from one province can pass through the other without being subjected to an additional truck licence.

The agreement covers unloading and pick-ups of household goods, furniture and farm products such as dairy, cream and cheese.

Safe Yields $10,000

VANCOUVER (CP)—Safe-crackers escaped with $10,000 early Monday after blowing a safe in a super-market in Kitsilano district. Explosives used to crack the safe blew a hole in the second-storey office. The strong-box plunged to the main floor, to be carted away by the burglars.

Brothers Collide

BELLEVILLE (CP) — Edmund and James Hoskin, two brothers from Plainfield, met at nearby Latta Monday. Edmund, 19, was driving one way. James, 35, was coming the other. The result: $200 damage to their cars.

Endless Line Of Survivors Trudges Past

By JOHN DUDMAN

CANVEY ISLAND, England — (Reuters)—Endless lines of flood survivors trudged wearily Monday from their water-logged homes on this little island in the mouth of the River Thames.

They were the hardest hit in the great salt floods which swamped Britain's east coast during the weekend. As they walked listlessly to the reception centres on the mainland at Benfleet their grey, mud-streaked faces showed the strain of two nights and a day of horror.

The women, wearing whatever they had been able to grab before the waters rushed in, held close their bewildered children.

The men, grim and silent, stared around them at the water that sloshed over the homes they had worked years to build and then lost in a few hours.

MOSTLY EVACUATED

The island had a population of about 13,000 and most of the living have been evacuated. One hundred bodies have been found and from 400 to 500 are believed missing.

Grimy rescue-workers, eyes red-rimmed after working 36 hours almost non-stop, Monday night went out again in rowboats to search for victims in the few buildings still above water.

Many on the island refuse to go, particularly elderly folk.

White-haired Mrs. Martha Bird told the rescue workers who waded knee-deep water to reach her: "Oh, I'm not going along with you. But won't you stay to dinner?"

After an hour they persuaded her. "What an awful shame to leave that lovely dinner," she said.

Quebec Plans 55 Aid Stations

MONTREAL (CP) — Approximately 55 first aid stations will be set up in Quebec province in connection with its civil defence health service, Dr. Leo Lynch, director of provincial civil defence health services, said Monday at a three-day regional conference here.

He said one of the first objectives of the service was establishment of from 25 to 30 first aid stations which were originally scheduled to be in operation last July.

Seventy-five representatives of Quebec, Ontario, Maritime and United States civil defence units are attending.

Earlier, a civil defence nursing consultant, Miss E. W. Pepper of Ottawa, said 1,300 trained women have instructed 18,000 graduate nurses in Canada for civil defence work.

Power Authority Sees Progress On Project

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The New York state power authority said Monday that "after 22 years of frustration and disappointment" it appears to be making concrete progress on the St. Lawrence river project.

The authority said in a report to Governor Thomas E. Dewey and the legislature that it "has every reason to hope" that the federal power commission soon will grant it a licence to develop St. Lawrence power jointly with Canada.

Dies of Leukemia

TORONTO (CP)—An eight-year-old girl, whose last foods were peaches and plums from South America, died Monday of leukemia. Ronda Marie Haworth, in hospital since last May, experienced a progressive lessening of appetite. About a month ago she asked for peaches and plums, and a crate of each fruit was flown from Chile. That was the last food she touched.

Car In Lake, 1 Drowns

WHITNEY (CP)—Frances Lozinski, 25, was drowned and four others escaped Sunday when a car broke through the ice on Long lake near here and sunk in 27 feet of water. Whitney is about 45 miles east of Huntsville. The other four managed to get out of the car before it plunged to the bottom.

Baby Suffocates

GUELPH (CP)—David Cornell, eight-week-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Cornell, was found dead in his crib early Monday. Death was attributed to suffocation.

May Instal Parking Meters In Heart Of London City

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain is thinking of installing parking meters in the heart of London.

The immediate effect might be to ease traffic congestion in the twisting streets of the biggest city in the world. But judging from the experience of large American cities, as long as the cars are on the streets the traffic problem remains—parking meters or not.

So the main idea would be to stack the pennies and sixpences from the meters to finance construction of huge underground garages.

Trafalgar square, for example, at a given moment during the rush hour may be clogged with as many as 50 lumbering double-decker buses and dozens of automobiles circling around the towering Nelson column. Park meters in the surrounding streets would not check the crawling flow of traffic, but a garage under the bustling square could take more than 10,000 of these cars out of circulation.

The traffic problem is increasingly urgent for London. Since the war the city has been spreading out and more and more people are commuting to work by car.

Parking lots in unrepaired bombed sites provided a stop-gap solution but they are now being filled in by new buildings.

A committee has been studying the city's traffic problem ever since 1951 and is expected to file its report soon.

"The broad purpose of the report," Transport Minister Alan Lenox-Boyd said recently in the House of Commons, "is the building of underground garages in certain selected London squares."

If the idea works in central London it could be extended to other British cities, such as Birmingham, Manchester, Newcastle.

The transport minister said the government was willing to take the lead in the parking garage plan. Meanwhile the public — already forced to slip coins into meters for gas and electricity—would have to be "educated," he said.

BUOYING UP UNDER STRAIN—Salvage workmen take to a breaches buoy to span the 200 yards from the shipwrecked Egyptian freighter Virginia, aground off the coast of the Isle of Wight. Shipping experts wrote the ship off as a complete loss, but one firm decided to make the salvage attempt. First a cargo of iron ore has to be unloaded, and then holes in the hull will have to be patched. Only then will an attempt be made to free the vessel.

Rotarians See Fishing Film

It will be three months before fishing opens in the Kawarthas, but Rotarians found out at their luncheon meeting Monday that the fishing is pretty good in South America right now.

The film, Fabulous Fishing in South America, was shown. As envious Rotarians watched three anglers hooked and landed 14-pound rainbow trout in the southern continent's fresh water fishing grounds and then move on to deep see fishing to bring in a 400-pound swordfish and a 450-pound marlin.

The situation seemed heartlessly cruel to the enthusiastic anglers in the group when they left this film portrayal of a fisherman's paradise to face a February blizzard.

Expect Nationalist Raids Stepped Up In Red China

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—The new U.S. policy toward Formosa is expected to step up Nationalist raids on the mainland of Red China and may permit an airlift of men and material to Chinese Nationalist forces clinging to a foothold in the Burma border region.

These possibilities arose today as headquarters of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek surged with new hope of an eventual comeback on the mainland.

A statement expected to express the Nationalist government's warm gratification over President Eisenhower's move in ending the U.S. 7th fleet's "neutralizing" role in the Formosa strait was in preparation.

Eisenhower in his "state of the union" message to Congress said he had ordered the fleet to stop shielding Red China. This ended the U.S. ban on Nationalist raids on the mainland.

Stepped up commando and air raids on the Red China coast in which nationalist troops based on Formosa would take part is expected to be one of the first results of the policy switch.

Canada Expands Arctic Studies

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's studies of Arctic survival by defence scientists now are going on in expanded quarters at Fort Churchill, Man., the defence department announced Monday.

Dr. O. M. Solandt, chairman of the defence research board, officially opened a new wing of the defence research northern laboratory at a ceremony last week. The building makes room for administrative offices and leaves laboratory space in other sections of the building for the arctic research program, conducted at Churchill since 1946.

The work includes studies of the load which a soldier can carry most efficiently in the north, a study of effective present ground navigation methods and an investigation of the amount of equipment required for survival and operations.

Accident Toll Alarming; May Change Law

TORONTO (CP)—Alarmed by the record toll of more than 1,000 deaths on Ontario highways during 1952, the department of highways is reported to be studying several possible changes in legislation for enactment during sessions of the provincial parliament which opens next week.

The minimum age for licensing drivers may be raised. Statistics show that in the first six months of the last year, 1,320 drivers in the 15- to 18-year group were involved in accidents. This age bracket represents only seven per cent of licensed drivers, but the young drivers have more than 10 per cent of the accidents.

A system of step-down speed zones, uniform markings for school buses and an accompanying ban on passing of a standing school bus are also being studied.

Present Que. Budget During This Week

QUEBEC (CP)—Finance Minister Gagnon is scheduled to bring down the Quebec government budget for the 1953-54 fiscal year in the legislative assembly this week, probably Wednesday.

It is expected the minister will forecast revenues close to $300,000,000, topping estimated expenditures of more than $286,000,000 tabled in the assembly last month.

No new taxation is expected to be announced.

RESCUE WORKERS RACING NEW STORM

THREE COUNTRIES DEVASTATED—Floods which battered Europe over the weekend have devastated large areas in Britain, Holland and Belgium. Above is an aerial view of Canvey Island in the Thames Estuary in Essex, England. Heavy floods and gales have dislocated at least 13,000 people. Shaded areas in the newsmap (lower) show approximate location along the three coasts where rampaging waters have already claimed more than 1,800 lives. Holland was hardest hit, when centuries-old dikes gave way under the worst flood in 500 years.

35 RCAF Planes Take Off In Search For 2 Aircraft

HALIFAX (CP)—A fleet of 35 RCAF planes took off today to continue the search for two missing aircraft and their 48 occupants. Six Lancasters, joined by four United States aircraft from bases in Newfoundland, prepared to fan out over the North Atlantic where a British York airliner crashed on Monday 350 miles southeast of Gander airport.

The search area includes the spot where a U. S. Coast Guard cutter reported Tuesday night it had sighted a brilliant white flare. Snowflurries which cut visibility to less than a quarter-mile hampered the vessel in its efforts to track down the light.

The York carried 39 persons, including British soldiers, their wives and 13 children.

The air force said 11 Dakotas and 15 Lancasters will criss-cross southeastern Labrador where a Lancaster disappeared Sunday with its nine-man crew while trying to reach Goose Bay airport.

The reported sighting of the flare gave some hope that survivors of the York crash may still be found.

Complete Tieup Threatens Port

NEW YORK (AP) — Union longshoremen have threatened a complete tieup of the port of New York, starting Thursday, in support of the strike of tugboat men.

The International Longshoremen's Association (AFL) — to which both the longshoremen and tugboat crews belong — says the tugboat men will establish picket lines at all piers before the start of work Thursday morning.

The longshoremen will be expected to honor the picket lines, a union announcement said Tuesday night. The tugboat men so far have refrained from picketing the piers, allowing longshoremen and truckers to handle all ships able to dock and depart without tugs.

A contract dispute over wages and other issues led 3,500 crew members on tugs to strike last Saturday midnight. The walkout has made idle 450 harbor craft including coal and oil barges as well as tugboats. Scores of ships including the big passenger liners have been forced to dock unassisted. A coal shortage also is threatened.

The strike hit the ports of Philadelphia and Norfolk, Va., from the start and spread Tuesday to Albany, N. Y.

Six In Family Die As Fire Razes House

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP) — A father, mother and four of their children were burned to death early today when fire destroyed their farmhouse at Brimley, 13 miles west of here.

The victims were identified as Romuald Compeau, a farmer; his wife, Cecilia; and their children, Jeremiah, 8; Joseph, 6; Anita, four and Rene, 2. A fifth child, Eugene, is married and resides in the Sault.

Sheriff Roy Guest of Chippewa county said the fire was first reported by a neighbor, Mrs. Richard Deuman, whose home is located a mile from the Compeau home. She was awakened by the reflection of flames on her window.

Volunteer firemen arrived just as the roof of the two-storey log-and-frame house collapsed.

Cities, Hamlets Quickly Plan Flood Zone Aid

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

In the big cities and in hamlets, Canadians are joining in a spontaneous movement to aid the flood-stricken areas of Britain and northwest Europe. Their governments, federal and provincial, supported them.

For the second time in little more than a decade, the country is offering a helping hand to its neighbors across the Atlantic in a spirit strongly reminiscent of the days of the Second World War.

The list grows hourly of communities which have started campaigns to collect cash, food, clothing and medicine for the beleaguered flood victims. A national fund may be set up to co-ordinate their activities.

Several remember their own days of trial and the unstinting generosity of the British people.

WINNIPEG REMEMBERS

One such community is Winnipeg, scene of a devastating flood in 1950. Mayor Garnet Coulter said the citizens "remember with deepest gratitude the generous aid which came in 1950 from all parts of the western world" and he offered "every co-operation in support of the national flood relief fund which I understand it is proposed to form."

In British Columbia, trustees of a fund established in 1948 to aid sufferers whose homes were lost in the Fraser valley floods voted $100,000 to European relief, the biggest single contribution so far. The money will come from $500,000 still remaining in the fund treasury.

For the citizens of Sault Ste. Marie, the flood is history repeating itself. During the Second World War, Sault citizens "adopted" the fishing village of Lowestoft on the English east coast. Lowestoft is in the middle of the flood area and the Northern Ontario city is ready to adopt Lowestoft again.

Rimouski and Cabano, two small Quebec towns almost wiped out by fire in 1950, have also expressed willingness to help Britons who aided them nearly three years ago.

TAKE ACTIVE PART

The federal and provincial governments are taking an active part. Prime Minister St. Laurent has been given the unanimous support of Parliament to make a "substantial financial contribution" to European aid. Quebec, British Columbia Ontario and Manitoba have signified their intentions of helping in any way possible.

Some relief now is on the way. The Canadian Red Cross Society has sent 250 cases of bedding to Holland from its stockpile in Switzerland and another 80 cases are being forwarded from Canada.

Numerous service clubs have acted independently in voting relief money. The Ottawa Lions Club vo-

Dulles Told Formosa Plan Dangerous

Britain Disapproves Strongly of Order To Withdraw Fleet

LONDON (AP)—State Secretary John Foster Dulles was told today that Britain strongly disapproves of the United States action deneutralizing Formosa, qualified officials report.

In the course of a private meeting with Dulles, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden was said to have outlined Britain's fears regarding the move which leaves Chinese Nationalists free to raid their Communist-ruled homeland.

What Dulles said in answer was not disclosed. He was expected to assure Britain that the new U.S. administration has no intention of extending the Korean war.

The secretary of state and the U.S. mutual security administrator, Harold E. Stassen, later discussed the general Far Eastern situation with Eden and Prime Minister Churchill over lunch at 10 Downing street, the Prime Minister's official residence.

FULL-SCALE CONFERENCE

Twice during the day American and British leaders and their advisers went into full-scale conference at the foreign office on several other aspects of their foreign and economic policies.

Britain already has told the U.S. that it fears "unfortunate political repercussions" will flow from the change in American policy freeing Nationalist Chinese forces on Formosa.

A foreign office spokesman told reporters at a press conference—held while Dulles and Eden were meeting—that Britain's expressions of concern had not been answered with any American assurances.

Britain fears that if a new shooting area opens up between Chinese Communists and Nationalists the Allies run the risk of embroilment.

REPEAT DISAPPROVAL

The informants said British representations to Washington on Formosa included an expression of "strong disapproval" as well as of "concern." Both were repeated in the talks with Dulles today.

The House of Commons is to have an emergency debate Thursday on Formosa and the Far Eastern situation in general.

The two diplomatic chiefs met at the foreign office in mid-morning and chatted alone for half an hour before bringing in their aides.

At the full session, Dulles was seconded by Stassen, Julius Holmes American minister in London, and

Fear Voters Ate Senator

NEW YORK (CP) — The New York Times says today in a dispatch from Abidjan, on the Ivory Coast of French West Africa, that an interesting constitutional question is posed in the case of Senator Victor Biaka-Boda who disappeared three years ago and may have been eaten by his constituents.

Biaka-Boda has not been replaced as one of the three Ivory Coast senators in Parliament at Paris. He has not been considered legally dead under French law since his body has not been found.

The Times says the only remains which may or may not represent Biaka-Boda were a few bare bones discovered in the vicinity of Bouafle, near where he was last heard of.

Although under strict legal ban, ritual murder including the devouring of portions of the victims is not unheard of in the remote inland areas near Bouafle.

Stabbed After Row

TORONTO —(CP)—A 42-year-old husband was today charged with attempted murder following an argument believed to have started over the right way to open a can of soup. Police said George Begg stabbed his wife, Madeleine, 37, after she chided him for opening a can of soup with a butcher knife instead of a can opener. She is in serious condition.

City Rink Out Of Tankard, Lose To Granite

The Ontario Ladies' Tankard will go to either the Toronto Granite club or the Toronto High Park club this year. Bonspiel favorite and veteran of tankard play, Mrs. L. E. Woolley's Granite club rink eked out a close 7-6 victory over Peterborough's Mrs. Vern Selkirk's rink in the semi-finals. In the other semi-final luck ran out for the Oakwood rink, skipped by Mrs. A. Cameron, and they were knocked out of tankard play 12-6 by Mrs. R. H. Reive's High Park rink.

In the Northey trophy competition Mrs. K. McLaren's rink from Hamilton Thistle became the favorite for the final by trimming Mrs. E. H. Northey's Lakefield rink 10-7. Kingston's Mrs. J. Ruthford's rink entered the Northey final with a 8-6 win over Mrs. M. Sayles 'Brantford rink.

A large gallery followed the Woolley-Selkirk game from the first stone to the last, Ohing and Ahing on each stone. The majority seemed to favor the underdog Selkirk rink.

HOSTS CHEERLESS

Host club members had very little to cheer about for Mrs. Selkirk fell behind two on the first end. From there, Mrs. Woolley edged slowly up one point at a time until she led 5-1 in the fifth.

Mrs. Selkirk's rink made their strongest bid in the sixth end. With two stones in for shot, Mrs. Selkirk on the final stone drew in for a third point, narrowing Mrs. Woolley's lead to a single point.

Both rinks clogged the tee in the seventh end but Mrs. Woolley squeezed a stone in for shot. Mrs. Selkirk slipped a stone through that same hole, edging up to Mrs. Woolley's stone. A measure by umpires Herb Martin and Dave Charlton gave the single point by a quarter of an inch to Mrs. Woolley.

The 8th end fell to Mrs. Woolley again by a single point for a 7-4 score and again Mrs. Selkirk's rink replied with a single in the ninth.

With Mrs. Selkirk needing two to tie, the Peterborough rink had two in for shot in the 10th end with the skips up. Mrs. Woolley took out one Selkirk stone, leaving one in for shot. Again Mrs. Selkirk went in, laying two again. But for a second time, on the last

Find Lauber In Soviet Zone

VIENNA (AP) — A former U. S. Army veteran of Austrian birth, questioned by American authorities for 10 days last month about a Soviet-led spy ring and then released, turned up with his family in the Soviet zone of Austria Tuesday.

Walter Lauber, 34, a Jew who became an American by naturalization, announced he would hold a press conference in a day or two to explain why he left his home in the British sector of Vienna after his detention ended.

He sent western correspondents a statement in which he said he feared U. S. police would force him to give false testimony as a "volunteer" prosecution witness in the March 2 trial in Washington of two other naturalized Americans, Kurt Ponge and Otto Verber. These two — also army veterans and friends of Lauber in Vienna — face charges of spying for Russia.

OTTAWA (CP)—Immigration Minister Harris today announced that special assistance will be provided to enable flood victims from Britain and the continent to migrate to Canada.

Warn Britons New Disaster Faces Coast

Troops, Volunteers Redouble Efforts To Strengthen Walls

LONDON —(CP)— Another furious gale swept toward England's flood-battered coast tonight and thousands braced for possible new floods.

The air ministry broadcast country-wide warnings that gales in the North sea will spread swiftly southward tonight.

They are due to strike full force Thursday morning along the east coast, ripped last weekend by hurricane and flood. Storms and floods killed an estimated 546 persons by unofficial count in British sea and land disasters.

The rising winds and mounting seas threatened to raise tides along the coast tonight, even before the full gale hits.

FEAR WORST

In the House of Commons, Home Secretary Sir David Maxwell-Fyfe warned that "the country must be prepared for the possibility of further flooding in some areas at the next general high tides" beginning Feb. 14.

He urged refugees from stricken areas not to return to their homes until the danger of disease and further flooding is past.

Maxwell, who heads Britain's flood relief, said damage from the week-end disaster is so great that it won't be possible to rebuild all sea defences by the Feb. 14 tides. In some areas, he added, sea and river defences are still under water.

RUSH DEFENCES

Police and troops passed out hundreds of sandbags to residents in the danger area of King's Lynn in Norfolk tonight to bolster homes against the new threat. Some people moved food and other supplies to upper stories as an extra precaution.

Elsewhere along the 200-mile flooded coastline, police redoubled their guards against looters after scattered reports of looting from abandoned homes.

Speeding in cars through Norfolk, police urged the evacuation of children to higher ground.

Chief fear is that the gale-driven tides may burst the banks of the Ouse river along a 15-mile stretch from King's Lynn to Downham Market. Thirty-five thousand persons live in the area, 6,000 of them directly in danger.

WARN BRITONS

Red China Backs Peace Proposal

TOKYO (Reuters) — Communist China today renewed support of Russia's proposal for ending the Korean war.

Premier Chou En-lai issued a statement in Peiping saying the war could be terminated on the truce points already agreed with an 11-country commission to study the one remaining stumbling block —prisoner exchange.

It appeared to be the same proposal as Russia advanced in the United Nations last year but which was rejected as unacceptable to the UN.

In London, the foreign office said the proposal was "totally unacceptable" to Britain.

A Peiping radio broadcast said Chou made the proposal while addressing the "people's political consultative committee" in Peiping.

Motley Armada Fights To Save Refugees On Dikes

AMSTERDAM (CP)—Another storm broke over the flood-devastated areas of England and The Netherlands tonight, menacing efforts of a rescue army to save thousands of isolated Dutch. The official death toll in the two countries mounted to nearly 1,800 and reliable reports indicated the count will exceed 2,700. The new northwest storm, with winds up to 50 miles an hour accompanied by driving rain, broke over The Netherlands by nightfall.

The storm hampered the efforts of an armada of rescue boats to rescue countless thousands of men, women and children perched on dikes. Some 5,500 were trapped on two Netherlands islands alone.

Upwards of 100,000 persons are taking part in mammoth emergency rescue operations.

The official figure for The Netherlands alone reached 1,223 today. This figure included 240 dead at Oude Tonge, in the island of Goeree-Overflakkee, and 75 persons drowned in the sister town of Nieuw Tonge.

It did not take into account, however, reports from the burgomaster of Zierikzee that upwards of 1,000 persons have lost their lives on the big island of Schouwen-Duiveland.

This would boost the Dutch toll well beyond 2,000. Together with Britain's more than 500 deaths and 14 in Belgium the toll was rapidly approaching the 3,000 mark.

LATEST COUNT

The latest count from official and best available unofficial sources was:

Holland, 1,223
England, 546 (including 169 lost in ships at sea)
Belgium, 14
Total, 1,773.

The Amsterdam newspaper Het Vrije Volk — which has been extremely conservative in its tabulation of death — reported the large additional Dutch death toll.

Strong west winds already were hitting Holland. Belgium's weather bureau reported that the storm, too, was threatening the northern areas of that country.

NEW PRESSURE

The winds are expected to apply new and critical pressures on the Dutch system of protective dikes which burst in 80 places early Sunday morning, spilling watery death over the prosperous countryside.

At noon 4,000 persons were reported isolated on a stretch of dike five-eighths of a mile long at Strijen on the island of Beijerland.

Another 1,500 are numbly awaiting rescue after four terrifying days and nights on a smaller section of dike at Oude-Tonge, on the island of Goeree-Overflakkee.

The report on the terrible ordeal of the people of Strijen, which has a population of 5,051, was the first news from the island of Beijerland. South of the big port city of Rot-

Issue Warrant For Return Of Hensler

MONTREAL (CP)—Judge Armand Cloutier today issued a warrant for the return to Montreal from Toronto of Frederick Hensler, 37-year-old printing plant employee charged with theft of an advance copy of the controversial Currie report.

Judge Cloutier issued the warrant after postponing Hensler's trial, scheduled for today. No new date was fixed for the trial.

Hensler is in Toronto facing a non-support charge, sworn out by his wife who lives in Markham, Ont. He was arraigned on the charge last week and remanded without bail.

The judge issued the warrant because he said it was necessary lest Montreal courts lose their jurisdiction over the case. The judge ordered the warrant be served as speedily as possible.

Judge Cloutier said he would set a new trial date when he knew whether Hensler would be available from Ontario.

Find No Trace Of Sabotage

SOUTHAMPTON, England (CP) Police scientists failed to find any trace of sabotage in last week's fire aboard the 83,000-ton liner Queen Elizabeth, it was announced today.

A report from Dr. L. C. Nickolls, head of the London police forensic laboratory, showed that the cupboard where the fire broke out contained no inflammable agent which would have spread it.

The fire was confined to one cabin. Suspicions were aroused following recent fires in other liners, including the destruction only two days before of the 21,000-ton Empress of Canada at Liverpool.

The Elizabeth has completed her annual overhaul and will resume transatlantic sailings next Wednesday.

Police said they were continuing their investigation.

Skiers To Investigate 'Splash Of Soot'

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mountaineers set out today on skis and snowshoes to discover if a long splash of soot discovered high on Mount Seymour near Vancouver is a signpost pointing the way to the wreckage of one of two missing RCAF aircraft.

The dark smear on the snow is one of two discoveries made on the mountain which may possibly solve the disappearance of an air force Mitchell bomber six days ago on a Saskatoon-to-Vancouver training flight.

There were five men aboard the plane, only 25 miles away from Vancouver at its last radio report. Investigators fear it overshot its destination, either plunging into the sea or flying into a mountain.

Skiers earlier this week reported sighting from a distance a "whitish-grey blob" on the mountain 10 miles from Vancouver.

Wilson Fears Hasty Action

Urges U.K. Not To Rush Convertibility

LONDON (CP) — Harold Wilson, a former British trade minister, says that if Britain decides prematurely on convertibility, the first casualty will be Anglo-Canadian trade.

He added that if Britain cannot hope to earn Canadian dollars by direct trade, "is there not a case for entering into negotiations with Ottawa to see whether that trade cannot, partially at least, be put on a different basis?"

Wilson, once known as the boy wonder of British politics, was president of the board of trade in the post-war Labor government. He spoke in the House of Commons in a debate Tuesday on the Commonwealth economic conference of last December.

GREAT ANXIETY

Wilson said there was great anxiety in Canada about the extent to which the country was being tied up with the United States economy.

The debate was opened by R. A. Butler, chancellor of the exchequer, who spoke cautiously of some improvement in Britain's economic position. Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, closing the debate, said the government's view on convertibility was there could be nothing worse than to embark on such a course and then have to retreat.

No official plan for convertibility has been made public, but there have been reports here and on the continent that such a plan, discussed at the Commonwealth conference, may be attempted before long.

DO IT'S BEST

In a reference to Canada, Butler told the Commons that the British government has expressed its determination to play as full a part as dollar resources would allow in the expansion and development of Canada.

"It is a tragedy of the modern Commonwealth," Butler said, "that for various economic reasons we have not been able to have closer ties with Canada."

Would Ignore Britain

Suggests U.S. Give Planes To Chiang

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator William Fulbright (Dem. Ark.) suggested today the United States supply planes to Formosa's Chinese Nationalists to bomb Red China, just as Russia is providing aircraft to the Reds in Korea.

Fulbright's proposal was made in an interview as other Congress members defended against British criticism President Eisenhower's order to the U. S. 7th fleet to free the Nationalists for attacks on the China mainland.

Among these, Senator John Cooper, (Rep. Ky.), a former representative to the United Nations, said he fears that organization won't do anything effective to end the Korean war.

LEAST DANGEROUS STEP

"The British don't like it, but we have got to act for ourselves in this matter," Cooper said. "President Eisenhower's action is the least dangerous step we could take right now that promises some relief in Korea."

Fulbright said he feels that if the U. S. transferred bombers to the Chinese Nationalist air force and helped train pilots for them, it might be possible to raid Red China's communication lines.

"The Russians are furnishing planes and training pilots for the Communist Chinese in Korea," he said. "We certainly would have a precedent for such action."

But he said he doesn't want Americans involved in any such venture, adding that the planes should be transferred to Chiang Kai-shek's forces and piloted by his men.

Fulbright said he could see why Britain was disturbed by Eisenhower's action "since they are wondering if this means we're going to extend the war and get sucked into an invasion of the mainland."

He insisted that furnishing planes would be "quite a different matter" from giving support with American-flown planes and American-manned ships to even a commando-type raid on the China coast.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the British House of Commons Tuesday that Eisenhower's fleet order will have "unfortunate political repercussions without compensating military advantages."

Representatives Dewey Short (Rep. Mo.) and James Richards (Dem. S. C.) said the House of Representatives was in no mood to be influenced by the British position.

"The British are only trying to save Hong Kong and their commercial interests in China," said Richards, former chairman of the foreign affairs committee. "The sooner they realize this is a delusion, the better."

Chain Reaction Crash Costs Bus Driver $47

LINDSAY (ENS).—A Havelock bus driver, Kenneth West, was convicted of careless driving and fined $25 and $22 costs or 30 days in jail by acting Magistrate R. I. Moore today. No mention was made of license cancellation.

West was charged following an accident in Lindsay on January 15, when his bus struck the car in front of it at a level crossing, causing damage to two other cars. The cars were part of a funeral procession that West had been following from Omemee.

Defence counsel produced four witnesses who said that the procession had stopped at the level crossing for a train to pass when the accident occurred.

West told the court that he had taken his eyes off the road for a moment when a woman had asked if she could get off the bus. When he tried to apply his brakes they failed to hold and he drove into the back of a car owned by Roy Martin of Waterloo, which sustained $1,000 damage when it collided with the car ahead driven by Walter Misener of Lindsay. Misener's car was damaged to the extent of $125 and rolled forward into another car owned by Angus Ferguson of Lindsay, causing an additional $25 damage to the Ferguson car.

Evidence was introduced during the long trial that a fourth car had been trying to pass the procession and had cut in, causing the Ferguson car to stop suddenly.

Magistrate Moore, in delivering his judgment, said that West should have been prepared for the sudden stop. In taking his eyes off the road at that moment, he had been guilty of carelessness.

Chief Constable John Hunter of the Lindsay police prosecuted the case, as there has been an argument recently between Lindsay town council and Crown Attorney Lorne Jordan over the bills the latter has been presenting for his conduct of town cases.

SYNOPSIS

Although milder air is moving steadily southeastward from the Prairies, there will be only a slight moderation in the temperatures over Ontario today and Thursday. The milder trend will be halted temporarily in all regions by the southeastward motion of a layer of cold Arctic air which is carrying a few snowflurries across Northern Ontario this morning and will bring cold temperatures again tonight in most of Ontario. Isolated snowflurries in off-water flow in the lower lakes Wednesday will not amount to much, but skies will remain mostly cloudy today and Thursday.

A storm developing in Sakatchewan will move rapidly south-eastward and will spread cloud and snow across northern and central regions on Thursday and a smaller area of snow, rain or freezing drizzle across southern sections.

Regional forecasts valid until midnight Thursday:

Eastern Lake Ontario, Haliburton regions: Clear, becoming cloudy with snowflurries this afternoon and evening. Cloudy with a few clear intervals Thursday, snow beginning late Thursday afternoon. Little change in temperature. Winds light. Low tonight and high Thursday at Trenton 15 and 30, Killaloe 5 and 20. Summary for Thursday: Mostly cloudy.

Damage estimated at $300 was done to a car driven by D. E. Adam, 21, 382 McDonnel St., Tuesday evening, when it was in collision with a car driven by Eldon Llewellyn, 31, 776 Chesterfield Ave., at the corner of Wolsley and Donegal Sts. Damage to the Llewellyn car was estimated at $50.

A collision at the corner of George and Sherbrooke Sts., Tuesday morning caused approximately $250 damage to a commercial vehicle driven by Gordon Renalds, 45, 22 Cricket Place. It was in collision with a car driven by Albert W. Petherick, 65, RR 2, Campbellford.

Municipal Board Cuts Hotel Assessed Value

LINDSAY (ENS)—The Ontario Municipal Board, through two representatives, D. Roy Kennedy and C. Nunn, yesterday awarded the Benson Hotel of Lindsay, proprietors, Dawe and Egan, a cut of $2,500 in their assessment for town taxes, following an appeal by the latter.

The building, the largest hotel in the town, was assessed last year for $68,500. The appeal counsel, Col. R. I. Moore, asked for a reduction of $10,000. He commented, following the judgment, "well something's better than nothing."

Col. Moore presented his argument before the board, quoting the sale price of the hotel in 1939, and the comparative assessments of other buildings in the vicinity, and other hotels in the town.

It was pointed out the total assessment of the other four hotels was almost $10,000 less than the assesment for the Benson House. Chief witness for the town was formed assessor Alex Kilner, who stated extensive repairs and remodelling, location of the hotel.

In making the adjustment the Board's senior member, Mrs. Kennedy, instructed the town to lower the land assessment $150 per foot to $130, and the business assessment a proportion. The assessment on the building was not changed. Acting for the town was A. M. Fulton, QC.

Dulles Attempts

Lincoln Gordon, chief of the U.S. foreign aid program in Britain. R. A. Butler, chancellor of the exchequer, and Defence Minister Earl Alexander sat with Eden.

President Eisenhower's decision to deneutralize Formosa was at the top of the agenda to be discussed, although Dulles' principal concern is speeding-up European integration and the building of Western defences against communism.

Dulles arrived from Paris on Tuesday in the midst of a heated House of Commons argument over the move. Eden disclosed that Britain had been advised of the decision in advance and had made known to Washington its "concern."

The foreign secretary told a tense Commons that Britain fears the freeing of Chiang Kai-shek's forces for attacks on the Communist mainland will have "unfortunate political repercussions without compensating military advantages." He gave no further explanation.

PRESS PROTESTS

Touchy sections of the British press also protested today against Dulles' recent remark that the United States may do some "rethinking" on its policy toward Western Europe unless France, Germany and Britain can get together for mutual defence.

Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express described this as a "slap in the face."

Britain's underlying concern, as stated privately by government officials, is that the decision may touch off new fighting between Chinese Communists and Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists and eventually embroil Allied countries in a spreading war.

Under Eisenhower's order, the U.S. 7th fleet no longer will be used to prevent the Nationalists, operating out of their Formosa bastion, from raiding the Chinese mainland.

BARRAGE OF QUESTIONS

In the Commons Eden, faced with a barrage of questions from excited Labor members, said in view of Dulles' visit and the "not inconsiderable delicacy between ourselves and America" on the Formosa issue, he hoped members would show "some reticence in further comment."

At the request of Labor leaders, however, the Conservative government agreed to a full-dress debate on the matter Thursday.

In their talks with Dulles, Eden and Prime Minister Churchill are expected to call for assurances that the United States will take no steps that might explode the Korean war into an Asia-wide conflict.

The conversations are expected to cover the whole range of future relations between the United States and Britain, including economic questions.

Dulles is accompanied by Harold Stassen, the new director of the U.S. mutual security agency—the organization supervising U.S. economic and military aid to its allies. The two men are on a 10-day tour of seven European capitals and leave thursday for Bonn, Germany.

Commenting on Dulles' statement that European failure to unite might bring a "rethinking" of U.S. policy toward the continent, the Daily Express said:

"Let him understand that Britain already is making tremendous sacrifices to aid European defences—indeed more sacrifices than are consistent with her own Imperial commitments—and she proposes to make no more.

"Let him understand also that the people of these islands are a proud people, conscious of their own destiny. They did not allow the Germans to push them around, nor will they allow anyone else—not even well-meaning friends."

The independent Times expressed puzzlement over Eisenhower's statement in his state of the union address Monday that the U. S. will not honor secret agreements "permitting the enslavement of other peoples."

Lone Drunk Fined

James Spears, 32, 420 Stewart Street, a member of the RCAF, was fined $10, and $2.50 costs, or 10 days in jail when he appeared in police court today and pleaded guilty to a charge of being drunk.

HELD IN MURDER — Pte. Reuben Henry Norman, 24-year-old paratrooper stationed at Camp Borden, has been charged with the murder of 17-year-old Jean Marie Satchell, a former girl friend. Nine shots were fired then Norman walked 50 yards to the Stratford police station and gave himself up, the .22 calibre pistol still in his hand. Witnesses said they saw the girl and a soldier arguing on the street. Inspector Joseph Taylor of the Stratford is behind Norman.

Present Champs Travelling Bags

Peterborough Board of Education honored the 1952 Central Ontario Secondary Schools Association senior football champions, PCVS Garnet and Greys, Tuesday. The boys and Coach B. G. (Bev) Goulding were presented with travelling bags, including brushes and combs.

The Garnet and Grey breezed through opposition from Oshawa and Belleville to win the lakeshore title and enter the COSSA final. They won their second successive COSSA title defeating Port Colborne.

The sets were presented to the team by board chairman Stanley Adamson and Charles Huffman. The sets each had the player's name engraved in gold letters and also the reason for the presentation.

Mr. Adamson told the student body that the team was noted for its sportsmanship both on and off the playing field, carrying on a characteristic noted in PCVS teams in the past. The board was thanked by quarterback Dave Langhorne.

The players made a second presentation to Coach Goulding for his work with them this season. Last year they presented him with a golf caddy; this year they gave him a new golf bag to replace his old delapidated bag. The presentation was made by veteran Larry Forbes.

Icy Streets Blamed In City Car Mishap

Icy streets were blamed for a collision at the corner of Lansdowne and George Streets early Sunday morning when a car driven by Jack Wakeford, 27, 95 Lansdowne Street, received $80 damage, and one driven by David Weatherall, 26, RR 6, Peterborough, $50. Both cars slid on the ice when their drivers were attempting to stop for the traffic light.

stone, Mrs. Woolley took out one Selkirk stone, giving the Peterborough rink only a single.

The Selkirk - Woolley game overshadowed the other semi-final which pitted the upstart Oakwood rink against the strong Toronto High Park rink.

The miracle girls from Oakwood tied the game two-all in the second end, then jumped ahead 3-2 in the third, 5-2 in the fourth. It appeared that Mrs. Cameron's rink would perform a third straight upset.

But with Mrs. Cameron up 6-3 in the sixth, the Reive rink jumped out in front with a four-end in the seventh. That end seemed to crack, the Oakwood rink, youngest in the bonspiel, for the High Park rink ran the score up in the next three ends.

Tuesday's second round saw the Oakwood rink come through with its second upset of the day by handing Mrs. D. Hastings' Midland rink an 11-7 setback. There was another upset (either way was an upset) when Mrs. Selkirk advanced into the semi-finals whipping Mrs. R. McIntosh's rink from Bobcaygeon 14-6. Woodstock's Mrs. C. M. Elliott's rink fell easily 14-4 to Mrs. Reive's rink.

The day's expected best, between Mrs. Woolley and Mrs. C. Knapman of Hamilton Victoria, failed to thrill the large gallery to any extent. The Woolley rink romped to a 10-5 victory.

The first round of the Northey trophy competition also failed to bring any surprises as the favorites won. Scores were:

MPs Committee To Study Check-off Law

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons adopted a suggestion by Labor Minister Gregg Tuesday that a committee study the question of putting the voluntary revocable check-off into labor legislation.

Mr. Gregg said members should not take hasty action on a proposal by Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre) that the Industrial Relations and Disputes Act be amended to include the voluntary revocable check-off.

Mr. Gregg said the proposal would make it compulsory for employers to deduct union dues from an employee's pay at the request of the employee.

He said it is open to question whether unions should derive stability from government-imposed measures rather than agreements freely entered into between employers and employees.

STUDYING ACT

Officials of his department now are studying the Disputes Act. Changes should be brought in as a group of amendments, not one by one.

Mr. Knowles said he welcomes Mr. Gregg's suggestion that a Commons committee study his suggestion. However, he wanted to make it clear that employers already operate a form of check-off for charitable donations, savings bonds and income tax. Some of this was done under compulsory legislation.

Rene Beaudoin, deputy speaker, ruled out of order an amendment by George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader. Mr. Drew asked that the committee review the whole Dispute Act rather than just the check-off.

Mr. Drew said patching the act with amendments might defeat the spirit of the act itself. That sometimes produced an unwieldy and incoherent law. Labor legislation should be under constant review to bring it into line with advances.

The time was past when there was opposition to an employee's right to form a union and bargain collectively.

Motley Armada

terdam, it has been virtually blacked out since Sunday.

The Netherlands was the hardest hit of the three countries, with 1,000 square miles buried under a blanket of soil-killing salt-water.

PUSH EVACUATION

Thousands of workers raced against time to shore up shattered sea defences in Britain and The Netherlands. Some 2,000 vessels and more than 125 planes rushed the evacuation of thousands numbed by cold and suffering from three days of exposure in isolated villages throughout stricken southwest Holland.

Het Vrije Volk said that the death toll on the Zeeland island of Schouwen-Duiveland alone may be nearly 1,000. It quoted the burgomaster of Zierikzee as saying between 300 and 400 persons were drowned in the town of Nieuwerkerk, on that island.

The new gale warning was announced for the North sea area. Accompanying the grim forecast was a British air ministry prediction that strong winds developing farther south during the day will "tend to heighten the tides on the east coast."

WHIPPING UP SEA

Already a biting wind was whipping up the sea again along England's Norfolk — hit hard by the rushing waters which high tides and hurricane winds sent pouring over the land Sunday.

Damage was reckoned in millions of dollars. In Britain more that 400 square miles were flooded. In Brussels, newspaper estimates placed Belgian losses in the neighborhood of $20,000,000.

80,000 HOMELESS

An estimated 80,000 persons were homeless, 30,000 in Britain and 50,000 in Holland. Thousands were believed still missing in the two countries.

But the final accounting will not be known for several weeks—until the last search of submerged homes has been made, all death lists checked and until exposure, injuries and diseases have completed their toll.

The bodies of four more Americans were recovered from their homes on England's east coast today, raising the toll of known U. S. dead to 15. Three others were still missing and presumed lost. No Canadian deaths have been reported.

Along with the desperate race to save persons still trapped in trees, attics, on dikes and other surrounded high places, authorities faced the grim task of rebuilding dikes against the threat of coming high spring tides that might again force waters far inland.

HELP POURS IN

But help and offers of aid have poured into the stricken countries from all over the world, along with messages of deepest sympathy.

New flood threats developed Tuesday night in both Britain and Holland. A new break in the dikes was reported at Rommel on the north coast of the twin Dutch islands of Goeree-Overflakke. Seas roared inland through a hole 35 yards wide and five yards deep. Rommel has a population of 2,000.

OUSE BREAKS BANKS

In Britain, the Ouse river broke its banks in East Anglia. Homes in Watlington and St. 'Germans were evacuated and fears were expressed that the town of Kings Lynn might be cut off. Many British towns reported that flooded sewers threatened a serious outbreak of disease.

A vast rescue force, including ships, planes and men of the U. S., British, French and Canadian armed services moved swiftly to answer frantic pleas for help from flooded Dutch communities.

Rescue efforts were concentrated on the hardest-hit areas of Schouwen-Duiveland and Tholen Islands in Zeeland and Georee-Overflakkee.

A hastily-organized airlift parachuted tons of food and blankets and other supplies to isolated areas. Fifteen American and British helicopters are being used to carry medicines and more of the wind-milling craft were expected to arrive today.

MOTLEY ARMADA

A motley armada of fishing boats, Royal Dutch Navy minesweepers and patrol vessels and private craft of all descriptions converged on Zierikzee, a harbor town on Schouwen-Duiveland, to pick off people marooned in that area.

Holland's Queen Juliana, who has visited much of the flooded area the last two days, met her husband, Prince Bernhard, early today at Amsterdam's airport. The prince interrupted a visit to the United States, hurrying home to take an active part in rescue operations.

Amid all the trouble ashore, hope was given up Tuesday for the 1,331-ton Swedish steamship Aspo and her crew of 22. The vessel vanished without a trace after sending an SOS from 125 miles off the Danish coast.

WATERS RECEDING

The waters were receding through most of the flooded areas of Britain. But 1,500 firemen moved in with 350 pumping machines in an effort to speed the clearing operation.

At Whitstable, in North Kent, Tuesday night 56 pumpers—each with a capacity of 500 gallons a minute—were able to clear only two square miles.

The British government has declared the disaster a national responsibility, ordering troops and home guardsmen to aid in the rescue work. In London, the Lord Mayor's national flood and tempest fund officially opened with a gift of £10,000 from an anonymous donor on the isle of Jersey.

MAY BE LOWER

Police disclosed that the British death toll may prove lower than has been feared. They reported a mixup in the listing of dead and missing on Canvey Island, in the Thames estuary 25 miles from London. Previous reports had said that at least 130 persons died on Canvey, but police said this figure may be cut to as low as 30.

The Belgian ministry of interior scaled down the country's total of known dead from 22 to 14 today. A ministry spokesman said also that five persons still are missing.

ted $1,000 each to Britain and Holland, and $250 to Belgium. The Welland Lions Club has sent $1,000 to England and the Niagara Falls Rotary Club has approved $1,000 to be divided evenly between England and Holland.

The Senate Tuesday night unanimously extended sympathy to the flood victims and promised them material aid.

A resolution similar to that passed Monday in the Commons was sponsored in the Senate by Senator Wishart Robertson, government leader, and Senator John T. Haig, Progressive Conservative leader.

Zero hour is 9:30 p. m. GMT tonight (4:30 p. m .EST) — next high-tide time.

Today, three days after the disaster, mudcaked police, troops and volunteers still probed lifeless homes and wreckage in the great search for bodies. They paddled about in flat - bottom boats or waded waist-deep in floodwaters.

Hundreds are still missing and 30,000 are homeless. The danger of disease from broken sewage systems and polluted water was still high in some stricken areas.

APPEAL FOR VOLUNTEERS

With rising winds and darkening skies, country-wide appeals went out for hundreds more volunteers to aid in the day and night task of rebuilding some 500 gaps torn in sea and river barriers. More than 3,000 troops, some of them volunteers for Korea, have been thrown into the great work. More than 6,000,000 sandbags have been piled into the breaches. At least 24 navy landing craft and scores of heavy bull-dozers are in use.

On flood-ravaged Canvey Island in the Thames estuary, where estimates of the dead range from 36 to more than 100, village clerk Reginald Whitley said "we shall need every man and a great effort to make the sea walls able to stand the new high tides."

Food supplies for an estimated 2,000 islanders still clinging stubbornly to their flood - damaged homes is coming in by army and civil defence convoys.

Hundreds also are holding out at sea-besieged Sheerness, a dockyard city of 17,000 near the mouth of the Thames, cut off by mile-wide flood-waters since early Sunday.

The Royal Navy is running an hourly ferry service to the city with food and other supplies. Three quarters of Sheerness still is under water.

2,000 Refuse To Be Evacuated From Canvey

CANVEY ISLAND, England (AP)—Hundreds of defiant families refused Tuesday night to leave their flooded homes on this "isle of death," where dark and angry waters swirl over still uncounted bodies of storm victims.

Sad-faced men, with women and children beside them, turned away pleading rescuers who knocked at their windows. The holdouts were believed to total about 2,000 persons.

This Thames estuary island's 25 square miles suffered the hardest blow of east coast England's weekend flood disaster. Rescuers have hardly begun the job of recovering the dead, of whom 40 have been counted by police in mortuaries. Some island officials estimate the toll may finally total 300.

NOT ALL ACCOUNTED FOR

Not all who were living in the island's isolated bungalows when the storm-whipped waves swept in early Sunday have been interviewed or accounted for. More than 100 submerged bungalows, in which an undetermined number of bodies clad in nightclothes are believed to be floating, remain to be searched in the Sunken Marsh district.

The survivors unwilling to leave their sodden surroundings are in houses without fuel, electricity, or working telephones. Drinking water has become polluted, and food supplies are nearly gone.

Finnish Tanker With Jet Oil On Way To China

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Finnish tanker loaded with 7,000 tons of strategic jet fuel from Romania is reported on its way to Communist China today despite U. S. government efforts to stop it.

Informed officials disclosed this today amid speculation that President Eisenhower may eventually consider a naval blockade of the China coast to shut off such strategic shipments.

The tanker Wiima was said to be in the Suez canal area after picking up its strategic cargo at a Black sea port last week.

The state department tried unsuccessfully to persuade the Finnish and Turkish governments to stop the vessel.

CAN'T CANCEL REGISTRY

Finland, it was understood, pleaded that it could do nothing to cancel registry of the vessel. The Turkish government replied it could not legally intercept the ship when it passed through the Dardanelles straits several weeks ago because an international convention guarantees freedom of transit for all ships.

The Chinese Nationalist navy may possibly challenge the vessel when it passes near Formosa.

A Chinese embassy official said in reply to a query there have been cases where Nationalist warships have intercepted at sea satellite Communist ships suspected of carrying strategic cargo to the Chinese Reds.

At its present speed, the tanker will be near Formosa in about two weeks. Communist tankers often unload cargo at the Russian supply port of Vladivostok where facilities are available to handle petroleum shipments.

Child Dental Care Made Early

COBOURG (ENS). — Examination of a large number of children, three years of age, has shown that three out of four have dental cavities, Northumberland and Durham Counties health unit learned as a result of the initiation of a scheme of preventative dental care. Dentists of the two counties co-operated in the survey.

Children resident in the counties are eligible for an examination by the family dentist at or before the age of three years.

Dental cards are given to mothers at child health conferences, and during visits of the health unit nurses, or are available on request from the public health nurse. A supply of cards has also been made available to dentists whose offices are in the counties. Children four years of age and older are not eligible for this scheme.

NO CAVITY TOO SMALL

No cavity is too small to fill, but many are too small for parents to see. Only the dentist doing the examination is able to decide whether or not a child's teeth are decayed. Foundation teeth are just as necessary to the child as permanent teeth are to the older person, and it is considered important that children are seen early and regularly by a dentist.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Singer Tony Romano asks $600,000 damages on his claim that, without his permission, he was depicted as a murderer, thug, gangster and convicted felon in a movie using his name and likeness. CAMPBELLFORD — (ENS) — Campbellford, along with most other towns, cities and villages in the province, will adopt daylight saving time this year at 12:01 Sunday, April 26 and continue on daylight saving until 12:01 Sunday, September 27.

A motion that the town adopt daylight saving time as usual carried at the regular meeting of council on Monday.

Howe Suggests New Sugar Pact

HAVANA (CP) — Trade Minister Howe of Canada said Tuesday that Canada and Cuba may be able to work out a new sugar agreement when the current one expires soon, but it would have to be one based on an understanding of "our respective problems and difficulties."

Under the current three-year pact, the Canadian government, in return for certain Cuban tariff concessions, guarantees a Canadian market for 75,000 tons of raw Cuban sugar a year.

But during the last few months, Canadian sugar-beet growers, with a big production of their own, have been sharply critical of large-scale imports of Cuban sugar and have demanded Canadian government action to have imports cut.

Under the three-year pact with Cuba, due to expire this year, Canada gets about one-seventh of her total raw sugar imports from this island in the Caribbean sea.

More Mumps In Cobourg

COBOURG (ENS). — Sixty-nine new cases of communicable disease were recorded for the week ending January 31 by the Northumberland and Durham Counties Health Unit.

Mumps are still leading with 31 new cases, of which Cobourg contributed 24. Cobourg has the doubtful distinction of having more mumps than any other municipality in the health unit area. Fifteen cases of chickenpox were recorded, scattered over a wide area. Nine cases of infectious jaundice, seven of bacillary dysentery, one of German measles, and six of red measles complete the list.

Radio Station Goes Off Air

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Radio station WKBW was off the air for two hours and 15 minutes Tuesday after 11 technicians went on strike in a dispute over renewal of their contract.

Edward M. Lynch, international representative of the National Association of Broadcast Engineers and Technicians (CIO) said the old contract expired Saturday night. He said the station's technical employees agreed to continue working pending a meeting Tuesday with a representative of the state mediation service, but walked out when company officials failed to appear for the meeting.

The station went off the air at noon EST, but returned at 2:15 p. m., presumably with supervisory personnel operating transmission equipment.

Muskies Lengthen Lakeshore Lead

LINDSAY — Lindsay Muskies tightened their hold on first place in the OHA Lakeshore League Tuesday night, when they defeated the Port Hope Redmen 3-1 in the best game played in Lindsay this season. The local team scored once in each period.

In the first period, Vic Corley scored the opening goal on a rebound shot, beating Wasson from five feet out. The Muskies increased their lead in the second, when Stu Hicks took a pass from Grant Green on a breakaway and tapped the disc into the net.

In the third, Medhurst, for the visitors, caught the top corner behind O'Connell with a blazing shot from 30 feet out and the Redmen caught fire, attempting to tie the count. Seven minutes later, however, Lewis put the game out of reach, when with the Ports playing a man short, he netted a pass from Hicks for the final goal of the game. Referee Dick Ouimet, of Peterborough, handed out 21 penalties, 11 to the visitors, including six to Bill Douglas.

Hicks, Corley, Lewis, Coombs and Lou Hennessey were the best of the Muskies, while Turner, McKeen and Douglas stood out for the losing Redmen.

More Services Pose Problem Cobourg Council

COBOURG (ENS). — Extension of municipal services, such as water mains and sewers to new housing sub-division is proving a headache to town council. The council and the public utilities commission held a joint meeting Tuesday evening and decided to defer the question to a further meeting.

The utilities commission told the town it could not afford to extend water service to the housing area, and suggested it be done under the local improvement by-law.

Council foresaw trouble if it were handled under local improvement. Some residents in outlying parts of the town are content with less modern facilities afforded by wells and the building at the foot of the garden.

APPOINT CONCILIATOR

Council received a letter from the Department of Labor which stated that James Hutcheon would be conciliator in the wage dispute between the town and the employees' union. No date has been set for sittings of the Conciliation Board.

A letter from the Library Board asking a grant of $1,200 was referred to the finance committee.

A request from a private hospital, situated partly in town and partly in the township, for participation in municipal garbage collection, was referred to the health and sanitation committee.

FIRE CHIEF REPORTS

Report of Fire Chief Ken Baird showed that in 1952 there had been 86 alarms, with fire losses of $28,947.97. Of these, 64 were town fires and 10 in the township.

Councillor Alex McKinnon said the CPR crossing on George Street was more dangerous than it was before, due to the erection of an additional foundry building to the west. He suggested there should be a warning signal or wigwag. Mayor J. S. Burnet said it would be an expensive installation, of which the town would have to pay a portion. On motion, it was laid over.

The by-law committee was instructed to draft a new by-law to permit colection of fees for auction sales held at the market.

The book, one of a series about Canada, was presented to the children by the Canadian Good Roads Association meeting in Ottawa. The highway, now nearing completion, is one of the projects in Mr. Winters' department.

Legion Begins Member Drive At Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — The new executive of Branch 103 of the Canadian Legion at Campbellford is putting on a membership drive during 1953. Each member has ben asked to contact a former member of the armed forces, and the branch is hoping for a fair percentage of these veterans being signed up.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Legion has donated $140 to help put some new modern furnishings in the hall. The comparatively new auxiliary has done much to help the club maintain and equip the building.

The Canadian Legion Service Bureau Officer will be in town today and will offer any assistance he can to any member wishing an interview.

The Legion Hall will be rented to the Oddfellows and Rebekahs for their annual dinner on February 11. The club's television set will not be in operation on that night.

Although some difficulty has been experienced in securing enough players for out-of-town cribbage tournaments, the club hopes to continue in the league.

On Friday Norwood plays at Campbellford, on the 12th Campbellford at Norwood; on the 19th Campbellford at Hastings and on the 27th, Hastings at Campbellford.

Reg. Outingdyke, last year's president of the Legion, is now Welfare Officer for the branch and will look after the interests and well-being of veterans who are ill or hospitalized.

Head Office CANADA PERMANENT BUILDING, 320 BAY ST., TORONTO

C. S. Robertson, President and General Manager, in presenting the annual report of the Canada Permanent Mortgage Corporation, said in part . . .

"Our annual report for 1952 shows deposits, mortgages, assets and profits each at an all time high. We are proud to remind you that ours is one of the very few Canadian companies able to boast of an unbroken record of dividend payments of over ninety years.

Through the years, changes which affect business clearly show the impact of increased taxes and operating costs. Twenty-five years ago our shareholders received in dividends almost twice the amount paid in taxes and salaries. In 1952 the total paid in taxes and salaries amounted to more than twice the amount paid in dividends.

It is natural that a corporation with an honourable history of 98 years should take pride in the successes of the past, and we in the Canada Permanent not only do this, but we find ourselves looking ahead to the opportunities of the future. To an increasing extent we are breaking with the old ways when new ways are better, and it is noticeable that a spirit of progress is widespread throughout the organization.

While we recognize the need for substantial government revenue, especially the paramount needs of our armed forces, at the same time we feel strongly that tax rates on business profits are now so heavy that the spirit of enterprise which built the nation is in danger of being weakened. Restrictions on initiative must be removed if Canada is to have the opportunity for growth which it deserves.

In the inspiring words of Her Majesty the Queen, "Above all we must keep alive that courageous spirit of adventure that is the finest quality of youth—and by youth I do not just mean those who are young in years; I mean, too, all those who are young in heart, no matter how old they may be."

Copy of the President's address and the financial statement of the Corporation will be mailed on request.

The Waters Cover The Earth

Primordial force can still discountenance man's work, even in this age of supernormal science. Tide, wind and wave ravaging the coasts of Britain, Holland and Belgium recall men from the A-bomb age to Genesis. The fen shores of England from the Thames estuary to the Humber have been ravaged, hundreds of persons have lost their lives and thousands their homes. Gales have sunk a submarine, overturned a small warship, and drowned 132 passengers on a ferry crossing from Scotland to Northern Ireland. Salt waters have inundated Dutch land forty miles inland, and sea and gales have sent hundreds of people to their deaths and left nearly a million homeless in Holland. Belgium has also had severe damage from floods and her coastal dikes, dunes and roads have been badly bashed, with lives lost. The worst flood in five centuries has been a national disaster.

* * *

The winds and waters are subsiding, leaving tragedy in their wake. It is not yet possible to measure the magnitude of the loss, as Prime Minister Churchill has stated. It is not to minimize the suffering and terrible destruction along the east coast of England, to say that Holland has had a particularly grievous blow. The disaster is said to be unparalleled since 1421. The damage to dikes, polders, towns and reclaimed farm land in the Netherlands goes far beyond anything caused by German and Allied breaching of the dikes during the war. Land patiently won back from the sea during many centuries has been engulfed by the sea again. Months, perhaps years, will be required before the dikes can be repaired, the flooded lands drained and the salt neutralized or removed to make the soil fertile again. As in England, houses and streets must be rebuilt. Meanwhile, people are homeless, in need of clothing, food and shelter.

* * *

The catastrophe must be dealt with on a national basis, as Mr. Churchill said. But the British and Dutch need help from outside, and help is pouring in from shocked and sympathtic people and organizations near and far. Canadian cities and towns are volunteering to help as and where they can, and these efforts to relieve distress will be channelled through the Canadian Red Cross and Dominion, British and Dutch governmental offices. Nations are one in times of human distress.

* * *

Mayor Waddell yesterday telephoned the Toronto offices of the Canadian Red Cross offering Peterborough's assistance for the relief of flood victims. This humanitarian organization, being international, should best be able to co-ordinate individual and community effort to assist. As the Red Cross directs how Peterborough people can help, that help will be sympathetically given.

A "Step-Down" Speed Zone On The Chemong Road?

When the city annexed a chunk of Smith township at the first of the year, a mile and a half of Number 7 highway was brought within the city limits. The city speed limit is 30 m.p.h.; the highway limit is 50 m.p.h. What is to be the permitted maximum speed on this stretch of highway when the annexation is officially enacted by private bill at the next session of the legislature? At present it has been unchanged from the 50 m.p.h. limit.

Little of the additional mile and a half of highway now being brought within the city is built upon like a city street. Most of it has farm land on both sides of the road or typical suburban outcroppings, down to the old city limits at Wolsley street and the Brookdale subdivision. Nevertheless, that reach of highway is now to be within the city, and increasingly more houses are being built along it.

A permitted speed of 50 m.p.h. is too fast. The Department of Highways recognized this long before the annexation by marking it with signs: "Slow Down"—doubly necessary because the last three-quarter mile is down hill. But "slow down" is merely an injunction without legal compulsion. On the other hand, to prescribe a maximum speed of 30 m.p.h. might have little sanction from the commuters and other drivers who travel the Chemong Road and Highway 7. A law which does not command the support of the majority affected by it is a poor law.

The Department of Highways is concerned with suburban traffic in many places. It has examined an American control device called a "step-down" speed zone, which has reduced the hazard of accidents without insufferably delaying traffic. In these zones, established along suburban arteries, a speed limit intermediary between the highway speed and the city rate has been set. If Ontario gives legislative approval to the device, the speed limit in the "step-down" zones will be 40 m.p.h. A 40 m.p.h. limit on Number 7 highway from the red brick school house to the old city limits at Wolsley street seems a sensible compromise, and one in which motorists would willingly concur.

We believe that the City Council could itself legislate for this speed limit, with the usual approval of the Department of Highways. There is no anomaly in a city's having two maximum legal speeds. Ottawa has a higher permitted speed on the parkways than on the ordinary city streets.

"Step-down" zones might be advantageous at other highway and county entrances to the city, for instance, from the junction of Highways 7 and 28 at the southwest end of the city and from Nassau to the waterworks on Number 28. To establish these would require changes in Ontario legislation and the authority of the Department of Highways.

The King Can Do Wrong

The Federal Government is planning legislation which will make it possible for suit to be brought against it by citizens who have suffered wrong from it or its employees. We approve of such legislation, which is in accord with similar laws now in force in Britain, and also with laws in Nova Scotia, Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan which permit provincial governments to be sued.

As the law formerly stood, it was only possible to sue the Crown after a fiat had been granted; little by little this has been amended, and the Crown's responsibility recognized, and if the new legislation is passed—and there is no reason to suppose that it will not—the Crown will accept liability for all civil wrongs for which it can be proved responsible.

This is an alteration of the old legal maxim that "The King can do no wrong." The King can do wrong; if a Government jeep hits a man on a highway, for instance, the King has done wrong and should make restitution, like anyone else. The new laws have their root in the modern and logical belief that anyone who has suffered a wrong should have the right to seek redress by process of law. Government servants are just as fallible when on Government business as at any other time and should have no immunity which other citizens do not share.

New Cardinal Greeted

Paul-Emile Cardinal Leger celebrated pontifical mass Sunday in Notre-Dame Cathedral, Montreal, his first since his return to Canada as a Prince of the Roman Catholic church. Fifty archbishops and bishops, a thousand representatives of governments and official bodies, and more than seven thousand other people attended. Bishop Berry of Peterborough occupied one of the seats in the sanctuary. The Prime Minister was represented by the Hon. Alcide Cote, Postmaster-General. Premier Duplessis represented Quebec and Mayor Houde Montreal. Quebec Senator Vincent Dupuis, Gilles Forget and Maurice Forget represented the Montreal Stock Exchange.

Archbishop Leger is the first Prince of the Church Montreal has had; a double honour, since the new Cardinal was schooled in Montreal. The city and see and his family were rightly proud, and gave the Cardinal Archbishop a princely welcome. A thousand guests were presented to His Eminence and a banquet was held in the old Notre-Dame Seminary of the Order of the Gentlemen of St. Sulpice, the order into which he was ordained in 1929.

NOTES AND COMMENT

The people who say that money isn't everything will get no argument from us. It isn't even what it used to be.

The Calgary Herald glumly asks if we know that a penny saved is subject to 843 separate taxes.

Cheaper robes of rabbit fur have been approved for the Coronation, and if the downward trend continues, even a cat may look at the Queen.

Five big rubber companies are under indictment for conspiracy, and the injustice of it is that if any of them have to do a stretch, it will be all too easy.

When a Sarnia bakery was robbed the Observer said that the thieves were after the dough. But the Ottawa Citizen suggests that these crusty fellows were after the baker's roll. Crumby jokes, in our opinion.

North American educators profess to be worried because fewer women appear to be entering the universities. And we are just cussed enough to applaud this clearing of the decks of the group which, upon the whole, does least work and causes most trouble in the halls of learning.

Coloured Liverpudlians

By J. HALCRO FERGUSON

CLIMB up the hill from the centre of Liverpool, and when you have passed the Cathedral, looming pink and new through the mist, you will notice something unexpected along the cold northern pavements between the grim-faced houses: the faces of many of the passers-by are brown or black.

* * *

THIS is the district denominated by the postal authorities Liverpool 8, whose 8,000 coloured inhabitants make up one of the biggest coloured communities in the British Isles. Apart from London, the other principal coloured concentrations are the old-established one in Cardiff (5,000 to 6,000) and the newer ones in Birmingham (6,000) and Manchester (about 8,000).

Unlike London's coloured community, with its large middle-class element, the Liverpool group, with the exception of about fifty university students and a few professional men, is almost entirely working class, engaged in unskilled or semi-skilled labour —or in too many cases seeking such labour.

* * *

MOST of these men (and men predominate) exchanged the sunshine of the West Indies, West Africa, Somaliland— even of India and China — for the grey skies of Liverpool in the hope of escaping poverty at home and making good in what they expected to be a promised land of opportunity. (There is no truth in the prevalent rumour that they came with the idea of living in idleness at the expense of the Welfare State.)

When they reach here, in most cases with no money for a return passage, they find things very different from the picture in their minds. When I was in Jamaica, talking to some working men who proposed to come to England, I found I had to explain to them that despite higher wages here they would have to bear expenses they had never been used to, largely because of the climate— for more clothes, solider housing, coal or other heating, and so on.

* * *

BUT if you sit one evening in any Negro home (it is likely to be a crowded boarding-house) in Liverpool 8, it is only the most recent arrivals who complain of these things. The complaints of the others —and, as in minority groups almost anywhere, these form the substance of most conversation— can be summed up in one word: prejudice, real or imagined.

There were about half a dozen of us sitting one evening round the gas-fire in a typical Liverpool 8 boarding house— a van driver, an electrician, and other West Indian immigrants, and a locally born coloured girl. The electrician, while praising his trade union for its lack of discrimination, told us of times he had been turned away because of his colour, times when he had been abused (this was in the south of England) because he had married a white girl.

* * *

ANOTHER MEMBER of the party told of trouble at a dance hall, partly due to the presence of white and coloured American troops in the area, and referred to a horrifying story how our American Negro soldier was said to have been killed at a dance hall near Swindon by his white comrades. The girl mentioned a time when, applying for a job, she had been told to leave the room during the occupant's temporary absence, "because I can't trust you nig——."

"Don't you use that word!" she snapped back, in a Lancashire accent. "I'm Liverpool-born and I know my rights." She had made her protest, but she didn't get the job.

The position of the locally born is rather more difficult than that of the others. Since few women emigrate from the colonies, the men who marry must marry such Liverpudlian women as will have them, which often means women who for various reasons have put themselves beyond the pale in the opinion of local white people. Although this was not so in the case of this girl's mother, the prevalence of such unions is bound to have an effect on the mental attitude of the whole second generation.

ANOTHER of the small group (and this was technically a party) voiced his opinion: he hadn't had so much trouble about getting employment, because of his high qualifications, but his trouble was finding somewhere to live. One landlady had screamed and slammed the door when he came to answer her advertisement; others had said weakly, "I'm sorry, it's already taken," or flatly, "We don't take coloured."

White employers answer the charge of discrimination by declaring that coloured labour is lazy, or that the other men would object, or that coloured applicants do not possess the qualifications they claim. The first charge seems to be a common folk-myth with no real foundation in fact. The second on investigation, has proved usually to be unfounded, though there are white workers who resent working under a Negro superior. The third has some basis; one batch of West Indians who came over to work during the war did prove to lack the technical skills ascribed to them by the organisation responsible. The properly qualified, however, feel strongly that employers should take the trouble at least to interview them, which many do not, before deciding they come into this category.

* * *

THE ATTITUDE of landladies is harder to ascertain, but some have stated to coloured students in effect, "I've nothing against you, but I have a daughter, and if you and her get fond of each other, well— what about the children?" -- thus keeping the increasing number of locally born coloured in the position which landladies naturally do not wish their grandchildren to occupy.

In the face of all this frustrating opposition, whether resulting from misunderstanding, ignorance, unreasoning hostility, or from causes which could easily be put right the coloured peoples of Liverpool, once divided on national, tribal, or occupational issues, are beginning to get together, to form associations for mutual protection and associations, and to recognise a common identity.

* * *

THIS tendency holds one great danger— that the coloured population, more closely integrated within itself, will tend to become ever more isolated from the life of the general population, and to regard the "Johnny Bulls" with even more suspicion and hostility. Efforts are being made to combat this trend, but they are not always happy ones.

* * *

I WAS PRESENT at the opening of a community centre in Liverpool 8, intended to serve the coloured people, but everyone present was conscious that its foundation would not have been necessary if the other community centres in the city had not banned Negroes, and no one could fail to notice the attitude of patronage on the part of many whites present, or the unnecessary number of police in the vicinity, carrying the implication that a congregation of Negroes implied forthcoming violence. The presence of the Lord Mayor with a gold chain round his neck somehow failed to convince.

* * *

THE coloured people of Liverpool 8 are suspicious of white people, and most white people are either totally indifferent to or genuinely frightened of the Negroes. Nevertheless, many whites are well meaning, and could do a great deal — if they were capable of treating Negroes as perfectly ordinary people who happen to find themselves in a difficult circumstance, and not as problem children.

The whites may have prejudice, but the Negroes have pride, and that is something the English often forget. It may prove to be a tragic forgetfulness, because Liverpool 8 is only an example in microcosm of a situation which is inescapable; in one form or another it exists all over the Commonwealth —and all over the world.

Misinformation About The Senate

(CALGARY HERALD)

THE GALLUP POLL reports that the Canadian Senate is "gaining supporters among the people". Nine years ago, there were twice as many people who thought it should be abolished as thought it should be continued in its present form. Today, about one in every three Canadians thinks it should be continued, but its members elected; one in four thinks it should be maintained in its present form; and one in five thinks it should be abolished altogether.

The figures suggest that many Canadians do not have any clear idea of what the Senate's functions are, or how it is composed. Indeed, a couple of weeks ago, we heard those eminent students of public affairs, Miss Kate Aitken and Mrs. Tommy Tweed, displaying, in the CBC program "Court of Opinion", a truly astonishing ignorance of what the Senate is all about.

We beg, therefore, to state once again a few ideas on the subject of the second chamber. We believe the idea of a second chamber is, in itself, an excellent thing, both as a check on an over-hasty Commons and as a place where things can be discussed dispassionately without undue concern for the next election. We believe that the principles upon which the Canadian Senate is founded are admirably suited to both these purposes. We also believe that the Senate has been somewhat less effective than it should be.

What we do not believe is that any change which could be, or is likely to be, made in the constitution of the Senate would, on the evidence, make it any more effective than it is now. Most assuredly electing its members would not. Elected senators would be bound to keep an eye on their chances of re-election—unless they were elected for life, in which case the purpose of holding elections is vitiated. The right to elect includes the right NOT to re-elect; but if a man is elected for life, the right cannot be exercised.

No; we do not think there is anything wrong with the method of appointment of, or the powers held by, the Senate today. What is wrong is the invariable practice by which the government of the day—of whatever complexion—appoints only its own supporters to the Upper House. What is also wrong is the inexplicable tendency of many Liberal senators to behave as if their seats were going to be at stake instead of exercising and enjoying the independence of every party wheel-horse which comes from the knowledge that your appointment can terminate only with your death or your voluntary retirement.

On paper, the Senate is a completely independent body. Frequently, but not frequently enough, its members exercise this independence in highly useful ways— such as their recent study of the Criminal Code amendments. The appointment of one or two men and women of marked independence would transform the body; tinkering with the method of appointment itself will not.

And The Dog

(New York World-Telegram)

Harry Schultz, haled into court in Baltimore, admitted he spends $14 to $18 a week for alcohol, but declared his wife spends even more, because she drinks a case of beer every night. Their dog drinks too, he added. Schultz felt that he was a good husband, however, because "when my wife gets drunk I hold her head, but when I get drunk she calls the police."

The magistrate suspended Schultz's fine on condition that he and his wife separate That may be justice, but now who buys for the dog?

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

The foolishness of man's perverteth his way: and his heart fretteth against the Lord .... There are many devices in a man's heart; nevertheless the counsel of the Lord, that shall stand .... Cease, my son, to hear the instruction that causeth to err from the words of knowledge. (Prov. 19: 3, 21, 27.)

* * *

For it is written, I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent. Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this world? hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world? (1 Cor. 1: 19, 20.)

Howbeit we speak wisdom among them that are perfect: yet not the wisdom of this world, nor of the princes of this world, that come to nought; but we speak the wisdom of God in a mystery, even the hidden wisdom, which God ordained before the world unto our glory .... but as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him.

But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God. For what man knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of man which is in him? even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God.

Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God: that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God .... But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned. (I Cor. 2: 6, 7, 9,-12, 14.)

THE HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Sir: In reply to Mr. Pammett's very fine letter published on January 10th, may I advise that many persons are still very much interested in establishing a historical society in Peterborough. Another gathering to which all interested persons are invited to attend has been arranged for March 13th at the Public Library, at which time we hope to have as speaker Dr. J. J. Talman, Librarian of the University of Western Ontario.

Dr. Talman is a prominent historian and past president of the Ontario Historical Society and also past president of the Canadian Historical Society. His experience and wide knowledge of such matters we feel will add impetus to the establishment of the much-needed historical society in this city and county.

Sincerely yours,
ANNE L. HEIDEMAN,
Secretary Pro Tem,

Mercs Edge Redmen 8-7 In Seesaw Battle

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

It was a see-saw showdown Tuesday night as the fourth-place Brantford Redmen extended the leading Owen Sound Mercurys to the limit in the only Ontario Hockey Association Senior A game.

The Mercurys won 8-7 after the battling Redmen tied the score three times. The Mercs fired the winning goal with less than two minutes to play.

It was tallied by Roy Leckie. The victory increased the Owen Sound club's first-place lead over Stratford Indians to three points. The Redmen are still five points behind the third-place Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen.

In the Northern Ontario Hockey Association Senior A southern group, Sudbury Wolves moved to within two points of clinching first place with a 7-4 victory over the tail-end Sault Ste. Marie (Mich.) Indians. The Wolves are 11 points in front of the Sault (Ont.) Greyhounds.

At Owen Sound, the Mercury's winning goal came barely a minute after Arn Dugan's goal deadlocked the score for Brantford for the third time. The Mercurys' other goal scorers were Buck Forslund with two, and Ray McCallum, Bill McComb, Jaydee McArthur, Harry Kazarian and Ralph Hosking.

Dugan and coach Bill Dinning counted two goals each for Brantford. The Redmen's other goals were scored by Jack Taylor, Sam Kennedy and Wally Hnatiuk.

At Sudbury, McLenahan scored two of the Wolves' goals with the others going to Barrett, Mestan and McClellan. The Indians' goalgetters were Kerr, Farelli, Baby and Palladino.

There was no holding them Tuesday night as they moved into sole possession of fourth place in the nine-team loop with a 2-1 overtime decision over the league leading Toronto Marlboros.

Kitchener-Waterloo Greenshirts, mired deep in the cellar, achieved a 6-5 victory against sixth-place Oshawa Generals.

Ken Collins and Bob Ford led Kitchener with a pair of goals each while Graham Joyce and Marc Boileau added singletons. Bob Attersley, Don McIntosh, Roger Maisonneuve, Bob Mader and Armstrong tallied for Oshawa.

National Product Said Worth $23,000,000,000

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Canada's gross national product last year was around $23,000,000,000.

That's a big figure. To get some idea of the wealth Canadians are creating for themselves, in comparison with less fortunate people, one might consider the following:

While 14,000,000 Canadians were producing that total, some 480,000,000 people in China were barely equalling it.

Apparently the gross national product will continue around the record 1952 figure for a while at least. The current review of the Canadian Bank of Commerce says:

"It appears to be the concensus that it would require a major economic catastrophe, probably originating abroad, to cause a significant drop in employment and national income in Canada.

SMALL DECLINE

"A drop of even 25 per cent in defence spending over the next two years (which is not anticipated) would result in a decline of only about two per cent in gross national production, or the equivalent of the increase arising out of having had a bumper, rather than an average, grain crop last year."

The review says, however, that there are two major uncertainties; namely, the 1953 crop and the course of prices appears to be in the balance.

"Most other factors suggest a continuation of the economic strength in evidence in the last half of the past year. Neither defence production nor resource development give any indications of regression, and with this strong buttress to an economy already fundamentally strong by reason of increasing population, purchasing power and living standards, there seems no reason why, apart from crops, over-all production should fall from last year's very satisfactory total."

11 Paper Firms Accused Of Combines Participation

OTTAWA (CP) — Combines investigator T. D. MacDonald in a report made public today, accused 11 West coast coarse paper companies of having participated or assisted in the operation of an illegal price-fixing combine in and around Vancouver.

Two of them also were among the 44 companies named last November by Mr. MacDonald in a report alleging the existence of an illegal combine in Canada's $50,000,000 fine paper industry.

Coarse papers include such commonly used items as wrapping paper, waxed paper, paper bags, napkins and towels.

In a 136-page document tabled in the Commons, Mr. MacDonald charged the companies with keeping down competition, restricting wholesale trade and maintaining prices at high, fixed levels through illegal common agreement.

ASK LEGAL ADVICE

Justice Minister Garson, tabling the report which resulted from a four-year investigation, said he will ask for legal advice and announce later whether he will prosecute those named.

The same procedure was followed in the fine-paper investigation but Mr. Garson has still not announced what court action he plans.

The coarse-paper inquiry was launched in 1949 and Mr. MacDonald alleged these six wholesale companies were principal parties to the combine at the time of the investigation:

Columbia Paper Company Ltd.; Kelly, Douglas and Company, Ltd.; Norfolk Paper Company, Ltd.; Smith, Davidson and Wright, Ltd.; Vancouver Pacific Paper Company Ltd., and J. C. Wilson Ltd.

With the exception of J. C. Wilson Ltd., which was a branch of a Montreal company, all the accused had their head offices in Vancouver.

INVOLVED TOO

Two other wholesalers, the W. H. Malkin Co. Ltd., and the Vancouver Supply Company Ltd., were named as "knowingly" assisting in the combine operation "from time to time."

Three British Columbia manufacturers, also "knowingly" assisting in the operation from time to time, were: Pacific Mills, Ltd., Vancouve; Westminster Paper Co., Ltd., New Westminster, B. C.; and "to a lesser extent" Bartram Paper Products Company Ltd., Vancouver.

Columbia Paper and Smith, Davidson and Wright were named in the November report on the fine paper industry.

As in the case of the fine-paper inquiry, the report was sent direct to the minister by Mr. MacDonald, in his former capacity as combines commissioner. He now is director of investigation and research, reporting to a new three-man anti-combines commission.

The report stated that tenders for paper products by the Vancouver school board brought similar price quotations by several companies

The companies accused were estimated to purchase and control about $3,000,000 worth of paper products each year.

Mr. MacDonald reported that a form of illegal price-fixing combine operated in B. C. since 1935, centred in the coarse paper division of the B. C. Paper Distributors Council, an organization of wholesalers.

200 See Norwood Whip Havelock

NORWOOD (ENS) —A crowd of 200 Tuesday night saw Norwood trounce Havelock 7-2 in a postponed game in the TVL League.

McDougal and Kelly paced the Norwood attack with two goals apiece. But they were matched by Kearns who scored both the losers' two goals and was their biggest threat on attack all night.

Nicholls' the Norwood goalie, had to leave the game for most of the second period when he was struck on the nose by a flying puck during a wild scramble around his net. The puck cut him between the eyes and then glanced up, cutting his forehead. He returned about 15 minutes later after a 10-stitch repair job.

While Nicholls was away Moon Wootton dropped back from defence and donned the pads for Norwood. He let in only one goal during his stay in the net.

Later in the second period Marvin Scott, also of Norwood, received an almost identical cut from a flying puck. He also had to retire from the game temporarily to get stitched up.

The ice was fast and the game was clean. Only three penalties were called.

Norwood—Goal, Nicholls; defence, Tompkins and Wootton; centre, Rochetta; wings, Stewart and Buckton; alternates, R. Robinson, McDougal, Landon, Williams, Scott, Kelly and LeClair.

Havelock—Goal, Dobson; defence, Anderson and Berardi; centre, Kearns; wings, Willshaw and Reid; alternates, Gooley, Buchan and Richlark; extra goalie, Hill.

Referees—Bill Romhanyi and Bun Kingdon of Peterborough. The summary:

FIRST PERIOD

Hornets Blank Cleveland 3-0

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Pittsburgh Hornets Tuesday night regained possession of first place in the American Hockey League, blanking Cleveland Barons 3-0. In another game Providence Reds edged St. Louis Flyers 7-6 in overtime.

At Cleveland, it was the second straight shutout for Pittsburgh goalie Gil Mayer. The Hornets are a point ahead of Cleveland.

After a scoreless first period, John McLelland put the Hornets ahead in the second. Chuck Lumsden's and Andy Barbe's third-period markers completed the scoring.

Defenceman Bert Bourassa's overtime goal gave the Reds their victory, and advanced them into fifth spot.

Pete Kapusta fired two goals for the winners. Other Providence marksmen were Zellio Toppazzini, Ray Laplante, Al Baccari and Johnny Denis.

Pete Conacher, Gerald Ehman, Jake Forbes, Buddy Boone and Motto McLean accounted for the St. Louis goals.

Elzear Rioux, French-Canadian heavyweight, was fined $1,000 and suspended 23 years ago today by the Illinois athletic commission for his "unsatisfactory showing" against Primo Carnera. The Canadian woodsman had been knocked out in 14 seconds by Carnera, who later held the world's heavyweight title from 1933 to 1934.

Adams Fined $500 For Run-in With Referee

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

If National Hockey League referees happen to become the loneliest men in sport, they can place part of the blame on the loop president, Clarence Campbell.

Not that the fans have ever ignored the little men in white, but it has become increasingly expensive of late for club executives to mix with the whistle tooters.

Jack Adams, general manager of Detroit Red Wings, is the latest to feel President Campbell's distaste for persons molesting his officials. The trigger-tempered "Jolly Jack" was nicked $500 Tuesday for his Jan. 18 run-in with referee Red Storey.

Adams is said to have "accosted referee Red Storey in a corridor and entered his dressing room" at Olympia Stadium, home of the Red Wings, between periods of the Jan. 18 Montreal-Detroit game.

TOBIN ON LIST

A few weeks ago, Bill Tobin, general manager of the Chicago Black Hawks, was also fined $500 for a similar violation. Both Adams and Tobin are league governors.

Campbell said it was decided at the league's annual meeting last June that no useful purpose was ever accomplished by team officials discussing game incidents with referees during a game. Decision was reached then to ban them from entering the referee's dressing room on the day of a game without permission.

Campbell said that in this instance it was contended that the referee "had invited Adams into his dressing room." This was later denied by Storey.

However, the league prexy was firm in pointing out that the purpose of the revised regulation governing the actions of team officials on the day of a game was to eliminate such situations as had arisen from the Adams-Storey squabble. He said any further breach of the rule would bring about more serious punishment.

HAVE IT EASY

While the front office boys engage in verbal duels, the players will have it easy tonight, their first open Wednesday since the initial week of the schedule. Thursday night, however, all six clubs see action.

Toronto Maple Leafs attempt to hold their newly-acquired third place when they move into Montreal for a clash with the runner-up Canadiens. Meanwhile, Detroit entertains New York Rangers in a first-meets-last battle.

Chicago, two points back of Toronto, plays at Boston against the fifth-place Bruins.

Eight Rinks In 3rd Round

HAMILTON (CP)—Eight rinks advanced Tuesday into the third round of the Hamilton and district playdowns for the Ontario championship competition at Toronto Feb. 12.

Four of the eight rinks were from the host Hamilton Thistle Club. The others are from Welland, Glanford, St. Catharines and the Hamilton Victoria Club.

Sixteen of the 23 rinks competing Tuesday were eliminated, including one of the favorites, Dr. C. T. Mason's Thistle quartet which was defeated 14-12 by a Welland rink skipped by Ken McGregor.

Dr. Mason's rink was down 12-5 at one stage but closed the gap to come within a single stone in the ninth end. McGregor's first rock on the last end guarded his winner and he didn't have to use his second as Dr. Mason's rock failed to break up the house.

In the first round W. Weir's St. Catharines' rink defeated G. Wild's Dofascos, 18-4. In the second round Bob Murphy, Glanford, defeated Hamilton Dofascos, skipped by Harry Hawkins, 13-9.

Beliveau And Smrke Leading Marksmen

MONTREAL (CP)—Big Jean Beliveau, starry centre of Quebec Aces, and Stan Smrke, Chicoutimi Sagueneens marksman, are deadlocked for the lead in the Quebec Senior Hockey League scoring race.

Gros Bill has fired 35 goals and assisted in 30 others for 65 points. Smrke has 27 goals and 38 assists.

Andre Corriveau of Valleyfield Braves and Sherman White of Chicoutimi have 64 points each. Corriveau has 27 goals and 37 assists and White a 21-43 count.

Fifth are Ralph Buchanan of Chicoutimi and Tod Campeau of Sherbrooke, tied with 58 points.

Rollie Hebert's Chicoutimi Sagueneens have a strong hold on first place in the league with a five-point edge on Montreal Royals. Ottawa is third with 49.

Castle Lee Wins

TORONTO (CP)—Castle Lee, owned by the H. and B. Stable of Norwich, Ont., and driven by Bill Harvey, registered a handy double heat victory in the class A trot, featured harness event Tuesday at Dufferin Park.

Maxine's Rose, owned by Floyd Milton of Hamburg, N.Y., and Merrie Feet, owned by T. Lennox of Spencerville, Ont., were the heat winners in the fifth and secondary event.

HAMILTON (CP)—A dozen or so marathon runners are entered in the annual 30-mile road race Saturday from Guelph to Hamilton along Highway No. 6 as a warm-up for the forthcoming Boston marathon. The race will start from Guelph city hall and finish at Hamilton city hall.

CANADIAN CHAMPION—Doreen McLeod, of Edmonton, retained her Canadian senior women's title at the Dominion speed-skating championships held in Edmonton for the first time. She collected 140 points with four firsts and a second. Senior men's title event ended in a draw between Frank Stack, 47-year-old Winnipegger, and Johnny Sands, 19, of Saskatoon, with 110 points each.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Since Oshawa has been admitted into the Intercounty Baseball League, the problem of rounding up a suitable COBL is bound to be a headache for the Petes, Belleville and mayhap Kingston. Time for all concerned to do some digging. Would an interlocking schedule with a Toronto loop help? How far east can we go for games without going broke? Certainly, we don't want to stagger along again this year in a three-team league. Let's face it, the fans must have variety and keen, classy competition, or they'll stay away in thousands from home contests. An Oshawa entry would have helped, but that's out. But Oshawa is paying plenty for the privilege of joining the I-C loop.

* * * * * *

For instance, Oshawa subsidized St. Thomas to the extent of $150 for each overnight stay in the Motor City. Seems London and St. Thomas objected most to the long trips to Oshawa, but that'll be overcome partly by double-headers in Oshawa by these clubs. John Harris' team, unlike the others, hasn't a short trip all through the hefty 62-game schedule, but must rtaavel repeatedly to Western Ontario for games. Travelling expenses are high, and there's a real big payroll necessary on every club in this minor pro circuit. If Oshawa doesn't draw a lot better at home than last year — when in the Niagara Falls' setup—then a lot of citizens will have to kick in to keep the club going. Or John himself will be stuck.

Ike On The Way Up?

Switching to hockey, Marlow Banks told us the other day that he was listening to a broadcast of a game in Chicago recently, when Jim Hendy was interviewed between periods. Jim is manager of Cleveland Barons in the AHL, and he told the radio guy that Ike Hildebrand was attracting the interest of New York Rangers, who would like to take him up to the NHL. "He might well be another Wally Hergesheimer, both being small, rugged players and high scorers," Jim said. Hergesheimer of the Rangers and Ike—who lives here summers and plays lacrosse for the Timbermen—hail from the same place and are alike in many respects. Lacrosse or hockey, Ike is a grand little competitor, and we hope he makes the NHL.

* * * * * *

Latest NHL bulletin shows Gordie Howe of the Wings away out in front of the scoring race with 67 points, teammate Ted Lindsay being next with 50. Puck authorities like Hap Day and Neis Stewart within the past week have called the smooth Howe just about all-time tops in NHL forwards. Richard is third high with 47 points, two more than Hergesheimer. Red Sullivan has seven points in 11 games but is ahead of such regular NHL-ers as Bouchard, Flaman, Conacher, Meeker, St. Laurent (in 34 games), Lynn, Guidolin, Timgren and a whole lot more. He led the AHL before moving back up to Bruins some three weeks or so ago. The Ashburnham redhead—always full of fight and hustle—is doing okay in big-time hockey.

Some Coldish Facts

Coming closer to home, let's look at the Petes' chances of making an OHA senior "B" group playoff spot this semester. Here's the standing in their section, showing games yet to be played:

Team	W.	L.	T.	Pts.	TP.
Belleville	11	13	0	22	5
Kingston	11	13	0	22	5
Petes	8	16	1	17	5

Now, the Petes go to Kingston this Friday and trek to Stouffville the following Wednesday. Kingston comes here Feb. 13, Belleville is here three nights later, and the Petes wind up their schedule on Feb. 20 in Kingston. It looks like they have to take two or three of those games o'er Kingston if they hope to hit the gravy train. One of these three teams will be all through by Feb. 21, a little more than two weeks hence.

* * * * * *

Showing how winter is really slipping along, our OHA junior "B" schedule concludes one week from tomorrow. Yes, indeed, it's over on Feb. 12, after a run from last Nov. 7. Top four teams tangle in group semi-finals, first vs. fourth, and second vs. third. Best of five in these series, with finals four out of seven. IOOF-ers are in fourth slot back of Belleville, Kingston and Lindsay, not too far in front of Oshawa — a couple of games — while Cobourg is out of the race. Belleville Hawklets play here Friday, and the Oddfellows can't fool any more or they'll be ousted by the oncoming Oshawans, who play four-point frays. Locals go to Cobourg on Saturday, to Bella Villa next Tuesday and wind it up with Cobourg here the next night.

Kramer Wants To Own Team

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Pro tennis star Jack Kramer is ready and willing to step into professional football as an owner.

Kramer, touring the country with Australian net ace Frank Sedgman, said in Pittsburgh Tuesday night he was "very much interested" in purchasing the franchise of the San Francisco 49'ers.

This development came after League Commissioner Bert Bell said he had talked with Kramer's representative, Frank O'Gara, about the possibility of buying the franchise from its present owners, Anthony and Victor Morabito.

Anthony Morabito said last fall he wanted to sell the team because his doctor had advised him to get out of football, following a heart attack.

St. Peter's High Advances Into Junior B Playdowns By Defeating Kenner Juniors

Bombarding Kenner collegiate with a 27-point, St. Peter's junior Saints advanced into the COSSA junior "B" playdowns Tuesday by virtue of a 46-25 win. That victory gave the Saints the two-game points-to-count round by 43 points. But later Tuesday the St. Peter's High midgets, despite a one-man display by Dan Quinlan, were downed 42-27 by the powerful PCVS midgets in city league play.

Coach Johnny Lynch's junior Saints now advance in the COSSA "B" playdowns against Whitby High juniors who defeated Port Perry in the other B district. No dates have been set for that two-game points-to-count series.

Another Quinlan, this time Dave, was the main difference in the junior game. The smooth ball-handler and jump shot artist ruined any chance of a comeback by Kenner with a 21-point game total. He also set up scoring plays to Killen and Feeley, other high scorers for the Saints.

The Saints started off well on baskets by Finn, Feeley and Quinlan in the first half, but faded quickly as Kenner began to pass well weaving in for close shots. The Kenner cagers fed Bill Lawrence in the final minutes and tied the score 19-all at the half.

But that ended Kenner's threat to at least win the game. For Quinlan took over, along with Killen and Feeley to run the score up quickly. Kenner's game shifted from the passing to a slow-moving brand, because the Saints' defence tightened.

Two individualists commanded attention in the midget game. PCVS' Paul Davis sparked the Garnet and Grey cagers to their win over the Saints, while St. Peter's Dan Quinlan made every effort to keep the Saints in the game. But Davis won out.

Davis hit his stride early in the first half along with Keeting and Brown as the Garnet and Grey surged ahead to take a 21-17 half-time score. Quinlan counted all the Saints' points in that half.

Davis bettered his first half stride in the second half and with five field baskets and a foul shot for 11 points shot the collegians well out in front. Quinlan kept plugging away for the Saints, sinking eight of the Saints' 10 in that half.

Quinlan, who is better than the average player in his age limit, was the whole team as far as the Saints' scoring was concerned, for he scored no less than 25. The other two Saints' points went to Crowley.

PCVS' Davis was well off Quinlan's total as he led the Garnet and Grey in scoring with 17 points. Keeting followed up with 11.

The summaries:

Vezina Trophy Contenders Find New Yorkers Tough On Goal Total

By JIM BASTABLE

TORONTO (CP)—Coach Lynn Patrick of Boston Bruins skated on sticky ice a few weeks ago when he dubbed the New York Ranger forward wall of Paul Ronty, Wally Hergesheimer and Neil Strain the "scavenger" line of the National Hockey League. Lynn later amended that to read: "The best scavengers in the league" and he couldn't be farther offside. Their scoring output is some shucks considering the last-place position of the Blue Shirts and Lynn will get plenty of argument from guys who should know—Vezina Trophy contenders such as Detroit's Terry Sawchuk, Montreal's Gerry McNeil, Boston's Sugar Jim Henry and Toronto's Harry Lumley.

The two leading contenders for the best goals-against average have reason to respect the trio. For the "scavengers" have had a highly disruptive effect on the Vezina race.

SHEER MURDER

"It's sheer murder at times," says Sawchuk, winner of the Vezina last year and leading the race this season. "Just when you're on top of the world, the Rangers come up with a bucketful of goals. They can make life pretty miserable."

And McNeil, running second to Sawchuk, adds:

"Those Rangers act like world-beaters at times—and when you're least expecting it. That line of Ronty, Hergesheimer and Strain is one of the best in the league. Scavengers? Nuts!"

It was an obvious reference to Jan. 11 when Rangers jumped on McNeil for a 7-0 triumph and practically left him in the cold in the trophy race. The murders? Why, the "scavenger" line with four goals and an assist.

Two weeks later, Sawchuk was walloped 8-2 and that put McNeil back in the running. You guessed it, the scavengers contributed four goals and two assists.

Today, Hergesheimer is fourth in the individual scoring race with 21 goals and 24 assists for 45 points in 48 games. Ronty is fifth with 39 points and Strain, a johnny-come-lately in the big time, has 22 points in 32 games.

NOT TOO MUCH TROUBLE

Lumley and Henry haven't had too much trouble with the Rangers but they have lots of respect for the Blue Shirts.

Lumley, who came to the Leafs this year in an off-season trade, says he's "out of the Vezina race because I'm so far behind Sawchuk." He adds, however:

"That New York so-called Scavenger line can be rought. It just so happens that I haven't been bothered by them."

Henry echoes Lumley's words.

It wasn't so long ago that Sawchuk was considered a shoo-in for the trophy. Now things aren't too rosy for the Winnipeg-born netminder.

To date, Sawchuk, who won the trophy last season with an average of 1.94 goals a game over the 70-game route, leads with 2.05 goals a game in 41 games. McNeil is next with 2.13. Then comes Henry with 2.46 and Lumley with 2.48.

Sawchuk isn't too confident about the margin: "It was going fine until that night when the Rangers blitzed me. Now I've got McNeil on my tail. I think he is going to make it tough but I think I can take him."

McNEIL HOPEFUL

Comments McNeil:

"With the protection I'm getting from the team I think I can overtake Sawchuk. It's just a matter of time. We still have a lot of games to play, too."

Lumley is more concerned about crease-crashers. He has a sort of standing threat that he'll sock anyone who crashes in on his nets. He was socking so many early in the season—and getting penalties—that now Leaf officials fine him when he gets a penalty.

Harry didn't say what the fine is. But he's holding his punches these days.

Withdrawal Of U.S. Fleet Worries Hong Kong Firms

HONG KONG (Reuters)—British shipping firms in this crown colony, still carrying on a profitable trade with Communist China, fear they will be the ones to suffer most from the U.S. decision to withdraw the 7th fleet from Formosan waters.

The threat of interception by Nationalist Chinese gunboats and armed junks—considerable even when the U.S. fleet was there—now will be sharpened, business men said Tuesday.

These fears were backed up by reports from Taipeh, Formosa, which said the Nationalists will probably order their navy patrols to intercept foreign ships and unload their cargoes if it can be determined that the ships are bound for Chinese mainland ports.

PROFITABLE TRADE

Because the British government officially recognizes China's Communist regime, British firms here have continued to work the profitable trade channels built up during the last century.

The Communist revolution and war in Korea have curtailed this trade, but it is still an important outlet for Britain, both here and at home. Such trade is considered legitimate so long as no goods embargoed by the United Nations fall into Communist hands.

The Movie Column

Chuck Connors Must Choose Career Soon

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)— Tall, rangy Chuck Connors is faced with a decision: He's either going to pursue a movie acting career or continue as first baseman for Los Angeles Angels.

Pretty soon the baseball player will have to decide on which phase of his double life he wants to pursue. Spring practice is just around the corner. Baseball fans will groan to hear that he is leaning toward a choice of the movie life.

"I'm in the twilight of my baseball career—I'll soon be 32," remarked Chuck, who played for Brooklyn Dodgers, Chicago cubs and Montreal Royals in other years

"At best, I'll have two or three years left in baseball. Supposing I get hurt this year, as I did a season ago. The Angels would have every right in the world to drop me from the team."

OUTLOOK BRIGHTER

The movie outlook seems brighter. He now is playing his fifth screen role, his biggest part to date. He has the third most important role in "Sulu Sea" with Burt Lancaster and Virginia Mayo.

"It's a terrific part," enthused Chuck, a talkative lad who sounds like a ball player out of Ring Lardner, except that he's shrewder. His sense of economics is causing him to favor grease paint over the base ball diamond.

"The baseball season is 26 weeks including spring practice," he said. "I am making as much from seven weeks of this picture as I do during a full season for the Angels.

"I love baseball, but I've got two sons who love to eat, and another one on the way."

Chuck's start in the movies is in keeping with the Hollywood legend. He was picked right off the baseball diamond. Baseball fan Billy Grady, head of MGM casting, was impressed with Connors' clownish antics and offered to test him for pictures.

Charge Union Men Being Ill-Treated

OTTAWA (CP)—The executive council of the Canadian Congress of Labor charged Quebec provincial police Tuesday with "ill-treating" members of the Oil Workers' International Union engaged in a seven-month strike of Montreal.

The council said six members of the union have been arrested without warrants and three of them beaten in an "outright violation of the basic principles of British justice."

The men are engaged in a strike at Canadian Copper Refineries, and the council said the company has been defying Quebec labor law by refusing to negotiate with their union, certified as bargaining agent 16 months ago.

FROG FANTASY—A number of stuffed frogs, mounted in different positions, carrying musical instruments and arranged as an orchestra, is a feature of the natural-history collection owned by Dr. O. E. Morehouse, of Fredericton, N.B. The frog orchestra took two years to complete. It is part of a large collection made by Dr. Morehouse's father.

Jack-Knife And Fork Used To Slay Moose In N.B. Woods

FREDERICTON (CP)—This is the story of a moose that was shot with a knife and fork, a frog orchestra and other strange events in the life of the late Dr. O. E. Morehouse.

His son, Dr. O. E. Morehouse has an extensive array of natural history exhibits collected by his father.

Few specimens of Canadian wild life fail to find a place among the stuffed and mounted items in the Morehouse collection.

One of the prize trophies is a mounted caribou head, one of the last killed before that species of wild life vanished from New Brunswick.

Another set of moose antlers carries the tale of the knife-and-fork shooting. Dr. Morehouse and several friends, so the story goes, had a hunting camp not far from the home of a shrewd hunter who happened to be out for game birds, armed with shotgun and bird-shot ammunition.

SMART NIMROD

He spotted a moose, which didn't spot him, giving time to plan his course of action. First he emptied the small shot from the shell, broke off the blade of his jack-knife and rammed it into the casing.

He fired from 20 yards and the moose fell, wounded but still full of fight. This time the hunter used a piece of iron fork from his ration kit. That shot did the trick.

Another of Dr. Morehouse's top attractions is his collection of frogs. He had one set mounted in different positions, armed with musical instruments and arranged as an orchestra. It took two years to complete.

Also extensive is the weapon collection, including various types of old pistols and muskets and more modern weapons. Included is a pair of long-barrelled muskets used by Morehouse ancestors during the American Revolution.

Ask Ottawa To Pay Transportation Costs

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—A resolution calling upon "the proper government agencies" to pay transportation costs of Ford of Canada workers laid off in Windsor and re-hired at Oakville has been forwarded to Windsor city council.

The resolution, passed by local 240, United Auto Workers (CIO-CCL), was endorsed at a recent UAW district convention in Hamilton. It is to come before board of control today.

Ford officials have announced their intention of moving the company's assembly operations from Windsor to an Oakville plant now under construction. They had no comment on the UAW resolution.

Welfare Cost To City Tops $40,000

Age, Illness Count As Major Factors In Cost of Relief

Welfare disbursements last year amounted to $68,254.19, of which $40,631.11 was the actual cost to the city, as shown in Welfare Officer A. G. Metheral's 33rd annual report to the city council.

The province of Ontario contributed $24,912.58 in the receipts column; refund of relief was $120.37; and collections on charge-backs to other municipalities totalled $2,590.13.

These credits amounted to $27,623.08, which is substracted from the total expenditure of $68,254.19, leaving the sum of $40,631.11 payable by the city. Included was the cost of administration at $10,848.50.

Distribution of relief was as follows: food, $31,754.35; fuel, $6,978.81; shelter, $7,838.65; clothing, $1,389.76; household sundries, $903; doctors, $2,367.53; medicine, $218.21; funerals, $794; special home care, $480; sanatorium after-care, $1,893.38; incapacitation allowance, $100; miscellaneous relief, $13.50; local ambulance service, $64.

Mr. Metheral reported that in December, 1952, the welfare department provided assistance to 230 persons.

140 ON RELIEF

During the year, there were 140 registrations for relief; 30 were charged 100 per cent to Peterborough; 58 received assistance because of age or illness; 20 because of desertion by the head of the family; six because of imprisonment of the head of the family; four while awaiting old age pensions; one awaiting the disabled persons allowance; ten awaiting mothers' allowances; two mothers with illegitimate children; nine awaiting dependents' allowances from the Army.

There were 263 relief investigations during the year.

There were 12 ex-patients of sanatoria including one chargeable to the city from another place and two chargeable to another municipality. The total after-care cost to the city, with credits from other places taken off, was $1,893.38.

INSULIN FREE

Six Peterborough residents were recommended for free insulin, six were refused. Twenty-four persons received free insulin chargeable to the municipality, of which Peterborough paid 25 per cent during the year. The sum of $94.06 was paid to the provincial Department of Health for this purpose.

Thirteen needy citizens received individual cheques quarterly, from the treasurer of the Almira Grover Foley Estate Trust Fund, amounting to $520 during the year. These cheques were distributed through the welfare office.

There were 370 hospital investigations, resulting in 250 admissions and 78 refusals because of residence or financial circumstances.

Of the 250 admissions, 102 were to Civic Hospital and 81 to St. Joseph's; 29 were to outside hospitals; 22 to sanatoria and 16 to Ontario hospitals.

Cost of hospitalization in Civic and St. Joseph's hospitals was $24,553. Of that amount $4,214.10 was for relief recipients and $20,338.90 for indigent patients. Collections amounted to $749.95. The indigent amount includes $325 for children for the Childlren's Aid Society.

51 INDIGENTS

Peterborough paid for 51 patients in outside hospitals last year, including six in the Ontario Hospital for Epileptics at Woodstock, and two at the Salvation

Delegates Visit Transport Dept. On Narrows Span

A six-man delegation from the Peterborough County Council left at noon today for Ottawa where they will consult with Department of Transport officials on what is to be done at Gannon's Narrows.

For two years now residents of Harvey Township and the county council have been trying to get a replacement for the dangerous floating bridge that spans the narrows between Ennismore and Harvey Townships. A holdup has been the fact that the county council want a causeway with a swingspan; the department prefer an overhead bridge.

An added complication is the feeling of county council that the $99,000 offered by the department while sufficient for the swingspan, is not enough of a grant for the more expensive overhead bridge.

DECISION POSSIBLE

Thursday morning the delegation — consisting of the county's road committee and Jack Kean, county engineer and road superintendent—will see C. W. West, director of canal services, and perhaps other department officials. Engineering problems will be rehashed and possibly a final decision on the controversial project will be reached.

One estimate of costs was $328,000 for the causeway with swingspan, and $356,000 for the cause with the overhead fixed span.

With Mr. Kean in Ottawa are the following members of the county roads committee: Chairman Willard G. Waterman, James Humphries, James Gifford, Roland Tedford, and Warden Ernest Leeson.

Trustee Removed From School Board

LINDSAY—Accepting a job to erect the snow fences around a Cardiff township school in Haliburton county led Tuesday to John Peel's removal from the township school board as a trustee. Mr. Peel's dismissal was ordered by Judge J. A. McGibbon after hearing the complaint and evidence of two of the ratepayers of the municipality. The clerk of the township said Mr. Peel put up some snow fences around the school, and had received some pay for the work. This is against the directives of the Public Schools Act. Acting for the plaintiffs was Joseph Staples, of Lindsay. A. T. Lacey defended Mr. Peel.

City Awaiting Direction From Higher Level Before Flood Fund Starts

Red Cross Headquarters Authorizes Branches To Accept Cash Donations; City Forwards Message of "Active Sympathy"

Peterborough's contribution of aid to the stricken people of riparian western Europe was a foremost concern of Mayor Hugh Waddell at the City Hall this morning. "I know there are many citizens who would like to participate in Canadian gifts of relief to the coastal people who have suffered heavily in loss of life and property by the inroads of the sea, but I'd like to feel certain of the most practical way of doing it," His Worship said. Mayor Waddell said he had been closely following the news from Ottawa and Toronto, particularly the offer of help expressed by Prime Minister St. Laurent, and the assurance of the support of the government of Ontario by Premier Frost.

"I thought there might be some direction from governmental recommendation to the municipalities as to the best way to proceed, and before the day is over I expect to be in touch with some members of the council at the City Hall."

Mayor Waddell said it appeared that the British Red Cross was in a position to provide for the people along the east coast of England, and the Canadian Red Cross was in action to forward immediate supplies.

HELP FORWARDED

"That is for the emergency in which time is so important. The public does contribute to the Canadian Red Cross and its funds, and their help from that source will now be going forward.

"The next step, as I see it today, is to know definitely what agency will be authorized to receive donations for the assistance of people overseas. I think that is the orderly and sound way, and we may have some definite information this afternoon. I would just like to say the people whose countries have been devastated, as in England and Holland, have been in our thinking since the first of the week, and is not being neglected."

Mayor Waddell said he was sending a message of Peterborough's active sympathy and desire to help in support of Ontario's undertaking of help as announced by Premier Frost.

National headquarters of the Canadian Red Cross Society has forwarded instructions to all its branches in the Dominion, in a co-related plan for assistance to flood victims in England and Europe.

Branches are advised that they should be prepared to accept cash donations for flood victims. Any such contributions will go direct to the Ontario Division office. Used clothing will not be accepted.

In charge of cash contributions in Peterborough and district are Mrs. W. R. L. Blackwell (phone 6994), president of the local branch, and D. T. Diplock, treasurer (phone 7362).

NORMAL SCHOOL WINS

The Normal School defeated the YMCA Aces 59 to 13 in a basketball game at the YMCA Tuesday night. It was the first 'Y' house league game of the schedule.

New Secretary Takes Over Post At YMCA

Hail and farewell was the theme of Peterborough YMCA Wednesday night when the annual meting was held in the building's dining room, following a dinner.

The event marked a changeover in executive secretaries — Charles Forsyth, secretary for the past three years, is leaving for Central YMCA, Toronto, and was officially replaced last night by James C. McClenaghan, formerly of Peterborough, who returns to take office here.

Mr. McClenaghan was introduced by Mr. Forsyth. In his remarks as new executive secretary of the institution, he spoke of many "fond memories of Peterborough," and his delight in returning here. He paid tribute to the work of Mr. Forsyth, and added he would endeavor to bring to fulfillment many of the plans his predecessor had formulated, but had been unable to carry through. He also stated he was very gratified at the condition in which he found Peterborough YMCA, and the prominent part it was taking in community life of the city.

President A. L. Elliott presided, and a varied program was presented. Reports were submitted by group chairmen and heartily endorsed.

AWAY 15 YEARS

Mr. McClenaghan has returned to the "Y" here after an absence of 15 years, and had previously been with the local YMCA staff from 1929 to 1938. He resigned his post as executive secretary of the Railroad Branch, YMCA, Detroit. The new secretary has also served at St. Catharines and St. Thomas.

Charles Forsyth, in presenting a brief report to the membership, outlined progress during the past year. He stated a fair number of repairs and replacements were carried out in the building. He also paid tribute to the groups organized through the YMCA, and to their success.

Beer Firm Sues Havelock In Truck Crash

HAVELOCK (ENS)—Havelock village council are confronted with a possible legal suit, filed by a brewery, as a result of a truck load of beer going into the ditch within the village limits last January 9.

The company, in a letter to the council, claims the accident was due to condition of roads, which are the responsibility of the village.

A statement, in the amount of claim assessed damages from the truck damage and other losses at $3,000.

The letter, received at a meeting of council Monday, was from Canadian Breweries Transport, Ltd., Toronto, stating it was "the intention of the company to hold the village of Havelock responsible for icy conditions of the road" on the date of the accident. The truckload of beer—11 tons of it—went into the ditch on Ottawa St. (Highway 7).

VILLAGE DAMAGES

The council will send a copy of the letter, with a report of the accident by Chief Constable Robert Hall to a legal adviser. A statement of damages to village property, as a result of the mishap, will also be included.

A grant of $10 was voted to the Salvation Army.

Fees for the Good Roads Association, and for the Ontario Association of Rural Municipalities were authorized, should council members wish to attend the convention.

Among accounts authorized paid were: salaries $433.36; direct relief, $183.67; rink insurance, $225; other insurance, $56.25; hospitalization $286.

SS Board Denies Twp. Request

North Monaghan separate school board's request for an increased stipend from the Peterborough Separate School Board met with a polite denial Tuesday night.

The township trustees asked that the stipend, now $150.91 a month, be more than doubled by payment of $2.50 a month for each of the 168 city pupils attending township schools.

They felt the grant of $150.91—used to cover taxes—was insufficient.

The city board replied that such pupils as were accepted by the North Monaghan trustees were accepted without consultation of the city board. Therefore, the Peterborough board bore no obligation.

Board chairman J. G. McCarney asked: "Isn't it the point that we already have an agreement? This is a departure from that agreement."

In a letter to be sent to the North Monaghan trustees, the board suggested that the board's management committee meet with representatives of the township trustees and discuss the problem.

T. J. Carley Elected Head Of City Liberal Association

Thomas J. Carley, QC, was elected president of the Peterborough Liberal Association at the annual meeting Tuesday night. Mr. Carley, a Peterborough solicitor, succeeds Arthur Lewis who has led the local Liberals through the last three elections. So Mr. Carley will head the strong campaign that will be fought in this riding to unseat the Progressive Conservatives who have been in office for 13 years.

Mr. Carley gave his unqualified support to Maxwell J. Swanston, former mayor of Peterborough, and the unanimous choice of Liberals as their candidate in the coming federal election. He said that if all party members would get out and vote on election day the Liberals could carry the Peterborough West riding.

"There has been no Liberal representative in parliament since the Hon. J. J. Duffus was elevated to the Senate," said Mr. Carley. "There is no reason why this should be so: the people of Peterborough have a good grasp of public affairs. . .Analyze the last election and you will see that if those Liberals who were entitled to vote had done so. . .the result would have been different."

(In the general election of 1949 Gordon K. Fraser, PC, defeated Aubrey (Dit) Clapper by 243 votes, 10,981 to 10,738.)

Mr. Carley said that the Canadian government of the last five years was as good as any in the history of the country. He conceded that there have been heavy taxes but he contended that Canada has never been so prosperous.

NATIONAL DEBT CUT

"The national debt has been decreased by $2,000,000,000 and the social services have been extended as never before. There is now no means test for the old age pension. . . The elderly can now look forward with a confidence and sense of independence that they never had before."

The new Liberal Association president dismissed the disclosures of corruption and crookedness at Petawawa.

"Some people are trying to foment something in the nature of a scandal," he said, "but there is very little to it except the fact a few individuals have betrayed their trust and taken things that never belonged to them.

"The horses-on-the-payroll story has been exploded and now gets only the horselaugh."

Mr. Carley spoke extemporaneously as he and the audience of some 60 Liberals waited at the Legion hall for the arrival of the main speaker, F. Gordon Bradley, QC, secretary of state. The meeting closed about 10 p.m. with still no word from Mr. Bradley who did not turn up.

NEW OFFICERS

While waiting for Mr. Bradley the nominating committee, under the chairmanship of James E. Gillespie, brought in the new slate of officers.

Here are their recommendations, approved by the meeting:

Thomas J. Carley, president; A. E. (Dit) Clapper, 1st vice-president; Alex Elliott, QC, second vice-president; P. D. Scollard, 3rd vice-president; W. B. (Pete) Gordon, secretary; and John A. Dewart, treasurer.

Directors: Percy Davidson, Otonabee township; Peter Pearson, Galway-Cavendish township; Herbert Hennessy Sr., Ennismore township; George Chappell, Lakefield; F. D. Leahy, Douro township; Howard Beavis, Smith township; Wolsley Northey, Harvey township; and Dr. Ralph Honey, P. J. (Pat) Anglesey and Mrs. D. R. McGregor, of Peterborough.

Mr. Gordon, the new secretary, said that the party's federal candidate, Max Swanston, is without doubt the most popular man in Peterborough.

"I think we are fortunate that the party has such a candidate . . . picked, this time, far in advance of the election."

Gus Faux, a vice-president of the Ontario Liberal Association, said that the Conservative party had made just about all the mis-

Need Red Cross Fraser Tells Lakefield Branch

LAKEFIELD (ENS)—"The Red Cross is one organization absolutely necessary in Canada and across the world," stated Gordon K. Fraser, MP, speaking at the annual meeting of the Lakefield branch, Canadian Red Cross Society, Friday evening in Memorial Hall with one of the largest audiences present on such an occasion for many years.

"Red Cross has been called the greatest mother in the world, because it has, on many occasions, taken under its wing humanitarian projects and carried them to successful conclusions. It carries on this work for humanity without fanfare because this is the function of Red Cross. On an international, provincial or local scale this is true. Your organization looks after problems that other organizations are not able to handle. Red Cross is ready at all times, able to swing into action at a moment's notice to relieve human suffering," concluded Mr. Fraser.

Introduced by president, Mrs. A. O'Donnell, Mr. Fraser, in his address spoke of the many different projects undertaken by Red Cross such as the locating of missing persons, the re-uniting of families separated by war, its blood banks and disaster relief work and also of its part in the Korean war. He was thanked by Mrs. W. E. Gillman.

Mrs. Fraser, who accompanied her husband, spoke briefly urging Red Cross workers to "be prepared."

In the absence of the treasurer, Mrs. G. E. Renwick, the financial report was given by the secretary Mrs. S. A. Grylls and showed a balance on hand of $457.20.

Miss M. Hampton reported for the knitting committee and in a report on the loan cupboard, Mrs. W. W. Leonard thanked the Peterborough branch for co-operation at all times. She stated it was the intention to use money left to the branch by the late E. W. Bailey to buy a hospital bed and wheel chair for the loan cupboard.

Mrs. J. Deladonne, who retires this year as head of the Well Babies Clinic, after six successful years reported 46 new babies registered during the year. There were 53 doses of serum given for the first time, 44 second doses, 37 third doses and 25 step-up doses. Twenty children were vaccinated. The clinic was held 30 times during the year.

School nurse, Mrs. W. Hendren reported regular check-ups at the school, the giving of serum and vaccinations. Routine dental and eye inspections are also carried out and the pupils are given vitamin pills daily. Mrs. Stan Goodall, reporting for the past 14 months, said that 241 blood donors from the village had attended the blood clinics at both hospitals.

The swimming and water safety program under Mrs. Harold Willford showed a successful year, as did the report of the Beaver Club given by Mrs. N. S. Higgins. Mrs. R. Curry reported for the social committee. Report of the Junior Red Cross of the public school was given by Brenda Hollingshead.

Mrs. W. E. Gillman presented the following slate of officers and Reeve William C. Grant presided for the election as follows: Hon. president, Mrs. H. Stuart; past president, Mrs. H. Ketchum; president, Mrs. A. O'Donnell; vice-presidents, Arthur Kingdon, Stanley Burger, the Rev. A. J. Steed; secretary, Mrs. S. A. Grylls; treasurer, Miss E. Down; Well Babies Clinic, Mrs. R. New Career Opens For Former Sports Catoonist Ordained As Evangelist

By HOWARD C. HEYN

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Chuck Templeton says he doesn't know exactly how it happened. He was happy in his job as a sports cartoonist because his chief enthusiasms were athletics and drawing.

Yet, overnight, he became aware of a vastly different field of activity. In it he found a new career and, in due time, renown.

He is now Rev. Charles B. Templeton, at 38 an evangelist whose meetings have attracted hundreds of thousands in Canada, the United States, Mexico and Europe. He is the first evangelist ever engaged by the National Council of Churches of Christ in the United States. And he has just completed a country-wide series of television sermons which reached millions.

While visiting relatives here recently he recalled his days with the sports staff of the Toronto Globe and Mail, and the first stirrings of religious fervor which changed the course of his life.

OLD JOB NOT SATISFYING

"I certainly wasn't frustrated; I enjoyed my work tremendously," he said, "but one night when I got home I suddenly had a feeling that something was missing. My job was gratifying, but it wasn't satisfying in the deep sense of complete fulfillment.

"The first thing I knew I was down on my knees praying. Up to that time I could not recall any serious religious tendencies or needs."

This was only a beginning. But after that first prayer Templeton knew pretty much what he wanted to do. He became not only a religious man but a preacher—one of the most dynamic in the field today.

Templeton is a good-looking, candid and amiable man who does not dramatize his own sincerity. He has a special dislike for an awesome approach or unctuous manner.

In his present work for the National Council of Churches, which is interdenominational, he says the principal goal aside from evangelism is to inspire a strong community spirit among the various faiths.

"We do not seek union of the churches," he said. "Neither do we seek uniformity. We do seek unity—a common endeavor in the cause of Christianity.

Theologically, Templeton and the council are making an intellectual appeal "to put evangelism back in the heart of the church, where it belongs." His is the direct but unsensational approach.

"We feel that many excesses have been committed in the name of evangelism," he said. "In some cases the old-time methods have induced an emotional jag which, in my view, is not only confusing but harmful to those who respond."

Personal financial gain has been evident in some evangelical work, he said, and elimination of this fault is a primary concern of the council. No "love offerings" are ever collected at his meetings; Templeton is strictly on salary.

A Toronto newspaper man observed waggishly not long ago that his friend Chuck was just about the only member of the old Globe's sports staff who ever became an active Christian.

Templeton began by going to church, after his initial experience with prayer. He took part in youth meetings. Here his cartooning talent found new expression, and Templeton often went along as illustrator when the pastor conducted meetings near Toronto.

DISCOVERS ABILITY

"Then I discovered, to my surprise, that I could speak," he related. "I think it was because I was accustomed as an artist to seeing things in the whole. I found I could make pictures with words as well as with crayon or brush."

This was all part-time work, at first, on behalf of the Church of the Nazarene. But as his interest sharpened and his speaking ability improved he spent less time cartooning sports and more time studying an extension course in theology. Soon he was asked to address out-of-town meetings, sometimes in the United States.

One such meeting was in Stone Mills, N.Y., where he found only nine persons had braved a blizzard to hear him. But in 10 days his meetings there were attracting 400 persons a night. Shortly afterward he was ordained a Nazarene minister and became a full-time evangelist.

On a trip to Grand Rapids, Mich., in 1938, Templeton met Constance Orozco, a young soprano from California who also was doing evangelistic work. In two weeks they were engaged and in two months they were married. She still sings at his meetings and otherwise assists him.

When they returned to Toronto the Templetons took over a church which had been vacant for 14 years. They spent all their money on rent and repairs. But almost at once the meetings began to attract over-capacity audiences to the 1,200 seat edifice.

EVANGELIST.—Chuck Templeton, one-time sports cartoonist for the Toronto Globe and Mail, says he doesn't know exactly how he happened to turn to evangelism. He now is the Rev. Charles B. Templeton, 38, whose dynamic meetings have attracted hundreds of thousands in Canada, the United States, Mexico and Europe. He is the first evangelist ever engaged by the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.

Templeton spent seven years directing the Avenue Road Church in central Toronto and making evangelistic trips. But during that time he began to feel the lack of formal education, although he had read exhaustively. He wanted a degree. And he got it, at Princeton's theological seminary.

It wasn't easy; Templeton lacked the scholastic qualifications to enter. But President John Mackay allowed him to take comprehensive examinations, and Templeton satisfied all requirements. He continued his evangelism while at Princeton. When he got his bachelor's degree after three years he was engaged at once by the council of churches.

In the year and a half since then, Templeton has travelled almost constantly. "Home base," which is Wheaton, Ill., he seldom sees. He has been back and forth across the United States and in seven provinces of Canada.

SASKATOON MEETINGS

At Saskatoon his meetings drew 50,000 in two weeks. Largest crowds approximated 6,000, and as many as 2,000 were turned away from a single meeting. Attendance in Winnipeg was 11,000 and in Calgary 9,000.

Everywhere, he says, he has encountered "a terrific interest in matters of faith."

Riot Leaders To Be Moved

NORTH BAY (CP)—Col. Hedley Basher, Ontario's deputy minister of reform institutions, said Tuesday he expects ringleaders of last summer's Guelph reformatory riots who still are held here to be transferred to other institutions "before many months go by."

In a telephone interview from Toronto, he denied reports the authorities at the North Bay district jail are having trouble with the men, members of a group of 50 held responsible for the Guelph trouble. Only some of the men are in the jail here.

Col. Basher also said it is incorrect that North Bay guards are unduly concerned over the attitude or behavior of the former Guelph prisoners.

"Naturally they (the prisoners) don't like it there," he said. "They didn't like it at Guelph and we didn't expect them to like it at North Bay."

HALO OF ICE—Ice forms into a halo about the head of one of the 100 firemen battling the $1,000,000 fire which levelled a big business block at Collingwood, 70 miles north of Toronto. At least 10 stores were razed and firemen from every district within a 30-mile radius battled the blaze.

Dr. Jordan Says

Prompt Diagnosis, Treatment Often Rout Lobar Pneumonia

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, MD

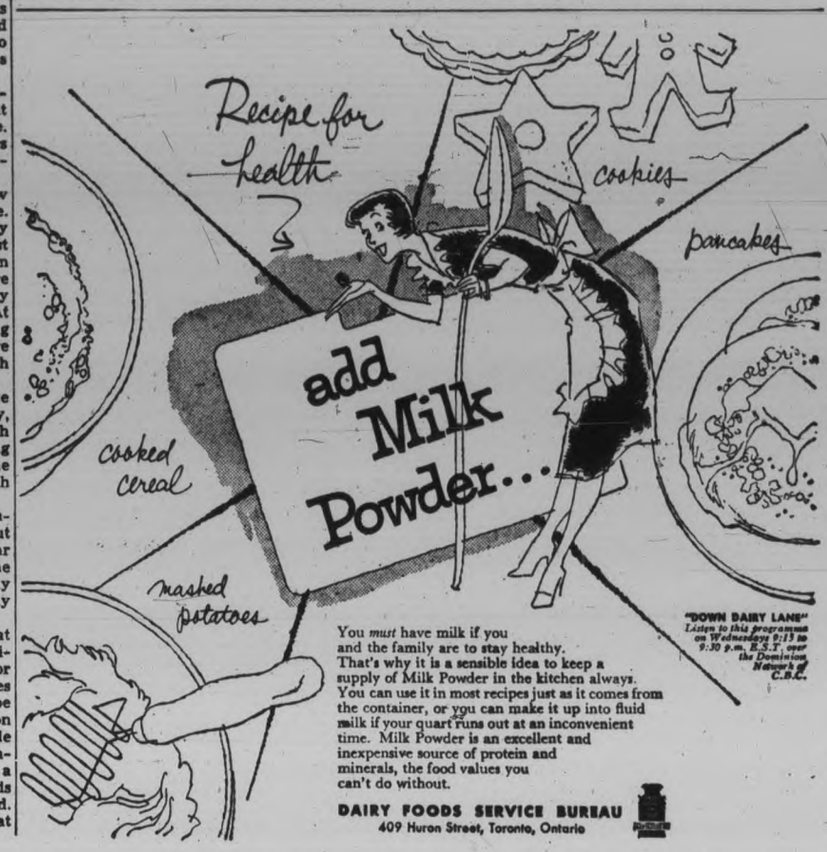
Perhaps there is nothing which so astonishes a physician who was in practice even as recently as 20 years ago as what has happened to lobar pneumonia. This formerly common infection of the lungs used to be known as the "old people's friend" because it so often proved an easy and painless final illness.

Today, lobar pneumonia is almost a rare disease, and when it does occur recovery is the rule. The speed with which this occurs is amazing to all those who remember what it used to be.

It is interesting, and even now important, to discuss this disease.

A typical case starts suddenly with a severe chill which may last for as long as half an hour. Soon after the chill, the temperature begins to go up and it rises rapidly to around 104 or 105 degrees. At the same time a person coming down with pneumonia may have general aches and pains with headache.

Pain in the chest or side like that which is present in pleurisy, is also common. Cough which produces pain, and does not bring up much mucus, starts early. The breathing becomes rapid and each breath is shallow.



These symptoms can be confused with other conditions, but are certainly suspicious of lobar pneumonia. Examination of the chest by a physician and especially taking an X-ray film generally bring a diagnosis early.

Unless steps are taken to treat the condition promptly, the typical signs develop by the second or third day. By this time cold sores around the lips are likely to be present, the facial expression shows anxiety, the pain in the side or chest is severe and the breathing is rapid. Cough brings up a fair amount of sputum which is likely to be tinged with blood. The temperature stays high, at 104 or 105 degrees.

PENICILLIN BRINGS RELIEF

Penicillin and its relatives almost always bring remarkable improvement in a short time. A quick fall in temperature and relief of the cough and pain occur promptly. The breathing becomes slow and normal and no longer is it necessary to wait for the crisis to know what the outcome will be.

Today there is only about one chance in 20 or 25 of dying from the disease instead of one chance in three. Lobar pneumonia has dropped from being one of the most important causes of death to being one of the least important of the major diseases

Lose Appeal On Extradition

TORONTO (CP)—Two Hamilton men charged with murder in the death Dec. 9 of a Buffalo jeweller were denied Tuesday an appeal against an extradition order granted Jan. 17.

Maurice O'Dell, 27, and Walter Griffin, 26, indicted by a Buffalo grand jury following the death of Donald F. Hurd, appealed for a writ of habeas corpus.

Buffalo police said the pair held up and shot Hurd as he stood behind his desk in the store.

A third man, Ralph J. Grubisch, about 30 and a native of Windsor, is sought by police in connection with the shooting and $40,000 robbery.

John G. White, counsel for Griffin, argued that the Ashburton treaty of 1842 between Canada and the United States is void because Canada has since attained sovereign statehood.

Mr. Justice W. F. Schroeder rejected Mr. White's argument. He said the Ashburton treaty is in full force and effect and there is nothing in the Statute of Westminster for a contention to the contrary.

Canadian Army Nurses Move Closer To The Front Line

By BILL BOSS

IN KOREA (By Mail)—(CP)—Canadian Army nursing sisters will shortly be serving closer to the Korean front line.

They are expected to be posted to the 25th Canadian field dressing station, in the general area of Tokchong, within a month. Tokchong is 25 miles north of Seoul.

Canadian nurses first were posted to Korea last September, when a reorganization of Commonwealth division medical facilities was begun by Col. G. L. Morgan Smith of Barrie, Ont., director of the division's medical services.

Morgan Smith moved the station out of Seoul and formed in its place a "communications zone hospital" with nurses attached from the Commonwealth Base General Hospital in Kure, Japan. The station was moved forward to undertake a greater share of the work from the immediate front.

Morgan Smith's reorganization has enabled the less-severely-injured and not-so-ill soldiers to be treated in Korea and returned directly to their units on recovery. Formerly most had to go back to Kure for treatment.

Surgery done at the Tokchong station is of the "elective" kind, the sort the soldier asks to have done, or is not obviously caused by enemy action—appendectomies, hernias and the like. Also treated there are casualties who have had surgery at a United States Army mobile surgical hospital and will have early recovery.

U.S. Army nurses throughout the war have served relatively close to the front.

Surgical nursing at the station has been done until now by nursing orderlies of the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps. Morgan Smith says they have done a "terrific" job but have borne "unfair responsibility." Post - operative nursing should be done by graduate nurses, trained for the job, freeing the orderlies for work in the medical wards.

Morgan Smith has argued that since the Korea set-up now is saving the hospital in Kure so much work it is only fair that a share of its resources should help bear the increased load in the field.

First step was the placing of nursing sisters, under Matron Capt. Elizabeth Pence of Winnipeg, in Seoul. Approval to move nurses forward to Tokchong is expected to be forthcoming.

First Canadian appointment likely will be Matron Pence, who will have a composite staff of British and Australian nursing sisters with her. To start with, four sisters will be posted.

Apart from the medical and manpower factors, says Morgan Smith, the nurses' presence would be good psychologically as an element in post-operative recovery.

Lakefield Church Reports Progress

LAKEFIELD (ENS). — A year of progress was shown by reports to the annual meeting of the Lakefield United Church held on Wednesday evening. Prior to the business meeting a congregational dinner was served by the Women's Association.

The Rev. W. H. Tonge was in the chair and opened the meeting with a short worship service. A report of the previous meeting was given by William Fairbairn.

The treasurer's report, given by George H. Spence, showed total receipts to be $7,337, and a balance of $405. Receipts for the renovation fund were $2,500. This fund had a deficit of $1,200, but most of it was wiped out at the meeting, and it is expected that the remainder will be taken care of during the coming week.

Contributions to the M. and M. fund have doubled within the last three years, reported J. A. Porter. Receipts for 1952 were $2,000.

The session report, given by W. H. Fife, showed 14 joining the church on profession of faith and six on transfer of membership. During the year 15 were transferred off the rolls and 13 deceased. Total membership was 511. Mr. Fife also reported for the trustee board that a bequest of $200 from the estate of the late W. A. Payne had been turned over to the treasurer and that necessary repairs had been made to the cistern in the manse and to chairs in Sunday School..

Mrs. Sandy Millage reported for the Women's Association, whose financial report showed total receipts to be $677 and a balance of $117. The Missionary and Service Club report, given by Mrs. W. H. Fife, showed total receipts to be $1,685, and a balance of $295. Mrs. P. H. Darling reported that the Women's Missionary Society had a membership of 25, although all were not active workers. Total receipts were $469.

Miss Jean Spence reported for the choir, whose financial report showed a balance of $8. Total receipts for the Sunday School general fund were $706 and for the M. and M. $300. The attendance had increased over the year and average was 120 per Sunday. Duplex envelopes were used and as a result contributions were greatly increased, Mrs. S. A. Grylls reported.

For the first time since its organization, the Mission Band has not only met its allocation, but has been able to donate $21 to the M. and M. fund, was the report given by leader, Mrs. George Carey. Total receipts were $104.

Mrs. W. H. Tonge, reporting for the CGIT, said the group had 35 members and had won the Chevron Award, which is the highest given this organization, and requires 75 per cent attendance at church and Sunday School by its members. Receipts were $93.

The majr project for the Young Adult Society is the production of its annual play, reported by Mrs. George Tanner. Receipts were $696.

The report of the pension fund showing $100 was paid, was received and Mr. Tonge gave a report for the Cubs, Scouts, and the Ding How boys. Mrs. C. S. Tanner and J. A. Porter were appointed representatives to Presbytery.

Highlighting the evening were the presentations of a Bible to G. H. Order Union Purge Itself Immediately

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The AFL executive council, in an unprecedented action. Tuesday ordered the crime-infested AFL Longshoremen's Union 'immediately' to purge itself of "racketeering, crime and corruption."

Failure of the Longshoremen's Union to place itself "above suspicion and completely free of all racketeering" by April 30 will bring a recommendation from the 15-man council to suspend the 60,000-man union from the big labor federation.

In a letter addressed "to the officers and members of the International Longshoremen's Association," the council said:

"Union representatives with criminal records can not be tolerated in any official capacity and they must be immediately removed from all positions of authority within your organization."

Meet On Narrow Road Two Cars Collide

CAMPBELLFORD— (ENS) — Two cars met on the narrow road between two bridges at Trent River on Highway 30 and skidded into each other. About $250 damage was done to the left front corner of both cars.

Horace Hogstetter, 20, RR 4, Campbellford, was driving north and J. J. Mantague, RR 3, Norwood, was going south. The headlights, grills and fenders of both cars took the shock of the impact. Constable Archie Eady of the Campbellford OPP detachment investigated.

Red Cross Girls Awarded Medal

TORONTO (CP)—Two Canadian Red Cross girls, Virginia Cook of Calgary and Sheila Douglas of Ottawa, have been awarded the Canadian Army's Korea Medal for service with the UN forces in the Far East. They are the first women civilians to receive the medal.

The Canadian Red Cross Society was notified of the awards Tuesday by the department of national defence.

Tankard Curlers Entertained At Dinner Party

A cocktail party and a banquet were given Tuesday evening at the Empress Hotel to entertain the curlers playing off here in the Ontario Ladies' Tankard. Sixteen rinks, who are the finalists in playdowns in eight sections of the province, commenced the first round Tuesday morning and went into the finals early this afternoon.

The 64 ladies in the finals were the guests of the Peterborough Ladies' Club for the evening and were welcomed by their president, Mrs. J. D. Fanning, and the president of the Ladies' Ontario Curling Association, Mrs. D. Hastings, of Midland. Only one Peterborough rink, skipped by Mrs. V. A. Selkirk, is in the finals, but a number of Peterborough members also attended. Voting representatives of clubs not in the playoffs were here for the dinner and the annual meeting which followed.

Head table guests with Mrs. Fanning and the LOCA executive members were Mrs. J. C. Green, of Peterborough, convener of the Tankard playoffs, and Mrs. R. G. Scott, of Lindsay, Mrs. R. H. Turner, of Peterborough, Mrs. W. F. Marshall, of London, and Mrs. S. C. Hall, of Kingston, the non-playing club representatives.

The cocktail party was under the convenership of Mrs. L. H. Bearne and Mrs. Russell Morgan was in charge of the dinner arrangements. A novel decoration on the head table, fitting the occasion so well, was a curling stone covered with heather and each diner wore a corsage of heather which accompanied the homespun pincushion place favors.

Mrs. Morgan had the curling stone flanked with lovely arrangements of roses and spring flowers and she decorated each dinner table with bouquets of daffodils. Places for each of the playing rinks were designated by silver "curling stone" cards.

The Searles instrumental trio, of Peterborough, entertained throughout the dinner hour.

Parkhill H & S Holds "Fun Nite"

The Parkhill Home and School Association held a "fun nite" Friday evening in the school with a crowd of about 100 parents participating. Euchre, bridge and bingo were played.

In the euchre the prize winners were Mrs. H. Wheeler, Mrs. W. Raine, Mr. W. Boyce, Mr. G. Hill and Mr. Harold Vollens. Bridge winers were Mr. and Mrs. Don Lamb, Mrs. J. C. Rowan and Mr. Len Hansler.

Awards of canned and packaged goods were given in the 'bingo' room. The bingo booth assistants were Marlow Banks, G. Porter and Art Fort.

Winers of door prizes were Mrs. M. Belch and Mrs. W. Boyce. Draw prizes were awarded to Mr. R. Parnell, Mrs. G. Porter, Mr. C. C. Butcher, Mr. H. J. Lemon and Mrs A. Clarke.

A lunch of doughnuts and coffee was served by Mrs. A. Lister and her committee.

LOCA Re-Elects Officers Changes Time Next Annual

Re-election of the 1952 executive of the Ladies' Ontario Curling Association, with the addition of a third vice-president, took place at the annual meeting in Peterborough Tuesday evening. Report of the nominating committee was read by Mrs. R. G. Scott of Lindsay and was immediately thereafter moved for adoption and seconded.

President Mrs. D. Hastings of Midland was elected president last year after becoming acting president in 1951 following the death of the president, Mrs. Medland. Mrs. D. A. F. Robinson of Toronto Ladies' Club and Mrs. V. A. Selkirk of Peterborough are the re-elected first and second vice-presidents and Mrs. J. R. McIntosh of Bobcaygeon is the new third vice-president. Mrs. E. H. Nicholson of Midland is the re-elected secretary-treasurer.

A somewhat lengthy business session was caused by notices of motion from four clubs which were voted on by secret ballot.

Peterborough Club's motion to have the annual meetings take place in Toronto during October was passed. A motion to enlarge the executive to take in a representative from each region set out for the holding of Ontario Tankard playdowns, and a motion that the amount allotted for regional playdowns be increased, both were passed. Defeated was a motion to reimburse in part the Hamilton Victoria Club which was hostess to last year's Tankard playoffs.

The invitation of Owen Sound Grey Granite Club to hold the 1954 Tankard playoffs was accepted. This club suggested the dates be the last Monday and Tuesday of January.

At this 40th annual meeting of the ladies' section of the association three new clubs were welcomed: Woodville, Georgetown, and Keene. It was noted that Grimsby has now formed a club and wishes to join. Forty-three clubs are now affiliated and registered membership in the LOCA stands at 2,512.

Minutes of the last annual meeting and of two special meetings held at Midland during the year were read.

The president remarked that the system of regional playdowns followed this year has created more interest in Tankard play since more rinks and more clubs are involved.

CENTRAL SCHOOL

Central Home and School Association meeting Monday evening opened with a short devotional period conducted by the president, Mrs. L. Horning.

After usual reports had been read, the Rev. Ivan C. Morgan, in a very interesting and informal way, sketched the nature of the religious education the children receive at school, and how it is presented to them. He also urged the parents to co-operate in this vital branch of their children's education by giving instruction in the home and by family attendance at Church Schools.

Mr. Morgan was thanked by Mrs. J. Callaghan.

A birthday cake flanked by yellow and mauve lighted tapers, made an attractive display to commemorate Founder's Night. Tribute was also paid the founder, Mrs. A. A. Courtice, by Mrs. L. Raper, who reviewed some of the outstanding points of past and present Home and School activities and concluded her remarks with the reading of the Home and School Creed.

Mrs. C. D. Munro delighted the audience with piano selections prior to the opening of the meeting, and again later while the annual collection for the Courtice Memorial Library Fund was being received.

Attendance prizes were won by the morning Kindergarten class in the Junior school and by Mr. Hagerman's class in the Senior school.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Wm. Guppy, Mrs. W. L. Miller, Mrs. W. Davidson, Mrs. D. Craig, Mrs. F. Sargent and Mrs S. J. Rowe.

Women To Blame For Runs Popping In Their Nylons

REGINA (CP)—A Canadian hosiery manufacturer's representative says that women who buy nylons are responsible for the belief that present-day nylons don't wear as well as those sold some years ago.

Patricia Quigley said the reason nylons pop runs more frequently today is because women don't use the correct hose for everyday wear.

"When nylons were first sold during the war, the 15-denier sheer nylon was only a dream in a test tube," said Miss Quigley who is visiting department stores in Western Canada.

"Women then wore 51-gauge, 30-denier nylons and they wore much better. Now we're trying to educate women to go back to wearing 30-denier hose for everyday, saving the sheer 15-denier type just for dress-up occasions."

Denier refers to the thickness of thread and gauge to the number of stitches in each square inch.

Canadian hosiery choices do not follow American ones, contrary to other fashion practices. In the United States, women like hosiery with light-colored seams and in shades that tend to coral and orange tones. In Canada women like dark seams and grey beige and taupe shades.

In Vancouver "where it rains," said Miss Quigley, women like dark-colored stockings. On the Prairies and in Eastern Canada where there is bright sunlight and snow, lighter shades are preferred.

A new stocking shade for spring has been designed to blend with the trend to pink hats and gloves. It's a pinky blush shade.

What's Right?

You take a group of teen-agers somewhere in your car and not one of them says "Thank you" when he gets out of the car.

WRONG: Conclude that all teen-agers must act like that, and don't worry about your own.

RIGHT: Impress on your own teen-agers the importance of thanking adults who go to the trouble to do things for them.

DOROTHY DIX:

Three Dates Weekly With Girl Not Enough

DEAR MISS DIX: Three months ago I was transferred from a position in my native city to one in this town about four hundred miles away. When I took over my new duties here, I met several women my age, 24, some of whom I dated until I met Peggy, upon whom my interest has centred for the past two months. I have dated her two or three times a week since, and am quite content to attend a movie or a ball game alone when I can't be with her. I know she isn't dating anyone else. We see each other at work, usually have lunch together, but for some reason I can't get her to consent to more than two or three nights a week dating. She lives with her mother and an older sister; I have a furnished apartment. I know I'm in love with her, but don't know how she feels. Should I tell her of my love? I don't want to do anything that will cause a break-up. I want to marry the girl, but don't want to do anything rash. NED N.

EXCELLENT PROSPECTS

ANSWER: Working up to a proposal after a friendship of two months is a bit precipitate, Ned. You have made terrific progress in a short time, and I do think it wise to remain in status quo for at least another month or two. Surely you can't expect the lady to be more responsive at this stage of your friendship, than she is! She gives you a very liberal share of her spare time, and quite probably has home duties that occupy most of the remainder. You certainly have nothing to worry about as to Peggy's feelings for you at present. From all indications she regards you, at least, as a very good friend, pleasant companion, and acceptable suitor. Can you ask for more? Wait a while, then tell her about your love for her and I'm sure the response will be all you wish. Best of luck!

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: What is your opinion of people who allow their daughter to go to her husband without a trousseau? There was no objection to the match, no lack of money since the daughter was sent through college, and she stepped into a home fully furnished by the groom. She, however, had to start buying clothes on her honeymoon, and had no linens at all. I'm sure the girl feels humiliated. She had not time to make her own money since she married the day after graduation. CATHY.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: The task of collecting a girl's trousseau is no longer the responsibility of the parents, as it was in time past. Today when most girls do work for a time before marriage, and when the high cost of living makes the education of a daughter quite a financial drain on the family budget, young people themselves have taken over the job of furnishing the required items for setting up housekeeping. The family of the girl to whom you refer (and I bet you're on the in-law side of the fence) undoubtedly did incur considerable expense in giving the daughter a college education — which is a much greater asset to bring to marriage than a few fripperies. Since the girl married immediately upon graduation, she certainly realized, as did her fiancee, that there would be no money earned for a trousseau. Certainly, she had no cause for humiliation at the lack of one.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a young girl, fairly attractive, living near an army base. I met a boy from the base and we dated each other quite some time. Then, I discovered he was already married. Now I'm uncertain whether to wait for him or not. He says he will get a divorce. TINA.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Wait if you like, but I assure you it will be a long, long long wait! You provided amusement and diversion for the young man while he was away from home, and his interest in you has by now ceased to exist. He'll make fools of other girls, just as he did of you, but always he'll go back to the wife and kiddies—as long as she'll have him.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Serve Peady's Beef Ragout On Special Menu

MID-WINTER SPECIAL
Peady's Beef Ragout
Fluffy Mashed Potatoes
Spinach or New Cabbage
Mid-Winter Salad (see notes)
White Fruit Cup Coffee.

DIRECTIONS:

This is especially adaptable for two kinds of cooks: Those with a wood or coal heated oven, and for the gal with the posh kitchen which boasts time-temperature controlled oven. Of course, all the folks in between can have it too, for we wouldn't discriminate.

The Beef Ragout requires three hours at 300 degrees Fahr. — a slow oven. My sister is a career girl. She made up this dish in the morning before going to the office, set the control to turn the oven on at 2:30 p.m. at 300 degrees Fahr. When she came home from work the lovely aroma of the Beef Ragout greeted her at the front door. She says it is as close as she will ever get to possessing a real live cook—and much more economical.

BEEF RAGOUT

To serve five people buy 1¼ or 1½ pounds stewing beef. Ask the butcher to give you a very small piece of beef suet. Render out the suet in the frying pan (or use butter or other fat) and add 1

New Secretary

Expansion of Peterborough, Mr. Forsyth added, must lead to plans for either enlarging the building, or providing new buildings to serve distant points in the city. Members of the Board were also thanked for their support by Mr. Forsyth. Bill McFarlane and Fraser Wade were also thanked for their co-operation.

Mayor Hugh Waddell was a special guest at the gathering. During the evening Mr. Forsyth was presented with a modern camera. He is an ardent camera fan and voiced appreciation for the gift.

OFFICERS ACCLAIMED

All officers were returned by acclamation during a brief business session — a nominating committee report being unanimously adopted. Six retiring directors were returned to the board.

Group reports presented during the evening gave a cross-section of many undertakings of the institution. Highlights included: an enrollment of 597 boys during the year; in addition to the leader corps in the physical department, a judo class and a business men's class has been added.

Memberships showed a healthy increase over the preceding year. Up to the present, 712 men are full members, together with 382 boys. Enrollment in 1950 was: men, 307; boys, 275. In addition, boys and young men are subsidized whenever the need arises.

Easter Home and School Conference. The postponed Fun Night is to take place on February 13. The treasurer was authorized to pay for the uniforms of the Boy Traffic Directors at the school crossing. A nominating committee was appointed consisting of Mrs. Hough, Mrs. R. Clifford and Mrs. G. Loken.

Mrs. V. E. R. Zufelt was in charge of the health program. Physical health was presented by Mrs. H. Lennox, and Mrs. H. Bent spoke on dental health. Mental health was covered by a film, "The Feeling of Hostility," which demonstrated how wrong attitudes in the home can permanently warp the outlook of a child. Mrs. C. Richmond spoke on spiritual health. She said: "Spiritual health is our heritage, and it is a basis for good mental and physical health. The Christian home is, first and foremost, an institution of love, where there is understanding between parent and child, and obedience of children to parents." She said, in effect, in the home where practical Christianity is practised and practical use made of the Bible, there is better judgment exercised and therefore better physical and mental health. "If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God," quoted Mrs. Richmond in conclusion.

In the social time following refreshments were served, with birthday cake to celebrate the birth of Home and School. Mrs. G. N. Earle and Mrs. S. H. Moyer poured tea, and serving were Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. Wilfred Wilson, Mrs. D. Hicks, Miss Jessie Lamb, Miss R. E. Brooks and Mrs. W. D. Weir.

takes they can afford to. And if they don't make a better showing at the next election they may well "have had it."

Mr. Faux said that the election figures indicated that G. K. Fraser has been "just squeezing in" each time. He called for a hard-working organization to put a Liberal in the Peterborough West seat for the first time since 1940.

Edward Fanjoy, a solicitor who recently settled in Peterborough after living in New Brunswick, said that the Canadian government is held in esteem throughout Europe.

PROUD OF GOVERNMENT

Norman Crook, another city solicitor, said he liked to make his political approach from the angle of Canadianism.

He said he was proud of the government's record "not because I'm a Liberal but because I'm a patriotic Canadian."

Mr. Swanston received loud cheers from the audience when he rose to speak. He too backed up the record of the Liberal government.

"They have outdone the socialists when it comes to social services," he said. "We can rest assured they will be returned."

Mr. Swanston said that the new executive was an excellent cross-section of the riding and he asked all party members to help them out in the coming campaign.

"It's like a game," he said. "If you're good enough you can win the game anywhere, anytime . . . There's going to be some fighting, but let's keep it clean."

Tolerance Marks Christian Life

Tolerance and forebearance mark the Christian way of life, Major Morgan Flannigan told a Salvation Army Men's Club in an address at the Salvation Army Temple.

Major Flannigan, a Salvation Army public relations officer, chose as his subject, "We stand on guard—or do we?"

Armed combat is not what the Christian means by "standing on guard," he said. "But tolerance and forebearance make the Christian way of living so real that the other faith (Communism) shall not be accepted."

Major Flannigan said that Canadians have to be on guard against "a sinister evil" which is Communism. He quoted a European missionary's definition of that ideology: "Something that moves like a London fog, slowly enveloping everybody until there is nothing but coldness and darkness."

"The Communists claim that they practice what Christianity professes," said Major Flannigan.

Major H. Gwynne Roberts introduced the guest speaker and he was thanked by R. G. Routly.

Ron Routly led the sing-song and three tenor solos were sung by Reg Peters. A committee of three — Alex Cumming, Ralph Braund and Alf Mills—were in charge of arrangements.

SISTER M. CORONA SULLIVAN

The death of Rev. Sister Corona Sullivan occurred recently at St. Joseph's Hospital, North Bay.

Ill-health had been the portion the past several years of this devoted religious teacher who had consecrated her life to the work of her Master in March, 1912, when she entered the Novitiate of the Sisters of St. Joseph at Peterborough. A gifted teacher, Sister Corona had spent the intervening years in the arduous duties of her profession. Her innate understanding of children and deep solicitude for their spiritual and material welfare, combined with her smiling unconcern of self, won their confidence and made her the unexcelled director who could with ease evoke and develop the best in the character formation of youth.

Sister Corona was born in Peterborough, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Matthew J. Sullivan. She was educated at Loretto Abbey, Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan.

Sister Corona taught in the parochial schools of Peterborough, North Bay, Sault Ste. Marie, and Sudbury. The countless pupils she trained so efficiently extol and bless her memory, acclaiming her as a pre-eminent mother of youth.

To mourn her loss, besides the sorrowing members of her Community are her brothers, Herbert Sullivan, Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, and R. J. Sullivan, Detroit, Mich., and three sisters, Mrs. Lenore Smith, San Souci, Mich., Mrs. E. J. Murray, Long Island, N.Y., Mrs. A. LaRoue, Miami, Fla.

Henry Murphy, PP, Holy Trinity Church, Sudbury, and Rev. Leonard Murphy, PP, St. Alphonsus Church, Callander. Most Rev. R. H. Dignan, DD, Bishop of Sault Ste. Marie, sang the Libera and pronounced the final benediction.

Honorary pallbearers comprised Sister M. Thomasina, Mother Assistant of the Community, Sister M. St. Camillus, Sister M. St. Agnes, Sister Alice Marie, Sister Hilary, Sister M. Faustina. The active pallbearers were Mr. Herbert Sullivan, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Mr. Anthony Colette, Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, Mr. Michael Notte, North Bay, Mr. David Coleman, Mr. Reginald MacNeil, and Mr. Roy Grenon, all of Sudbury.

Interment was in St. Mary's Cemetery, where Rev. Henry Murphy afficiated at the burial service.

Recognize Work Of Orville McCall

Recognition of the thorough work of Orville McCall, guide of school children at the Murray St. crossings of George and Water Streets, was expressed in a motion by Aldermen Graham and Burrows in council Monday night.

"I think we might ask Chief Constable Thompson to see if he has something else for Mr. McCall because he has done a wonderful job, and the youngsters all look up to him," Ald. Graham said.

Ald. H. T. Rehill remarked that a system that is being set up by Constable Don MacKay in which senior pupils are trained to act as crossing guides for their smaller companions is coming into effect.

Makes Bad Landing

PARIS (AP)— A United States Air Force C-47 plane cracked up while landing today at Orly airport but none of the 19 persons aboard was severely hurt. An air force spokesman said only a few of those aboard received "very minor injuries, mostly bruises."

Cold Spots Warm As Weather Plays Its Tricks

One of the most thankless tasks listed, particularly in winter, is the Weatherman's. Probably he likes to keep his identity secret, since he would be open to a good number of kind remarks. But weathermen, in the meteorological service, are trained men, and usually their prognostications are based on sound scientific data recorded for their daily forecasts. The weatherman, however, will sometimes admit he makes a mistake, but it is usually a local or regional one.

Unusually mild weather may be welcomed by hundreds of citizens, but to the weatherman it is not a phenomena—he can readily provide an explanation. A few technical terms are involved, but he generally can make sense.

A survey of the weather across Canada today provides a picture one would think could give a weatherman grey hairs—it's not in tradition. Winter usually means cold weather. The weatherman doesn't like forecasting cold weather; he's also human, but when he does he is usually right.

The weather picture overnight from the West Coast through to southern Ontario and eastern Canada has a few major surprises for the most hardened sourdough.

Look at Dawson, Yukon Territories, where prospectors use a pick axe to break ice for boiling their tea. Yesterday it blushingly recorded a low of six degrees below zero.

Running across the continent from east to west, Victoria, B.C.; that paradise for retired vice-admirals, generals and colonels, registered 40 above overnight, and a day maximum of 53.

Edmonton, a northern oil centre, and a great airfield, usually in the path of Arctic blizzards, recorded a low of 14 above, and a high of 32.

Regina, traditional blizzard belt centre of the prairies, last night came up with a low of 16, and a high of 27. One can readily believe RCMP constables, in training at the barracks, are shedding their huge buffalo coats and mocassins. It's a fair guess, though, that their comrades on northern patrol are still wearing them, and worrying about chip ice nicking the paws of their dog teams.

Winnipeg temperatures, for low and high, were 6 above and 16 above, Port Arthur, sitting right on the edge of Lake Superior, dreading off-lake winds, was only 6 below, and 24 above.

First award, however, goes to White River traditionally the coldest spot in Canada. The town registered a low of 11 above and a high of 24 above.

Other Ontario centres basking in the near-spring (keep your fingers crossed) temperatures, are, with overnight lows and high yesterday: Sault Ste. Marie, 12, 17; North Bay, 6, 17; Sudbury, 7 below, 17; Muskoka Airport, 3, 23; Windsor, 20, 30; London, 19, 30; Toronto, 14, 24; Ottawa, 10 below—lowest overnight in the Dominion. Perhaps it may influence Mr Abbott!, high for Ottawa, 14 above.

Saint John recorded 23, 28; and Halifax, 26 low, high Wednesday, 27.

Canadian Ensign To Be Flown At Coronation

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent indicated Tuesday that if any flag is flown for Canada in London at the Coronation in June it will be the Canadian ensign.

The Prime Minister was replying in the Commons to Stanley Knowles (CCF — Winnipeg North Centre) who said it is a shame Canada has no distinctive flag to distinguish her among the Commonwealth countries at the coronation.

He suggested that the Canadian ensign—a solid red flag with the Union Jack in the upper corner next to the staff, and the Canadian coat of arms in the fly—might be used. He noted that the ensign flew—apparently by government order—from the masthead of Parliament's Peace Tower.

CONFIRMS FLAG

The prime minister confirmed that the ensign flew from the Parliament Buildings by government order. It also flew from Canadian offices abroad.

Mr. Knowles suggested perhaps the government order is "wide enough" to use the flag at the Coronation.

Mr. St. Laurent did not make a direct reply. But he said the order is "wide enough" for the British government to cause the Canadian ensign to be flown "from the Dorchester Hotel in London whenever a Canadian delegation is being received."

Trustees Protest Amalgamation Plan

OTTAWA (CP)—The Ontario School Trustees Council has protested to Premier Frost over a report by the Ontario municipal board dealing with Toronto's application for amalgamation with certain adjacent municipalities.

In a letter to Mr. Frost, Charles Hulse of Ottawa, president of the trustees body, said his group "strenuously objects to the subordination of educational authorities" suggested in the municipal board's report.

The council reached its decisions at a meeting Jan. 31.

The metropolitan council recommended by the municipal board would administer many essential services in the 13 municipalities in the Greater Toronto area, such as water, sewage, transportation, hospital and road construction, education and housing.

Laughlin Estate Valued At $1,500,000

TORONTO (CP)—An estate valued at $1,500,000 was left by John Laughlin and his son, John, Jr., the two recluses who died two weeks ago from accidental gassing in their ramshackle home.

The Guarantee Trust Company, administrator of the estate, said $97,000 of the estate is in cash, including $24,000 found in a barrel in the basement. The rest of the fortune consists of 150 pieces of real estate.

After deduction of succession duties, the remainder of the estate probably will be divided among five brothers and sisters of the elder Laughlin, whose age has been put anywhere between 85 and 104.

Shortage Of Ministers Serious Problem

TORONTO (CP)—One of the most vital problems of the United Church in Canada today is the shortage of ministers, Dr. Harold Young of the church's board of colleges and students told members of Toronto's East Presbytery Tuesday.

"The number of recruits is barely filling our yearly loss," he said. "If the United Church doesn't get more students into its training schools, eventually there won't be a United Church."

Crushed By Bulldozer

WELLAND (CP)—Sam Simon Light, 42, of Niagara Falls when severely injured Tuesday when crushed beneath a bulldozer he was repairing. He suffered a crushed chest, abdominal injuries and possible fractured pelvis when the bulldozer shifted and pinned him to the ground at an Ontario hydro lines installation six miles north of here.

2 Die In Crash

REGINA (CP)—Two men were killed late Tuesday when their light plane crashed on the western outskirts of Regina. They were Daryl F. Petersen, implement dealer and contractor, and Sven Sondrol, farmer, both of Cabri, Sask. The plane came down in the back of a new housing area.

Frigates On Cruise

PEARL HARBOR (AP)—Two Canadian frigates arrived here Tuesday on a 35-day training cruise. The Beacon Hill, commanded by Lt.-Cmdr. J. W. McDowall, Victoria, and the Antigonish, Lt.-Cmdr. H. R. Beck, Toronto, will remain here until Thursday. Then they go to Hawaii for seven days.

LEGION SPEECH—President Dwight Eisenhower records his radio-television address for the American Legion's "Back to God" program. The actual show was done in New York, but the President made his speech from the White House.

Repercussions From Quebec

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Repercussions of the provincial election campaign were heard again Tuesday in the Quebec legislature.

Premier Duplessis demanded retraction of a charge made by the Liberals in a circular entitled "Millionaires in Seven Days" distributed in the Eastern townships during the campaign. The premier referred to it and the contents of newspaper advertisements concerning an exchange of woodlots.

He described the charge as "odious, vile and callous" and said the use of his name and those of three cabinet ministers "implied" they had profited by the transactions.

2 OTHERS OPEN

Two other legislatures opened Tuesday. The first session of the 23rd British Columbia legislature heard a promise in the speech from the throne for reforms in the province's liquor laws. The throne speech read at the opening of the fourth and probably last session of the 44th legislature in Nova Scotia foresaw a new market for the province's coal.

The charge Mr. Duplessis referred to concerned two transactions between two Eastern Townships residents and the lands department, involving exchange of woodlots already used by the owners for uncut lots.

He said the transactions were among "the best" ever made by the department but what had been particularly "odious" was the use in the circular of his name, and those of Lands Minister Bourque, Mines Minister French and Hon. Patrice Tardif, former minister without portfolio.

PAPERS RETRACT

Newspapers which had published the Liberal party advertisement had retracted and the opposition should now do so. Mr. Duplessis added that under previous Liberal governments in the province three times as much rich, forested territory was exchanged for "pillaged" woodlots.

The circular said used woodlots worth $3 an acre were exchanged for woodlots worth $200 an acre, but the Liberal house leader, George Marler said Tuesday he believed the amounts were exaggerated.

Mr. Duplessis said at a night gathering that Finance Minister Gagnon will probably bring the budget down Thursday.

The throne speech in the B. C. legislature, read by Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace, referred to the 3-to-2 vote in a plebiscite last summer for sale of liquor by the glass and the findings of a commission inquiry into the liquor problem.

No details on reforms were given in the speech, but it promised that "remedial measures" will be introduced.

DEVELOPMENT OF RESOURCES

The speech said the most important legislation will deal with development and expansion of natural resources and the highway system "without increasing the net debt of the province."

Lieutenant-Governor Fraser read the throne speech in the Nova Scotia house in his first legislature opening since succeeding J. A. D. McCurdy several months ago. It noted equipment is being installed at a low temperature carbonization plant in Stellarton to determine suitability of changing the province's bituminus coal into an economical, easily ignited coke.

Big Day for One Man

EXETER, England (CP)—It was a big day for Leslie Todd, an insurance executive. He received gifts from his old friends at the company's annual dinner and then won two prizes in a raffle. When he got home, he found his wife had given birth to twins.

Roseneath News

Mrs. Neil Myerscough, Brantford and Miss Helen Anne Clarke, Creighton Heights, were guests on Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon George.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Oliver, Hastings, were dinner guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Ray McCracken.

Mrs. Harold Mouncey spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mouncey, Cobourg.

More Grain Shipped

HALIFAX (CP)—Shipment of grain overseas from Halifax has been picking up, according to port manager J. R. Mitchell. Amongships loading here recently were vessels taking cargoes to the United Kingdom, Egypt and Pakistan, the last one being the third taking a grain cargo for Pakistan within a few days.

CBC Announces New Staff Appointments

OTTAWA (CP)—The CBC announced Tuesday night several executive staff appointments, involving changes in the program division and the completion of administrative organization in Ontario and Quebec.

General Manager J. A. Ouimet made the announcement in conjunction with a meeting of administrative officials here.

Charles Jennings, 42, of Toronto, formerly assistant director-general of programs, has been named director of programs.

This follows the recent promotion of E. L. Bushnell from director-general of programs to assistant general manager. Mr. Ouimet said Mr. Bushnell also will act as co-ordinator of television for the CBC.

OTHER PROMOTIONS

Marcel Ouimet, 38, of Montreal will move from director of the French network to assistant director of programs.

To complete regional organization, Rene P. Landry, 54, of Montreal has been appointed director for Quebec. He will be succeeded as director of personnel and administrative services by Marcel Carter, 38, of Montreal, now executive assistant to the general manager.

Garson Hints 1953 Election

OTTAWA (CP)—Justice Minister Garson strongly intimated Tuesday night that there will be a federal election this year.

He said in a free-time political broadcast over the CBC that "our Conservative friends are advocating that it is time for a change."

He added:

"May I say that this question is perhaps the most important question you will have to answer in 1953. The answer will have a great bearing upon you and your family and all other Canadians. It should have the most careful attention you can give it, for the wrong answer could be very costly indeed for Canada."

Oct. 5 and Oct. 12 are dates which have figured in speculation about a fall election this year.

Heavy Carrier

ILFRACOMBE, England (CP)—Coal-heaver Derek Davey, 25, carried 112 pounds of coal three miles uphill from the harbor to Mullacott Cross without stopping, then trotted home to collect a £1 bet from a colleague who said it couldn't be done.

Saskatchewan Members Attack Report Opposing Dam

OTTAWA (CP) — Prominent Saskatchewan members of three political parties — including a Liberal — Tuesday night criticized a royal commission's recommendation against damming the 1,000-mile - long South Saskatchewan river but split over the formal expression of their indignation.

John Diefenbaker (PC-Lake Centre) followed up a strong and at times bitter onslaught with a want-of-confidence motion "regretting" that the government's estimates of expenditures for the next fiscal year don't provide for the irrigation and power project.

Dr. E. A. McCusker (L-Regina), parliamentary assistant to Health Minister Martin, joined in criticisms of the commission report but said he wouldn't vote for the opposition motion because it would involve the life of the government.

PLAYING POLITICS

He accused Mr. Diefenbaker of "playing politics" by moving a motion which Saskatchewan Liberals could not support because it would mean the fall of the government. Mr. Diefenbaker denied the accusation.

Mr. Diefenbaker's motion came as an amendment to a government motion to study departmental estimates. Percy Wright (CCF-Melfort) followed it with another criticism of the report and with a sub-amendment which embraced the Conservative motion but added the words that the project was "recommended by the government's Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act engineers."

Butt of the attacks was a report by a commission headed by Thomas H. Hogg of Toronto, former head of the Ontario hydro commission, which said the project would cost $250,000,000 and said it would be an uneconomical venture at this time.

EXAGGERATE COSTS

Mr. Diefenbaker charged that the royal commission "exorbitantly" exaggerated the costs of the Saskatchewan dam and minimized and underestimated its potential economic benefits.

The commission had estimated the costs would be "fabulously higher" than the estimates of government PFRA engineers who favored the project. It had not studied the evidence of those engineers and from the evidence available the commission had weighed only that which was unfavorable.

The government should not consider itself bound by a report which was contrary to every other report on the project in the past.

Dr. McCusker criticized the commission report point by point. He, too, found it strange that the body did not take advantage of information at the disposal of the PFRA whose engineers were experts on the dam. The findings of the PFRA engineers were backed by prominent U.S. engineers.

As he went down the list of the commission findings, he described some of them as "entirely erroneous" and said the estimates of costs were "away up."

But he could not support the Diefenbaker motion because "I don't intend to precipitate an election by voting want of confidence in the government."

Queen's New Title Approved In Commons

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent said Tuesday that the Commonwealth of nations, with the Queen as its head, "is an effective instrument for the good of free mankind throughout the whole world."

It is a "magnificent thing," he said, that Commonwealth peoples across the globe can look upon each other as equals without regard to color or creed. That was the kind of unity, based on equality, which had welded Canada into a nation.

The prime minister spoke movingly of the significance of the British crown, of the Queen and her role in the Commonwealth, her distinct new designation as head of that Commonwealth and as "defender of the faith."

His address brought applause from all sides of the Commons as he spoke on a government bill to change the royal style and titles.

John Diefenbaker (PC — Lake Centre) said as the Commons listened to the prime minister it became "a cathedral of devotion to our history, our heritage and our common pursuit of freedom."

GIVEN APPROVAL

The bill—which was given final approval—is a result of the recent prime minister's conference in London, attended by Mr. St. Laurent. The conference agreed that each Commonwealth country use a title style for the Queen best suited to its own purposes but that designation of Her Majesty as "Head of the Commonwealth" be retained in all titles.

The bill adopts for Canada this title:

"Elizabeth the Second, by the grace of God of the United Kingdom, Canada and her other realms and territories Queen, Head of the Commonwealth, Defender of the Faith."

The previous style, unchanged since the Statute of Westminster in 1930, was:

"Her most excellent Majesty, Elizabeth the Second, by the grace of God, of Great Britain, Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the seas, Queen, Defender of the Faith."

ANOTHER LINK

The debate brought from Mr. Diefenbaker the suggestion that Canada inform the Queen that Canadians would like to see the Duke of Edinburgh designated as "Prince of the Commonwealth" as another link joining these countries in a common bond.

After approval of the bill members sang "God Save the Queen."

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said he welcomes the title changes and said Canada should officially proclaim Canadian citizenship for he Queen. The Queen has the loyalty and affection of the free world and embodied light and hope for enslaved peoples.

Municipalities Share In $250,254 Tax

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario municipalities will share in $250,254 through the Corporation Tax Act, according to an order-in-council made public Tuesday.

It is a portion of the provincial corporation tax on railways divided each year between municipalities on a per capita basis. This year's rate is five per cent.

The act allows for deduction by the province from any municipality's share of 10 cents per patient a day for indigents and for patients in Ontario mental hospitals.

Welland Bank Bandit Gives Himself Up

WELLAND (CP)—Harry Jallep, 26, sought since Dec. 5 on a warrant charging him with armed robbery of a caisse populaire (credit union) Branch, walked into a police station Tuesday and gave himself up.

Jallep, whose home is in Niagara Falls, told police he has been in Vancouver and now is penniless.

Two other Niagara Falls men, John Racicot, 25, and Edward Sorolowski, 26, were arrested soon after the robbery. Racicot was sentenced to four years and Sorolowski to seven years.

Jailed 15 Years For Manslaughter

TORONTO (CP)—Peter Siminow, Russian Army veteran, was sentenced Tuesday to 15 years in penitentiary when convicted of manslaughter in the death of Mrs. Helen Szalapata Nov. 22 last.

Siminow, 39, who asked to be hanged "as soon as possible" while testifying he struck the woman on the head with an ax, was originally charged with murder.

Chief Justice J. C. McRuer said Siminow was under the influence of liquor when he struck the woman with whom he had been living for three years.

Stalin Tightening Pressure On Jewish Folk In Ukraine

LONDON (Reuters) — Premier Stalin has put the heat on the Ukraine in his current drive against Jewish and "bourgeois" influence, press and radio reports from Moscow indicate.

A substantial purge of officialdom there seems under way. Several Ukrainian ministers have already been attacked for alleged failures and ineptitude.

The Ukraine, southern Soviet republic known as the granary of the U.S.S.R., together with its neighboring republic of By- Russia, contains a substantial proportion of the roughly 2,500,000 Jews in the Soviet Union. The Ukraine, with its population of more than 38,000,000 (1939 census) is the second biggest Soviet republic.

SOME NATIONALISM

Not only has Jewish influence always been strong in the Ukraine but there has often been evidence in the past of tendencies towards "nationalism." The Kremlin has tried to "sovietize" all Ukrainian culture.

Stalin, by putting the squeeze on "Zionist" and "bourgeois" influence in the Ukraine, may be trying to kill two birds with one stone —keeping the Jewish element firmly in check and suppressing "nationalist tendencies."

The latest public attack, in the local newspaper Pravda Ukraine Feb. 1, was on Justice Minister Panasiuk and his ministry and on lawyers said to have accepted bribes.

Earlier Trade Minister Zaporozhets, Food Minister Gritsiuk, Meat and Milk Minister Butenko and Local Industry Minister Gritsenko came under heavy fire for alleged failings.

MURDERED—Orbert D. Haugen, 38-year-old oil company executive was slain in a downtown Edmonton parking lot as he left his automobile on his way to work. Five shots were fired at him, two as he lay in the snow. A 25-year-old university student, Loran Sorum, found by police in a semi-conscious condition in a barricaded garage, has been charged with the murder. He will undergo mental tests before appearing in court next Saturday. Police are attempting to find a motive for the shooting.

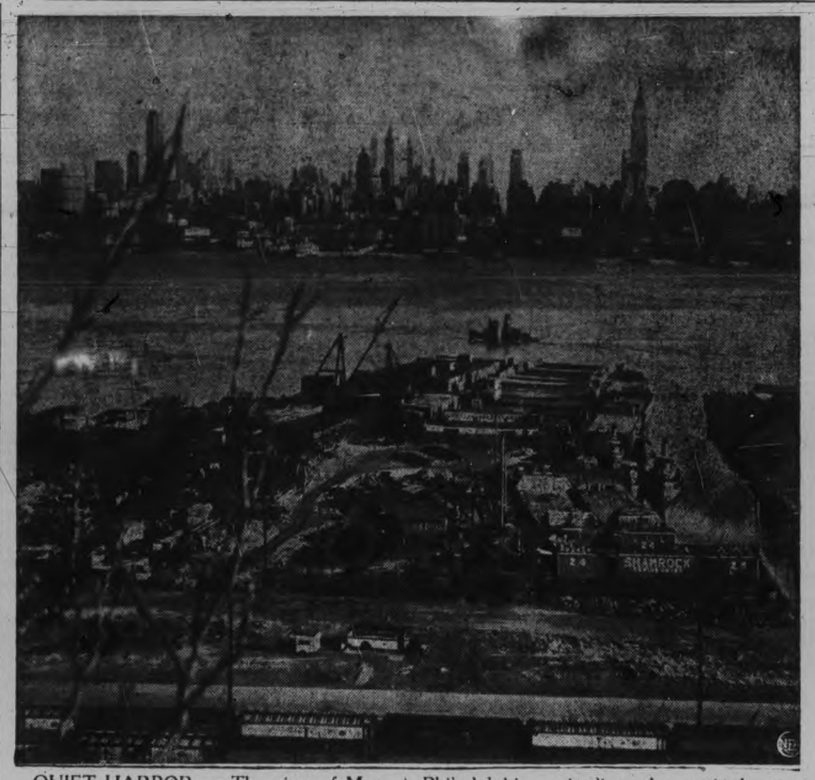
Maximum Pension Bill Will Be Delayed



OTTAWA (CP)—Labor Minister Gregg said in the Commons Tuesday that the government will not introduce at this session a bill to increase the maximum pension available to participants in the Dominion government annuity system.

He was replying to a question from Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre).

At the last session a bill was presented increasing to $2,400 a year from the present maximum of $1,200 the amount payable under the government annuity scheme. But the bill was not disposed of.

Teachers Accept Raise

HAMILTON (CP) — Hamilton secondary school teachers voted Tuesday to accept an offer of a salary increase of $200 across the board plus incorporation of the cost-of-living bonus, now $280, into the basic salary. The offer was made by the board of education and is subject to its final approval when it meets Feb. 12. The Teachers Federation originally asked for across-the-board increases of $800.

QUIET HARBOR — The view of Manhattan from Weehawken, N.J., shows tugboats lying idle, after some 4,000 tugboat workers went on strike in New York and Philadelphia, crippling the nation's two largest ports. The lone tug in operation belongs to a railroad which is not affected by the dispute.

WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

By G. E. GROOMBRIDGE

Word has been received from Provincial Headquarters that the work of choosing the boys for the Coronation is proving difficult in the fact that applications are more than treble the allotments and that an appeal for more spots was turned down. We have no word of any Peterborough boy being on the list.

FIELD DAY NOTE

Cooking a Twist can be lots of fun and the eating of your own cooking can also be rather grim but this is one of the Scout events at the Field Day. It will be held with patrols of three Scouts. They will be given a quantity of flour, salt, baking powder and water, some firewood and two matches. The first patrol to light fire and cook twist suitable to eat shall be declared the winner.

In the Cub section the first event will be a knot relay made up for teams of five boys. One boy will hold staff. The knots, first clove hitch tied around staff, next one will tie his rope to first with reef knot, third lad will attach his rope to second with sheet bend and the last boy will tie a bowline around his waist and take the strain to see that all ropes hold. This is very similar to the Elephant Hunt game.

ANNUAL PROVINCIAL MEET

Commissioners of the province will be holding a pow-wow March 7 in the Ontario Ladies' College at Whitby, according to notification received last weekend. It will also be the annual meeting of the Provincial Association and it is expected that members of all local associations, group committee officers will be invited to attend the afternoon sessions and annual banquet.

BRONZE ARROW

This award will be given to any Patrol Leader that attends and is successful in passing the tests of the patrol leader's indoor training course being held in Trinity School Hall on Friday and Saturday Feb. 20 and 21. If you have not already sent in your application, get in touch with your scouter at once.

UNIFORM EXCHANGE

This is just to remind you that the exchange will be open to receive, exchange or sell any part of the Cub, Scout, Brownie or Guide uniform on Thursday of this week in St. Pauls Sunday School. We want to see every boy and girl in Uniform for the May Celebration. This is your chance to help. Time from 3 to 4 p.m. date Thursday February 5th.

ST. JOHN'S

Friday evening was one of great activity in the Scout quarters as the Pack started off along the jungle trail with the presentation of badges, Leslie Crump receiving his artist badge, Gary Hamilton was awarded his 1st Star and George Boucher in a fitting ceremony had his 2nd Star inserted into his Cub Cap. Then came inspection and test work intermingled with games. We were sorry to learn that Baloo Don Searles will not be with us again, also that three members were unable to attend. For work the boys were divided into teams under Akela, Skipper G. and Mr. Trueman. Then at 8 o'clock the pack proceeded to the main hall forming the parade circle at the south-end of the Hall whilst the Troop stood in horseshoe formation at the north end. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Crump and Mrs. W. C. Dawson on hand to attend the Going up ceremony of their sons, Leslie Crump, Ken Collins and Bob Dawson renewed their Cub Promise prior to leaving the Pack and were then conducted by Akela off the Jungle Trail and were met by Scouter Fred Ford where the Scout Trail met. Scouter took the boys to the Troop and after formal introductions the boys were accepted into the Troop and their new Patrol. Tests completed, Leap frog —Joe Cunningham, Ralph Cunningham, Don Ross.

Ball throwing, Don Ross; time, Ralph Cunningham; message, Don Sherk; telephone, Tommy Lewis, Jamie Welsh; highway code, Tom Lewis, Ken McLaren, Jamie Welsh; knots, Bobby Yudin, Dennis Walton; first aider and house orderly, George Boucher; fire lighting, Tom Lewis, Jamie Welsh.

All Cubs, Scouts and parents are notified that a church parade is being planned for Sunday, Feb. 22 and annual parents and sons banquet being held Friday, Feb. 27. Notices will be mailed and tickets handed to boys within the next week.

2nd ARMOUR

The Pack enjoyed another evening of action, fun and progress following the opening grand howl by Blair Greenly. We were glad to welcome two new chums into the jungle in the persons of Randy Cummings and Glen Turkington. The game tight-rope walk caused lots of amusement together with practice of field day events. This, however, did not deter some of the boys from test work resulting in Joe Moncrief and Randy Bradshaw passing time-telling; Blair Greenly, birds and trees; Dave Pilley, collector; Wayne Miller, first aider; Ron James and Bill Bonney, artist.

Twenty-five boys reported on roll call in the troop and ASM Danny Barclay acted in te absence of Scouter Henry Nokes. Peter Hayden led in a game "windmill." Special attention was called to all boys to aim at securing full uniform in readiness for the May field day. A special first aid class was conducted by A. Rose. Jack Watson, Brian Truman and Peter Sanderson completed tests for signs and salute. Peter also passed first aid.

13th MARK ST.

Baloo took over the pack for the evening in the absence of Akela and invited as special guest Witty Thirnbeck, who so kindly assisted in the instruction of first aid and signalling. We gave a sound welcome to Wayne Ash, who came on transfer from St. Luke's pack where he has been attached for some time.

16th TRINITY

Mr. and Mrs. Shaw were special guests of the pack at the last meeting at which their son, Richard Shaw, was accepted into scouting at an investiture ceremony as a wolf cub. Some relay games were then run off, with the game, "man the ship" completing this steam-off period. Further steps were made in the jungle progress as Allen Smith chalked up another star for somersault; Kenny Sage, Bob Gibbons and Roy Bacon completed ball-throwing; Kenny Sage and Stanley Hood proved their ability in growing things; time-telling was marked up by Walter Whiteley, Roy Bacon, Michael Westbye; Walter Whiteley, and Roddy Milne passed in knot-tying; Roy Bacon also marked up leap-frog, hopping, posture and carriage, whilst Ralph McCullough displayed a real model for second star. Stanley Hood led the pack in the mouse howl.

17th ST. ALBAN'S

The Beaver Patrol was on special duty at the last meeting of the troop, in which the centre of training was given lashings, with the practice being the lashing of the tripod and flag staff in readiness for field day. Roy Wood proved his interest in signalling by passing the Morse code. Our game period was taken up with basketball in which the troop is showing a decided improvement. We are also looking forward to our first meeting in Kenner Collegiate. On Saturday, Assistant Scouter Max Hill, Guide Lieut. Mrs. Mildred Hill, Bagheera Reg. Stepson, Dick Taylor and Scouts Larry Griffen and Roy Wood met at the St. Alban's Mission to cut and split the wood recently brought in from Sandy Lake. With the aid of a drag saw loaned us by Mr. Bart Maskell, we were soon busy cutting logs into stove lengths, and to complete the contrast of the weather at Sandy Lake, we had to work in a continual drizzling rain. Larry Griffin proved very efficient as a wood-cutter, and by 4.30 p.m. a considerable amount was piled in the furnace room ready for use.

7th ST. PAUL'S

David Minty led the grand howl in which 23 members of the pack gathered around the council rock to witness the advent of another cub on the roster of the World Brotherhood of Scouting, for it was the occasion of the investiture of Ian Murray into the pack, Ian's dad being on hand to support his son in this step. We had another visitor also, in Mr. John Anderson, chairman of the group committee.

A great deal of time was taken up in the practice of field day events and "up the cubbing ladder," the display being put on at the annual banquet February 27. David Minty and Stan McBride were presented with proficiency badges recently earned, Dave receiving the house orderly and Stan his swimmer's badge. The 7th troop and pack will attend church parade at St. Andrew's Church Sunday morning Feb. 22.

Firm Grip Foils Thief

TORONTO (CP)—A firm grip foiled a thief's attempt Tuesday to snatch a $2,300 payroll from under a man's arm. G. M. Sutherland, secretary-treasurer of a box company, said he was returning from the bank with the payroll when he felt a tug on the envelope under his arm. He pressed his arm tightly against his side and the grip held. The corner of the envelope ripped, but only 25 cents was lost.

Hope Operation To Give Boy Normal Life

KINGSTON (CP)—A three-year-old boy kept alive on liquids since birth because of a dispalced stomach will be given a chance for a normal life.

Doctors said they will operate on Frederick Orton within two weeks to transfer the lad's stomach from his chest cavity to its normal position below the diaphragm. They said his gullet, which carries food from mouth to stomach, will have to be lengthened. Frederick is reported in good health.

At the time of the child's birth, the parents were living in Syracuse, N. Y. They have since moved to Ontario.

The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Orton of Lombardy, about 50 miles northeast of here, said when their child was born he couldn't eat and was fed small amounts of liquid intravenously every hour.

Syracuse doctors found the child suffered from stomach ulcers as well as a displaced stomach and a short oesophagus or gullet.

When the family moved to Lombardy, the boy's oesophagus swelled and closed the opening to a diameter of only an eighth of an inch. He was taken to Kingston General Hospital for observation and doctors decided to operate.

Satisfied U.S. Has No Aggressive Intentions – Eden

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden said today Britain is satisfied that the United States has no "aggressive intentions" in freeing Chiang Kai-shek's forces on Formosa for raids on the Communist Chinese mainland. Eden cautioned an anxious House of Commons against "reading into the President's statement anything more than it actually said." The British foreign secretary took the floor to answer Socialist concern that Eisenhower was egging Chiang on to attack the mainland at the risk of spreading the war in the Far East.

Eden stressed that he had talks only a few hours earlier with the United States secretary of state, John Foster Dulles.

Eden quoted Eisenhower's own words on deneutralising Formosa —"this order implies no aggressive intention on our part."

"Her Majesty's government," Eden said, "is convinced that that clearly states the American position."

Eden spoke after Herbert Morrison, foreign secretary in the old Labor government, had accused Eisenhower of egging on Chiang to attack the Chinese mainland. Morrison said there is a real risk of trouble involving U.S. forces, and that Britain could not help in that event.

Morrison had sharply attaeked President Eisenhower's "method" of putting in force the new American policy and insisted there was time for advance consultations with Britain.

He charged, too, that the Americans' "profound emotional hatred of Communism" was inclined to lead them into risky actions, rather than any love of Chiang Kai-shek.

CLOSER RELATIONSHIPS

Eden said the visit of Dulles and the U.S. mutual security administrator, Harold Stassen, was to set up close personal relationships between the Eisenhower administration and Britain.

"As a result of the close and cordial relations established at our first discussions we feel quite confident that we shall develop the type of collaboration which would make it impossible for any step which could have far-reaching internal reaction to be taken without our having an opportunity of expressing our views beforehand."

The debate got under way against a background of uneasiness—both among the people and in both

Planes Leave Dorval With Flood Aid

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Canadians today opened their purse strings as well as their hearts to the refugees of the flood-devasted areas of Britain and the Netherlands.

Campaigns to raise funds to buy the material assistance the thousands of homeless need are springing up across the country.

And at Montreal an airlift scheme has started to ferry the much-needed supplies to England and Holland where more than 2,000 are believed drowned.

Just what the flood victims need was answered by the Women's Voluntary Services, a British organization.

"There is practically nothing we could not use," Mrs. G. H. Dunbar, head of the Empire and foreign department of WVS, said. "I would ask people abroad to send us the products of their countries. Probably each country has something of its own manufacture it could send."

FIRST LOAD ON WAY

The first load of supplies left Montreal's Dorval airport Wednesday for the Netherlands in a Royal Dutch Airlines (KLM) plane. A Trans-Canada Air Lines North Star took off a few hours later.

The two planes, first of many to ferry vital supplies, carried 5,580 pounds of Red Cross supplies —boots, blankets and warm clothing.

Practically every commercial transatlantic flight from Canada to the flood-stricken regions will carry supplies. The supply pool at Dorval will be replenished with supplies arriving from cities across the country.

TCA will pick up Red Cross supplies at every Canadian centre their planes put down. All airlines operating transatlantic services are co-operating.

FUNDS ESTABLISHED

Funds to raise money for flood relief were established Wednesday in Ottawa, Toronto, Hamilton and Winnipeg. Board of control in Ottawa started its fund with a $1,000 contribution. In Toronto $1,000 was earmarked for Britain and $500 for the Netherlands from civic funds.

Through its overseas relief committee, the United Church of Canada sent $10,000 for the relief of

Massey Named Best Dressed

TORONTO (CP)—For the second year in succession, Governor-General Vincent Massey heads the list of Canada's 10 best dressed men, the Men's Fashion Council of Canada announced Wednesday night.

This year's judges were influenced by the "vice-regal simplicity" of Mr. Massey's wardrobe while in 1952 his selection was made on the basis of "gentlemanly restraint" in apparel.

Hon. Lester B. Pearson, external affairs minister, is second on the list. He was applauded as "the man who made Canada bow-tie conscious."

Hon. Paul Martin, QC, minister of national health, was voted into the select 10 as "fat man makes good." Mr. Martin recently slimmed from 200 to 160 pounds.

The "Maritime breeziness" of Hon. Harold Connolly, Nova Scotia's minister of health and welfare, won him mention while the "traditionalism" of Mr. Justice J. Keiller Mackay of the Ontario Supreme Court who wears kilts or street costume with equal distinction placed him fifth.

50 Girl Students Suffer Burns In Fire

LOWELL, Mass. (AP)—At least 50 girl students were burned, several seriously, when a two-alarm fire today swept the Lowell Teachers' College.

The fire followed the explosion of a workman's acetylene torch as he repaired stairs leading to the third floor.

First reports said the fire was believed under control.

The girls were in a third-floor classroom.

4 Airmen Die In Plane Crash

WINNIPEG (CP) — A twin-engined air force plane on a training flight from Winnipeg crashed and burned early today about 30 miles north of here and the four airmen aboard were killed.

The Beechcraft plane plunged to earth and caught fire two miles northwest of Gunton, Man., shortly after midnight.

Two of the bodies were thrown clear. Rescuers were unable to reach the other two because of the heat from the flames.

The RCMP reported the crash to RCAF officials here and an ambulance and a doctor were dispatched to the scene along with an air force fire truck. A Dr. Goodwin from Gunton was already standing by at the crash, but there was little anyone could do until the wreckage cooled.

He charged, too, that the Americans' "profound emotional hatred of Communism" was inclined to lead them into risky actions, rather than any love of Chiang Kai-shek.

Towers Urges U.S. Reduce Trade Barriers As Help

OTTAWA (CP) — Graham Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada, today urged the United States to reduce its trade barriers as a move to strengthen the free world.

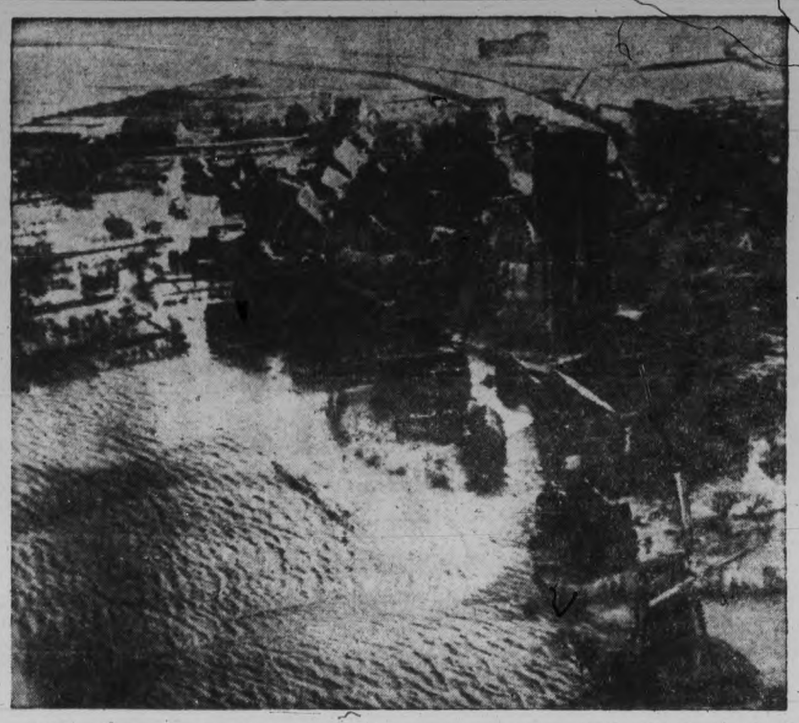
The head of Canada's banking system said sterling area countries may have to rely heavily on import restrictions and discrimination "if United States actions limit severely their chances of earning dollars by competing in the American market."

"Restrictions in the United States cannot fail to encourage restrictions elsewhere," he said in his annual 1952 report to Finance Minister Abbott tabled today in the Commons.

Reviewing the year's domestic and world financial developments, Mr. Towers' report stated:

1. Billion - dollar increases in spending both by consumers and by governments in Canada boosted national production of goods and services in 1952 to an all-time high of $23,000,000,000. This compared with $21,490,000,000 in 1951.

2. Wage increases in 1952, though not as large in dollar value as those of 1951, actually had greater purchasing power because of a drop in consumer prices.



3. Canada fared well in foreign trade, the value of the Canadian dollar jumping nearly five per cent. Import prices dropped 12 per cent but export prices slipped by only two per cent.

4. Consumer spending increased to $14,300,000,000 from $13,300,000,000 in 1951, while combined federal, provincial and municipal government spending on goods and services climbed to $4,200,000,000 from $3,200,000,000.

The world situation was not so bright. Seven years ago, he observed, the world set out to clear away trade restrictions and discriminations, and still the goal has not been reached.

"Indeed," he said, "restrictions on trade and payments are in many cases more rather than less severe than they were some years ago."

He made no direct references to the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference in London last December, but noted "encouraging signs" that some important countries are changing their approach to the restrictions problem.

THIS LATEST aerial view received from storm-lashed Europe shows the flooded town of Goerce in Zeeland Province, Holland. A windmill can be seen in the foreground while the town's Reformed Church is in centre. The salt-ravaged farmlands are in the background. The known death toll in the great disaster has passed the 1888 mark in stricken Britain, The Netherlands and Belgium and aid is pouring in to the injured and the homeless from all over the world.

Quick Union Price of US Aid

LONDON (AP)—John Foster Dulles left London by plane today for West Germany—the next stop on his lightning tour to convince Western Europe that quick armed union against possible Communist aggression is the price of continued big-scale American aid. The U.S. secretary of state told newspapermen at the airport that his brief visit to the British capital revealed basic accord in Anglo-American policies. In the West German capital, Dulles and the U.S. mutual security administrator, Harold Stassen, will tell Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and other leaders that the U.S. government expects positive action on the proposed one-uniform European army in 75 days.

Informants said Dulles set this time limit in his London talks Wednesday with Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and in previous conversations with French and Italian government chiefs.

DEADLINE APRIL 20

On this timetable, the deadline would be April 20—just three days before the foreign ministers of the North Atlantic treaty council hold their next meeting in Paris.

In a written statement given to reporters at the airport, Dulles said Britain and the United States "are in accord as to our basic aims of peace, security and economic well-being and stability."

"As regards the means of attaining the goal," he said, "our differences of opinion are very minor as compared with the large area of agreement."

Cost-Of-Living Continues To Decline In December

OTTAWA (CP)—Living costs continued to decline in December with the new consumer price index slipping by one-tenth of a point to 115.7 from 115.8, the Bureau of Statistics reported today. But the old cost-of-living index, soon to be abandoned as obsolete, showed a small upward trend, increasing by one-fifth of a point to 184.4 from 184.2. It was the first increase in this index after a continuous five-month decline.

The bureau has made the new consumer price index the official gauge of price changes. December's drop was the second consecutive monthly decline in this yardstick, based on 1949 prices equalling 100. In November, it declined by three-tenths of a point. The peak was 118.2 in December, 1951.

The old index, based on 1935-39 prices equalling 100, has dropped from its peak of 191.5 also reached in December, 1951.

DIVERGENT TRENDS

This is not the first time the two indexes have shown divergent trends. Several times in the past, the new index has gone one way and the old index the other.

The bureau explained the reason for this was that the new yardstick accounts for seasonal changes in food buying habits while the old index does not.

In December, the food sub-index in the new index continued to show a decline while in the old one, the sub-group increased.

The bureau said that generally eggs and oranges showed price drops while fresh vegetables and beef increased.

Rents increased, with the sub-index climbing to a new high. Coal, electricity and telephone rates were higher in some areas.

In the new index, the food sub-group dropped to 113.5 from 114.1, the second consecutive decline in this column. Shelter, which includes rents, climbed to 122.3 from 122.2.

The clothing column remained unchanged at 109.7, while the household operations sub - group rose to 116.5 from 116.1

In the old index, the food sub-group increased to 226.2 from 226.1; rents to 150.2 from 149.9; fuel and light to 153.9 from 152.7; homefurnishings and services to 196 from 195.3; miscellaneous to 148.9 from 148.8. Clothing slipped to 205.3 from 205.4.

Homes Flooded At Longueuil

MONTREAL (CP)—More than 200 families, forced to flee from their homes in suburban Longueuil and Ville Jacques Cartier, returned today as flood waters slowly receded.

Basements were still flooded and streets in some sections of the two communities, on the south shore of the St. Lawrence river, were covered by large sheets of ice. Big ice cakes, forced over the river banks by the fast-rising waters, dotted lawns and the shore.

Jules Brossard, police chief of Longueuil, said most of the ousted residents were back baling out basements and drying out damaged furniture. No one was injured in either community.

At its peak the water was 10 feet deep in low-lying areas. Damage was expected to be heavy.

Most of the residents had time to don heavy clothes and walk to safety. Some had to be taken from their homes in boats.

Canadian Mother, Son Drowned In Holland

GEORGETOWN (CP) — A Canadian mother and her baby son were drowned in the disastrous floods in The Netherlands. They are believed to be the first Canadian victims.

Word was received of the death of Mrs. Jack Vandervoort and her eight-month-old son Jack. Mrs. Vandervoort, who came to Canada with her husband three years ago, was visiting her parents at Stellndam near Rotterdam. She is survived by her husband and five children, two boys and three girls.

New Gaps In Seawalls Of Holland

3,000 More Stranded As Dikes Smashed, Call In Paratroopers

AMSTERDAM (CP)—A vast international flotilla of small boats and helicopters today evacuated thousands of flood-imperilled Dutch but more dike breaks raised new threats for thousands of homeless.

The death toll from hurricane and flood in The Netherlands reached 1,320, bringing the total in Britain and the Low Countries to 1,880.

Reliable but unconfirmed reports said the count of dead in The Netherlands alone will be approximately 2,000.

The small vessels were guided to the rescue spots by planes. The planes were aided by helicopters which have rescued 700 persons in The Netherlands in the last three days.

But four new breaks in the dikes at Schouwen-Duiveland Island in southwest Holland endangered nearly 3,000 stranded persons.

In Britain, great waves surged through a newly-built emergency wall at Mablethorpe, Lincolnshire, but police said the situation was under control.

FIGHT HEAVY SEAS

In the race against time to save the stranded at Schouwen-Duiveland Island, boats fought heavy seas and planes battled snow and wind to reach them before the next high tide late this afternoon.

A British amphibious boat was reported in distress near Zierikzee on the island and asking for immediate assistance.

Dutch parachute troops were ordered dropped into the surrounded dry parts of the flood area to help in rescue efforts and to direct parachute drops of relief supplies. Rescue officials set up a "flying windmill" helicopter airlift from Woensdrecht airport here to pick up people most in danger in stricken areas.

HELPING HOLLAND

Although Britain herself is staggering under heavy flood damage in the southeast, British troops and helicopters have been sent to help stricken Holland. Queen Juliana of The Netherlands sent her thanks to Britain's Queen Elizabeth II.

Two People Killed In Plant Explosion

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP) — Two persons were killed and two injured today in an explosion at the Welland Works of North American Cyanamid Limited here.

Names of the dead and injured were not immediately available.

The chemical firm's Welland Works, in Stamford township just outside the city, manufactures nitrates and explosives. It employs about 1,100 persons.

The company's main plant is in the city itself.

Abandon Search For U.K. Plane

HALIFAX (CP) — Weary search crews wrote finish today to their hunt for a missing British airliner, biggest problem in a tragic-studded weekend which apparently claimed the lives of 50 air travellers.

Although still without clues, the air force is continuing the hunt for a missing RCAF Lancaster and its nine crew members, missing in Labrador.

The Lanc disappeared while hunting for a United States civilian plane and its two occupants, also still missing. American craft are hunting for it.

More than 20 planes were scheduled to continue the hunt for the Lancaster today although rescue headquarters here said hopes of finding survivors were not great.

Three planes remained in the air Wednesday night trying to trace the source of a flare reported sighted in the general search area.

British Defences Withstand Waves In Second Storm

LONDON (Reuters)—Angry waves early today again broke over the Lincolnshire coast but it appeared that hastily shored-up English sea defences had withstood their greatest test since the weekend disaster. The winds whipped tide waters into the deserted streets of Mablethorpe and Sutton on the Lincolnshire coast.

Thousands of freshly-placed sandbags were washed away but an official said no further harm was done to persons or homes.

Near Kings Lynn, Norfolk, the River Ouse swept away a barge with 30 or 40 men of the RAF but grounded on flooded flat land and the party escaped without injury.

Kings Lynn itself escaped further trouble, though the tide rose higher than normal.

At Great Yarmouth, Norfolk, water seeped over the river banks in a few places but caused no harm.

Crowds lined river banks today as 60 RCAF volunteers worked with 250 RAF men on coastal defence precautions.

Wednesday night movie houses flashed a warning: "Abnormal high tide and gale expected tonight" but the high tide resulted in only occasional new breaches of sea and river defences. Rampant waters in the Great Yarmouth area have already claimed eight lives.

The RCAF's main task was filling and carrying sand-bags, laid principally in a railway embankment gap near low-lying marshland.

The 60 Canadian volunteers arrived Wednesday in buses and trucks from their base at North Luffenham, Rutland, some 50 miles inland and so far unmolested by flood or gales. They wore parkas and rubber boots as partial protection against damp and cold.

The Canadians are under command of Flt. Lt. Doug Cook of Montreal, engineering officer at North Luffenham.

Through the night thousands of troops and volunteers pressed on with the job of reinforcing Britain's shattered coast defences, with troops and volunteers working 10-hour shifts to plug the great holes that gape from the sea walls.

Rescue workers toiling night and day to recover flood victims estimated the total death roll of 265. This included 46 bodies recovered on Canvey Island, three more found in Essex and one in each of the three counties of Lincolnshire, Norfolk and Suffolk.

Man 102, Rescued From Flooded Island

BERGEN OP ZOOM, The Netherlands (AP) — Among the refugees who arrived here this morning from grievously-stricken Oude Tonge, on the island of Goeree-Overflakkee, was the town's oldest inhabitant, 102-year-old Busgier van Driel.

Still strong after his ordeal, he was brought here by boat. Once here, he was offered the best car available to take him to the evacuation centre in town, but he proudly refused to ride. He walked instead.

His house survived the floods but not the rescue. Planes dropping heavy crates of food literally bombarded his home, he said, and packages punched holes in the roof.

Among the refugees gathering at this centre was Oude Tonge's parish priest, who estimated that between 300 and 630 persons died in his town.

Noted Author Ben Williams Dies At Rink

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)— Ben Ames Williams, 63, author of more than 400 short stories and about 40 books, died of a heart attack on the Country Club rink Wednesday night while participating in a game of curling.

He was stricken and fell to the ice just as he had shot his last stone toward the mark.

Medical examiner Thomas P. Kendrick said the noted author died of coronary thrombosis. A friend of Williams' said he had been bothered with a heart ailment for some time.

Williams got his start as a writer by working six years as a reporter for the Boston American after his graduation from Dartmouth College in 1910.

Williams wrote 82 short stories before he sold his first one, "Wings of Lias," for $50 in 1914. Two years later, he gave up his newspaper job to devote full time to writing.

MADE BEST LISTS

In subsequent years, he was to crack the best-seller lists several times with historical novels. Among them were: "Come Spring," about the American revolution; "Thread of Scarlet," about the War of 1812; "House Divided," the American Civil War, and "Time of Peace," the Second World War.

A hard-working craftsman, Williams spent 20 years doing research and 4½ years in the actual writing before "House Divided" was completed. It was published in 1947 and remained at the top of most best-seller lists for months.

Two of the many historical novels he wrote, "The Strange Woman," and "Leave Her to Heaven," were made into successful movies.

His first novel, "Splendor," was published in 1927 after 56 weeks of writing.

His last is scheduled for publication next summer. It is titled "Unconquered," and is said to be a sequel to "House Divided."

Candy Taken Off U.K. Ration

LONDON (Reuters)—A hesitant food ministry endeared itself to the sticky-fisted generation by taking candy off the ration Wednesday. The kids were drooling.

It's the first time in 11 years that candy has been decontrolled except for a brief period in 1949.

The Labor government tried it then, but hastily clamped rationing back on four months later when it was found that nobody but the early birds got any.

The move falls in with Prime Minister Churchill's aim of freeing Britons from the shackles of the ration book. Eggs are expected to be freed about April 1, and there have been rumors that meat will follow early next year.

It has been known for weeks that candy would be decontrolled in time for the Coronation June 2, but no one expected it before April or May. The ration has been six ounces a week.

Manufacturers were quick to react with demands for extra sugar. One trade official estimated 30,000 tons above present allocations would be needed to meet the demand.

Eden And Butler To Visit Washington

LONDON (Reuters) — Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and the treasury chief, Richard Butler, will visit Washington early next month, the foreign office announced today.

Their visit will last a few days and will be devoted to economic talks based on the recent London conference of Commonwealth prime ministers.

The conference drafted plans for strengthening the pound sterling which require U. S. support if they are to succeed.

The announcement said Eden and Butler would have "an informal and exploratory exchange of views with members of the new U. S. administration on the matters discussed at the recent Commonwealth economic conference."

Eden will also attend the forthcoming United Nations' general assembly

Immigrants Assisted By Ottawa

Flood Area People Receive Help From Canadian Gov't

OTTAWA —(CP)— Canada will extend a welcome hand and financial assistance to United Kingdom and European flood victims anxious to come to this country.

Immigration Minister Harris announced in the Commons Wednesday that special treatment will be given to flood refugees in Britain, Belgium and Holland.

The Canadian government will loan them the money needed to reach new homes in this country. The assistance will be given to medically-fit immigrants and their families.

The assistance will be an extension of the government's assisted-passage program. Since 1951, the government has been financing the passage of some single workers and heads of families. They have been allowed up to two years to repay transportation loans from earnings in Canada.

TAKE ENTIRE FAMILIES

In the case of flood victims, the government will undertake to pay the passage of entire families. Terms for repayment may be extended.

Mr. Harris made no estimate of how many flood victims will take advantage of the government's offer. Many would want to remain where they are.

Canada admitted an estimated 40,000 immigrants from Britain last year. Approximately 20,000 came from The Netherlands and about 2,500 from Belgium.

Mr. Harris' announcement was made before members dealt with government legislation and resumed debate on opposition motions of non-confidence in the government.

The motions sponsored by John Diefenbaker (PC-Lake Centre) and Percy Wright (CCF-Melfort) criticized the government for not making provision in 1953-54 estimates for construction of the South Saskatchewan irrigation and power project.

Debate was adjourned by Agriculture Minister Gardiner and may not be resumed until some time next week.

GIVEN FINAL READING

Third and final reading was given to a bill providing for appointment of an associate minister of national defence. It was passed after the Progressive Conservatives made an unsuccessful last-ditch attempt to amend the legislation to make the second defence minister responsible for the air force.

Senate approval of the legislation now would clear the way for Hon. Ralph Campney, the Vancouver lawyer who is solicitor-general, to join with Defence Minister Claxton in running the defence program.

Third reading also was given to two government measures which will allow Canadian loan and trust companies to invest in securities of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development.

The measures, previously passed by the Senate, now await royal assent.

Currie Takes Responsibility For Change

OTTAWA (CP) — George S. Currie today took full responsibility for the most controversial change in his report on the army works services—one in which he abandoned a statement that people "at or near the top" in the defence department were indifferent to administration.

The Commons committee on defence expenditures pitched into the hot parts of his celebrated report after a long concentration on his recommendations for improving the works services.

The Progressive Conservative committee members didn't ask Mr. Currie a single question during his appearances today or Monday.

REFERRED TO MEMO

His attention was directed by chairman David Croll (L—Toronto Spadina) to a memo from Lt.-Gen. G. G. Simonds, chief of the general staff, in which the general asked whether certain criticisms by Mr. Currie referred to the army as a whole or simply to the works branch.

During this discussion Mr. Croll pointed out that it has been stated that Mr. Currie changed his criticism to make it apply to people "higher up" in the defence department rather than to "at or near the top."

Mr. Currie confirmed that he made this change because he felt this would be closer to the facts than his original wording.

He said there was no suggestion from the defence department "which checked the report before it was formally handed in—that he should make this change.

Foil Mayor's Attempt To Resign Position

ORILLIA (CP) — Mayor William Cramp attempted to resign Wednesday when his motion to have the town solicitor attend town council meetings was defeated at a special council meeting.

However, his effort was thwarted when council members quickly voted to adjourn the special gathering before he could act.

The meeting had been called to discuss cancellation of a dance to be sponsored by the Orillia Police Association. The mayor charged the funds raised were to be used by the police to fight for wage boosts and working revisions through arbitration. The council members contended the money was for work among the youth of the town.

U.N. Planes Attack 5,000-Ton Red Ship

SEOUL (AP) — Allied planes attacked a 5,000-ton Communist ship at Chinnampo on the Korean west coast today and blasted Red supply routes and front-line positions.

An F-80 Shooting Star jet pilot reported he scored two direct bomb hits on the Red vessel, ice-bound in the harbor. Chinnampo is the port for the North Korean capital, Pyongyang.

Allied pilots scored regularly against small Communist boats and junks off both Korean coasts. The 5,000-ton vessel was described by the air force as the biggest target.

The 8th army reported only light patrol activity, along the frozen, 155-mile battle front.

Holland Needs Outboard Motors

TORONTO (CP)—A Toronto paper says today in a dispatch from The Hague that a planeload of outboard motors "would be the greatest assistance Canada could give this storm-shattered nation."

The story, by the newspaper's editor-in-chief, Oakley Dalgleish, who stopped off in Holland en route home from a visit to South Africa, says the motors are needed to speed the work of evacuating families of Zeeland and South Holland.

MORE ABOUT—
New Gap

As fleets of boats and small planes rushed to the rescue through rough waters and sleet and snow, a new storm bore down on the flood-battered Dutch coast.

Schouwen-Duiveland already was four-fifths under water and some 5,000 of the island's 23,000 residents were not accounted for—many of them dead in their farmhouses.

High winds bearing down from the water-logged east coast of England threatened to hurl towering waves against the breached sea defences on the fifth day of the Dutch "battle of the dikes." Weather forecasts chilled hopes with predictions that more snow and hail would accompany the storm.

BRIEF RESPITE

Workers toiling in the disaster area to remove thousands of stranded homeless to safety had won at least a brief respite when the morning high tide came and went before the new storm could reach the coast.

Strong ocean currents hampered efforts to seal leaks in dikes. In spots, currents were sweeping sandbags aside almost as soon as they were pushed in place. Near Zierikzee, flying squads worked ceaselessly to fill seven gaps in protective walls—thus far without much success.

NEED BLANKETS

The Dutch Red Cross announced that it had already received sufficient donations of clothing to supply flood refugees and that no more would be needed. It added, however, that there still was a great need for blankets and mattresses.

Across the Dutch border near Antwerp, Belgium, a new gap opened in a dike in the Lillo area. The slowly-rising water cut the last road between that town and Antwerp.

Plans were being made to evacuate the last 1,000 inhabitants of Lillo. Nearly 500 others already have fled in the wake of last Sunday's storm, which killed two persons in the area.

In The Hague, where U. S. mutual security administration officials are conducting their own survey of damage to Holland's economy, the Dutch economic affairs ministry announced the country's industrial setup was virtually undamaged.

AGRICULTURAL SECTION

The ministry said there were almost no industrial plants in the disaster area—primarily an agricultural section. It added, however, that losses there would gravely affect the national economy as a whole.

Officials gave this picture of the situation on the flooded southwestern islands, which together constitute an important sector of Holland's fertile farmland:

Schouwen-Duiveland — four-fifths under water.

Tholen — one-third under water.

Noord Beveland one-eighth flooded.

St. Philipsland — All under water.

Goeree-Overflakkee — four-fifths under water.

South of the Scheldt estuary, in the mainland sector known as Seeuwslaanderen, nearly all gaps in the dikes have been fixed and the water is receding.

Beef Producers Seek Action To End Rustling

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario beef producers are attempting to rouse province-wide action against an outbreak of rustling which cost farmers an estimated $100,000 last summer.

County representatives to the convention of the Ontario Agricultural Council were asked Wednesday to form a committee which would solicit contributions from all countries to help pay rewards for the apprehension of rustlers.

The request was made by B. B. Warnica, president of the Ontario Beef Producers Association, who estimated that provincial police had investigated or were investigating theft of $30,000 worth of cattle.

TOTAL LOSS HIGH

Mr. Warnica said he believed that great numbers of stolen cattle had not been reported and he estimated the total loss would reach six figures.

He gave this picture:

The epidemic of rustling broke out in Elgin county last summer, but later spread to almost every part of southern Ontario.

Provincial police cracked what they believed to be a well-organized ring in Elgin county and one man has been convicted while five others face trial on cattle thievery charges.

In Carleton county, $5,000 worth of cattle were stolen in a brief period, some of them from stables. Kent county has offered a $500 reward for apprehension of cattle thieves.

Called Names, Hits Offender, Fined $5

Clifford Woodcock, 50, Fowler's Corners, was fined $5 and $5.50 costs by Magistrate W. R. Philp in police court today when he was convicted of assaulting Claire O'Brien, 251 Wilson street, last June 6 on Brock St. outside the government liquor store.

O'Brien said in evidence that Woodcock had come up behind him in the liquor store and slapped him and he had told Woodcock to leave him alone. He said that the accused then followed him out to his truck and struck him on the nose with his fist, knocking him to the ground.

Woodcock said that O'Brien had called him "everything he could call me" in the liquor store.

"The names he called you don't give you any license to go outside and hit him," the magistrate commented.

As in his Paris and Rome talks, Dulles was reported to have made it clear to the British government that unless progress is made on the six-country army project within the 75 days, the U. S. Congress may refuse to pour any more foreign aid into this part of the world.

The project—known as the European Defence Community — would unite troops from France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg into a fighting force under a single command.

NOT YET RATIFIED

None of the participating countries has yet ratified the EDC treaty, although Adenauer said Sunday the issue would be placed before his Parliament the week of March 9. The proposal faces the implacable political party in the country.

Britain does not plan to become a full member of the European army but has forwarded to EDC members a proposal for linking British units with the projected defence force in case of emergency.

Dulles is known to have urged even closer british o-operation with the plan.

Price Curbs Lifted Soon After Eisenhower Move

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's campaign to put the United States back on a free-market economy shifted today into a third phase-lifting of price controls on the things people buy. His latest step, taken Wednesday, was to knock out the defence production administration, mainstay of the Truman administration's industrial controls program. The agency's functions were turned over to the office of defence mobilization.

Dismissal notices went out the day before to all 2,000 or so employees of the federal boards which have controlled wages and salaries.

CONTROL ORDER

Soon, probably Thursday, a price official said, an order will be issued taking price controls off meat and a lot of other consumer items such as canned fish and canned meat, furniture and small electrical ware.

Within two weeks, the official said, a follow-up order will call off controls on such major appliances as stoves, refrigerators and washing machines.

The move is part of Eisenhower's program, revealed in his state of the union message to Congress Monday, to "eliminate controls in an orderly manner and to terminate special agencies no longer needed for this purpose."

Eisenhower said then he would seek the end of price-wage-materials controls, except for scarce items needed for defence, when authority for them expires April 30.

The chief effect of meat decontrol would be to free dealers from much record-keeping as well as from requirements to cut and grade meats according to government specifications. Little change in prices is expected since retail meat prices generally are well below ceilings.

Canada, 3 Other Countries Closer To Choosing Bullet

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada and three other countries have taken one more step towards agreement on a common bullet for their armie sand are considering what rifle to use at once after the bullet is chosen, an official statement said today.

The joint statement was issued in Canada, Britain and Belgium but not in the fourth country, the United States, a fact which may or may not have significance. A defence spokesman said Washington was informed the other three countries were issuing the release but decided against issuing it there.

The purpose of the statement was obscure but it disclosed that the four countries have agreed on the over-all length of the round—regardless of calibre.

It also indicated that Canada, the U. K. and Belgium are collaborating in developing one round while the U. S. works on one of its own. There are signs that the first three countries have largely come to agreement on a bullet whose main features were developed by Canada.

SIGNIFICANT STEPS

The four-country agreement on the length of the round was explained by officials as a significant step because it clears the way for development of differing rifles which could be rebored to use the common round, regardless of calibre.

In other words, knowing the length, the countries can go much further in developing a new rifle than they could if the length were indefinite. The rifles could differ in size and length and other characteristics and still use the same bullet.

Officials said Canada is beginning to think of a new rifle but that top priority has been given to the round. The thinking seems to be that Canada will modify someone else's rifle for her own use rather than develop a new one.

Belgium, not in on the original discussions about a common round, entered when it became an Atlantic pact matter. Belgians are rifle experts.

CALMED FEARS

Eden had told Dulles of the government's misgivings during Dulles' visit to London Wednesday.

Dulles was reported to have calmed British fears. Just before taking off for West Germany today he told reporters "our differences of opinion are very minor."

Eden himself indicated he was satisfied and said the talks "went well and we are pleased with them."

Morrison, who was deputy prime minister of the Labor government that recognized Communist China, blamed the U.S.' "profound emotional hatred of communism" for "leading them into courses which are somewhat exaggerated."

"The government of the U.S. ought not to be under any illusion as to British public opinion about (a U.S.-China conflict) if it arises," he said.

Actress Plans Give Up Films To Become Nun

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress June Haver turned her back on movie-land today for the life of a nun.

The 26-year-old blonde dancing star whose salary rose to $3,500 a week but whose career also brought her personal tragedy, ended months of rumors about her intentions by issuing a statement Wednesday night.

Without disclosing her whereabouts, nor where and when she will enter a convent, Miss Haver telephoned the statement to her studio and asked that it be made public. It said:

"I am going away to prepare myself, by several years of prayer and study, for something I have been contemplating for the last two years. I am determined to be a Sister of Charity, with the grace of God and the approval of His church, and to consecrate my life to the service of God in His sick and in His children.

NEEDS PREPARATION

"To do this will take more ability than I have. That is why I am going to prepare myself in a novitiate of work and prayer. If at the end of my two years of preparation, my religious superiors judge that I am able to do this, I shall consecrate myself by vow to this kind of life. . . ."

Miss Haver sold her home a year ago and recently auctioned her possessions, closed her apartment and moved in with her mother, Mrs. Marie Ottestad. She has terminated her nine-year association with 20th Century-Fox studio, her most recent contract running to Feb. 20.

She finished her last picture, "The Girl Next Door," a musical comedy with Dan Dailey, last November and has done no movie work since. The picture is yet to be released.

Born June Stovenour in Rock Island, Ill., Miss Haver came to Beverly Hills, Calif., as a youngster. She sang with Ted Fio Rito's band, then went into the movies in 1944 at $75 a week.

But as her movie star ascended, tragedy clouded her life. In 1947 she eloped with Jimmy Zito, swing band trumpeter. Later they were married in the Roman Catholic Church. But the marriage ended in divorce a few months later.

She resumed an old friendship with a dentist, Dr. John Duzik, and they planned to marry, but he died after a short illness in October, 1949.

High Costs May Shut Down British Columbia Hospital

VANCOUVER (CP) — The high cost of healing the sick is threatening to close at least one British Columbia hospital. Others face a similar problem.

The North Vancouver General Hospital, civic-owned and seventh largest in B. C., has threatened to dismiss its staff and close its doors unless the government increases its financial aid or its employees drop demands for higher pay and shorter working hours.

The hospital's position turns a hot spotlight on the provincial government's compulsory hospital insurance service, which since its introduction in 1949 has checked hospital budgets in B. C. and then decided on the rates it will pay each one.

Last year the insurance service increased its payments to hospitals with higher budgets. But this year, in an announcement last Dec. 1 by Health Minister Eric Martin, the hospitals learned they would have to get by with the same amount as last year.

JUST WON'T WORK

Said the North Vancouver General: it just won't work.

And to give weight to its argument, it has announced that after next Tuesday, no new patients will be admitted and the 140 persons now under its care must leave by Feb. 27. Most hospital workers have already been notified they will be out of a job Feb. 28.

The hospital is not the only one in B. C. to threaten drastic action because of increasing deficits. The board of Revelstoke's Queen Victoria Hospital meets this month to consider handing over the hospital to the government and the Enderby Hospital in the interior may soon close.

In his announcement, the Social Credit health minister said:

"The government feels that the cost of hospitalization in B. C. is accelerating at a pace which is beyond the means of the people to support."

He added that the daily rate "should be decreased wherever possible."

Under current regulations, the insurance service pays the public ward rate and patients, in addition to their insurance premiums, pay $1 a day to the hospital for every day they spend there. Thus the North Vancouver General receives $13.50 daily for each insured patient.

Since his announcement of the rate freeze, Mr. Martin has met with the B. C. Hospitals Association. The meeting apparently solved nothing.

Pressure on the freshman Social Credit government has also come from the Hospital Employees Federal Union. Speaking for its hospital workers, it urged the cabinet to permit hospitals to increase their budgets when wage increases are granted through negotiation or arbitration.

The crisis was reached in North Vancouver when hospital engineers represented by the International Union of Operating Engineers (TLC), and registered nurses submitted their contract demands.

Both groups have demanded a 40-hour week and other concessions which hospital trustees say would cost an additional $72,000 this year. Negotiations are continuing with the nurses. The engineers have already voted in favor of strike action.

The hospital says in a final hope that a shutdown can be avoided, it is attempting to arrange a meeting between a two-man hospital delegation and the health minister. There was no word immediately when or if the meeting will be held.

Makes Protest

ROME (AP)—Italian Communist boss Palmiro Togliatti demanded Wednesday night that the government protest to the United States against President Eisenhower's decision to deneutralize the island of Formosa. Declaring the move "opened a new war front against the Chinese People's Republic and aggravated the international situation," Togliatti put his demand in the form of a parliamentary question to Premier Alcide de Gasperi, who almost certainly will reject it.

Hitch-Hiking Priest Marks 99th Birthday In Northland

SPANISH, Ont. (CP)—Rev. Joseph Richard, the hitch-hiking priest of Algoma, marks his 99th birthday Feb. 6, still in the service of the Roman Catholic Church. His greatest wish now is to reach the century mark.

Father Richard has put behind him 60-odd years of living devoted to the rugged Algoma bush country. Now, although he has long since lost his sight, he continues to perform in whatever capacity he can in the school at Spanish, 85 miles east of Sault Ste. Marie.

Since his ordination as a priest in 1886, he has filled some 60 posts through the district, offering spiritual comfort to Indians and whites alike.

His long career in the Northern Ontario bush led to many nicknames, such as the "Grand Old Man of the North," but the one which is favored most by his many friends is the "hitch-hiking priest."

This stems from one of his most dependable modes of travel during his wandering days in the parishes. Where no highways existed he travelled by dogsled or boat, but his friendly wave on the backwoods roads brought many a teamster's wagon to a halt to offer him a lift.

Father Richard's accomplishments are many. He is responsible for construction of churches in Algoma at Cutler, Mississagi, Lesable, Sagomok, Cockburn Island, Hilton Beach, White Sands at Michipicoten Harbor, West Bay and Gros Cap.

When the gradual loss of is sight became apparent many years ago, he developed a Braille system of his own, teaching the Indian language with the use of tooled blocks.

The small, silver-haired priest was the second-oldest of 17 children. In his teens he studied Greek and Latin and entered L'Assumption College when he was 17. He entered the Jesuit novitiate in 1878 at Sault au Recollet.

IN NORTHERN POSTS

Two years were spent teaching in Montreal and Sault Ste. Marie, and then he was sent to Wikwemikong on Manitoulin Island. Later he studied theology and was ordained in 1886.

His first post was at Garden River, just east of Sault Ste. Marie. He served there from 1886 to 1892 and then began a career of missionary work throughout the northern part of the province.

In 1894 he was made a superior at Wikwemikong, but illness caused by overwork brought a temporary halt to his career. He returned to Garden River and the Sault before semi-retirement was forced upon him in 1921 by failing eyesight.

Father Richard's formula for longevity, which has served him well thus far, is moderation.

"Never eat until you are satisfied," he said. "But always get up from the table feeling as if you could eat more."

Skilled Trade Or Learned Profession?

In the President's Report for 1952, from the University of Toronto, Dr. Sidney Smith sharply attacks the method of legal training which is still insisted upon in Ontario by the Law Society of Upper Canada. This body will not recognize as sufficient, legal training which it has not dispensed at its professional school, Osgoode Hall. Dr. Smith points out that law has been taught at the University of Toronto since 1887, and that in 1949 the School of Law was extensively reorganized and strengthened; its graduates are recognized in every part of Canada save in Ontario. Dr. Smith's argument is that Osgoode Hall gives too narrow an education to make a first-rate lawyer, and that "it smacks of training for a skilled trade rather than education for a learned profession." In a field where language is moderate, not to say pussyfooting, this is tough talk.

* * *

The matter is one of public concern, for it is in the public interest that our lawyers should be as well qualified for their great work as possible. We must be impressed by Dr. Smith's protest against law instruction in "an isolated institution," as if, he says, "law were something by and for itself rather than part of the universitas of human knowledge, and the expression of human wisdom." Law, as Dr. Smith says, "is rooted in antiquity and is a vital and pervasive ingredient of our cultural heritage." Physicians have long recognized that technical training alone cannot make a good doctor; he must be a man of general cultivation and with that understanding of humanity which higher education is supposed to impart. We think that this is at least as true of lawyers as it is of doctors. When the Benchers of the Law Society insist that they hold the final key to legal knowledge, they lay themselves open to charges of monopolism. It is, in fact, as though physicians still retained their eighteenth century method of qualification by apprenticeship.

* * *

The responsibility now seems to be on the Law Society to justify its anti-university stand. The law school at the university has been going ahead during the past few years; a very large grant from the impartial Carnegie Corporation, in order that studies in comparative law may be undertaken attests to the regard in which this institution is held. But Osgoode Hall has shown no signs of advance; indeed, recent disturbances there have suggested a contrary movement. After what Dr. Smith has said, the Law Society will have to do some pleading on its own behalf, or it will lose countenance with the province as a whole.

Quebec Changes Its Election Act

Provinces change their election acts from time to time to adjust them to new conditions. Quebec is making such changes, but some of the terms of the new bill are so different as to change the complexion of the Act and indeed of electoral principles. Premier Duplessis has said that "the present law will prove so good in a not distant future that the Opposition will be red with shame". He was referring to Opposition protests that "it will establish some revolting principles", is "extremely dangerous", and "will spell the death knell to democratic procedures in the Province of Quebec". The 98 articles of the new Election Act were adopted by a straight party vote, after the longest and stiffest debate in the Quebec Legislature in the last five years.

Time will show whether the Bill's proponents or opponents are right. It is likely to make election precedures more efficient. At the same time it gives the government in power more control, the Opposition less, and reduces electors' rights of redress from the decisions of Returning Offiters.

The articles to which the Opposition most strenuously objected were, first, reducing the enumerators from two to one in urban polling subdivisions; second protecting election officers from court of review; third, requiring that a would-be voter not of Canadian birth prove his Canadian citizenship.

The practice in Ontario, and formerly in Quebec, was for two enumerators to work together in collecting names for voters' lists. One enumerator is a nominee of the party in power, the other of the official Opposition. One could check the other's errors or omissions. Thus a whole street, known to favour one party or the other, was not likely to be missed. The Quebec Opposition say that with single enumerators the Government has undue patronage, and its nominee as enumerator might "forget" an entire street, to the disadvantage of the party in opposition.

The clause protecting enumerators and Returning Officers and all elections officials from court summons to justify their actions might mean, Opposition critics say, that voters left off the lists have no redress, no way of compelling Returning Officers to correct mistakes. Returning Officers are usually appointees of the party in power.

The leader of the Quebec Opposition was most censorious of the clause which gives revisors power to reject potential electors from the voters' lists on the grounds that they cannot produce a certificate of naturalization or citizenship. On the surface this clause seems a sensible precaution. However, it could exclude many otherwise qualified voters. For instance, an English person who has lived in this country for twenty-five years is a Canadian citizen automatically. He might never think it necessary to get proof of citizenship from the Minister of State. Yet, under the new law, his name could be excluded from the voters' list without the paper proof.

Ontario changed its election act last year and made some of the provisions more, not less, easy for voters. For instance, if a legitimate voter's name has inadvertently been left of the electoral lists, all he need do is to appear at the poll with a friend to identify him, and there and then be sworn in as a qualified voter.

There seems to be some substance to the Opposition's claim that clauses in the new Quebec election act put parties in opposition and the electors under the thumb of the party in power even at election time. The party in power is Premier Duplessis' National Union, which, to some people, is the most nationalistic, conservative and illiberal governing party that Quebec has ever had.

Mr. Claxton's Burden

During the war Canada has three defence ministers: army, navy and air. Since the war and because of the need for unifying the services for combined operation of them, there has been one Minister of National Defence. He is the Hon. Brooke Claxton.

For more than six years Mr. Claxton has carried the Department alone. In the last three its affairs have increased beyond all previous peace-time recognition. The Department of National Defence is alone spending half the national revenue—a rate equal to half the total annual expenditure in the biggest war years. The Minister's problems are now more involved than they were during the war. In wartime the course of strategy and expenditure was set without many political and international problems for Canada—it was dictated by the enemy and dealt with by a Grand Alliance headed by great military and state leaders. In today's peacetime, the course is not charted, the end not in view. Mr. Claxton has had extraordinary responsibilities and extraordinary demands on him as Member of Parliament, cabinet minister, and director of the vast expansion of the defence effort. He has been our voice in many international councils of the new network of post-war creation. Mr. Claxton has been obviously over-burdened.

Just before Christmas, he was given by Parliamentary legislation an assistant, the new Associate Minister of Defence, the Hon. R. O. Campney. Mr. Campney is to work with Mr. Claxton and to be acting Minister when Mr. Claxton is absent from the country at one of the many NATO, Commonwealth of European conferences he must attend when the defence of the West and the use of Canadian troops and military equipment is involved. Mr. Campney is not designated to head one of the three services. Present methods of combined operations make inadvisable the wartime pattern of separate Ministers for army, navy and air. Canada has the unity now; it would be inadvisable to go back to the separation which the United States had so much trouble doing away with in its services.

Explanations In Order

President Eisenhower said that there is no aggressive intention behind the order removing the American fleet buffer between Mao's China and Chiang Kai-shek's Formosa. Britain's Foreign Secretary has said that the new policy will have "very unfortunate political repercussions without compensating military advantages." It is a suave diplomatic statement covering a real anxiety which many non-Americans feel. The policy could be a negative instrument by which the Korean war is extended into China proper.

The new American Secretary of State is now visiting various European capitals, to find out for himself what foreign chancelleries think. He will also be asked for explanations of new American policies. The welcoming mat was laid out for him yesterday in London. Judging from British reports, Mr. Dulles was on the mat, with Mr. Eden as the questioner.

Mr. Dulles might be asked to explain, among other things, how the Presidential affirmation of "no aggressive intentions" conforms with the Arkansas senator's request to Congress that the U.S. supply planes to the Formosa Chinese nationalists so that they may bomb China.

THE AMERICAN SCENE

Ighats and Quaker Oats

By KENNETH HARRIS

THE new British Ambassador in Washington, Sir Roger Makins, made his first appearance as far as the people of the United States are concerned when he made a speech at the National Press Club here yesterday.

Speeches by distinguished foreign visitors at the National Press Club are important events. The speech which a visiting Prime Minister or Foreign Secretary makes there is often more important than the one which he makes to Congress. For sitting around the tables are usually two or three hundred correspondents representing newspapers located all over the continent. It is on such occasions that the correspondents tend to form their first-hand impressions of the character of the visitor and the mood of his country, and this in turn has a lot of effect on their reports to the people back home.

✧ ✧ ✧

CONSIDERING that he has taken up his duties at a very tricky time and does not seem striking as a public speaker, Sir Roger Makins did about as well as could be expected. There was no applause for any of the points he made, not even when he rolled out the old chestnuts on the need for Anglo-American unity, and none of the answers he made to the usual questions raised any clapping. Everyone, however, seemed to leave the room feeling that this was not his fault; and the personal impression he created was cordial — a nice guy, with a cute sense of humour.

THE FIRST question he was asked reflected the main snag he has to overcome between now and early April. Yesterday morning, the "Washington Post" carried a very blunt editorial, advising Sir Roger to make it clear to the British Government that if Mr. Eden, the British Foreign Secretary, and Mr. Butler, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, come over to Washington in the next few months, they will "seem to be rushing" the new Administration.

At the Press Club, Sir Roger was asked if he had any comment to make on the Post's editorial. He turned the question aside with a joke. The joke was good, and was well taken, but the question is really far from funny. The "Washington Post" is about as friendly, and intelligently friendly, to the British point of view as any paper could possibly be, and if the "Washington Post" goes out of its way to tell the British to hold their horses for a month or two, then there is something rather serious about the situation.

WHO ARE the Ighats? We may hear a great deal of them in the next few weeks and although they are at present to be found only in the innermost recesses of the American continent, their influence may spread across Europe and Asia.

Ighat is the name formed from the initials of the words "I'm Gonna Holler About Taxes" which in turn is the official battle-cry of a movement being built up in the Middle West to get indirect taxes cut by Congress. I should have thought Congressmen needed no encouragement to press for lowering taxes, but that is not the opinion of the Ighat squadron leaders. The Ighat-in-Chief is the head of the Quaker Oats Company and he is encouraging groups throughout his nineteen plants to co-operate with groups forming in the Sears Roebuck Supply Group, which has seven hundred retail stores, and with the twenty-one huge plants of International Harvester.

THE Quaker Oats research department has dug out several facts, such as there being 150 hidden taxes on a loaf of bread, 206 on a new car, and a hundred on an ordinary hen's egg. The main plan of the campaign is to show the man-in-the-street how much taxes are costing him by persuading as many shopkeepers as possible to arrange displays of goods showing how much more expensive they are because of the taxes on them.

Estate agents will hang on a ten thousand dollar house a chart showing how it could be sold for eight thousand dollars if the taxes could be removed from the materials which go to make it. Owners of beauty parlours, the "beauticians," operating on a slightly different standard of comparison, will show how they could give women "facials" every week for the next five years if husbands had no hidden indirect taxes to pay. In the home city of the Ighat-in-Chief, Cedar Rapids, every minister plans at least one sermon on taxes in the month of March, when the "big push" is to begin. In their drive to cast off the shackles of indirect taxation the Ighats are clearly going to employ every resource of both God and Mammon.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE DISCOVERY of the South African coelacanth (primitive fish previously believed extinct) has stimulated ichthyologists here to re-study the modern fish market. They have discovered, for instance, that some of the fish served to American tourists in Mexico in recent years are of species which appear never to have been identified or named. Californian experts have discovered fifty new species of fish in the Gulf of California alone, some no bigger than your fingernail, and one a large edible crimson fish as big as a salmon.

I for one am glad to hear about all these discoveries. A lover of fish, from kippers to caviare, I haven't found a decent eatable fish since I came to America three years ago.

✧ ✧ ✧

OKAY FOR SOUND, apparently to do all kinds of things that it has never been asked to do before. Dr. Ernest B. Yeaker, an ultrasonic researcher, has announced that high-pitched sound waves may be used to do the family wash, homogenise milk, purify water, and—mirabile dictu—age whisky.

These important "sonochemical" developments come from the basic discovery that high intensity sounds can suspend particles in liquid, vibrate the dirt out of fabrics, or destroy the bacteria in water. How wonderful to be able to shout one's shirt clean or scream Scotch ordinaire into a vintage liqueur.

NOW HE KNOWS

A bishop was accosted in a railway carriage by a reveller, who said: "You think you know everything, but I'll tell you two things you you don't know."

"Very likely," said the bishop. "What are they?"

"I'm your cook's husband and I'm wearing your shirt."

"LOOKS LIKE WE'RE ROTATING BACK TO 1917"

The Coronation Oath

(From "His Dominion", a quarterly published by the Cowley Fathers at Bracebridge)

WE HAVE been asked to discuss the parliamentary oath of the Sovereign, and its relationship to the Faith of the Church. While the oath was not imposed until the accession of William III, it is necessary to dilate upon the (complicated) relations between the Crown and the Church from the time of Henry VIII to (Roman) Catholic Emancipation, the change at the Accession of Edward VII, and the further change in 1937, when the late King George VI was crowned. While Henry VIII berated Martin Luther and called him the Archheretic, he was enamoured of the Lutheran doctrine of the "Good Prince." At first Henry agreed to propose Wolsey for the Papal Chair, if the latter would propose Henry as Emperor of the Holy Roman Empire. With the death of Wolsey, and (later) the break with the Papacy, the Lutheran theory of the National Church became prominent. Henry VIII was quite a theologian too, and deserved the title of "Defender of the Faith" (received from the Pope). Consequently, the title "Supreme Head" of the Church of England did NOT convey the same impression as it would do to us. When Elizabeth I came to the throne, the title was revised to read "Supreme Governor". Article XXXVII (passed in Elizabeth's reign) should have prevented reiteration of the false opinion that the Sovereign proclaims our doctrine or makes our bishops. At the same time, the Religious tests prevented anyone from having authority in the State who was not Anglican. The union of the Crowns under James I was the first serious modification. Both countries had established churches, not in communion with each other. As the parliaments were separate, the Crown simply accepted the establishment in each country. As travelling was somewhat restricted, any questions regarding the propriety of accepting "opposite" opinions were very infrequent. Besides, the Stuarts very soon discovered that the opposition of the Kirk to prelacy often included an opposition to royalty as well. It will be remembered that all religious groups in England had reason to believe that James I would favour them. His mother was Mary of Scotland, the pride of the R.C. recusants; he had been brought up in Presbyterian Scotland, so the Puritans took heart. The Church of England knew that James felt his security lay in accepting the English Establishment. From this date another modification began to appear. Opposition to the Church came from Roman Catholics and Puritans. Each attempted to have secret services and secret buildings. In the House of Commons, the religious opposition became stronger. The opposition resented the religious tests. In the meantime, under Laud and the Caroline Divines, the Church was settling down in doctrinal, moral, and legal matters. Pearson's book sanctioned our orthodoxy; Jeremy Taylor was our Moral Theologian; the Canons of 1603 became the codex. The Church was proscribed during Cromwell's regime, but came (in many respects) to full bloom during the early days of the Restoration. But Puritanism had simply gone into hiding; the Roman Catholics took courage because of Charles II's leaning towards the Church of Rome (entering it on his death-bed) and James II's honest and open avowal of Roman Catholisism.

✧ ✧ ✧

WE FELT it necessary to make this very long introduction because this background provides the reason for the new parliamentary oath. This oath was forced on the church as well as the uncrowned monarch. William III was Dutch Reformed Church. Naturally His Majesty did not believe in the Priesthood or the Sacramental Life, or even Episcopacy in any sense. The Bishops of the important Sees felt they could not take the oath to William, because they had taken the oath to James, and the crown was not in demise. The Non-jurors (as these bishops were called) being removed (or going away voluntarily) the new bishops were "low" to a man; some of the parishes were manned by dissenting ministers who had been ordained priests, so that they could retain their posts. Their beliefs were foreign to the Prayer Book's doctrines. The new oath and the first Bill of Toleration should be studied together. The aim seems to have been to unite all the "Protestants" in England into one National Church. The Roman Catholics were to remain without citizenship or property rights. The oath condemned certain doctrines of the Roman Church; and ordered the Sovereign to accept the establishment of the Protestant Reformed Religion. The Bill of Toleration did not quite pan out; there was a Tory High Church revival in the reign of Anne. The (Roman) Catholic Emancipation Bill granted citizenship and property rights to Roman Catholics, but (at first) did not remove the Religious tests from public officials. Consequently the parliamentary oath remained the same.

✧ ✧ ✧

MEANWHILE the Catholic Revival instituted under Laud and others had spent itself. The Bishops and many of the clergy were largely latitudinarian. When the religious tests were removed, except from the monarch, the phrase "protestant reformed religion" had obtained a new meaning. Most people considered it to mean anti-Catholic. In reality, these folk were holding non-Anglican opinions, even if they gave lip-service to the Church. How could a Roman Catholic give allegiance to a king whose pre-coronation oath included a declaration against transubstantiation? Many held that Roman Catholics were not good citizens. When Edward VII was preparing for his coronation, he made it clear that, being the Peacemaker, he greatly preferred an oath that did not insult his many Roman Catholic subjects. The oath was modified into, more or less, its present form. The most significant changes, in centuries, occurred between A.D. 1910 and A.D. 1937. The Church in Ireland (in 1869) was disestablished, and also the Church in Wales. Since the union of the Scottish and English Parliaments (1707), the custom had grown whereby the Sovereign made oath to support the Scotttish Establishment, on the day of the Accession. The Sovereign was now supporting two contradictory polities. The Free Churches in England had no part in the coronation, but neither did the Scottish Episcopal Church. When the Sovereign was resident in Scotland, there could be no recognition of Anglicanism in Faith or Practice. What did the oath, administered by parliament, now mean? The Empire had changed into a Commonwealth, in which each self-governing portion could claim the Sovereign as its own, without any religious test. In 1937, the oath was again modified by placing the word "in England" in italics. Many English Anglicans would prefer disestablishment, at which time the parliamentary oath would lose all meaning. On the other hand would the Church retain its rights to anoint and crown the Sovereign? At each coronation the pressure of the Free Churches for a part in the service is getting stronger. It is well known that certain bishops and priests of modernist or liberal tendencies would prefer a more "secular" coronation, particularly the removal of the anointing with holy oil.

✧ ✧ ✧

TO sum up, the present situation is:— (1) The phrase "protestant reformed" was introduced by parliament to mean 'non-Roman-Catholic.' The nation was nominally Anglican. (2) The Sovereign is now head of each individual self-governing portion of the Commonwealth. As Queen of Canada, Her Majesty is not required to take any religious test. (3) The Coronation Service is substantially as it was in the Middle Ages. It asks the Sovereign to protect the Catholic Faith. (4) If disestablishment comes, the parliamentary oath would be completely obsolete, and the Church would have complete freedom. (5) At the moment, the Sovereign is (illogically) required to support two contradictory establishments. The fact is plain. This oath deals with political situations, not religious convictions. If this were not the case, Her Majesty would have to believe e.g. that confirmation by a bishop was necessary in England, but not in Scotland. Rightly or wrongly, there are those who think that Roman Catholics seek to rule England, and would, if they had a chance. We do not know what other purpose the oath serves, in these days.

Unconsidered Trifles

Diner: "The fingerprints on the plates are different."

A recruit was causing his sergeant a lot of trouble. Finally the NCO went up to him and said sarcastically: "Do you realize you are the only one in step?"

"Well," said the recruit, "it's no good telling me—you'd better tell the other fellows!"

A schoolboy entered a bookstore and stood looking at the shelves. Finally, he chose a book entitled, Advice to Young Mothers.

"It's a present for a friend of mine who collects moths," he explained to the bookseller.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version).

And it came to pass, that as he was come nigh unto Jericho, a certain blind man sat by the wayside begging: and hearing the multitude pass by, he asked what it meant.

And they told him, that Jesus of Nazareth passeth by. And he cried, saying, Jesus, thou son of David, have mercy on me ....

And Jesus stood, and commanded him to be brought unto him: and when he was come near, he asked him, saying, What wilt thou that I shall do unto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receive my sight.

And Jesus said unto him, Receive thy sight: thy faith hath saved thee. And immediately he received his sight, and followed him, glorifying God: and all the people, when they saw it, gave praise unto God. (Luke 18: 35-38, 40-43).

✧ ✧ ✧

And a certain centurion's servant, who was dear unto him, was sick, and ready to die. And when he heard of Jesus, he sent unto him the elders of the Jews, beseeching him that he would come and heal his servant. And when they came to Jesus, they besought him instantly, saying, That he was worthy for whom he should do this. (Luke 7: 2-4.)

Letter To The Editor

IS A NEWPAPER A BOOK?

Sir: An item in January 28th's Examiner says that the State Secretary of Canada has ordered all book publishers to send two copies of their publications to the National Library of Canada.

May I draw your attention to the latest book of the ebullient A. P. Herbert, "Codd's Last Case," a series of "cases" previously appearing in "Punch"?

In the case of the "Integrated Press v. The Postmaster" which revolves on the question of "What is a Newspaper?", it is pointed out that in Britain it is still compulsory for the proprietors and publishers of newspapers to register under the Newspaper Libel and Registration Act of 1881. It is further pointed out that "since a newspaper counts as a book, a copy (sometimes two) must be sent to the British Museum, the Bodleian Library . . . etc., where they are received, no doubt, with ill-concealed delight by the librarians."

The point of Mr. Herbert's hypothetical case is, I believe, whether a certain newspaper, "The Sunday Sensation" (with which is now incorporate "The Swim Girl), is entitled to be called a newspaper, hence a "book." It touches on the proportion (70%) of "cheesecake" photography used by the "Sunday Sensation" having a bearing on the claim and whether it can be said to be "news." The entertaining account continues with the following chat between the Judge and Sir Roger Wheedle, K.C.:

The Judge: Let it be remarked that this Court has no objection to photographs of ladies in Bathing-dresses, as such. On the contrary, the Court enjoys them as much as ever. How about you, Sir Roger?

Sir Roger: Milord, I take The Times.

The Judge: How about Sundays?

Sir R: The Sunday Times, milord; and I try to keep up with The Economist and the Bilious Weekly.

The Judge: Well, well.

The Peterborough Examiner, thank goodness, still publishes its share of "Cheesecake Art," but I doubt if its position as a newspaper is likely to be asasiled because that fascinating branch of the art of photography is given undue prominence.

But the question still, to me, unanswered, "Is a Canadian newspaper, such as the Examiner, a book?"

I heartily recommend the book to Herbert fanciers. It's at our Public Library.

Yours sincerely,
A. B. B.

Words Of Wisdom

(Brantford Expositor)

Although there was little new in his address, Dr. Hugh Keenleyside, director of the technical assistance program for the United Nations, sounded a warning for delegates attending the Canadian Federation of Agriculture convention in Victoria, B. C.

His warning was meant for free people everywhere. He said that time was running out for western civilization unless it acted quickly and strongly. Of the two-thirds of the people of the world who are in revolt against their condition of life, 800,000,000 have already gove over to Communism. Another 800,000,000 may be lost within the present generation.

Something could be done to stem the mass conversion to Communism. When the western world talks of Christian and democratic principles, offering everyone the best chance for a good life, it must prove that it means what it says.

CANVEY ISLAND ARK—People trapped on the top floor of an isolated house near the Thames on Canvey Island in Essex, England, are rescued by a small boat. More than 800 have been reported dead in the worst flood in centuries that swept along the coasts of Britain, Belgium, France and the Netherlands.

Sweden To Keep Defence Strong

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Sweden will make heavy sacrifices to maintain her military defence despite her determination to keep outside the military alliances of the great blocs, Prime Minister Tage Erlander and Foreign Minister Osten Unden said Wednesday.

In a joint statement on foreign policy in Parliament, they acknowledged that "some events have been a strain" on Sweden's relations with the Soviet Union.

One controversy arose through the Russian decision to extend her territorial waters in the Baltic out to 12 miles. Another came through the shooting down of two Swedish aircraft over the Baltic.

Strict Russian regulations governing traffic in and above territorial waters have handicapped both shipping and air traffic, the statement said, and the extension has deprived Swedish fishermen of their right to fish in areas previously regarded as international waters. The issue will be brought up in the United Nations, the statement added.

The link between the J. Clark Keith plant at Windsor and the Delray plant at Detroit was being constructed, he said, for "reasons of mutual security and exchange of power."

Mrs. Woolley's Rink Takes Ontario Tankard Win Against Toronto High Park

Mrs. L. E. Woolley's Toronto Granite Club rink breezed to its second consecutive Ontario Ladies' Tankard Wednesday at the Peterborough Curling Club. Full of confidence, the Woolley curlers after a slow start curled almost perfectly in the final ends for a convincing 12-4 win over Mrs. R. H. Reive's Toronto High Park rink for the Ontario honors. Mrs. Reive conceded the win at the end of the ninth after the Wool[illegible]k scored a two-end. But tankard's most exciting finish came in the consolation event when Mrs. K. M. McLaren's Hamilton Thistles yanked out a 10-9 win on the last stone for the Northey trophy.

Mrs. McLaren's opponents, Mrs. J. Rutherford's Kingston rink, seemed away to the Northey trophy as they entered the last end leading 9-7. A number in the gallery had already moved away, believing the Kingston rink were the winners.

But on her last stone Mrs. Rutherford attempted to knock out one of Mrs. McLaren's two stones which were first and second shots (the tying points). Mrs. Rutherford's stone went straight through and still left Mrs. McLaren's stones shot.

PERFECT SHOT

With the last stone, Mrs. McLaren drew in perfectly for a three-point end and the trophy.

As far as the tankard final was concerned the Woolley rink had an easier time than in the semi-final with Peterborough's Mrs. Vern Selkirk's rink. For the first two ends High Park took out their stones well, but failed after that. They didn't have the confidence in their abilities that the Peterborough and Granite rinks had.

Mrs. Reive's rink gave up a single point to Woolley in the first end, but tied the score one-all in the second; then took a 2-1 score in the third.

But the Woolley rink took advantage of several short High Park stones in the fourth end and recorded a three-end to take the lead, 4-2.

Mrs. Reive matched Mrs. Woolley stone for stone on the fifth end, finally eking out a single to maake the score 4-3.

RINK COLLAPSED

But the High Park rink collapsed in the sixth end play. Their stones were too heavy or too short, either curled too much and not enough, never just right. At the same time the Woolley rink wasn't missing an opportunity and scored a four-end. That was the game.

Mrs. Woolley added another two end in the seventh and then Mrs. Reive replied with a single in the ninth. After Mrs. Woolley scored another two-end in the ninth, Mrs. Reive conceded.

The tankard trophy, symbolic of curling supremacy among Ontario women curlers, was presented to the Woolley rink by Ray Best on behalf of the Ontario Curling Association. Mrs. D. Hastings, president of the Ladies' Ontario Curling Association, presented engraved silver trays to the High Park Rink.

Mrs. E. H. Northey, who until Wednesday morning play was in the running for her own trophy, presented the Northey trophy to Mrs. McLaren's rink. The runnerup prizes were given to the Kingston rink by Mrs. J. D. Fanning, president of the Peterborough Ladies' Curling Association.

THE ONTARIO LADIES' TANKARD went once more to Mrs. L. E. Woolley's Toronto Granite Club Wednesday at the Peterborough Curling Club. The Woolley rink (top) including Mrs. Woolley (back left), Mrs. Roy H. Smith, Mrs. Harry J. Coon and Miss Jane Clark won the trophy easily 12-4 over Mrs. R. H. Reive's Toronto High Park rink. Mrs. K. McLaren's Hamilton Thistle rink (lower photo) including Mrs. McLaren (back left), Mrs. C. Foley-Bennett, Mrs. C. S. Lees and Mrs. E. E. Payne won the Northey trophy on the last stone, defeating Mrs. J. Rutherford's Kingston rink 10-9. —(Examiner Staff Photo.)

Norwood Gains TVL Win Over Havelock

HAVELOCK (ENS).—Building up a four-goal lead at the end of the first period and never relinquishing it, Norwood defeated Havelock in a TVL tussle at the local arena Wednesday night by a score of 10 to 3. Three of Havelock's players were out, Eakins with a broken wrist, Newman with an injured hip, and Gooley il with the flu. This and the fact that Nicholls the goalie for the visitors, stopped a lot of what seemed to be sure goals, was partly responsible for Havelock's defeat. About 250 spectators were in attendance.

Fain's Salary Tops $30,000

CHICAGO (AP) — Ferris Fain, American League batting champion, today became perhaps the highest paid player ever signed by Chicago White Sox, coming to terms for a reported more than $30,000.

Fain, who earned $28,500 last season with Philadelphia Athletics, needed just a two-minute phone conversation with a Sox general manager, Frank Lane, to agree on a 1953 contract.

Guesses were the Sox gave Fain a $2,000 or $3,000 boost over his Philadelphia salary.

Normal Basketeers Take An Exhibition

Peterborough Normal School students eked out their second exhibition win in two nights on Wednesday as they kept a slight lead in their game with YMCA Penguins for a final score of 32-27. On Tuesday the teachers-to-be walloped the YMCA Aces 59-33.

Under Fraser Wade, YMCA physical director, the Y this year is once again operating a house league. The Normals, the YMCA Penguins and Aces, and a fourth entry from the Hydro, form the league which will play Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

Several exhibition games have been held and will be played before next week when the regular schedule will begin.

FREE THROWS

Foul shots enabled the Normal quintet to take a one-point 8-7 score in the first quarter despite a five-point spread by the Penguins' Thompson. McDonald began to hit the hoop for Normal in the second quarter, but this time Penguins took full advantage of foul shots to stay still one point down at the half 17-16.

Both teams settled down to stiffer checking in the third, but on the strength of two baskets by Edwards, Normals went up slightly higher 22-19 at three-quarters.

McDonald for the Normals paced the last-quarter drive as the teachers outpointed Penguins again 10-8 for the slim winning margin.

The line-ups:

Peterborough Normal 32—English 2, Gregorick 4, Edwards 8, McDonald 12, Whitney 6, Reid, Eveligh, Rowan.

YMCA Penguins 27—Hurle 2, Outram 7, Dawes 3, O'Connor 5, Fowler 5, Thompson 9.

TERM INCORRECT

The term pigskin for football is incorrect, since nearly all footballs are made of tough resilient cowhide.

Governors No Exception

BOSTON (AP)—President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League said Wednesday the loop's board of governors will be no exception to the rule against team representatives entering the officials' room during games.

Campbell cracked down hard recently on such a practice by imposing $500 fines on Bill Tobin and Jack Adams, the respective general managers of the Chicago and Detroit clubs.

"That regulation was put into effect last summer," Campbell told Boston hockey writers. "Previously a club officer could visit the referee's room to make a legitimate inquiry, if he had the referee's permission to enter."

"Too often the visit was for the purpose of abusing or intimidating the referee. We just won't stand for that."

Asked what action would result if a club representative on the league board of governors insisted on making these protests during the game in spite of fines, Campbell answered:

"I don't think he would be on the board of governors very long."

GRANT'S SPORT CORNER

By DON GRANT

Just a moment, please. Boy, my wife sure tied this blindfold on tight. There it's off. Ooooooohhhh that light's bright after three days in darkness.

Why the blindfold? Why the three days in darkness? I've been attending several of the Peterborough Figure Skating Club's practices. It's been rejuvenating, to say the least ! ! ! ! !

Ooouucchh, don't hit me again, dear! I promise to stick to the straight and narrow path.

But putting all kidding aside, professional Ede Kiraly is doing a wonderful job with the youngsters and adults who practice figure eights, threes brackets, counters and rockers weekly at the Curling rink and Civic arena. They all seem to want to follow in his footsteps.

Those steps are very large indeed. For friend Kiraly who started skating at four, became Hungarian and European champion several times in men's singles, runnerup in the world's title to Dick Button and world champion in pairs with skating mate, Andrea Kekesy. The Peterborough club were fortunate in obtaining the former champion from Oshawa.

So far Ede is very impressed with the standard of skating in the Peterborough club and is looking forward to developing the younger skaters into national champions.

During practices he pointed out seniors such as Joan Begley, Arlene Ferguson, Nancy Zolyomy, Jackie Hopkins and Jack Martin as bright prospects for the future. Their chances for a championship depends largely upon work in practices. Ede means work.

That look of satisfaction crosses Ede's face when he watches his juniors smoosh and swirl across the ice. You can see at a glance that he holds high hopes for several of these youthful skaters which include Jean Dobbin, Alda Lachmar, Lorne Hale, and Dorothy Kingston, just to mention a few.

But again for them to reach national championship levels, it means work, work and work. That means any hope of a Peterborough boy or girl reaching that level is as far off as five years.

To the 125 juniors and 35 adults in the club, Ede advises them to work, work and work if they want to become champions. That work is most important. He also says championship training demands ice time. That's where Peterborough skaters are out of luck.

At present between the curling club and Civic arena, the 160 skaters have 19 hours a week for practice. That may seem enough, but actually it's only a drop in the bucket.

Ede claims that for a youngster to become a champion, he must skate at least three hours daily and then in the summer months attend skating schools.

To clarify those who have multiplied six times three for 18 and recalled there's 19 hours a week for the club on Peterborough ice surfaces, that 19 hours is divided into various groups and cuts down into as low as only three or four hour hours a week skating. That's well off the three hours a day mark.

What do they do during those hours; no, they don't cut patterns and play all the time. They practice stroking, how to skate on the inside and outside edges of the blade through shoulder and hip movements and co-ordination of the body.

After the technique of edges is mastered, they then practice patterns such as eights, threes and the such.

With those well under way, they are prepared for free skating and dancing. The free skating includes the fancy spins and twirls while the dancing includes steps such as the waltzes, tangos, fox trots and blues.

All this may appear quite easy to do but let me guarantee you, it's not as easy as it looks. Without practice, the results can often be disasterous.

Hand me my crutches, sug. Boy this plaster cast sure is heavy.

Yukon Eric And The Mask Grapple To Top Bout Draw

Old Father Time spoiled any chances by Yukon Eric to rip the hood off the Red Mask Wednesday night in the main bout at the weekly wrestling matches. The old fellow caused timer Fred Scates to ring the bell at the end of the hour time limit and the Red Mask was saved, at least for another week.

The bell probably saved the man from the frozen north at the same time. For the husky (no, no, the human type) was sprawled across the canvas with one foot tied neatly in a bow with the ring ropes. The Red Mask was endeavoring to tighten that bow much to Eric's dismay.

Prior to this point the boys, Eric and Red, had played a game much similar to musical chairs, only this time it was musical ring. They had taken turns flipping each other into the ringside.

AFTER SECOND FALL

All this action occurred after the second fall had gone to the Red Mask at the 51-minute mark.

The people's choice, friend Eric, had just taken a pounding lasting some 27 minutes, from the Red Mask. The hated Mask by using knee slams, hair pulling and other evil tricks left the hero, Eric, stretched like a piece of lettuce 10 days old across the ropes.

But true to form Eric duplicated Popeye's amazing recovery of strength and bounced back into action as fresh as a daisy. The amazed Mask attempted to body slam Eric off the ropes, but each time met a brick wall in the centre of the ring. But the fourth time Red switched his tactics to a drop kick off the ropes and down went Eric.

In the first 24 minutes the Red Mask learned much to his regret that although Eric has lost his ear, he hasn't lost any strength. The Mask attempted to match Eric's brute strength then resorted to underhand manoeuvres on Eric's frame.

TOOK THE FIRST

But this lasted only a short while before Eric began to mix some evil work with his amazing strength. Pretty soon the Red Mask was tenderized to the point where Eric swung the Mask up and into the Kodiak Krunch. Within seconds the first fall went to Eric.

Chivalry is not dead, that handsome Ovila Asselin of Montreal proved in the second bout. At the 17-minute mark in his bout with Frank Taylor of Toledo Asselin bounced off the ropes, ramming Taylor in the stomach.

Down went Taylor curled into a knot on the canvas, unable to arise to continue the bout. Referee Bert Maxwell awarded the bout to Asselin who waved the decision, a very popular move with the crowd. He then helped opponent Taylor to the dressing-room, another popular move.

Earl McCready, the Aurora Farmer, tried some early transplanting on Frank Valois in the opening bout, but Valois refused to be plowed under. They both were satisfied with a draw in 30 minutes.

Thinks Jean Beliveau May Turn Professional

BOSTON (AP) — President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League says Jean Beliveau, the fabulous young star who played three great trial games this season for Montreal, may turn professional.

The NHL president said Wednesday that Beliveau's playing status fluctuates with the size of the crowds that turn out to watch him perform with Quebec Aces of the Quebec Senior League.

"Since the crowds there are down now," he added, "there is a chance Beliveau will sign with the Canadiens, possibly before the end of the season."

Geoffrion Joins Cripples Injuries May Decide Winners Of NHL Games

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Injuries, that eight-letter word which gives hockey coaches nightmares, could well decide tonight's National Hockey League clash at Montreal. Although the Leafs and Canadiens aren't the only teams doing battle in tonight's full schedule, their hospital list is by far the most impressive. Both clubs have had to reach into their farm systems for replacements. Latest to join the league's crippled corps is Bernie Boom Boom Geoffrion, the Habitant's high-scoring right-winger. Injured Wednesday in practice when he crashed into a goal post, he is feared lost for several weeks with a separated shoulder.

The Leafs will be minus Max Bentley, their dipsy-doodle centreman who has sparked their drive to third place. Brains and spirit of the club since Captain Teeder Kennedy failed to return from his Boston injuries, the ex-Black Hawk will be sorely missed.

BRING UP LITZENBERGER

Canadiens have brought up Eddie Litzenberger, the 20-year-old Regina forward who has scored 20 goals this season with Montreal Royals of the Quebec Senior circuit. Toronto has shunted familiar Danny Lewicki into the breach from Pittsburgh of the American Hockey League.

The Leafs will also lack Rudy Migay and Howie Meeker, both suffering long-standing injuries, but Montreal may get veteran centre Billy Reay back in time for the clash. He is suffering from an injured elbow.

In tonight's other games, the league-leading Detroit Red Wings play host to the tail-end New York Rangers while Chicago Black Hawks, fighting to hold fourth spot, move into Boston for a tussle with the fifth-place Bruins.

The last time New York played in the Motor City the Blueshirts upset the mighty Wings 8-2, much to the horror of Detroit general manager Jack Adams.

However, you can be sure the Red Wing prexy will have his club up for this one, especially after having to mail league president Clarence Campbell a $500 cheque. It paid his fine for violating the sanctity of referee Red Storey's dressing room during a game Jan. 18.

Landy Slashes 14.4 Seconds Off Record

MELBOURNE (AP) — John Landy, Australia's sensational miler, took a crack at a longer distance Wednesday night and slashed 14.4 seconds off the Australian two-mile record.

Running in muggy weather over the Geelong oval grass track, the 22-year-old farming student travelled the distance in nine minutes, 1.2 seconds.

It was the fourth terrific race in less than two months for the Aussie comet, who has run three straight mile races in less than 4:05.

EXCITED TRACK WORLD

He excited the track world by running the mile in 4:02.2, only 8-10ths second off Gundar Haegg's world record, on Dec. 14. On Jan. 3 he covered the mile in 4:02.8 and on Jan. 24 he won the Australian championship on a grass track at Perth in 4:04.2.

Although he bettered the Australian two-mile mark Wednesday night and won his race by 90 yards the lean speedster failed by 5.2 seconds to break the British Empire record held by Chris Chattaway of England. He was 20.8 seconds short of cracking the world mark held by Belgium's Gaston Reiff.

Landy said he was troubled by the heat.

Barons Tie Syracuse 4-4

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Cleveland Barons today are back in a first-place tie with Pittsburgh Hornets for the American Hockey League lead, thanks to a 4-4 tie Wednesday night with Syracuse Warriors.

In the only other game played, Hershey Bears broke a five-game losing streak by defeating St. Louis Flyers 4-2.

At Syracuse, goalie Johnny Bowers' amazing netminding for the Barons halted Syracuse's hope for a third straight victory. He was credited with 51 saves, against only 19 for Syracuse's Gordie Bell.

Cleveland scorers were Bob Bailey, Eddie Olson, Glen Sonmor and Ike Hildebrand. Bill Gooden connected twice for Syracuse Armand Lemieux and Bronco Horvath fired singles.

At Hershey, Sam Bettio tallied two for the Bears, Arnie Kullman and Dunc Fisher firing singles. Motto McLean scored both Flyers' goals.

PITTSBURGH SYNDICATE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Post Gazette says today representatives of Fred Saigh, owner of St. Louis Cardinals, have offered Saigh's majority holdings in the National League club to a Pittsburgh syndicate for $4,250,000.

The Post Gazette says the syndicate is headed by Charles Morris.

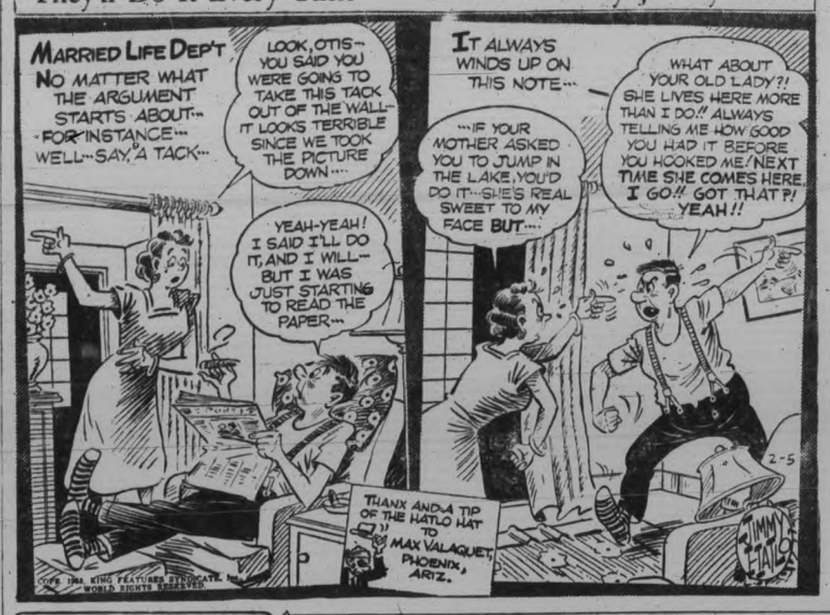
Saigh announced he would sell his baseball stock shortly after his recent sentencing to 15 months in prison for income-tax evasion.

Charles Cuts Down Harrison In Ninth

DETROIT (AP)—Sharp-shooting Ezzard Charles methodically cut down Tommy Harrison of Los Angeles Wednesday night and stopped him in the ninth round to continue his bid for another shot at the heavyweight boxing title.

The dead-game Harrison took a terrific punishment all the way as he was floored for an eight count in the eighth and was cut about the nose, mouth and left eye when manager George Parnassus signalled that his fighter was through.

Harrison, who came in at 181¼ for this 10-round bout, gave away 5¾ pounds to the more experienced former champion.



Orillia, Toronto Rinks Win Three Games

BRAMPTON (CP)—Rinks from Orillia and Toronto High Park won three consecutive games Wednesday in the Laddie Wilson Trophy event of the fifth annual open bonspiel at the Brampton Curling Club.

Sixty-four rinks are entered in competition for the trophy and the consolation W. E. Calvert Trophy.

F. Curran's Orillia foursome downed W. Parker of Guelph, H.R. Patterson of Unionville and R. Walton of Agincourt in the Wilson event while the Toronto High Park quartette skipped by R. E. Green won over S. B. Playfair of Toronto Granite, A. W. King of Unionville and J. E. Calvert of Brampton.

Angry At Slur Cancels Game

TORONTO (CP) — Coach Bob Pirie of the Young Men's Hebrew Association basketball team said Wednesday he has cancelled a two-game exhibition with Tillsonburg Livingstons because of racial slurs made at a game there last Saturday.

Pirie was referring to a match between Nortown Tri-Bells and the Livingstons. He said a few of the players and manager Alex Fisher were attacked verbally for their racial background.

"It was the lowest show of sportsmanship I've ever heard of," Pirie said.

In a letter to the Ontario Amateur Basketball Association, Fisher said the fans, a couple of the players and club president Gerry Livingston took part.

Fisher said after he slipped behind the timer in the late minutes of the game Livingston came over to him and made "repeated derogatory remarks" about his racial background.

Ottawa Rink Hands Peterborough 9-4 Beating In Quebec Event

QUEBEC (CP)—The 40th Quebec international bonspiel gathered speed today as rinks from Quebec and the Maritimes entered their second rounds in competition for the top award—the Lieutenant-Governor's Trophy. The remainder continued play in eight other competitions.

Six Quebec province rinks, four from Quebec City and one each from Montreal and Ormstown, Que., and two Maritime aggregations, one from West Saint John, N.B., and the other from Halifax, won their first-round matches Wednesday night in the lieutenant-governor's play.

Three women's teams, meanwhile, continued to give veteran male curlers in the 'spiel a tough fight. They have caused a certain amount of rivalry among the men, who claim that the curling classic has always been traditionally a man's competition.

LATEST VICTORY

The latest victory for the fair sex came Wednesday in the second round of the Holt Renfrew International section, when Mrs. A. F. Mutch skipped her underdog Quebec Victoria quartette to a 7-5 victory over Adjutor Dussault's Quebec Winter Club rink.

West Saint John, N.B., skipped by Dr. R. M. Pendrigh, bowled over R. Wilson's London quartet by an 11-7 score, while A. Demers' Quebec Curling Club team defeated O. Bigford's Westport, Ont., quartette, 13-10 in the lieutenant-governor's event.

Semi-finals get under way today in the Chateau International and Omega International trophies as well as in the Francois Jobin International Gold Cup.

BEATS PETERBOROUGH

In second-round matches in the Holt Renfrew event, Mel Stonehouse of Ottawa Glebe, last year's winner of the top event, handed V. A. Selkirk's Peterborough quartette a 9-4 beating.

A. Lafrance's North Bay crew defeated Bourlamaque Sigma, R. Ash, 10-5. But G. Von Zuban's Sudbury four lost 11-3 to Quebec Jacques Cartier.

In the Val d'Or event first round, a Midland, Ont., crew skipped by H. Hartman put out Col. A. Bell, Quebec Victoria, 12-8.

J. P. Elwood's Smiths Falls, Ont., rink was defeated by Quebec Victoria, skipped by Fred Blackadder, 14-10. But D. Aboud's Smiths Falls four downed Mrs. Barbara Patterson's Quebec Winter Club, 13-8.

Flyers Bounce Guelph 6-3, Nearing Top

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Barrie Flyers are burning up the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series.

Rated an even chance of making the post-season playoffs a scant month ago, Hap Emms' youngsters have been flying high ever since.

Wednesday night they moved to within two points of the league-leading Toronto Marlboros with a 6-3 victory over Guelph Biltmores, defending Memorial Cup champions.

In an exhibition game, third-place Toronto St. Michael's pulled off a 5-4 upset against Sudbury Wolves of the Northern Ontario Hockey Association Senior A southern group at Sudbury.

FIGHT TO TIE

At Three Rivers, the cellar-dwelling Montreal Royals fought to a 2-2 tie with third-place Three Rivers Reds in a Quebec Junior Amateur Hockey Association clash.

Orv Tessier and Tony Poeta paced the Barrie attack with two goals each, the others going to Doug Mohns and Mel Carver. Blair Graham, Doug Ashley and Art White scored for Guelph.

Roger Dubuc scored both of Three Rivers' goals with Kenny Naylor and Sandy Morrison coming through for the Royals.

St. Catharines moves into Guelph Friday night while St. Michael's plays at Barrie and Galt goes to Kitchener.

BROOM AWAY

If you want to get away from a drift delivery or if you want to develop a smooth, effortless swing and follow through in releasing your stone . . . whether you slide or not . . . keep your broom off the ice! Only as a last resort to prevent a fall should the broom touch the ice surface and if that happens, the handle of the broom should strike the ice before the straw. Let me list the "don'ts" first. Use this as a check list next time you get out on the ice.

(1) Don't hold the broom behind you when you are taking your stance in the hack.

Why?

Every player who rides the straw of his broom starts off this way. If you hold your broom straight out to your left side with the straw pointing forward, it is impossible for you to ride on the broom. It is also almost impossible for you then to drift off the correct line of delivery.

(2) Don't point the straw of the broom down.

This is another temptation to ride your broom for balance. Hold the broom handle well up the haft near the shoulder, where it balances easily in your hand. Keep the straw pointed ahead and up a little.

Sure, it will take practice. Cut down a little on your leg drive don't experiment during a scheduled game. Try it in a practice game and length of slide. Get out on the ice and practice this. Naturally, or on the ice by yourself. Keep at it. Don't quit trying because you can't master it the first day There are many curling seasons ahead of you. and you will be surprised how easily it will come to you if you persist for a few weeks.

Next . . . "Slide? How Far?" . . .

Pickering Divides With Lakefield Team

NEWMARKET — Pickering College split a hockey double-header with Lakefield Preparatory School here Wednesday afternoon. A six-goal second period explosion that wiped out Pickering College's 3-1 lead set the invaders up with a 9-4 win in the senior contest. In the junior game Pickering College took command with three goals in the second period and went on to win 6-1.

Alex Ramsay highlighted Lakefield's offensive in the senior game with four goals. Blake Uren turned in a hat trick and Frank Pearce and Tom Ryder had a goal each. Bob King netted two and Peter Green and Dave Stewart one each for Pickering College.

John Brownlee, Don Kelso, Don Downs, Doug Dobson, Ed Malkin, and Hugh Marshall scored Pickering College junior goals. John Creelman scored for Lakefield juniors to ruin Jim Vanvliet's shutout.

Point And Keene Tie In Fast EPL Contest

YOUNG'S POINT (ENS). — Keene and Young's Point battled to a 7-7 EPL hockey draw in Warsaw before a good-sized crowd on Wednesday night. It was a four-point tilt, the first of the season for the Point. Following the fray, it was ruled that Joe Blewett, who starred for the newcomers throughout, was not eligible for further EPL play owing to his signing of another certificate.

Play was quite fast and clean, with but two penalties to Evans (for throwing the puck) and one to Keene.

In the first period, Blewett scored two, assisted once by No. 4, while Bethune got one for Keene from Kempt. Blewett tallied three more in the second, McNaughton helping on one. For Keene, Bethune and Locke each tallied twice, Kempt having two assists, and Colby and Adamson one each. Evans and Heard scored for Young's Point in the third, with Blewett in on both. Bethune and Kempt counted for Keene, also having an assist. Teams:

Keene — Goal, Mackness; defence, Shearer, Kimball; centre, Kempt; wings, Bethune, Colby; alternates, Locke, Steenburgh, MacFarlane, Brown, Adamson, McCarthy, Houle.

Young's Point — Goal, Spencely; defence, Shearer, Evans; centre Russelle; wings, McIsaac, D. Heard; alternates, J. Northey, R. Northey, P. Heard, R. Freeburn, Darling, McNaughton, Blewett, G. Freeburn.

Yankees Have Trouble Over Holdouts

NEW YORK (AP)—New York Yankees have close to $1,000,000 to ladle out in salaries—the largest payroll in baseball history—but no club is having more trouble getting its employees under contract.

"You don't realize what a problem it is to sign up a ball club that has won four straight world championships," says George Weiss, general manager of the Yankee empire.

"I don't think there's an organized holdout campaign or anything like that. Each of these fellows figures he was greatly instrumental in our success and he wants his reward on the pay cheque."

ONLY SIGNED TWO

The Yankees have signed only two of their regulars for the 1953 season. They are catcher Yogi Berra, who signed for a reported $40,000—a $5,000 raise—and infielder Gil McDougald, who signed for what's believed to be around $20,000.

Allie Reynolds, who has had two successive big years with the world champions, failed to get any satisfaction in his second conference with Roy Hamey, assistant general manager.

The righthander, who had a 20-8 record last season and 17-8 the year before, is said to be demanding at least a $7,000 raise over the $35,000 he collected in 1952 Vic Raschi also is asking an increase for his 16 victories last season.

Also yet to be dealt with are Mickey Mantle, the 1952 world series hero, and his outfield mates, Hank Bauer and Gene Woodling; big John Mize, and the slugging first baseman; infielders Phil Rizzuto, Billy Martin and others.

Close TVL Tussle

STIRLING (ENS)—Point Anne beat Frankford 7-6 in a TVL tilt for the Cementmen's first win. They poured in four goals in the first period and fought off a hard drive by the other side in the third.

Point Anne— Burwa, Tinney, Dennitt, Hull, Bradshaw, Strachan, Maracle, Branigan, O'Brien, Goyer, Anderson, Lowe.

Frankford—Foshay, Bone, Pukanik, Adams, Stevens, Carey, Cooke, Foster, Reid, Moran, Rankin, Watson.

Tigers Upset Indians With 6-5 Victory

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Stratford Indians have found out—for the second time this season—that Hamilton Tigers can still scratch.

The Tigers, deep in the cellar of the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A series all season, pounced on the second-place Indians Wednesday night and fought to a 6-5 victory, their second in 42 outings.

That other Hamilton win was at the expense of the Indians too, a month ago in Stratford.

The pair of losses may mean the difference between first and second place to the Indians. While they were losing, the league-leading Owen Sound Mercurys increased their margin to five points by blasting Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen 8-3.

SHUT OUT SARNIA

In the only other clash, Chatham Maroons moved into sole possession of fifth place with a 5-0 shutout against the sixth-place Sarnia Sailors.

At North Bay, Sault Ste. Marie (Mich.) Indians upset North Bay Trappers 6-3 in a Northern Ontario Hockey Association Senior A southern group game.

Veteran Ab Conick led Hamilton's attack with a pair of goals. Bill Hammond, Hugo Bolzon, Steve Divinski and Gord Peebles scored the others. Tommy Walker tallied twice for the Tribe. Billy Flick, Bruce Burdette and Moose Walsh added the others.

Bill McComb and Jerry Reid scored twice for Owen Sound while Roy Leckie, Ray McCallum, Jack Ingoldsby and Mike Bukacheski notched the others. Pete Jacklin clicked for a Kitchener pair and Howie Lee tallied the third.

Joe Carveth and George Edwards each fired two goals in Chatham's win with playing-coach Black Jack Stewart getting the other. It was goalie Dick Piatowski's fifth shutout of the season.

Vip Palladino paced the Sault Ste. Marie attack with three goals. Dean McBride came through with two and Laurie Peterson one. Jack Hill, Alf Guarda and George Goselin were the North Bay marksmen.

Three games are scheduled in OHA play tonight. Stratford moves into Brantford while Hamilton is at Chatham and Sarnia plays host to Kitchener.

HOPPE AT DINNER

TORONTO (CP)—Willie Hoppe, long-time world billiards king, will attend the second annual sports celebrity dinner of the Ontario Sports Writers and Sportscasters Association, it was announced Wednesday.

Hoppe's name was in a preliminary list of celebrities the association issued for the March 5 event. Another from the United States is Otto Graham, quarterback of Cleveland Browns of the U.S. Professional Football League.

The Canadians are: George Genereux of Saskatoon, trap-shooting expert who was Canada's only gold medal winner at the 1952 olympics; two old track stars, George Goulding of Toronto and Bill Sherring of Hamilton; Canada's three living Diamond Sculls winners, Jack Guest, Sr., Bobby Pearce and Joe Wright, Jr.

It is expected that Canadian football will be represented by Vince Mazza of Hamilton Tiger-Cats, winner of the Jeff Russel Memorial Trophy as the outstanding player in the Big Four Football Union last season.

The $25-a-plate dinner has a two-fold aim: to raise as much money as possible for the Ontario Society for Crippled Children and to boost the country-wide Easter seals campaign for crippled children which opens March 5.

Gerry Kesselring, chosen by the association's members as Ontario's outstanding athlete of 1952, will receive his award at the dinner.

EDMONTON (CP) — Edmonton will not enter a team this spring in competition for the Allan Cup, the trophy awarded Canada's senior hockey champions. Al Ernst, manager of Edmonton Pats who reached the western final last year against Fort Frances Canadians, said Tuesday night that all attempts to form a similar team this year have been abandoned. Plans were being made for next season to set up a Northern Alberta Senior League including Red Deer, Camrose, Wetaskiwin, Ponoka and Edmonton.

Orillia Gets 'Spiel

LINDSAY (ENS)—N. Norman's Orillia rink won the annual Victoria and Grey Trust bonspiel held yesterday at the Lindsay Curling Club.

Twenty-four rinks were entered. Norman's rink led the "three-win" class with 36 points and a plus seven score. Runner-up was L. Kennedy foursome from Lindsay with three wins, for a 31 plus three count. Third in the top bracket was Wm. Stevenson, also of Orillia, with 27 points. In the next category, R. Standing of Lindsay led with two wins and 31 plus five points. Guy Gassien of Lindsay led the rinks with one win, scoring 29 points.

Allow College Sports Take Third Of Paper

TORONTO (CP)—Despite efforts to place less emphasis on sport by elimination of a sports page, the editors of The Varsity, University of Toronto student newspaper, have allowed sport to take up almost one third of their daily coverage, R. W. Shephard, member of the editorial board, said Wednesday.

The December ultimatum by the editorial board, doing away with the sports page, brought about resignation of the sports staff.

Mr. Shephard said sports coverage had been assumed by other editorial members and while sports had often taken up half the paper, it now seldom ran more than one third.

Olson Retires From Scramble

BOSTON (AP) — The scramble for Sugar Ray Robinson's vacated middleweight title took on the aspects of a soap opera today with Carl (Bobo) Olson's withdrawal from an elimination tournament designed to find a new champion.

The Hawaiian boxer is the No. 1 U. S. contender, but he said Wednesday night he wants no part of the tournament — arranged by the National Boxing Association and the New York state athletic commission.

Olson meets 21-year-old Norman Hayes of Boston Saturday night in a 10-rounder in Boston Garden.

Both Hayes and Olson were on the list of U. S. contenders in the NBA's elimination series and this fight was to have been the second clash of that series.

The opener is Friday night's New York bout between Pierre Langlois of France and Rocky Castellani of Luzerne, Pa. The victor was to have met Ernie Durando of Bayonne, N. J., with that winner taking on the Hayes-Olson winner. A flock of other fighters also are on the elimination list.

Former champion Randy Turpin of England and France's Charles Humez are in the European phase of the eliminations.

Wants To Know Why Canadians Not Invited

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Canadian Amateur Basketball Association headquarters in Montreal has a question to answer—why were Canadians not invited to the women's world tournament set to open in Santiago, Chile, March 7?

It will be the first tournament for women held under men's rules and the United States and several European countries, together with Russia, will have teams entered.

owering and Ruth Wilson, another western representative of the CABA, have sent a wire to headquarters in Montreal asking why Canada was not asked.

THE FACES OF CHIANG'S MEN—"For a few hundred dollars per man per year, a first-class fighting force of half a million men."

Chiang's Troops Claimed Bargain In World Strategy

By GERALDINE FITCH

TAIPEH, Formosa — The Nationalist troops in Formosa are a bargain in strategic world-wide planning, says General William Chase, head of US Military Advisory Aid Group here.

In an exclusive interview with NEA Service, he declared:

Formosa is a constant threat to the Reds, actually and psychologically.

It is also a strategic deterrent to an Chinese Communist move toward Indo-China.

"For a few hundred dollars per man per year," he explained, "you can have a first-class fighting force of half a million men."

Gen. Chase would make no guess as to where Nationalist forces might first be used— in Korea, Indo-China, or for an invasion of the Chinese mainland. His job is to get the 500,000 soldiers ready, and that's no small task. But he was relaxed and affable after five days of strenuous military conferences with his own staff officers and those of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

"The Chinese navy and air force could lay an effective blockade along the China coast within a matter of hours," Gen. Chase said.

There are strong indications that something of a "bootleg blockade" is probably going on even now. The Chinese Nationalist Navy was quick to reach the sinking merchant ship Avanti off the Red coast and rescue its personnel not long ago. The Chinese Air Force was on its toes when a Chinese Communist tried to hijack a Philippine Air Lines plane this Winter.

"There's a high potential here," Gen. Chase told NEA. "How soon this team is ready to play in the big league depends on Washington. When the time comes for action we're going to need a lot of ammunition soonest."

This seemed to echo his statemen to 600 Chinese and American officers and newsmen last December when he said: "We have received some hardware this past year. We're going to receive a lot more of it this next year .... I think business will be picking up this year, and I think you know what I mean."

Some of that "pick-up in business" is now indicated in reports of Nationalist guerrilla forces already operating on or close to the mainland under direct command from Formosa.

In his interview, Gen. Chase said he felt that President Eisenhower "definitely" felt the strategic importance of Formosa. When Gen. Chase met the new President in Korea, he said, he had "every opportunity to brief him on all phases of the situation in Formosa.'

Last October Chiang Kai-shek retired some 131 generals and admirals who were over-age, physically unfit, or had reached maximum term of service. It is the new, younger officers who will lead the next move of the Nationalist troops

Asked if these new generals had learned the importance of cooperation, or would be inclined to fight individual brands of war, Gen. Chase said "the high command, through our school system, is getting the modern viewpoint."

As for the younger officers, he said, "they're tops."

Federal Power Commission Hearing Ends In U.S. After Eight Weeks

By JAMES C. MUNN

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal power commission hearing on two applications, each seeking authority to join with Canada in construction of a St. Lawrence river power project, ended Tuesday.

It had been in session intermittently since Dec. 18.

Final testimony on the application of Public Power and water Corp., a private firm of Trenton, N. J., was completed Tuesday. Testimony on the rival application of the power authority of the state of New York ended in December.

Examiner Glen R. Law tentatively set Feb. 25 as the date for filing briefs and proposed findings. Oral arguments will follow, he indicated, within a matter of a few days after Feb. 25.

The next step in the case will then be to await Law's intermediate decision which, in effect, is a recommendation to the full commission on disposition of the case.

Law would not indicate when his decision might be forthcoming. It could be weeks or months.

Willard W. Gatchell, FPC counsel, reiterated at the final session of the hearing his plea that Law rule on his motion to deny the application of Public Power. Gatchell contends that the Public Power application is inadequate.

Law declined to rule.

Gatchell, in pressing his motion, said that every day the power project remains unbuilt means a loss of $250,000 to power consumers in the northeast and in the Canadian area that the development will embrace.

Law, in reply, said:

"I appreciate that, Mr. Gatchell, but haste sometimes makes waste."

Testimony was heard Tuesday from Hugo S. Spalinski, president of Public Power, and from Clarence S. Jarvis, an engineering consultant to the firm.

Frederick Benedict, Public Power's counsel, described their testimony as "clarifying" that introduced earlier by Spalinski.

Gatchell, questioning Spalinski, brought out that Spalinski had erased and substituted a new date on a letter to him from the Eiseman Industrial Corp., indicating willingness to consider arrangements for financing Public Power's part in the estimated $300,000,000 project if it obtained a licence.

Counsel for Public Power attempted to introduce the letter, bearing a Jan. 25, 1953 date, as a part of the record of the case.

Gatchell made immediate objections. He said that the date had been placed over an erasure.

Examination of Spalinski brought out that the letter originally carried a September 1952, date but, Spalinski testified, he substituted Jan. 25, 1953 after receiving a telephone authorization from the head of the Eiseman company.

Law upheld Gatchell's objection. He said that in view of Spalinski's explanation he could not allow the letter to become a part of the record.

France Takes Dutch Children

CANVEY ISLAND, England (AP) Miss Florence Rudge, 74, was plucked from her flooded cottage Tuesday night after 72 foodless, waterless and sleepless hours on a kitchen table.

"You silly men," was her mild greeting to rescue workers, "I thought you'd forgotten me."

FRANKFURT (AP) — The Communists today blamed Holland's flood disaster on the North Atlantic Pact.

Max Reimann, Communist chief in West Germany, sent a public message of sympathy to Dutch Communists in which he said:

"Your dikes, your protection against catastrophe, would have been more efficient if, through the policy of the Atlantic Pact, public funds had not been wasted for the American war."

NICE, France (AP) — A thousand flood-stricken Dutch children will be lodged in church institutions and with families on the French Riviera.

Funds from churches and the city governments of Nice and Cannes will care for them.

NEW STAMPS—A new stamp issue designed to emphasize the importance of wildlife conservation programs of the federal and provincial governments has been designed for the post office and will go on sale April 1. Emanuel Hahn, Toronto sculptor, designed two of the stamps, a four-cent bighorn sheep to be black, and a three-cent moose in brown. The two-cent stamp showing a polar bear and colored blue, was designed by John Crosby an artist of the National Museum at Ottawa.

"No One Ever Regretted Buying Quality"

Local Cage Clubs Reach Various Playoff Series

Phil Mack's Black's entry in the intermediate "B" section of the Ladies' Ontario Amateur Basketball Association playdowns will be unveiled Saturday night in the YWCA. The lasses will play Hamilton Zions in one of the many basketball games played this weekend by Peterborough teams. Practically all teams will see action in one of the busiest weekends this season.

ADAMS FINED—Jack Adams, general manager of the Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League, has been fined $500 for invading a referee's dressing room on the night of a game. League president Clarence Campbell said no useful purpose is ever served by a team official discusing game incidents between periods of the game.

The Zion game will be the first played this year by the Macks quintet and should indicate just how strong they'll be this year. The Hamilton girls are considered one of the strongest senior girls' teams in Canada.

For the past month Black's have been working out at the collegiate gym, attempting to form the strongest possible entry to bring the championship back to Peterborough this year. They include most of the city league's best players.

GIRLS' LINEUP

Macks has Pauline Stewart, Joan Dunk, Wilma Byers, Marj Owen, Jean Bell, Carol Raper and Mabel Gillen on the forward lines. Along the guard line will be Sue Dewarga, Marg Borland, Marion McGill, Mary Jane Wharry and Grace Poast.

The high schools dominate Friday and Saturday night games both in Peterborough and out-of-town.

In Oshawa the PCVS Garnet and Grey teams will play return games with Oshawa CVI. In the opening collegiate games several weeks ago the Garnet and Grey won both games handily. Wins for both Bev Goulding's seniors and Zoltan Temesy's juniors will practically pave the way into the COSSA championship tournament later this month.

Still out of town, this time in Toronto, Coach Johnny Lynch's St. Peter's senior Saints will be competing in the Ontario Catholic Conference tournament. They'll be playing their first game against St. Joseph's High school from St. Thomas.

GOOD TEAMS

The tournament will present some of the best basketball quintets from conference schools in the province. Favorites of the three-day games are the hosts, St. Michael's College or St. Jerome's of Kitchener.

The city league for bantam cage teams will have its second game this season when the St. Peter's High boys meet Kenner collegiate at Kenner. Forming the second half of the doubleheader will be a city midget league game, also between Kenner and St. Peter's.

Ann Morrison's Kenner girls are scheduled to make their second appearance Friday, this time against Cobourg High at Kenner. The Kenner lasses lost their first game and although they are playing an "A" calibre team, will be battling for a win.

Doug MacPherson's Marines, who will be entered in OABA playdowns in about two weeks are attempting to arrange an exhibition game for Saturday night at the YMCA. Most out-of-town teams are in the midst of district or city playoffs and prefer to play only those games.

Marmora Atop The TVL After 9-7 Win

LAKEFIELD (ENS)—In a fine TVL contest before 700 fans (400 of them children) here last night, Marmora edged out an 9-7 win over Lakefield to climb into top place in the standing by two points, as Hastings were beating Campbellford.

The cash prize was won by a Marmora fan, being drawn for by Bun Kingdon. Jack Jopling presented the money. Marshall had to leave late in the first period with an injured ankle, though play was kept clean but for a fight in the third between P. Calberry and Smith. Keene Lions Win

KEENE —(ENS)—In a good, clean game here last night, the Keene Lions juveniles roared to a 12-to-5 win over the Newcastle boys in the first game of a two-game, total-goals series of the first round OMHA juvenile "D" playdowns; and will take a seven-goal lead to Newcastle for the second game Thursday.

The visitors jumped into a two-goal lead early in the game but after the first 10 minutes the homesters took complete command, led by Sellaby, Bethune and Jim Heron.

For the local Lions the goal-getters were Sellaby with five, Bethune four, Edwards, Elmhirst and Renwick one each. Assists went to Jim Heron, Bob Heron, Renwick, Sellaby and Bethune. Jim Heron starred on defence while Elmhirst, Renwick and Bob Heron looked good with Sellaby and Bethune up front. The locals also had three goals called back for players being in the goal crease. The visitors were short-handed and tried hard all the way and will, no doubt, give a better account of themselves on home ice.

Goodson Rolls 414

J. (Bud) Goodson roled a grand single of 414 while G. Walton led in triples with 860 this week in the Major Bowling League. Bickell's topped teams with 3813 pinnage and a single of 1383 in fine bowling. The 7-0 wins went to UE, D & W, Cherney, Burtol, Revenoors, and Selkirk over Crowley, E & B, Wonder, Studebaker, Sunshine and Examiner; the 5-2 victories going to Bickell, Clapper, Hollingsworth, Odeon and Irwin-Godson over Plaza, Brewers, McLeod, Herb's and OPP. In another game, Edwards took Silents by 4-3.

Goodson's mighty effort for a perfect score stole the show in a night of hefty rolling by many. Bud had nine strikes in a row before he broke off with a total of 414.

Other good scores included: J. Platt (315) 784, J. McKenzie 723, F. Hurley 714, W. Stanbury (350) 780, J. Dormer 739, M. Doris (311) 729, H. Correll 745, A. Hall 727, H. Killen (348) 750, D. Veteran Driver Has 80th Birthday

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Ben White, dean of United States sulky drivers, began celebration of his 80th birthday today by arising at 6:30 a.m. to train and drive the trotters at city-owned Ben White Raceway.

The mild-mannered octogenarian born Feb. 5, 1873, at Whitevale, Ont., has been doing that since 1895, and he said he saw no reason to retired just because he had another birthday.

White was tipped off by a blacksmith in 1920 that Orlando would be a good site for a winter training track. He's been coming here since.

White is aided by his son, Gibson, who drives in the races now, but Ben still climbs into the sulky for the morning training spins.

"Just getting into a race is not everything — it's training these young horses and bringing them into full bloom that counts," said Ben.

Benjamin Franklin White, never much of a talker about himself, was the son of a farmer who wanted Ben to become a miller.

However, young White was bitten by the harness racing bug when he drove his first race behind Jenny Dean for his siser at Markham, Ont., in 1888.

In 1895 Ben visited Buffalo, N.Y., and went to a nearby trotting track. "I took one look at the horses," he recalled, "and decided this was for me."

Elizabeth On Throne 1 Year Britons Look Forward With Confidence In Future

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—With sorrow for a dead King and pride in a reigning Queen, Britain this week passes a milestone in her long island story.

A year ago Friday, King George VI died in his sleep and the crown passed to his elder daughter, Elizabeth.

Now, as the Queen surveys the first 12 months of her reign, sadness at her father's death may be tempered by a quiet conviction that she has met and passed the tests of office. The new Elizabethan age, observers agree, is off to a flying start.

The Royal Family's prestige has never been higher.

PRIDE AND REJOICING

When the King died Feb. 6, 1952, it was as though a sigh went round the world. The country's profound emotional reaction gradually gave way to pride and rejoicing in the frail-seeming yet resolute young Elizabeth, first British Queen in more than half a century.

As the second year unfolded there were signs that the radiantly happy sovereign, maturing to her tasks as Victoria had before her, was leading Britain along a comeback road in which the great emotive force of royalty could perhaps play more than a wishful part.

The Queen spent the busiest year of her life. She opened Parliament, presided over state functions in Buckingham Palace, gave garden parties and receptions, made hundreds of decisions, tactfully thought of what seemed spontaneous questions to hundreds of people she often had never seen before. Ahead lay the ordeal of the Coronation.

At her side was her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, adding a new dimension to the concept of royalty. The vigorous, dashing duke went about making speeches which, considering the royal tradition, were surprisingly pointed. His theme was Britain's role in the modern world and her compelling need to use science and technology in the uphill economic struggle.

"Let it never be said that Great Britain became the poor relation of the British Commonwealth in our time," he said.

BRITISH RECOVERY

And as though to show there was something more than fancy in all the talk of new Elizabethan greatness, the country made some progress. The year 1952 had opened in a melancholy spirit of crisis and prophecies of doom. Britain was near bankruptcy. The year 1953 started with the country in better financial shape than in any year since 1947—although reduction in imports accounted for the improvement.

The notable economic event of the first Elizabethan year was the meeting of Commonwealth prime ministers and finance ministers, which ended in December with plans for an approach to the United States for a policy based on "trade not aid."

During the Commonwealth economic conference the Queen gave a dinner party for the visiting ministers at Buckingham Palace and also gave an audience to Canada's Prime Minister St. Laurent. Earlier she had seen, among other, External Affairs Minister Lester Pearson and Vincent Massey, now governor-general of Canada.

While settling down to the varied and exacting duties of queenship, Elizabeth found time for visits to Sandringham and Balmoral, attended the famous summer race meeting at Ascot, inspected Canadian sea cadets in the garden of Buckingham Palace, held investitures and presentation parties and supervised certain preparations for the Coronation. At busy times, she signed her name 100 times a day.

On Christmas Day, she broadcast a call to her people, urging them "whatever your religion, to pray for me" on Coronation Day next June 2.

She spoke from the study at Sandringham House, using the chair and desk that served her father and grandfather George V.

ENCOURAGING SIGNS

There were some encouraging signs in the first Elizabethan year. Britain exploded her first atomic bomb off Australia's Monte Bello Islands, announced the projected opening of an atomic plant, established a clear lead in civilian transport aircraft with the Comet airliner and seemed far ahead, at least on the drawing board, with new types of jet military aircraft.

In what was believed the largest single dollar order for United Kingdom-manufactured goods since the war Canada ordered 15 Vickers Viscount turbo-prop airliners for delivery in 1954-55. Far-sighted Britons urged the nation to think of its aircraft factories as it once thought of its shipyards. Aircraft exports now run about £43,000,000 annually, only some £10,000,000 less than ship exports.

In domestic affairs, rationing remained in effect on staple commodities such as meat, cheese, butter and sugar, but prospects were brighter for everything except butter. Tea, a precious British brew, was freed completely. Housing restrictions were relaxed, and in 1953 a man could build his own house, within certain specifications.

Thus in the grey, blitzed heart of Empire, with its old Victorian houses, its still formidable list of restrictions, its precarious financial condition and dirty railway stations, despite the thickest fogs in years, most people looked with greater confidence to the future.

QUEEN A YEAR—It was just a year ago tomorrow that King George VI died in his sleep and the crown passed to his elder daughter Elizabeth. Now, as the Queen surveys the first year of her reign, sadness at her father's death may be tempered by a quiet conviction that she has met and passed the test of office. The new Elizabethan era, observers agree, is off to a flying start. The Royal family's prestige has never been higher. Britain's collective soul has been touched with pride and rejoicing in the frail-seeming yet resolute Elizabeth, first British queen in more than a century.

Two New Schools Planned For Otonabee Township, Enlarging Third School

The building of two schools in Otonabee and the enlargement of a third loomed into prospect at the meeting of the township council Monday.

The Otonabee School Area Board and County School Inspector K. O. Birkin presented to the council the problem of providing new school accommodation to meet the needs of the increasing attendance.

The twelve rooms which are now becoming a necessity are distributed in planning as follows:

Six room school, with playrooms, at Keene to take in the present sections of Keene, Villiers, Lang, Hiawatha and Mathers Corners.

Four room school with playroom, to be situated near No. 7 Highway, to provide for the present Woodview, Providence, Sixth Line and Indian River sections.

Two room addition with playroom to the present Coldsprings school, to take in Stewart Hall and Zion sections.

It was explained in the discussion that the proposed construction would be financed by borrowing money on debentures.

An immediate view of the council was that some more effectively equalized method of assessment for school purposes was required before any definite step was taken to increase school facilities, and also school costs.

General meetings are contemplated by both the council and school board to refer this subject to the feeling of the Otonabee ratepayers in the area which has been surveyed for the board proposal.

A Toronto firm discussed the possibility of disposal of garbage from the city of Peterborough on the property of Archie Clysdale on the Warsaw Road.

This property is directly east of the city on the Old Orchard Farm. Otonabee council decided to discuss this question with officials of the city.

The surety bond covering the clerk, treasurer and tax collector was renewed.

Leonard Withers applied for permission to operate a salvage yard and shop on his property, lot 28, con. 9. Council decided to look over the site before taking any action.

Albert Fife was given the contract to supply the township with Derris powder for the approaching renewal of the warble fly control campaign.

A deputation discussed work that could possibly be done on the road and hill at lots 21 and 22 in the 15th concession.

Council gave two readings to a bylaw requiring property owners, who are intending to subdivide, to present a plan to the council for approval for registration. This bylaw is being submitted to the Ontario Municipal Board for their sanction. It will then be given third reading.

Two men were killed and a third man, still missing, was blown overboard. Thirty-five more were injured, 18 of them severely.

The carrier was on naval exercises in the Mediterranean when the explosion occurred.

Saunders Hoping Approval In Spring

SARNIA (CP) — Hope for a federal OK this spring on the St. Lawrence seaway, hydro-electric power project was expressed here Tuesday night by Robert Saunders, chairman of the hydro electric power commission of Ontario.

If approval came this spring, "we should have some power developing by 1957," he said. Otherwise, unless steam plants are constructed, Ontario hydro would face a 2.6 per cent power deficiency in 1957.

Mr. Saunders spoke to Western Ontario and Michigan Lions, guests of the Sarnia Lions Club.

Crown Finishes Evidence In Sundae Case

VALLEYFIELD, Que. (CP)—The crown completed its case Wednesday against Lawrence Sundae, an Indian charged with the knife-murder of another Indian, Jake Buckshot, on a reserve last July.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police told the court that when they entered Sundae's house to question him, he said: "I must have lost my temper."

Constable M. Trembla RCMP said he heard Sundae tell someone: "I did not mean to kill him."

Provincial police read a confession allegedly made to them at headquarters. In it, Sundae said:

"I came back to Massena (a nearby centre) at 11 o'clock the night of the 19th. I was sober because I never touch beer or hard liquor. I heard Jake Buckshot tell my brother Frank: 'I will stab you if you come over here.'"

HAD QUARRELLED

Earlier in the day, Frank Sundae testified he and Buckshot had been quarrelling outside the Sundae home when Lawrence came out, roused by the noise of the quarrel. Buckshot took a swing at him.

The confession continued:

"Then I got up, dressed, picked up a knife and went outside. Buckshot tried to hit me with his fist but he missed me. I then hit him in the abdomen once and again in the shoulder."

Dr. Rosario Fontaine, Quebec medico-legal expert, testified earlier that Buckshot died from a wound caused by a sharp instrument which cut an artery leading to the kidneys.

The incident took place at Chenail, on the Quebec section of the reserve which also includes territory in Ontario, not far from Cornwall.

The following accounts were ordered paid: roads $926.30; relief $26.41; street lighting — Hastings road, $57.50; Dummer road, $68; Westwood $55.

Next meeting will be March 2nd at 1 p.m.

Aga Khan Sells Tulyar To Irish Stud

CANNES (AP) — The Aga Khan has sold his famous horse Tulyar to the Irish national stud for £250,000, his secretary announced today.

The purchase price is the highest ever paid for a thoroughbred in Britain.

Tulyar is a beautifully-bred colt by Tehran, which won the 1944 wartime St. Leger Classic, out of a mare whose sire was Nearco, winner of the Italian derby and French Grand Prix in 1938.

Nearco was syndicated as a stallion in England in 1941.

Tulyar is regarded in British racing circles as the best stud proposition in horse racing since Lord Derby's 1933 Derby winner, Hyperion.

UNBEATEN IN 7 RACES

Tulyar was unbeaten in seven races last year as a three-year-old. His successes were the Epsom Derby, the Doncaster St. Leger, the King George VI and Queen Elizabeth Stakes at Ascot, the Eclipse Stakes at Sandown Park, the Derby Trial Stakes at Lingfield, the Ormonde Stakes at Chester, and the Henry VIII Stakes at Hurst Park.

He has already won £76,717, a British record.

If Tulyar is kept in training this coming season he will race under the colors of the president of the Republic of Ireland, Sean T. O'Kelly, to whom all Irish national stud horses are leased.

In Britain, the Queen has first call on racehorses from the national stud.

Tulyar was bred at the Gilltown stud in County Kildare, not far from his new home, the Irish national stud at Tully, County Kildare.

Canadian Band Saves Korean Village In Fire

By BILL BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

IN KOREA (By Mail)—(CP)—A truckload of Canadian bandsmen is credited with helping a Korean hamlet avert destruction by fire recently.

The 19 musicians from the 3rd battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, were returning to the front from a series of engagements in Seoul and Uijongbu.

About 10 miles northwest of Uijongbu they spotted smoke and flames rising above a 30-house cluster of mud-and-wood dwellings. The drum major, Sgt. Lloyd Prest of Vancouver and Calgary, ordered the driver to stop and the men piled out.

Running up to the village they found men and women organized into a bucket brigade and trying in the zero weather to prevent the fire from spreading.

TWO-HOUR STRUGGLE

Taking over, the Canadians worked for two hours quelling the blaze. They had to rip one building apart in the process.

Pte. E. J. Earles of St. John's, Nfld., slipped at one point while fetching water from a well and fell on the fast-freezing ice, injuring his head. He subsequently was taken to hospital.

When the fire was out the Koreans crowded around the truck, thanking the departing soldiers for their trouble. "Canadians number one," they said.

"Very embarrassing," commented Prest.

The Patricias' band of six drummers and 13 buglers "doubles in brass." When not making music, the men form part of the battalion headquarters defence platoon.

On the day of the fire they were returning from a two-day trip during which they played a ceremonial retreat for patients at the Commonwealth Hospital in Seoul, and provided music for a graduation exercise at the Uijongbu NCO school, which the Canadian brigade operates for the division.

Doctor Develops New Method Of Determining Sex Of Children

By A. E. FULFORD

TORONTO (CP) — A simple method of determining the true sex of children born with both male and female characteristics was reported to the Toronto Academy of Medicine Wednesday night.

Dr. Murray L. Barr of the University of Western Ontario said in a lecture the basic sex now can be identified by a study of a small piece of skin from any part of the body.

With this knowledge, previously obtained only through surgery, doctors can direct the hermaphroditic child's development in its proper sex. The knowledge is particularly valuable when it can be obtained in infancy.

Authorities here termed Dr. Barr's work one of the outstanding biological investigations and conclusions of the last 25 years.

Dr. Barr, explaining that female sex chromosomes are called XX and male XY, said he found that all female cell nuclei contain a special structure called the sex chromatin which is derived from the XX chromosomes.

This is not found in males, probably because of the small size of the Y chromosome in the male sex chromosome complex. Chromosomes carry the factors of inherited characteristics.

INDICATES SEX

Identification of the type of sex chromosomes indicates the sex to which the hermaphrodite would have belonged had there been no interference in the normal development of the genital organs. The identification is possible with any body tissue as sex chromosomes are present in all body cells.

The London, Ont., researcher said it is "a relatively simple matter to detect the sex of an individual with no knowledge of the person other than the information derived from examining a small piece of skin under the microscope."

Skin fragments from a hermaphroditic Toronto infant girl and an adult man were tested recently and later operations confirmed the correctness of the decisions Dr. Barr made as to their sex.

Specialists attending the lecture said they hoped Dr. Barr's discovery will prompt parents of hermaphroditic children to start investigation early in life when surgery, if it is necessary, is easy and before the problems such children meet in everyday life have developed.

BEGAN 4 YEARS AGO

Research leading to Dr. Barr's discovery started four years ago in the anatomy department at Western. Associated with him at first were Drs. L. F. Bertram and H. A. Lindsay and later Keith L. Moore and Mrs. Margaret A. Graham carried on the work.

Studying the effects of exhaustion on nerve fibre, the research workers were intrigued by the appearance of the special structure in the cell nuclei of the spinal nerves of some cats.

The first success was in discovering that the structure appeared in the cell nuclei of female cats, but not in cells of male cats. The research workers went on from there to make thousands of tests on cats, monkeys, other animals and finally on humans.

Skin specimens from 100 normal persons, 50 of each sex, were studied and confirmed their findings.

Illicit Drug Ring Now In Ontario

TORONTO (CP) — Police said Wednesday an illicit drug ring in the United States has moved into Ontario.

They said drugs seized here in a raid last week were of U.S. origin.

"They are not available in Canada," one officer said.

The drugs were seized in a west end room and two persons were arrested. The two, Peter Max, 31, and Betty Torrence, 20, were remanded in court Wednesday to Feb. 11 on charges of possessing drugs.

Dwyer said Griffen, 26, talked to Buffalo police in Hamilton, Ont., where he is held for extradition to the United States. Griffin and Maurice (Digger) O'Dell, 27, have been indicted on charges of murder and robbery in connection with the killing.

Dwyer said he expected to bring Griffin and O'Dell to Buffalo next Monday. Both are from Hamilton. Their extradition was ordered by the Ontario Supreme Court.

E. V. McNeill To Head Prov. Police

New Commissioner Former Inspector Of District Here

A former inspector of District 8 with headquarters in Peterborough, Edwin V. McNeill was today appointed commissioner of the Ontario Provincial Police.

He succeeds William H. Stringer who died last week and was buried Monday near Bethany.

Commissioner McNeill was promoted from sergeant to district inspector in 1948 and came to Peterborough in February of that year.

WENT TO WINDSOR

Commissioner McNeill was inspector 18 months. Some time after being moved to Toronto headquarters a scandal broke out in Windsor and Commissioner McNeill was sent acting chief constable while an investigation was launched.

By a coincidental twist the new chief that the Windsor police commission decided on was Inspector Carl W. Farrow who had succeeded Commissioner McNeill in the Peterborough district. Commissioner McNeill then returned to district OPP headquarters here until a permanent district inspector could be named.

The appointment went to Inspector J. A. Stringer, no relation to the late commissioner, who was transferred from Sudbury.

Born in Bruce county, Commissioner McNeill joined the Kitchener police department in February, 1926. He went to the Ontario provincial police as a constable July 20, 1927, and rose through the ranks to appointment as Deputy commissioner last June 1.

During the First World War he served in France with the 18th battalion and with the 3rd Canadian tunnelling company and also spent some time in England as an instructor with the Canadian trench warfare school.

He has three daughters, Mrs. Clare Galvin and Patricia, Peterborough, and Mrs. William Mason, Bobcaygeon.

Firemen Request $900 Increase In '53 Contract

The 1953 salary schedule for the civic employees of the Fire Department landed this week in the council's lap only recently vacated by disposal of the 1952 scale which was settled by arbitration. An early conference with representatives of the Association is being proposed by the council for consideration of this year's working agreement which includes salaries.

Indicating the terms of the list is the salary of $3,750 which is being asked by the Union for the grade of first class fire fighters, as compared with $2,850 last year.

That $2,850, it is understood, includes the $50 raise which the board of arbitration allowed up and down the payroll for last year, although the decision of the mediation between the council and the Association was not announced until the end of last year. Effect was retroactive.

$900 INCREASE

According to those figures, Peterborough's 1st class firemen are asking for an increase of $900 this year. That grade is usually mentioned as an index of all the others.

The salary list to be laid on the table between the council and the Union is quoted as follows, with the corresponding salaries last year in brackets:

Assistant Chiefs	$4,550 ($3,550)
Captains	$4,150 $3,350)
Electricians	$4,150 ($3,050)
Mechanics	$4,150 ($3,050)
1st Class Firemen	$3,750 ($2,850)
2nd Class Firemen	$3,650 ($2,750)
3rd Class Firemen	$3,525 ($2,625)
4th Class Firemen	$3,400 ($2,500)

According to that schedule, the 4th class fireman would be receiving this year almost as much as the First Assistant Chief last year.

Apparently cost of living bonus is being continued for 1953. It is not mentioned in the salary paragraphs of the draft working agreement. But Judge Lane's report of the arbitration of salaries last year commented: "We are in no way intending to disturb the present cost-of-living bonus which is being paid to the personnel of the fire department. Our intention is that the COL bonus shall continue on the present basis and on the basis of the present calculations."

OTHER PROPOSALS

One or two of the other proposals in the Association's brief received tentative approval, but the others were greeted with negatives.

The first subject in the draft agreement received from the firemen related to working hours as follows: "Employees shall be required to work an average week of 48 hours on the two platoon system in accordance with a schedule mutually agreed upon. Each employee will be entitled to three days off in each calendar week."

At the request of the council City Clerk Outram had obtained reports from other departments, and on this first item of application, five other cities were quoted.

The conditions were of 1952.

Kitchener—56-hour week on a two-platoon system.

Belleville—56-hour week. In both of those agreements, requests for change of shifts or days off were on the decision of the Chief.

Brantford—56-hour week with two days off each week on a rotating system, and the Chief may grant the request of any two men for days off.

Oshawa—56-hour week with two days off duty in each week on a rotating system.

St. Catharines — 48-hour week with three days off duty in every calendar week.

Trades And Labor Council Praised By Board Official

Russell Harvey, member of the Ontario Labor Relations Board, praised the Peterborough Trades and Labor Council (AFL) on Wednesday night as a training ground for union leadership. Mr. Harvey, an AFL Ontario representative, said that training gained in labor council work was on a higher level than in work on local unions alone. He explained that it taught members to think of "the other fellows' problems, too."

A group of 50 AFL trade unionists from the 13 affiliated locals, as well as some spectators, heard Mr. Harvey speak on the Ontario Labor Relations Act.

HAD TO FIGHT

Mr. Harvey said that until 1944 the unions had to fight for the right to organize; now they are permitted to do so by legislation, the Ontario Labor Relations Act. This gain for organized labor was achieved because the unions were willing to forego their privileges and gave their support to industry during the Second World War.

Responsibilities of both employer and unions were dealt with by Mr. Harvey. He described proper procedure for a union in applying for certification, conciliation, arbitration, or revocation of contract.

Mr. Harvey described it as "a fine Act," but added that because it is an Act—the law of the province—it has to be lived up and respected by unions.

Glenn Price, president of the labor council, was chairman.

Have 230 Miles Of 4-Lane Highways

TORONTO (CP) — J. D. Millar, deputy highways minister, said Wednesday night that Ontario now has 230 miles of controlled access, four-lane, highways and plans to construct another 1,400 miles.

He told the annual convention of the Ontario agricultural council the new roads to be constructed will ultimately carry 80 per cent of the province's through traffic. He said the new roads are expensive to construct — from $300,000 to $500,000 a mile — but are "absolutely essential" to accommodate present day traffic.

Mr. Millar said that the department does not plan to construct four-lane highways between Fort Erie and Niagara Falls and between Brockville and Gananoque. He said one lane has already been constructed between these points and the present volume of traffic does not justify the expense of constructing four-lanes.

6 Rinks Compete In Sub-Division

Just six rinks began play today at the Charlotte St. Curling Rink for the 16th year of the British Consols competition. They represent sub-division "A" of No. 5 division of the Ontario Curling Association, the winners today playing sub-division "B" survivors here next Saturday night.

They curl 12-end games in a straight elimination competition, eight provincial divisions playing now with the big playoff of the winners in Toronto on Feb. 12 for the McDonald-Brier, won last year by Dr. Ralph Clark's rink from Peterborough. The Ontario champions curl later for the Canadian crown in Winnipeg. The morning results:

Too Many Fences Used At Fairs

TORONTO (CP) — Speakers at the Ontario Association of Agricultural Societies gave some tips Wednesday on how to keep crowds coming back to the local fall fair year after year.

J. S. Walker of Leamington said the Leamington fair board had called in public and separate school teachers, and later the high school principal, to discuss the question of junior classes. To make room for the resultant entries 25 feet of wall space were replaced by a new building for school exhibits with 5,000 square feet of floor space plus wall space.

B. L. McLean of Lindsay suggested getting rid of all unnecessary fences so fair visitors could wander freely about the grounds.

W. R. Walker of Fort William said grounds must be kept up at all times. He also suggested that grandstand performances should not be unnecessarily long since this kept fair visitors from getting around to other exhibits.

Elderly Man Struck By Hit-And-Run Driver

B. J. Lemon, 72, 261 Rubidge St., was struck by a hit-and-run driver at the corner of King and Rubidge Sts. just before midnight Wednesday.

He was thrown to the pavement by the impact, striking his head. His eye swollen and overcoat torn, Lemon was able to proceed to his home where he received medical treatment. Police are investigating.

Retailers Start Committee To Form Policies

Peterborough retailers are organizing a co-ordinating committee under the guidance of the Chamber of Commerce.

This committee will discuss and decide policy in the city in such matters as store hours, sales training of existent employees, credits and collections, advertising and any other fields pertaining to store operation.

Future projects may also include the organization of sales training courses in co-operation with the city's secondary schools.

Approximately 175 retailers in the city are involved in this organization. This total has been divided into 25 classified groups of retailers. The number of retailers in each group ranges from three to 32.

At present these groups are meeting, one a day, to appoint representatives to the central coordinating committee. Six groups have met and have appointed the following representatives:

Horace Coon, shoe stores; Gordon Powell, hardware, glass and paint and builder's supplies; Miss Leona Wood, Isadore Black and F. V. Correll, ladies' wear; Harry Knox, electrical appliances; R. Hutchinson, jewellers; John Leni, gift stores.

Hear Oral Arguments On Two Applications

WASHINGTON (AP) — Power commission examiner Glen R. Law said Wednesday he will hear oral arguments Feb. 27 from two applicants for authority to join with Ontario in building a St. Lawrence river power project.

A hearing on the applications, filed by the power authority of New York, and Public Power and Water Corp., Trenton, N. J., ended Tuesday.

Law said the oral arguments will be substituted for reply briefs and set Feb. 20 as the final date for the filing of main briefs and proposed findings.

The project would be built in the International Rapids section of the river. Its cost is estimated at $300,000,000.

Coronation Day Plans To Include Fireworks Religious Service, Parade

Representatives of 60 Organizations Draw Up Rough Plans To Celebrate Crowning of Queen June 2

Plans to celebrate Coronation Day, June 2, in Peterborough got under way Wednesday night at a meeting in city Hall attended by representatives of some 60 local organizations who appointed Mayor Hugh Waddell and Ald Syd Black to select a planning committee of local citizens within the next week. Ald. Black will act as chairman of the committee. Consensus at the meeting was that there should be some form of religious observance, a parade, a public ceremony at Exhibition Park, an evening entertainment and a display of fireworks to climax the day.

Reeve Dick Stewart of Otonabee township, who represented Peterborough county in the absence of Warden Leeson who was unable to be present, said that the feeling of other members of the county council to whom he had spoken was that their municipalities would like to participate in a central celebration at Peterborough in some way, such as entering floats in the parade.

WIDE REPRESENTATION

Mayor Waddell said that, while it was difficult for a meeting of that size to select a planning committee, he was desirous of having as many organizations represented as possible.

Chamber of Commerce manager James Fraser said that according to information obtained from the Ontario Department of Travel and Publicity, no plans had been made in other communities in the province but at the previous coronation public services had been held in most communities.

R. L. Dobbin, secretary-manager of the PUC, gave the opinion that the days would be too long at that time of year for special street lighting and suggested the streets be decorated with flags and bunting.

John Barnes, on behalf of the Optimists' Club, suggested that a contest be held to select coronation holiday queen of the city and a coronation ball at which she would be crowned.

PUBLIC CHURCH SERVICE

Rev. Harry G. Douglas of Knox United Church, president of the Ministerial Association, suggested a public service with massed choirs of the city. He also said that the celebration should be one in which the children had a leading part and that they should receive some sort of permanent memento of the occasion, such as a medallion.

Donald Loucks, chairman of the library board, said that the celebration should be planned primarily from a religious aspect.

"I don't think we should cheapen it in any way, shape or form," he insisted.

Ald. T. D. Miller said that the celebration ought to consist of a "balanced program." He suggested services in the various churches in the morning; a parade to the exhibition grounds in the afternoon, with massed bands, ex-servicemen's organizations and the reserve army taking part; a display by the RCAF, a street dance in the evening and a display of fireworks by the George St. wharf.

Bruce Servos, vice-president of the RCAF association, said that his organization would contact the RCAF regarding an aerial display and also reported that the CO of Air Cadets had agreed to have them present a ceremonial parade and precision drill.

Ald. H. T. Rehill suggested that special services might be held in the local churches on the Sunday prior to Coronation Day and emphasized that the parade should include floats, a suggestion endorsed by several other speakers.

Numerous speakers expressed endorsation of the plans put forward. Although many of those present said that the organizations they represented had not met since the meeting was announced, most said that their groups were prepared to give whole-hearted support.

Crown Attorney Starts Off Police Lectures

The city hall courtroom was packed with city and provincial police Wednesday night who came to hear the first of a series of lectures on police work. The lectures — frankly labelled an experiment by the Police Commission—are intended to keep the police of both departments on their toes.

Some 35 city and provincial police attended the first lecture which was given by Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw, QC. Members of the OPP included those stationed at headquarters here in Peterborough and others who could be spared from various detachments throughout No. 8 District—Brighton, Cobourg, Bowmanville, Lindsay, Campbellford, and Minden.

Lectures will include such subjects as preparing a brief for Crown counsel, court procedure, confessions, giving evidence, and other aspects of police work.

Judge John de N. Kennedy asked that the gatherings be as informal as possible; and that there should be free discussions and questions asked on any dubious or controversial points.

So those police who are on duty will not miss out, each lecture will be repeated. Crown Attorney Bradshaw will speak again next Wednesday night. Others who will give lectures are Judge Kennedy, Magistrate Philp, W. B. (Pete) Gordon, and Norman Crook.

NOBODY WAS INJURED Wednesday when this heavy tractor-trailer turned over on Highway 2. Driver Wilbert Wilson of Toronto braked the transport suddenly to avoid a collision with a car driven by Mike Cummins of Colborne, who made a left turn in front of him. Gasoline began to leak from the left tank of the truck after the crash, but did not explode. The overturned transport blocked all but a small portion of the highway. —(Murray Smith Photo)

QUEEN ELIZABETH AT FLOOD SCENE — Britain's Queen Elizabeth II arrives at Hunstanton, Norfolk, England, where flood waters have razed village homes and left many dead in its wake. Late reports claim 363 dead in England and nearly 1,000 on the European continent as the worst flood in five centuries whipped out of the Atlantic Ocean.

Table For Two In Tree Night Club Coronation Lure

By ARCH MacKENZIE

LONDON (CP) — London's night clubs, cabarets and restaurants are primping in hopes that the Coronation season will be the brightest since the gay days of the Edwardians.

The patron's tab will be more than it was in the boisterious pre-1914 days, or than it is right now, although the exact scale hasn't been decided yet in many places.

But the entertainment ingredients won't have changed much, despite any new-fangled wrappings, from the showman's standby of the ages: There'll be girls, wine, girls, song and girls.

Jamaican girls, "Lucious lovelies . . . all very artistic of course," are being imported by a club-cabaret for two shows nightly during the six-week season.

STANDARD PROPS

Standard props of Gypsy music, soft lights and garden dining will be featured. In fact, lighting seems a major item in the general face lifting.

Subtle illumination reaches the ultimate in the garden of a club owned by Rico Dajou where a table for two is perched in a tree.

One club is flying over plane loads of Americans who, it is hoped, will do the town by night and sleep by day in the plane.

A Canadian, at first glance, might get the impression that London's night life is pretty tame except in Mayfair and Soho. Exceptions can be found but most sections roll up the streets well before midnight.

LACKS PARIS TOUCH

"Generally speaking, the city after dark lacks the garish touch externally of Paris or New York but the clubs, once you're inside, are just about the same.

One British newspaper, the Evening News, gave a sample of what may be expected in prices when it reported the case of four overseas visitors who paid more than $30 for two bottles of champagne and chicken sandwiches in a West End dine-and-dance spot.

For straight eating, prices range from the stiffest at elegant Mayfair premises to bargains at out-of-the-way spots. Soho, famed for eating places and notorious for its after-dark reputation, can provide a none-too-elaborate meal with a minimum of wine for under $3 a person.

Gastronomic entertainment alone won't suffice for many visitors, however, most club men hope. "Les girls" will be in demand.

As one of the main night club moguls summed it up for Noel Whitcomb of the Daily Mirror: "Anatomy is something we all have, but we've got to remember that it looks better on girls."

Claim Peak Conquered

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—A five-man Chilean mountain-climbing team claimed Wednesday it conquered 23,080-foot Mt. Aconcagua, loftiest peak in the Andes. Japanese, Brazilian and Argentine teams also have claimed they have reached its summit during the last month. Aconcagua is in Argentine territory just east of the Chilean border.

Returns To Studebaker

NEW YORK (AP)—Paul G. Hoffman is resigning as president of the Ford Foundation to return to the Studebaker Corporation as chairman of its board of directors, it was announced Wednesday. Hoffman formerly was president of Studebaker, when he left to become first administrator of the economic co-operation administration.

Romance Ends Happily In Home For Aged

CORNWALL (CP)—A six-months romance ended happily in the county home for the aged this week when 70-year-old Mrs. Christina McLeod was married to Francis Nicolas Duvall, 79.

The ceremony was performed at the home. Afterwards the newlyweds moved from single quarters into the wing for married couples.

Mr. Duvall came to the home a year ago and met his bride six months ago when she moved in.

Farmlands May Be Useless For Years From Flood Salt After Hurricane

LONDON (Reuters)—Thousands of farmers in flood-stricken Britain and the Netherlands face a problem unknown in inland river flooding—salt.

Miles and miles of once-rich farmland have been poisoned by the sea water driven in by last weekend's hurricane.

It will be years before crops can be raised again.

The effect of salt poisoning on farmland can be seen in the heaps of earth worms, washed up dead.

Sea water contains about four ounces of salt to the gallon. Once drained the land is rank and unfertile.

Gypsum can be used to counter the salt but heavy rainfall is needed to dissolve the gypsum and carry it through the soil. Most of the flooded lands are in low rainfall areas and the gypsum cannot be used, anyway, until the topsoil has been drained.

END HARVEST HOPES

The sudden floods, swamping eastern England, ended harvest hopes this year on hundreds of farms which were green with winter wheat only a few days ago.

Salt water is penetrating deep into the soil, and experts will be forced to wait until late summer or early auumn before they can test the ground for salt contamination. Agriculture ministry scientists believe four years may pass before much of the flooded land returns to normal. With heavy soil it may take longer—up to 20 years for some fields to regain full fertility.

Some of Britain's best arable land has been lost to the life-destroying salt waves.

In Lincolnshire, which produces a sixth of Britain's potato crop and a large part of the wheat crop, 17,000 acres are under water. Farmers are ready to write off the wheat crop as a dead loss in many areas.

In Suffolk, 10,000 acres are under water, seven feet deep in places. Norfolk, Britain's biggest sugar-beet country, reported 12,000 acres flooded, and in Essex farmers surveyed 30,000 ruined acres.

'FRISCO FIRE TOLL

The great San Francisco fire in 1906 cost 452 lives and property damage of $350,000,000.

Unsightly Pimples —Skin Eruptions

Here is a clean, stainless, penetrating antiseptic oil that dries right in and brings you fast, effective relief. Not only does MOONE'S EMERALD OIL help promote rapid and healthy healing in open sores and wounds but boils and simple ulcers are also relieved.

In skin affections the Itching of Eczema is quickly stopped. This is true of Salt Rheum, Skin Rashes, Cracked Itching Toes and Feet and many other skin disorders. Pimples—skin eruptions—dry up and scale off in a few days.

Moone's Emerald Oil is sold satisfaction or money back by all good drug stores.

Senate Committee Suggests Granting Dutch Bank Charter

OTTAWA (CP)—A Senate committee recommended Wednesday that Parliament grant a charter to a Netherlands-controlled bank for operations in Canada despite opposition from four top banking officials.

The bankers objected to chartering the Mercantile Bank of Canada on grounds that the need for an 11th chartered bank does not exist, that competition now is stiff and that further applications will follow resulting in curtailing branch banking in smaller centres.

However, Graham Towers, president of the Bank of Canada, told the Senate banking and commerce committee that he feels a "little new blood doesn't do the public any harm."

"While competition is strenuous among the present 10 banks, it isn't in the same league as the cloak and suit trade."

VOTE 16 TO 4

The committee voted 16 to 4 in favor of recommending parliamentary approval for the new bank.

The proposed new bank would be controlled by the Dutch banking firm Netherland Handelsbank N.V. of Amsterdam which will advance $1,000,000 in capital if Parliament grants a charter. Another $500,000 will be raised in Canada.

At earlier hearings sponsors of the application said the bank aimed at operations mainly in international trade, particularly in the Far East. The first office probably would be opened in Vancouver.

Opposing the application were James Muir, president of the Royal Bank of Canada; Robert Rae, president of the Dominion Bank; H. L. Enman, president of the Bank of Nova Scotia; and James Stewart, general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

Mr. Stewart, replying to questions from Senators John T. Haig (PC—Manitoba) and W. D. Euler (L—Ontario), said that this is the opening struggle between two different types of banking—branch banking as conducted in Canada and unit banking.

Unit banks, operating only in larger centres as the Mercantile Bank proposed to do, would "feed off the cream of the banking business. We can't afford to operate branches in smaller centres without that cream of the larger centres. We might have to restrict operations in smaller centres."

2 Men Killed In Collision

ST. JOACHIM, Ont. (CP)—Two men were killed Wednesday and two others injured when a car collided with a truck at an intersection three miles east of here.

Dead are Wilfrid St. Jean, 37, and Omer Gagnier, 42, both of Tilbury. Robert McCullough, 24, also of Tilbury, suffered critical injuries and Murry Balsam, 25, of Coatsworth received undetermined injuries.

Police said the car in which the four men were riding smashed into a truck driven by Glenwood McGehan, 35, of Windsor, as the truck crossed No. 2 highway. The truck was thrown 35 feet from the crossing.

St. Joachim is 20 miles west of Chatham.

Ferry Capsizes

TOKYO (AP)—An inter-island ferry capsized and sank in rough seas Wednesday off Okinawa and carried 58 Ryukuans to probable death. The captain and one survivor swam to a small island north of Okinawa. U.S. rescue planes searched a 200-square-mile area for survivors.

Fire, Police Grant System Change Urged

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario provincial-municipal relations committee recommended Wednesday to Premier Frost that the conditional fire and police grant system be abolished and replaced by one on a basis of population.

The 2½-year study of the present system brought forth the following recommendations:

1. Conditional grants on account of municipal police and fire expenditures be discontinued.
2. All statutory provisions requiring collective bargaining by way of compulsory arbitration for the personnel of municipal police and fire departments be repealed.
3. An unconditional grant graded upward by population be paid to municipalities.
4. A province-wide uniform municipal assessment be instituted.

Premier Frost said the recommendations would be studied.

Lamas Likes Freedom Of U.S. Women

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Women are the same all over the world, and I say God bless them," says Fernando Lamas, the Latin lover.

Lamas made a hit co - starring with Lana Turner in "the Merry Widow" and continued with a real-life romance with her that was short-lived but torrid.

His steady date these days is luscious Arlene Dahl, with whom he is starring in "Sangaree." (By curious Hollywood logic, Lana is being squired by Lex Barker, recently divorced from Miss Dahl). An amiable and talkative fellow, the Argentinian reflected at length about women here and abroad.

LITTLE DIFFERENCE

He observed that women are the same everywhere in the world, differing only in degree.

"American women are slightly different from Latins because they have more freedom," he remarked. "I take my hat off to them; the women here have earned their position of equality with men. They can influence men by direct means, whereas the Latin women cannot. The Latin women have to remain in the home, and the man is the master. Whatever influence they have must come by indirect means.

HAVE DISADVANTAGES

"The women in the United States have the advantages of equality with men, but they also have disadvantages. In gaining their position, they have had to get in and work elbow-to-elbow with men. Thus they lose a certain quality of softness.

"Ah, softness! That is the thing I look for in a woman. Arlene possesses it to a remarkable degree. But that is probably because she is a second-generation American."

Asked how American and Latin women differ physically, he said:

"I read this once in a book and I believe it is true: 'From the waist down, the American woman is the best; from the waist up, the Latin woman is the best.'

"That is how I feel: American women undoubtedly have the most beautiful legs in the world. The women are also more striking looking, because they are bigger. But for classic beauty, the Latin women have the most beautiful faces."

Danish Parliament Studies Changes In Constitution

COPENHAGEN (Reuters)—Constitutional changes to make Denmark more democratic and to allow a queen to reign over the country were taken up by Parliament Wednesday.

The most popular change would alter the rules of royal succession to allow 12-year-old Princess Margrethe, freckle-faced daughter of King Frederik IX, to ascend the throne.

The changes, worked out among all major political parties, were presented by Prime Minister Rik Eriksen. They provide that:

1. A woman may come to the throne if there is no direct male heir. This means that if Queen Ingrid does not bear 53-year-old King Frederik a son (they already have three daughters), Princess Margrethe would become queen. The change would oust Prince Knud, Frederik's 52-year-old brother, as heir apparent.

2. The age requirement for voters will be lowered from the present 25 to 23 or 21.

3. The upper house of Parliament (Landsting) will be abolished and Parliament will have a single house. The Landsting is a mere rubber stamp for the lower house.

4. Greenland, long a Danish colony, will become a full part of Parliament.

The constitutional changes must be approved by Parliament, then national elections will be held in April under the old constitution and the new Parliament will have to approve.

Next the issue will be put to the people and 45 per cent of the entire eligible electorate will have to say "yes." Only then will the king sign the new constitution.

Car Crash Kills Two

CHICOUTIMI, Que. (CP)—Two persons were killed and two others injured Wednesday night when two cars collided near Chambord, 55 miles from this northeastern Quebec community.

Dead are Mrs. Ulric Desbiens of Jonquiere and her daughter, Mrs. Paul Deville. Injured were Louis Simard of Metabetchouan, driver of the small English car in which the four were riding, and his wife.

Lumber Exports To Britain Decline

LONDON (CP)—Canada is expected to sell about 225,000 standards (450,000,000 board feet) of softwood to Britain this year compared with 450,000 standards supplied last year, timber sources say.

They see little possibility that Canada will boost timber sales as a result of eased United Kingdom housing restrictions. In fact, they consider that Britain already has most of the 1,100,000 standards asking for it."

that she plans to allow herself in Canada sold the U.K. 1,627,000 standards in 1951 but Britain now buys most of her softwood from the European sterling markets.

One timber spokesman said he doesn't think Canada is suffering from loss of her British markets. He said Canadian prices are higher than elsewhere and Canadian exporters "must be getting that higher price or they would op

Health Dept. To Be Given $10,000,000

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario department of health will receive 48 per cent of the province's total public works estimates for the coming year for construction of hospitals, Health Minister Phillips said Wednesday.

The figure would amount to more than $10,000,000, he told the annual convention of the Ontario Agricultural Council.

Mr. Phillips said much of the money would be labelled to provide psychiatric wards in every medical centre in the province.

TO REVISE COURSE

First-year courses in Ontario vocational high schools will be revised to emphasize academic subjects, Education Minister Dunlop told the council.

He said the move will give the curriculum a proper perspective. Revisions would reduce the time devoted to technical subjects and increase the allotment to such subjects as English and history.

He said students specialized too early. He envisaged a grade nine course "pretty much the same" throughout the province.

Two-Minute Speeches Feature WI Meeting

HAVELOCK— (ENS) — Two-minute impromptu talks on assigned subjects was the main item on the program at a meeting of the Havelock Women's Institute held in the council chamber on Monday. Mrs. F. McKenzie was the program convener.

Hard To Take Prisoners In Stalled Korean War

WASHINGTON (AP) — The bag of new prisoners is dwindling to virtually nothing in the stalled Korean war, where both sides sit in heavily-fortified positions.

Records made available Wednesday by the defence department showed that during December only 29 Red soldiers were captured.

By contrast, the total take of prisoners by United Nations forces when the big Allied offensive was cutting up Red divisions and rolling swiftly northward in October, 1950, was 51,868.

In stockades as of Jan. 16 were 122,658 Red PoWs. By far the greater part, 101,556, were North Koreans, the rest Chinese. To a considerable degree, this reflected the huge groups of North Koreans captured in 1950, before the Chinese entered the war.

NO OVER-ALL TOTAL

No over-all total for United Nations personnel taken by the Reds is available.

The monthly total of Americans captured by the enemy is even lower than enemy prisoners taken—perhaps a dozen or 15 against 30 Reds.

Prisoners are valuable in war, especially on a static front.

Except for air reconnaissance and scraps of information gained from agents, prisoners provide the only intelligence on enemy strength deployment and intentions.

Even though a prisoner gives no information other than the required name, rank and serial number, he can be the source of intelligence. Insignia, identification papers, personal letters, even his dialect can indicate the origin and whereabouts of his unit, how long it has been in the line and whether freshly brought up as replacement. If he chooses to talk, some idea of the plans and intentions of the foe may be gained.

Film Festival Three Nights 1,200 Expected

Outstanding films of a documentary nature obtained from Comonwealth and other countries will be included in the program of the 3rd Annual Peterborough Film Festival Feb. 19-21.

Sponsored by the Peterborough film council, the festival will be held in Queen Mary School auditorium.

Royal Scotland, a film giving the colorful and historical background of Scotland will be one of the outstanding films featured at the festival. It has been obtained for showing through the co-operation of the United Kingdom Information Office and the J. Arthur Rank Corporation.

COLORFUL CORAL GROWTHS

Color Wonderland is another program feature. It shows the colorful coral growths of the island reef and brings to the screen the tiny fish and underwater creatures of the barrier reef.

The story of the extensive training of officers in all branches of Canada's armed forces will be told in the film, Tomorrow's Officers. Its setting is at the Royal Military College, Kingston and Royal Roads, Victoria.

Countries represented by these films will be India, New Zealand, Australia, United States and Persia as well as Canada. The subject matter ranges from creative art to agriculture.

In 1952 a capacity audience attended both nights of the festival. This year the film council decided to extend the festival to three nights and are expecting a total attendance of 1,200.

Tickets for the festival may be obtained at the Public Library or from one of the film council directors.

Men Favoring More Color

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Men are going in for more color in their clothing than they did a few years ago.

This is pretty obvious any summer's day, but the idea is being emphasized at the current men's apparel fair and convention in Toronto.

The fair includes that rather extraordinary event, a male fashion show, in which salesmen from various stores don their best air of nonchalance to show off the latest in men's suits, coats, haberdashery, beach wear.

MAKING PROGRESS

Probably only on his wedding day is the average man quite so smartly turned out as the men in the "fashion show," but the apparel people feel they are making progress.

Mark Ely, Toronto retailer, commented:

"For years the working man's pocketbook kept his wardrobe to one suit — the dark blue Sunday best. Now that he can afford three suits he is picking out brighter and more pleasing colors."

The slogan of the show is: "The right clothes at the right time."

Some new fabrics from the newer fibres are being shown, such as water-repellent, shape-retaining and crease-resisting suits; and there are some eye-catching oddities, just to attract attention.

Speaking of shows, the Canadian international hobby and homecraft show will be held in Toronto Feb. 6-14. Sixty-seven hobbies and homecrafts, with more than 3,000 entries, will be seen in action.

There will be, for instance, model railroading, woodworking, ceramics, weaving, cooking.

Vaccine Doesn't Cure All Influenza Cases

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The World Health Organization of the United Nations said Wednesday there is no vaccine against all types of influenza, and that a statement issued here Tuesday on the subject had been interpreted too optimistically.

W. H. O. said such a vaccine is "an ultimate aim, but unfortunately it has not been achieved." A press release Tuesday said experts hoped to announce mastery of the disease in 1954 through the efforts of scientists in 55 laboratories in 44 countries.

Police Chief Quits

WINGHAM (CP)—Wingham town council Wednesday night accepted the resignation of chief of police J. W. Irwin and appointed night constable Lloyd Brant acting chief of police.

Clothes, Furniture Needed By Flood Victims In U.K.

LONDON (Reuters)—Relief supplies ranging from clothes to furniture will be welcomed by British flood disaster victims, the Women's Voluntary Services said Wednesday.

"There is practically nothing we could not use," Mrs. G. H. Dunbar, head of the empire and foreign department of the WVS, said. The WVS is collecting supplies for people who lost their homes.

"I would ask people abroad to send us the products of their countries," Mrs. Dunbar said. "Probably each country has something of its own manufacture that it could send.

GIVES ADDRESS

Mrs. Dunbar said small postal packages should be sent to the WVS at Nottingham or Cambridge marked "flood relief." Goods sent by sea should be addressed to WVS headquarters, London, but the WVS should be warned in advance so that shipments could be diverted where most needed.

The WVS is expecting six tons of adult clothing promised by an unknown donor in the United States, 60 cases of clothing and underclothing from the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire in British Columbia, 250 pairs of children's shoes from Norway, and 100 food parcels from the English-Speaking Union, Boston, Mass.

Breaks Neck On Hill

TORONTO (CP) — Beverley Gentle, 17, suffered a broken neck Tuesday night when a toboggan travelled about 70 feet through the air after taking off from a hill. It somersaulted twice. June Nicklas, 16, also aboard the toboggan, was unhurt.

Harbormaster Dies

TORONTO (CP)—John M. Allen, 76, for many years harbormaster here, died Wednesday. For many seasons he presented the top hat to the first captain to pilot his boat into Toronto harbor.

FASHION FORECAST FROM PARIS

Streamlined Hips Top New Collections

OLD MASTERS inspired de Givenchy

NEW SILHOUETTE by Balmain accents length.

By ROSETTE HARGROVE

PARIS (NEA). — Already the shape of the 1953 silhouette has been drawn. Once again, by milady's mysterious magic, women will change their appearance. To conform to the new fashion, they'll have an opulent bosom, rounded shoulders, a well-defined but normal waistline and last, but most important, hips as streamlined as a jet plane.

Skirt lengths will vary according to style and function of the dress, but there's a tendency to hide the calf. Necklines will be generously revealing or creep up to the region of the ears.

Sleeves will attract a modicum of attention. "Paris" beige, white and pink in every possible shade are the new colors, with a determined return offensive of navy in competition with black.

The Spring fashion forecast in the Paris daily, Figaro, reports these trends:

Christian Dior's 1953 slogan is: "The new fashions are the joy of deeply breathing in the soft Spring air." Inspired by flowers, his line is divided into two silhouettes—the wide skirt and the straight skirt.

Skirts remain long and waistlines well-defined and normal. Fitted bodices will amplify the bust. Shoulders are normal.

A distinctive, geometric cut will run through the entire collection as a leit-motif, in bodices as well as skirts. Redingotes will be numerous, and decolletes are crescent-shaped and seductive.

Fabrics will include wool and silk mixtures and exclusive prints, featuring beige, black and red. Dior "white" will predominate.

Hubert de Givenchy's line is inspired by old masters. Skirts long, will range from ultra-wide to straight and narrow.

The princess line is another inspiration. Deep, wide decolletes will be accompanied by long and often full sleeves. Stoles will still be featured. Straight topcoats and tailleurs with brief, fitted jackets will be worn with hair-concealing hats.

Jacques Fath uses, as his theme, "the four cardinal points." There will be four lines—North, South, East and West.

This gay and youthful collection will focus interest on the waistline. This will always be stressed, but often movable. Skirts will remain long, but more importance will be given to shoulders.

Two-piece ensembles will predominate. There will also be many elegant redingotes. Evening gowns will be either short or long and richly encrusted with embroidery.

J. Patou's new "flower-pot" line will completely change the conception of a woman's body.

Skirt length will be variable and the waistline will be defined, but not stressed. Dresses will show "andalusian" decolletes and will favor bright red as well as clear colors.

Manguin will bring to her new line, "Bird's Wing," a mixture of seriousness and a note of fantasy. The "profiled" line will be stright and supple. Skirts, slightly longer, will be "spindled."

Waistlines are normal, but will sometimes give the impression of "travelling." Bodices will be accented and shoulders widened. Hips will draw attention, as they will be molded as "folded wings."

Pierre Balmain will show a long-legged line. His new silhouette—narrow, plain, simple — will accent length. Skirts are slightly longer, waistline normal, trimmings placed "high".

"Afternoon" dresses will be replaced by either ultra simple or ultra formal styles. Interest will be focused on the latter, which will be placed under three headings: "curtsey," "baccara" and "paddock".

Jean Desses, always bubbling over with new ideas, will show in his new line—"The Wind"—a theme which will follow through his entire collection — the use of frills. There are no set skirt lengths. Waistlines, normal but, more important, shoulders are slightly squared.

Important points are: bodices which emphasize the bosom; Suummer furs; beige and a violet blue dominating colors.

Heim composes his collection with the greatest application and seriousness. His new line — "Jewel-case" — will tend to adorn women and yet leave them liberty of movement.

Skirts are slightly longer and widened at the hem, with medium and controlled fullness.

The lowered waistline will nevertheless curve in normally, underlined by draperies. Molded bodices are often cut in one piece and with the skirt. There are no sleeves to dresses and three-quarter sleeves to suits. Collars will be high in front and decollete in the back.

Maggy Rouff has called her new line "Little Ship". It includes two completely different trends for day and evening.

The first is supple, with simple, straight skirts. The second is full, with width often introduced in encrusted bands at the hemline.

Collars will be highlighted. They will vary from the flat "sailor" type to those projected forward. Fitted jackets to suits will carry vests instead of blouses. Furs, completing this collection, will be worked in wide, supple stoles which will look as light as chiffon.

Carven, the young people's dressmaker, has created a line of Columbian inspiration. Long skirts will endorse "dancing" fullness. The waistline will also travel although normal.

Hips, where all interest is concentrated, will be molded, stripped, and, because of a new technique of cut, considerably slenderized. Dresses will have "hermetical" fastenings, but the neck will be free.

Lanvin (Castillo) calls his new collection "Coronation Line". It sets out to liberate a woman's body. The new line, all in curves, will make one think of an elegant and slender vase.

Principal interest will reside in skirts, which will be slightly shortened and show reasonable fullness, all achieved by a subtle "interior" cut. The waistline is in its normal place.

Madeleine de Rauch was inspired completely to change her recent "middy" line. Skirts will be straight or slightly widened at the hem. All interest will reside in bodices. Unfitted, treated on the "shirtwaist" theme, these will underline the bosom.

Raphael has brought many changes in suits, in which he specializes.

His new silhouette—the flowering line—will abandon the classic in favor of an ultra-feminine note. Jackets will be easy-fitted. Shoulders are rounded and normal but sleeves will start from a low, widened armhole.

Interest is concentrated on necklines. These will be rounded, scooped out and will transform a day suit into a cocktail number. Topcoats will reveal a new formula for the favorite redingote. Skirts will be boxpleated or widen at the hem.

DOROTHY DIX:

Bemoans Manners, Moods Of Eligible Males She Meets

DEAR MISS DIX: Where are all the gentlemen in the world? I am 40 years of age, good looking, don't smoke or drink, go to church, and am looking for a man who doesn't drink, is good, kind, honest and decent. Is that too much to want? If not, then where can I find such a one? The men I do meet are more interested in what I have to offer in the way of petting, or how I stack up as a drinking companion, or how much money I can contribute towards an evening's entertainment, than they are in my company as a lady.

BELLA.

HER BEAU IDEAL

ANSWER: Laments constantly reach my desk rom men who bemoan the fact that they can't find an old-fashioned girl, or from females who are convinced gentlemen are extinct. Both notions are, of course, completely false, but in order to establish the possible fruitfulness of a search, one must be firmly convinced that a lady or a gentleman is really the object of the search.

Too often, what a man wants is a glamor girl with housewifely qualities, or a lady seeks a dashing man-about-town who can turn effervescence into domesticity at just the proper moment.

A man who would answer your description, Bella, could quite possibly be a bit of a bore, too. And you probably wouldn't consent to be bored even for the privilege of having a man who is honest, good, kind and decent. Be honest, would you? Your gentlemanly possessor of the above-mentioned qualities could also be a hard worker, a good provider, a considerate husband in financial matters, but alas! he also could prefer an evening at home with the television to one at a night club. Could you honestly say that a solid diet of evenings at home would satisfy you? It might if you are sincere in your desire for a gentleman; it wouldn't if you are more interested in gaiety. I certainly don't intend to convey that all gentlemen are stodgy, but it is more than likely that most of them who reach forty and remain unattached are inclined that way. Gentle, but gay, young men of 25 are plentiful, but they're snapped up mighty fast; those who are bachelors at 40 either lack the joie de vivre that would have attracted younger women, or they're thoroughly set in their bachelorhood.

The best way for an unattached lady to meet a gentleman similarly situated is through mutual friends. Your married friends should be a big help in this respect. Most men meet, through business or through masculine social activities, eligible men whom they could easily invite home for dinner. Naturally, a single lady would be needed to even the table settings, so if your married lady friends are aware of the fact that you're available for such occasions, you should at least have frequent opportunities for meeting gentlemen.

Always bear in mind, however, that by the 40's, statistics are against your meeting any nice, unattached man. Women outnumber men at any age, but by the time middle age approaches, the statistical gap widens — against women!

Don't relax your set standards, but don't expect them all to be embodied in a knight in shining armor.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Do you think I would be doing wrong if I went to work again? My husband was killed in battle nine years ago, and I have taken care of my child and self ever since. I can't move without my daughter close to me; the only time she's not with me is when she's at school. Her teachers say it would be better for both of us if I went to work and had something to do during the day. Do you think that's right?

CARRIE

ANSWER: If your daughter can be cared for in the interim between scohol and your homecoming, I certainly think you would both benefit from your going back to work. The child is probably nine or ten now, at which age she should be developing a social life of her own, through Scouting, Camp Fire Girls or some such activity. Renewed interest in the outside world will be good for you, too. By all means try a job, at least long enough to see how it will affect you both.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been going with a lady for quite a while, and we have seen each other often until about a month ago. Since then she has cut down on our dates, pleading business whenever I ask her to go out. I realize she is working hard, since she has her own shop, but wonder if this is just a gentle "brush-off."

GEORGE H.

ANSWER: I think you have reached a quite accurate conclusion, George. All things point to the lady's lack of interest in your courtship. Stay away for a while, at least, and see if she misses you.

What's Right?

You would like to take the woman who is to be your weekend hostess a gift, but have no idea of what she might be able to use or what would fit into her decorative scheme.

WRONG: Buy anything just to have a gift with you when you arrive.

RIGHT: Wait until you return home and then send a gift.

Rundown; Always Tired; Back, Limbs Sore, Painful

Also Suffered From Stomach Disorders, Poor Appetite, Couldn't Sleep Well. Tells of Good Results He Got By Taking Syntona.

"I was badly rundown, always tired and tortured by aches and pains, but a few bottles of Syntona have me feeling like a different person," said Mr. Ernest L. Cook, 149 Cornhill Street, Chatham, Ontario, in a recent report.

"This condition had hung on for quite a long time. There were bad pains in all my limbs, back, joints and muscles. I couldn't sleep well, had no appetite and what little food I did eat gave me indigestion, gas and heartburn.

"It was through a friend at the plant that I heard about Syntona. He was saying how much it had helped him, so I got some and it has certainly made a wonderful difference. Backache and other aches and pains are relieved. I eat better, am getting more sound restful sleep and no not feel all dragged out as I did before. Also my food digests without causing all that gas and distress afterwards."

Whether you are 18 or 80 you may at times begin to feel rundown, tired, and suffer from aches and pains just as Mr. Cook describes. Then, it's time to try Syntona. This medicine has helped thousands in similar circumstances and the chances are it will do the same for you, and soon have you feeling like yourself again.

Miss A. M. Harris Weds Brampton Rector

GORE'S LANDING— (ENS)— The wedding of Miss Alice Mary Harris and the Rev. Allan Johnson, rector of Christ Church, Brampton, took place on Tuesday afternoon at St. Peter's Anglican Church, Cobourg. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Harris of Glen Lynden Farm, Gore's Landing. Mr. Johnson is son of Mrs. G. I. B. Johnson of Richmond Hill and the late Rev. G. I. B. Johnson who was rector of St. Saviour's Church, Toronto. His brother, the Rev. Harold Johnson, is now rector of St. Chad's Anglican Church, in Toronto.

The bride was dressed in royal blue velvet and wore a white straw hat and corsage of pink roses. Her sister Mrs. Clare Harris, as matron of honor, wore fuchsia moire and a white hat and had a gardenia corsage.

Mr. Clare Harris was the groomsman and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Bedford Jones.

After a reception for close relatives held at the apartment of Miss Dorothy Harris in Cobourg, the bride and groom left on a two week honeymoon in the Laurentians.

WA Hears Talk On South Africa

St. Andrew's WA meeting on Tuesday afternoon, presided over by new president Mrs. Harold Baker, was very well attended. Mrs. C. M. Scott conducted a devotional period on "Prayer."

Mrs. T. J. Carley was guest for the afternoon and presented, in her very able manner, a talk on South Africa under the government of Prime Minister Daniel Malan, which was interesting especially at this time. "Mr. Malan claims the Boers are the race of people chosen to rule this country and believes the white and colored people should be entirely separate," she explained. Mrs. Carley opined the policies of this government are bound to lead to trouble, and expressed the hope that it will not involve the rest of the world. She was thanked for her address by Mrs. James Wharry.

Time of the meetings has been advanced 15 minutes to start at 2:30 o'clock in future. It was decided to have a rummage sale in April and date of the annual bazaar and tea was set as Thursday afternoon, November 5th. Reports of conveners and officers were presented.

Tea was served at the close by Mrs. J. S. Boyd's group.

OTTAWA (CP)—The predominantly-male senate took time out Wednesday to wish happy birthday to one of its two women members—Senator Cairine Wilson (L—Ontario).

Amid desk-thumping from her male colleagues, Senator Wilson was given a bouquet of yellow roses to mark her 67th birthday.

Veteran Of Boer War, Wife 50th Wedding Anniversary

HAVELOCK (Staff)—Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Inkster, two miles south of here on the Trent River road, received relatives and friends on Wednesday afternoon and evening. The occasion was the anniversary of their golden wedding.

William Cullen Inkster and Bessie Archer were married 50 years ago at the home of her parents in Marmora. The Rev. Mr. Houke of the Methodist Church officiated. They settled on a farm between Marmora and Madoc for a number of years and in 1924 moved to Trent River where they ran a general store. For the past few years they have been living on a small farm on the Trent River road.

Mr. Inkster's parents, though Canadian born, were of Scot stock from the Orkney Islands. His father was a blacksmith at Fenelon Falls, where William was born, and later moved his business to Marmora.

The Inksters have six children, two nurses, two teachers and two hydro men. They are: Mrs. Stanley Sanderson (Eva) of Oxford Station, Mrs. Phil Greenley (Marion) of Indian River, Mrs. Reg Frewen (Mabel) of Padget, Bermuda, and Mrs. Arthur Pordham (Bessie) of Deloro. There are two sons, Albert Inkster of Windsor and James of Tweed, and 15 grandchildren. All of the family but Mrs. Frewen of Bermuda were present for the occasion and will stay until the end of the week when a family reunion is to be held on Saturday.

The Inksters received many fine and useful gifts. They have both radio and TV sets and each have their special programs which they enjoy listening to or watching. Sports and newscasts seem to be the most popular.

Mr. Inkster is one of the few living district veterans of the Boer War. He enlisted in Peterborough with the 6th Canadian Mounted Rifles and, though under age, went through the campaign without a scratch. He is twice past-master of Marmora Masonic Lodge 222. Mrs. Inkster is a member of Trent River Women's Institute. They attend the United Church in that community.

The Rev. J. A. Purser conducted the fourth class in churchmanship at the Tuesday meeting of St. John's Girls' Auxiliary. In the second part Judy Reynolds was in charge of mission study, with Pauline Evans reading Scripture.

Further plans were made for holding "India Night" in the parish hall February 17, commencing at seven-thirty o'clock. The girls will simulate native costumes in their dress and films on India will be shown and Indian curios on display. Guest speaker will be Mrs. C. M. Scott who has lived in India. The girls are making posters for this event and are dressing dolls to send to Kangara mission in India and preparing scrapbooks as a basis of their study of India.

As part of their physical fitness badge work a half-hour class in folk and social dancing was held. The girls planned to have their annual sleigh ride on Friday evening, February 20, and will meet at seven o'clock at the home of their leader, Mrs. W. C. Boate, Antrim Street.

Girls receiving GA armbands at the meeting were Anne Payne, Dianne McNamee, Barbara and Shirley Maudsley, Ann Hutchinson, Barbara Sullivan, Judy Reynolds and June Valois.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Out With Monotony In Lunch Box

"Mary, why don't you ever write anything about packed lunches? Don't you know that just about half of the people in this city eat their lunches out of a paper bag or black tin box?"

I'm glad I have you people to keep me in line. After receiving that letter asking me these pointed questions I went through my files and found I had not given packed lunches much attention since early last fall. For nine years we packed three lunches per day in this house but with my young people now away at school and me doing all of my work at home my lunch-packing days are over.

Dr. Pett, Director of Nutrition Services of the Department of Pensions and National Health, conducted a survey of war plants in 1942. His field workers observed that only 15 out of every 100 lunch boxes could be rated "good." This means that those "good" lunch boxes included 1) Milk—if not as a beverage, then in soup of dessert; 2) Fresh fruit or vegetable or both; and 3) Protein sandwich fillings such as meat, fish, egg, cheese, peanut butter or fowl.

With Dr. Henry C. Sherman of Columbia University as my authority I go one step further and strongly advise the use of 100% whole wheat bread for making those protein-filled sandwiches.

The quality of this carried lunch can make the difference between an adequate nutritious daily diet and one that is far too starchy.

With a sharp eye on nutrition and variety I have chosen some lunch box ideas which I think your lunchers will enjoy:

LUNCH BOX MENUS

(1) Ground liver (see below) and lettuce sandwiches on whole wheat; Celery—hearts or small sticks, tangerine, date squares, milk, or cocoa in thermos.

GROUND LIVER SANDWICH FILLING

Buy 1 lb. pork or beef liver sliced, gently boil it in barely enough water to prevent sticking, until it is firm. Cool, then put through fine knife of food chopper. Add 1 tablespoon grated onion, 1 tablespoon drained chopped pickle, the juice from cooking it—there should not be more than ¼ cup, 4 tablespoons mayonnaise, dash of tabasco or 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper to taste. You may add the butter—about ¼ cup—to this if you like—this eliminates one spreading job when it comes to making the sandwiches. Mix all these ingredients well. Keep very cold in covered jar.

(2) Cream of Tomato Soup in Thermos: Peanut Crush and Bacon sandwiches on whole wheat bread; whole raw carrot (when cut into strips they lose some of their vitamin-content); Large ripe banana; brownies.

(3) Oatmeal Meat Loaf (see below) sandwiches with lettuce on whole wheat bread; radishes; 1-inch cube of cheese; mediun bunch grapes; graham wafers; Milk or cocoa.

OATMEAL MEAT LOAF

Soak 1¼ cups quick-cooking uncooked oats in 1¼ cups milk. To them add 1 lb. ground meat—this may be beef, veal or mixture of beef and pork or ham, 2 teaspoons salt, ½ teaspoon celery salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 well-beaten egg, ½ cup catsup, 2 tablespoons grated onion OR ½ clove garlic chopped to a powder. Mix well and pack into greased loaf pan. Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for 1 hour. This amount serves six, so if you have four in your family you will have enough leftover for two packed lunches.

(4) Chopped Hard-cooked egg on whole wheat bread with lettuce; firm tomato; apple pie in triplewax paper or plastic pie holder, cheese, milk.

(5) Swiss cheese on rye bread; dill pickle; large orange; applesauce cake; cafe au lait (half and half strong coffee and hot milk).

I think a good lunch packer who includes a surprise every day endears herself to her loved ones forever.

Prominent Curler Ernest Parsons Dies

OSHAWA (CP) — Ernest Parsons, 67, president of the Ontario Curling Association in 1950-51, died Wednesday night.

Mr. Parsons, a prominent curler and lawn bowler, suffered a heart attack while watching curling matches Wednesday afternoon. During the 20s he was president of the Central Ontario Baseball League. In recent years he was an assistant court clerk, and previously was in the insurance business.

Convict Driver Of Going Against Light

Joseph Moher, 18, RR 2, Indian River, was fined $3 and $26 costs or six days in jail by Magistrate W. R. Philp in police court today when he was convicted of driving through a red light. The charge arose out of a collision between Moher's car and a city bus, driven by Hugh Arnold, 438 Rogers St., at the corner of George and Charlotte Sts. on the afternoon of January 12.

Arnold, driver of the bus, said that he was driving east on Charlotte St. and was crossing the intersection toward the bus stop on the east side of George St. when he saw the Moher car coming south on George St. through the red light. He said he applied his brakes and swerved to the right.

Mrs. Geraldine Warner, 437 Gordon Ave., and Carol Menzies, 273 Thomas St., passengers in the bus, said that, immediately after the collision, Arnold had asked them to note the color of the light at the south-east corner and it had just turned to amber.

Alfred W. Quemby, 523 Bolivar St., said that he was standing waiting for a bus when he saw Arnold's bus enter the intersection, just as the light was turning amber. Just as the bus got past the pedestrian line, he said he saw the Moher car approaching from the north on George St.

Moher said that he stopped for the red light at the intersection with the green light before he attempted to cross. He said he was watching the traffic lights and the car ahead of him and saw the bus just before it hit him. Passengers in the Moher car corroborated evidence of the accused.

"Laying aside the evidence of the two drivers, Quemby's evidence was quite clear," remarked the magistrate. "It's hard to see how another car could have gotten past the bus."

Opera Audience Gets Extra Laugh

The audience that filled the Centre Theatre, last night, for the two operatic films are perhaps chuckling today at a personal coincidence contributing a bit of humor that was adventitious to a scene from Faust.

Dr. J. Wishart, who was accompanied by his wife, mentioned to one of the ushers that possibly a telephone call might come through for him to the office. So he requested the attendant to remember where he was seated as a means of quiet delivery of the message.

The opera reached the part where Mephistopheles was guiding Dr. Faustus through hell. Just as the basso said" Come on Doctor, there must be something better than this," the other attendant, who was not advised of the prospective telephone message, called out: "Dr. Wishart is wanted on the telephone."

This summons was precisely current to the line and action on the screen, as Doctor Faustus was proceeding on his directed way through the nether world. The timing was so exact that the incident was recognized with a gale of laughter from the house.

Manager Hilly Yudin was delighted with the response of music lovers to both the afternoon and evening filming in the large and appreciative attendances. A recently installed sound system was an effective asset to the singing, particularly to the nuances and in the reproducing of the music of the principals, chorus and orchestra without ensemble hardness. The lyric singing of Traviata was splendidly produced.

Private Business

NEW YORK (AP)—Former defence secretary Robert A. Lovett will rejoin the private banking firm of Brown Brothers, Harriman and Company as a general partner March 1. Lovett, who resigned his cabinet post Jan. 20 when the new administration took over, was a partner in the firm for many years before the Second World War.

Wholesaler, Store Do Business 47 Years

Two recent local new stories in the Examiner emphasized to J. Gordon Hill, wholesaler, the reality of the daily heading on the editorial page: "How Time Flies." He realized that he had been doing business at the T. H. Hooper store, 327 George St., since 1906 and with William J. Grady at Lock and Lansdowne Streets, since 1908. The Hooper store closed Saturday night and its business has moved down to King and George Streets, and Mr. Grady was reported some weeks as disposing of his active interest in retailing.

Mr. Hill has recently taken over from his father's estate the business established by the late John Hill. It concludes the wholesaling of wrapping paper, tobaccos, some confectionery lines, glassaware and so on.

To Test Combat Boat

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Army will soon test in Korea an improved combat boot. As described Wednesday by the quartermaster corps, the boot employs cellular synthetic rubber, impervious to water, in its insulating layers instead of the wool fleece and felt built into the boots now in use.

Mother Applies For Custody Of 3 Children

An application by a young mother to get custody of her three children, as well as enough money to keep them, is being heard today in Surrogate Court.

Judge John de N. Kennedy is hearing the application of Mrs. Anne Teressa Simmons of 75 Ware St. to get custody of her three children— Edward Douglas, 5; Donald James, 4; and Anne Mary, 18 months.

She is now getting $11 a week from her husband, Edward George Simmons, a former bus driver and now an employee of a stationery company, who lives on Orpington Rd. The money was granted her by a court order under the provisions of the Deserted Wives and Children's Maintenance Act.

She is now living at the home of her sister, Mrs. Jean Aymotte of 75 Ware St., with her infant daughter, Anne Mary.

The two boys are living with their father who has been looking after them since they were temporarily put in St. Vincent's Orphanage by Mrs. Simmons.

Mrs. Simmons wants to find a place where she can live with her three children. In the meantime a half-sister, Mrs. Katheleen Moher, has promised to give the two boys temporary homes if the court gives Mrs. Simmons custody of them.

The couple have been married since 1947.

RELIGIOUS DIFFICULTIES

Religious difficulties arose in June, 1951, said Mrs. Simmons. Up to that time there had been no controversy. She is a Roman Catholic and he is a member of the Church of England.

'My husband signed a statement to Father Kaye that all the children would be brought up Roman Catholics, and he would interfere in no way with their bringing up."

'Your husband says you were intolerant of his religion," said Edward Fanjoy, counsel for Mrs. Simmons.

"No, I wasn't," she replied "But I was at him all the time to go to church — his own church."

She testified that they quarreled repeatedly and her husband began going out "every night of the week." He also went away weekends without giving her details.

Mr. Simmons is defending himself and will enter the witness box to tell his side of the story later today.

Queen Alex Victors

Queen Alexandra rolled to a 12 to 3 victory over King George in a Public School League game on Wednesday. Goal getters for the winners were Hamilton with seven, Stewart with three, and Druce and Johnston with one each. Stewart and Johnston set up numerous plays while Hamilton made no mistakes around the net. Sanderson assisted on Druce's goal. Tucker also played a fine game for the winners. Macklin in goal turned back several threats by the King George team. Dorrington with two goals and Playford with one were best for the losers. C. Meeks got an assist.

Teams:

Queen Alexandra — Macklin, Druce, Madigan, Tucker, Johnston, Stewart, Hamilton, Moore, Jackson, Sanderson.

King George— J. Paul, H. Meeks, Dorrington, White, Playford, R. Paul, Pearse, C. Meeks.

Referee: L. Corbett.

Duplessis Charges Industrialists Intimidated Employees In Vote

QUEBEC (CP) — Premier Duplessis charged in the legislative assembly Wednesday night two prominent Quebec industrialists "intimidated" their employees into voting for the Liberal party in the July 16 provincial election.

The charge was made in a turbulent, free - for - all debate that started over a statement by a Liberal member that the joint deputy-minister of fish and game took an active part in re-election of Game Minister Pouliot.

The argument ended in a verbal duel between Mr. Duplessis and Gerard Cournoyer (L—Richelieu) who denied that Joseph and Edouard Simard, operators of Sorel Industries Limited, had intimidated their workers.

The flurry started as the assembly sat in committee of supply to discuss estimates of the fish and game department totalling $2,288,000.

ON OWN INTIATIVE

Dave Rochon (L—Montreal St. Louis) asked Game Minister Pouliot if it was true that Roland English, joint deputy minister of the department, had actively campaigned for the minister in Gaspe South. Dr. Pouliot said he had done so on his own initiative.

When Mr. Rochon asked if the minister knew it was irregular for a civil servant to take part in political campaigns, Mr. Duplessis said there was nothing reprehensible about Mr. English's conduct.

Liberal House leader George Marler said he could not accept the principle of a deputy minister working in a political campaign.

Mr. Duplessis replied ministers' secretaries in Ottawa and Ontario took an active part in election campaigns. Mr. English's position was equivalent to a minister's secretary.

Then Mr. Cournoyer, documents in hand, said Mr. English's brother at Sorel was paid $50 a month as a game warden although he was police chief at Sorel Industries.

BROTHER DISMISSED

Mr. Cournoyer said when the Union Nationale was defeated in Richelieu, Mr. English's brother was dismissed.

Mr. Duplessis asked that the papers be tabled and after examining them said they proved the Simard brothers practised intimidation on their employees.

Mr. Duplessis said Edouard Simard was "the king of intimidators" and charged a "reign of terror" prevailed at Sorel Industries.

He said the Simards spent $100,000 to have Mr. Cournoyer elected over the Union Nationale candidate.

Mr. Cournoyer angrily denied the charge and said the Simards were opposed to his candidacy in Richelieu. The federal Liberal party was also opposed and the premier could check with the Prime Minister if he wished.

Angel With Harp Just Accident

MALIBU, Calif. (AP) — Right out there in Dorothy Betts' backyard was an angel with a harp.

She wasn't strumming the harp; she was carrying it.

Then the woman with the harp, who wore no clothing, yelled "fire," and startled neighbors looked up to see smoke pouring from Mrs. Betts' roof.

Mrs. Betts explained that the fire started from a toaster while she was taking a shower. Her first impulse was to save her $2,000 harp.

"By the time I realized what I was doing, I found myself in the middle of the yard without a stitch on, dragging my harp to safety," she explained to her neighbors, film actress Ann Dvorak and television actress Joanne Jordan.

Mrs. Betts' loss was estimated at $9,000.

Continue Parcels To Soldiers From Legion Aux.

New president Mrs. George Stevens took charge for the regular business meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion Monday evening. Other newly-elected officers were also in their places and an executive member, Mrs. Alice Duvall, who was not present at the annual meeting in January was installed in office by zone commander Mrs. A. Parrington.

It was decided to continue sending boxes to Peterborough men serving in Korea and Germany and Mrs. J. Buchan was asked to continue as convener. Letters of thanks for parcels last year have been received and some were read at the meeting.

Reports and resolutions from the provincial convention held in Brockville in October were read and discussed. Mrs. A. Wade gave an interesting report of the mental health meeting here. Mrs. A. Glenn, convener of sick and visiting, asked for a new committee to be formed.

Past president Mrs. A. Mason sent a letter of thanks for cards, flowers and telephone calls received during illness at her home the past two weeks. A gift in recognition of her fine service as president was taken to her by the executive members on Tuesday evening. A gift was presented to retired vice president Mrs. A. Wade during the meeting and a gift was sent to the retired social convener Mrs. M. Kernohan who was unable to be present.

Lunch was served by the executive committee.

Canada Trying Vaccine Against Polio

OTTAWA (CP)—Health Minister Martin said Wednesday arrangements have been completed for a trial in Canada of gamma globulin, a substance being tested in the United States as a protection against paralytic poliomyelitis.

Mr. Martin was replying to a question in the Commons by E. T. Applewhaite (L—Skeena). He expanded later in a prepared statement.

"Preliminary reports of studies in the United States on the use of gamma globulin are encouraging," said Mr. Martin. "In a limited trial the occurrence of paralysis among those suffering from poliomyelitis was less in those who received gamma globulin than in those who had not."

NO OVER-OPTIMISM

He cautioned against over-optimism and said "a great deal of additional study and trial will be necessary to determine the true value of this procedure."

No decision has been reached on where the trials will be conducted in Canada.

Mr. Martin said gamma globulin is one of the fractions of the fluid portion of normal human blood. When obtained from pools of thousands of blood donors in different parts of the country it has been found to contain substances which apparently can neutralize the virus of poliomyelitis and other diseases.

Convict Driver On Lesser Count

BRAMPTON (CP) — William Fleming, 30-year-old Port Credit chauffeur, was acquitted Wednesday by a supreme court jury of manslaughter but convicted on charges of careless driving and failing to remain at the scene of an accident.

He will be sentenced Friday by Mr. Justice G. A. Gale.

It was Fleming's second trial in connection with the death last June 29 of Anne Vaderhuel, 16, and Billy Green, 13, of Streetsville. They were struck by a car near Port Credit.

Fleming testified that on the night of the accident, Margaret Alderson of Kirkland Lake, a passenger in the car he was driving, "mentioned a bump in the road, but I felt and heard no bump."

Asked "was it you?" by newspaper publisher Roy H. Thomson, his former employer, the day following the accident, Fleming said he replied: "It might or might not have been."

Not Most Popular

TORONTO (CP)—Blood-and-thunder comics are not the most popular reading material among Toronto children 12 years old and under. Educational comics and pictorial stories are tops on the juvenile best-seller list. A recent survey by the Ontario Federation of Home and School Associations in which 1,364 parents were interviewed showed the trend.

Pipers Plan To Expand

ST. THOMAS (CP)—The skirl of the pibroch will be heard across Elgin county, if plans of the St. Thomas pipe band materialize.

At a meeting Tuesday the band decided to enlarge, with an objective of 30 pipers recruited throughout the county. At present 14 beginners are enrolled in the piping classes.

Defence Plans In Europe Improving--Dulles Declares

Say Billion Dollar Damage Faces People Of Holland

AMSTERDAM (AP) — Flood-ravaged Holland—facing a $1,000,000,000 damage bill—fought back today aginst the North Sea. Determined officials said every inch of Dutch soil would be reclaimed from crop-killing salt water. A few areas where the angry ocean threatened to punch through weakened dikes still were in danger, but officials reported the evacuation of thousands of persons from the flooded southwest lowlands has been largely completed.

Rescue efforts were concentrated today on saving about 1,000 persons huddled in the town of Noordgouwe. A new break in a nearby dike already has engulfed one previously evacuated village.

As Holland, Britain and Belgium added up the staggering damage bill from the weekend storm, the three-country death toll rose to 1,919.

Britain listed 546 dead, Belgium 23 and Holland—by far the worst afflicted of the three—counted 1,350. But this figure did not include hundreds of missing. Many of their bodies, it is feared, still lie trapped in homes several feet below sea level. Unofficial estimates of the Dutch toll alone have reached as high as 2,000.

APPALLING DAMAGE

Property damage, both actual and potential, was described as "appalling." Some 300,000 Dutch are homeless and destitute and 700,000 others are described as "in distress."

Both Britain and Belgium were in somewhat better shape.

In Britain, A. G. Johnson, chief drainage engineer of the British agriculture ministry, reported: "Everything is under control."

Johnson said that 500 holes had been torn in English dikes, but from 100 to 150 of these already had been filled in and repair work on the others was under way.

The water has begun to recede from all except a few of the flooded places in Belgium.

Dutch officials indicated their next big job would be the resettlement on safer ground of whole towns and villages from the devastated southwest part of Holland.

FEAR EPIDEMIC

The most immediate danger, said Health Minister Dr. Pieter Muntendam, is that an epidemic of typhoid fever may break out.

Although it is still too early for a definite tally of damage to the Dutch homes, farmland and national economy, preliminary estimates placed it at around $1,000,000,000.

Salt water spilled over one-sixth of Holland's land surface, affecting one-fourth of its arable fields. Surveys by the transport nd waterways ministry showed that 500,000 acres of farmland and pasture have been flooded.

August G. Maris, waterways director, conceded none of these flooded areas can produce crops this year. They probably will not be able to produce full crops before the summer of 1955.

Wage, Price Controls Ended In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today ended all wage and salary controls in the United States. He also ordered price controls lifted from a wide range of consumer goods, including all meat products.

A White House statement said the President took the actions in a move "toward eliminating in an orderly fashion the price and wage controls under which the American economy has been required to operate for the past two years."

The end of wage and salary controls means employers and their workers are free to make any agreements they wish about pay matters.

BEEN RESTRAINED

Government regulations have, in some instances, restrained employers from granting wage increases despite mutual agreement.

The controls were part of the government's efforts to battle the inflationary rise in prices and wages which set in sharply after the Korean war broke out in 1950.

The announcement as to price controls said the office of price stabilization was issuing orders removing price curbs immediately from "a wide and varied list of consumer goods, including all meat products, all furniture, all apparel, all meals sold in restaurants and public eating places."

It said the price order affects "nearly all of the thousands of items normally sold in department stores, and many more."

Naguib Predicts Occupation End

CAIRO (AP) — Premier Naguib today heralded the early end of British occupation of Egypt and the Sudan but called upon the Egyptians to increase their efforts toward building a new Egypt after the "victory over imperialism is won."

The soldier-premier, speaking to an estimated 30,000 jamming big Abdin Square outside the royal palace, stated "we are on the point of ending the occupation."

"The struggle for evacuation needs development and organization. We must be careful not to become drunk with triumph. The days ahead will be as dangerous as today. We must not allow ourselves to take it for granted that victory will be on our side."

Naguib was talking from the balcony of the royal guard barracks which has become headquarters of the "Liberation Rally."

Fire Rages Unchecked On Swedish Vessel

HAMBURG (AP)—A 24-hour fire raged unchecked aboard the 4,030-ton Swedish motorship Antarctic Ocean today and shipping experts feared the $2,380,000 refrigerator vessel may be a total loss.

The fire, which broke out as the ship was undergoing repairs in Hamburg's drydocks, had spread to all four holds. It was listing heavily with the engine room and some other sections already flooded.

Federation Seeking One-Cent Increase

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — To meet rising costs of conducting its field work and organization, a one-cent increase in per capita assessments will be sought by constitutional amendment at the Ontario Federation of Labor's convention which opened here this morning.

The treasurer's report, scheduled for presentation, emphasizes that the federation has spent more than it has taken in during the first ten months of 1952.

The report terms the financial status of the federation "distressing" pointing out that the per capita assessment is the lowest on record. It is one cent in Ontario while in British Columbia it is five cents; Saskatchewan eight cents and Nova Scotia three cents.

Need Formosa Neutral Pearson Says

Ottawa Concerned About U.S. Action In Fleet Removal

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian government believes the island of Formosa should be neutralized, so far as possible, while hostilities continue in Korea.

External Affairs Minister Pearson told the Commons Thursday that the Canadian government is "concerned with" the action of President Eisenhower in deneutralizing Formosa. He stressed the action was taken on the "sole responsibility" of the U. S. government.

He recalled that the U. S. government ordered the U. S. 7th fleet to Formosa June 27, 1950, following the outbreak of war in Korea. The fleet was instructed to prevent any attack on Formosa from the Chinese mainland and to ensure that the island would not be used as a base for operations against the Chinese Communist mainland.

The defence of Formosa was not part of the United Nations obligations shared by Canada in Korea.

SHOULD BE NEUTRALIZED

"Our consistent position has been that this island should be neutralized, so far as that is possible, while hostilities continue in Korea," said Mr. Pearson.

"Our view has been and remains that the final disposition of Formosa should be a subject to be discussed at a conference on Far Eastern problems which should be held when the fighting ceases in Korea . . ."

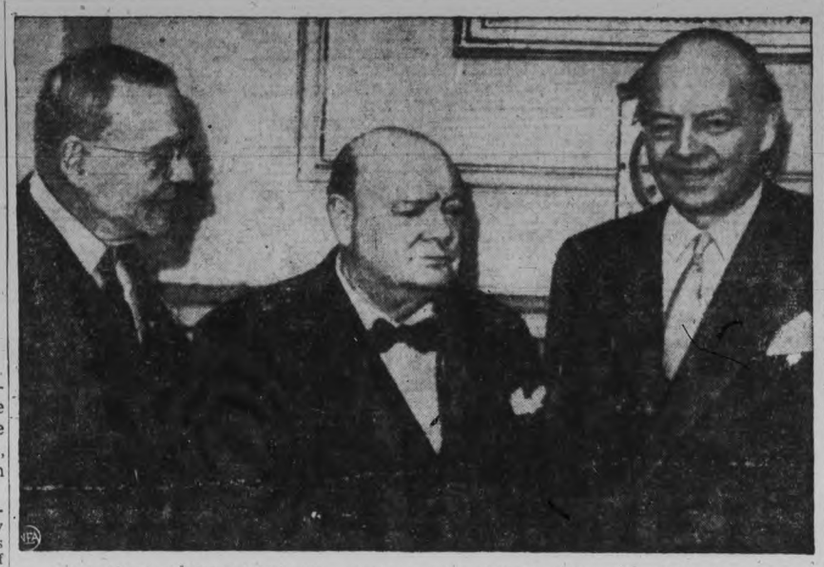
Convict 2 Boys Of Mansaughter



MONTREAL (CP)—Two youthful brothers who shot and killed their father and wounded their mother were convicted Thursday of manslaughter by a jury in the Court of Queen's Bench.

Yvon Bedard, 16, and his 14-year-old brother Robert were originally charged with murder. At the opening of the trial the Crown agreed to the reduced charge. Mr. Justice Wilfrid Lazure postponed sentence until the end of the court term.

The jury confirmed the guilty plea of the boys and a charge of attempted murder arising from wounding of their mother, Mrs. Marguerite Bedard, was dropped.

John Bumbray, chief crown prosecutor, said the boys left their home at 3 a.m. Oct. 30 last, intending to break into a nearby store. Their mother noticed they had left and waited up for them. When they returned, she saw they carried a revolver. The father came from his bedroom to remonstrate with them for staying out so late and to ask about the revolver.

The younger boy fired five bullets at his father. When the mother ran for help her older son seized the revolver, shot and wounded her.

MET WITH CHURCHILL—John Foster Dulles (left) U.S. Secretary of State, and Harold Stassen, director of the Mutual Security Agency, met in London this week with British Prime Minister Winston Churchill (centre). Churchill was reported to have sought a pledge from Dulles that there will be no extension of the war in the Far East. Dulles and Stassen arrived in Holland today to survey the flood damage and its effect on Holland's defence effort.

$60,000 Fire Destroys Alban Church

ALBAN (CP) — A $60,000 fire early today destroyed Our Lady of Lourdes Roman Catholic Church in this farming and tourist village 60 miles southwest of North Bay.

The blaze broke out in the frame church about 3 a. m. and flames enveloped the 19-year-old structure and the adjoining priest's quarters in less than half an hour.

Rev. Ovila Campeau, parish priest, was awakened by smoke in the rectory. He summoned aid from Alban and called the fire brigade at Noelville, 12 miles to the north.

Alban has no central water supply. After half an hour's firefighting, a fire ranger's pump and hose exhausted the water in nearby wells.

FLAMES IN CELLAR

Father Campeau, investigating the source of the smoke before help arrived, discovered flames in the cellar and tried to fight them with a hand extinguisher. It is believed the fire originated near the furnace in the basement.

The furniture from the rectory was saved but all the furnishing of the church were lost. Attempts to remove the blessed sacrament from the altar tabernacle were in vain.

The church, built in 1934, would seat about 300 persons. It was insured for approximately $25,000.

Court Injunction Halts Picketing

NEW YORK (AP) — A court injunction today restrained picketing by tugboat workers which has paralyzed about 75 per cent of the city's piers.

The temporary restraint was issued at midnight by a state Supreme Court justice who said he considered the picketing an illegal secondary boycott against the passenger and freight shipping companies which are not involved in the labor dispute.

The order does not restrain the tugboat men from picketing the facilities of the tugboat companies.

The order was obtained by counsel for 67 shipping companies, including many of the world's largest. It is effective pending a hearing next Tuesday.

Plane Crashes, Burns 2 Aboard Escape

KILLARNEY, Ont. (CP) — A plane crashed and partially burned here Thursday, but its pilot and a passenger climbed out uninjured before it caught fire.

Moe Sears said he was taking off from this community about 100 miles southwest of North Bay, when a ski hit a large chunk of ice, spilling fuel from the gas tank. Mr. Sears and Mrs. Maude Roque climbed free before flames enveloped the cabin.

Nine persons who had planned to board the craft for later flights now are stranded at this Georgian Bay port since planes provide the only winter transportation to Little Current, 23 miles southwest. Another plane from Sudbury will fly in repairs for the damaged plane and complete the passenger runs.

Flood Danger Receding Along Britain's East Coast

LONDON (Reuters)—Retreating waters permitted police to start a house-to-house search today for bodies of flood victims known to be still in the rubble on Canvey Island, worse hit spot in Britain's flood disaster. Forty-seven bodies have already been recovered from the island in the Thames estuary, once London's closest seaside resort and now a seven-mile stretch of desolation.

An unknown number of islanders are missing and police said it would be several days before Canvey's final death toll would be known.

The official total of known deaths for the entire east coast region is 264, Home Secretary Sir David Maxwell Fyfe told Parliament today, but unofficial estimates put the toll as high as 377.

In addition, 169 drowned in three ship sinkings.

HALF GAPS REPAIRED

Fyfe also said that nearly half the gaps torn in protective sea walls along a 160-mile stretch of England's coast have already been repaired.

Thousands of troops and volunteer workers, aided by bulldozers and other engineering equipment, are working to restore the broken sea walls before the next high spring tides, due Feb. 14.

British firemen volunteered through their trade union today to work an 84-hour week instead of their normal 60-hour week to help pump water out of flooded areas.

Fyfe said the coastal walls wrecked by last Saturday's floods had only once before been seriously breached — in the 14th century.

The Women's Voluntary Services collecting clothing for British flood victims, have decided to share the donations with sufferers in Holland, he said, adding that an initial consignment had already been sent to the Dutch.

Creamery Head Sees Rationing

KEMPTVILLE (CP) — Lorne Reddick, president of the Ontario Creamery Association, said today that the wholesale price of butter has already jumped one cent a pound and that suppliers have reached "the last step before rationing."

In a statement, the spokesman for Ontario dairy manufacturers appealed to the federal government to release some of its butter stocks to help overcome a growing scarcity in the trade.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner said in Ottawa Thursday night that the government will use "its own discretion" as to when it will release the 30,000,000 pounds of butter it holds. The minister wants to keep the wholesale price of butter at 62 cents a pound.

"Principle suppliers now are paying 63 cents a pound for carlots of butter in solids which already is one cent above the government price if it were selling butter," said Mr. Reddick.

"Suppliers are unable to get sufficient butter to meet requirements.

"Most suppliers have issued instructions that no retailer be permitted to purchase more than ordinary requirements. This means they have reached the last step before rationing."

Rivera Involved In New Row

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A new protest storm swirled about the head of Diego Rivera today because, in a movie house mural here, he put a film comic where a saint usually is shown standing.

The Mexican Nationalist party, charging the far-leftist artist with sacrilege, threatened to boycott the new Teatro de los Insurgentes, which the disputed mural adorns.

The Nationalist party said Rivera had insulted Mexican Roman Catholics by depicting Cantinflas, Mexico's top comedian, in his usual movie peasant's garb, standing near the Virgin of Guadalupe, Mexico's patron saint. St. Juan Diego should be standing there, the party explained.

No-Strike Clause May Be Cancelled

TORONTO (CP) — Firemen in Toronto Thursday night threatened to remove a no-strike clause from their constitution in retaliation for a move to eliminate compulsory arbitration from the Fire Department Act.

The move was suggested by the Ontario provincial-municipal relations committee earlier this week.

William Saunders, an executive of the Toronto Firefighters Association, said compulsory arbitration has improved wages and working conditions for firemen.

The Association's protest was backed by the Toronto District Labor Council.

Promises Holland U.S. Will Help Flood Recovery

THE HAGUE (AP)—John Foster Dulles arrived in Holland today for a first-hand survey of damage wrought by the flood disaster and its impact on European defence planning. President Eisenhower's four-motored plane brought the U.S. secretary of state and foreign-aid chief Harold Stassen safely to Amsterdam's Schipoli airfield after an hour's flight, part of it through fog, from the West German capital at Bonn. Their departure from Bonn had been delayed an hour and 16 minutes by ice on the plane's wings and they took off in fog, giving rise to a report that the plane had developed icing "difficulties."

Dulles assured the Dutch of U.S. aid for their recovery from the flood disaster.

RENEW PLEDGE

In a statement at the airport, he said:

"May we extend again on behalf of our government and the American people our most heartfelt sympathy for your plight. We also renew our pledge to assist in relieving the suffering of your people. I am glad to know that our armed forces in Europe have already been able to give substantial aid."

En route here, the two U.S. officials flew over part of Holland's flooded southwest, where more than 1,000,000 persons are in distress, a fourth of the country's arable lands are ruined by salt water, and damage has been estimated in the neighborhood of $1,000,000,000.

Dulles described the situation there as "terrible" and said, "we feel very badly about it."

Dulles and Stassen came here for the fifth stop on their seven-country tour of West European capitals to spur action on the lagging European army plan.

ADENAUER TO VISIT U.S.

Leaving Bonn, Dulles announced that West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer would visit Washington this spring for formal talks with President Eisenhower. No definite date was fixed.

Dulles and Stassen, greeted at the airport by Joseph Luns, one of Holland's two foreign ministers, and U. S. Ambassador Selden Chapin, hurried directly to Queen Juliana's palace to be presented before lunching with American and Dutch officials.

High U. S. officials in West Germany reported that Dulles left Bonn "very encouraged" that his tour was infusing new life into the scheme for a unified European army to include 500,000 German troops.

Bad Weather Stalls Action In Korea

SEOUL (AP) — The Korean war ground to a virtual standstill today as snow and low-hanging clouds covered the war-torn peninsula.

The 8th army reported only light patrol activity.

Thursday night, 10 B-29 Superforts from Okinawa plastered 100 tons of bombs on the Taeyu troop centre 35 miles east of the Suiho reservoir on the northwest border of Manchuria.

Britain To Get 5,000,000 Pounds Of Bacon

OTTAWA (CP)—Britain will get about 5,000,000 pounds of bacon for the $1,000,000 she has decided to spend on that product in Canada, an agricultural official said today.

This works out to about 20 cents a pound and means the Canadian government will be selling the product to Britain at a loss of about seven cents a pound on current market prices.

However, the official emphasized that the deal is not much different from the government's current policy of canning surplus pork and disposing of it at a price below cost.

JUST AS SATISFACTORY

"It is just as satisfactory to sell the pork in that way as it is to can it," he said.

Shipping arrangements covering the Wiltshire sides — first bacon Britain has purchased in Canada since 1950—now are being worked out.

Britain earned the $1,000,000 as part of "agent's fees" and other payments from a Canadian meat deal. Under this deal Britain agreed to take surplus fresh Canadian beef in return for frozen beef which Britain had ordered from New Zealand.

The frozen N.Z. beef was shipped to the U.S. for disposal in the American market.

4 Men Sighted, Continue Search

HALIFAX (CP) —A lone ski-equipped aircraft headed for a lake in Labrador's frozen wilderness today to determine whether four men sighted Thursday were trappers and not survivors of a downed Canadian bomber.

The RCAF Norseman also will investigate a fire noticed by one of 21 search planes about 45 miles from where the men were sighted on the shore of a lake.

If any of the Lancaster's nine-man crew are found, the plane will land and fly them to Goose Bay. The bomber disappeared Sunday after radioing that two of its four engines had conked out about 128 miles south of Goose Bay.

It had been searching for a United States civilian plane, still missing. Two were aboard.

Search and rescue officials said there was possibility that the crew may have parachuted, which could account for the two widely separated sightings.

3 Airmen Jailed Year For Thefts

NORTH BAY (CP)—Three young airmen, convicted of stealing $8,000 from their RCAF station here, today were sentenced to one year definite and three months indefinite.

Jacques L. Babro of Sudbury, John Leslie McCuen of Hamilton, and Gordon Leslie Leach of Pembroke, all aircraftsmen first class, testified they went after only a small amount of cash in a drawer when they broke into the station's accounts office Nov. 28.

But they twisted a safe door and found $8,000 inside.

Salutes Mark Anniversary Of First Year Of Reign

By ALVIN STEINKOPF

LONDON (AP)— Cannon boomed in London today — 41 bangs in sunny Hyde Park and 62 at the Tower.

In many other ways Britons demonstrated their fidelity to 26-year-old Queen Elizabeth II, who completed the first year of her reign.

Flags were unfurled, the troops paraded and the press was filled with laudatory references to the sovereign who is expected to introduce an Elizabethan era of enterprise and adventure.

The Queen didn't hear the salutes. She was at Sandringham in Norfolk, where her father, King George VI, died one year ago today. She was making the most of the final days of a long holiday, before her return to London and Coronation duties this year. There were indications that she was thinking more of her father than of the anniversary of her reign, and she made it another day of dedication.

The Queen and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, attended a private celebration of holy communion, motoring in cold but bright weather from Sandringham House to the little parish church, where her father lay in state a year ago. The communion service, for the Queen and Duke alone, was conducted by the Rev. H. D. Anderson, domestic chaplain of the Queen.

Britons, reflecting on her first year as Queen, generally agreed that she had conducted herself with the dignity and poise expected of a British sovereign.

The newspapers today stressed her human attributes — Queen, but woman too.

The Queen's deep concern over distress caused by the present floods and her visits to stricken areas won warm approval. Her support of relief measures was prompt and practical. Loads of fuel from the Queen's Sandringham estate were for some flooded communities the first sign of help coming from outside.

The Queen is generally credited, but without official confirmation, with having struck another blow for the people in the matter of television at her Coronation in Westminster Abbey June 2. At any rate someone of high authority over ruled ecclesiastics and peers who wanted to keep television cameras out of the abbey.

Have 10,000 A-Bombs Stockpiled By '60

WASHINGTON (AP) — A scientist who worked on the original A-bomb project said today the United States could attain a stockpile of 10,000 such bombs by 1960.

Dr. Ralph E. Lapp said he could "indicate" that the present stockpile of A-bombs "must be numbered in the thousands." Dr. Lapp, not now associated with the U.S. atomic program, gave his views in a newly-published book, "The New Force."

Dr. Lapp directed one division of the Manhattan project, which produced the first bomb.

British Paper Suggests:

Dulles Needs Man To Explain Speeches

LONDON (AP)—The Manchester Guardian says today that U. S. President Eisenhower "had better appoint an assistant secretary of state with the special function of explaining what Mr. Dulles is talking about."

The liberal newspaper gets particularly upset about remarks the new U. S. secretary of state made Thursday at Bonn on the subject of unification of East and West Germany. It terms them the latest in a series of statements confusing to the Western world.

The Guardian's editorial says Dulles was reported as saying "Europe could only achieve peaceful reunion of Germany through the European Defence Community."

Conceding the possibility that "this brief paraphrase does not adequately convey what Mr. Dulles had in mind," the Guardian says: "There will be a widespread call for its clarification."

NEW IDEA

"Surely no one else has ever thought of German reunion as one of the objects of EDC or if they have, they have not envisaged the reunion as a peaceful one.

"Or is this another aspect of Mr. Dulles' conception of European unity?"

Dulles, in a statement to newspaper men in Bonn Thursday said the EDC treaty had put its six signatory countries "at the threshold of a great revolutionary change which will increasingly supplant national rivalries with unity." The statement continued:

"In that way, and only in that way, can the nations of Western Europe put forever behind them the quarrels and rivalries which have been dangerously costly and move on to strength which will make Europe one of the great areas of spiritual and material richness.

"In that way Europe can provide the indispensable cornerstone of a strong Atlantic community and set up the attractions which will peacefully reunite Germany."

OPTIMISTIC IDEA

A high American source said Dulles, in his talks later with German Socialist leaders opposing ratification of the European army project, said that Russia wanted to hold on to East Germany because she hoped to control West German policy through it. Dulles was reported to have said that West Germany's joining a strong European defence system would make it such an "attractive force" to the East Germans that the Russians would find it more costly to hold the unwilling Germans than to permit reunification.

The Guardian says Dulles first "set everyone agog" with his plan in the Republican platform calling for "liberation" of enslaved peoples. (The "liberation" remark actually was made in an Eisenhower campaign speech). This, the newspaper says, was widely condemned as likely to encourage premature uprisings in the Soviet satellites until "it was explained away as meaning nothing in particular."

Then, adds the Guardian, Dulles "gave the world another start" with his recent assertion the U. S. might have to do some "re-thinking" of its policy toward Western Europe unless those countries united quickly for common defence against Russia.

Butter Stocks Very Low Council Warns

OTTAWA (CP)—The National Dairy Council said Thursday night that stores in many Canadian cities will be completely out of butter by next week unless the federal government releases some of its stocks to the trade.

W. K. St. John, the council's executive secretary, said in a statement that a minimum of 8,000,000 pounds of government butter will be required this month "to avoid a butter famine and skyrocketting prices in many areas."

"My understanding," said Mr. St. John, "is that applications have been made for some of this butter and the applications have been turned down."

Mr. St. John noted that Mr. Gardiner had indicated there was plenty of butter in the country.

"Two-thirds of the total stocks are in the hands of the government," he said, "and industry has only a bare minimum required to meet immediate hand-to-mouth needs."

TO USE DISCRETION

Agriculture Minister Gardiner commented that the government will use "its own discretion" as to when it will release 30,000,000 pounds of butter to the trade to keep speculation under control.

Mr. Gardiner was elaborating on a statement he made earlier in the Commons that the government's stock of butter will be available at 62 cents a pound wholesale until May 1 next.

He said:

"The government is using its own discretion with regard to when this butter will be released to the trade.

"Its endeavor will be to maintain the position announced Dec. 4 to the effect that we will have butter in hand to prevent the kind of speculation which forces up the price of butter to the consumer."

Replying to the St. John statement, Mr. Gardiner said:

"Mr. St. John knows as well as I do that the trade has 15,000,000 pounds in storage and that between now and mid-March it will get another 5,000,000 pounds across Canada in positions to be sold anywhere.

"They have just as much butter which can be sold within the next month as we will have to take care of our obligation to deliver butter in March and April at 62 cents a pound wholesale."

4 Held As Spies In Soviet

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda reported today that state security police have arrested three men and a woman, all Soviet citizens, on charges of spying and alleged that the U.S. intelligence service had especially trained one of the men for espionage. The Communist party paper identified the four as: T. A. Sas, "an agent schooled for spying by Americans in Germany." S. D. Gurevich, a "veteran Trotskyite." E. A. Taratutá, a woman formerly employed by the Soviet Union's academy of sciences. K. F. Romanov, a former teacher who once tried to steal from a cartel.

Pravda said all four had passed secrets to foreign governments. Their activities, the paper said, make it evident "that foreign intelligence services use as agents all kinds of criminals and rotten elements."

INTENSE VIGILANCE

The paper called again for intense vigilance against Soviet enemies. It backed its spy charge with this account:

Sas, a Soviet railway worker during the Second World War, deserted to the Germans and reported to the Gestapo on other Soviet citizens, two of whom were hanged on his testimony.

After the war, the Americans enlisted him in their service and "after having completed a special school he was sent back by American intelligence into the USSR as a repatriate."

In Krivoi Rog, an iron-ore centre in the Ukraine, Sas "tried to conduct subversive and anti-Soviet work, enlisting all kinds of rotten and criminal elements."

Gurevich established a friendship with Trotskyites while in the U.S. from 1914 to 1917.

"After his return to Russia, Gurevich became an active participant and active member of an anti-Soviet Trotskyite group.

DOUBLE DEALING

"In 1927, Gurevich submitted to the party organization a declaration of renunciation of Trotskyism — this was deceit and double dealing.

"Remaining a hidden Trotskyite and an inveterate enemy of the Soviet people, Gurevich established in 1939 ties with a foreign intelligence service and for a number of years supplied it with espionage information. . .

"Gurevich drew into the espionage work a former worker at one of the institutes of the academy of sciences of the USSR, E. A. Taratuta, whom he entrusted with obtaining information on the attainments of the society of scientists.

"As a result of carelessness and the gullibility of certain workers of the institute, Taratuta succeeded in stealing a number of secret documents."

Romanov, who allegedly was caught trying to pass information to a foreign power, was drawn into espionage by his "criminal past."

While working in Vilno as chairman of a "strength" cartel, he "tried to steal a large sum of state money but was exposed and, fearing arrest, fled the city."

Expect Sensational Testimony In Cafe Society Racket Trial

NEW YORK (CP) — The New York prostitution trial of Minot (Mickey) Jelke opened today with a prosecutor's statement describing the playboy heir as a cafe society "pimp."

The prosecutor, assistant district-attorney Anthony J. Liebler, told an all-male jury in his opening statement:

"Mickey Jelke is not a vice lord. He is just a pimp in a society which is known in this city as cafe society.

"We'll show you he surrounded himself with pimps and prostitutes and procurers and madames. We'll show you the type of life he lived. We'll show you he never did a lick of work, but day after day drank and ate at the finest and most expensive night clubs and restaurants in New York."

The 23-year-old heir to an oleomargarine fortune is accused of forcing three comely young women into prostitution and living off the earnings of one.

SENSATIONAL TESTIMONY

Liebler indicated the trial would develop sensational testimony about prostitution among high-living New Yorkers.

The whole situation came to light, Liebler said, when a pretty, 19-year-old Pat Ward fell in love with Jelke.

Jelke told her he loved her and wanted to marry her, Liebler said. Then, said Liebler, Jelke and an unemployed press agent named Ray Russell Davioni told Miss Ward that Jelke was broke. Claiming that money was necessary for marriage, they persuaded her to have dates with other men, give them a "hard luck story" and obtain money from them.

Miss Ward, who used to be a brunette but today was a redhead, waited in the wings to come forth and testify as the first state witness against Jelke.

HEAVY PENALTY

If convicted on all counts of a nine-count indictment Jelke could receive a maximum sentence of 146 years in jail.

On that first date, said Liebler, Pat Ward allegedly received $20. Altogether he said, she earned between $10,000 and $15,000 and will reveal the identities of some of the men from whom she got money.

Liebler said that Pat Ward eventually agreed to go out with men and finally one of her dates proposed that he "go to bed with her."

She refused and told Jelke, Liebler said, and then quoted him as replying:

"What do you expect? They want something for their money."

Daily Papers Sadly Lack Sense Of Humor

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — The Canadian daily newspapers sadly lack a sense of humor, R. J. Churchill, executive editor of the London Free Press today told the opening session of the three-day Canadian managing editors' conference.

There's a rich vein of humor waiting to be explored and mined by the dailies, Mr. Churchill, president of the seven-year-old conference said. It's one of a half dozen problems and possibilities the 58 editors from desks from Newfoundland to British Columbia will discuss.

Some of those that will shape the conference introduced in the president's report, are the growth of television and what newspapers can do about it. The new possibilities of the currently low-readership financial page and its use to tell the dramatic story of Canada's development and the problem of interpretation of the news and supplying background to news reports.

LOOSE EDITING

Mr. Churchill said Canadian dailies' loose editing is their greatest single economic loss. The dailies have only touched the fringe of eliminating useless words, repetition and use of the obvious.

The Canadian Press, he said, is doing a very bad job on tight editing.

Another problem, he said, was the tendency of Canadian law to lean toward the British system in dealing with the press, which greatly restricts publication of court news until judgments have been handed down. Chief Justice John McRuer, of the Ontarip Supreme Court will head a panel on "The Press and the Law," Saturday.

Mr. Churchill also suggested Canadian dailies needed brighter and more original captions for pictures in order to increase readership.

Two Wild Swans Take Care Of Selves

HAMILTON (CP) — Two wild white swans showed bird lovers Thursday they could take care of themselves.

The swans, which made their home along the north shore of Hamilton Bay, became frozen in Thursday by a light crust of ice.

The Hamilton harbor commission prepared its amphibian ice boat but the craft wasn't needed.

As a crowd on shore watched, the swans freed themselves of the ice, huddled close together to open up a take-off strip and then took to the air.

Smuggled Over River, Illegal Entry Charged

BUFFALO, N.Y. (CP) — A 24-year-old Italian, Raffeale Filippeli, is in custody here charged with illegal entry from Canada.

Police said Filippeli was smuggled over the Niagara river in a rowboat last May. He was arrested in a shoe factory in Endicott, N.Y., where he was working.

Immigration officials said they have reason to believe there are numerous instances of illegal entry similar to that with which Filippeli is charged.

MAY PRODUCE IN '54

With luck, heavy rains at the right time and the use of fertilizers, the soil may be cleansed of its salt in time to produce a 60-per-cent crop in 1954.

Officials warned that many of the more serious economic effects of the disaster will not be felt until later. The country will soon exhaust its foreign exchange supply when its normal agricultural exports all foff and when, as is expected, it has to import sugar. Some 28 per cent of Holland's sugar beet land now is lying useless beneath the sea.

These officials said that losses in personal effects, real property, livestock, ruined crops and potential future farm output plus the cost of rebuilding the dikes added up to more than the Dutch economy could stand.

Only recently, Holland notified American officials she felt strong enough economically to get along without U.S. aid this year, but this situation now has been swept aside.

Presumably the question of more American aid for Holland, rather than less, was to be discussed today with State Secretary John Foster Dulles and Mutual Security Chief Harold E. Stassen of the U.S. duri ngtheir visit here.

Despite the immensity of the reclamation problem facing the Dutch Maris defiantly said Holland would never yield an inch of her inundated territory to the sea.

"Not a single piece of land will be surrendered. We will get back every hit."

Prices Weakened In Early Trading

TORONTO (CP) — Prices weakened in early afternoon stock market trading today as trading slowed slightly in spite of active interest in uranium issues.

Interest in uranium and other speculative mining stocks boosted the third-hour volume to 2,872,000 shares. Most active trader was Acadia Uranium, moving 209,000 shares for a gain of four cents. Gunnar added 35 cents in a turnover of 88,000 shares.

A number of the "penny" issues weakened, led by New Larder U which dropped 13 cents in a turnover of 97,000 shares. New Delhi, New Highridge, Porcupine Pen and Ladulama slipped. Chimo, Nesbitt Labine and Radiore made good gains.

Industrials weakened as papers, foods, constructions and miscellaneous issues traded lower. Steels and manufacturing companies up.

Senior golds weakened and junior producers lost small amounts. Holding companies slipped as Placer dropped 75 cents.

Higher-priced base metals weakened and Barvue, Sherritt Gordon and Silver Miller followed.

Grant Plains and Home oil led the list of small western oils losses, followed by New British, Britalta and Peace River gained.

Fire At Works Kills 2 Men

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—A fire in the Welland works of North American Cyanamid in adjacent Stamford township killed two men and severely burned two others

Dead are Milton Raymond Butler, 29, annd Meron Kosteseki, 31. Injured are Roy Plane, a welder, and James Freckleton, a steam fitter. All were members of the chemical company's maintenance crew and residents of Niagara Falls.

Company officials said the fire occurred when the men were repairing, from the inside, a tank used for the production of ammonia at the plant about five miles south of here.

They said a leak in the line to a welder's torch permitted acetylene to escape into the tank. When the men tried to light the torch, a fire resulted. The injured men escaped by climbing a ladder inside the tank to a manhole.

Dulles In Holland

They said he would tell President Eisenhower on his return to the United States that, despite severe parliamentary opposition to ratification of the treaty in both Germany and France, marked progress can be expected in the next two or three months.

MUST SHOW PROGRESS

On their tour, Dulles and Stassen have been warning European statesmen that the U. S. Congress will not continue the present scale of economic and military aid unless there is concrete progress in creating the European army within the next 75 days.

Dulles found Adenauer and Italy's Premier Alcide de Gasperi standing firm for parliamentary approval soon of the plan, which has not yet been ratified by any of the member countries—France, Italy, West Germany, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

Britain does not plan to become a member of the six-country army but today disclosed plans for linking her land, sea and air forces with the continental defence force. The plans have been sent to the actual members in the hope of speeding action on the project, British officials said.

A foreign office statement said the British plans provide for coordinated air defence systems and the interchange of air force squadrons with the six European army countries. British sailors, airmen and soldiers would be available for service with the unified force at command and staff level.

These plans are in addition to special guarantees contained in a mutual assistance treaty signed last May between Britain and the European defence community, which automatically binds Britain to go to the aid of the six countries in case of an attack.

Eisenhower Favors Cutting Tariff Red Tape

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower favors removing some of the red tape from United States customs procedure and extending the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act which enables the government to negotiate with other countries for tariff reductions.

In his state of the union speech Monday, Eisenhower said U. S. foreign policy will recognize the importance of profitable and equitable world trade. He urged other countries to take the initiative in creating broader markets and more dependable currencies.

Such action, he said, would invite such help from the U.S. as revision of American customs regulations "to remove procedurial obstacles to profitable trade."

"I further recommend that the Congress take the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act under immediate study and extend it by appropriate legislation," he said.

In pursuing such an objective, he added, Congress should not ignore legitimate safeguarding of domestic industries, agriculture and labor standards.

Senator Urges U.S. Use Full Blockade

WASHINGTON (AP) — Representative Dewey Short (Rep.-Mo.) called today for a full naval blockade of Communist China and said he believed President Eisenhower is considering such a step.

Short, chairman of the House of Representatives armed services committee, said Admiral Arthur W. Radford, commander of Pacific naval forces, assured the committee in a secret briefing Thursday that a blockade would mean "little chance of war" with Russia.

Radford, long an advocate of China blockade, is in Washington for top-level conferences. Short said he believes the President is "listening to him (Radford)."

Short expressed belief in an interview that Congress would support a blockade order and any other steps by Eisenhower to "take the offensive throughout the world."

Radford also proposed sending more naval equipment to the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa, Short reported, but declined to say how far U. S. naval units should go in supporting any Nationalist attacks on the mainland.

The Canadian government, he added, will follow developments with the "closest possible attention and take appropriate action to make our views known whenever the occasion so warrants."

Then in a statement somewhat similar to one made in the British Commons by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, Mr. Pearson said:

"Meanwhile, I think it would be unwise and premature to jump to dogmatic or critical conclusions concerning the step taken by the United States government, and announced in a statement by President Eisenhower, which contained so much that was wise and heartening to us all."

HOPES TO END IT

Mr. Pearson said he is convinced the purpose of President Eisenhower is to end and not to extend the war in Korea. The President had stated clearly that modifying the fleet's orders "implies no aggressive intent on our part."

The fleet had been ordered to Formosa before Chinese Communists had entered the struggle in Korea. Mr. Pearson said he supposes the order gave the Communist forces in China a feeling of immunity from attack from Formosa.

This situation became increasingly unacceptable to the people of the United States, especially since the Chinese Communists continued their aggression in Korea and rejected efforts to end the war.

Mr. Pearson said he does not think it need be assumed that revising the fleet's orders will mean that Nationalist forces of China soon will launch large-scale operations on the mainland.

"It is no doubt hoped that this change may keep more Chinese Communist forces in China and hence have an advantageous effect on United Nations operations in Korea," said Mr. Pearson.

"It would, of course, be another matter if Chinese Nationalist raiders or invading forces were escorted or protected in their operations by the armed forces of other United Nations governments.

"We have no reason to believe, however, on the basis of information available to us, that any such development will take place, the consequences of which would be far-reaching."

National Group Co-ordinates Flood Help

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

A national committee is co-ordinating Canadian efforts to help the victims of European floods.

It has already started its task. It sent $10,000 worth of relief supplies late Thursday to stricken coastal areas of Holland which, with parts of England and Belgium bore the brunt of this week's flooding.

Prime Minister St. Laurent asked the Canadian Red Cross Society to help in establishing a relief committee and the Red Cross accepted. The prime minister proposed that the Red Cross buy and distribute the relief supplies with funds donated by the public.

Dr. W. S. Stanbury, national commissioner of the Canadian Red Cross Society, said later in Toronto that Canadians can help best by gifts of money, rather than donations of clothing or other relief supplies.

SET UP COMMITTEES

Meanwhile communities across Canada set up their own committees to raise funds. They include Hamilton, Windsor, Sherbrooke, Cobourg, the Holland Marsh area near Toronto where many of the district farmers are of Dutch origin, Ottawa and Toronto.

The United Church of Canada, the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire and the Salvation Army are among organizations which have made large donations of money.

The Church of England in Canada has launched an emergency appeal for $10,000.

Negro Minister To Take Over Whites' Church

BURKS FALLS (CP) — A young Negro minister, Rev. Wilfred Sheffield, has accepted a call to a Baptist church here with an all-white congregation.

The 29-year-old minister, a graduate of Queen's and McMaster universities, is believed the first Negro to take charge of a church with an all-white following in Canada.

He accepted the call at the demand of the parishioners. He spent two weeks at Burks Falls on an evangelical campaign and since then the congregation has been asking for his appointment.

Rev. D. A. Burns, superintendent of the home mission board, said there are other ordained Negro ministers in Canada but they either work with Negro congregations or are in missionary and administrative fields.

HOLIDAY CENTRE

Burks Falls is a summer holiday vacation centre, 48 miles south of North Bay, popular with American tourists.

Dr. T. B. McDormand, general secretary of the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec, said he isn't worried about the possible reaction of visitors from the southern U. S.

"I think it will be a very good demonstration of what they can do down there," he said.

"It is a very happy situation," Mr. Burns said. "The Burks Falls congregation has recognized his gifts irrespective of his color and appreciate the Christian qualities of the man."

Mr. Sheffield was born in Collingwood. He was president of the students' council at the high school he attended there, and during the war served with the Canadian Army. His father, who came to Canada from England, runs a tourist business.

Currie Criticized Only One Branch

OTTAWA (CP)—George S. Currie said Thursday the controversial criticisms in his report were not a condemnation of the whole army but concerned only the army works services and those responsible for supervising it.

The Montreal accountant's testimony before the Commons defence expenditures committee ended abruptly 25 minutes before the scheduled finish of his second appearance.

The Progressive Conservatives held to their policy of silence and other members ran out of questions so he was excused but told he might be recalled.

Committee Chairman David Croll (L—Toronto Spadina) himself got these replies from the author:

1. Mr. Currie himself was solely responsible for taking out a phrase which brought officials "at or near the top" under a criticism of indifference to administration and a war-type attitude of putting speed ahead of cost. He decided it would be better to refer to officials "higher-up" because this "more clearly expressed my opinion." He had no specific individuals in mind.

2. His finding of "a general breakdown" in administration, supervision and accounting applied only to the works services—the one branch he was asked to investigate—"and to other personnel in the department of national defence" charged with responsibility for supervising that branch.

Cobourg Hospital Hit By Loss Of Grants

COBOURG (ENS) — Cobourg Hospital Board at the annual meeting expressed its regret that counties council at its session last month decided to discontinue hospital grants.

A. C. Hodgetts, chairman of the board, commented: "It is with deep regret and keen disappointment that we have learned of the decision of the counties council to discontinue their usual annual grants to the hospitals of the counties. We feel that this has been a hasty decision and hope that it will be reconsidered within the year."

Loss of the grant will have to be made up by a direct grant from the urban and rural municipalities which the hospital serves. Port Hope council has figured it out that their contribution to hospital grants, through the counties rate, will amount to $100 more than will be coming to the Port Hope Hospital as a direct grant.

Decision Delayed In Custody Suit For 3 Children

Judge John de N. Kennedy reserved judgment Thursday afternoon on the application of Mrs. Anne Teresa Simmons, 74 Ware Street, for custody of her three children, as well as enough money from her husband to look after them.

The 24-year-old housewife is now living at her sister's home with the youngest of the three children, Anne Mary, age 18 months. She gets $11 a week from her husband, Edward George Simmons of 704 Orpington Road, as a result of a court order under the Deserted Wives and Children's Maintenance Act.

Mr. Simmons is a stationery salesman, is living at his mother's home with his two sons—Edward George 5, and Donald James 4.

The husband and wife separated in July 1951 after a series of quarrels. They had been living at RR 3 Peterborough, a mile from the city.

Religious differences were blamed by Mr. Simmons for the trouble. Mrs. Simmons said there had been on arguments on religion—he is an Anglican, she is a Roman Catholic—until June 1951. She also indicated that there was "another woman" in the case, but she named no names and agreed with Defence Counsel W. B. (Pete) Gordon that to her knowledge there had been nothing improper in her husband's relationship with the woman.

Thursday morning Mrs. Simmons gave her side of the story.

Religious controversy began in June 1951 and there were repeated quarrels. Then, said Mrs. Simmons, her husband began going out "every night in the week", and he would go away weekends without sufficient explanation. Finally he left altogether though he gave her money and groceries.

Thursday afternoon Mr. Simmons entered the box on his own behalf. Since the morning session he had obtained legal counsel.

MAIN DIFFICULTY

"What was the main difficulty between you and your wife?" asked Defence Counsel Gordon.

"It was religion," said Mr. Simmons. "She preferred I turn to the RC faith; I wanted to remain Anglican. That was the main sore spot."

"Just before we were married we agreed that she'd keep her religion and I'd keep my religion and there would be no talk of it at all . . . I agreed to let them be Roman Catholic as long as they were being cared for."

(Mrs. Simmons corroborated this: "My husband signed a statement to Father Kay that all the children would be brought up Roman Catholics, and he would interfere in no way with their bringing up.")

Mr. Simmons said his wife kept at him to turn and quarrelling continued.

DISCUSSED RELIGION

Gordon Simmons, a brother of the defendant and himself a Roman Catholic, said that in visits to his brother's home Mrs. Teresa Simmons would start discussing religion with his wife.

"It made Ed uncomfortable discussing it in front of him . . . Mrs. Simmons said she was glad I was turning (RC) because maybe Ed would turn . . . It made me mad . . . I felt it was his business."

When the bickering continued, Mr. Simmons testified, he and his wife agreed that a separation was inevitable, but when he had the separation agreement drawn up by a legal firm Mrs. Simmons refused to sign it.

Mr. Simmons also said his wife was not a good housekeeper and could not bring up the boys properly.

He said he took over the raising of the boys after his wife had put them in St. Vincent's Orphanage.

(Mrs. Simmons said this was only a temporary measure. At the time she didn't have sufficient accommodation for the three children, but she intended to get a place for them when Mr. Simmons took them out of the orphanage.)

The Rev. Harvey Scuse, rector of St. George's Anglican Church, said he knew the Simmons family through St. Alban's mission. But the contact was not very great.

Mr. Scuse described Mr. Simmons' sons as "a normal pair of boys . . . perhaps on the rough side, but they learned that from the area surrounding." He could not recall hearing them swearing as was alleged by Mrs. Simmons.

He also said that he found nothing unusual about Mrs. Simmons' housekeeping, particularly as she had three young children to look after.

Judge Kennedy reserved judgment for a week but strongly recommended that the husband and wife get together and arrange a settlement.

Artillery Company Blushes Over Salute

LONDON (AP) — The Honorable Artillery Company was blushing this afternoon because its cannon stuttered and faltered while saluting the Queen at the Tower of London.

The Honorable Company fired 62 blank shells to mark the completion of the Queen's first year of reign, but there were difficulties. No. 1 of the four pieces just said "click" but there was no bang. That left three cannon for 62 shots. Then No. 4, after a couple of splendid roars, also decided to stop. No. 3 was next to give up, and No. 2, coaxed by an officer, finished the salute somewhat tardily.

"These blank shells!!" an artilleryman snorted. "Our live ammunition is better."

Aid To Oil Unloading Seen In Pier Repairs

COBOURG (ENS) — Preparations made last year to permit oil being unloaded from tankers at the car ferry slip, will pay off this year when work commences on the centre pier. The Department of Public Works, Ottawa, has let a contract for $180,000 to rebuild the centre pier.

For some years the cribbing has been breaking down until the south end and east side of the pier is now a total wreck. The big oil tankers which unload here, use the centre pier. However the old car ferry slip has been readied and the tankers will be able to discharge the cargoes there while the centre pier construction is going on.

Losing Faith In Advertisers

LONDON (CP)— Regretfully, the House of Lords concluded Thursday that some products are not what their advertisers claim them to be.

Lord Mancroft, a government supporter, informed an appreciative audience that before the debate he had been given half a bottle of whisky.

"The label," he said, "is printed on the background of the clan McGregor tartan.

"In the lefthand corner is a stalwart Scot declaring defiance to all comers.

"In the righthand corner is written 'Pride of the Glen gold label liqueur whisky.'

"In minute letters at the bottom is the legend 'Made in Japan'.

"The word 'Scotch' does not appear anywhere," Lord Mancroft said.

"But that is the impression the lable is intended to convey to the unwary drinker."

Shaken to the core, the Lords gave an unanimous second reading to a bill aimed at tightening trademark regulations and imposing stiffer penalties for faking.

High School In Lakefield Publishes Paper

The Lakefield District High School, High Cry, the first paper to be published by a Lakefield secondary school, was distributed this week.

The 12-page mimeographed publication, made up of school news, poetry, book reports and jokes, is written, edited and printed by a staff of 17 Grade X students. They are planning to publish it every two weeks.

Gordon Hunt, Grade 10 science, maths and English teacher, is credited with the idea of publishing the paper. He believes that the paper will give the students experience in writing and will be an incentive to improve their English.

It was decided that the paper would also be an excellent way to foster school spirit and give many students who come from long distances a chance to participate in an extra-curricular activity. catch buses at the end of the Many of the students have to school day and are cut off from other extra-curricular activities.

In December the grade 10 students wrote letters to other schools in Ontario requesting information about student publications. Copies of student publications were sent to the Lakefield school and after studying these copies the students went to work on their own paper. The first issue at five cents was a near sell-out to the 217 students on the roll. The money will be used for publishing expenses and the profit, if any, will be turned over to the Students' Council.

The following are the members of the paper's staff: Pauline Fitzgerald, editor; Kenneth Darling, assistant editor; Edith Whetung, business manager; Jack McCracken, sports editor; Cherie Kingdon, literary editor; Kenneth Webb, social editor; John Milligan, forestry editor; Jeanette Binnington, Grade 13 reporter; Constance Vallance, Grade 12 reporter; Helen Hennessey, Grade 11 reporter; Don Millage, Grade 10 reporter; Roger Jackson, Grade 9A reporter; John Weiss, Grade 9B reporter; Gordon Stenner, artist; Betty Jane Rath, secretary-treasurer; Carole Peters and Dianne Webster, printers.

Lives Too Long Makes Apology

DOLTON, Eng. (AP)—Ninety-year-old Charles John Robert Hepburn-Stuart Forbes-Trefusis, the 21st Baron Clinton, apologized to his heirs today for living so long.

To prove that he means it, he said he is going to take care of three of the beneficiaries in his will without further delay. It will cost him £6,000.

"I should have popped off long ago, and here I am still feeling quite fit," the Baron told a reporter.

"Away back in 1930 or so I made bequests in my will of £2,000 each to the three Episcopalian diocesan councils with which I have been connected. The money was to be used to aid the 'poorer living' clergy.

"I think they have waited quite long enough for it, and I have decided to let them have their bequests immediately.

"I am really feeling quite guilty about my surprising longevity."

The clergymen are those of the Brechin, Aberdeenshire - Orkney and Exeter dioceses.

How Shall We Celebrate The Coronation?

A meeting was held on Wednesday evening, at which a large number of Peterborough organizations were represented, to exchange ideas about the celebration of the forthcoming Coronation of our Queen. No sort of program has emerged from the meeting, though there was a good deal of useful discussion, and as we think that the matter is of the widest interest, we invite our readers to make use of our Letters to the Editor to put forward any ideas they may have. As a beginning, we should like to express a few feelings of our own.

* * *

First of all, we do not feel that it is necessary to crowd all our celebrations into a single day. That will only make it difficult for people to enjoy any events that come close together. The day of the Coronation itself will be a holiday for many citizens, and it should be marked with one or two fitting celebrations of a suitably patriotic nature. But there are a good many things which need not happen on Coronation Day, and which could be fittingly scheduled for the week before and the week after it. We suggest that a small central committee might organize the events and allot times to them, so that they do not conflict.

* * *

Regarding decorations, we do not think that the city should be expected to do it all, at municipal expense. Most of us, we believe would like to see the City Hall handsomely decorated, and we suggest that an artist or an architect might be asked to supervise this work, to see that the best effect is achieved for the money spent. Federal buildings, we presume, will get their instructions from Ottawa about decoration, and it has long been the custom for some of the big stores to carry out decorations according to a scheme devised by an artist. Other places of business will want to decorate, and where two or three small stores are close together, we suggest that they might like to get together on a plan which would present a good effect, and prevent a jumble of flags and bunting. Perhaps the Chamber of Commerce or the retailers' associations would be interested in some planning along these lines.

* * *

There is one point which we should like to stress: just hanging out flags is not decoration. A plan, however simple or humble it may be, is necessary if decoration is not to be a mess. And it is also important not to use flags as if they were rags; they are symbols of our national pride and greatness, and they must be used with respect. For drapings and wrappings coloured bunting or paper is the proper material.

* * *

We should like to see a cheerful and ingenious decoration of private houses. Particularly we should like to see something done in the way of illuminations. This does not mean a wild blaze of light which will drain the Hydro to its last watt, but a pleasant glow of lights to make the house look pretty. We suggest that oil lamps and candles are ideal for this sort of illumination, but use discretion; the Fire Department must not have the last word in your illuminations. For the days around the Coronation, let us see the residential districts of Peterborough as prettily lit as they are at Christmas. You can probably do something clever with your Christmas-tree lights.

* * *

We do not think it is necessary to spend a lot of municipal money. We haven't got it to spend. But the times are pretty good, and most of us have a little money that we could lay out in decorating our own places of business, and our own homes. But let us be guided by taste. Let us not try to knock the neighbours cold with our flags and our lights; let us strive, rather to get together with the neighbours and make a pretty street. If anybody likes this idea, we shall certainly be glad to have the Examiner photographers take pictures of the best streets, and it might be possible to work up some sort of small award or citation for the street, or district, or house, which does best.

* * *

In short, let us not break our necks trying to cram enough Coronation fun for two weeks into a single day. And let us not foist the job of decorating on the City, and then complain that the City hasn't done enough. After all, we are the city—every one of us—and if we decide to do a Coronation job of decoration, we shall do far more than the City—considered simply as the Works Department and the Utilities—can hope to do. Let us start as soon as we can, and have specially fine gardens for the Coronation. What about a contest in that direction? The Horticultural Society does a fine job in this respect every year; perhaps we could double the number of entries in their annual contest.

* * *

Good celebrations are not simply a matter of money spent. They are far more a matter of brains used. In summertime Peterborough is a pretty city, and we can celebrate the Coronation fittingly by making it even prettier this year. But it is a job for all of us. If we want the Coronation to be properly enjoyed here, we must every one make up our minds that we shall have to do something about it personally. And we shall have to make our plans soon.

"Dynamic" U.S. Policy Makers

The new American Secretary of State and the new Foreign Aid Administrator are now in Europe. Mr. John Foster Dulles and Mr. Harold Stassen are including Rome, Paris, London, Bonn, the Hague, Brussels and Luxembourg in their itinerary.

Before they left Mr. Dulles gave a talk to the American people by radio and television and did it without a written text. He said that since the war the U.S. had sent abroad forty billion dollars. Of this thirty billion have gone into Western Europe. "If it appeared that there were no chance of getting effective unity and if, in particular, France, Germany and England should go their separate ways, then certainly it would be necessary to give a little re-thinking to America's own foreign policy in relation to Western Europe." The threat was explosive.

Nations do not like being booted into lines laid down by others. If they must be led by the nose, at least they hope it will be behind a diplomatic screen. Mr. Dulles' frankness verges on foolhardiness. It is not enough to excuse it by saying that he spoke off-the-cuff. A Secretary of State should make it his business to read his speeches from prepared texts, knowing that every word he utters will be weighed by foreign offices. Mr. Dulles was therefore being calculatingly forthright or offensively frank. This is apparently part of the method of making American foreign policy dynamic.

Mr. Dulles and Mr. Stassen are in the West German capital today. They are repeating in Bonn what Mr. Dulles is said to have said in London and Paris: Unless the six-country European Army project is under firm way within 75 days, the U.S. Congress may refuse to give West Europe any more money.

Western European unity and a European Army are desirable. Many heads and hands have been working towards these for several years, but national differences have caused a stalemate. The United States now expects money to talk where reason has failed. Perhaps it will, but the dynamism of Mr. Dulles also holds dynamite which might blast what unity there is into smithereens. Europeans are not so convinced of the wisdom of American policies and American leadership in all world affairs as to surrender their own prerogatives and bow before the American ultimatum. Policy in a hurry is not sound diplomacy. American dynamism may not be Europe's pill.

The Tradition Of The Unarmed Police

The uproar over the hanging of David Bentley has been heard even in this country, and perhaps some comment on it is required. Bentley, it will be remembered, was associated with a boy named Craig in a robbery which ended with the murder of a policeman by Craig. But Craig was a minor, and was sent to prison; Bentley, who was 19, was sentenced to hang—and hang he did, in spite of appeals to the Queen, and a widespread protest.

Bentley was hanged because, according to British law, anyone implicated in a crime which ends in murder shares the guilt of that murder. In this case the murdered man was an unarmed policeman. Britain does not want to send her police on duty with guns, and the hanging of Bentley was a warning to all criminals that the shooting of unarmed policemen will be treated with the full severity of the law.

Why are British police unarmed? So far as we know, they are the only police in the world who go about their business with no protection except truncheons and considerable skill in unarmed combat. It is because they cling tenaciously to the concept of a policeman as a public helper and guardian; to arm him brings him too near to being a soldier for their liking. The British police are very brave men; they also know that the law is deathly severe upon anyone who attacks or resists them.

Bentley was not of adult intelligence, and he did not fire the shot which killed Police Constable Miles. But he was involved in the crime, and he urged his pal to fire on the policeman. If half-wits are to urge other half-wits to shoot policemen, and escape the full consequences, it will be necessary to arm the British police, and the day that happens every criminal in the British Isles will begin to carry a gun. Now, only the worst among them carry arms. It is to avoid worse crimes that Bentley was hanged, and in refusing him mercy the Queen and the Home Secretary acted in the interests of the whole peaceable population.

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions are solicited for this column particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

DEAR ALPHA: Will you kindly tell me the meaning of: Solar Cycle, Julian Period, Roman indiction, Golden No, Epact, Dominical Letter?

ANSWER: Dear me, you've been reading a book— a heavy one, too. About calendars, too. However, here goes; the terms show how our ancestors tussled with the year— as some people today, still do. Our present calendar is irregular and a "World Calendar" has been devised, so that every month begins on the same day, Easter falls regularly and all major public holidays are on Mondays.

◇ ◇ ◇

ROMAN INDICTION: An indication is a declaration or promulgation. The Roman Indiction is the decree of the Roman emperors fixing the valuation on which the property tax was to be assessed at the beginning of each period of fifteen years. But since your other questions are concerned with the calendar, I expect that in the context in which you found the term, it means the fiscal period of fifteen years— this was instituted by the Emperor Constantine in A. D. 313, and reckoned from September 1, 312. It became a means of dating ordinary events.

◇ ◇ ◇

EPACT: Measured by the moon, the year has twelve months, but it is not the same as the sun's year of twelve months, the one we use. The lunar year has about 354 and a third days. The solar year has about 365¼ days. Epact is the number of days by which the solar year exceeds the lunar year. It is the number of days of the moon's age on the first day of the year.

◇ ◇ ◇

JULIAN PERIOD: Julian refers to Julius Caesar. The Julian calendar was used unil 1582 when on order of Pope Gregory the New Style or Gregorian calendar, which we still use, was introduced. The Julian period is therefore time before 1582.

◇ ◇ ◇

DOMINICAL LETTER: Dominical means "of the Lord" or pertaining to the Lord Jesus Christ. A Dominical letter is the letter used to denote the Sundays in a particular year. The seven letters A; B; C; D; E; F; G; are used in succession for the first seven days in the year (January 1-7), then in rotation the next seven days and so on. Thus if the fourth of January were a Sunday, as it was this year, the Dominical letter for the year would be D. Leap years have two Dominical letters, one for the days preceding February 29th, the other for the rest of the year.

◇ ◇ ◇

GOLDEN NO: 'No' here is the abbreviation for 'number.' Golden Number (Latin aureus numerus, so called for its importance in calculating the date of Easter) is the number of any year in the Metonic lunar cycle of 19 years. The number for a certain year of the Christian era is its year (e. g. 1953) plus one, divided by 19. It is called Metonic cycle after the Greek astronomer Meton— a cycle of 19 years, used, as I have indicated, for determining Easter.

◇ ◇ ◇

SOLAR CYCLE. A period of 28 years, at the end of which the days of the week recur on the same days of the month.

A large dictionary— for instance, the 2-volume Shorter Oxford, will define these phrases. I have put them down here, since, living in the country, you may not have ready access to such a dictionary. The Peterborough Public Library has one, as well s the great Oxford English Dictionary of which the two-volume Shorter Oxford (only 2,475 pages) is in abridgement.

◇ ◇ ◇

SIR: How do I go about getting a patent?

ANSWER: Write to the Commissioner of Patents, Department of the Secretary of State, Ottawa, for information and application forms. The process is complicated, and it is best to get a lawyer familiar with it to act for you. A synopsis of the Patent Act is given in the "Canadian Almanac."

Patents, registration of trade marks and copyright have common features, and all come under the Secretary of State. It used to be that copyright applications were dealt with the Department of Agriculture— a curious agency for such work. This recalls a news item this week. The Ontario Minister of Health said that the new Pharmacy Act will not prevent persons from selling patent medicines so long as the medicine is registered under the Pest Control Act.

◇ ◇ ◇

ALPHA: Why is it that farmers get the most out of governments and pay the least tax? They have the services of agricultural representatives, experimental farms, agricultural colleges, provincial and Federal experts on seeds, water, soil conservation and improvement, farming methods, cattle breeding. They have had large subsidies from the government on pork, wheat, butter, milk, etc. They get farm loans, special legislation, government help in scores of ways. Farmers are the most pampered lot of citizens in Canada yet they pay the least income tax.

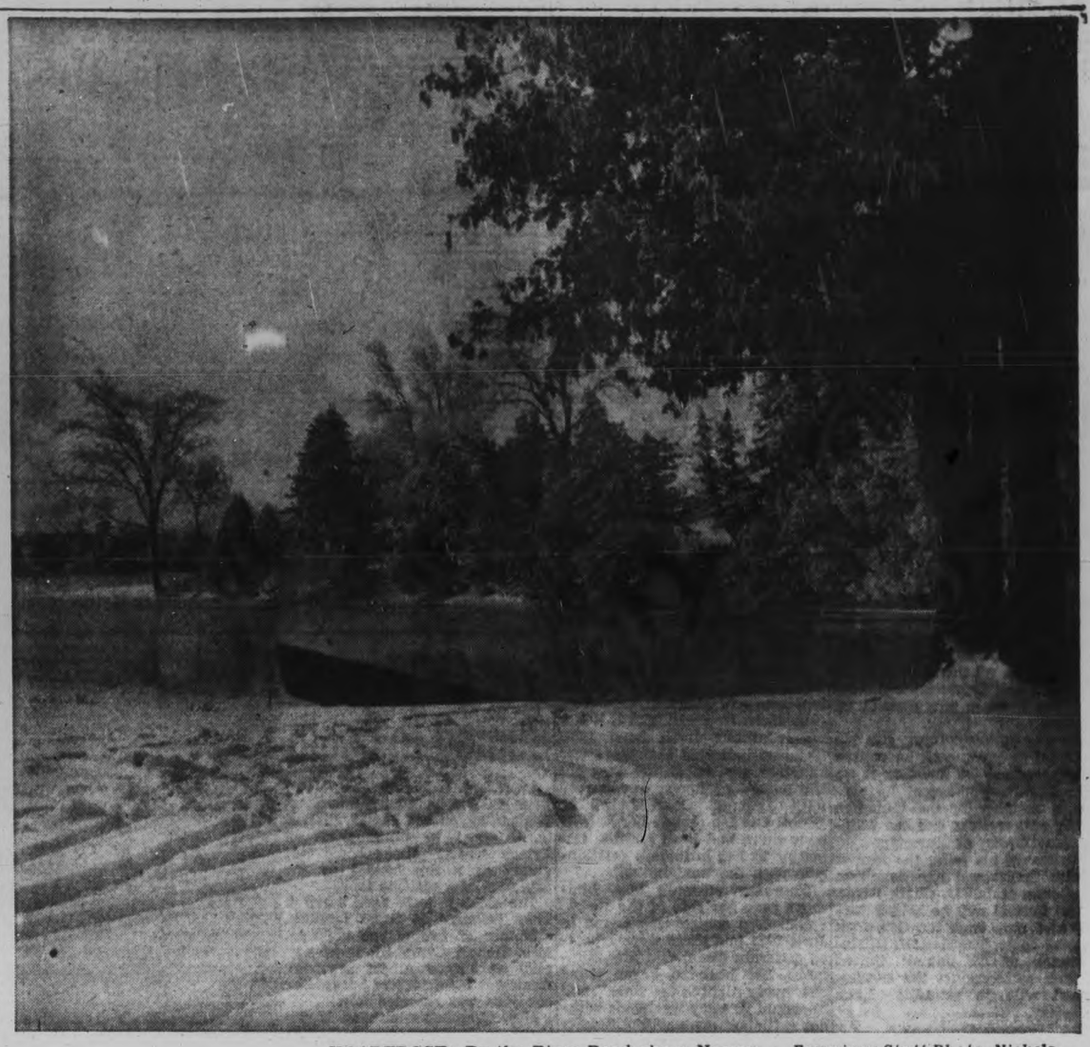
ANSWER: Perhaps they are most in need of help, both financial and advisory. Yet your question cannot be dismissed thus. I know of a farmer not far from Peterborough who in the last dozen years has completely modernized his house and barns, oil heat, bathrooms, the best machinery and lots of it. He has gone south for winters. Last year he bought as a second family car, a rather expensive model, took it and some of his family to Britain, and toured there in this car for a month or so. Yet this farmer has never in his life filed an income tax form.

◇ ◇ ◇

DEAR SIR: What were "Circuit Riders"?

ANSWER: Methodists, not circus people. In the early settlement days of this Province, religion was brought to the people on horseback —particularly by the Methodists. The preacher would arrive at a farm settlement on his horse, hold a service in a kitchen or by a camp fire, baptize babies, marry their parents, and go on next day, or after a couple of days, to the next cluster of people. Many circuit riders here were Americans, or trained in the U. S.

The first man to Christianize Peterborough — that is to say, to bring the consolations of religion to the white settlers hereabouts — wasn't an Anglican or a Roman Catholic, but a Methodist circuit rider. The second principal of Victoria College, then at Cobourg, was a Methodist circuit rider who felt that his health at the age of 36 did not permit the ardours of circuit-riding any longer, and took the stationary position following the resignation of Egerton Ryerson, who was called to higher things— specifically, directing public education in Upper Canada. That was a little more than a hundred years ago.



◇ ◇ ◇

ALPHA, SAGE: I had a letter today written in green ink. Why do people use green ink? Hang-over from Christmas?

ANSWER: Why not use green ink? Green ink was invented by Thomas Sterry Hunt, a professor of chemistry at McGill University, Montreal. This ink, immune to photographic imitation, was first used in 1862 in U.S.A. greenbacks.

COUNTRY NOTE: Bad news — and it's not the snow: Belles Acres is still accessible by car. The youthful co-mate in sheephearding— he's eleven— yesterday informed me importantly "You know Mansel who got the rest of the flock we didn't buy? Well, he's had a lamb!" The lad sounded pleased as an uncle with his first nephew. I groaned; it's me, not the lad, who will have to keep any premature spring lambs in his kitchen. I said: "Do you think ours will hold off until Saturday? Then maybe we can fix up a warm place in the horse stable." He said: "Oh sure." I'm not. Scrutinized the eight dames this morning, and two of them look as if they couldn't get through the barn door any longer (wider). Am out of pleasure with the eight ewes. Not only are they inconsiderate in their lambing time, but they just chomp and withdraw whenever I, their lord and master, appears. They come whinnying up to the boy every time. He's the one who gives them their nightly oats .... They've acquired burrs, too. The lad says cheerfully that that reduces the value of their hair. . . .I mean wool.

Why Car Insurance Rates Are High

(MONTREAL STAR)

Some humiliating facts were put forward at yesterday's meeting of the All Canadian Insurance Federation. For Quebec province's 196,000 insured cars, 52,000 claims were entered last year. Statistically, one car in four was involved in some sort of mishap causing damage, a somewhat misleading deduction of course since some cars furnished more than one entry in the record. For 42,000 insured commercial vehicles, there were 20,000 claims. Quebec's figures in both categories are double those for the country as a whole.

The explanation is not to be found in better roads elsewhere. We have no wish to disparage Maritimes roads, but they do not rate especially high. Yet in the Maritimes area, for 90,00 insured cars, there were only 12,000 claims, one for every eight cars roughly. It is to be found, rather in driving ability, or the lack of it. Driving faults produce accidents on the best of roads as well as the worst, and it is a fair conclusion that by the figures Quebec's drivers are just about half as competent as those of the country as a whole.

This sort of comparison is the strongest possible endorsement of the Government's recently announced decision to impose drivers' tests. One cannot escape the conclusion that many people behind the wheel should not be there, because they lack driving proficiency and knowledge of the rules of the road, and it will be surprising as well as disappointing if the accident picture does not improve when facilities have been set up to make the test a general requirement.

It is, too, another proof of the proposition that motorists have much of the remedy for the grievance about high insurance costs in their own hands. Reduce accidents, and claims, and the rates go down. Quebec drivers can hardly expect to pay the same rates as others. We have to pay the penalty for our bad manners on the road. Our manners are twice as bad, or if you prefer, half as good as the national average.

When we improve them, the change will be reflected in our insurance bills.

Breakfast For A Man

(New York Times)

We know that Winston Churchill must be in good form because anyone who can still eat poached eggs and cold roast beef for breakfast (as we are told the prime minister did on the Queen Mary in a rough sea coming over) is not really very old, or, at the last, he is indestructible.

"My pop says it's the taxes on them that make HIM sick . . ."

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And it came to pass, that, while Apollos was at Corinth, Paul having passed through the upper coasts came to Ephesus . . . And God wrought special miracles by the hands of Paul . . . Then certain of the vagabond Jews, exorcists took upon them to call over them which had evil spirits the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, We adjure you by Jesus whom Paul preacheth.

And there were seven sons of one Sceva, a Jew, and chief of the priests, which did so. And the evil spirit answered and said, Jesus I know, and Paul I know; but who are ye? And the man in whom the evil spirit was leaped on them, and overcame them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.

And this was known to all the Jews and Greeks also dwelling at Ephesus; and fear fell on them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified . . . Many of them also which used curious arts brought their books together, and burned them before all men: and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver.

So mighty grew the word of God and prevailed. (Act 19: 1, 11, 13-17, 19, 20.)

◇ ◇ ◇

Who hath directed the Spirit of the Lord, or being his counsellor hath taught him ?.... All nations before him are as nothing; and they are counted to him less than nothing, and vanity. To whom then will ye liken God? or what likeness will ye compare unto him? (Isa. 40: 13, 17, 18.)

Out To Pasture

(St. Thomas Times-Journal)

The United States has two ex-presidents, one a Republican and one a Democrat, but no provision for assuring them financial independence for the remainder of their lives, nor any plan whereby their experience as "elder statesmen" may be utilized by Congress.

It is paradoxical that the United States has such elaborate retirement benefits awaiting its admirals and generals when they are superannuated from the armed services, but when a president or vice-president returns to private life, he is "on his own" again. Of course, he can always write his memoirs, which in Mr. Truman's case would bring in a considerable sum. But except for a pension he draws from the army Mr. Truman is without income to support himself and his family. The argument is entirely academic since there are many courses open to him which would be highly remunerative but whether his talents should be permitted to cease to be at the service of the state is a matter of great importance.

Surely, a non-voting seat in the senate, with an office and staff to maintain his prestige, would be a minimum reward from a grateful country. Moreover, a lifetime annuity would solve financial worries for the less affluent of ex-presidents. Some are actually in need of funds when they leave office. General Grant was compelled after leaving the presidency to pledge his souvenirs of office for a loan.

WA Holds Tea In Millbrook

MILLBROOK (ENS)—The first meeting of the year of the town group of St. Andrew's Women's Association was held at the home of Mrs. John McKnight on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Chester Fisher, the president, opened the meeting.

The devotional period was conducted by Miss Josie Sutton. Mrs. I. Hatherly gave the scripture reading.

Mrs. John McKnight, reporting for the nominating committee, brought in the following slate of officers for 1953: President, Mrs. C. Fisher; vice-president, Mrs. Bruce Ingham; secretary, Mrs. B. B. Dawson; treasurer, Mrs. Arthur Fallis; pianist, Mrs. J. H. Barringer.

Mrs. Fisher thanked all the members for the help given during the past year which had made it such a successful one.

Ways of raising funds for the year were discussed. It was decided to canvass members for $2 donations again this year in place of the fowl supper formerly held in the fall. It was decided also to hold a rummage sale in the waiting room on April 25.

The visiting committee reported a number of calls and baskets of fruit sent to sick and shut-ins. Two letters of thanks were read.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. McMillan displayed aprons and towels made by some of the members and took orders for sales.

Following the meeting an afternoon tea, to which all ladies of the community had been asked, was held. Mrs. Fisher welcomed guests at the door. Mrs. H. R. Edmunds poured tea from a lace-covered table centred with spring flowers and lighthed candles. Tea assistants helping the hostess were Mrs. J. H. Barringer, Mrs. Herbt Bremner and Miss Josie Sutton. Mrs. Arthur Fallis acted as cashier. The flowers for the tea table were donated by Mrs. James H. Bingham.

Mrs. Burke of Pontypool read the guests' teacups.

Queen Helps Push

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands (Reuters)— Bystanders wondered what Queen Juliana was going to do when her car got stuck in the mud Thursday during her tour of the flood ravaged islands of south Holland. They didn't wonder long. The Queen jumped from the car and started to push. Others joined her and the car was soon freed.

Rector Reports Successful Year

LAKEFIELD (ENS) — Annual vestry meeting of the Church of St. John the Baptist, was well attended and all reports pointed towards the conclusion of a successful year. After the opening prayers, and the reading of the minutes, the Rev. L. J. Delaney reported on the condition, progress and needs of the parish. A good confirmation class and the fine attendance of men at communion were good signs in the spiritual life of the congregation.

The parish council, meeting monthly, has kept the parish business in good order through the year, looking after the finances, building maintenance, sidesmen and organizations. The rector expressed appreciation of the loyal support of the parishioners, mentioning in particular the increase in stipend in 1952.

The much needed parish hall space was at last in sight, and of this Mr Delaney said "We are all profoundly thankful, I am sure, for the agreement we have reached on the parish hall. We can now unite in the task that lies before us. Bishop Beverley has just written, 'These plans have my entire approval and I am delighted to know the additional accommodation is needed and will become available for the extension of your work in Lakefield'."

"We await the approval of the Trust Committee before proceeding. The architects and building committee are facing the problem of suitably matching the new wing and the old church.

In the final picture, of course, landscaping will play a most important role. C. Sisson is preparing a landscaping plan for our consideration."

Harold Deeth, vestry clerk and treasurer, presented the financial statement for 1953, a budget of $4,600 for current expenses. Fred Remnant, rector's warden, expressed the appreciation of the congregation for Mr. Deeth's faithful work.

On behalf of Mrs. W. Chappell, envelope secretary, it was reported that 170 sets of envelopes were in use, and a substantial increase in pledges had been received.

Kenneth Remnant read the names of the sidesmen for 1952, K. Remnant, C. Sisson, D. Holmes, R. Murduff, A. Gariepy, M. Hampton, R. Wiles, J. Twist, A. Dainton, R. K. Slater, M. Paterson, O. A. Langley, H. Deeth, P. Perley, E. Edwards, J. Mose, L. Edwards G. Birch and H. Pemberthy. Sidesmen committee for 1953 are K. Remnant, M. Paterson and G. Birch.

Fred Dainton reported on the improvements made in the parish buildings, particularly in the rectory interior. Repairs and redecoration worth approximately $700 had been done. Those nominated to the building maintenance committee were Mr. Dainton, G. Pearson, A. Gariepy, H. Pemberthy and F. Edwards.

The following officers were then elected. The rector appointed F. Remnant and the congregation elected C. Sisson as people's warden. Vestry clerk Harold Deeth was re-appointed.

R. K. Slater and O. A. Langley were appointed lay delegates to synod. The every-member canvass committee will be H. Deeth, C. Sisson, Mrs. W. Chappell, with team captains, J. Hampton, M. Paterson, K. Remnant, W. S. Remnant, F. Dainton, R. Burgess, R. K. Slater. Auditors are G. Winder Smith and R. K. Slater. Parish council, Dr. H. E. Gastle, R. Burgess and Mrs. J. Lacey.

Mrs. H. E. Gastle reported on the successful Parish Guild year. Mrs. Dainton and Mrs. S. E. White reported for the Women's Auxiliary. Mrs. J. Twist told of the Little Helpers and the rector spoke briefly of the Sunday school, and the junior Sunday school which meets separately in the Parish Hall under Mrs. Delaney and five teachers.

Mrs. R. Neale, organist, told of the choir's progress and activities.

Mr. Slater, Mr. Deeth and Mr. Gariepy reported on the progress of the parish hall building program.

Shoot Down Planes Without Seeing Them

SEOUL (AP) — Pilots of a new U. S. jet night fighter plane—the Skyright — have shot down Red planes in Korea without even seeing them, the Marine Corps said today.

The new Marine plane, the twin-jet F-3D built by Douglas Aircraft Company, made a secret appearance in Korea several months ago. It is equipped with an intricate radar system which locks the plane on a target in darkness.

Unofficial reports said the new jets have destroyed six night-flying Communist MiGs and one propellor-driven aircraft.

New York Waterfront Sealed By Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — The city's waterfront was tightly sealed today when longshoremen of the AFL threw their weight behind striking AFL tugboat crew members.

Even if big transatlantic ships could dock without the aid of tugs, they could not be loaded or unloaded while longshoremen stayed off the job.

Tugboat crews, striking for higher wages, set up one- and two-man pickets along the waterfront. But even one picket was enough to stop hundreds of longshoremen from working.

Both labor groups belong to the International Longshoremen's Association.

Lakefield WMS Holds Meeting

LAKEFIELD (ENS). — Mrs. Earl Orr was hostess to members of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church at her home on Tuesday afternoon. A good attendance was present.

The devotional period was in charge of Mrs. C. S. Tanner, who presented the call to worship and meditations and led in prayer. The Scripture readings were given by Mrs. Bruce Charlton and Mrs. Alfred Dunford.

Mrs. W. J. Charlton gave an interesting paper on Dr. Florence Murray, a United Church medical missionary, who was recently decorated by the King of Denmark. Miss Margaret Tanner led in prayer for the society's prayer missionary, Miss Irene Moore.

In the absence, through illness, of the president, the vice-president Mrs. Orr presided for the business. Mrs. H. Kemp took the roll call and treasurer Mrs. B. Charlton reported a balance on hand of $17.28.

Comprehensive reports of the recent Presbyterial meeting held in St. James' United Church, Peterborough, were given by delegates Mrs. P. H. Darling and Mrs. Orr.

Mrs. J. R. Hull sang "The Lord's My Shepherd," acompanied at the piano by Mrs. M. Kennedy.

Mrs. H. Kemp moved a vote of appreciation to the hostess and to those who had helped with the program.

During the tea hour, when the hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. Kemp, a letter from the Rev. Harold Steed, a missionary now on furlough from Africa, was read by Miss Margaret Turner.

Juvenile Marines Winners; Aces and Shamrocks, Too, To Open PMHA Final Series

Outboard Marines defeated the juvenile Aces 7-2 at Civic Arena last night to open their home-and-home PMHA final series. Marines will carry a five-goal lead into the return game next Thursday. The Martin-Hewitt Aces downed the midget Shamrocks 5-1 to hold a four-goal lead for their return match next week. In the first bantam final, Shamrocks trimmed Swartz 13-2 and now have an 11-goal lead in the series. The city winners will later enter provincial playdowns in juvenile, midget and bantam "A" classes.

Dodds put Marines up a goal in the first period of the juvenile joust on a pass from Cupoli. The latter, Hunt and Dodds scored in the second stanza, Corbett helping on two of them. In the third, Pearson clicked twice, and Dodds added one from Corbett. The losers tallied twice in the third, Strickland and Brooks hitting the twins. The victors drew seven of the 11 penalties in the lively encounter. Teams:

Aces—Hobart, Jones, Pollard, Allan, Smith, Strickland, Parry, Blodgett, Platt, McFadyen, Wasson, Whitnell, Stewart, Brooks.

Marines — O'Brien, McGillen, McCormick, Corbett, Ball, Foley, Cupoli, Montgomery, Dodds, Hunt, Pearson.

MIDGET TUSSLE

It was 1-1 in the first frame of the midget melee, Kane scoring for Aces on Heffernan's pass, as Brown hit the mark for Shamrocks. Aces went ahead in the second on goals by Godfrey, Kane and Heffernan, the latter and Floyd each earning an assist. Doris added one more in the third from Chambers. Six of the nine penalties went to the winners. Teams:

Shamrocks — Simmons, Orr, Beaubiah, Ferren, Goldie, Brown, Garvey, Blodgett, Towns, McArthur, Fair, McInnes, Lagana, Flynn.

Referees, Post and Vitarelli.

BANTAM FRAY

The bantam Shamrocks swept to a 4-1 lead in the first period of their tilt, Baker, Jay, Lonsberry and Darling scoring, with Mahoney aiding on two. Haig scored for Swartz on a pass from Kimball. It was all Shamrocks in the next heat, as Baker, Darling, Mahoney, Daley and Lonsberry counted, Jay, Baker and Darling each getting an assist. In the third Baker, Darling, Mahoney and Pace scored, with an assist each going to Mahoney and Coombs. For the losers, Brown hit the lamp. There were but three penalties, two going to the victors. Teams:

Shamrocks — Riel, Lonsberry, Stewart, Darling, Baker, Mahoney, Jay, McFadden, Shaw, Pace, Daley, Coombs, O'Connell, DeNoble.

Swartz—Tetlock, Hendy, Woods, Haig, Kimball, Armstrong, Brown, Kinlin, Dobbin, Casey, Dinsdale, Hamilton, Patterson, Faulkner, McIlwain.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Not even the menu is announced for the annual sports celebrity dinner at the Royal York on March 5, but we do know that the charge is $25 a plate. Yeah, that's all, and you don't have to tip the waiter. The "do" is put on by the Ontario Sportswriters and Sportcasters Association, with proceeds going to the Ontario Society for Crippled Children. Last year they raised $10,820. The affair also starts off the publicity on the Easter seals campaign. All the big, medium and little shots in the writing and sports radio game are there, plus a flock of big name athletic stars of past and present. They can accommodate 600 diners, and at present 400 ducats have been sold. Anyone here wanting in on it should contact the sports editors of the Toronto Star or Telegram right away.

More than 200 entries have been received so far for the men's open bowling competition to declare an Ontario champ, who gets a cash prize of $500 and the Molson Trophy at the Sportsmen's Show in Toronto next month. Half of these have been received from Peterborough and district, showing the keen interest in winter trundling down this way. We have some mighty good bowlers, too, as witness that 414 single by Bud Goodson earlier this week in the Major Bowling League. Those wanting a crack at the title, cash and trophy should apply for entry by Feb. 14 to the managers of Playfair or Duffus' alleys. Playoffs will be Feb. 28.

The Redhead Gets Around

George (Red) Sullivan has seen a lot of pro puck arenas so far this winter, including those of the AHL and NHL. When leading the AHL scorers at Hershey, Boston Bruins called him up. He went well in the big time, too, but Hershey hit a losing streak with their top sniper gone, so Red is back giving 'em a hoist again. Helped on two goals the other night as Hershey beat St. Louis to snap their defeat string. Despite his absence, Sully is still fourth high scorer in points, and he leads the whole loop in assists with 36 in just 34 games—not to mention his 10 goals. Ike Hildebrand is tied for third place with 47 points, he and Toppassini also being tied for most goals, having 26 each.

Don't look now but Oshawa Bees are buzzing fairly close to our OHA junior "B" IOOF-ers. Standing shows Belleville atop with 38 points, followed by Kingston with 31, Lindsay 26, IOOF 24, Oshawa 21, as Cobourg is out of it with just two points. Here's the rub: Links have to hustle the rest of the schedule—which ends in slightly more than a week—or Oshawa will oust 'em from a playoff spot. Belleville Hawklets are here tonight to play the Oddfellows in what should be a hot tilt. Locals go to Cobourg tomorrow, trek to Bella Villa the 10th and have Cobourg back here Feb. 11. If they can take those two from Cobourg, they should make it — but 'twould be safer to knock off the Hawklets once, also. Oshawans are creeping up rapidly.

Those PMHA Playoffs On

Clatter of sticks, rattle of teeth and shouts of joy or groans of dismay — all combined for a noisy background as PMHA playoffs got underway on Civic's sheet last gloaming. Six teams in furious action to open the home-and-home city finals with the right to advance into provincial playdowns beckoning the victors. Marines tooks a five-goal lead over the juvenile Aces, the Martin-Hewitt Aces banked a four-goal margain against the midget Shamrocks, while the bantam Shamrocks rolled through Swartz to tote home a lead of 11 markers. Juvenile joust was a bit rugged, but the other two were run off in orderly fashion. Return tilts are next Thursday eve in the arena.

Hoop tussles galore around and about. YW fixtures tonight are: Black's vs. Civic, and Lindsay vs. CGE. The PCVS boys' teams are off to Oshawa, while SPS seniors are in the OCC tourney in Toronto. Bantam Saints play at Kenner, with midget teams of these schools clashing in the second part of the twin bill. Cobourg High plays Kenner lasses on the latter's floor. Black's LOBA entry, coached by Phil Mack, entertain Hamilton Zions on the morrow evening in the YW, a real exhibition test for the locals. Zions are rated a top senior squad in girls' cage competition. Haven't heard if the male Marines arranged a weekend game or not. That's the list — hope we haven't overlooked any.

Only Two Entries For Racing Classic

THE PAS, Man. (CP)—A racing classic of the north will be run this year in spite of a scarcity of entries.

Officials of the Northern Manitoba Trappers' festival, to be held Feb. 17-20, said only two entries were in for the 200-mile Canadian open championship sled dog race from The Pas to Flin Flon and back.

Joe Highway, winner of the mushing championship in 1951 and John Marasity, who placed third in 1950, are the two early entrants. Both are from Brochet, 300 miles north of here.

One woman, Mrs. Marie Ouellette, wife of 1950 champion Laird Ouellette, said she will enter.

BRUSH VS. BROOM—A Scottish rink playing in the 65th annual bonspiel of the Manitoba Curling Association is using small brushes called coos in place of the orthodox broom used by Canadian entries. James (Bunny) McWhirter, of Ayr, Scotland, skip of the visiting four, explains the advantages of the coo to Len Knight of Winnipeg's Victoria Curling Club. The coo is made of soft bristles which put a shine on the ice.

Dr. Ralph Clark's Quartet Captures Sub-Division "A"

By the score of 14-8 Dr. R. Clark's rink defeated D. Charlton's rink in the final game of the British Consols competition for Sub-division "A" of Group No. 5, Ontario Curling Association, here last evening. His rink will now meet Lou Ross of Agincourt, winner of Sub-division "B" of Group No. 5, here on Saturday evening.

Last year these same two rinks met in the final game at Lindsay and this repeat order should be a dandy. The Clark rink, with one exception, is the same as the rink that represented Ontario in the MacDonald-Brier competition in Winnipeg last March.

The British Consol games were witnessed by a large crowd all day Thursday, and this final game for group honors on Saturday evening should draw a big crowd. This is the first time that a group final has ever been staged here.

The rinks:

Z. Levine	C. Coons
B. Harrison	H. Hamblin
V. Brown	D. Charlton
Dr. R. Clark	E. Northey
Skip ... 14	Skip ... 8

In order that our curlers may see the final game of the Consols competition, the Saturday night mixed rink bonspiel has been cancelled.

There is room for three more rinks for Saturday's bonspiel — contact Archie Lister.

Sorry to hear of the passing of Ernie Parsons of Oshawa. He was well and favorably known to the curling fraternity, and was a past president of the Ontario Curling Association.

Havelock Juveniles Finish Atop League

HAVELOCK (ENS)—Havelock by defeating Stirling Thursday on a score of 10 to 2 on home ice in the juvenile "C" series, finished the schedule in first place, having won every game. Playing in this schedule were: Campbellford, Madoc, Stirling and Havelock.

Havelock and Stirling will meet in the playoffs next week.

The line of Chase, Paranuik and Ruttan was very effective in scoring power for the locals. Chase accounted for four goals and two assists; Paranuik three goals and one assist, while Ruttan got four assists. The lineup:

Stirling: Goal, Ray; defence, Ackers, Hadley; centre, Scott; wings, Williams, Hagerman; alternates, Anderson, Montgomery, Ducette, G. McGee, N. McGee.

Havelock: Goal, Stackhouse; defence, Crowley, Hickey; centre, B. Laing; wings, R. Pollock, B. Buchanan; alternates, Paranuik, Revoy, Drummond, Chase, Patterson, Logan, MacMillan, Ruttan, Anderson.

Dorothy Woods Leads

Dorothy Woods rolled tops in the YWCA senior girls' bowling circuit this week with a three of 776 and two singles equal or over the 300 mark, 300 and 320. L. Crocker hit 736, D. Beatty 684, Dorothy McKinistry 679, Shirley Marshall 658, Mary Flaherty 648, Betty Castle 635 and D. Martin 629. Good singles were: Agnes Willshaw 284, Betty Pogue 278, D. Beatty 277, L. Crocker 269, D. McKinistry 264, S. Marshall 267 and D. Martin 254.

Lucky Strikes took over top place in the standing with four points captured from Aces. Glens moved into third position by defeating their rivals for six points. Tigers took four from Bombers, and the Commandos took four from Hurricanes.

Grove Boys Beaten

Pickering College took a 6-1 hockey decision over Grove Seconds in a Wednesday game at Newmarket. Grove were outplayed most of the route and looked disorganized, though they got the lone score of the third period, Creelman tallying. Kelso, Brownlee and Downs counted in the first for Pickering, as Forbes, Mulkin and Dobson dented the twine in the second of a speedy game, marked with no penalties. Teams:

Grove: Goal, Birchard; defence, Grant, Galanbos; centre, Caldwell; wings, Creelman, Easson; alternates: Hibbard, Delamere, Grey, Creswicke, Calderwood, Carter, Regan, Finn.

Pickering: Goal, Paul; defence, Brownlee, Kelso; centre, Mulkin; wings, Atkin, Downs; alternates, White, Forbes, Dobson, Marshall, Mickle.

Bancroft Victors

BANCROFT (ENS).—The Bancroft Pontiacs downed Tamworth 10-6 here on Monday night in a fast, action packed, Hastings-Addington league fixture. The game was nip and tuck all the way and one of the best league games this season despite the high score. The Pontiacs have a tight hold on the first place berth, having lost only one game this year. They remain undefeated on home ice.

One unfortunate incident marred the game when Jim Bruce, the stocky, fast moving local forward was removed to hospital with torn knee ligaments following a hard bodycheck in the first period. He will likely be out of action for the remainder of the season. Five penalties were handed out with Rumble, Munroe and Marshall of Tamworth getting the nod for holding, and Dougall and Hattin of the Pontiacs going off for tripping. The teams:

Bancroft: Goal, A. Young defence, J. Hattin, L. Dougall, F. Bruce, S. Stringer, C. McAlpine; forwards: E. Brough, B. Comrie, N. Brough, B. Ramsbottom, T. Maxwell, G. Green, J. Bruce, D. Maxwell, B. Delyea.

District Puck Fans Critical Over TVL

Several district hockey fans from the Norwood-Hastings' area have expressed displeasure over recent happenings in the TVL S. Hocker, U. Mathers and S. Reddick express the belief that Havelock, Campbellford, Marmora and Lakefield teams are envious of the hockey imports brought in by Hastings and Norwood this season.

They say that the fans aren't turning out to the games as they should since representatives of the above-mentioned four clubs have protested use of certain players by Norwood and Hastings.

"Why aren't the rules about imported players laid down at the start of the season?" these fans asked the sports editor. "Robinson and Ferguson played for Norwood for three years and aren't now allowed to continue playing." They add that the TVL has become a racket with too many secret meetings without Hastings or Norwood invited to sit in. The TVL president is criticized, too, by these district fans for not showing his authority concerning the rules.

Grove Firsts Win Against Pickering

Grove Firsts proved too good for Pickering College at Newmarket on Wednesday to take a 9-4 Prep School League hockey win. It was speedy and rough in spots, with five penalties handed out. Alex Ramsay and Blake Uren led the way for the winners. Newmarket took a 3-1 lead in the first on goals by Stewart, Green and King, as Uren tallied for Grove. In the second, Ramsay hit the mark three times, with Pearce and T. Ryder also scoring. Grove added three next stanza on goals by Ramsay, Uren and T. Ryder, as King counted for the losers. The teams:

Grove—Goal, Hellyer; defence, Whittemore, MacDonald; centre, Uren; wings, T. Ryder, Ramsay; alternates, Pearce, Little, Rashleigh, Staples, Oliver, A. Ryder, VanBuskirk.

Pickering—Goal, MacLean; defence, MacMillan, Wellesley; centre, Drew; wings, Stewart, Algar; alternates, Green, Emerson, King, Brown.

Begin Inquiry Into Racial Slur Charges

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian Council of Christians and Jews opened an investigation Thursday into racial slur charges against Gerry Livingston, manager of Tillsonburg Livingstons basketball team, and some of its members and supporters.

Livingston is alleged to have abused verbally Alex Fisher, manager of the Toronto Nortown Tri-Bell team, and Tillsonburg fans are accused of making slurring remarks about the racial background of one or two players on the Toronto team.

The action against the Tillsonburg manager and its members was brought on by Fisher who sent a letter of protest to the Ontario Amateur Basketball Association after the alleged remarks at a game in Tillsonburg last Saturday.

ATTEMPTS CONCILIATION

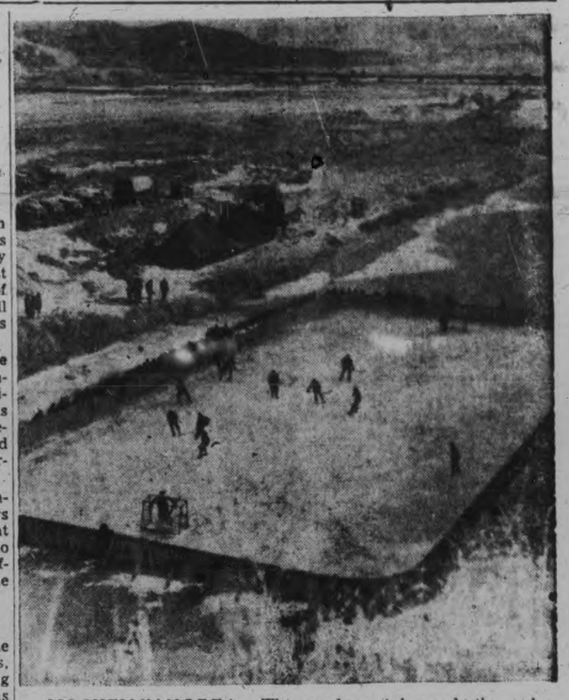
Richard Jones, secretary of the Council of Christians and Jews, said he would attempt to bring the managers of the two teams together to effect a remedy for what he termed "an unfortunate situation."

In Windsor, president Milt Hart of the OABA announced that body will meet "within two or three days" to discuss the racial slur charges.

"Naturally," he said in a statement, "the OABA cannot condone alleged anti - Semitic utterances made by any of its members but until such time as our executive can meet to hear both sides of the story, we will give out no further statements."

Golf Sponsors Angry At Slur

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—The sponsors of the $10,000 El Paso open golf tournament are boiling mad at Cary Middlecoff for quitting over the condition of the course.



Middlecoff, defending champion, stalked off the windblown, dry-as-a-bone 6,309-yard course Thursday after shooting nine holes in five-over-par 41, and said it was the worst he ever had seen. "I never before in my golf career took six bogeys in a row nor ever three-putted more than three greens in succession," he growled. "I three-putted five in a row here."

Bob Haynesworth, co-chairman of the tournament committee, called Middlecoff a poor sport an said the course was no worse than last year when Midlecoff won first money.

Ted Kroll and Chandler Harper, who seldom win first place but usually are active around the cash window, shot five-under-par 66s to tie for the first-round lead.

Downer's Triumphs

KEENE (ENS). — Downer's Corners defeated Hastings by a 7-1 score here last night in their bush hockey league meeting. B. Lock led the way with two goals for the winners, as one apiece was counted by Joe Burns, B. McIlmoyle, W. Steenburgh, D. Crowley, and R. Clancy. For the losers, Smith hit the hemp. The victory kept Downer's Corners on top of the league.

HOCKEY IN KOREA—This outdoor rink was built on the frozen Imjin River, a short distance behind the front lines in Korea, by members of Canada's 25th Infantry Brigade. One of the Brigade's inter-unit hockey league matches is under way. Maj.-Gen. M. M. Alston Roberts-West, general officer commanding the Commonwealth Division, dropped the first puck.

Sports World Divided Over Banning Of Shorts

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—The sports world was sharply divided today on a burning issue: Did the U. S. Golf Association do right in banning shorts for all official women's tournaments?

The fairway fathers issued the edict last Saturday. No more scanty, revealing attire for the links lassies. Conservative skirts only.

"We feel it's terribly unfair," said the golfing Bauer sisters, who taught galleries to appreciate more than a pretty swing. "The decision should be left to the individual."

Another staunch shorts wearer is Peggy Kirk, who could grace a chorus line. Says Peggy:

"I feel the USGA ban is only against the briefer type of shorts. The knee length or Bermuda-type shorts should be okay. They offer freedom."

BALLERINA SKIRT

Canada's Barbara Ann Scott, star of the ice revue who glided to world and olympic figure-skating championships in a brief ballerina skirt, said she thought golf skirts just as attractive but added: "I play golf some—in shorts."

From Maureen Orcutt came a strong vote for the USGA action.

"Shorts are all right in tennis and other sports in which players are in an enclosure," said Maureen. "On a golf course, out in the open, they are undignified. Besides, skirts are much nicer."

Gussie Moran, who shocked Wimbledon tennis galleries a few years ago with her fancy lace panties, said she thought "the modern woman athlete should wear whatever garb is necessary for her to execute the required movement of the sport."

Harry Conover, model agency head who termed lady golfers "dowdies" in naming his "ten most glamorous women in sports" commented: "It's a good move, but they didn't go far enough. They should ban women golfers. That is, unless they live up to the tradition of the Bauer sisters."

Canadiens Blank Toronto 2-0; Wings Tie Rangers

By CRAIG SWAYZE, Canadian Press Staff Writer

James Dickenson Irvin, the grey ghost of Montreal, may yet rate as the miracle coach of 1953—that is, if his Canadiens finish first in the rough, tough National Hockey League race. Often berated by sports writers, continually beset by injuries to key players and earlier befuddled by a team which started the season like an ancient auto on a frosty morning, the Habitant coach has whipped his cosmopolitan crew into a smooth-skating machine which now threatens Detroit Red Wings' four-year monopoly on the league leadership.

But threatening is not enough for Mr. Irvin. And from the way Canadiens have been going of late, that could mean first place.

While the hot-and-cold Red Wings were barely holding the tail-end New York Rangers to a 3-3 tie Thursday night, Canadiens shut out the third-place Toronto Maple Leafs 2-0 and moved to within a point of the top-seated Detroiters.

Boston Bruins climbed into a fourth-place deadlock with Chicago by downing the Black Hawks 4-1.

At Montreal, Maurice Richard and Dollard St. Laurent supplied the firepower for Canadiens as little Gerry McNeil chalked up his ninth shutout of the season.

The teams played two periods of dull hockey before Richard clicked at 6:08 of the final frame for his 22nd goal of the season. Four minutes later St. Laurent scored with a blueline drive on a Canadiens' power play. Jim Thomson was sitting out a tripping penalty.

HECTIC FINALE

The Rangers gained their tie with the mighty Wings in the final four minutes of play at Detroit, defenceman Al Stanley tipping in Hy Buller's long shot.

George Senick, late of Saskatoon Quakers in the Western Hockey League, opened the scoring for the Blue Shirts with the first goal of his NHL career. It was a 75-footer that bounced past an amazed Terry Sawchuk in the Detroit goal. John Wilson evened the count and Alex Delvecchio gave the Wings a 2-1 lead before Aldo Guidolin put the Rangers back into a tie.

Gordie Howe's 38th goal of the season put Detroit in front again with 22 minutes left to play. Stanley's marker deadlocked the issue.

Jimmy Peters scored the first goal of the game in Boston at 16:39 of the opening period. It gave Chicago a 1-0 lead and was the first goal the Black Hawks had scored in three games.

Jerry Toppazzini evened the count two minutes later and early in the second period Johnny Pierson gave the Bruins the winning edge. Ed Sandford and Fleming Mackell added the other Boston markers.

No games are scheduled tonight. Detroit meets Montreal Saturday while Chicago visits Toronto.

Walthamstow Bows To Manchester 5-2

LONDON (Reuters)—The contest for Britain's Football Association Cup became an all-professional struggle as Walthamstow Avenue, last amateur team in the competition, bowed 5-2 Thursday before Manchester United in a ourth-round replay.

In its first fourth-round encounter Walthamstow, first amateur team to reach that stage of the national eliminations since 1929, drew 1-1 with Manchester, which won the league championship last year.

Manchester United meets Everton in the fifth round.

In the first round of the Cite de Quebec Trophy, S. Wilson's Sudbury four downed R. Cote of Matane, Que., 10-6.

One of the highlights of Thursday's competition was an extra end game in which Wilson's rink defeated Gaston Amyot's Quebec Jacques Cartier four 9-8 in the Val d'Or event.

Also defeated in the first round of the Royal Bank was V. A. Selkirk's Peterborough squad, going down 9-4 to D'Arcy Sullivan, Halifax Mayflower. Ellwood's Smiths Falls rink lost 13-5 to J. Lemieux, Quebec.

Amateur Boxer Badly Hurt

VANCOUVER (CP)—Tevone Welbourne, 15-year-old amateur boxer, was unconscious in hospital here today after collapsing at the end of the first round of a bout at Chilliwack, B.C.

The youth was brought 70 miles to Vancouver in a police-escorted ambulance after examination at the Chilliwack Hospital indicated he had suffered a serious head injury.

Welbourne, from Mission City, B.C., appeared all right at the end of the first round, fight officials said. But his seconds said he was unable to continue and the boy collapsed in his corner before the bell.

It was the first fight of a card sponsored by the Canadian Army and the Chilliwack Boxing Club.

The name of Welbourne's opponent was not known here.

Army Gets Value In New Bandsmen

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Army is getting its money's worth in five British bandsmen coming to Canada to join army bands. Among them they play 11 instruments.

All have been members of famous British military bands and are enlisting in the Canadian Army following their discharge in Britain. Their arrival is part of the army headquarters' campaign to improve this country's military bands.

Band Sgt. T. Ryan, coming from the Royal Artillery band with 25 years' experience, brings his skill on the vibraphone, xylophone, drums and bells to the Royal Canadian School of Signals band at Barriefield, Ont.

Band Sgt. H. G. Tate, going to the band of the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery in Winnipeg, was with the Royal Marines school of music for 17 years. He plays the saxophone, clarinet and violin. Band Sgt. A. G. Langley, a flute and piccolo expert, joins the RCA coast artillery band at Halifax.

The other two musicians are single-instrument men—both trombone soloists. Band Sgt. S.K. Brown also joins the Halifax artillery band and Band Sgt. G. F. Duff will join the band of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry at Calgary.

Goalie Mayer Star Man For Hornets

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Goalie Gil Mayer tips the scales at a mere 150 pounds but his slick net-minding is one of the big reasons Pittsburgh Hornets are threatening to repeat as champions of the American Hockey League.

The little French-Canadian, now playing his fourth season for the Hornets, is riding the crest of two consecutive shutouts as Pittsburgh goes after its ninth straight victory against Providence here tonight.

He's had four shutouts this season and in 44 games has permitted 102 goals, a 2.32 average.

Coach King Clancy has nothing but praise for his 23-year-old star.

He's the best goalie in the league," says the Hornet skipper. "He never worries whether he gets a shutout or not. He's a great team player. His play has been sensational and that's the big reason why we are tied with Cleveland for the league leadership."

The Hornets and Cleveland share the lead with 54 points each.

PURCHASED IN '49

The Hornets purchased Mayer from Montreal Canadiens after goalie Baz Bastien, now the team's business manager, suffered an eye injury while practising before the 1949-50 season.

Mayer, who stands 5-7, is a native of Gatineau, Que.

Despite his size he played his first season of senior hockey at the age of 17 with Lake Pacid.

The following year he went back to junior hockey with Barrie Flyers but in his first season with the Flyers, Gil won honors for the best goalie's average.

Gil again won all netminding honors the next year, a place on the all-star team, and the Red Tilson Trophy, awarded the most valuable player in the league.

Charge B.C. Government With Being Anti-Labor

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

British Columbia's Social Credit government Thursday was charged with being anti-labor and denying the democratic rights of citizens and organizations.

The charge was made by CCF leader Harold Winch, first opposition speaker in the throne speech debate in the legislature. He said in a two-hour address that the basis of his charge is Health Minister Eric Martin's order that hospitals will not be allowed to increase their operating budgets in 1953 over 1952 costs.

Mr. Winch, between exchanges with Premier W. A. C. Bennett, said this order denied the bargaining rights of hospital employees. Wage increases had been worked out, but could not be paid because the hospitals could not get the money from the government. The government is trading on its knowledge that hospital workers will not strike unless their situation is desperate, he said.

GOVERNMENT ERROR

Premier Angus L. Macdonald said in the Nova Scotia legislature that a federal government error caused the province to end the fiscal year with $186,000 deficit instead of a $1,200,000 surplus.

He said the federal government over-estimated Nova Scotia's population while determining its share of the federal-provincial financial agreement and overpaid $1,400,000. This was later deducted when the population was revealed in the 1951 census.

Mr. Macdonald said the province's debt at the end of the fiscal year was $183,000,000.

In Quebec, Finance Minister Gagnon estimated the province's revenues during the 1952-53 fiscal and forecast a surplus on ordinary account of $42,239,300.

However, capital and ordinary expenditures are expected to push the total expenditures to a peak of $317,672,000 and leave a deficit of $38,905,700.

LARGEST BUDGET

Mr. Gagnon also announced the largest budget so far for the next fiscal year beginning April 1 without announcing any new taxes. Revenue for the next 12 months, he predicted, will be $288,494,900, a surplus of $50,495,100 on ordinary account and an over-all surplus, after capital expenditure, of $1,590,100.

The Prince Edward Island legislature will open March 3, Premier Jones announced.

CHANGE REFEREE SYSTEM

TORONTO (CP)—In a move aimed at cutting down injuries, the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A executive Thursday night ruled that two referees and one linesman will handle all games after Sunday.

The system in force now has one referee and two linesmen, the same as in the National Hockey League.

The league will also abide by last season's playoff system in which the first and second, third and fourth, and fifth and sixth teams meet at the conclusion of the schedule.

The new officiating deal was proposed by Oshawa's Matt Layten and supported by Toronto St. Michael's and St. Catharines.

The executive was almost unanimous in clinging to last year's playoff system although Windsor suggested eight teams be allowed to enter post-season play. The move received no support.

The first and second teams will meet in best-of-seven series while the next four will pair off in a best-of-five playoff. The winners of the best-of-five affairs will then meet in another best-of-five series. The survivors will meet the winners of the best-of-seven playoff for the right to advance into the Memorial Cup hunt.

Teams tied at the end of the schedule will be judged on a goals for and against basis to decide which stands the highest.

DAVOS, Switzerland (AP) — A total of nearly 80 skaters from nine countries including Canada are warming up on the huge Davos ice rink for the world figure-skating championships, which open here Sunday with the competition for pairs.

Land Slip Moves China Bar Mountain

VANCOUVER (CP)—A "land slip" is slowly moving China Bar mountain, which towers hundreds of feet above the Canadian National Railways mainline 16 miles east of Lutton, B.C.

Trains have been rerouted over CPR lines on the opposite side of the valley, returning to their own rails at Hope, 100 miles east of Vancouver.

Reports from Lytton, 175 miles from here, said the earth movement started with a deep rumble.

Heavy rains or a subterranean earthquake may have started the movement, CNR officials said here.

Railway officials described a "land slip" as a slow earth movement not to be confused with a landslide.

39 Mounties In Parade At Coronation

OTTAWA (CP)—A full mounted troop of 35 officers, non-commissioned officers and constables of the RCMP will ride in the Coronation procession in London, RCMP headquarters announced Thursday. In addition, a four-man mounted escort will be provided for the carriage of the Canadian Prime Minister.

This will mark the fifth such honor for the force. Contingents of the North-West Mounted Police, the Royal North-West Mounted Police and the RCMP were in London for Queen Victoria's diamond jubilee in 1897 and the coronations of King Edward VII in 1902, King George V in 1911 and King George VI in 1937.

The contingent has assembled at Rockcliffe and intensive training has started.

REPRESENTATIVE

The men, drawn from all 10 Provinces and the Yukon, are between five-feet-nine and six feet tall, with a maximum weight of 200 pounds. They were chosen for smartness of appearance and bearing. All have good service and conduct records, a minimum of five years' service and previous qualifications in equitation.

Commanding them will be Assistant Commissioner D. L. McGibbon, officer commanding the force's "F" division at Regina. The son of Assistant Commisioner J. A. McGibbon of the old NWMP, the 52-year-old leader of the Coronation contingent has served more than 30 years with the RCMP and previously commanded "J" division at Fredericton.

His second-in-command will be Inspector R. J. Delec, 43, of Fort Colougne, Que.

The contingent, which with two spare men and horses will total 41, has been undergoing intensive training in riding, troop drill and training for a musical ride, "in view of any engagement the troop may fill before it is disbanded."

Boss of training is 47-year-old horsemanship expert Staff Sgt. C. W. Anderson of Winnipeg.

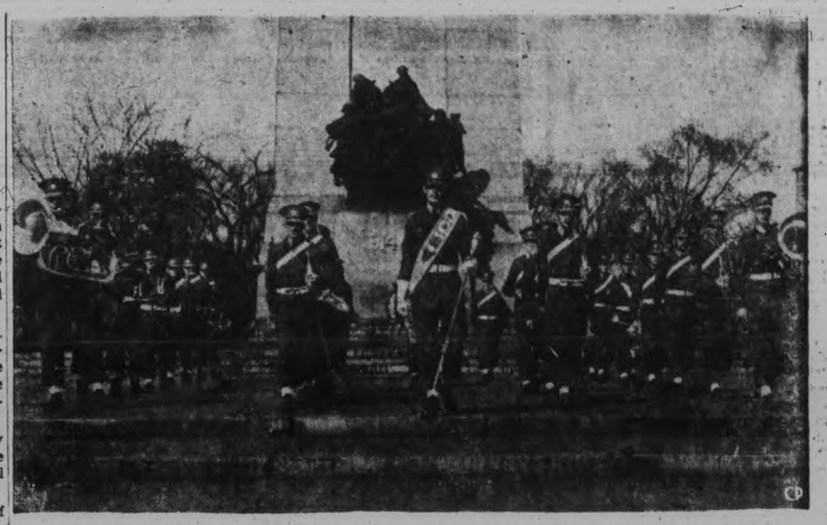
Massey Labels 28 Mounties As His Troop

OTTAWA (CP)—The scarlet-coated Mounties who by tradition stand guard at the Parliament Buildings and Government House—home of the Governor-General—today were given a special honor.

They were designated by Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey as "the Governor-General's Troop." The title will henceforth be given to the RCMP group detailed to that traditional guard duty.



The honor, unique in the history of the force, was conferred by the Governor-General at a special parade at Government House.

The present troop consists of two non-commissioned officers and 25 constables under Inspector L. J. C. Watson, 43, of Wishart, Sask.

They paraded Thursday for inspection by Mr. Massey, who also spoke briefly. Proud onlookers were RCMP Commissioner L. H. Nicholson and Supt. J. F. Thrasher, commander of the force's "A" Division in Ottawa, from which the special guard troop is drawn.

During the last two years, the RCMP has taken special pains to sharpen up the appearance of this special detail, which consists of the most-photographed group of policemen in Canada. Throughout the tourist season, members of the detail pose for tourists from all parts of the world and answer all kinds of questions about Canada and the RCMP.

The "Governor-General's Troop" is chosen especially for smart appearance and presence, and manner of answering questions.

Public Health Work Forestalls State Medicine

Public Health work rather than being a forerunner of state medicine is a great preventative of the regimentation of the medical profession, Dr. J. P. Wells, medical officer of health for Peterborough, said in an address at the Kiwanis Club luncheon meeting Thursday.

"Some people, including some of my colleagues, think that public health work is a forerunner of state medicine," Dr. Wells said. "I am convinced that my work must, on the contrary, be an obstacle to the regimentation of my profession."

He explained that public health work closes what would otherwise be a gap in the community's medical health services. Most doctors dislike the administrative side of medicine which preventative medicine requires. That important field is included in public health work.

HISTORY OF PUBLIC HEALTH

The speaker traced the history of public health development, its motivations, and outlined its past achievements and future needs.

He explained that the first public health act in the world was passed in England in 1848 and the first sanitation code was passed in 1875. The first medical officer of health was appointed in Liverpool in 1847. All these developments took place following outbreaks of cholera and other epidemics which showed the need for such measures.

The birth of public health work started through the efforts of reformers in England and developed so that in 1920 the following five functions of this work were adopted: the use of sanitary measures, quarantine, counting of vital public health laboratories and maternal, infant and child health services."

"WE ARE TO BLAME"

"Our chief concern should be of groups in our country and other countries outside the Iron Curtain working secretly or openly to promote Communism or "Russianism," Dr. Wells said. "We are to blame if these people can point to faults and deficiencies within our present society. Our democratic system needs reconstruction not destruction, and we stand in need of leadership if we are to avoid destruction."

The speaker pointed out that admittedly there are imperfections in free enterprise as it applies to medicine and that some of this reconstruction work is needed in the field of public health work.

But, he explained, the solution is not the regimentation of the medical profession into state medicine, any more than other faults in democracy can be solved by the regimentation of society under Communism.

"Public health groups working in full harmony with unregimented medical practitioners serve our people without being associated with welfare statism," he concluded. "Public health must continue to develop under such conditions."

Dr. Wells was introduced by Earl Armstrong and thanked by Dr. G. R. Scott.

Both Parties Found Negligent By Judge

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Both plaintiff and defendant were found negligent Thursday by an assize court jury presided over by Mr. Justice F. H. Barlow and each was ordered to pay damages to the other.

The two trials in one were conducted in which Louis Cohen, Sarnia business man, and Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Gagnon of Nantick, Mass., were parties. The Sarnia man and the couple both contended that the other was responsible for damages in a crash on No. 2 highway east of here in July, 1951.

The jury found Gagnon 70 per cent negligent and he was ordered to pay $1,594 costs to Cohen. Found 30 per cent negligent, Cohen was ordered to pay $1,162 and costs to Gagnon and $900 and costs to Mrs. Gagnon.

Seeking Larger Slice Of Forest Inventory Funds

OTTAWA (CP)—Forests Minister Gemmell of Ontario Thursday held talks with Resources Minister Winters and told reporters in an interview he is seeking a larger slice of federal forest inventory funds.

The federal government has provided $1,000,000 for forest inventories by the provinces to assist in assessing Canadian timber stocks.

Mr. Gemmell said Ontario, unlike other provinces, has just about completed its forest inventory and already $3,000,000 had been spent on the work.

The province felt that with little inventory work left to do, little federal money would be forthcoming. Mr. Gemmell said he is seeking a larger slice of the federal grant for other forest work.

'Penny Boom' Tapers Off Stock Market Normal Again

By HARRY KINGDON

TORONTO (CP) — Lunch-hour speculators forsook brokers' offices for their favorite restaurants this week.

The "penny boom" on the Toronto stock market that had drawn crowds into brokerage offices all across Canada tapered off. But while it lasted, the boom had broken more than one Toronto trading record.

More than 12,000,000 shares were traded in one day—a record in the market's 100-year history — and January's total sales of 122,861,000 shares made it the busiest month here.

Public interest was sparked by new base metal discoveries in the East and uranium finds in the West.

STIRRED MARKET

Reports from companies developing uranium properties in northern Saskatchewan stirred a lethargic market to life soon after Christmas. Then came news of new prospecting and development of nickel-cobalt-silver property in Northern Ontario.

On top of this came rumors and reports of base metal finds near Bathurst, N.B. It seemed that everyone started to get in on the act.

As one broker put it: "Visions of Quemont danced in their heads."

Quemont Mining corporation shares in 1945 jumped from 18 cents to $19.87 on the strength of copper-gold-silver-zinc finds in Northern Quebec.

One technical observer of the market said: "Every new mining discovery is followed by a boom of some sort. This time, the peaks of more than one boom coincided."

The penny boom had little effect on the market as a whole. Industrials, as measured by the exchange's indexes, rose a modest 2½ points in the month, golds and base metals lost about two points and western oils were almost unchanged.

Norwood High School Board Approves Increased Levy

HAVELOCK (ENS)—The district levy for the upkeep of the Norwood District High School for 1953 amounts to $49,346.57, a large increase over last year. This amount was shown in the finance committee's budget for 1953, adopted by the board at their meeting Monday night.

Amounts for each department were as follows: instruction costs, $41,000; instruction supplies, $3,000; administration, $1,000; plant operation, etc., $10,000; auxiliary agencies, $1,200; fees to other boards, $3,000; transportation, $28,000; bank loan interest, $500; bank loan, 1952, $8,000; capital expenses, $6,000; debenture grant to the district, $20,756.56; total $122,456.56.

Expected receipts are: cash in bank, $3,302.99; debentures, $3,807; legislative grants, $65,000; miscellaneous receipts, $1,000; district levy, $49,346.57; total, $122,456.56.

The board received from R. A. Dean, municipal auditor, his report on the 1952 receipts and expenditures as follows: current account, receipts, $106,867.72; payments, $103,546.73; balance, $3,302.99; total, $106,867.72.

Capital account, receipts, $394,634.54; payments, $390,827.02; balance, $3,807.52; total, $394,634.54;

Assets, $7,434.51; liabilities, $8,850.20; deficit, $1,415.69.

Capital expenses cover improvement to site and purchase of further equipment due to the loss to the board of $7,000 in the delay in selling debentures and as a result the contractor's "stop and start" work charge. While the department has commended the board for keeping costs within the estimated figures in financing the new district school, the board regrets that the district could not see its way clear to start work in 1949 when the school could have been built and equipped for $347,000 instead of $390,000 in 1951. Also the money could have been obtained at a rate of 3½ percent compared with 4½ percent at present and which will amount to the sum of $209,634 in interest in 20 years.

Principal J. H. Caskey's report for January showed a good attendance, all buses operated on time. Average attendance was 240.3, percentage attendance was 95.66.

High School Inspector Gray visited the school Jan. 27, 28 and 29, and appeared pleased with organization, teaching and conduct of the school.

The board also dealt with communications from the Eastwood Construction Company regarding disposal bed, electrical set-up and ventilation; appointed Trustees Buck, Scriver, Davidson and secretary-treasurer Roche as delegates to the Ontario School Trustees' and Ratepayers' Association conference in Smiths Falls on March 21, to present a definite resolution to be adopted by the board at their meeting on March 2; discussed the matter of Douro pupil tuition costs to be dealt with at a meeting of the County School Committee with the board committee on certain accounts to be paid by debenture funds; passed accounts to the amount of $8,000; arranged for telephone extension in school and decided to discontinue the sale of soft drinks in the cafeteria.

GOING DOWN—Three workmen push their small craft along flooded Quinn boulevard in Longueuill, Que., as flood waters began receding in the stricken community. A recent flash flood, believed caused by an ice jam, sent the St. Lawrence River over its banks to a point as much as a quarter of a mile inland. More than 200 families abandoned their homes for the night as ice and water filled streets and poured into basements. An abandoned car and overturned boats are visible in the background.

Record Revenues Highlight Budget In Quebec Legislature

QUEBEC (CP) — Estimates of record revenues highlighted Finance Minister Gagnon's budget, brought down Thursday in the Quebec legislature.

He forecast revenues of $280,766,300 during the fiscal year ending March 31 and of $288,494,009 for 1953-54.

No new taxation was announced. In the 15,000-word budget speech although an anticipated over-all surplus of $1,851,756 for the current term failed to materialize.

Capital expenditures amount to $81,145,000, instead of an anticipated $43,206,000, turned the anticipated surplus into an over-all deficit of $38,905,700.

An ordinary account, however, Mr. Gagnon reported a probable surplus of $42,239,300.

FIGURES GIVEN

Here are the figures given by Mr. Gagnon for the current year:

Total revenue, $280,766,300; total ordinary expenditure, including debt charges, $238,547,000; capital expenditure $81,145,000.

His estimate for the term beginning April 1:

Total revenue, $288,494,900; total expenditure, including debt charges, $267,999,800; capital expenditure, $48,905,000.

The estimated expenditure for the current year means it will reach the unprecedented level of $319,672,000. The final figures will only be known next August.

Most sources of revenue were expected to yield more money in the coming year. Big revenue producers like corporation, sales, motor vehicles and gasoline taxes will, as usual, form the bulk of revenues.

ON SPENDING SIDE

On the spending side of the budget, health, education and roads will make up most of the expenditure.

Mr. Gagnon said he was proud to state that health and education will take up one-third of the entire budget.

Tracing a broad picture of the province's economic situation, the finance minister outlined prospects for Quebec's prosperity through development of its natural resources.

Financially, Quebec is healthy, he said.

The province's net debt was reduced from $308,243,440 in 1945 to $248,776,843 in 1952.

Funded debt of the province was $328,292,000 in 1944 and now stood at $330,418,000, an increase of $2,126,000 in eight years.

Turning to federal-provincial relations, Mr. Gagnon said Ottawa has "encroached" into provincial taxation fields. Quebec was the only province that did not sign a taxation agreement with the federal government.

Hutchinson, Bancroft, who will assume the additional office of treasurer, on a motion of the members combining the two offices. John Hawkins, Milton Brough and John Thur were acclaimed to vice-presidencies.

The organization, representing 170 Provincial civil servants in the counties of Hastings, Renfrew and Lennox-Addington, plans to hold quarterly meetings.

A report on the Provincial council and annual meetings of the association held in Toronto, attended by John Hutchinson as branch delegate, was adopted by the branch. Don Russel acted as chairman, and presided at election of officers.

MRS. ARCHIE JONES

MARMORA (ENS).—The sudden death of Mrs. Archie Jones at her home near Marmora about 8.30 a.m. on Thursday came as a shock to her many friends. She had not enjoyed good health in recent years but had continued her household duties until within the past few years. She died from a heart ailment within two months of reaching her 80th birthday. She was the former Cottrell Annie Elizabeth Holsey, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Holsey and was born in London, England, within sound of Bow Bells.

With her parents, she moved to Marmora from Trenton, Ont., 45 years ago, her father being engaged as miller at the old grist mill for a number of years.

She was a member of St. Andrew's United Church. Thirty-eight years ago, she was married to Archie Jones, who survives her. She is also survived by three sisters and two brothers, namely Mrs. J. Waddell, Toronto; Mrs. D. Longwell, Foxboro; Mrs. R. G. Brooks, Peterborough; Arthur Holsey, Trenton, and Ernest Holsey, Swift Current, Sask.

While funeral arrangements are not complete, it is known that the funeral will be held on Saturday afternoon and that burial will be in Stirling Cemetery where Mrs. Jones' parents are buried.

REGINALD PALMER

He was a veteran of World War I, going overseas with the 136th Battalion. He joined the Reserve Army in the Second World War. Rev. T. S. Gault officiated at the service. St. Paul's choir were in attendance. James Gay was organist.

Pallbearers were: David Masters, Hiram Ward, William Phillips, Henry Jakeman, Holly McMahon and A. H. Master.

4 Indians Die Begin Inquiry

EDMONTON (CP)—Royal Canadian Mounted police are investigating the deaths of four treaty Indians on the Rocky Mountain Forest reserve, near Nordegg, Alta., 130 miles southwest of Edmonton.

RCMP officials Thursday identified the dead as Moses Wesley, 72; his wife, Mary, 70; and two grandchildren, Elsie Wesley, 19, and Earl Wesley, 16.

It was believed the four may have died of food poisoning.

Police said the four had gone to sleep Monday night in one cabin while the father of the children, Tom Wesley, slept in another cabin. Tuesday morning Tom found his mother dead and the others critically ill. A doctor from Nordegg reached the party late that day and found the grandfather had died. The two children were taken to hospital at Nordegg where they died.

U.K. Announces Blueprint For Federation In Africa

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain announced Thursday her blueprint for the federation of three central African territories as a new commonwealth with almost complete independence.

The plan would merge Southern and Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland into a vast country sprawling across the heart of Africa. But a long political battle is in store before the blueprint becomes fact.

It cannot be put into effect until it has been approved by the British Parliament and the voters of Southern Rhodesia. Stiff opposition comes from whites and natives alike in all three areas.

Southern Rhodesia whites fear the plan threatens their continued hold on political affairs and may veto it when their self-governing colony holds a referendum.

FEAR LOSS OF LANDS

Most African natives, who outnumber the whites 30 to 1, bitterly oppose the merger, fearing loss of their tribal lands to white domination. But there are no voting rights in Nyasaland and Northern Rhodesia—under direct rule of the London colonial office. A handful of chieftains has come to London to block action by lobbying in government and parliamentary circles.

Socialist members of Parliament in Britain can also be counted on to oppose the plan, on the ground that native rights in Africa should be protected from London.

But British colonial officials and delegates from the three territories foresee a great economic unit of nearly 500,000 square miles stretching across the continent between the Belgian Congo and the Union of South Africa, built by whites and natives working in partnership.

The report puts government under a strong federal executive to sit at Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia, and gives it the means of coordinating the economic life of the entire federation. It gives autonomy to the three separate territories in state matters.

NEW SUB-KILLER—The largely-rebuilt former destroyer Algonquin is the first of at least 16 submarine-killer warships of modern design for the Canadian navy. The lengthy refit and conversion is nearing completion at Esquimalt, B.C. The Algonquin was picked a couple of years ago as a guinea pig to undergo radical changes that make her pretty well a prototype of the destroyer-escorts being built as a possible answer to the submarine menace.

Jury Convicts Sundae Of Manslaughter

VALLEYFIELD, Que. (CP)—A Court of Queen's Bench jury Thursday convicted Lawrence Sundae, 34-year-old Indian from nearby St. Regis reservation, on a reduced charge of manslaughter in the knife slaying of Frank Buckshot July 19 last.

The jury included a recommendation of clemency in its verdict. Sundae had originally been charged with murder in the slaying of Buckshot, a neighbor on the reservation.

The slaying took place during an argument. A medico-legal expert testified Buckshot died of a wound caused by a sharp instrument.

3 POSSIBLE VERDICTS

The St. Regis reservation includes territory in Ontario near Cornwall, and in the United States as well as in the Quebec section where the slaying took place.

In his address to the jury, Mr. Justice Andre Monpetit said there were three possible verdicts—guilty of murder, guilty of manslaughter or acquittal.

A verdict of murder could be returned only if the jury found Sundae stabbed Buckshot without provocation.

Man Planning Coronation Had Ancestor Executed By Queen Elizabeth I

LONDON (Reuters) — A millionaire duke who lost a rebel ancestor to the executioner's axe under Queen Elizabeth I is in charge of planning the Coronation.

Owner of a string of titles going back to the beginnings of English nobility, the 44-year-old Duke of Norfolk, earl marshal of England, will climax a year of preparations when he leads the Queen into Westminster Abbey June 2.

By hereditary right, as England's premier duke and earl, the earl marshal is the organizing brain behind all high state occasions whether coronations, royal weddings or funerals.

The Howards, family name of the dukes of Norfolk, rose to power in the Middle Ages. The first duke was assassinated as he lay in his tent at the battle of Bosworth in 1485. The fourth duke was beheaded in 1572 on suspicion of being the lover of Mary, Queen of Scots.

CARRY GOLD BATON

For centuries, the dukes of Norfolk have carried the gold baton which gives the family the privilege to plan the pageantry of the great occasions of the realm. The title of earl marshal has been theirs since 1672.

It was then that King Charles II decreed that for all time the duke of Norfolk was to be "the next and immediate officer under Us for determining and ordering all matters touching arms, ensigns, nobility, honor and chivalry."

NINE TITLES

The present duke, Bernard Marmaduke Fitzalan-Howard, 16th in the line of succession, has inherited large estates and high honors.

Nine titles follow his name. The squire of 49,000 acres and four estates, his fortune was once estimated at $42,000,000.

Seventeen years ago, at 27, he organized the funeral of King George V. The next year, he prepared the coronation of King George VI. In 1947, he planned the wedding of the then Princess Elizabeth to the Duke of Edinburgh, and last February he walked before the gun-carriage which carried King George VI to his grave.

A devout Roman Catholic, the duke's duties make him one of the chief figures in the Coronation rites of a Queen who by law must be a Protestant.

But when he walks with the Queen towards the Archbishop of Canterbury in Westminster Abbey, the duke will wear on his tunic the blue and gold order of Pius IX, awarded to him by the Pope.

As earl marshal, the duke began making plans for the Coronation soon after the funeral of the late King. To him falls the duty of issuing invitations, arranging the long processional drive through London after the ceremony and, arranging for press, radio and television coverage.

SEATING DIFFICULT

One of the most difficult problems he has had to solve was how to choose which peers were to be given seats in the abbey. Every peer has a right to be present but restrictions of space make it impossible this year to accommodate them all.

Peers were offered two free seats in stands outside the abbey if they gave up their claim to be inside. Th names of those who did not take advantage of this offer were personally drawn by lot by the earl marshal himself.

The earl marshal's duties are unpaid, though he gets an annual honorarium of £20, a grant ordered in 1483.

Recently, the present earl marshal was swept into controversy by an edict issued from his office barring television cameras from showing the actual crowning of the Queen. Parliamentary and newspaper protests led him and his officials to bow to public opinion. Televiewers now will see the actual Coronation, though not the whole of the ceremony.

The duke lives with his wife and four small daughters in an 800-year-old Norman castle at Arundel in Sussex.

Pass Parks Estimates

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—The public utilities commission Thursday passed parks, playgrounds and waterworks estimates requiring $319,000 in taxes, including $115,000 for a two-rink artificial ice surface at London West playground.

Ottawa Planning To Contribute To Some Conservation Projects

OTTAWA (CP)—Resources Minister Winters said Thursday night the federal government will contribute to water conservation projects that municipalities and the provinces cannot afford to undertake by themselves.

He made the statement after spokesmen for all parties unanimously endorsed legislation enabling the federal government to cooperate with the provinces on water conservation projects. A resolution providing for financial assistance was adopted and a bill based on it was introduced.

The legislation would authorize the federal government to pay up to 37½ per cent of conservation projects.

Mr. Winters told Gordon Graydon (PC—Peel) that contributions will be limited to projects which would not be built unless the federal government participated.

Replying to other questions, the minister said the legislation will simply extend to all the provinces the conditions of joint projects such as have been carried out with Ontario.

PROVINCES NOTIFIED

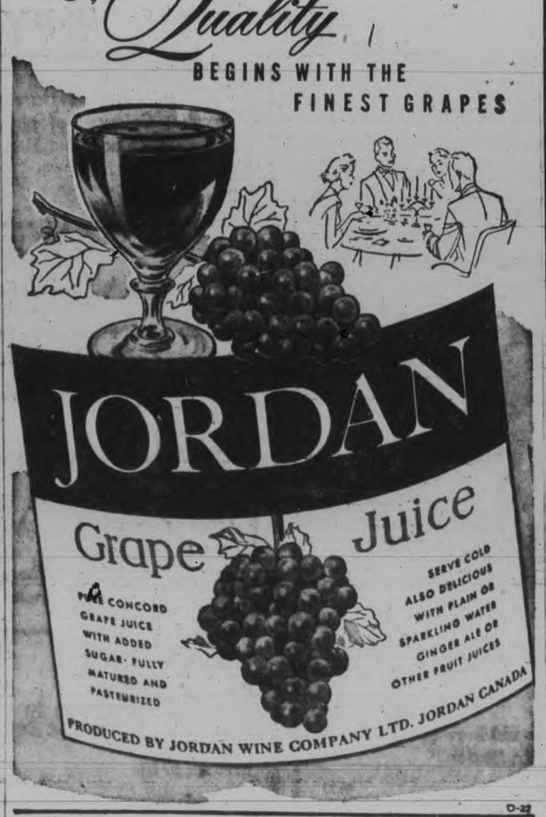
He said the provinces had been notified and all had expressed interest. There would be no over-all agreement with the provinces, but each project would be treated on its merits.

Mr. Winters said flood control as well as water conservation would be one of the main features of the legislation.

The government proposal was welcomed by Frank Follwell (L—Hastings South). He said flood control and water conservation go hand in hand. Canada had 238,000 square miles of water within her borders. That should be sufficient even for the greatly-increased population this country could expect, but it would not be unless proper conservation steps were taken.

J. W. Charlton (PC—Brant-Wentworth) said water conservation should be handled by the agriculture department, not by the resources department. The resolution did not mention co-operation within the provinces concerning conservation. The proposed legislation seemed to embrace flood control rather than conservation.

NEED CO-OPERATION



Earl Catherwood (PC — Haldimand) said conservation should be pursued in co-operation with the provinces. The provinces could handle administration and the federal government co-ordinate developments. "Petty differences" between federal and provincial authorities could be overlooked in conservation co-operation.

H. O. White (PC—Middlesex East) said he does not believe huge dams are vital to conservation. The "place to save water is where it falls." An experiment on one of Ontario's valleys, where all conservation practices short of building a dam were carried out, would prove this point.

Henry Hosking (L-Wellington South) suggested farmers be encouraged to establish ponds in low-lying swampy areas and to plant trees near the ponds. The trees would pick up the moisture and spread it over the farms.

C. W. Hodgson (PC—Victoria, Ont.), a lumber dealer, said that he tries to plant more trees than he cuts in any year. It was time the government launched a similar reforestation program. He suggested something be done to restock beavers, which built valuable ponds.

Horse Racing, Midways At Fairs Discussed

TORONTO (CP)—A discussion on the place of horse racing and midways at country fairs ended in a draw Thursday at the annual meeting of the Ontario Association of Agricultural Societies.

M. L. (Tory) Gregg of Wingham and Mrs. Alex Henderson of Stratford took the view that many fairs offered poor racing cards and little in midways.

They held that many fairs got along without either, but Ray Wilson of Avonmore said the races and midway helped pay for the prize money given in the agricultural classes.

Charlotte McCullough of Georgetown said she thought the small games of chance in many midways are educational, teaching farm lads they couldn't get something for nothing.

THAT'S RIGHT—The driver of this car, 19-year-old George Jackson, of Nashville, Tenn., told police he dozed at the wheel. The car climbed the curb, eased between a light standard and a wall and came to rest atop a fence enclosing a postage-stamp lawn — the only grass in sight.

Senators Approve Netherlands Bunk Bill

OTTAWA (CP)—Liberal members of the Senate defeated Thursday a Progressive Conservative attempt to kill a private bill seeking incorporation of a Netherlands-controlled bank in Canada.

A loud chorus of nays from the 73 Liberal seats drowned out supporting shouts from the eight-man opposition which sought to give a six months' hoist to a bill incorporating the Mercantile Bank of Canada. The hoist is a parliamentary device to prevent final passage of a bill.

After heading off the opposition attempt, the Senate gave the bill final approval and sent it to the Commons for action.

Senator W. D. Euler (L—Ontario) said he does not agree with arguments that further applications could not be refused.

"I would not like to say this Parliament has no backbone and would be forced to yield to demands that chartering this bank is a precedent."

High-Priced Football Imports May Soon Be Thing Of Past

By JIM BASTABLE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The era of high-priced American football imports may be nearing an end.

This was indicated Thursday when Ken Montgomery, president of Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Interprovincial Football Union said he is concerned with "ballooning salary rolls" and that the western circuit may be forced to follow the example of the eastern Big Four League in putting a lid on salaries.

The Big Four clamped on a limit at its annual meeting in Toronto a couple of weeks ago. Officials were mum on the ceiling price but reports from Toronto and Montreal from "official sources" said it was believed that $6,000 would be tops.

A report from Edmonton Thursday said it was "reliably reported" the figure was $5,000 a year with a $400 bonus for each playoff game.

DIFFERENT STORY

That would be a far cry from some salaries in past years.

Canadian clubs have offered as much as $20,000 a year to American players and have lured pro stars from the National Football League in the United States. The "richest" find was George Ratterman, formerly of New York Yankees, who played one season with Montreal Alouettes of the Big Four in 1951 for a reported $20,000.

Canadian raids on American talent stepped into high gear in 1947 when Hamilton Tigers, then of the Ontario rugby Football Union, signed flinging Frankie Filchock, former New York Giants passer.

He later went to the Alouettes on a two-year contract at a reported $10,000-a-year salary, coached Edmonton Eskimos to a Grey Cup final berth in 1952 and has signed to coach Saskatchewan Roughriders this year.

DENY REPORT

Recently Billy Vessels, University of Oklahoma All-American halfback, was reported to have been offered $14,000 to play for Edmonton Eskimos this year. Eskimo officials denied this.

Montgomery said Thursday that the feeling among western team representatives at the recent annual meeting in Regina was that player salaries are getting out of hand.

Several western stars are reported to be receiving as much as $10,000 to $12,500 a season. There probably are some in the East getting that, too.

And, if the reported $5,000-a-year ceiling is correct Canadian teams might not find bright prospects in the U.S. the NFL pays that kind of money to ordinary players.

Library Membership Increases At Lakefield

LAKEFIELD— (ENS) —Lakefield Public Library has seen a gradual increase in membership and circulation during the past year, reported Mrs. W. J. Ridpath, librarian, at the annual meeting held in the library. The chairman, Mrs. W. H. Fife, presided.

Many of the new members are new comers to the village and Mrs. Ridpath reported a greater interest in non-fiction books than in previous years. There are now 207 adult members and 448 juvenile members, an increase of 149 over last year. The High School students membership hase shown a decided increas also. A special noon hour period, for students who commute and are not in the village during regular library hours, is held once a week and has proved quite popular.

Total circulation for the year was 9,967 books, an increase of 1,222 over the previous year. Of this amount 831 were in the moys' and girls' department.

During the year approximately 700 books were discared, many beyond repair and out of date. Adult fiction books, to the number of 434 were offered for sale.

More money had been spent for juvenile books than had been budgeted for, but less for adult ones. Mrs. Ridpath reported that there had been a great need for stories for teenagers to bridge the gap between children's and adult books, and also for books suitable for pupils of Grades 2 and 3. Many of the books chosen for these two sections were taken from the new suggested list issued by the Department of Education.

'Young Canada Book Week" was observed as usual. The librarian gave talks and had a display of books at Home and School meetings at Lakefield and Elms Corner schools. A special afternoon was also given to pupils of Grade 8 to assist them with materials for their scrap books and an evening was set aside for those interested in presenting concerts, plays and pageants, with suitable material for consideration made available.

Chairs and other furniture have been repaired and refinished and a table made for the children from a discarded desk used by the council. Two signs have been made and erected outside the library.

Mrs. Ridpath expressed her appreciation for the co-operation of the board members and especially to Miss Grace Yonge, who supplied as librarian during her illness, and to Miss Deidre Moher who has given her time freely and donated many books to the library.

The financial report showed total receipts to be $2,685.93 and a balance on hand of $462.01. Total spent on books was $1,007.58.

The January report, which the librarian also presented at the annual meeting showed the total ccirculation for the month to be 1,248, the highest on the library records. The juvenile book circulation showed a very great increase. Two paintings, the work of Mrs. W. H. Tonge, are now on dispaly in the library.

Mrs. W. H. Fife was returend as chairman of the board, with C. J. Davis as vice-chairman and book committee members Mrs. L. J. Delaney and Miss G. A. Yonge.

Chelsea Extends Hospitality

LONDON (CP) — London's Chelsea district, home of artists, authors and entertainers, has extended the hand of hospitality to 14 namesake communities across the world, including the two in Canada.

Residents of Chealsea, Que., and Chelsea, N.S., coming to Britain for the Coronation have been formally invited to drop in and say hello.

A Chelsea spokesman says that apart from ordinary courtesies overseas visitors will be invited to attend a coronation party. But they are warned not to expect any help with accommodation or coronation tickets.

Ten of the 14 Chelseas are in the United States, one in Australia and one in South Africa.

Chelsea is a western metropolitan borough, rich in historical associations. Famous writers and painters such as Whistler, Turner, Leigh Hunt and Carlyle lived there at the peak of its reputation as a literary and artistic centre.

Smouldering Fire In Dump Blazes Up Scorches Truck Before It Can Be Rescued

Fire that had been smouldering below the surface crust of the city dump on Monaghan Road suddenly broke out Thursday afternoon and caused $50 damage to a truck that was unloading there.

The Lawrence Salvage truck pulled into the North Monaghan dump to unload some bales of wax paper. A couple of the 350-pound bales falling from the truck were of sufficient weight to break the crust of ash covering the dump and fire that had been smouldering underneath the surface flared up.

Flames leaped on to the truck which was temporarily stuck, and they began to burn the wooden racks.

Frank Booth, the truck driver, finally managed to get the truck free of the dump, and he drove it to a nearby creek where buckets of water were thrown on the blaze. They then returned to the dump and finished unloading with city firemen standing by.

ELECTED CHAIRMAN of the Board of Directors of the Public Library at a meeting Thursday was Herbert I. Bradburn. He succeeds the Rev. E. C. Moore.

H. I. Bradburn Chairman Of Library Board

Herbert I. Bradburn was elected chairman of the Peterborough Puolic Library's board of directors at the annual meeting of the board Thursday night.

Mr. Bradburn succeeds the Rev. E. C. Moore, who has served as chairman for the past two years.

The members of the standing committees of the board were also elected Thursday night. They are: Finance: P. D. Windrim, chairman, Donald Loucks, Walter Dinesen, F. J. Hickey; property: J. C. Rutherford, chairman, Mr. Hickey, Mr. Loucks, the Rev. E. C. Moore; library: Mrs. Ross Mathews, chairman, Mr. Windrim, Mr. Dinesen, Mr Moore.

The board voted that an extra $500 be inserted in the 1953 library estimates to be ear-marked as assistance in the work which the Peterborough Film Council is sponsoring.

This decision was made following the reception of a delegation from the film council. The delegation requested that this amount be included in the library estimates and as a result come under the city council's grant to the library.

SELF SUPPORTING

Mayor Hugh Waddell explained that the city council had assisted the film council in buying equipment when the film council was first organized, but since that time the organization had been almost self supporting.

Arthur Pitchford, spokesman for the delegation said that the money would be used to purchase films which would be used in the film council's service in the community.

It was decided that the grant should be made through the library rather than directly to the council because of the close connection of the work of the council and library.

"It is a matter of joint service rather than separate services to the community with the best material available," William Graff, librarian, said. "Films are merely a newer medium than books to extend this service."

The members of the delegation were: Mr. Pitchford, Dr. J. J. Craig, Mrs. Gordon Langhorne and Joseph Cooper.

Book Display Touring Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Five sets of British books—each containing 332 different publications specially chosen by the British Council to interest Canadian university students will leave Ottawa shortly on a coast-to-coast tour. They will be shown at 19 universities during February, March and April.

The exhibition is the second which the British Council has prepared for showing in Canadian universities. The books deal with English language and literature, history, philosophy, politics and economics, classics, education, modern languages, pure sciences, engineering and medicine. They will be set out for display in university libraries.

Handling the tour in Canada is Dr. James J. Talman, chief librarian of the University of Western Ontario, London, Ont.

Sir Archibald Nye, United Kingdom high commissioner in Canada, will open the display at Carleton College, Ottawa, Feb. 16. Simultaneously, the other four exhibits will be put on display elsewhere.

Scientist's Death Takes Strange Twist

NEW YORK (AP) — The death of an atom-scientist's aide took a strange twist Thursday with the disclosure that a heart attack—rather than an ice pick found sticking in his chest—took his life.

At the same time, any spy plot was all but ruled out, leaving robbery as the apparent motive for his stabbing. Police said he had a weak heart, and fright may have brought on his attack.

The man, James Doyle, 55, described as a loyal, hard-working family man, was found with an ice pick in his chest Wednesday night in a hallway.

An autopsy showed that he actually died of a heart attack. The pick—which did not penetrate his heart—caused only a superficial wound.

Doyle was a clerk under Dr. John B. Dunning, dean of engineering at Columbia University.

Woman, Car, Hit In 2 Accidents

City police are pressing an investigation into two hit-and-run accidents which have happened in Peterborough within a 24-hour period. In both cases, the motorists fled from the scene of the occurences.

Latest victim was Mrs. Mary Grady, 64, 496 Mark St., who sustained only a minor shaking-up, when her car was sideswiped by another at 11.20 p.m. Thursday.

Mrs. Grady told police she was travelling east on Hunter St. west, and was making a right turn to go south on Mark, when an unknown car passed on her right side, going in the same direction. The unknown motorist caught the front fender and bumper of her car, swerved to one side, and speeded away. The Grady car was forced to a stop.

Police reported slippery ice at the scene of the accident, Hunter and Mark Sts. Damage to the Grady car was estimated at $40.

B. J. Lemmon, a pedestrian, was struck by a hit-and-run driver shortly before midnight Wednesday, at the corner of King and Rubidge Sts. He was able to walk to his home, where he was given medical attention. His condition is good.

Library Circulation Continues To Increase

The Peterborough Public Library started the new year with what is becoming its customary monthly increase in circulation.

Librarian William Graff reported that there was an increase in circulation of 3,888 in January of this year as compared to the same month in 1952. The total circulation for the month was 24,138—adult department, 14,237; boys' and girls' department, 9,901.

The record circulation was 370 for the month.

Mr. Graff also reported that 230 films had been borrowed during January and there were 120 showings to a total audience of 7,397.

The library audtiorium and committee rooms were used by 26 groups and organizations during the month.

Cheaper Method Suggested To Build Bridge Span Gannon's Narrows

County Engineer Proposes Anchor Bridge To Ennismore Shore; Less Expensive Than Two-Span Bridge Erected In Middle

Engineers are now considering a new plan for bridging the 1,500-foot neck of water at Gannon's Narrows. It calls for an overhead bridge with a 200-foot steel span anchored to the shoreline of Ennismore township. The plan—still only in its formative stage—was proposed Thursday by Jack Kean county engineer and road superintendent, during a visit of the county roads committee to the Department of Transport in Ottawa. On the face of it the engineers think it is practical and it will cost less—perhaps $10,000 less than the proposed overhead bridge recommended by C. W. West, director of canal services for the department.

Instead of two spans of 100 feet, resting on two abutments and a centre pier out in the middle of the narrows, Mr. Kean suggested anchoring one end of the bridge to a cement abutment on steel-driven piles on the Ennismore shore. The other end of the 200-foot span would be on an abutment built on the rock fill for the rest of the causeway.

SAVE ON ABUTMENTS

In short, the costly work of erecting two abutments and a centre pier out in the deep water is eliminated. The pier is done away with altogether as there is one 200 foot span instead of two 100 foot spans. And one abutment uses the shoreline for support.

This alternative plan was proposed after the roads committee and the department of engineers seemed unable to agree on what should replace the present floating bridge.

The department wanted an overhead bridge. As long as it has a 22-foot clearance above the high-water mark all vessels on the Trent Canals system can get through. And a bridge eliminates the necessity of the Department of Transport having to maintain a swingspan and a man to operate it.

DIDN'T AGREE

However the department would go along with the idea of a swingspan, but only if it was built in the shallow (10 feet) water on the Harvey side. The county roads committee turned thumbs down on this because the span couldn't let a sufficient rush of water through during the flood season. At that time engineers estimate the flow through the Narrows reaches 20,000 cubic feet a second.

If a swingspan was built on the Harvey side, argued the roads committee, they would have to build two costly low-level fixed spans out in the centre to take care of the excess flow of water.

The deadlock was broken by Mr. Kean's proposal.

"GOOD IDEA"

"It sounds like a good idea," said Chairman Willard G. Waterman, of the roads committee. He added that it was too soon to hail this as a solution to the two-year-old problem; it would have to be thoroughly investigated.

Arthur Sedgwick, chief bridge engineer of the Department of Highways, will be given the details, probably on Monday. And he will have to give his approval before the provincial government gives the go-ahead signal.

$900 Increase Not Sought Say Firemen

City firemen are not asking for an increase of $900 yearly, Henry Noakes, president of local 519, International Association of Firefighters, said today.

He explained that on the basis of actual salary, the increase would be $900, but that taking last year's cost of living into account the increase would be only a little more than $500. The union is not requesting any cost of living bonus this year.

At the present rate of pay, salary for a first class firefighter is $3,220 yearly.

The firefighters are asking for a salary of $3,750 for first class firefighters, the group on which salary demands are based.

Weekly pay for this group amounts to $61.93 before deductions; the union is asking $72.11 weekly. After deductions, weekly pay for a first class man with two dependents is $54.92 at present. At the first of last year, gross pay for that group was $64 to $65 weekly.

County Farm Notes

By HARRY THEOBALD

Junior Farmers of East Peterborough Forming Club . . . General Invitation by Jersey Breeders to Their Meeting Wednesday, March 11 . . . Miss Blanche Quinn Elected President of Junior Farmers' Choir . . . Concentrated Milk Producers Meet Next Thursday Night.

Junior Farmers in East Peterborough have taken the first step in forming their own organization. At a meeting in Norwood last week, twenty of them appointed a committee to arrange for election of officers and other instituting business Wednesday, February 18, at 8:30 p.m. in Norwood Town Hall.

Ken Best, assistant agricultural representative, reports that in their adjournment the young men and women who responded to the sectional group suggestion were talking of each bringing a carfull of prospective members for election night.

The steering committee for the preliminaries are: George Shoniker, Bill Danford, Shirley Brown, Harvey Cuthbertson, anrd Oland Brown.

These young folks from beyond the Indian River will likely discover a lot of sentiment encouraging their initiative in setting up their own Junior Farmers group. Not that there is any dilution of loyalty to Peterborough County spirit and activities, but rather their sense of local identity which, it is believed, will attract 'teenagers from that area to their Norwood centre with just as much enthusiasm as is displayed in the promotion of East Peterborough Agricultural Society and its Norwood Fair.

Mr. Best said there was doubt about the number of young people in that part of the county who are eligible for Junior membership. Experienced leadership is available, encouragement will be forthcoming from the Junior Farmers of the western townships, and Mr. Best is hoping that parents will lend their support to the Junior organization.

"One of the fine achievements of the Junior Farmers in Peterborough County is their leadership of the 4-H Clubs," Mr. Best said. "I don't need to mention the Club leaders again, but it is generally recognized that they have done a fine job. With the new Junior movement in the eastern townships I expect to see some 4-H Clubs organized there this year. It will be something active for the Juniors to tackle immediately. In fact, they are already talking about a calf club and a swine club."

Meet Thursday, February 12

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Concentrated Milk Producers will be held Thursday night next week at the office of the Department of Agriculture.

These rural groups were engaged in discussing public relations between town and country, following the radio broadcast.

The Borrowing Of Money

Many farmers should have practical experience to inform their comments and conclusions on the Monday night Forum subject: "How to use farm credit."

One of the questions is this: "When is it good business for the farm family to use credit and when is it not? Give examples."

Farmers who are identified with Co-Op Services are likely to be at some of the Forum sessions, and although it is a secondary matter of financing their affairs they may raise the point as to what degree of credit, if any, should be expected, sought and provided in Co-Op business dealing.

In the Forum Guide this week five basic rules are proposed to borrowers. One of them is: Establish friendly relations with your local bank manager and consult him about your credit problems.

It is common sense and the basis of goodwill at the bank—never to dodge a due date. If a payment day is approaching, don't miss it. Be at your bank that day, or earlier. Don't wait for a second call letter from your banker. Be on time with whatever arrangement you can make. The only effect of hedging and putting off is the likelihood of losing bank confidence in you.

Most farmers have had some experience in bank loans, and with that background the Feb. 9 Forum sessions should be interesting, and especially in regard to ideas about credit for the young farmers today who have shopes of establishing themselves on the land.

Hog Producers Meet

David Hollinger, of Stirling, was re-elected president of Hastings County Hog Producers' Association at Stirling on Wednesday. Some 200 members comfortably filled the Community Hall. Charles McGinnis, of the provincial association, reported the new central marketing agency was operating well as a method that was only in its second week. He said it was expected there would be headaches, and generally experience so far was satisfactory. Mr. McGinnis replied to many questions from the meeting.

30 In Junior Choir

Junior Farmers' choir received 10 new members at their second practice under the direction of Charles Allen in the basement of George Street United Church on Wednesday night. That brings their membership to 30 young men and women. If others wish to join the choir, they are requested to report for the next rehearsal at Normal School Monday evening, February 9.

The choir will make its first public appearance on the program at the Central Ontario Spring Show Thursday, March 19.

The officers elected this week are: President, Miss Blanche Quinn; vice-president, John Stewart; secretary, Dorothy Chambers; librarian, Miss Mary Wood.

Social committee, Miss Doreen Brown, Mrs. John Edmison, and Miss Betty Cockburn.

Convention In Guelph

The 68th annual meeting of the members of the Canadian Shorthorn Association will be held in Memorial Hall Auditorium at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, Ont., on Wednesday, Feb. 18th, commencing at 9:30 a.m. and continuing throughout the day.

In the evening, commencing at 7:15 p.m., all members of the association and members of their families are invited to attend a banquet and entertainment program.

This is the first year in the 68-year-old history of the Canadian Shorthorn Association that its annual meeting has been held in Guelph. It is hoped that the accessibility of the city and adequate free parking facilities at the College will all contribute to the largest annual meeting ever staged by this long established breed organization.

Used Five Referees

A girls' team picked from Peterborough Junior Farmers won the big trophy in the broom ball games at Stirling rink the other night. Prince Edward and Hastings county teams were also in the struggle. The five referees had a big hand in the Lift Lock group victory. The cup is like nothing else ever brought back to Peterborough from foreign fields or rinks. It looks for all the world like an inverted milk can with pedestal, handles, and all the usual trophy trimmings. It really is worth seeing—once. Thirty members of Peterborough Junior Farmers made the trip, and from all accounts the broom ball affair was a whooping success.

Ask Legislation To Protect Cheese Industry

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario Agricultural Council Thursday asked for legislation to protect the province's cheese and sugar beet industries from foreign competition and its butter industry from synthetic products.

In separate resolutions at the closing sessions of the organization's convention, delegates voted to ask the federal government to take "whatever steps are necessary to stop foreign refined sugar produced by cheap native labor from ruining Ontario's beet sugar industry" and recommended an increase in the amount of duty paid on the importation of cheese to Canada in order to protect the dairy industry of this country."

Another resolution asked the provincial government to pass immediate legislation prohibiting manufacture and sale of synthetic dairy products in Ontario other than margarine and that margarine be put on a quota basis, with oils originating in Ontario only.

BETTER CONDITIONS

A resolution aimed at better conditions for butter producers asked that the federal government appoint a royal commission to investigate the regulations affecting the shipment of feed grains and their prices and values in Western Canada and the costs to feeders in the East. The resolution claimed that the cost of butter production bears little relation to its price and that the price of western grains is advancing daily.

The council recommended that the Ontario government consider seriously whether or not the Children's Aid Societies are accomplishing the purpose set out for them in respect to the improvement of children.

The resolution suggested that the cost of children's aid is too high and that the care given to wards of the societies is much superior to what a great many ratepayers are able to give their own children.

Cobourg Gets Big Break Field Of World Plowmen

Cobourg is getting more than they asked for when they put in their bid about three years ago for the 1953 International Plowing Match.

Farm fields on the edge of the lakeshore town are going to be the stage of the first World Plowing Match next October in the recent developments that are going to put substance and reality into that titular word International.

This prospect was largely confirmed at this week's convention in Toronto of the Ontario Plowmen's Association, including the additional honor coming to John A. Carroll as president of the new World Plowmen's Association. Extension of the Ontario match to embrace some of the countries of western continental Europe will still require considerable consulting and planning, but evidently its new estate has definitely em-

Len Henderson of Cavan reports that Mr. Carroll is crossing the Atlantic early in the summer to consult plowing associations for the purpose of bringing the proposed world association and match into concrete form.

"We don't know yet what the full scope of the association will be," Mr. Henderson said, "but Northumberland-Durham are certainly getting a lucky break. We are hoping for representation of the following countries, or rather their plowmen: United States, England, Scotland, Ireland, Holland, Denmark, West Germany and Sweden, probably Belgium and France with possibly Austria . . . Wouldn't that be something?"

"We've got to get another 300 acres of farm land for the additional plowing classes. It is expected that we'll need 100 acres for parking cars. Hotels in Cobourg are all booked for the week of the match. The executive headquarters will be at the British Hotel. I hear that Cockshutt Company has taken a Port Hope hotel entirely for themselves. I feel certain that a lot of visitors will be looking for rooms in Peterborough. After all, it's not far from here to the County Home, at the east entrance to Cobourg, where the match takes place."

John Carroll has been secretary-manager of the International match for years. Taking on the presidency of the World Plowing Association is for him merely an expansion of the job which he has been doing with confidence in its future now about to be abundantly justified.

Mr. Carroll has been to European plowing fields, and both at home and abroad he has made friends everywhere. It is largely to his credit and particularly to his faith and personality that the Ontario Plowmen's Association and their big match have come through the changes of the last 20 years in an exceedingly sound condition. He is now assistant Deputy Minister in the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

So, Cobourg is going to find itself in the international spotlight next fall. Everybody in the Central Ontario district knows that the match site is one of the most attractive in the province, only a short walk from the shore of Lake Ontario.

The International goes to Waterloo county in 1954, Essex in 1955, Ontario county in 1956 and Kent in 1957.

Hubert Avery of Brockville was elected president this week, and Howard Quinn of Peterborough is a vice-president.

Mistaken Ideas Strain Rural, City Relations

"Is there a good understanding between the farmers and the people of the city of Peterborough" was the question under discussion Monday evening at Springville Farm Forum meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cathcart.

This localizing of the general subject of public relations covered by the broadcast was a means of examining the question in the shorter focus of Peterborough county.

The report of this Forum by Mrs. S. G. McIntosh quoted the opinion that farm and city people have many mistaken and exaggerated ideas about each other. "It was felt that if more fact were given through the newspaper and radio broadcasts it would create better understanding."

Appreciation was expressed of the interest and generosity of the Examiner in giving their weekly farm page. A tribute was also paid to the Rotarians and Kiwanis of Peterborough for their promotion of goodwill and understanding when they invite farmer guests to their luncheons, and also when the Federation of Agriculture members in return have these city men as their guests.

"However, it was felt that there was a lack of understanding between the labor man of the city and the farmer, and that we must find some ways and means of removing that obstacle to goodwill. False and exaggerated impressions which city people have about farmers must be corrected with facts through press and radio."

NET, NOT GROSS INCOME

"One example of this is that published statistics give gross farm income thereby creating a false idea of wealth of farmers because their real income is their net income, after farm costs have been deducted.

"President Eisenhower in his address before Congress made mention of the fact that for the last two years farmers' net income has been declining steadily while the income of industrial labor has been steadily rising. Thus, it was pointed out, the farmer's costs are rising while his income is falling.

"Manufacturing and other industries are protected by government to a greater extent than is agriculture. This is done through protective tariffs and subsidies.

"Workers are protected, too, by unemployment insurance, workmen's compensation, minimum wage laws and by some pension schemes.

"Some city people thought subsidies kept the price of food high. Dr. H. H. Hannam, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, said at the Dominion-Provincial Conference in Ottawa last December that if subsidies for agriculture were on the same per capita basis as subsidies for gold, in three years the agricultural industry would receive more in subsidies than for all the years passed.

"A suggestion was made that some representatives of organized labor be invited to a Farm Forum meeting, and questions might be discussed that would be of mutual benefit.

"It was also said that if some farm women could just get the time to become active members of the Association of Consumers they could help in harmonizing the different viewpoints.

"Another suggestion was that at fall fairs an effort be made by pictures or exhibits to show that between the producer and consumer were many middlemen-truckers, processors, wholesalers, retailers—who perform services which have to be paid for, and that this entails a fairly wide price margin."

Warble Fly Note

At a recent meeting in South Monaghan, it was decided to circulate a petition for presentation to the township council asking for a warble fly campaign authority.

Villagers More Friendly To Farmers Because They Know Rural Problems

Some of the Forum comments and opinions Monday on the question of public relations between people of the city and country are of interest.

Donegal Forum, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Stevenson, with Mrs. William Barrie leader: "There is better understanding in rural villages than in cities, and the larger the city the worse it is. These things would help: advertising through the press and radio; urban speakers addressing rural gatherings and vice versa. A bank manager and veterinarian would know quite a bit about farm problems. Figure out the exact cost of producing milk, eggs, etc., and tell the public. Be active members of town organizations, church groups, Lions Club, Women's Institute, etc."

Donegal group tried to indicate farm receipts from products. "Milk producers in this district get 6½ cents a quart after the transportation is taken out. Farmers have to pay the cost of transportation right to the market. It is always deducted from our pay. If we ship a pig right now we will receive 22 cents a pound, dressed weight, after transportation, if it is Grade A. A good pig will usually dress 150 to 160 pounds.

"Real good beef brings us about 22 cents a pound live weight. Eggs have gone up to 37 cents a dozen for Grade A large. Of course they are not all Grade A large by any means."

Lunch was served by Mrs. Arnold Stevenson, Mrs. Max Brown, Mrs. Raymond Beggs and Mrs. Roy Leeper.

DOUBTFUL OF PRESS

Stewart Hall Forum, at the Walter Britow's home, Mrs. Ferne Whittington leader: "We do not believe the press is a very satisfactory method, as many reporters are limited in their knowledge from both parties' point of view. Public relations between city and country could be improved if both communities would put more effort into it . . . Price spreads, no doubt, are a reason for so much misunderstanding; also high wages and salaries. Proposals: Joint committee of farmers and townspeople in organizations; farm women becoming active members of the Canadian Association of Consumers; regular arrangements for exchange of speakers."

Beaver Forum, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Junkin, with Jim McConkey leader; in part: "We feel too much stress is put on record breaking achievements; for example, a cow producing 30,000 lbs. of milk, 500 bushels of potatoes an acre, a hen that laid 300 eggs in 365 days. This is not average production. Let the producer know the true production, not just the new record breakers."

CITIES MISINFORMED

Fairview (Smith), at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Lewis: "We feel there is a public relations job to be done, and that we should be prepared to pay for it. Press information and government statistics are often misleading on farm income, giving urban people a misconception of actual facts."

Lily Lake Forum at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Findley suggested: Farm displays of certain products at fairs showing prices from producer through various stages; eggs, honey, apples, meat, etc., before they go to the consumer. This would provide authentic information. Forums could invite urban people to listen in and take a part in the discussion.

TRIBUTE TO LAKEFIELD

Chester Hamilton was leader at Pine Grove Forum at the Morley Bullock home: "One of our groups said there is good understanding between farmers and the folk of our neighboring village (Lakefield) as a large percentage of village folk are retired farmers."

Central Smith Forum at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Clark: "We do not think farmers and urban people understand each other. We have several organizations which are formed jointly of farm and townspeople. Our local radio station gives free time to the Federation of Agriculture, and the findings of our Forums are printed in our local paper, together with other farm news. We think these are helpful means toward good relations."

INDIFFERENCE IN CITIES

Lakehurst Forum said plainly: "We feel that a great many of the urban people do not try to understand farmers." They met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hunt. Recommendation included: "Charts showing the share the farmer gets of the price the consumer pays for food should be prepared. Public relations committees for each unit would help improve understanding. Surveys on the cost of production from farmer to consumer should be published. More newspaper space should be given to farm news. Agricultural representatives living in cities should publicize more among urban people. Fall fairs could do more."

Like other Forums, Daisy D, near Norwood, believes there is better understanding between city and farm people in the villages. Where farmers are best known, as in the villages, many of whose residents are retired from the land, they find sympathetic understanding of their problems.

PRICE OF STEAKS

"When the city housewife pays 85 cents to $1 a pound for sirloin steak, she is inclined to think the farmer gets that for beef. Nor does she realize the cost of feed to produce a pound of steak. Does the city consumer know that a fair average cost to produce one dozen eggs is 34 cents?

"As to correction of these greatly exaggerated ideas, the most important thing is to see that they get the facts."

Daisy D suggests that public relations might begin in the schools "with visual aids of farming for adults and children in city schools. We feel city and country people cannot get along without each other. A feeling of good will is spread through organized groups, church organizations, service clubs, curling and other recreational clubs. There the people meet not as producers and consumers, but as fellow men working and enjoying themselves together."

Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Jean Sedgwick and Mrs. Ronald Webster.

Jersey Breeders' Meeting

Peterborough Jersey Breeders are extending an invitation to the members of other breed associations to their meeting Wednesday, March 11, in the office of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

The speaker, Arthur McKeown, herd superintendent at Don Head Farms, will discuss the feeding of cattle from calfhood to maturity. That is the main item of the program, which will wind up with refreshments.

Contractors Told Year 1953 Prosperous For Industry

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

J. M. Soules, president of the Ontario General Contractors Association, today predicted "prosperity for our industry in 1953."

In a prepared address to the annual meeting of the association in Toronto, he said the most positive factor in maintaining this "Confidence in Canada; a confidence growing stronger daily, in the minds of the people of the world, from the huge industrialist in the United States, to the would-be immigrant from Europe."

Mr. Soules said, however, that "high cost is public enemy No. 1" to construction men.

"Our customers are 'shopping' for the best construction deal they can make; and small margins of profit are being maintained chiefly by reduction of operating costs and use of new and better equipment.

"It is proper that the onus for reduced costs should be the contractor's in those items over which he has control, including job and administrative organization, equipment and new methods. But there is only so much possible in this direction. The potential savings for our customers lie with labor and materials. . .

"Our contractors, both general and sub, are crying out for a formula which will result in increased production, and I am satisfied that there now is sufficient evidence of similar concern on the part of some union officials to warrant an all-out effort to achieve greater productivity at lower cost. . .

"Many of our contractors are most anxious to devise a working partnership with the man on the job, and there is an increasing desire by some of our men for participation in greater production and savings."

Mr. Soules mentioned studies now being made of "payment-by-results or incentive schemes," and commented:

"It has always been my hope that we could approach this question impartially with responsible union officials, and I still think this is possible. . ..

"A proper incentive program does not spell 'piece-work' and the exploitation that can sometimes go with this form of payment. It means a partnership with labor in the finest sense of the word."

700 Gentlemen Farmers Chicago Club Members

A front page story in the Wall Street Journal about the Chicago Farmers' Club of some 700 members might be of little interest to a typical Ontario farm family, but the Journal ran it in two long columns.

Ray Vickers writes his lead in these quotes: "I sold some hogs for 19c a pound last month, which isn't enough for feeder costs. So now I'm sitting tight and waiting for the market to go up."

"Even with 32-cent cattle I cleared $15,000 in 1952 . . not bad for an investment of $80,000 in 1945."

"Lamb-feeding looks profitable to me right now, so I'm expanding."

"These comments were overheard at a recent meeting of businessmen and industrialists in Chicago who belong to that multiplying breed — the gentleman farmer who is in agriculture for money as well as the satisfactions of land ownership and outdoor living.

You find them in skyscraper offices, lunching at the Union League Club, or driving Cadillacs between various plants which they direct. On odd days, they're back on the farm pitching alfalfa to a herd of Angus cattle or playing nursemaid to a litter of Hampshire hogs."

AIM AT PROFIT

A farm may be a plaything to some of them, but few forget they are primarily hardheaded businessmen, and only secondarily outdoor playboys. Business principles picked up running a steel mill, mail order firm, printing company, meat packing plant, are being applied to agriculture — the oldest industry known to man —with profitable results.

Says John F. Cuneo, president, the Cuneo Press and owner of 3,400 - acre Hawthorne Farms: "Farming is just like any other business. Put in good management and you have about 90% of what it takes to be successful."

Bought in 1937, this farm produces nearly 2,000 hogs a year, has 1,100 Holsteins of which 600 are milkers, and 18,000 laying hends. Mr. Cuneo admits it has been a profitable operation.

The club meets twice a month with top agricultural authorities as speakers on such subjects as "Wintering Beef Cattle," "Re-arranging Buildings to Save Labor," "New Thinking in Corn Production," or "Weeds and Their Control."

TOURS AND PICNICS

Like grassroot farmers, they stage a junket once a year to agricultural schools such as Michigan State, Iowa State, Purdue, Wisconsin and Illinois universities. A picnic is held annually on the farm of one of the members, and visitors are just as likely to be found exploring the barns and fields as pitching horseshoes on the lawn."

Two of the dozen or more thumbnail sketches of the members and their experiences may be quoted as examples of this kind of farm life.

"We made a good profit off our place in 1952," says Harold V. Engh, president, Pyle-National Co., Chicago, who mixes railroad equipment building with farming. He owns a 500-acre farm near Sycamore, Ill.,—70 acres in woods, and 430 under cultivation in a beef-hog operation. He bought the place for $150 an acre, and says he wouldn't sell it for $400 an acre.

As a farmer, Walter Mullady, chairman of American Trucking Associations and head of five different for-hire truck lines, was good enough to raise a blue ribbon Hampshire pig which sold for a record $5,000 early last year. In 1952, he cleared nearly $18,000 on a 260-acre farm near Elgin, Ill., which was purchased for $250 an acre ten years ago. Part of his 300 hogs went on the block at the end of January at what he billed as the biggest Hampshire hog auction in the country."

That's a glance at gentlemen farming backed by ample funds to purchase land, equipment and stock.

CAN LOSE SHIRT

James M. Best, general counsel, Quaker Oats Co., and owner of a 1,200-acre grain farm near Watertown, S.D., says: "Anyone who thinks he can automatically make money by buying a farm has another guess coming. The average business man may lose his shirt if he doesn't know something about farming."

There is a similar club in Montreal of some sixty of more members.

A Chicago mail order man bought a farm for his retirement. He cautions: "The fellow who buys a farm purely for investment might do better putting his money into something else."

These "farmers" would hardly be concerned about that Forum subject of "How to Use Farm Credit."

Sparkle Is Theme Of Queen's Dressmaker

By ROSETTE HARGROVE

LONDON —(NEA) — If the Queen's Dressmaker, Norman Hartnell, has his way, the gowns which will be worn by the great at the Court festivities scheduled for this momentous "Golden Year" will blaze with shimmering gold, rhinestone and sequin embroideries. They'll rival the fabulous heirloom diamonds which have been taken out of strong-boxes for the big doings.

His workaday Spring collection wound up with a group of 24 "white and gold" creations dictated by Coronation dress regulations. These were slender gowns in pure white, pearl white, off-white and oyster satins, as well as lames and brocades, meant to be worn under peeresses' robes at Westminster Abbey and, even more important, taking up almost no room. Interest was focused on corsage and hips, so the tunic theme was often featured.

For formal daytime occasions, such as garden-parties, races, regattas and such, Hartnell has all the answers.

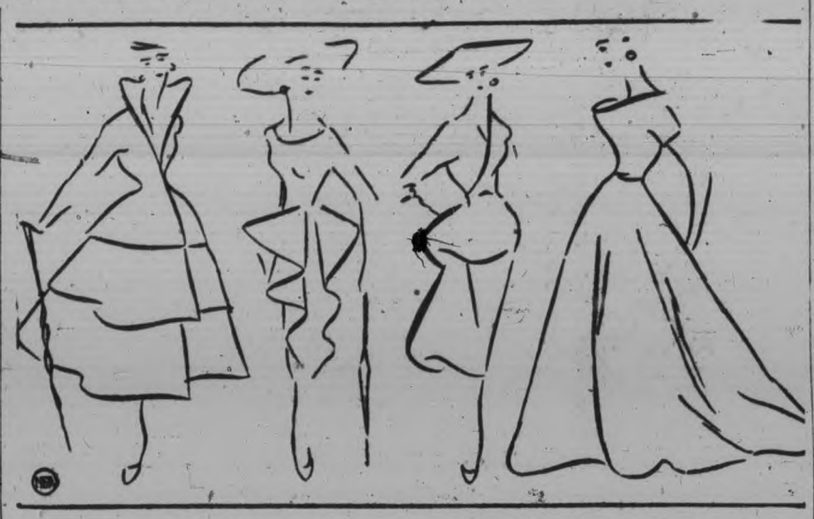
A sensational swinging redingote in white silk grosgrain with bold navy revers to match topped a slender handtucked navy taffeta dress. A couple of garden-party frocks had harem skirts — voluminous panels threaded through the belt and tucked underneath the hem.

He likes the boldest of prints —one in white onion-skin satin showed a broad swirling band of black smoke. Another, in taffeta, had four-inch black and royal blue checks.

All the colors of the rainbow, plus flower and jewel tones, were featured. "Aquarelle" was a sweeping evening coat in aquamarine satin modeled on the lines of the new Coronation robe, which Hartnell designed, that won the Queen's approval.

The deep white collar was studded with jewels in the place of ermine tails. This was shown with a slender, all-over embroidered white faille number and a billowing white tulle gown scattered with forget-me-nots.

Porridge and oatmeal, with navy, are Hartnell's 1953 daytime colors.



Charles Creed (who has abandoned Paris for London) as a compliment to Elizabeth II named his 26 suits and tailored dresses after Queens of England. There were Berengaria and Ethelburga, Elizabeth and Alexandra.

"Alexandra" was a knee-length fitted redingote—stemming back to 1910—in mustard face cloth topping a slender skirt. "Elizabeth" was a youthful ensemble in navy blue, the simple dress with pleated skirt and brief matchbox collarless coatee. Most of his informal suits were collarless and fastening at the waistline. Contrasting piping was an interesting detail.

Canadian and American buyers in London are concentrating their purchases on the glamorous evening gowns, which will bring on something of the Coronation atmosphere to the stores throughout the United States and Canada.

They are also buying suits, which this season feature the best the British textile mills have ever offered. Most striking are paper-thin worsteds and barratheas, velours as light as swansdown for topcoats, and tweeds that can be handled like silks.

Other novelites in the fabric line are the "slubbed" wools and silks, the silk brocades (which ordinarily were all of French origin) and the immense improvement in the field of silk prints. Here bold and dashing colors and designs have replaced the wishy-washy pastels, which the English women once favored.

FOUR CORONATION IDEAS by Norman Hartnell, Queen's dressmaker, shown from his sketches.

DR. JORDAN SAYS:

Prompt Medical Care May Speed Recovery When Coronary Thrombosis Strikes

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

The most common (but not the only) cause of sudden and unexpected death is a heart attack. This is most often the result of a clot or obstruction occurring in one of the blood vessels which supply the heart muscle.

These blood vessels are called the coronary arteries, and for this reason the terms coronary thrombosis or coronary occlusion are commonly used.

Most of us in or past the middle years of life have lost one or more dear friends or close relatives from this cause. Since it so often comes to those who have been well and active up to the last moment without any noticeable warning signs, it is a particularly frightening disorder.

We should not, however, let fear of coronary thrombosis—or anything else—get the better of us. In the first place, many people—in fact, most—never have this trouble, and in the second place, there are a great number who have suffered one or more attacks of this kind who make remarkable recoveries and succeed in resuming their lives much as before.

Any living tissue which has its blood supply stopped will die. Therefore, that portion of the heart which is supplied by a blood vessel which is shut off by a clot will perish. If the area involved is a large one, the heart cannot continue, and this is why sudden deaths occur.

If the area is small and the heart is allowed to rest, two things begin to happen. The heart muscle which has been killed is replaced gradually by strong scar-like tissue. Also, other blood vessels begin to take over some of the functions of the closed-off coronary artery, so that a new blood supply becomes established.

A long period of rest in bed is necessary for the victim of a coronary thrombosis. For best results this period of rest must be followed by slowly increasing activity—also for a long time. If the other portions of the coronary arteries are in reasonably good condition, the heart can make a good recovery from the damage it has suffered.

RECOVERY IS COMMON

This is, of course, true particularly in those who have suffered a coronary thrombosis comparatively early in life. Of course, carelessnes about health or unrestrained activity is not justified, but it should be remembered that many victims make splendid recoveries.

No doubt there are some who have suffered an attack of coronary thrombosis who did not even know that they had such an attack. But the symptoms are usually severe enough— consisting of pain, paleness of the skin and weakness—so that medical help is obtained promptly.

Expert advice is extremely important for the pain may disappear in a short time even without treatment and give a false sense of security. Tragic results have come to those who ignored such warning signs.

British Models Show Cream Of Coronation Fashions

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Eight British beauties take off this month for St. Moritz and its swank Suvretta House, alpine vacation spot for the wealthy.

Against a background of snow-capped mountains and winter sunlight, the British girls will display the cream of the Coronation fashions designed by London's "Big Eleven" of haute couture. These were unveiled in a three-day showing in London late in January.

Sponsored by an export magazine (Ambassador), the St. Moritz fashion show Feb. 14 is designed to make Coronation fashions a real attraction to an international clientele, some of whom may later head for London and the Coronation.

IN WIDE VARIETY

One of the largest ever to leave Britain, the collection is intended to emphasize that simple British elegance will stand out in any crowd.

Clothes will cover every occasion. Smooth, slim suits by Michael of Lachasse with jackets lower at back than front, giving added softness to a round-shoulder line, will suggest shopping in town and coffee at the best hotels.

The semi-crinoline fullness of afternoon coats by Victor Stiebel, designer to Princess Margaret and the Duchess of Kent, is suited to Buckingham Palace garden parties. Fitted to the waist with corset precision and worn over printed surah silk dresses with slim lines and one-side hip fullness, they fulfil many social needs.

CLASSIC SUITS

Digby Morton shows classic suits with man-tailored shirts finished by stiff bow ties that match a tiny pancake hat. Hardy Amies, John Cavanagh, Mattli, Worth, Peter Russell, Charles Creed and Michael Sherard combine to produce "wearable" clothes. Not for them the styles that last only a season. British women like clothes that can be worn for perhaps three years.

The applause in St. Moritz, as in London, may well go to the Queen's designer, Norman Hartnell. The wearability in Hartnell's collection stretched from outdoor clothes to the evening gowns for which he is famous.

Most of his ball gowns this year had an airy lightness and semi-fullness that made them easily manoeuvrable. To these was added a special "white and gold" collection designed for Coronation wear. It included the most exquisitely-embroidered gowns any peeress could ask for to wear under her ermine-tipped robes.

Two less elaborate designs were much applauded by the London audience—sheaths of gold lame draped with Grecian perfection.

Trinity Federation Celebrates 3rd Anniversary

Third anniversary of the Women's Federation of Trinity United Church was celebrated Wednesday evening at a largely attended meeting in the board room. It concluded with a happy social hour around the tea table centred with spring flowers and an anniversary cake with candles.

President Mrs. Vern Skitch gave the call to worship and Mrs. S. Heard and her group were in charge of the devotional. The theme "Love" was carried throughout. Thought for the day given by Mrs. Heard was "Nor heights, nor depths, nor any other creature shall separate us from the love of God." Scripture passages from Romans were read by Mrs. W. H. Maynard. An article entitled "Church Windows" was read by Mrs. K. Kempt and a poem "The Words of Jesus" by Mrs. M. Latimer. The offering was taken by Mrs. J. S. Hendry and prayer offered by Mrs. J. E. Wilson.

Plans are underway to have Mrs. Kate Aitken speak in the church auditorium the afternoon of May 14th.

Mrs. Skitch conducted a lively quizz contest during the social hour. Refreshments were served by the group in charge.

No Problem Too Great Or Too Small For This New Electric Brain Child

By NORMAN ALLEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP)—The combined intelligence of men in the fields of mathematics, electronics and physics has produced a brainchild in the form of an electric computer for which no problem seems to be too great or too small.

One such machine is in Canada, at the physics department of the University of Toronto. At least a dozen similar machines exist in the United States.

The Canadian machine—or electric "brain"—is the product of an English engineering firm, Ferranti Electric Limited of Manchester. The university purchased it for $250,000.

FILLS ENTIRE ROOM

The computer went into actual operation this year and is referred to at the university as Ferut. This stands for "Ferranti, University of Toronto." The machine is seven feet high, 24 feet long, and 2½ feet wide. It has two separate, similar panels, each parallel and six feet apart, filling an entire room. There are more than 20,000 vacuum tubes within the smooth, cream-colored outer casing.

The Second World War was the spawning ground of inventions. When problems came up concerning ballistics and trajectory of shells, new and faster means of calculation had to be devised. The way saw the birth of Ferut's ancestor.

Ferut is playing an important part in early planning for the St. Lawrence seaway and power project—one of the biggest single engineering enterprises ever planned by Canada alone. Consequently Canada's best brains must be ready to solve many complex problems which it will involve—even before actual operations begin. Speed is a big factor.

Ontario hydro engineers and research scientists are tackling these problems and feeding them to Ferut for solution. Problems now solved in a few days once required six months or more.

AIRCRAFT PROBLEM

Another example of what these giant computers can do is found in California, at the Douglas aircraft plant.

Aircraft designers spent months working on plans for a new plane. They had drawn the plans and blueprints to the point where a check with a mathematician was necessary before actual building of the craft began. The mathematician broke down the plans into formulae and equations and submitted the problems to his massive computer. The answers showed that as the design stood, the wings of the craft would flutter.

Eight months later, and after 287 tests on the computer, the right design was drawn, true to all required specifications. The computer had entirely re-designed the aircraft, and its makers knew that it would fly. Without the machine the work would have consumed years.

HOW IT WORKS

Basically this is how a problem is fed into the computer and an answer received.

First, the problem is reduced to one or more equations. These are broken down into certain categories or codes which are transferred on to a long, narrow paper tape in the form of perforations. The tape is automatically fed into the machine through small rollers. Beams of light passing through the punched tape set up electrical relays throughout the computer which in turn combine to give an answer. The answer is automatically typed out on a teletype.

The size and intricacy of the problem determines the speed of the answer. It's known, however, that the computer can handle an average of 1,000,000 multiplications an hour.

An interesting fact about Ferut is that it has a memory—two memories in fact. Once a problem has been successfully coded and solved, the machine can retain it on a magnetic drum within itself for future use. The numbers may be different, but as long as the problem is the same the code will be similar and can be re-used when required. Also, the punched tape can be kept in a library and re-used in the same way. Thus, there are two memories.

Young Folks' Favorite Cake

What's the favorite cake with all your young folk? Chocolate, of course. Deep-flavored, moist and tender, like the Devil's Food below. Frosted pale-pink and snowed under with shredded coconut, it looks very festive indeed on a frilly paper doily.

RED DEVIL'S FOOD CAKE

2 cups sifted cake flour
1¼ teaspoons baking soda
¾ teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
1⅓ cups granulated sugar OR 1½ cups brown sugar (firmly packed)
2 eggs, nnbeaten
3 squares (3 ozs.) unsweetened chocolate, melted
*Buttermilk or sour milk (see below for amount)
1 teaspoon vanilla

*With butter, margarine, or lard, use 1 cup milk. With vegetable or any other shortening, use 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons milk.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking soda and salt, and sift together until light and fluffy.

Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Add melted chocolate and blend.

Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla.

Turn into 13 x 9 x 12-inch pan or two round 9-inch layer pans, 1½ inches deep. Pans should be lined on bottoms with paper. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) about 40 minutes for oblong cake, and about 30 minutes for layers. Cool. Frost and decorate as desired.

This cake may also be baked in greased muffin pans in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) about 20 minutes. Fill pans only ½ full. Makes 20 large or 35 small cupcakes, to be variously frosted and decorated for your Valentine's party.

Purple Signature Denotes Ardor To New Love

If you're going to send Valentines this year, sign them in colors that will tell the recipient almost as much as the message in the Valentine.

If your Valentine is going to a new love, sign it with purple ink to denote your ardor.

For an old, tried and true love, use green. That will indicate your love is everlasting.

For someone you hope to make your true love some day, use red. That will denote a hopeful love.

Those hints come from Jerlyn Madison, writing consultant for a pen company, who says purple is the most romantic color for letter writing, followed by red. Green is most suitable to express long-standing affection.

Black and blue inks are suitable for signing Valentines, says Miss Madison, but they lack the romantic appeal of passionate purple, gallant green or romantic red.

LONDON FASHION—This white brocade gown from the spring collection of Arthur Banks of London illustrated the effect of Coronation ceremonies on fashion. Destined to be worn in Westminster Abbey by peeresses attending the Coronation, the off-shoulder effect is necessary for the proper display of the crimson robes which will be worn over the gown. The tulle petticoat effect is held by brocade leaves and roses sprinkled with silver and diamante.

Cinderella To get New Shoes At Y's Men's Ball

At midnight tonight some lucky girl will become Cinderella—and she will not lose her slipper, but will find herself receiving a lovely new pair of slippers as well as a variety of other gifts.

This Cinderella will be one of the guests at the Peterborough Y's Men's Club annual "Cinderella Ball." She will be selected by draw, made by club president Cecil Osborne.

Cinderella's escort will become "Prince Charming"—at least for the remainder of the dance—and he too will get a new pair of shoes and also a shirt.

Several other ladies at the ball will be modern Cinderellas too—when they win gifts of top grade shoes donated by local merchants as dance prizes. Every lady attending will receive a favor at the door.

Chapter officers were seated at a head table which was centred with a low white leaf bowl filled with purple stocks and yellow daffodils and other tables were gay with rows of white and rose single hyacinths set on colored metallic plates edged with silver frills. Place cards were decorated with tiny nosegays and streamers.

Regent Mrs. P. C. Sanders conducted the regular meeting and she and all other officers and conveners were later re-installed for a year's service by Miss Mary Medd, regent of the Municipal Chapter.

Four new members welcomed were Mrs. N. Gaele, who was a charter member of the Chapter but has resided outside the city for 27 years, Mrs. R. Dixon, Mrs. I. Lyons and Mrs. H. Long.

Mrs. H. Stegles who is leaving the city in the spring was presented with a copy of Susanna Moodie's "Roughing it in the bush" by Mrs. I. H. Keefer.

Mrs. Chester Carson delighted with solos during the evening and was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. R. R. Baker. Mr. Donald Kennedy of Trinity church made the ladies very holiday conscious, by showing several colored films that he had taken during holidays in Bermuda.

Highlight of the evening was Mrs. F. E. Hooper's relation of the history of the IODE from its founding in 1900 to the organization of Peter Robinson Chapter and she told how the chapter came to be formed in 1916 and bearing the name of the Honorable Peter Robinson. All regents of this chapter were listed and the dates when they held office.

Mrs. Hooper brought to attention the motto "Do noble deeds not dream them all day long" and expressed the wish that it might be repeated at every IODE meeting. She described the IODE badge and what it stands for and explained the meaning of bars sometimes worn with it to denote sons or daughters in service of the country.

It was felt this address would not soon be forgotten by those fortunate to hear the presentation.

DOROTHY DIX:

Married Only Few Months Finds Mate Unsympathetic

DEAR MISS DIX: I'm a bride of three and a half months with an aching heart. My husband loves himself more than he does me; sometimes I wonder what sort of heart he has. Nothing seems to touch him. He hasn't any emotions. He's generous enough with money and helps around the house, but it seems that anything he does is for his own benefit. We moved to a strange town after our marriage. I am very lonely and often unhappy, but my husband never notices it. He's never lonely and thinks it foolish for me to feel that way.

When we were married he was very careless about his appearance, and his manners were atrocious, but I have broken him of a lot of his bad habits. This I have achieved by nagging, since he won't listen to hints and reason. It hurts me to have to act that way. I love him dearly and frequently tell him so, but he seems to think that it should be taken for granted that he loves me. He never tells me he does. How can I make him more responsive?

SHEILA D.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: What you are really lamenting, Sheila, is the fact that a honeymoon doesn't last forever. Yours did end rather quickly, but as men differ so does their method and length of courtship. You are facing the inevitable period of marital adjustment, and the resentment with which you approach the task bodes small success for your marriage.

A CONTENTED SPOUSE

The amenities of courtship are, for a man, a means to an end. He wants a wife, and when he has one, he sees no reason why he should continue chasing her. A woman, contrariwise, wants to be wooed forever. Harmony in marriage comes from a reasonable adjustment—and reasonable, in this instance, usually means that the wife surrenders her romantic dreams and settles for acceptance of her man's obvious content. Be assured, if your husband provides well for you, and helps with household chores, he is content, and a contented husband is a wife's treasure.

You are going overboard on your reform movement; unless you come to a stopping point soon, your man is likely to rebel and bolt. After three months of marriage you want to change his personal habits, increase his romanticism, while retaining all the fine qualities that attracted you in the first place. What's your aim? A Perfect Husband? You can't create one and if you persist in trying you'll wind up with two nervous wrecks in the family—if there's any family left! Don't be so strenuous! Learn to take things a bit easier and remember there are many, many years of marriage ahead, so don't expect to do all the building in a few months. Your husband sounds like a man who is quietly, but completely, satisfied with everything about you and your home. Don't jeopardize his satisfaction by blatantly proclaiming your own discontent. You are the one who should be making the adjustments; get to work and do your part.

All the makings of a fine married life are in your hands; don't let them slip through your fingers while you try to grab the nebulous stuff of which dreams are made.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: My brother is 18 years old, and in a mental hospital. I write him quite frequently and send him magazines and things to read. His condition is not too serious, and he is apparently responding to treatment. He will be there for quite some time, however, and I wonder if you could suggest something to send him besides food and reading material.

FELICIA.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I hope you also visit him whenever possible, as nothing means as much to a person in his position as personal contact with members of the family.

Puzzles and games would make a variation in your packages. Jigsaw puzzles, for instance, not too intricate, could be done by him alone, or in company with other patients. You could also send him the equipment for pursuing a hobby, such as stamp collecting. Any stamp dealer will give you help in selecting the material he would require.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: After nine years of marriage, my husband has left me for another woman with whom he is now living in common-law marriage. We had no argument or disagreement; in fact, we have always been very happy. He gives me some money, but I have to pay his debts. My pastor suggested that I see the girl's mother, who told me her daughter never was any good, was lazy, and actually enjoyed hurting other people. My husband tells me to wait, something might happen. He won't promise anything but wants me to keep the apartment up. Do you think I should take legal steps?

OLLIE.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: If you expect to subsist on the vague hopes evoked by your husband's non-committal statements, you have a long, hard haul ahead. He may come back penitent, and he may not, but you are the one to live out the uncertainty in heartsickness. I think you are making yourself unnecessarily open to heartache by seeing him once a week to collect the money he allows you. Couldn't this be done through a third party or by mail? The less you see of him, the easier it will be for you. Also, just why do you have to pay the debts he contracted? On this score, at least, you should have legal advice.

Readers' Friday Column By Mary Moore

QUESTION: Could you give me some recipes for toasted sandwiches in the sandwich toaster other than cheese? I received a sandwich toaster for Christmas and only know of cheese to toast in it.

Marguerite S.

ANSWER: Any filling that is good hot is suitable for toasting in the sandwich toaster, such as ham, or bacon (cooked first) and tomato, or chopped egg, but other fillings that are particularly good toasted in the sandwich toaster follow: (1) Spread one slice bread with butter; the other slice with mashed liverwurst mixed with little green pickle relish; put slice together, brush outsides sparingly with melted butter and toast in sandwich toaster.

(2) Flake canned corned beef To 6 oz. of it add 1 tablespoon prepared mustard, 1½ tablespoons genuine mayonnaise and 2½ tablespoons soft butter or margarine. This is enough to fill 4 or 5 full-size 2-slice sandwiches. Brush outsides with melted butter as above and toast. (3) Drain 1-8 oz. can red salmon, flake it and add 2 tablespoons drained horseradish, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise and ¼ teaspoon salt. This will fill 9 or 10 full-size sandwiches. Brush with butter as above and toast. A good cheese filling you may not know is white cream cheese spread sparingly with rich orange marmalade. Keep your toaster clean by using fine steel wool, when necessary, and tissues.

QUESTION: This is to say I very much enjoy your daily chats...you have the happy knack of choosing recipes us "little people" can safely try without busting the budget ...reading yesterday's Chocolate Ice Cream in bed I could hardly wait till morning to try it...I did and my husband pronounced it "out of this world"...to keep him happy would you give me other ice creams using (Skim milk powder)? ...I have been cooking 3 meals a day for 40 years and loved every minute. I never measure accurately, slip a roast or chicken in my big electric oven and leave it till I sense it is done. My sister-in-law who cooks by the book, measures to a line, has a sinkful of dishes when boiling an egg, but wonders how I do it. I laugh and tell her I do it like some people fly, by the seat of my pants. But there is one thing I can't make and that's plain cake...I bake bread and buns as light as a feather...I have a very simple recipe for meringues I will give you, they melt in your mouth ...even cake mixes I manage to mess up and have to serve as pudding with a sauce...as a cake-maker I'm a good carpenter... please also give us more recipes that will not put pounds on the fatsos...my husband weighs 224 lbs. Hungrily yours, Yvonne S.

ANSWER: Yvonne how well you know I would love to have printed your letter in full. Of course I knew you were French from the very first line. Why should anybody want to make cake that can cook like you? However I have been having success with some of the newlyweds who were making cake flops. I am giving you the stream-line method—but none of your not measuring accurately. If you don't follow the rules I can't help you — neither will the seat of your pants in this instance. By the way are you sure your oven thermometer registers the heat accurately?

STREAM-LINED STANDARD TWO-EGG CAKE

Sift cake flour and measure 2¼ cups (exactly) and put this in the sifter with 1½ cups white sugar, 1 level teaspoon baking powder and 1 teaspoon salt. Sift into large bowl. Add ½ cup very soft shortening or butter. Measure 1 cup milk and to it add 1½ teaspoons vanilla. Add a little over half of this milk mixture to the bowl. Now beat hard for 2 or 3 minutes or until shorteining is worked in and the batter is perfectly smooth. Now add 2 medium-sized eggs and the remainder of the milk and beat 2 minutes hard. Pour into buttered and paper-lined layer cake tins or into 1 pan 13 x 9 inches. Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. Layers require 25 to 30 minutes; square or oblong cake 35 to 40.

I'll be consumed with curiosity to know how you made out. I will give you more skim milk powder recipes; hope you saw January 30 and 31st. I will remember your "fatso"—how can I forget? The mail is full of such requests. I'll use the meringue recipe you gave shortly.

THE EXPERTS SAY:

Start Week Right With Sunday Breakfast

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

A leisurely Sunday breakfast is a first-rate way to begin a new week.

It can be an anticipated event if the menu varies sufficiently from the usual work-a-day fare.

Instead of the hastily-prepared orange or grapefruit juice why not substitute grapefruit halves brightened with a maraschino cherry in the centre of each.

For a touch of novelty serve sliced bananas with bran flakes or puffed wheat.

Old-fashioned cornbread—johnny cake they used to call it—hot from the oven with butter and maple or corn syrup will please most appetites. Crisp bacon should be served with this dish. And if you've lost grandmother's corn bread recipe here's another—

Ingredients: One cup flour; four teaspoons baking powder; one-half teaspoon salt; two-thirds cup sugar; one cup cornmeal; one cup sweet milk; one egg; three tablespoons melted butter (or shortening).

Mix and sift flour, baking powder, salt, sugar, several times. Add cornmeal. Mix well-beaten egg with milk and add gradually to the dry ingredients. Add melted shortening. Pour into a greased shallow pan and bake in a hot oven from 20 to 30 minutes.

BRUNCH SPECIAL

Pancakes are good for a late-morning Sunday breakfast.

Ingredients: Three cups sifted pastry flour; four teaspoons baking powder; 1½ teaspoons salt; one-third cup bran cereal; two eggs; 1¾ cup milk; one-third cup shortening, melted.

Mix and sift flour, baking-powder, salt. Add bran. Beat eggs until thick and add to milk, shortening. Stir in the liquid and drop by spoonfuls on a lightly greased griddle or frying-pan.

Incidentally when serving pancakes remember they're best when hot. Stacking the pancakes and letting them stand may make them soggy.

Muffins will make a breakfast menu that's different: One tablespoon butter or margarine; one cup brown sugar; one egg; one cup sour cream; one teaspoon salt; one cup flour; one cup all-bran; one teaspoon baking soda dissolved in one tablespoon hot water. Add raisins if wanted. Mix in order given, beating egg well. Bake about 20 minutes in a hot oven.

HEART INTEREST

With Valentine's Day approaching home economists of the consumer section, Canadian department of agriculture, say it's not much work to bake the week-end cake in a heart-shaped pan. The youngsters—and even the grown-ups—will get a lot of fun out of it. Milk and cream desserts are always good and it's easy to add a little red coloring to make them into St. Valentine treats.

Woman Rasputin Sentenced To 10 Years

ATHENS (Reuters) — Marian Soulakiotis, 65-year-old "woman Rasputin," today was sentenced to 10 years in prison for appropriating the wealth of nuns at a convent where she was abbess.

Some died before their time, the prosecution charged, because of the merciless regime imposed upon them. "Mother Marian" inherited their estates.

Abbess Marian, tall and dark-eyed, was accused of building up an immense personal fortune by making converts, taking them to the Calendarist convent of Keratea and there extorting land and money from them with severe penances and promises of salvation.

The prosecution claimed she told elderly converts they would go to heaven only if they willed their estates to her. Then she hastened their deaths by imposing fasts and mediaeval penances on them.

She owned at least 300 houses and farms through Greece and gold and jewels worth a fortune, the prosecution said.

CANVASSED MANY PEOPLE

She was also said to have sent "monks" all over Greece to canvas spinsters, widows, young girls and even whole families to seek salvation in her convent and sign over their property.

"If anyone goes through Marian's huge file of crimes he will be so shaken that he will never recover," the prosecutor said.

Another "nun" and a "bishop" of the Calendarist sect, which has been outlawed by the Greek Orthodox Church, were sentenced to 10 years and one year, respectively for complicity.

The Calendarists broke away from the Greek Orthodox Church in 1923 when it adopted the Gregorian calendar observed by the rest of the Christian world. The Calendarists keep the old Julian calendar, which makes Christmas Day Jan. 7.

Saves His Hounds

KEMBLE, Eng. (Reuters) — Huntsman Earl Bathurst, 25, Thursday risked his life to flag a train bearing down on his pack of 40 hounds who had just killed a fox on the track. As he rode to the kill Bathurst saw the train come out of a tunnel a quarter-mile away. He jumped from his horse, slid down a 110-foot embankment to the track and frantically waved his arms. The engineer pulled up a few feet from him.

CHINESE NATIONALISTS ARRIVE FOR INSPECTION—Two top-ranking Chinese Nationalist military leaders arrive in San Francisco for a two-week tour of U.S. Naval facilities. 2 Rinks Remain Undefeated

WINNIPEG (CP) — Ab Gowanlock of Dauphin and George Weldon of Winnipeg Granite today were the only skips boasting undefeated records as the Manitoba bonspiel moved into its fifth day.

The final draw Thursday night proved a tough one for the unbeaten, with six of the eight rinks with unblemished records falling to the wayside. A total of 372 rinks started in the 'spiel Monday, making it the largest event of its kind in the world.

Gowanlock, Canadian champion in 1938, handed Jack Burgess of Minnedosa with his first loss, a 12-5 decision.

Weldon had the distinction of upsetting previously - unbeaten Howard Wood Sr., clubmate and twice winner of the Dominion title. The score was 10-8.

Billy Walsh of Winnipeg Fort Rouge, defending Canadian champion, has been eliminated from both major events — the Birks and Eatons — but has qualified for the knockout series leading to the provincial crown by winning a district playoff.

Graham Towers, the bank's head told a press conference Thursday the new bills will not be ready in time for the Coronation June 2.

Mrs. J. Arnott Elected Regent Of IODE

LAKEFIELD — (ENS) — The annual dinner meeting of the Catherine Parr Traill Chapter IODE was held on Monday evening at the Lakefield Hotel, with a good attendance present.

In recognition of Coronation year, the place cards were in the shape and miniature crowns and centering the head table was a large gold and purple crown. Arrangements for the dinner were in charge of Mrs. Donald Hendren, Mrs. W. O'Brien and the regent, Mrs. Kenneth Lichty.

The business meeting followed the dinner and opened with the prayer of the Order. Mrs. D. Hendren then brought the standard forward. The regent presided.

Mrs. G. E. Orr presented the report of the secretary and the financial report was given by Mrs. Kenneth Morris. The proceeds of a recent tea and sale were $40.

The regent announced that the Peterborough Figure Skating Club would present their Revue in the local arena on February 20 and Mrs. E. H. Northey was appointed general convener with power to choose her committees. The dates decided upon for a Cooking School were March 25 in the evening and March 26 in the afternoon. Mrs. W. W. Leonard, Mrs. L. Quackenbush and Mrs. Orr were appointed a committee to meet with the Women's Institute to make arrangements.

In answer to a letter from the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, the Chapter will go on record as being in favour of the abolition of a means test for blind persons and in favour if increased pensions for them.

Mrs. Orr read the report of the Educational convener, Mrs. T. W. Chaplin, and also gave her own annual report.

A letter from Mrs. M. Holt of Peterborough about the organizing of a sub unit for the Canadian Cancer Society was left for further consideration.

Mrs. L. Quackenbush, Child and Family Welfare convener gave an excellent report on the work done during the year and stated that $54 had been spent.

Mrs. J. McKercher presided for the election of officers as follows: regent, Mrs. J. A. Arnott; vice regents, Mrs. G. Winder Smith and Mrs. J. O. Huddart; Echoes sec., Mrs. S. Henderson; secretary, Mrs. G. E. Orr; assistant sect., Mrs. A. W. Newsom; educational secretary, Mrs. T. W. Chaplin; standard bearer, Mrs. Donald Hendren.

It was with regret that the Chapter learned that the regent, Mrs. Lichty was leaving the village to make her home in Islington and she was highly commended for the work during her term of office.

Remains Silent About Renewal Of Wheat Pact

WASHINGTON (Reuters) — Ezra T. Benson, United States secretary of agriculture, declined Thursday to say if he favors a renewal of the international wheat agreement, now being discussed here by 46 countries including Canada.

But he added at a press conference: "If we got what we asked for, presumably we would go along with the agreement."

Meanwhile it was learned that in the private conferences of the IWA council, importing countries had announced that U.S. price-increase demands were "no basis for negotiations."

OPENED NEGOTIATIONS

Present fixed prices range from a minimum of $1.20 to the ceiling of $1.80 a bushel.

The U.S. has opened negotiations seeking $2.50 maximum and a guaranteed floor price of $1.90 for a renewal of the four-year-old agreement which expires July 31.

Canada and Australia are reported to have joined with the U.S., arguing that considerable increases in wheat production costs since the agreement was signed in 1949 have made price rises necessary.

Plan Monument To Robert Borden

OTTAWA (CP)—A monument to Sir Robert Borden, Canada's prime minister in the First World War, will be erected on Parliament Hill, Prime Minister St. Laurent announced Thursday.

He told the Commons the cabinet has agreed to ask Parliament to approve the expenditure to erect a permanent memorial to "one who is recognized by all Canadians as one of our great prime ministers."

He said it is hoped to unveil the monument June 26, 1954, on the 100th anniversary of Sir Robert's birth in Grand Pre, N.S.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said members of his party naturally have a particular pride for Sir Robert, who was a Conservative.

He recalled that when the peace treaties were being signed at Versailles following the First World War, Sir Robert had insisted that Canada sign as a nation. This was the first assertion of Canada's position as a sovereign nation.

Sea Flood Recedes As Workers Toil To Plug Dikes

By HENK KERSTING

AMSTERDAM (AP)—Flood waters receded steadily today from the disaster regions of Holland as thousands of workers toiled to rebuild the little kingdom's riddled dikes. The sorrow country's death toll from the storm that hit neighbou. ; Belgium and also Britain mounted to 1,372 as the sea washed up several more bodies in the stricken southwestern provinces. Hardest hit was Goeree-Overflakkee Island with 433 dead. The unofficial three-country death toll rose to 1,941. Britain counted 546 dead and Belgium 23.

Meanwhile, the burgomaster of Poortvliet on the island of Tholen radioed today that his village of 1,700 inhabitants has been isolated on all sides by North sea flood waters and issued an urgent appeal for help.

In Britain nearly 7,000 troops and thousands of volunteers worked today on breaks in sea and river walls along a 200-mile stretch of the country's battered east coast. They raced against the possibility of further damage during the next big tides, due in a week.

A government spokesman said Friday that nearly half the 500 gaps have been filled.

Belgian experts predicted that it will take two or three months to pump flood water from the stricken Antwerp area. Some 40,000 acres have been flooded and 4,000 cattle drowned in that region, the hardest hit in the country.

BIGGEST TASK

Filling the breaks in The Netherlands' dikes was the biggest task facing an army of emergency workers.

Tholen Island, where a big dike threatened today to burst near St. Annaland, and Renesse, in Schouwen, were the most critical spots.

Hollanders in dire distress and misery still held out on water-encircled sand dunes on Schouwen-Duiveland Island. They were without public services and probably without food and medicine.

The government said they and others in a similar plight would be removed by Tuesday. The mammoth evacuation operation, already tailing off, would then be completed.

FIRE TRUCKS PUMP

Fire trucks from all over Holland have been working alongside regular sea-water pumps in drawing water from land turned into a sodden quagmire and already millions of gallons of flood waters have been pumped back into rivers and canals.

A spokesman of the ministry of social affairs said refugees will be able to return to their repaired homes "within a few months" in most areas. Some, however, will have to wait much longer.

The evacuation of refugees will interfere with municipal elections scheduled for next May, and discussions are going on between government and local authorities to solve the problem.

Meanwhile, the social affairs ministry has announced that a 1945 law for war victims will be extended to flood sufferers. Under it, the government will pay evacuees 90 per cent of their last known incomes.

Sunday will be a day of national mourning for flood victims. Special services will be held in churches of all denominations, and theatres and other places of amusement will be closed.

OFL Asks Bill Setting $1 Minimum Wage

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Against the advice of their leaders, delegates to the Ontario Federation of Labor Friday asked for legislation asking for a minimum hourly wage of $1 for both men and women.

Executive members said the $1 figure was 25 cents an hour more than the minimum wage in the United States and that it ignored economic conditions in some industries.

The resolutions committee had submitted a resolution asking for a 75-cent minimum. The meeting voted to send it back to the committee with instructions to increase the minimum to $1 an hour. The amended resolution was to be presented to the convention today.

Some members reported wages as low as 35 cents an hour for women workers in industry. The minimum wage for female workers in metropolitan areas now is $16.80 a week and as low as $11.50 a week for inexperienced women workers in rural areas. There is no minimum for men.

CLAIM MISUSE

In recommending the 75-cent hourly minimum, the federation executive said the worst employers wouldn't dare to pay wages as low as the existing minimum and that no act was better than the act as it now stands. Some delegates claimed some employers are using the present minimum as a standard.

Henry Rhodes, Ontario regional director of the Canadian Congress of Labor, proposed the $1 minimum. However he conceded the 75-cent figure would be of great assistance.

Other resolutions passed by the 121,000-member body included one calling on the province to encourage co-operative housing groups and also by aiding families building their own homes to meet interest payments on mortgages. They also asked for a province-subsidized low-cost housing plan.

GAMBLING LIVES

C. H. Millard, Canadian director of the United Steel Workers of America (CIO-CCL), told delegates in an address that the Ontario government and employers are gambling with the limbs and lives of workers in the province by holding back on an adequate accident prevention program.

The union leader claimed employers are deliberately concealing from the workmen's compensation board the number of accidents re-

Service Drivers Free Of Meters

OTTAWA (CP)—Tired of putting pennies in parking meters? Well, there's one way out. Join one of the armed forces.

The defence department said Friday its legal adviser has ruled that the drivers of services vehicles on official duty don't have to pay parking-meter fees.

But, it said, drivers have been told not to take advantage of this situation—not to park too long.

And, the department said, if the driver does break a parking or other traffic law he's liable both to have to pay the civilian fine and get a disciplinary rap from the army, navy or air force to boot.

While service drivers may escape the parking-meter, they must abide by other parking laws. For example, a service driver parking too long in a one-hour zone is not exempt from laws governing civilians.

Four Reported Dead As Plane Down In Fog

BORDEAUX, France (AP)—A DC-4 passenger plane carrying 14 passengers and seven crew members crashed today while attempting a landing in the fog at Bordeaux airport. First reports said four persons were killed.

The plane owned by the Union Aeromaritime des Transports, caught fire after it crashed.

The plane had started from Abidjan, on the French Ivory Coast in West Africa. It had made three stops.

Initial reports from the scene of the crash said eight persons escaped but all of them were burned, at least two seriously. Four persons — three women and a girl — were taken to hospital. Two suffered only minor burns.

"Stately Homes" Can Sell Art Works To Pay Taxes

LONDON (Reuters)—The government announced Friday that, beginning next April, Britain's aristocracy will be permitted to use art works to pay their taxes.

In the past it has been a matter of cash—so much cash in fact, that many of Britain's 2,000-odd historic country houses are crumbling in decay.

It is from death duties that the tax collector gets his biggest haul. When the head of an ancient—and probably no longer wealthy—family dies, as much as 80 per cent of the estate may be demanded by the government.

Henceforth the government will accept art works from the old houses instead of cash.

The government is willing to write off up to a total for all claimants of £250,000 in taxes a year in this way in an effort to save the houses as national monuments.

Works Minister David Eccles in the House of Commons Friday explained a new regulation providing for this.

What will happen to the pictures which the government "buys" has not yet been finally decided. They may be moved to public galleries or they may be left in houses where the public are allowed on sightseeing trips.

Labor members described the concession as "woefully inadequate."

Lift Butter Embargo Soon

OTTAWA (CP)—The agriculture department's embargo on the sale of government butter will be lifted early next week, it was learned today. Requests for emergency supplies in areas where an authentic shortage is found to exist will be filled, an official said. The sales freeze, ordered by Agriculture Minister Gardiner, became effective Jan. 26. For some days, pressure from the trade to have the government release a part of its 30,000,000-pound stockpile has been mounting.

Trade forecasts of rationing and price boosts followed a flood of letters, telephone calls and telegrams calling on Mr. Gardiner to rescind his order banning sales.

Asked what he thought about these forecasts of rationing, Prime Minister St. Laurent said in an interview:

"No consideration whatsoever has been given by the government to the possibility of rationing butter in Canada and I am firmly convinced that there is not going to be any occasion for doing so."

Mr. Gardiner imposed the freeze, fearing that if the government disposed of too much of its supplies, butter speculators might get hold of them and boost prices when the government's stocks ran out.

The minister has repeatedly stated that that situation developed in the winter of 1951 when government stocks ran out before the beginning of the new butter production year in the spring and butter prices jumped between 10 and 20 cents a pound.

SELLING AT 62c

The government has been selling its butter at 62 cents a pound wholesale, but in the wake of Mr. Gardiner's freeze, wholesale prices began to edge up as some suppliers ran out of butter and began to bid up the market to cover supply commitments.

The government holds about 30,000,000 pounds, while the commercial traders hold only about 14,000,000. In addition current production amounts to about 10,000,000 pounds a month.

Canada's normal consumption is about 24,000,000 pounds of butter a month. The trade has emphasized, however, that the supply pipeline requires an additional 8,000,000 or 10,000,000 pounds a month to keep all distribution channels from drying up.

GARDINER DISAGREES

Mr. Gardiner has disagreed. He has stated that if the trade creates an "artificial shortage" and holds back its own stocks, some of their traditional customers may be going to "other sources of supply" — presumably the government.

The big butter fight between Mr. Gardiner and the trade finally reached the Prime Minister and it was learned Mr. St. Laurent talked over the situation with Mr. Gardiner on Friday.

Agriculture department officials held a meeting today and, it was learned, the decision was taken to release some butter where it was urgently required.

Korea Veterans Charge Pilfering

TORONTO (CP) — Thirteen wounded Korea veterans arriving home on furlough said today wholesale pilfering of wounded Canadian veterans' equipment is going on at McChord Field near Tacoma, Wash.

They said on their arrival at nearby Malton airport that officials at the United States Air Force base told them a theft ring is in operation.

Three of the veterans testified in court at Tacoma Friday at the trial of a U. S. airman charged with theft. They were Cfn. George J. Burns of London, Ont., Pte. Wilfred J. MacKinnon of Galt and Cpl. A. E. Hilton of Westmount North, N. S.

The plane leaving Tacoma with the Canadians was delayed three hours so that the men could testify.

Pte. J. E. Kingston of Hanover, Ont., whose both legs were shattered in Korea after 11 months in the line, said the thieves got all his equipment as well as cameras and other souvenirs. He estimated his loss at more than $125.

Cfn. Burns said 16 of the 19 Canadians who arrived at Tacoma last Saturday had all or part of their equipment stolen after it was checked in at McChord Field. Some of it was recovered after the U. S. airman was arrested, he said.

"We lost cameras, music boxes, watches and other souvenirs we were bringing home to our friends and relatives," Cfn. Burns said.

Windsor Court Awards $53,000

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—A Supreme Court jury Friday night awarded damages totalling more than $53,000 in connection with a collision last March in which one teen-ager was killed and four injured.

The jury found the Stan Brown Transport Company 100 per cent responsible for an accident in which 17-year-old George Anglin was killed and Doreen Ouellette, 18; her sister, Geraldine, 16; Carl Couture, 18, and Gerald Scully, 20, suffered head injuries.

An automobile containing the teen-agers collided with the trailer section of a transport truck as the latter was being backed across a highway on Windsor's southern outskirts.

The jury found that James Young "guide man" as the transport was being backed, and William Legg, driver, were negligent in that they attempted an "unreasonable manoeuvre" in the face of approaching traffic. It found that a light with which Young was said to have attempted to flag down the automobile was not "sufficiently clear."

Couture received $15,000, George Anglin, Sr., father of the boy killed, received $10,000, as did Reginald Houle. Doreen Ouellette received $3,600 and Geraldine, $600. Other damages awarded were out-of-pocket expenses to the parents of the accident victims.

Baudouin Cuts Holiday To Counter Protests

NICE, France (Reuters)—Belgium's King Baudouin will cut short a Riviera vacation and go home tonight to counter a wave of indignation there against his sunny south jaunt while his subjects are suffering a grim winter flood.

Newspapers of all political factions in Belgium voiced displeasure at the youthful King's absence.

Baudouin made a quick tour of the flood area Monday and left with his family for the Riviera the next day. The palace said he needed the sun to recover from a recent attack of flu.

Magistrate Raps Scanty Uniforms

GODERICH (CP) — The defence department today was accused of supplying RCAF kitchen personnel with uniforms "too small to provide decent covering."

The remark was made by Magistrade D. E. Holmes, during the trial of an aircraftsman stationed at nearby Clinton on a charge of being indecently clad.

Magistrate Holmes dismissed the case when he heard witnesses testify to the ragged condition of clothing issued kitchen personnel.

LAC J. E. Norton said "on some uniforms half the rear ends are worn out." Cpl. Roger Robitaille, in charge of civilian cooks at Clinton, said there often were no buttons on the uniforms and some were so small they burst open at the sides."

"No seats on the pants of the uniforms at Clinton and horses on the payroll at Petawawa," Magistrate Holmes said. "Is that the way the taxpayers' money is being spent at defence training stations? This should go before a parliamentary committee. Such niggardly spending. Surely it shows neglect of top brass."

Say Army Camp Heavily Looted

SAINT JOHN, N. B. (CP) — The Evening Times-Globe says in a newspage story today that deserted army installations on Partridge Island, at the mouth of Saint John harbor, are "rotting to ruin and looted of almost everything movable."

The paper quoted an unidentified army officer, "qualified to assess the loss in equipment stolen and buildings damaged," as estimating the loss at $500,000.

Underwater cables worth thousands of dollars, which linked the mainland with coastal defence points, were reported mutilated and abandoned.

A reporter who visited the island said he saw buildings stripped of plumbing and light fixtures. Whole buildings built of wood during the war had disappeared. An officer was reported as saying they had been spirited from the island and that a furnace was taken from the basement of the officers' quarters.

Reds Jail W. Berliner For Buying Bread

BERLIN (AP) — A Soviet sector court today sentenced Gisela Waechter of West Berlin to three months imprisonment for buying a loaf of bread in an East Berlin chain store.

The Communist East sector administration of the city last year forbade West Berliners to shop in East Berlin stores because of the general shortage of foodstuffs and other supplies.

GOP Stands Pat On Secrecy For China Raids

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration stood pat today against Democratic demands for a public account of how much, if at all, the United States will back up any Nationalist raids on Red China.

But Republican leaders promised Democratic members of the Senate foreign relations committee confidential answers to some of their questions when State Secretary John Foster Dulles returns from Europe.

Administration supporters lined up solidly behind Senator William Knowland (Rep. Calif.) who told the Senate Friday that it would be "the height of folly" for the U. S. to tip its hand now on Far Eastern moves.

Knowland, chairman of the Senate Republican policy committee, rejected a demand by Senator John Sparkman (Dem. Ala.) that President Eisenhower tell the country what steps and consequences may follow his order lifting U. S. 7th fleet restrictions against mainland raids by the Nationalists.

Reds Turn Purge On Anti-Russians

BERLIN (AP)—East Germany's Communist purge swung today toward people who are stubbornly anti-Russian.

The admission that nests of anti-Soviet sentiment exist in the Eastern police state came from deputy prime minister Hans Loch.

As chairman of the collaborating Liberal Democrats, Loch called for a campaign to weed out the anti-Russians. He said a modest beginning had been made with raids in Halle and Gera. He said "nests" of anti-Sovietism had been cleaned out.

Loch ordered the Liberal Democratic party to drive its members into the "Soviet - German Friendship Society."

The Loch declaration gave the impression that anti-Russian sentiment is on the upgrade. Western quarters attribute it at this time to the increasingly grave economic plight of the Soviet zone. They report public growls against the Russians for having an "all take, no give" attitude.

Move Seen As Part Of Strategy To End Conflict

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States today was reported shaping up an emphatic call on its UN Allies for more help in Korea. Diplomatic sources here familiar with U.S. policy indicated such a move would be part of the new grand strategy being worked out by the Eisenhower administration for ending the Korean conflict. The reports circulated here shortly after the UN released a survey saying that a quick $1,750,000,000 aid-and-investment program is necessary to save war-ravaged South Korea. It added that black marketing and illegal profiteering are rife in the embattled country.

There also are indications that diplomatic experts are studying a possible blockade of Red China. Some sources said, however, there is little chance of such a move although there may be a widening of economic restrictions now in effect.

Some UN members would not approve a blockade and there is doubt in other circles that it would be completely effective.

LITTLE INCREASE

The U. S. took over general council direction of the Korean war in 1950 shortly after the security council decided the UN must meet the Communist aggression. Britain, Canada, Australia and a number of other countries answered appeals by Washington and by UN Secretary-General Trygve Lie for help but since then there has been almost no increase in military aid for the UN.

The U. S., in fact, has turned down some military aid because it was offered in small units and the cost of equipping, training and transporting them would have been far more than it was worth to the UN. It also has not accepted the Nationalist Chinese offer of three divisions.

The U. S. government made it known last year in the UN assembly in Paris that it desired more help in Korea. Almost nothing happened, for other countries answered they were doing all they could.

But the new administration is laying down in straight terms what it expects the UN partners to do.

The UN survey on south Korean needs said that outside investments of about $1,350,000,000 in industry, fisheries, agriculture, reforestation and transport plus $400,000,000 in outright relief would be necessary to put Korea on its feet.

Gas Fumes Kill Four In Montreal Suburb

MONTREAL (CP) — Four persons were asphyxiated and seven others overcome by gas fumes today in a block of houses in suburban Lachine.

Dead are Wilfrid Lalonde, 50, his 40-year-old wife, a son, Jean-Pierre, 7, and daughter Lucille, 8.

Overcome were a Mrs. Lavoie, 68, Claire Lavoie, 26, Real Lavoie, 23, Lucien Belanger, 48, Mrs. L. Belanger, 40, Lucienne Belanger 14, and Claude Belanger, 11.

A Quebec hydro official said it was believed the fumes escaped from a leaking gas main in the street, but the exact cause could not immediately be determined.

First reports said all those overcome responded to inhalator treatment on the scene.

Evacuate 400 Flooded Towns In Netherlands

AMSTERDAM (AP) — An estimated 400 Dutch towns have been evacuated because of broken dikes and floods.

Police and some other men have remained behind to keep things going and start reconstruction.

Dulles Optimistic Over Belief In Common Army

BRUSSELS (AP) — John Foster Dulles arrived in Belgium today to continue his survey of European defence planning—buoyed by finding that West Europe's leaders generally believe a common army offers the most effective guarantee of peace and security.

President Eisenhower's plane brought the U. S. Secretary of state and foreign aid chief Harold Stassen here after a brief flight from flood-devastated Holland.

They were welcomed by Belgian Foreign Minister Paul van Zeeland.

In a statement before he left Holland, Dulles told newspaper men that he and Stassen "have been encouraged to find that here, as well as in the other capitals we have visited, the concept of a European Defence Community within the framework of the Atlantic Community is regarded by your leaders and your people, as it is by ours, as the most effective way to ensure peace and security for us all."

WOULD SPUR ACTION

The secretary's tour of West Europe capitals was planned to spur action on the lagging European Army plan. He thus far has visited Rome, Paris, London, Bonn and The Hague and plans to continue on Sunday to Luxembourg before returning to Washington.

En route to the Belgian capital Dulles flew over some of the inundated areas of The Netherlands to complete his survey of damage caused by the week-end flood and tidal disaster. He plans a report to Eisenhower and the U. S. Congress on what the United States can do to relieve suffering and enable Holland to pull its weight in the continental defence plan.

Dulles wants definite progress toward ratification of the six-country army plan by April 1. Thus far, none of the participating countries—France, Italy, West Germany Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg—has ratified the project.

One of the secretary's chief concerns both here and in Holland obviously is the impact of the North sea flood on the defence plan. The economies of both countries have been seriously damaged by the disaster.

Open US Border To Beef March 1

WASHINGTON (AP)—The agriculture department said Friday it still plans to re-open United States borders to imports of Canadian cattle, beef and related products on March 1.

An embargo was placed on Canadian products of this kind a year ago when foot-and-mouth disease was discovered among cattle in Western Canada.

With the disease apparently eliminated, the agriculture department announced several months ago that the embargo would be lifted March 1 unless there was a new outbreak in the meantime. There has been none.

The office of agriculture secretary Ezra Benson said Friday that the original decision still holds.

Discuss Sudan

British Ambassador, Gen. Naguib Meet

CAIRO (Reuters) — British Ambassador Sir Ralph Stevenson and Premier Mohamed Naguib talked about the Sudanese problem at a six-hour meeting Friday—and the future of the 1,000,000-square-mile territory "will be clarified very soon," an Egyptian spokesman said afterwards.

A joint statement issued Friday night said the meeting "discussed the two governments' proposals concerning the future of the Sudan."

The future of the Sudan is the main point of dispute between the two countries. It has been ruled jointly by them for 54 years, but both now are agreed that it should have self-government.

Main stumbling block is over the powers the British governor - general will have during the period of transition from internal self-government to the time when the Sudanese can choose their international status — whether union with Egypt, or Britain or neither.

Britain wants the governor - general to have special protective powers over the backward people in southern Sudan. Egypt is opposed to this.

Before the Sudan discussion started, Naguib spoke at the inauguration of new headquarters for the Liberation Rally, which replaces the political parties dissolved under the new regime.

"Today the drums of danger are sounding everywhere. You can see for yourselves the conflict of states in the international arena that threatens war. While this threat persists we still find in both parts of our valley (the Sudan and the Suez canal zone) an army of occupation. This army of occupation aims at dividing us into separate parts and in turn breaking these separate parts into still smaller parts," he said, asking:

"If this is not a danger, what is danger?"

Commons Scores Extension Of Powers Act

OTTAWA (CP) — Spokesmen for the opposition groups in the Commons Friday criticized a government request for extension of the emergency powers given it following the outbreak of hostilities in Korea.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, launched a five-hour attack against a requested one-year extension of the Emergency Powers Act of 1951, similar in many respects to the all-inclusive, dormant War Measures Act.

He said the government has no need now for powers not defined by law.

Angus MacInnis, acting CCF leader, said his party had supported the last extension of the emergency powers in the hope the government would use them to combat inflation by controlling prices. The government had "let the people suffer" and there was no real reason to renew the powers for another year.

However, the CCF would listen to government reasons for seeking the extension before deciding how it would vote.

ASKS GOOD CASE

Solon Low, Social Credit leader, said the government would have to make a good case before his party would support the extension.

The government sat silent through most of the debate. Justice Minister Garson, explaining the government's silence, said the motion before the House asked the Speaker to leave the chair so that a committee of all members could consider a resolution to a bill extending the emergency powers.

Mr. Garson said there was not much the government could say on a simple motion for the Speaker to leave the chair.

The opposition disagreed with that interpretation of the rules and debated the resolution itself.

Neither side conceded the other was right before the adjournment.

Mr. Drew said that if war should come the government could revive the War Measures Act. Under existing conditions it did not need powers undefined by law. The emergency Powers Act gave the government power to do practically anything by order-in-council without approval of Parliament.

ACT USED LATELY

Within the last year the government had used the act to do things that should be covered by law. Orders were passed providing for the screening of aircraft pilots and of crews on ships plying the Great Lakes. The screenings were aimed at preventing Communists from holding certain jobs.

The government, he said, claimed that communism or communist activities could not be defined by law. Yet it used the Emergency Powers Act to punish Canadians for an offence which the government said it could not define.

He argued that specific laws should be passed to deal with communism and communist activities; laws that would define the offence and give the individual the right of appeal to the courts.

CALLS ACT "CLUB"

Howard Green (PC—Vancouver Quadra) described the Emergency Powers Act as a "club" and said it should be taken from the government.

"We've had government by threat since 1939," said Mr. Green.

All the powers needed by the government in defence, trade and production already were law in other acts.

John Diefenbaker (PC — Lake Centre) said the emergency powers permitted a rigid dictatorship and could obviate the need for Parliament ever being called. They provided for the denial of individual rights and for the invasion of the rights of the provinces.

Stanley Knowles (CCF — Winnipeg North Centre) issued a veiled challenge to the government to call an election. He said the government believes it still has the confidence of the people.

"There is one way in which it can make the test," said Mr. Knowles.

Five Hours On Lake, Teen-Age Boys Saved

PORT DOVER (CP)—Two brothers whose rowboat was hemmed in by ice floes on Lake Erie were rescued Thursday night after five hours of exposure to biting cold.

The fishing tug Endave H. picked up Richard Reeves, 15, and his brother, Robert, 19, two miles offshore. Their clothing was soaked from fruitless efforts to push the boat through the ice.

Other rescuers onshore had tried to force a boat through the ice but reached a point only a quarter of a mile from shore before they were forced to give up.

The tug, captained by Charles Hedges, happened along by chance. The owner, Alton Hoover of Nanticoke, had sent it on a trial run.

Knowland asserted:

"The policy of the old administration was to signal in advance to the Soviet Union and the Chinese Communists what our plans were.

"The men in the Kremlin and in Peiping would give their eyeteeth to know what their requirements will be. But I would like to see the Communist world sit on the anxious seat for a while."

Senator H. Alexander Smith (Rep. N. J.) said Dulles had promised to detail the administration's Asiatic plans to a foreign relations Far Eastern sub-committee on his return from Europe.

Sparkman, the 1952 Democratic vice-presidential nominee, apparently signalled a break in the new administration's foreign policy honeymoon with Congress when he fired sharp questions at the Republican leadership about the fleet order.

He complained that, although Eisenhower promised a bipartisan foreign policy, the President had not consulted Democrats on "development" of the decision to deneutralize Formosa.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP)—Sharp breaks in United States grain prices Friday contributed to wide declines in all grains on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Flax losses ranged from 11½ to 12½ cents.

The losses on American markets prompted increased offerings here, which sent prices of all months of oats, flax and rye down to new seasonal low levels. Much of the selling came from American interests Price for Class 2 and IWA wheat, top grades, were unchanged.

sulting in lost time in order to hold down the rate they are charged as their share of compensation costs.

The number of accidents is mounting each year and deaths from industrial accidents now exceed the toll from cancer and tuberculosis on a per capita basis, he said.

ASKS UNITED VOTE

Donald MacDonald, secretary-treasurer of the CCL, told delegates to present a united front at the ballot box. He did not mention a political party, but the federation has repeatedly declared the CCF to be its political arm.

George Burt, president of the federation and Canadian head of the United Auto Workers, told the 400 delegates that organized labor is finding it increasingly difficult to win wage increases since the cost-of-living began to decline.

He said, however, that labor doesn't intend to retreat on the wage front. Unions must continue to advance the standard of living of their members "at least to the same extent as the employer has advanced on the profit front."

One of the city's oldest residents and a former partner in the Card and Paper Works Ltd., Marshall Alfred (Fred) Turner died Friday at 1395 Monaghan Rd., the home of his brother, Leslie and his sister, Hattie Turner. He was in his 93rd year.

Mr. Turner was born in Roseneath, son of the late George Turner and Mary Jane Solomon. In his early life he worked for the firm of Goldie-McCullough in Galt. He came to Peterborough and went into the music business in 1890, taking J. P. Cunningham as a partner.

M. A. TURNER

In 1905 he sold out to Mr. Cunningham and went into partnership in the Art Cardboard Manufacturing Co. with his brother, Leslie. Since then the name of the firm has been changed to the Card and Paper Works Ltd., 164 Sherbrooke St.

About 30 years ago he sold his interest to his brother and went to California, and he remained there until he came back to Peterborough three years ago.

He leaves his brother, Leslie, and sister, Hattie, of Peterborough. His wife, the former Nina Bingham; died five years ago.

The funeral will be at his home, 1395 Monaghan Rd., 2 p.m. Monday, the Rev. Henry Cotton of St. Andrew's United Church, officiating. Burial will be in Little Lake cemetery.

Blockade Might Speed End To Korean War

TOKYO (AP) — The Japanese Army officer who planned and directed Japan's unsuccessful blockade of the China coast in 1940-41 said today a similar blockade by the United States probably would seriously hurt Chinese civilian morale and might shorten the Korean war.

Takushiro Hattori, former right-hand man for Premier Hideki Tojo during part of the China-Japan war, said the Japanese sea blockade of China failed because goods flowed overland into China along three routes — through French Indo-China, Burma and Russia.

He said a similar U. S. effort probably would succeed because "only the Soviet supply route now is open to the Chinese."

Hattori said he thinks a landing on the China mainland by Chiang Kai-shek's troops from Formosa "very difficult, but not impossible."

Mrs. Thomas Irvine

The funeral for Mrs. Thomas Irvine, 74, the former Edith Porter of South Monaghan was held recently from the McArthur funeral home, Lindsay.

Mrs. Irvine was born in Manvers township, daughter of the late John Porter and Ann Morton and has lived in South Monaghan for the past year and a half. Formerly she lived in Lindsay.

She was a member of Queen St. United Church, Lindsay, and while health permitted was an active member of the Women's Association of that church.

She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Robert Dawson (Beryl), South Monaghan; two sisters, Mrs. Charlotte Deyell and Mrs. William Davidson, both of Lindsay, one brother, Wellington Porter, Lindsay; and two grandchildren, Tom and Waunetta Dawson. Three sisters and three brothers predeceased her.

The funeral was conducted by the Rev. A. E. Creswell of Queen St. United Church.

Pallbearers, all nephews of Mrs. Irvine, were: Melville Sluggett, Harold Thorn, Arnold Hickson, Charles Irvine, Bruce Marshall and Lawrence Whitehead.

Flower bearers were: Tom Dawson, Joe Bradshaw, Grant Thorn, Douglas Hickson, Rod Porter and Harry Armstrong. Burial was in Riverside cemetery, Lindsay.

New IOOF Hall Opened After Renovation

A hundred couples attended the opening Friday night of the new IOOF Hall at 367-370 Water Street, formerly occupied by the Pentecostal Church.

The hall has been renovated and redecorated. The former auditorium has been converted into a dance floor, complete with stage. There is a kitchen, and downstairs there is a recreation room and a general business room. Degree work is done in the main hall.

Dr. J. H. McKinney, Past Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Ontario, brought greetings from the Grand Lodge. As guest speaker, he traced the growth of the IOOF since it was first founded in America by Thomas Wildey.

Ray Bothwell, District Deputy Grand Master, from Fraserville, brought greetings from the district, and he complimented the local IOOF-ers for getting the new building after two years of negotiations. The former hall was in the Braund Building on George Street near Hunter Street.

JOINT PROGRAM

The evening's program was a joint one arranged by Peterborough Lodge No. 111 and Otonabee Lodge No. 13. Otonabee Lodge is the second oldest in Ontario.

Entertainment was by Bob Tucker, who played both the accordion and the piano and told some humorous stories; Margaret and Florence Bannister, tap dancing; Joanne Whitton, acrobatic and skipping-rope - with - tap dances; and other numbers.

After the program a dance was held in the general purpose hall.

Prizes were awarded for draws and spot dances, and lunch was served by the Rebekahs. Roy Juby was master of ceremonies.

Federation To Request "Panel" For OLRB

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—The Ontario government will be asked by the Ontario Federation of Labor to set up a panel of "persons mutually acceptable to management and labor" from which chairmen of arbitration boards be drawn.

This was one of numerous resolutions dealt with today by the Ontario Federation of Labor, ending its annual convention in the Prince Edward Hotel.

Another resolution calls for the payment to widows of workers killed in industrial accidents a sum equivalent to 100 per cent of the husband's earnings rather than the 75 per cent now paid.

Speakers recalled that as many as 3,000 widows in Ontario are today living on inadequate pensions following the death of breadwinners in industrial accidents and many of them are having to seek assistance from municipal welfare departments.

Burmese Ask Closing Of American Embassy

RANGOON, Burma (Reuters)—A Burmese opposition party today demanded the closing down of the U. S. embassy here because, it said, the United States has been "encouraging Chinese Nationalists, who are obviously undermining the sovereignty of Burma by committing acts of aggression within her territory."

The demand was made by the "We for Burmans" party, which pioneered the freedom movement in Burma.

Party leader Thakin Thin told reporters President Eisenhower's state of the union message signified major policy changes in Asia which affected Burma. The decision to release the U. S. 7th fleet, he said, would enlarge the Korean conflict and intensify civil strife in Asia.

Third Of French Budget To Go For Defence

PARIS (AP)—The French Parliament early today approved the annual budget totalling 3,751,000,000,000 francs ($10,717,000,000) of which 420,000,000,000 francs ($4,118,000,000 is for military expenditures. The vote was 415 to 250., a relatively large majority.

In theory the budget is balanced, but only as a result of borrowing and blocking certain expenditures until an equivalent is made available from the United States or elsewhere.

Defence Minister Rene Pleven told the Assembly that unless further American aid were forthcoming, France could do little to expand its present military effort. Its heaviest military disbursements are for the war in Indo-China.

Predict Little Price Change, U.S. Curbs End

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States shifted back to a free-market economy today amid predictions there will be little immediate change in living costs.

Merchants across the country generally applauded President Eisenhower's orders lifting many government controls. They said consumer prices won't change much.

Eisenhower, carrying out a pledge he made last Monday to Congress, junked all wage controls Friday and took a big first step in pulling away curbs on prices. More price ceilings are to be cancelled gradually until all are out of the way by April 30.

Among thousands of items removed from price control on Eisenhower's orders are all meat, clothing, furniture, restaurant meals, bar and tavern drinks, and virtually all articles sold in department stores.

Controls remain for the time being on such things as milk, bread, cigarets, cosmetics, and large household appliances such as stoves and refrigerators. But these may be included in another big decontrol package due next week.

Business men queried by The Associated Press in a 20-city survey said generally they can keep prices down to about where they now are unless materials and labor costs increase.

Some economists predict price rises of as much as $1,000,000,000 within six months.

In the other direction, sagging beef cattle and other farm product prices have caused fears of recession to be voiced in Congress.

Senator Robert Kerr (Dem. Okla.) introduced a bill Friday that would direct Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson to use up to $25,000,000 of commodity credit corporation funds to support cattle prices at 100 per cent of parity.

Labor union chiefs, who had backed the controls during former President Truman's administration, said they were happy, too, over the move. They said freeing wages from government control meant a return to free collective bargaining.

CIO president Walter Reuther said it would be up to individual unions whether to make new pay demands. AFL president George Meany said at Miami, Fla., that unions would try to recapture wage boosts the government had denied under controls.

Live Wire Hooks Car, Motorist Terrified

TORONTO (CP) — A terrified motorist drove half a mile through a shower of sparks today when his car hooked onto a loose hydro wire.

Lorne Travers of suburban Scarboro said he picked up the wire as he was passing the scene of an accident, where a car had rammed a power pole. The pole was snapped and wires were looped on the road.

Instead of stopping, Travers stepped on the gas. The wire held fast and was ripped from pole after pole until Travers brought the car to a halt.

Arizona Prison Settles After Guard Seized

FLORENCE, Ariz. (AP) — The Arizona state prison seethed with tension as prison officials prepared today to move rebellious convicts "with force if necessary" from their cell blocks.

Armed guards, their ranks doubled, were ordered to use tear gas and, if necessary, guns to quell a third uprising.

Cursing, defiant convicts seized a guard during the night. But a tear-gas barrage forced them to release him minutes later.

The guard seizure provided a new, if temporary, crisis after two days of sit-down strikes, first in protest of an alleged beating of one convict and then in demand for better food and clothing.

Some 400 convicts have been participating in the uprising.

Police said they were called in but have taken no action.

Uranium Stocks Lead Exchange, N.B. Metals Drop

By HARRY KINGDON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Saskatchewan uranium stocks once again took over star billing on the Toronto stock exchange this week.

New Brunswick base metals slipped back to a supporting role after one hectic week of stardom. Trading generally slowed slightly and the market declined.

Uranium was first on stage just after Christmas, stirring the market out of months of lethargy. News of New Brunswick base metal finds obscured the uranium interest with a burst of speculative trading that made the week of Jan. 26-30 the busiest in the market's history.

But this week many New Brunswick issues slipped.

Trading fell from the record week's average of 9,538,000 shares a day to 6,231,000 shares a day. The "normal" daily average is about 2,500,000 shares.

GUNNAR LEADER

Gunnar led the uraniums, adding $2.25 on the week and closing at $6.75. Nesbitt Labine rose 50 cents to close at $3.25.

Among the active base metals, New Larder U dropped 19 cents to close at $2.09 on a week's turnover of 1,079,393 shares. Porcupine Peninsular traded a little more actively and closely at 16 cents—three cents down on the week.

Of nine uranium stocks selected at random but not including Gunnar, four gained an average of 22 cents and five lost an average of two cents. Of nine New Brunswick base metal stocks, one gained five cents and eight lost an average of 12 cents.

The rest of the market, about mid-week, moved downstage, industrials in the lead with a loss of about five points on the exchange index. Western oils lost about three points. Most observers regarded the losses as a "correction" after recent rises.

MONTREAL SLIPS

The Toronto market started the week with a moderate advance while Montreal slipped. Tuesday, Toronto industrials and golds were down while industrials in Montreal rose. Industrials and papers continued to rise in Montreal Wednesday while Toronto started a decline that lasted for the rest of the week. Montreal started the same slide Thursday.

New York was lifted Monday by President Eisenhower's state of the union message but slipped Tuesday. Wednesday was quiet but declines appeared Thursday and Friday.

From Friday to Friday the Toronto indices showed industrials down 3.86 at 321.81, golds down .155 at 81.36, base metals down 1.53 at 180.66 and western oils down 2.71 at 121.28.

In the Montreal averages banks were up .28 at 33.46, utilities up .2 at 94.2, industrials down 3.5 at 206.6, combined down 2.3 at 169.1, papers down 9.45 at 693.89 and golds down 1.57 at 63.26.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks on the the New York market was down $2.90 at $112.80.

Insanity Plea Fails, To Hang For 'Butchery'

BODMIN, England (Reuters)—A jury ruled Friday that Miles Giffard, 26, must die for "butchering" his parents and pushing them over a cliff so he could take the family car to visit his girl friend.

The jury found he knew the difference between right and wrong when he clubbed his parents to death with an iron bar.

Giffard admitted the killings, but pleaded insanity. Psychiatrists for the defence said he was suffering from schizophrenia (split personality) but this was denied by a prison doctor called by the prosecution.

Old Windjammers Carry Dude Sailors On Maine Coast Cruises

One of the unique sights along the Maine coast is the seven, genteel windjammers which make Camden their home port. These veteran schooners which once plied the Yankee coast and the route to the Indies are now peacefully ending their days as Capt. Frank Swift's famous "dude fleet."

The graceful windjammers which have turned from trading to pleasure cruises, are a most unusual collection of vessels. During the summer months, they carry passengers from many places out of the picturesque Camden harbor on the Megunticook River.

If the cost of a trip to Europe or thoughts of Coronation crowds dismays a holiday seeker, his spirit can answer the challenge of the old sea dogs. For at Camden, there is an opportunity to be a sailor for fun.

It is the unadorned, homely coaster character of these windjammers that has lured passengers ot the Camden "dude fleet." None of the boats have engines.

LIKE OLD DAYS

There are no fancy accommodations on these "old timers." Dude sailors find their charm partly in the accommodation that hints of bygone windjammer days. The bunks fit snugly against thick oaken hull timbers. Anchors and sails are raised by hand as they were when the old schooners kept company with tall square riggers as they made calls along the coast.

The fact that the dude fleet derives its attraction from being old and unique, also sounds its death knell. When the vessels get too old to be economically repaired, they have to be shelved for good.

Starting with the schoonér Mabel 17 years ago, Capt. Swift has added to his collection of old ships as the little vessels were forced out of the trading business by the changing times. No such ships have been built for at least 40 years and he estimates it would cost $100,000 to duplicate any of them today.

QUEEN OF THE FLEET

Queen of the holiday fleet is the Mattie, an 82-footer that went through an extensive and expensive rebuilding job in 1952. It was launched 70 years ago and as a freighter trundled to the West Indies many times in her younger days.

Capt. Swift insists on hiring experienced schooner captains to skipper these vessels. No yachtsmen or party boat skippers are allowed to command the craft. Such veterans are hard to find these days too.

The Mattie's skipper, Capt. Manley Grant, can remember when it was not unusual to see 100 schooners, brigs, sloops, brigantines etc. crowding the river at Bangor.

TRY "DEVIL'S COFFIN"

Or if being a sailor-for-a-day in a "Devil's Coffin" appeals as a vacation sport, then a trip to Lavallette, N.J. will pay dividends. This is known to only a small clientele although it has been operated by the same family as a sail livery for 14 years. It is the only operating dock catering to short term sailors in this area.

Their boats which are available by the day or hour run from 18 to 20 feet in length. Some are the conventional sloops; others ore the famed Barnegat Sneakbox unveiled as the "Devil's Coffin," some 120 years ago. A better description would be a boat with a top and bottom but no sides. The Sneakbox is virtually indestructible, so it is safe in the hands of greenhorns. Old salts claim it can outride anything.

The craft was originally designed as a gunning skiff in the days when Barnegat Bay supplied wild ducks to New York epicures. The rates for Snakeboxes or sloops is $12 a day, a day being 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. It costs $8 a day from 1-7 p.m. or $6 a day from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. The hourly rate is 3.

The boats are docked at Sail Inn, which is not an inn at all, at the foot of Ortley Ave.

A lot of tourists have found these unusual sailing vacations long on fun and short on expense. Clothes are no problem and the dude sailors meet some interesting people as well as having interesting experiences.

Inoculate Dogs At Jasper Safeguard Against Rabies

By WILFRED CHISLETT

EDMONTON (CP) — The federal health of animals division here has started a rigid inoculation program at Jasper National Park as a safeguard against the rabies epidemic that has spread southward from the Northwest Territories since last fall.

Park Superintendent G. H. L. Dempster reported 152 dogs were injected with anti-rabies serum. All dogs in the park were ordered held on leash. Six dogs not present when the injections were given have been destroyed.

"This is purely a precautionary measure as far as we're concerned," Mr. Dempster said. "No rabies cases have been reported within the park and we have no reason for suspecting rabid conditions."

SAME AT BANFF

A similar injection program is expected to be carried out at Banff National Park. To date, between 5,000 and 6,000 dogs in the province have been vaccinated.

Spread mainly by dogs and wolves, rabies also is carried by the fox, coyote, lynx and rabbit. Tight restrictions have been imposed on movement of dogs in north and central Alberta and an extensive poisoning campaign has been directed against the wolf.

Progress in checking the epidemic has been slow.

"The situation is about the same," said Dr. R. B. Catt, Edmonton veterinarian with the federal health of animals division. "It certainly isn't any worse."

The virus disease causes madness and gradual paralysis resulting in depth within eight days of infection. First reported in Alberta at Fort Fitzgerald, 10 miles south of the Northwest Territories, the outbreak has spread steadily southward and cases have been reported within a few miles of Edmonton.

HUMANS ESCAPE

Humans so far have escaped. Vaccination is the only preventative if a human is bitten — and usually it is successful. About 75 persons in Alberta have received serum, but there have been no confirmed cases.

The epidemic has taken a large toll of livestock. Some were shot when they developed symptoms similar to rabies although the disease was not confirmed. Dr. Catt estimates only five per cent of the destroyed animals actually were infected.

This similarity of symptoms probably is the greatest problem facing veterinarians. Dr. E. E. Ballantyne, Alberta director of veterinary services, said the symptoms resemble ordinary distemper, convulsions or worms in dogs and only when brain tissues have been examined with an electronic microscope can the virus be detected.

Rabies this year also has been found in northern British Columbia. Dr. Ballantyne said the heads of a wolf and fox from the Fort Nelson area were tested and found to be infected. Rabies "depots" would be set up at Dawson Creek, Fort St. John and Fort Nelson, all in B. C.

About 20 such depots have been established in Alberta.

Left Too Soon

HAMMOND, Ind., (AP) — The line at the tax collector's office was long and Russell Miller, an ironworker, got tired of waiting to pay $280 income taxes. He left, intending to come back later. When he got out of his car behind his apartment building two gunmen robbed him of the $280.

Milan Police Bar Protestant Sect

MILAN, Italy (AP)—Milan police have prohibited public announcements of lectures by the Protestant Church of Christ.

The evangelistic church has been trying in vain since the war to obtain official permission to operate in this Roman Catholic country. After first closing several of its 20 meeting places last autumn bringing U. S. state department intervention, the government relented and gave temporary permission for services.

Italy has not yet given the Church of Christ legal status, however, or recognized its ministers as authorized clergymen.

Police Chief Dr. Daniele Bordieri said Friday he turned down the formal Church request to put up posters because "the performance of religious ceremonies can only be held if they are presided over by an authorized clergyman" and the Church of Christ does not meet this requirement.

Ask More Tariff

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP) — Threatened with factory shutdowns because of an influx of low-priced Japanese shirts, local manufacturers called on the government today to boost the tariff on such imports. The manufacturers asked that all imported shirts be taxed 18 shillings a dozen above the present tariff. They also asked that all materials from which imported garments are made be woven within the British Empire.

Lads Halt Train

YONKERS, N. Y., (AP) — A New York Central electric train ground to an unscheduled halt Friday near here. Reason: two four-year-old boys sitting between the rails, playing. The engineer stopped his train 10 feet from them. They looked up curiously and went on playing. A conductor took them aboard and deposited them with police at the next station.

Firemen Control Blaze On Swedish Freighter

HAMBURG, Germany (Reuters) Firemen Friday night brought under control a fire aboard the 4,030-ton Swedish refrigerator ship Antarctic Ocean. They described it as the biggest post-war ship fire in Hamburg port.

The once-white ship now is only a black wreck with her superstructure destroyed.

The Antarctic Ocean caught fire Thursday while repair work was being carried out with acetylene torches.

Find RCAF Plane With 7 Aboard Crashed In Gulf

VANCOUVER (CP)—It was established Friday that an RCAF Dakota aircraft missing for 10 days crashed into the Gulf of Georgia. Seven men were aboard.

RCAF technicians at their Sea Island base near here identified a wheel that floated ashore at Lasqueti Island, 45 miles northwest of here, as coming from the Dakota.

Other pieces of wreckage, a plywood floorboard and part of a fuselage, were similar to those of a Dakota. They were found on Lasqueti and on Quadra Island, 50 miles to the north.

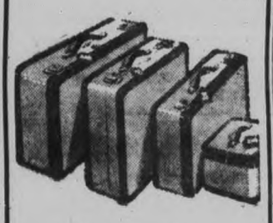
Added to the evidence is an oil slick found Tuesday 40 miles south of Lasqueti near Galiano Island, near Nanaimo.

The plane disappeared minutes after taking off from Vancouver for a training trip into the interior.

TERRIFIC CRASH

The RCAF said the wreckage indicated the plane hit the waters of the gulf with terrific force, lending strength to a theory that the aircraft iced suddenly while climbing for height.

On board were: FO W. L. MacKenzie, navigator, Galt; PO J. A. Pollock, Noranda, Que.; FO A. Couchmam, Vancouver; Cpl. S. C. Herman, Vancouver, and army Cpl. G. F. Vickers, Vancouver. Couchman and Vickers were passengers.



Meanwhile another clue that might point to the whereabouts of the Mitchell bomber from Saskatoon missing with five men aboard since Jan. 29 has been reported.

Two separate ground parties pushed up Fromme mountain 10 miles from here to investigate a silvery object spotted on the 3,000-foot level.

Three Children Drown

ELMONT, N. Y., (AP) — Three children drowned today in a sand pit pond as they romped in play. Police said they apparently were playing on a wooden float that capsized and sent them helpless into the city water.

Britain Buys Bacon

Recent speeches in the British House of Commons and statements by Cabinet Ministers have indicated that Britain wants to increase her buying in Canada and will do so as her dollar condition permits. Thus Canadian cheese is being bought, and yesterday came confirmation of an earlier announcement that Britain will buy five million pounds of Canadian bacon. An additional condition to the British willingness to buy Canadian should be added: Britain will buy if the price suits her. The price being charged for the Canadian bacon should suit. Where else in the world could she get Wiltshire sides for twenty cents a pound? Certainly not from her own farmers, and probably not even from the Argentine, from whom Britain has been buying beef.

* * *

How does the Canadian government happen to have a million pounds of bacon to sell? The reason is that the Government put a floor price on pork to protect farmers and farm prices. The five million pounds of bacon cost more than they are being sold for. Canadian taxpayers, not the Canadian farmers, stand to lose seven cents a pound on the deal—$350,000.00. Britain has a bargain; Canada gets rid of surplus bacon at a $350,000 loss.

* * *

The sale has its good points, depending on one's point of view. The Government already has about seventy million pounds of unsold surplus canned pork in rented warehouses. We shall, as taxpayers, not have to pay for packing and storing another million pounds in the form of bacon. Incidentally, packing-houses also benefit. Consider the blow to their prices if the Government had decided to let Canadian people have the advantage of the bargain price in bacon, and sell it on the Canadian market at twenty cents a pound wholesale.

* * *

Let us not dupe ourselves that in such deals as this Britain is moved by motherly affection or a desire to help out the poor Canadian farmers overloaded with produce. When Britain buys Canadian—wheat, cheese, beef, pork, bacon—she does so only if she can get it cheapest in Canada. We note the business-like way in which Britain found the million dollars to buy the five million pounds of bacon. It was her "agent's fees" from a deal under which she bought fresh Canadian beef in return for frozen New Zealand beef that Britain had ordered. The N.Z. beef was sold in the American market. Thus Canada circumvented the U.S. ban instituted against importing Canadian beef, and Britain as agent in the deal made a million dollars, with which she has now bought Canadian pork. It really looks as if Britain weren't paying twenty cents a pound for the bacon at all, but getting it free; the result of some sharp British business dealing.

Plaster Of Paris, Ont.

Cynical outsiders beyond The Mountain may think that what makes Hamilton Hamilton is Toronto. Statisticians of the Research Bureau of Ontario have other explanations. They indicate that Hamilton is not a minor and envious copy of Toronto, but a thing in itself. Its geographical location is important not from its nearness to Toronto but because from earliest days all east-west traffic was obliged to traverse the narrow plain lying between Lake Ontario on the one side and the escarpment on the other. Thus it seems that Hamilton's Mountain is not just a symbol of embarrassed Hamiltonian pride but the reason Hamilton exists. It forced people and business to come to, or at least through, Hamilton.

As Burlington Beach proves, Hamilton has a water-front, and therein is another and perhaps better reason for Hamiltonians to crow over Toronto. Hamilton, not Toronto, is Canada's third port, in terms of tonnage handled. It is exceeded only by Montreal and Vancouver. So Hamilton harbour is another good reason why Hamilton exists. Railways, highways, ships, coal and iron, Hydro lines, all come to Hamilton, making the entire Burlington area Ontario's second manufacturing region and Hamilton its second city. Indeed, the city is Canada's third most productive manufacturing city, and to date this country's leading primary iron and steel centre. Hamilton produces about six hundred million dollars' worth of manufactured goods a year.

The smoke of Hamilton and the humidity are relieved by pleasant Niagara-like countryside producing fruits. Burlington area's fruit trees grow a million dollars' worth of apples, pears, peaches, plums and cherries in a year, and the annual value of the region's small fruits is more than six hundred thousand. Field crops were worth (1951) $11,369,100. The two counties of the Burlington area—Brant and Wentworth—have a million dollars worth of hens' products, too.

Although 81.1 per cent. of the region is classified as farm land and 77.7 per cent. of it is improved farm land, only a small proportion of the population gets its livelihood from agriculture today and only 12 per cent. of the population is rural. So even Brantford cannot be said to be rural; as a matter of statistics, Brantford houses half the county of Brant's total population of 72,000. Wentworth County has 272,000 people, 208,321 of them living in Hamilton. Yet so pleasant is the countryside around Dundas, Brantford and Burlington, that one forgets the smoke and jabber of Hamilton. Hamiltonians themselves try to overlook it by living on or beyond The Mountain, or in Ancaster.

The statisticians tell us that the Burlington area—the two counties—is Ontario's second most populous region and the second largest urban centre—a density of 385.6 persons to each square mile, 12,409 of whom are Poles. The density of Peterborough county is 33.5. But one puts aside all these base statistics when driving down into Paris, a beautifully sited town of 5,249 Parisians. The town is named after the plaster of paris beds in the neighbourhood and produces for its daily bread woollen goods, gypsum and cement. When the Atlantic comes to the port of Hamilton through the St. Lawrence seaway, the industrial and commercial activity of the lakeshore places will no doubt increase even more than it has in the last ten years, but inland Paris should not be threatened. When other places were suffering expansion during and after the war, Paris managed to add no more than 612 persons.

The Face Of The Countryside Changes

Towns change their appearance more rapidly than the countryside, and the change is noted. A new store, different street lighting, a block of houses, an improved park; these come under the eye of thousands and are marked. Change in the countryside is less frequent, more widely spaced and not as many people witness the process as in cities. But change there has been. Look around Peterborough townships and think what differences there are from twenty years ago. We mention a few.

Highways where there were county roads. Cleared winter county roads where formerly a car had hard going in February and a horse and sleigh were more dependable. Spruce farmhouses and barns, and farmers and their families paying considerable attention to pleasant driveways, lawns, outdoor furniture, landscaping. Good cars beside the trim farmhouses. Machines doing the farm work; not a horse is to be seen on some farms. Electric wires along every road and into every farm. In fact, one of the most prominent changes in the last two decades is the appearance of the countryside at night.

It is next to impossible in our farming regions now to be in a completely dark landscape—the feeling of isolation is gone. Lights glow from house windows and barns. Most farmers have yard lights, and use them. Wherever you stand now in a cultivated countryside at night there are lights—car lights, house lights, yard lights. Electrification alone does not account for the brilliance of the country night; there are more houses and more occupied houses than formerly, as city people acquire country houses.

Perhaps the most conspicuous change in the countryside, yet one which is seldom remarked, for it has come about over a score of years, are the towers. First came Hydro towers to carry heavy cables bearing power from the Ottawa valley. Then broadcasting towers multiplied: private stations, Provincial Police stations, relay stations. From hill-tops in the vicinity of Peterborough now can be seen half a dozen of these towering steel structures, coloured lights marking their elevation at night to warn planes.

There have indeed been many changes in the appearance of our countryside—from fencing to television aerials. But still sheep nibble, cordwood is piled up by the kitchen and manure accumulates by the barn. And the same mail boxes still swing from their arms.

NOTES AND COMMENT

Mr. Abbott brings down his budget on February 19. A little late, but we still hope it will pass as a Valentine.

A Georgia farmer complains that his cows have been getting drunk on moonshine mash which was dumped into a stream. When Bossy gives eggnog ready-mixed, that's news!

A New York expert on hair says that 100,000 women go bald every year because of—notice this—"laziness and easy living." Bald men had better unite on some sort of rebuttal.

Tuesday, June 2nd, has been declared a public holiday because of the Queen's Coronation. Surely this is the time for interested bodies to wire Her Majesty to change the day to a Monday, in order to meet their desire for a long weekend?

The Journal of Samuel Marchbanks

SUNDAY: While looking for some other information in a book this afternoon, I stumbled upon an account of the early history of coffee, which apparently first invaded Europe in the guise of a valuable medicine. In 1652 it was advertised as being a certain cure for "consumption, dropsy, gout, scurvy, the King's evil and Hypochondriac Winds." Furthermore, it was said that "It so incloseth the orifice of the stomach and fortifies the heat within, that it is very good to help digestion . . . it much quickens the spirits and makes the heart lightsome." I can only conclude that they made better coffee in England in 1652 than they make today, for the present English brew is a certain provoker of hypochondriac winds and makes the heart heavy. I do not suppose that anyone will ever discover why the English cannot make coffee, while the Americans cannot make tea. It is one of those mysteries of racial constitution, like the fact that a Frenchman kissing a woman's hand looks like a gentleman, and a Canadian doing so looks like a jackass.

✧ ✧ ✧

MONDAY: I see that a Canadian manufacturer of pipes hopes to persuade women to become pipe-smokers by manufacturing special elegant pipes for them. In the seventeenth century many women smoked long clays, and children were given a recess during school hours so that they might enjoy a pipe, and thus ward off infections and plague. When I was younger I knew one attractive girl who smoked a pipe, but I do not think she did so because she enjoyed it: what she liked was having a group of young men standing by, some urging her to greater efforts, and some expressing disgust and pain. She firmly declared that she would not give up her pipe for anything, but I observed that she took pains to keep the reek of it out of her hair, and when she went out in the evening she smelled of perfume, and not of pipe. Therefore I doubted her complete earnestness. Now she is a mother, and does not smoke at all. There is something contrary to the best traditions of motherhood about accidentally dropping a gobbet of fiery dottle into the baby's diaper when changing it; the burnt child fears its Ma. Lullabies, also, have a pinched sound when sung around the corner of a large briar. I suppose mothercraft and the smoking of a hookah might be compatible.

✧ ✧ ✧

TUESDAY: Had to write a letter in a great hurry today, and as I was far from any supply of the paper I am accustomed to I had to borrow some from a very young woman who was nearby. My senses reeled when she brought me a box of tiny sheets folded in the middle and decorated with highly coloured pictures of dogs and cats playing with balls of wool. I suppose I move in a very restricted circle, and am not abreast of modern fashions in these matters, but I very rarely write anything which looks right on such paper. My whole mode of living and thinking is Anti-Cute. However, I gritted my teeth and wrote my note, but when I sealed the envelope my restraint was completely broken down; the glue on the flap had been impregnated with an extremely sweet flavour which my benefactress told me was Cherry; she assured me that envelope glue now comes in several delicious flavours. If this is really true, it is clear that the country needs a special stamp to put on such letters; something bearing a picture of the Postmaster General, got up as Cupid, and surrounded by jolly doggies and romping pussies would be just the thing. The glue on the stamp would necessarily be maple sugar, and this would begin a whole new field in philately.

✧ ✧ ✧

WEDNESDAY: At a party this evening the conversation turned to wills, for there was a lawyer among the guests, and he was holding forth on the disadvantages of dying intestate. A few people who were unfamiliar with this term seemed to think that he was drunk and talking coarsely, and either laughed vulgarly or blushed, but after a while everyone was drawn into the argument, and several ladies said that they simply could not bring themselves to make wills, as it was such a gloomy business. I was able to contradict this, for I am an old hand at will-making, and something of a will-fancier. A good will is a notable work of ingenuity, and it may be a literary work of some distinction, as well. The first object of a will is to keep the people you do not like from getting anything which you may leave. Lawyers now discourage the introduction of long and spiteful attacks on relatives in wills, but these can easily be written separately, in the form of a letter to be read at the time of reading the will. Then there is the fun of rewarding the good, by leaving them personal mementoes, sometimes of a humorous nature. The overall purpose of a will is to give pleasure to the person who makes it, so that he can look at his dependents and toadies as long as he lives, and glow or snigger to think what lies in store for them.

✧ ✧ ✧

THURSDAY: By channels which I decline to reveal, a comic book came into my hands today; it was quite a good comic book, devoted to the doings of a character whose adventures I read every day in the press. But I found that when I tried to read a whole book about him, my interest flagged, my stomach heaved, bright lights danced before my eyes, and I began to wish for more substantial literary fare. This drove me to a train of thought which I have boiled down into Marchbanks' Anti-Democratic Syllogism, thus: (a) only children can read comic books; (b) large humans who read comic books are really children; (c) therefore large humans (really children) who read comic books should be sent to work in the salt mines and deprived of their citizenship.

✧ ✧ ✧

FRIDAY: To the movies, to see the latest version of "The Merry Widow." It is not much like the operetta that I remember so well. The pleasure which the original piece gave came from its relaxing and charming atmosphere; people sang and danced and were funny, as though these things came easily and naturally to them. But this picture was spoiled by the Hollywood Fallacy which dictates that all singing must be as loud as possible, and all dancing must involve the uttermost in strenuous physical effort. Two people waltzing as if they enjoyed it is a more precious sight to me than two hundred people leaping and racing as if they had been equipped with scorpions and tarantulas in their brassieres and trouser-seats. By the time the film was over I was utterly fagged out, having been yelled at and jumped at for nearly two hours. However, I got a good laugh out of Lana Turner's pretence of being a great lady; she works under the delusion that wealth and breeding immobilize all the muscles of the face. The piece concluded with a new version of God Save The Queen, which showed Her Majesty walking, talking and riding a horse. Perhaps unreasonably, this gave me the feeling that I need not stand myself, so I walked out, as H.M. herself seemed to be doing.

✧ ✧ ✧

SATURDAY: For many years I have searched for my lifework — the task which will make the name of Marchbanks ring down through the centuries — and at last I have discovered it. I founded today the Marchbanks Institute of Parental Psychology, and in future I shall devote my life to teaching children how to treat their parents so that these misunderstood and under-privileged creature will not become frustrated, warped, emotionally crippled and unfit for ordinary life. Children of today are much too strict with their parents; they demand a degree of perfection from them which often brings on neurosis and sometimes complete breakdown. Children do not understand the subtle balance of parental thinking, and if a parent has a small tantrum, and wallops them, they are likely to summon the Children's Aid. This is quite wrong. The child of the future (trained by me) will consider its parents at all times; it will give way to their wishes, and when a disagreement arises, it will argue gently (not too long) and then it will do as the parents command. Toilet-Training will be of special importance, and 'teen-age daughters will be taught that it is far safer to brush Father's waistcoat, saying nothing, than to harrass the poor fellow for having spilled cigar-ash on it. A New Age is Dawning! Parents of the World, Unite! You have nothing to lose but your Family Allowance!

"STUPIDS, DON'T YOU KNOW UTOPIA WHEN YOU SEE IT?"

'That Contrary Old Man'

(OTTAWA JOURNAL)

THE story of the week we liked best was that which told of how it came that Major John Eisenhower, serving in Korea, happened to get to Washington to see his father inaugurated as President.

As the Washington correspondent of the San Francisco Chronicle told it:

"'Just before the inauguration Dwight Eisenhower asked President Truman:

"'Sir, may I ask you a question: Who ordered my son home from Korea? He's been giving me hell about it.'"

"'I did' Truman said. 'Just tell him that contrary old man in the White House did it.'"

Not much wrong with the leaders and politics of a people when this sort of thing can happen — generosity, kindness and chivalry rising above strife, softening asperities, making controversy more sportsmanslike and manly.

It is the sort of thing, thank heavens which has become something of a tradition in most parliamentary countries.

One classic example came in an incident between Gladstone and Chamberlain. Chamberlain, breaking with Gladstone on Home Rule, became the "GOM's" most merciless critic; pursued him implacably with seeming rancor. One day there rose from the back benches a young man to deliver his maiden speech—Austen Chamberlain, Joseph Chamberlain's son. When the speech was over, a page boy brought a note across the floor to Chamberlain the elder who upon reading it, betrayed deep emotion. The note, a graceful congratulation to a father upon a promising son, was from Gladstone.

One recalls, too, the case of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. In 1917 the friendship foundered; Clark, a disciple of John Morley and Joseph Cowen in the great days of radicalism in Newcastle, came to Canada to become the Liberal member for Red Deer and the devoted friend and follower of Laurier. In 1917 the friendship foundered; Clark, in a searing speech, questioned not only Sir Wilfrid's policies but his motives. The two men never spoke again.

✧ ✧ ✧

A COUPLE of years later Sir Wilfrid died, and the House met to hear the leaders pay him tribute. Sir Thomas White for the Conservatives, Mr. D. D. Mackenzie for the Liberals, and Mr. Rodolphe Lemieux for Quebec, all spoke movingly, but the man who stirred the House to its depths was Dr. Clark. Rising without notice, begging the Speaker's permission to add his word of tribute, he went on to tell of how his long friendship with Sir Wilfrid had been broken, of how their paths had ceased to cross, then added: "But, Mr. Speaker, when some time ago word came of the death of my son in France the first note of sympathy to come to me, the sweetest and the tenderest, was from Wilfrid Laurier."

In a world made dismal by hatreds and rancors, incidents like these forbid despair.

Half-way Point

(Regina Leader-Post)

Very welcome news indeed was the straightforward announcement by TCA Vice-President W. G. Wood that Regina is to receive trunk line North Star air service at the end of April. Additional to the present inter-city shuttle service this will put Regina only five hours from Vancouver and six hours from Toronto. That is a big saving in flying time.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah: not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day that I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt; which my covenant they brake, although I was an husband unto them, saith the Lord: but this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel; After those days, saith the Lord, I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts; and will be their God and they shall be my people.

And they shall teach no more every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the Lord: for I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more. (Jer. 31: 31-34.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Grace and peace be multiplied unto you through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord, according as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called us to glory and virtue: whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises: that by these ye might be partakers of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust.

And beside this, giving all diligence, all to your faith virtue, and to virtue knowledge; and to knowledge temperance; and to temperance patience; and to patience godliness; and to godliness brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness charity.

For so an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. (II Pet. 1: 2-7, 11.)

Last Of The Gibson Girls

(Hamilton Spectator)

You cannot pass a magazine today without encountering the inviting gaze of some cover girl and when you come to think of it there were always these familiar and appealing faces.

Our present generation has its Marilyn Monroes and Rita Hayworths, our fathers think nostalgically of their Clara Bows and Mary Pickfords and our grandfathers are not unmoved by memories of the Gibson Girls of the Gay Nineties.

In deference to our elders, it seems only fitting that some mention should be made of the death, last week, of the last of the original Gibson Girls. Fifty-eight years ago she was a raven-haired 19-year-old, with an hour-glass figure which was the toast of two continents. Her name was Mary Callahan and she was immortalized by Charles Dana Gibson in his famous drawings of The Laughing Girl, The Bicycle Girl and The Bathing Girl. In her day she was the norm of beauty and the symbol of an era.

There are probably few people today who remember Mary Callahan, let alone what she looked like 60 years ago. But if there are those who would question whether she had the appeal of Rita Hayworth, nobody can deny that she exceeded most modern glamour girls in one important respect. When she died last week at the age of 77, she had been happily married to her one-and-only husband for 56 years.

"Mon petit Anglais! We remember you well when here you was in the war! You must stay to dinner."

Village Hibernates 'Til Tourists Return

A small group of men gathered around the stove, as usual, in Frank McLaughlin's general store on Thursday afternoon. There was little work in the village and nothing new to talk about except the fishing season that would open—for pickerel—on May 15.

"Fishin' isn't what it used to be," said Frank who voiced the opinion of the others seated on orange crates.

Fishing catches may be deteriorating at Trent River according to older standards but hey were still sufficient to attract more than 900 summer folks to their 250 cottages along the banks of the river and lagoons each summer.

Until the cottages opened about mid-June the village and business would be in a coma. Stores and gas stations with bright "Bait-for-sale" signs, the snow-covered dance pavilion, the canal swing bridge that did not swing, were evidence of this. And a drive along the roads leading through the cottage colony was depressing. Stacks of punts awaiting a paint job in spring, floating wharves pulled ashore, pumps and awnings dismantled and boat houses sagging into the black current.

The summer people would change all this and set the cash registers jingling. Merchants intimate that 10 months of enforced idleness were offset by sufficient business for everyone in summer to make a fair living.

One of the oldest residents, Thomas Brown of "Pig Lane", sits in his comfortable living room of a quiet winter afternoon and recalls village life of the past.

Trent River had a hustle and bustle about it in the old days. In days when log drives choked the stream and lumberjacks broke out the endless log booms to warp them through the town. There was a sawmill or two at the water's edge and a brickyard that operated for a while.

"They made good bricks, too," said Mr. Brown and asked the reporter to examine his own house that was built 60 years ago from Trent riverbottom clay. The Methodist Church with its white marking stone in the belfry "1878" was built of local brick But the business moved away.

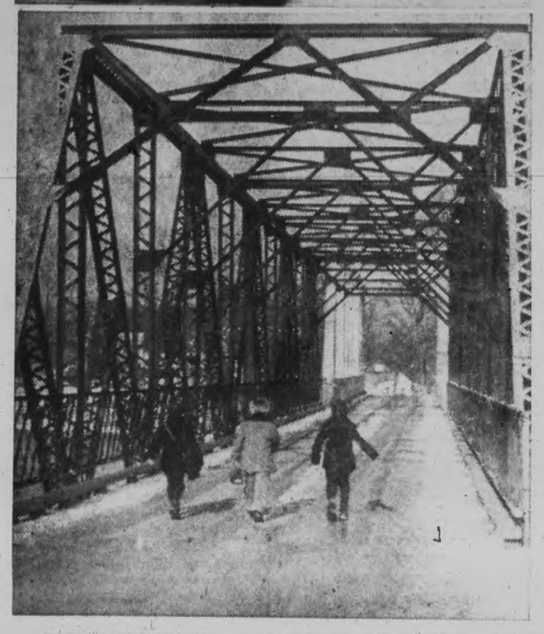
Nowadays, the only industry, aside from cottager trade, is a cheese factory. At present the owner sells his milk in Toronto but makes cheese during the summer and fall.

The community was once called Trent Bridge but to avoid confusion in the Post Office department, that already had a "Kent Bridge" elsewhere, the name was changed to "Trent River."

The water is spanned by three bridges, two of them stationary and one a swing section for steamers to pass. Beside the lock master's cottage a cement war memorial with what appears to be the American eagle roosting on the pinnacle, reminds visitors of district men who died in the First World War. On the annual regatta day it serves as an elevated perch to view the boat races. No one visits it in winter except small boys on their way home from school. The balustrade make an ideal fort for snow fights.

The steamboat age played its part at Trent River when ships of the Calcutt fleet plied up and down during the navigation season. They towed log booms, delivered and picked up passengers and freight and towed dance barges to Peterborough for farmers' picnics. All that is gone.

In their place outboard boats roar up and down the river reaches all the way to the entrance at Rice Lake—15 miles—and south to Campbellford. Fishermen man the boats and regardless of what village folk say about the fishing, quantities of pickerel, bass and 'lunge are taken from district waters each summer.



"Guess I was the first man to help plant pickerel fry at Trent River," said Mr. Brown. "The late Dr. Holdcroft of Havelock and I put the first of them in here more than 50 years ago."

As lights came on in homes and stores late in the afternoon Jimmy Carnrite who lives beside the church finished butchering a four-month-old hog. He scalded it, scraped it and hung the white carcass to an apple tree at his back door.

"There's a lot of good eating in that hawg," said Jimmy. "It will help out till cottagers start getting their places ready in the spring."

Life is quiet and easy-going, but very pleasant, in Trent River in winter time.

THREE BRIDGES span the Trent at Trent River. The swing section, foreground, passes boats.

EAGLE-TOPPED WAR MEMORIAL beside the canal is visited by small schoolboys, viewed by visitors in summer.

A FOUR-MONTH HOG was butchered by Jimmy Carnrite to help cost of living during winter's slow earning season.

A·F·I·E·L·D with NICK NICKELS

Driving east along Highway 7 one cold day this week I passed a pasture field with a small frozen creek meandering through it. Many years ago it was a woodlot that screened one of the finest swimming holes in the country. I remember it well, the fun we had there, and the bloodsuckers that infested it.

The swimmers used to rub the leeches with pieces of rock salt to make them curl up and drop off. Generally, it was a case of stretch-and-pull before we struggled into our clothes and dashed for the school before the bell stopped ringing.

Some of the older boys said that if brush fires were burned on the mud during summer drought the leeches would vanish. I think it was nothing more than a countryman's belief.

A few years later I visited a sick friend who had an eye infection. From time to time the nurse applied a pair of medicinal leeches to the spot of trouble. After they had become bloated with poison they were popped into a glass jar of brine to regurgitate and then kept in fresh water until the next application. This leeching remedy, Dr. Agnes Moffat tells me, has not been used for years. Drugs do the work of leeches these days.

They still have another use, in case you are interested, for it just takes one of the ugly brutes to make yourself one of the most accurate barometers you ever saw. It's in the book and the book says:

'Fill an eight-ounce phial with three gills of water and place a healthy leech in it. Change water in summer once a week and in winter once a fortnight. The leech will prognosticate the weather most accurately.

'If the weather is to be fine the leech lies motionless at the bottom of the glass coiled in a spiral. If rain is expected it will keep to the top of the glass and remain there until the weather is settled. If there is to be wind it will move up and down the glass with amazing swiftness and seldom go to rest until the weather begins to blow hard.

'If a remarkable storm of thunder and rain is on the way the leech will lodge almost out of the water over the rim of the glass and appear to be in violent throes of convulsive-like motions.'

The vagaries of winter weather make the leech go through the same antics as summer conditions cause and the article cautions that the glass should be covered with a piece of muslin. Seems like a sound idea because it would be so embarrassing to call the fire department and tell the smoke eaters that there was a leech loose in the house.

You may have to wait 'till spring to build your bloodsucker barometer for there is certainly no one who keeps tame leeches on hand. Nor do I know anyone willing to flounder around in the ol' swimmin' hole to catch a few for you.

Mr. Reynard Comes To Town

If you think the Kawarthas are denuded of wildlife you ought to pay a visit to the County Clerk's office some Thursday when Mrs. Jenny Spurway is doling out fox pelt bounties.

This week hunters from all over came up to her counter. The more energetic types literally wore capes of pelts, as many as 20, 25, in a bundle. In talking to some of the men I learned that Belmont Township steadily produces scores of skins.

"We haven't even made a dent in them down that way," said one man.

The story was the same from nearly all of them. Lots of cottontails and jacks to attract wintering foxes. But the market price was almost an insult to the seller. Harry Jopling could only offer from 25 to 50 cents a pelt. A fur auction man from Montreal told Harry this week that they could dump 250,000 red fox pelts on the market at any time. They have presented 10,000 pelts at recent sales and most of them were withdrawn. No buyers. Harry likes to think of the good old days in 1920-21 when red fox brought $40 a pelt and he made $8 profit. Even during the depression when beef hides brought one cent a pound fox were worth $3.50.

Mrs. Spurway paid out $3 each for 195 pelts offered on Thursday after receiving the dried snouts as bona fide evidence.

The river flows black and silent one hundred feet from our front door. The white bifches on Scout Island shimmer in the current and a long spur of ice stretches east in the flow. The open winter has made open water past the Narrows and far up into the lake and there are fewer feeding ducks about than usual. A pair of Hooded Mergansers are making a large feeding ground of it and they hunt far apart. The female seems to favour the mid-stream while the male bobs inshore at the edge of the ice at the marsh. Occasionally, with the aid of field glasses, you can see them coming to surface after a short dive with limp yellow frogs. They thrash these dormant tidbits in the water to wash off the mud and juggle them into their gullets head first. Flocks of six or eight redpolls flutter on to patches of brittle weeds and peck at the dried seeds with soft chut-chut-chut sounds. At night the sounds of canned music and the muffled roaring of cheering hockey fans ebb and flow from the rink across the river. Cars roar home after the games stabbing the dark with headlights and it is silent again.

The river and river folk are deep in the deep-freeze of February.

Queen's Regalia Not Old Crown Only 1660 Copy

By OLIVER WARNER

Author of "The Crown Jewells" and other works of art and literature.

When Her Majesty is crowned at Westminster Abbey on the 2nd of June, she will be invested with the formal emblems of her sovereignty. These are included within the great collection known as the Regalia or Crown Jewels and have played from very early times an essential part in the Coronation ceremony. Between Coronations, the Regalia are kept in the Tower of London, where a constant stream of visitors admire their glint and craftsmanship.

The greater part of the present English Regalia had its origin in the reign of Charles II. When this king came to his inheritance in 1660, after more than a decade of wandering, he found that the Government which had beheaded his father had disposed of the ancient Royal Ornaments.

As manners make laws, manners likewise repeal them.

—Dr. Johnson.

With the Scots it was otherwise, for the Honours of Scotland had been hidden during Oliver Cromwell's usurpation in a little church in Kincardineshire. They are today as much an attraction at Edinburgh Castle as is the more lavish though newer English Regalia at the Tower.

ANOINTING SPOON

The symbol most commonly associated with a king or a queen is the crown and the crowning is the culmination of the Abbey ceremony. But before she is crowned, the Queen will be anointed with holy oil by the chief dignitary of the Anglican Church, the Archbishop of Canterbury.

By fortunate chance the two oldest objects now in the English regalia are associated with this important proceeding. The first is the Ampulla, a golden vessel in the form of an eagle with outstretched wings, some 9 inches high. The neck unscrews and the balm and olive oil, of which the holy unguent is largely composed, is poured within. The Ampulla was remade for Charles II from an older vessel, and from the beak of the bird the oil is poured into the Anointing Spoon. This spoon is one of the most ancient objects in the Regalia. It is of gilded silver, set with pearls, and although, like the Ampulla, it was refurbished at the Restoration, it is thought that the handle dates from the 12th century.

The oldest crown is the Crown of the Realm. It was made under the direction of Sir Robert Vyner for Charles II. after the pattern of that worn in the 11th century by Edward the Confessor, whose great tomb is in the Abbey where all his successors have been crowned. More imposing, and worn not only at the Coronation but other ceremonies such as the opening of Parliament, is the Imperial State Crown. This was made in 1838 for Queen Victoria and it contains 2,783 diamonds, 277 pearls, 17 sapphires, 11 emeralds, and five rubies. One of the rubies was given to Edward, the Black Prince, in 1367, and was worn by Henry V. at the victory of Agincourt in 1415. Also in the Imperial State Crown is one of the Stars of Africa, cut from the Culinan Diamond in 1908, and a very fine sapphire which was long an heirloom of the Stuart Dynasty. There are also four large pearls which tradition says were once worn by the first Queen Elizabeth. When her young successor wears this crown she will be possessed of an ornament of incomparable splendor, and, rich in historical association.

The other Royal Ornaments include Sceptres, Orbs, Swords, Maces, Bracelets, Rings and Spurs. The principal sceptre, known as the Sceptre with the Cross, has near its head the largest cut diamond in the world. This is the Star of Africa, the largest gem cut from the Culinan. It weighs 516½ carats. This flawless jewel, of the purest water, is held by four gold clasps, which can be removed should the Sovereign wish to wear the stone as a pendant.

SYMBOLISM OF THE SWORDS

There are five principal Swords. First in magnificence is the Jewelled Sword of State, made for the coronation of George IV. in 1820. On the hilt is a splendid emerald and a mass of diamonds. The scabbard is adorned with the Rose of England, formed by a ruby set about with diamonds, with the Thistle of Scotland and the Shamrock of Ireland. The blade is of Damascus steel, This is the sword the Sovereign will hand to the Archbishop, during her Coronation, showing that it is at the service of the Church. Other swords are the two-handed Sword of State, the blunt-pointed Sword of Spiritual Justice, the sharp-pointed Sword of Temporal Justice, and the Curtana or Sword of Mercy. The blade of the Curtana is broken about six inches from the point, to symbolize Mercy.

Ancient and elaborate as is the Coronation ceremony, it is usual to make changes of detail, not only in the order and circumstance of the crowning, but even in the actual crowns! These are adapted by craftsmen to the needs of successive sovereigns. The Royal House has full regard for precedent, but is not rigidly bound by it. We have the word of the Queen herself that her life is dedicated to her people. Her Regalia symbolizes this dedication.

RUSTICATING

I read no newspapers, and hardly remember who is President; and feel as if I had no more concern with what other people trouble themselves about than if I dwelt in another planet.

—Nathaniel Hawthorne: Journal, Brook Farm.

FABULOUS FINDINGS

Abode of Gods

On the summit of Mount Olympus in Thessaly was the abode of the gods. A gate of clouds kept by goddesses named Seasons opened to allow passage of the Celestials to and from earth.

While each god had a separate dwelling—no doubt well enough appointed, even without modern plumbing—all, when summoned, headed for the palace of Jupiter. So did those deities whose usual abode was on the earth or in the waters, having certain appointed tasks to perform for the well-being of the universe.

In the great hall of the Olympian king the gods feasted each day on ambrosia and nectar, their food and drink. The latter was passed around by the lovely goddess Hebe.

It was here that affairs of heaven and earth were discussed and decided upon, with Jove having the final say. As they quaffed their nectar, Apollo, god of music, delighted the gathering with the tones of his lyre, to which the Muses sang in sweet strains. When the sun was set the gods retired to sleep in their own dwellings. Homer described Olympus in the Odyssey.

It was said that the Sun and Moon rose out of the Ocean on the eastern side of earth and drove through the air westward to give light to gods and men. The stars also, but for the Bear and others near him, rose out of and sank into the stream of Ocean. There the sun-god embarked in a winged boat, which conveyed him round by the northern part of the earth and back to his place of rising in the east again.

That would indeed seem but a short trip as our earth is reckoned today, but no doubt it required some 24 hours even in that ancient era.

Petes Turn Back Kingston In 6-4 Senior Struggle To Keep In Group Running

KINGSTON (Special)—Peterborough's desperate Petes repaid Goodyears in part for past affronts sustained on home ice when they vanquished the Wattsmen by 6 to 4 last night in the Community Memorial Centre and furnished evidence that they will make a bold bid for a playoff berth in the eastern section of the Ontario Hockey Association senior "B" group. The two points gained left the liftlockers only three behind Goodyears, but the locals have five more games to play and the Petes have only four.

Goodyear's troubles started early when goalkeeper Glynn Udall was injured during the attack that netted the Petes the opening counter at 5.35 in the first period. Udall was unable to continue and with Ken Johnson unavailable, Bob Senior of the Junior Vics donned the pads. Senior, however, was not responsible for the defeat. He proved his mettle beyond question of doubt while facing snipers who knew the answers.

REAL SPORTSMANSHIP

In permitting Senior to get into action, the visitors exhibited fine sportsmanship. Ken Johnson had been listed in the form as being the alternate goalkeeper and according to the code he alone was eligible to act in relief. Efforts to locate Johnson, however, failed and in that emergency the Petes ceded the point or granted the privilege.

So Senior got his baptism of Senior "B" fire and made a splendid impression but, unfortunately for the locals, the veteran Ray Harding reached dizzy heights in guarding the Peterborough twine and earned top rating for the night.

The fans, numbering 2,431, were treated to a fine display with the defeat of the locals providing the only dismal note.

MOST PENALTIES

Thirteen penalties were inflicted by the referees and no less than nine of them were allotted to the visitors. Wasson and Collins of the Petes each drew two minors, as did Ted Nicholson who served half of Goodyear's lowly total. In prevailing under such adverse circumstances, the visitors indicated that they are in their fastest stride and won't abandon playoff hopes until the last shot has been fired.

Peterborough's attacking power was so well distributed that no less than 11 players picked up goals or assists. Legrow, with two counters, set the pace, no other visitor getting more than one point in a tensely waged battle. George MacGregor, who matched Legrow's feat, and Ken Partis, who got a goal and an assist, were Goodyear standouts, as was Johnny Myke who had two assists.

Glynn Udall's return to the hockey wars was of very brief duration. He stopped the first shot that came his way but at 3.35 Collins, aided by Floyd and Mortimer, hit the webbing and Udall met with misfortune. Bob Senior took over the last and kept his citadel clear of rubber until Legrow tallied at the 15.42 mark, the while Deluca was serving a penalty.

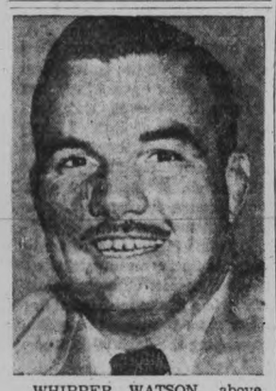
Mayer Gets Third Zero As Hornets Edge Reds

By THE CANADIAN PRESS



Goalie Gil Mayer came through with his third consecutive shutout and Pittsburgh Hornets notched their ninth straight victory as they beat Providence Reds 1-0 in an American Hockey League game Friday night.

The victory put the defending champion Hornets into undisputed possession of first place. They're two points ahead of the idle Cleveland Barons.

Hornets scored early in the third period as Andy Barbe broke loose and slipped the puck into the cage from 10 feet out.

The shutout was Mayer's fifth of the season.

PCVS Clubs Win Two Games Against Oshawa

PCVS Garnet and Greys are one game closer to the COSSA senior and junior championship tournaments today. Coach Bev Goulding's senior quintet romped to a convincing 80-50 victory over Oshawa CVI seniors while the Garnet and Grey juniors, coached by Zoltan Temesy, coasted to a 56-46 win over OCVI, ig games played in the Motor City Friday night.

Earlier this season the collegiate quintets scored overwhelming victories over both OCVI teams in Peterborough; the wins Friday night were expected. Now both teams need only wins against Oshawa Central next Friday night to enter the COSSA playdowns against Cobourg High. They're favored to waltz into the championship series with ease.

Actually OCVI seniors caused some concern in the PCVS ranks for the first half as they managed to stay fairly close, 19-12, at the first quarter and 36-24 at the half. But Dave Langhorne and Dan Griffin paced the Garnet and Grey to a strong third quarter lead, building the score up to 61-36, and they breezed in from there.

THE TWO STARS

It's been a long time since two PCVS players had as good a night as Dave Langhorne and Dan Griffin had Friday. Griffin, working from the pivot and on rebounds, scored 29 points. At the same time Langhorne worked jump shots and set shots for 28 points. Oshawa's best was Harris who relied upon breakaways for 17 points.

The short-handed PCVS juniors, who lost several players during the recent examinations, relied upon a strong third quarter also for their victory. They led 27-22 at half-time but broke loose for 21 points while holding Oshawa to three in the third.

Then the lack of manpower began to tell on the PCVS quintet. Their fast game gradually slowed down and petered out, allowing Oshawa to creep up slightly.

For PCVS, it was one of the cleanest games played in several seasons. Up to the three-quarter mark the Garnet and Grey had only one personal foul called against them. When they became tired in the fourth, they added three more, an unusually low number.

Doug Ash, with a variety of set shots and a hesitation jump shot, led the PCVS cagers with 19 points. Boorman, playing his best game, scored 10, mostly on rebounds, and also set up his teammates throughout.

Lineups:

Senior—PCVS (80)—Hempstead 4, Langhorne 28, Grafstein, Griffin 29, Cunningham 6, Allen 7, Corbett 6.

OCVI (50) — Sutherland 12, Parry, Harris 17, Gibbie 5, Carnwith 11, Pascoe, Kovac, Mallet 4, Abbott, Fisher.

Junior—PCVS (56)—Roberts 7, McKinney 8, Davis 9, Smyth 2, Boorman 10, Ash 19, Kingston 1.

OCVI (46)—Nicholls 8, Nichol 6, Welsh 10, Oldfield 18, B. Wilson 2, Burgess 2, Hewat, Hamilton, Knight, R. Wilson.

KITCHENER (CP)—An Oshawa rink skipped by Mrs. L. Wright Friday night entered the final of the main event in a two-day bonspiel here. She had three wins, one tie and a plus of 13 in four games.

The bonspiel is sponsored by women of the Kitchener-Waterloo Granite Club.

The Oshawa rink is to play either a rink skipped by Mrs. C. Gooch of Hamilton Vics or a team led by Mrs. M. McCandless of Sarnia.

These two teams, tied with three wins and one loss and a plus of 14 each, must play an extra end to decide which goes into the final with Mrs. Wright for the Kitchener Record Trophy.

Strode is a former footballer who played end for Calgary Stampeders when they won the Grey Cup in 1948. The officials got the bell away from Mills before anyone was hurt.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

Jack Gatecliff writes in the St. Kitts sheet: "The next feature production at Garden City Arena will be a lacrosse game on ice early in March. St. Catharines Athletics will play Brampton Excelsiors. The first game of this was played here four years ago and more than 2,500 fans voted it a resounding success. Final plans for the big evening have not yet been completed." Hm, that's a thought for Civic Arena here, eh? Some such exhibition of the gutted-stick game played by skating lacrossers might draw well. Wouldn't it be a good way to raise money for the Peterborough Minor Hockey Association, which drops $700 or more each season promoting play for the kids?

Results of various hoop games last e'en should be in elsewhere tonight. Peterborough cagers performed in Toronto, Oshawa and in gyms here for a hefty Friday night of basketball. Plasters And Garbage

You've heard of various names for forward lines in hockey, such as "Kid Line," "Pepper Line," "Kraut Line," etc. New York Rangers of the NHL call their new forward trio of Don Raleigh, Aldo Guidolin and George Senick, the "Plaster Line." On account of all three are using a lot of tape while nursing injuries lately. Incidentally, Rangers don't think much of Lynn Patrick's crack recently about "garbage goals" scored by the New Yorkers. Apparently, a garbage goal is a more or less messy one shovelled into the net in a goal-mouth scramble. Maybe these markers aren't too clean-cut, but they still count 'em on the scoreboard.

* * * * * *

Speaking of goals, figure filberts should remember in compiling averages that goals scored after removal of a goaltender from the game for extra scoring power do not count against the goalie's personal record. This has been made clear in the NHL and AHL, as these pro goaltenders' salaries often depend on their average at the end of a campaign. Quite a race on now between the Wings' and Canadiens' netters, with Sawchuk a bit ahead yet. In the AHL, Goalie Plante of Buffalo has the best average but has been in only 12 games, while Gil Mayer of Pittsburgh leads those in 40 or more loop fixtures. Henry of Hershey is fairly well down, but he's got some high scorers helping his cause, chaps like Red Sullivan and Lorne Ferguson. Next to Mayer is Bower of Cleveland, where Ike Hildebrand is well up in the sniping department.

Couldn't Quite Get It

Just a bit too little and a trifle too late—that's the story of Oddfellows taking the lemony side of an 8-6 junior "B" puck tilt here last gloaming. Spotted the Quinte loop leaders a two-goal lead in the first frame, and that proved the difference. Quite even after that, and Doug Mortimer's men had it tied up a couple of times in the keen third canto, but the Hawklets had enough puch left to take over the lead again in each case. It was a speedy and rather clean fray, and we thought the Kearns-Doris-Gardner line showed most hustle for our side. Red Robinson got rolling the last two heats and some of the other boys like Jerry Frizzelle, Clare Ferguson, Rock Wilson, Gord Coyle and Ken Floyd helped make it mighty close. They're off to Cobourg tonight.

The unpredictable Petes caused some red faces down Kingston way last night by grabbing a 6-4 decision over the cocky K's before a hefty gallery. Limestone Citizens were writing off the Ellis outfit for the past week or so, but must continue to cast anxious eyes up this way as the Petes are now but a game and a half back of Kingston and having a fair chance of overhauling them ere schedule's end. Goalie Udall was injured early in the first frame, and the K's wound up using a junior goalie (with the Petes' permission), but it wasn't his fault. The Petes were flying, the scoring being well spread around—Buck Legrow tallied two—and they received some great goal-tending from Ray Harding At that, the winners drew nine of the 13 penalties, so they had to be good when on the ice to snatch the verdict. Fine going. They left later for a weekend exhibition in Lake Placid.

Kenner Squads Take Tilts From The SPS

Kenner Collegiate boys gave the girls a free demonstration in how to win basketball games Friday night. The Kenner midgets, coached by Jack Cullis, whipped St. Peters' High midgets 52-41 and Gord Johnston's Kenner bantams edged the Saints 31-27, both games in OABA city league play.

Meanwhile, the girls' Collegiate juniors lost their second straight. Classed as a "B" school team, the Kenner lasses were no match for the strong Cobourg High girls, losing out 38-22.

St. Peters' midget star, Quinlan, roared away to a free-scoring first quarter, netting 12 points to allow the Saints to take a slim 17-15 lead. Only Kenner's Allan kept the south school in the game. Kenner blew out Quinlan's spark in the second quarter but couldn't overcome that slight lead and were still down 26-23 at the half.

Floyd, Hancock, Allan, Pearl and Lawrence began to hit the hoop in the second half and on the strength of their total of 13, Kenner took the lead 36-34 at three-quarter. Floyd paced the Kenner quintet in the last quarter as they again outscored the Saints, this time 16-7, for the lengthy lead.

CLOSE ENOUGH

Kenner bantams on baskets by Bob Johnston, Gary Darling and Don Doughty, eked out a 6-5 first quarter score, Seidel scoring all for the Saints. But that same Seidel kept sinking baskets in the second quarter and eventually gave the Saints the lead 15-14 at the half.

Seidel continued to lead the Saints in the third quarter as they held the lead 25-21 at three-quarters. But Johnston and Darling again hit their stride for Kenner, netting 10 points, more than enough for the win.

Cobourg High Junior girls had too much experience for the Kenner lasses who in most cases were only playing their second basketball game. But at the same time they have improved since their first game against PCVS.

Cobourg completely outplayed, outshot and outscored the Kenner quintette in the first half, running up a healthy lead. Kenner finally rallied, starting early in the second half, but too late to be effective. Lineups:

Girls' Junior — Cobourg High (38)—Craig, Finch, Bates, Manning, Baer, McGuire, Harrison, Bray, Jane McKenzie, Nora McKenzie.

Kenner CI (22)—M. Tudhope, Reynolds, Somers, Sucee, Tully, Guthrie, Jarvis, Harvey, Lombard, Sanderson, P. Tudhope, Post.

Midget—St. Peter's (41)—Legros 5, Quinlan 17, Crowley, Trudeau, Flynn 7, Loescher 4, Mackie 8, Twomey, Simmons 1, O'Keefe.

KCI (52)—Floyd 13, Hancock 10, Allan 12, Pearl 3, Ball 4, Howden, Burns, Linsey, Lawrence 10.

Bantam—St. Peter's (27)—Legros 6, Seidel 20, McNulty 1, Cuthbert, Paquette, Armor, Leggit, Byrnes, Collins.

KCI—(31)—Johnston 14, Darling 8, Doughy 2, Pollock, Walker 3, Boswell 1, Reid 2, Beaith 1, Wager, Warner, Covert.

Lift Suspension On Petes' Wing

TORONTO (CP)—Playing coach Eddie Bush of the Collingwood Ontario Hockey Association Intermediate A defending champions was suspended Friday night until Feb. 28 by the OHA executive.

Bush pleaded ignorance when he refused to play overtime against Elmira Polar Kings at the insistence of referee Jack Hogan. Bush said he understood that no overtime was to be played in the group in which his team was playing.

Player Doug Caverson and manager A. Bartolini of the Stamford Senior B team were suspended until Feb. 1, 1954, for an altercation which took place Feb. 1 at Port Colborne.

Caverson was tagged with a misconduct penalty. When he shoved referee Allan Jones of Dunnville he was given a match penalty. He then allegedly hit the referee and Bartolini called his team off the ice and refused to continue the game. Playing coach Hank Damore was exonerated of all blame.

Doug Hunter, right-winger for the Peterborough Senior B team had his five-game suspension lifted as of Friday night by the executive for his tussle with Alan Marshall of Orillia. The fight occurred during a game Jan. 23 in Peterborough.

Marshall suffered a broken jaw and lost several teeth when he was cross-checked by the Peterborough player after an exchange of words.

The executive also decided an unfinished Barrie-Toronto Marlboro Junior A game will not be played unless it affects the standing of teams other than Marlboros and Barrie.

Grove Seniors Win

Grove seniors edged King Edward 2-1 in a fine school hockey game at the arena. Casey and Patterson each had a goal and an assist for the winners, while Merrett, R. Wood and Simmons also went well for them. W. Rowe scored the losers' goal, as Waldie in goal and Walling showed up well. Teams:

King Edward: Waldie, Simmons, Kemp, Walling, Chittick, R. Rowe, W. Rowe, Beggs, Heard, Warner; Hope.

Grove: Davy, Merrett, R. Wood, Patterson, Casey, L. Wood, Copping, Simmons, Heard, Doughty.

Referee—J. Corbett.

Junior Puckists Lose One To Belleville Hawklets By 8-6 In Speedy Contest

Belleville Hawklets, top club in the six-club OHA junior "B" group totem pole, yanked out an 8-6 decision over the fourth-place local Oddfellows before some 500 fans here last night. The verdict lenghtened Belleville's lead and put the IOOF crew in the spot where they have to win at least two of their three remaining games in the schedule to make a playoff spot. Doug Mortimer's crew spotted the Quinte lads in a 2-0 lead in the first period and then played on even terms in the remaining two frames of a speedy, clean contest. It was 2-2 on scoring in the second stanza and 4-4 in the lively third, but that early two-goal deficit proved costly to the Triple Links. They go to Cobourg for a four-point game tonight, play in Belleville next Tuesday and end the schedule with another four-pointer here with Cobourg on Wednesday.

ONE MISCONDUCT

The visitors drew eight of the 13 penalties, but actually one was a misconduct which didn't cost the club a man. Jacklin got it in the third heat for arguing too strongly with Referee Doug Calhoun of Oshawa after drawing a minor for elbowing. The game generally was quite clean, though a few of the boys acted a trifle chippy at times. They played fast hockey, and there were many exciting spots in the struggle. Oddfellows tied it up a couple of times in the third as they showed their best form then, but each time the loop leaders had enough to pull in front again.

Oddfellows were minus Dick McCracken, away on work, but had Red Robinson back from the TVL wars, and after the first period he went well. They played good hockey the last half of the game, but were a step slower than their classy rivals in the earlier stages and weren't coming back as fast as they might. The Kearns-Doris-Gardner line proved a bit more productive than the others. The defence as a whole turned in a fair game. The Quinte crew proved hustlers all the way, and didn't make too many mistakes when in scoring position. They checked closely at top speed, and had good goaltending (lucky at times, also) from Bob Green.

PACES ATTACK

Henri Therrien paced their attack with three markers, while Ron Halstead and Dave Jones potted two each, Diug Hull being another effective player with a goal and two assists. Jones, George Jacklin, Pat Gilmour and Pete Green helped each on a goal.

Gary Kearns hit the mesh twice for the Links, single goals going to Red Robinson, Clare Ferguson, Jerry Frizzelle and Rock Wilson. In the assists department, Bob Gardner had a pair, with Ken Floyd, Gord Coyle, Robinson, Paul Doris and Frizzelle each having one. Teams:

Belleville: Goal, R. Green; defence, P. Green and Goyer; centre, Jones; wings, Therrien and Gilmour; alternates, Hermiston, Hull, Jacklin, Halstead, Stocco and Delbosko.

IOOF: Goal, Hobart; defence, Frizzelle and Wilson; centre, Twist; wings, Coyle and Ferguson; alternates, Robinson, McDougall, Floyd, Kearns, Doris, Gardner, Sullivan and Byrne.

Referee, D. Calhoun; linesman, B. Kingdon.

V. Selkirk Rink Lodges Protest In Que. Curling

By KEN STEWART

QUEBEC (CP)—E. W. Sprigg's Halifax Mayflower curlers copped top honors Friday night when they captured the Chateau International trophy with a 13-8 victory over Paul Ruel's Quebec Curling Club aggregation at the 40th Quebec international bonspiel.

The Halifax rink also leads in the Grand Aggregate event with seven wins against one loss and no games left to play. However, the winner of the Grand Aggregate award will not be decided until the end of the 'spiel later today.

Also winning honors in final-round play Friday night was A. F. Muth's Quebec Victoria foursome, grabbing off the Ometa International Trophy for the second year in a row. He defeated Dr. M. R. Stalker's Ormstown, Que., team 12-9.

BEAT GRANITE

Nazaire Lemelin skipped his Quebec Etchemin club to a 12-8 victory over D. P. J. Kelly's Toronto Granite quartet to win the Francois Jobin International Gold Cup. The trophy was held by Copper Cliff, Ont., skipped to victory last year by A. Canapini.

Nelson Findlay skipped his Toronto Royal Canadian Curling Club to victory over Adelard Lafrance's North Bay team 10-9, to carry home the Holt Renfrew International Trophy.

Lafrance won his semi-final match by defeating H. F. Jardine, Woodstock, N.B. 15-9.

Findlay's rink was winner last year of the Grand Aggregate award and the Cite de Quebec International Cup.

As the 'spiel rolled into the final day of competition, Quebec Curling Club, skipped by Joseph Lemieux, defeated Ed Robertson's Ottawa Curling Club 13-6 to advance into the semi-finals of the Royal Bank Centenary Trophy.

In quarter-final play for the Quebec Citadel trophy, R. Brodrique's Quebec Jacques Cartier rink was awarded victory against V. A. Selkirk's Peterborough aggregation, 10-0, after the Peterborough club protested to officials when they lost. Selkirk's club played the game with two spares.

The rules state that a team cannot play with more than one substitute and the draw committee chairman gave the decision to Brodrique's team.

OxfordNipsCambridge 5-3 In Hockey Annual

LONDON (CP)—Oxford University's hockey team, studded with Canadian Rhodes scholars, downed Cambridge 5-3 Friday night in their annual ice battle. The Cambridge team was comprised largely of players born and educated in Toronto.

Oxford now has won 19 of the traditional games, Cambridge 11.

Hugh Ian Macdonald, University of Toronto Rhodes scholar, paced Oxford with three goals. Others went to team captain Alex Mackintyre of Lucknow, Ont., of the U. of T., and John Roundtree, one of six Britons on the team.

Star for Cambridge was Harry Boyd of Toronto, a U. of T. graduate, who scored two goals. A. C. Wells of Toronto scored the other Cambridge counter.

Brantford Whips Stratford 11-6, Maroons Get Win

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

It's been a frustrating season for Stratford Indians. To maintain their second-place berth in the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A series, they've had to do some heavy pulling and in their efforts they've suffered many humiliations.

Friday night was an example. The fourth-place Brantford Redmen thrashed them 11-6, their second blow in as many games. Wednesday night they were whipped by Hamilton Tigers who have won only two games all season, both against the Indians.

With only five games remaining in the schedule, they have to overcome a five-point lead held by Owen Sound Mercuries to win the league championship.

CHATHAM WINS

Two other games Friday night failed to change the league standings. Chatham Maroons, in fifth place, had to go all the way to down Hamilton 5-4. The third-place Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen defeated Sarnia Sailors, now in sixth spot, 5-2.

Sudbury Wolves were presented with the McNamara Memorial Trophy, emblematic of the league championship in the Northern Ontario Senior A southern group after defeating Sault Ste. Marie (Ont.) Greyhounds 10-2.

Gordie Heale and Nick Tomiuk set a league record by scoring seven points each for the Wolves. Heale got three goals and four assists and Tomiuk two goals and five assists. Roly McLenahan scored a pair and the others went to Andy Milne, Durno Rondina and Tatter McClellan. Ronnie Lay scored both Greyhound goals.

In Brantford the Redmen opened with a strong attack that netted seven goals in the first period. Sam Kennedy paced the Redmen with four goals. McKay added three and Bill Shill two. Jack Taylor and Don Oberholtzer scored the others.

13,800 Montrealers See Sedgman Victor

MONTREAL (CP)—One of the largest crowds in North American professional tennis history—13,800—jammed Montreal Forum Friday night to see Frank Sedgman, Australian ace, defeat Jack Kramer 6-3, 6-4.

It was the 13th victory for Sedgman over Kramer in their current professional tour. Kramer has won 10 times.

In the curtain raiser, Pancho Segura downed Australia's Ken McGregor 7-5, 7-5.

Dickie Moore May Be Key To Habs' Hopes For Title

By ED SIMON, Canadian Press Staff Writer

A stocky youngster who hasn't played in a National Hockey League game all season may be the key to Montreal's hopes for a league title. Dickie Moore, a left-winger who has been old enough to vote for barely a month, hasn't worn a Canadien sweater since he suffered a knee injury during one of the last games of last year's regular schedule. But before he was hurt, he set the NHL afire.

Moving up from Montreal Royals of the Quebec Senior Hockey League just after the new year, he sank 18 goals and tallied 33 points in 33 games.

Only one other NHL player scored at a point-a-game clip last season—Gordie Howe of Detroit Red Wings. The Wings are dogging the Habs these days. Only a single point behind them, the Canadiens need someone to back up Maurice Richard's one-man assault on rival NHL goalkeepers.

Moore may supply that backing when he steps onto the ice Sunday night against New York Rangers and tries to pick up where he left off last spring. But tonight the Canadiens face the Wings without him.

BOOM-BOOM OUT

Loss of Bernie Geoffrion, last season's NHL rookie award winner who suffered a shoulder injury last Wednesday, makes Moore's return the more welcome—if the trick knee holds out.

First indications are promising. In five warm-up games with Buffalo Bisons of the American Hockey League, Dickie got a goal and three assists for a last-place club.

Following their first-place battle Saturday, the Wings and Canadiens tackle smaller fry. Canadiens visit the tail-end Rangers at Madison Square Garden while the Wings travel to Boston for a date with the Bruins, currently in a fourth-place tie with Chicago.

The fading Black Hawks, winless in their last five starts, engage in a home-and-home series with Toronto's third-place Maple Leafs, but some familiar faces will be missing from the Chicago line-up.

ABEL BENCHES 3

Coach Sid Abel has benched defenceman Lee Fogolin and forwards George Gee and Fred Hucul for the Toronto game, filling their spots with two lend-lease amateurs and a recruit from the western hockey league.

In Fogolin's blueline spot will be Jack Price, borrowed from Chatham Maroons of the Ontario Hockey Association senior loop; Jim McBurney, a high-scoring winger with Galt Black Hawks of the OHA's Junior A division, and Sid Finney, recently acquired from Calgary Stampeders, are the two new forwards.

The Leafs, a bare two points in front of Chicago, still are short three regular centres: Ted Kennedy, Max Bentley and Rudy Migay: Danny Lewicki, recently recalled from Pittsburgh Hornets of the AHL, will fill in.

Dail Debates Tulyar After Labor Charge

DUBLIN (CP)—A government crisis has developed over the £250,000 paid out by the government-sponsored Irish national stud to the Aga Khan for his champion racer Tulyar.

Tulyar won seven straight races in 1952 including all the British flat-racing classics.

Labor deputy Sean Junne laid down these questions for Premier Eamon de Valera to answer in the Dail (Parliament) next week:

"If he is aware that £250,000 in public money is being spent by the government in the purchase of a horse and if, further, in view of (a) the unemployment crisis; (b) the mounting cost of living, and (c) the already heavy burden on the taxpayers he will take immediate steps to prevent this expenditure.

Golf Officials Approve Ban On Girls' Shorts

By JIM BASTABLE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Canadian golf officials approve the United States ban on tournament-playing girls wearing shorts on the course. Even below-the-knee pedal pushers are frowned upon in this country.

"Let's concentrate on the game and forget the fancy stuff," says Ada Mackenzie of Toronto, Canada's 62-year-old first lady of the links who retired four years ago.

"Shorts are fine at a summer resort course, or something like that," Miss Mackenzie says. "In a tournament? No!"

Canadian officials agree that the ban, announced last Saturday by the United States Golf Association, is good for the game. "It's more dignified that way," they said.

UNWRITTEN LAW

It's sort of an unwritten law in Canada that the "proper" attire for the course is a skirt. And Mrs. Campbell McKenzie of Toronto, chairman of the administration committee chairman of the Canadian Ladies Golf Union says:

"There is no official ban on women wearing shorts in club tournaments, but I would say 95 per cent of the private clubs throughout Canada refuse to allow them."

In Canada, the pedal pushers—they look like a pair of slacks snipped off a few inches below the knees—aren't taboo but officials say they "don't want to encourage them."

PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER

VOL. CV, No. 32 — SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1953

Main Street Topics

SHORT STARTS FIRE

City firemen used a handpump to extinguish a car fire Friday night at Charlotte and George Sts. A short circuit in the engine of a 1937-model car, owned by Thomas Braithwaite, of Cavan, started the small fire. Damage was light.

78TH BIRTHDAY

Robert S. Wright, 429 Albert St., attained his 78th birthday on Thursday, and some of his friends called to see him. Mr. Wright is beginning his 79th year not quite so well and active as he was in February of 1952.

NASSAU VISITOR

While driving to work today in Peterborough some Lakefield people spied a large red fox loping across Highway 28 just above the Nassau corner. It may have decided to make an early-morning reconnaissance of the Lockington chicken hatchery but the oncoming car sent it streaking through the hardwood ridge instead.

IOOF PRIZE WINNERS

Draw prize winners at the IOOF meeting Friday night were Mrs. Roy Brown of 192 Rubidge St., an electric iron; and Joseph Emery of 368 Water St., a swing-away can opener. About 200 members of the Peterborough and Otonabee IOOF lodges were present at the new IOOF Hall, 368-370 Water St., at the official opening.

HIGHEST AWARD

Miss Audrey Hustwitt, physical education teacher at PCVS, was one of two awarded the Royal Life Saving Society's highest award, a diploma. The award was announced Friday night in Toronto. Miss Hustwitt was judged on both her ability in the water and on a written theory examination. Her swimming was judged in Peterborough by Mrs. Pansy Forbes and Gordon Minty.

THE BLIND ARE NOT HELPLESS and that's what they want to impress upon people during the next week, White Cane Week. Peterborough's sightless are carrying on their daily work and social activities despite their handicap. Earl Schwanz (top left) assembles and drills in several jobs he does at the CGE while Frank Simmons (lower right) earns a weekly wage as before at the Outboard Marine and Manufacturing Company. Others at home augment other incomes with sale of handicraft work such as knitting, leathercraft and chair caning. Bicyclist Killed In Crash Between Two Cars; Body Found On Lawn Later

Neither Driver Knew Cobourg Butcher Involved In Accident; Killed Instantly When Skull Fractured

COBOURG (ENS)—The body of a bicycling Cobourg butcher whom no one knew was involved in a collision between two cars, was found lying on a nearby lawn some time after the accident about 6 p.m. Friday. Andy Kerr, 43-year-old butcher, riding on his bicycle, was apparently struck and hurled 25 feet. Just how he was struck is still just guesswork. Both drivers of the cars involved said they didn't see Kerr and didn't know anyone else was in the crash.

An investigating constable found Kerr on a lawn. He had been killed instantly when his skull was fractured.

The two cars collided near the centre of the intersection of College and Chapel Streets. Vernal Linton 30, Cobourg, was driving west on Chapel Street. The second car driven by Bernard Traini 35, with a passenger Roy Sheaff 43, both of Cobourg, was proceeding north on College Street.

After the first impact, the Linton car struck a telephone pole at the west end of the intersection.

Constable Homer Seale, investigating what appeared to be a routine accident, was returning from telephoning for a tow truck when he found Kerr's body lying on a lawn on the north side of Chapel Street, 25 feet north of the curb. Blood was found on Linton's windshield. Some groceries were found strewn around the ground.

Coroner J. M. Fleming was called and he said there would be an inquest.

The accident was investigated by Chief H. Pearse and Constable Seale. Kerr, a native of Cobourg, is survived by his widow and two children.

Uranium Type Ore Discovered At Paudash Lake

Garageman Garnet Burns of Downers Corners went mineral searching last July 1 in the Paudash Lake country for an old mica property he had heard of. Instead of finding it, he stumbled across some uranium-like ore at Centre Creek, fives miles west of McKenzie's store at the north end of Paudash Lake.

He got his friend Bob Steele of 508 Patterson Ave., to go back with him with his geiger counter and it was not long until they got so many "kicks" that they decided to stake five claims, or 250 acres, on the most likely area.

Toronto prospector A. L. Kemp staked adjoining ground in early October and together with other groups a total of 2,500 acres have been blanketed. The original Burns-Steel stakers sold their first stakings and optioned 200 more acres which they are holding.

CONSIDERABLE TONNAGE

Several months ago a working crew under field engineer C. C. Huston started to trench and sample several surface ore indications. Engineers think that their work may have revealed a considerable tonnage of ore grading to 0.1 per cent uranium oxide. Grade samples from surface work have been consistent, they say, over an average width of ten feet. Values have been based on chemical assays in test laboratories rather than from geiger counter readings. Company officials are hoping for a general grading of ore that will be valued at approximately $19 per ton. The mineral is said to be uraninite.

A company called the Centre Lake Uranium Mines Limited has been formed to look after future development work.

The property where present activity is taking place consists of two groups, the Burns group and the Hogan-Kemp group, with most of the work to date carried on at the former.

One thousand feet of trenching will soon be completed and this week four 100-pound samples were cut and taken to a laboratory for the purpose of proving that the ore is uraninite and for a mill test to determine what recovery can be expected. Diamond drilling will be carried out as soon as the trenching is completed to determine the vertical depth of the ore.

Financial Report For '52 Expected To Show Surplus

Peterborough's financial statement for 1952 will be in the hands of the members of the finance committee of the council Monday night, Ald. T. D. Miller, chairman, said this morning. Actually, copies of this review of the municipal getting and spending have been mailed to the members of the committee. The intimations since the first of the year at the City Hall have been expecting a balance on the credit side, with the only uncertainty in the amount.

One windfall during 1952 was reported through the Governors of Civic Hospital in the fairly substantial grant in excess of board estimates.

Meanwhile, council has all the taxing facts before it except requisitions from some of the main spending bodies.

Total assessment this year is $42,213,901, that is for general purposes and secondary schools, as compared with $39,889,938 last year.

The 1953 mill in the tax rate is, therefore, equivalent to $42,213 in the appropriations as against $39,889 last year. Incidentally, the total assessment is $47,189,791, which includes the exemptions from taxes other than for the cost of collecting and disposal of garbage.

SUMMARY

A recent summary to the council by City Clerk Outram, includes this information: "Not included in the above are assessments on Peterborough Utilities Commission and Hydro Electric Power Commission properties since these properties are shown as exempt in the assessment roll. However, a payment in lieu of taxes, is received on the following assessments.

"Peterborough Utilities Commission $261,795, and Hydro Electric Commission $17,565, amounting to $279,360, both assessed for Public School purposes.

The city also receives from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation payments in lieu of taxes $12,580.04 credited to Public School supporters and $3,444.96 to Separate School supporters. The total is $16,025."

Distribution of that sum, received in lieu of taxes is as follows: Current: Collegiate Institute $1,271.25; Public Schools $2,-739.43; Separate Schools $932.32; and City General account $10,-507.96.

Allocated for debentures are: Collegiate $262.69 and Public Schools $310.85.

SUGGESTION AWARDS

Awards totalling $527 were paid for employee suggestions at the CGE during January. The largest amount, $147 went to Bill Kent. The other award winners were: Grant Patterson and Bill Maynard, $81; Gord Pond, $63; Art Lefebvre and Gerry Hickey, $29; George Baird, $25; Art Westaway, $30; Gordon Riel, $19; L. R. Marshall, $17.

Three Bridges To Be Replaced On Highway 28

Ontario Department of Highways announced today that tenders would be called for the building of three bridges in Peterborough County. They are:

Young's Point, Burleigh Falls, and the Park bridge over Eel's Creek.

Hon. Harold R. Scott said today that the Young's Point bridge had been for years recognized as requiring replacement, and the Burleigh Falls bridge had reached a condition of doubtful safety necessitating routing of heavy machinery by way of Buckhorn.

The Eel's Creek bridge at the park will provide particularly the advantage of increased width.

The other Eel's Creek bridge at Haultain is now under construction.

"We expect that the Department will call for tenders almost immediately," Mr. Scott said this morning. "The new construction is planned for this year."

Junior Choristers To Lead Services

Something new in the history of Peterborough churches is being tried out on Sunday night between St. Paul's Presbyterian and St. Andrew's United. The Junior Choral Group and Boys' Choir of St. Paul's will lead in the service of song at St. Andrew's Church while the St. Andrew's Junior and service at St. Paul's. Rev. C. G. Boyd will preach in St. Andrew's and Christopher Gledhill will preside at the organ with Mrs. G. Wilson Craw directing the Junior Choral Group. At St. Paul's the Rev. Henry Cotton will preach, Harry Northrop will preside at the organ and Mrs. John A. McColl will direct the choirs.

Bishop Astride Alaska Highway

From vicar in an English village to bishop of the Alaska Highway is the career of the Rt. Rev. Tom Greenwood, a visitor to Peterborough this weekend. Actually, he is Bishop of the Yukon and lives at Whitehorse.

One of the youngest bishops of the Church of England in Canada, Bishop Greenwood reached Whitehorse by a colorful route. Born in Yorkshire, he took theological training in England, became a captain in the Church Army, served in the Arctic, in the U.S Middle West, in an English parish during the war, and later in the District of Mackenzie. Between times he graduated from Trinity College, Toronto, and married an American doctor who had studied at McGill.

Incidentally, Tom is not his nickname, an abbreviation for Thomas. His full and only Christian name is Tom.

Bishop Greenwood is staying with Canon and Mrs. W. J. Gilling at St. Luke's rectory. He is preaching at St. Luke's Sunday morning service and after evensong will show colored pictures relating to his work in the northwest and to his bishopric which is astride the Alaska Highway.

News From Studebaker

When interviewing Mr. McWilliams, our local Studebaker dealer on the Chemong Road, he regretfully reported that a showing of new Studebaker cars may be delayed for some time.

Difficulties in the parents plant at South Bend, from which some of the component parts for Hamilton production come, have upset the Canadian plans for simultaneous nation-wide showings early in February. It could well be the end of the month before full production will be reached, to enable a complete showing of all models.

For those who will be in the Toronto area, or anxious enough to make a trip to Toronto, the complete line of Studebakers, as well as their competitors, will be on display in the automotive building at the C.N.E. grounds. This National Motor Show starts on February 13.

Mr. McWilliams anticipates he will derive a big boost from this show and expects to take orders as a result of it, to cover his March deliveries. He has promised, full line or not, he will not delay his showing beyond March second.

Blind In District Work Lead Full Social Lives Want Only Understanding

Loss of eyesight nowadays doesn't necessarily mean a life of monotony. Modern teaching has helped the sightless rely more upon their other senses with the result that they can carry on their life work and enjoy social activities almost as much as in the past. That's how Peterborough district's 88 registered blind have found life since losing their eyesight.

During the next week these people are holding White Cane Week in Peterborough in conjunction with the Canadian National Council of the Blind and the Canadian National Insitute for the Blind program across Canada.

They plan a full week of educating the Canadian people in the co-operative success of the blind and in development of better understanding of their problems.

The blind people of Peterborough and district are typical of those across our Dominion. They have gone through a period of fear while losing their eyesight, have overcome that fear, and are fighting to overcome their handicap.

MAKING PROGRESS

It's nonsense to say that Peterborough's sightless have fully mastered their handicap, but they are making progress which is heartening.

For instance, five blind people are working in Peterborough industries. Although they aren't doing highly-skilled work, they are doing work which has to be done and have filled those jobs. Men such as Frank Simmons and Earl Schwanz are holding positions in factories such as the Outboard Marine and Manufacturing Company and the CGE.

For those who are unable to work and find life becoming monotonous, the field secretary, W. T. Simmons, and the home secretaries teach handicrafts. The blind are then able to augment their incomes from sale of their work and also fill in would-be idle hours.

In most cases the blind people rely upon one handicraft, although several such as chair caning, basketry, leathercraft and knitting are taught.

Mr. Simmons, who has only six per cent sight, helps the blind to enjoy life better by teaching them Braille. This enables them to read, write and type, opens up several fields for enjoyment.

Social activities are not curtailed by blindness. They enjoy many of the same parties and teas despite their handicap and in addition they have monthly get-togethers, sponsored by the Louis Braille Society, at Dixon House. Then they hear Peterborough musicians and other entertainers as well chatting with one another over a cup of coffee and sandwiches.

A few have even taken up bowling which is rapidly becoming a favorite pastime among the country's sightless. They spill the pins weekly at the Knights of Columbus alleys and their averages compare favorably with many bowlers who have sight. This week scores from 162 to well over the 200-mark were scored.

The most important problem caused by blindness is getting from one place to another. That's where the White Cane comes in and that's where those with sight can help.

ASK FOR HELP

The blind people need all the confidence they can get in moving about and that White Cane is a sign that the person carrying it is blind and might need assistance crossing a street and going through buildings. A little help here and there builds that confidence.

The White Cane Week's 1953 slogan is, "I Would Help You". It reminds the blind that they must not always be the recipients of kindness and at the same time expresses appreciation to the public for past courtesies and consideration.

Little Ice Cut Cold Needed

This winter so far has not produced ice-making weather. Don Whetung of Crowe's Landing, Stony Lake, has been at it since Monday, a short way from the government dock.

He says that it is about 12 inches thick and "not too good." Mr. Whetung may move over into the islands to cut if the general lake ice is heavy enough to transport the equipment.

There has been no cutting yet at Clear lake by Joe Parberry of Lakefield, nor at Chemong lake where ice is not as thick as Stony's.

Operators say that if the February temperatures take a dip and stay there for a week or ten days, it will make sufficient ice. It all depends on the weather whether there will be good ice in the near future.

Hydro Increase 47c Monthly Effective March 1

Hydro increases for Peterborough this year will cost the average householder about 47 cents more a month. That's the estimate made by Utilities Commission from figures given them by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission.

The increase takes effect on March 1.

Minimum bills (83 cents a month gross) and discounts (10 per cent) for prompt payment remain the same. No increase in the flat rate for electric water heaters is planned at the present time.

Last increase in hydro rates was in March, 1950, and a large fraction of that increase was related to the boom in hydro installation construction that followed the Second World War.

CAUSE OF INCREASE

Cause of the present increase is almost entirely the increase in the use of steam plants to produce power. Electric power produced in this way is a good deal more expensive than that produced by water power.

A part of it, too, is brought about by expenditures made by the commission to keep pace with the growing load on the city's system.

Further expansion of the commission's services are expected this year in connection with the annexation of 1,256 acres in Smith Township.

The commission estimates that the average domestic consumer burns 200 kilowatts of electricity monthly. Cost of this at 1952 rates was $2.57 net, at 1953 rates it will be $3.04.

COMMERCIAL RATE

Commercial rates for stores and offices will show an average increase of $1.26 monthly. Average commercial consumer burns 800 kilowatt hours monthly at a cost of $14.94 under the new rates.

Increase in cost of power to the commission from the HEPC has been from $32.80 to $35.50 per kilowatt year. This will cost the commission an estimated $63,800 in addition to regular costs.

Outnumbered Sabres Shoot Down Two MiGs

SEOUL (AP) — Allied Sabrejet pilots, outnumbered 14 to 1, shot down two Red MiGs today in far northwest Korea, the 5th air force said.

Allied fighter - bombers roared over North Korea and pounded frontline positions, a rail line and supply concentrations.

The air force said that during the last week its pilots shot down two MiGs, probably destroyed one and damaged three.

Three Allied planes were lost. On the ground, three Allied patrols clashed with Red units as large as 75 men in fierce no-man's-land skirmishes lasting up to an hour. One fight was near the Mundung valley on the eastern front, another was northeast of the Punch Bowl on the eastern front, and the third was on the western front north of the Hook. The patrols reported killing 45 Reds.

Cars Collide As One Turns Into Laneway

Approximately $200 damage was done to a car driven by K. Crampton, 25, 141 Rubidge St., when it was in collision with a car driven by R. T. Bogle, 36, 452 Hunter St., on Park St. near Hunter St., shortly before midnight Thursday. The Bogle vehicle was about to make a left hand turn into a private driveway when the accident occurred. Damage to the Bogle car was estimated at $35.

Lakefield Chief Charged After Accident

Chief Constable Leslie Foster, 53, of Lakefield pleaded not guilty to charges of drunk driving and careless driving today. Hearing of the charges was adjourned to Tuesday, February 10.

Foster was placed under arrest early this morning by OPP Constables James Healey and Harold Armstrong when his 1937-model car was discovered in the ditch on Highway 28, about four-fifths of a mile north of Peterborough, opposite the filtration plant, at about one a.m.

TRANSPORTING PRISONER

Foster told police that he was bringing a prisoner to Peterborough county jail when his car left the highway. The car travelled for a distance of 200 feet along the ditch before passing over a culvert beneath a side-road and then continued for another 150 feet before it came to a dead stop, standing upright. It sideswiped a hydro pole and snapped off mail boxes belonging to Thomas Miller and Ira Dundas in its course along the ditch.

Damage estimated at between $800 and $1,000 dollars was done to the car and Chief Constable Foster suffered lacerations to the nose and lip, requiring medical treatment.

Used Match To Inspect Anti-Freeze, Explodes

ROSENEATH (ENS) — Willis Smoke, a 30-year-old resident of the Alderville Reserve, suffered severe facial burns last night when he lit a match to see how high the anti-freeze was in the radiator of his car. The lighted match ignited the anti-freeze and it exploded in Smoke's face, narrowly missing his eyes. He was rushed to the office of Dr. George H. Field, Roseneath, who dressed the burns.

Flyers' Win Ties Junior Dukes For First Place

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Two weeks ago followers of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series would have given Toronto Marlboros the league championship. But that was two weeks ago.

Friday night the Marlies were forced to share their first-place berth with their rivals, Barrie Flyers, and for the next three weeks there should be a bit of shoving around going on before the winner is declared.

Both teams have nine scheduled games left. Should they still be deadlocked they have an unfinished game, played earlier this season, which they can complete for the final decision.

The Flyers moved into the first-place tie Friday night by defeating the third-place Toronto St. Michael's 6-2.

In other action, the fourth-place St. Catharines Teepees further dimmed Guelph Biltmores' hopes of snatching a playoff berth by downing last year's Memorial Cup champions 5-2. Galt Black Hawks, now fifth, trounced the last-place Kitchener - Waterloo Greenshirts 5-3.

NONE IN QUEBEC

There was no action in the Quebec loop.

It was Barrie's fourth win in five starts and the Flyers never looked better. Tony Poeta and Orv. Tessier each scored a pair of goals and Fred Pletsch and Ralph Willis notched the others.

St. Mikes' goals went to Jim Logan and Jack Caffery.

The second period was a disastrous one for Guelph's defensive line. It crumbled under the strong Teepee attack and allowed three scorers to slip through. Chuck Marshall, Eddy Metaka, Danny Poliziani, Hank Ciesla and Willy Haas were the Teeps' marksmen. Chuck Henderson scored both Guelph's goals.

The Greenshirts tried desperately in the final period at least to tie the Black Hawks but Ken Wharram's goal into an open net in the last minute of play was too much for them. Hillary Menard scored twice and Frank Bonello and John Muckler nabbed the others. Kitchener's goals went to Kent Collins, Ivan Tennant and Greig Hicks.

Gaels Snap Loss Streak To Edge McMaster U

KINGSTON (CP)—Queen's Golden Gael's snapped a two-game losing streak with a 71-70 basketball win over McMaster University Friday night.

It was the second time this year that the Gaels and captain Don Griffin had downed the Marauders on a last-second play and came despite a score of 34 points amassed by Lorne Wrigglesworth of the Hamilton team.

Jewels Returned

NEW YORK (AP) — Jewelry worth $18,000 has been returned to Brenda Frazier Kelly whose Park Avenue apartment was robbed last September. Police Friday said they are looking for a woman who told a jeweler the gems were family heirlooms. The jeweler purchased the valuables, then learned they were stolen and turned them over to police.

SLIDE? HOW FAR?

The farther out you slide in delivering a rock, the greater you run the risk of drifting off the line of delivery. Let me recall again the imaginary line from the top of the backswing to the broom at the other end of the ice, at which you are aiming. A slider goes anywhere from 5 feet to 40 feet along this imaginary line before the releases the handle of the stone. Doesn't it seem reasonable then, that the farther you slide the more danger there is of getting off the line? And every time you get off the line you will have broom trouble. It matters not how far you slide AFTER you release the handle, because you can do no harm to the path the rock has taken but you can do a lot of damage to a good backswing between the time the stone hits the ice on the forward swing and the time you release the handle.

It is during this period that two things can happen to get your stone off line:

(1) In sliding, your body may drift to the right, and because you have a hold on the handle, the stone is pulled off line too.

(2) In releasing the handle, if you give it a twist or push you may alter the direction of the stone.

The simplest solution to avoid all these diseases is to swing the stone at the broom, release the handle in the same motion, then follow through with a slide after the rock is on its way.

A long slider is in for a lot of trouble unless he has exceptional balance and good rudder control with his right foot to keep his body directly in line behind his stone during the entire course of delivery. In my own case, my rock in delivery usually touches the ice just behind the 12-foot ring, and the handle is released, depending on the ice surface, between the tee-line and the front ring.

Actor Fined $25

BANNING, Calif. (AP) — Actor-director Elliott Nugent starred in a stormy barroom scene, police said. It cost him a $25 fine on a drunk charge Friday. Officers said a waitress complained that Nugent shouted "vile and profane language" and smashed a glass against a barroom wall. They reported they advised him to leave town but later found him drinking whisky from a bottle in another bar.

Manitoba Bonspiel Wide-Open Affair

WINNIPEG (CP) — The race for grand aggregate honors in Manitoba's 65th annual bonspiel has developed into a wide-open affair.

Going into today's play, Bob Dunbar of St. Paul, Minn., and George Weldon of Winnipeg Granite were setting the pace with eight wins and one loss apiece.

In close contention with seven wins and one loss were J. VanderKerchkhove, Stony Mountain; Mac Scales and Cliff Hudson, Winnipeg Strathcona; Jack Burgess, Minnedosa; and Denny Turner, Winipeg RCAF.

Lindsay Makes Sure As Oshawa Defeated

LINDSAY (ENS)—Lindsay Juniors assured themselves of a playoff berth last night with a 4-2 win over Oshawa Buzzers at the Lindsay arena.

Gibson scored the first goal for the local team when his shot glanced in off Goalie Howe's stick. The Buzzers killed off four minors, to Lindsay's two, in the opening frame, the goal coming when the teams were at full strength.

Ron Myles tied the score for the Buzzers midway in the second period when he went right in on Reg Truax. Truax claimed that the puck had been kicked into the net. Three minutes later, with Al Myles sitting out a cross-checking sentence, Packer sent Lindsay into the lead again and before the period ended, Chidley sank Ron Teel's pass-out to give the winners their winning goal.

STRETCHED LEAD

In the third Graham stretched the Lindsay lead midway through the frame when he fought the puck from the boards and scored on a screened shot from 20 feet out. The Buzzers came back when O'Neil was sentenced for holding and Ron Myles was credited with a goal, a long shot from David at the blue line that several players touched before it reached the net.

The game was fairly clean, for this league with only 12 penalties handed out by Referee Herb Payne of Peterborough, seven to the visitors and five to Lindsay.

Graham, Packer, Reg Truax and Bill Williams played a strong game for the winners with McGill, Ron Teel and Art Truax also effective. For the flying Buzzers, playing three men short, sub goalie Howe, Bonham, Al Myles and Ron Myles were best. The four point win gave Lindsay a total of 30, with Oshawa having a maximum of 29 possible, assured the local lads of at least fourth spot in the final standing.

Volcanic Island Said Rising Near Japan

TOKYO (Reuters)—Another volcanic island is reported rising out of the sea near the recently formed Myojin reefs, about 200 miles south of Tokyo.

In the eruption which threw up reefs last September, a Japanese scientific research ship was lost with 31 aboard.

The fishing vessel Seiju Maru II reported hearing explosions Friday morning and seeing smoke rising about 600 feet, over a radius of 300 feet.

V. Anthony Leads

V. Anthony rolled high single of 344 and top three of 893 this week in the men's City Bowling League. Sunocos led teams with 3,550 and a high single of 1,254. Six points went to Sunocos, Payne's, McGillis and Madill & Post over Shockey's, IUE-CIO, Empress and Clapper's as Monumental won 4-2 from Royal York.

Goo dsingles were: W. Stanbury 286, J. Watson 289, H. Mowry 315, and J. Hanes 292. Neat triples included: A. Basciano 702, J. Hanes 775, J. Playford 756, B. McCarrell 728, H. Mowry 724, W. Boon 706, A. Mattucci 742, M. Anthony 708, J. Murray 708, W. Stanbury 753 and W. Crary 704.

Handlers Charge Dirty Fighting

CHICAGO (AP)—Both welterweight champion Kid Gavilan and challenger Chuck Davey were depicted as dirty fighters in a debate between their handlers which spiced an official briefing Friday for their title fight next Wednesday night.

The exchange of uncomplimentary remarks occurred after the Illinois state athletic commission was told by its examining physicians that Gavilan and Davey were in excellent physical shape.

Angel Lopez, Gavilan's manager, asked the commission to see that Davey refrains from open-hand slapping and back-handing.

"We went a clean fight, but if Davey is dirty, we'll give him dirty right back," said Lopez.

Issy Kline, Davey's trainer, countered with a charge that Gavilan must be watched for grabbing an opponent by the neck with his left hand and hitting him with his right.

Kline also said it would be well if the bout officials take into consideration that a round lasts three minutes and Gavilan is accustomed to fight in "little flurries" to catch the eye of fan and judges.

Lopez retorted that Gavilan fights all three minutes of each round "as the fans of the whole world know."

Minor Tilts Played In Havelock Arena

HAVELOCK (ENS) —A good turn out of parents were at the local arena Friday for "Children's Hockey Night". Three games were played with the Havelock peewees tying the Marmora boys, 1-1. R. Rutherford scored the lone tally for Havelock, while Brawley assisted by McKenzie scored for Marmora. Referee Stewart was in charge of this game.

Line-up:

Marmora: goal, Brooks; defence, Doyle and Bedore; forwards, Osborne, Wright, Bateman; alternates, W. Holland, C. Holland, Brawley, McKenzie and Lynch.

Havelock: goal, H. Davis; defence, R. Little, Graham; forwards, R. Rutherford, J. Chiles, B. Watson; alternates, Firlotte, Kirk, B. Rutherford, Ellis, Parker, McKenzie, J. Watson, McGowan, Clarke, L. Davis, B. White K. Watson and S. Steenburgh.

BANTAM TILT

The second event was in the bantam series where Marmora defeated Havelock by a score of 4-3 in another close tussle.

Larry Sayers performed the hat trick for Havelock by getting all three goals, two assists going to R. Scott and one to Chase. Bell of Marmora performed the same feat for his team getting three of their four goals, with asists going to Lavender, Price, Clemens. Price gathered an assist on another goal scored by Lavender. There were three penalties handed out by referee Hunter, all going to Havelock—Little, Simpson and B. Watson.

Line-up:

Marmora: goal, Belanger; defence, Bell and Walsh; forwards, Price, Lavender, Terrion; alternates, Ogilivie, Burke, Brawley, Sabine, Ellis, Deline, Clemens, Bateman and Quinn.

Havelock: goal, K. Scott; defence, Simpson, Cosgrove; forwards, Brunton, B. Watson, Little; alternates, R. Scott, Woods, MacMillan, Chase, Gerow, Wilds, L. Sayers and B. Scott.

MIDGET FRAY

The third game was a midget contest with Havelock defeating Keene by a score of 8 to 5. Revoy of Havelock was top scorer for the evening with four goals to his credit.

Legs Mangled

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Jack Williams was doing maintenance work Friday atop a 70-foot high roller coaster ride. Then he heard the roar of a train. Trapped, Williams grabbed the front of the lead car as it swept down on him. He held on until the train stopped 127 feet farther on. It took firemen an hour to free Williams, whose legs had been carried beneath the car. He lost one leg and the other was badly mangled.

Havelock Bows To The C's In TVL Struggle

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — Having a margin on play in each period of the TVL fixture here last night, Campbellford won out 7-3 over Havelock before a fair-sized crowd. The ice was rather heavy but play kept up a lively clip and was generally clean. The losers were shorthanded for this encounter. Fresh Try Fails On Mile Mark

MELBOURNE (AP) — John Landy, Australia's premier miler, failed again today to break the world record for the mile. He won the Victorian mile championship at Olympic Park in the comparatively slow time of 4:11.

Landy never had a chance to lower Gunder Haegg's world mark of 4:01.4. A strong headwind on the straightaway hindered all the runners in the race and the track, although well rolled, showed signs of being heavy.

"I know when I have had my chips," Landy remarked after the race. He said he was still feeling the effect of his two-mile run at Geelong last Wednesday when he set an Australian record of 9:01.2.

Landy's time compared to his 4.02.2 over the same track last December and his times of 4:02.8 and 4:04.2 in two races last month.

Ridley College Gets 6-5 in Over Grove

Led by Evans with three goals, Ridley College of St. Catharines defeated Lakefield Grove School 6-5 in an exciting game here yesterday. The Lakefield lads started in shaky fashion, but came on strong the last half to almost get the verdict. It was fast and fairly clean hockey. Blair Whittemore of Grove was the best man on the ice but couldn't do much as he didn't get the help. Besides Evans, the Ridley goals were by Cook, Maine and P. Hutchinson. The Grove tallies were by Whittemore, Uren, Oliver, Ramsay and MacDonald. Uren had two assists—one each going to T. Ryder, Rashleigh, and Staples. Teams:

Ridley — Goal, Lampman; defence, Carley, Bigger; centre, Evans; wings, D. Hutchinson, Adams; alternates, Cook, P. Hutchinson, Maine, Coupland and Coutts.

Underground Penance Costs Holy Man's Life

NEW DELHI (AP) — A sadhu—holy man — who buried himself alive 10 days ago as a penance in the cause of world peace was dug up and pronounced dead today.

Disciples who kept vigil near the spot where the 56 - year - old Hyderabad mystic, Narayan Acharya, was buried Jan. 29, claimed their master was in a state of "divine unconsciousness" when the pit was opened. Doctors, however, could find no trace of heartbeats.

The mystic's followers planned to continue their vigil through the day. A crowd estimated at more than 2,000 filed past the body offering flowers and coins and chanting that Narayan Acharya still was alive.

Disciples said their leader twice before had buried himself for periods of one day, emerging alive each time.

LANGLOIS SCORES UPSET

NEW YORK (AP)—Pierre Langlois, a rugged French import, upset favored Rocky Castellani of Luzerne, Pa., Friday night to win a split 12-round decision in the first of a series of elimination bouts for the American version of the middleweight title vacated by Sugar Ray Robinson.

The bitter brawl, that saw many of the ring rules ignored in the closing rounds of rousing action, changed the small crowd's early boos to cheers. Time after time referee Ruby Goldstein warned both battlers for hitting on the break, holding and wrestling.

After Langlois suffered a bad gash over his right eye in the 10th round, he threw all caution to the winds to launch a right-handed attack against his highly-ranked opponent.

A right hand punch and a healthy shove knocked Castellani down just before the bell ended the 11th. There was no count but Goldstein ruled it an official knockdown.

Langlois weighed 160, Castellani 159½.

Hastings Gets A TVL Tilt Over Lakefield

HASTINGS —(ENS)—In a TVL game here last night, Hastings downed Lakefield 10-2. Two Copper Cliff skips and one each from the Sudbury and Sudbury Granite Clubs reached the semi-final bracket in the President's Cup event. Sudbury's Les Neal scored a surprise 10-9 decision over Copper Cliff's Joe MacDonald, while Granite's Bill Duncan toppled another Copper Cliff rink skipped by Mac Canapini 10-4.

Other semi-finalists are Copper Cliff's Jesse Morrison and Hughie Munro.

Charlie Bibby of Sudbury Granites made the final round in the Cochrane-Dunlop by downing North Bay's Dr. Bob Hambley 10-8. Al Pace of the Granite Club and North Bay's 'Art' Randle both reached the semi-finals.

Rev. G. Maxwell Inducted Minister Of Trinity United

Trinity United Church was the scene of solemn and ancient tradition Friday night when its new pastor, the Rev. Gordon Maxwell, was formally inducted into office in the ministry of the United Church and pledged his oath, in all matters of the Gospel, to maintain the commandments he had received during his life and training as an ordained minister.

The induction ceremony was performed by the Rev. N. Cole of Norwood, chairman of the United Church Presbytery for Peterborough. He summoned Mr. Maxwell before him at the base of the pulpit and put the formal questions regarding the Brotherhood of the Ministry.

Prior to the induction, Mr. Cole officiated during a brief service, followed by the congregation. The charge to the congregation was delivered by the Rev. H. K. Wright, and the charge to the minister by the Rev. H. G. Douglas of Knox United Church, Peterborough.

Also in attendance was the Rev. H. B. Herrington of Keene, secretary of the Peterborough Presbytery of the United Church. With Mr. Maxwell, prior to the induction was R. F. Downey, the chairman of the church board.

At conclusion of the service, a reception was held in the new hall, where refreshments were served and members of the congregation could meet their new pastor. He arrived in the city only last Tuesday and will deliver his first sermon next Sunday morning.

Mr. Maxwell's family has long been active in the United Church. His father, the Rev. R. Maxwell, who died two years ago, was a Presbyterian minister prior to union, and had retired after 43 years in various charges.

Two of his brothers also entered the ministry. One, the Rev. F. E. Maxwell, died in 1936 while pastor of Blind River United Church. Another brother, the Rev. W. P. Maxwell, is a distinguished graduate of Edinburgh University, where he obtained his DD and PhD. At present his charge is at Whitekirk United Church, on the outskirts of Glasgow. He also holds a seat at Glasgow University.

PREACHED IN ENGLAND

The new pastor of Trinity United, in 1951 spent three weeks in England under the International Congregational Union. During his visit he preached at Birmingham and Carr's Lane, two of the larger religious centres in the Midlands.

Mr. Maxwell succeeds the Rev. Dr. E. A. Armstrong, who left early this week. He had been serving in a temporary capacity at Trinity United until Mr. Maxwell could come.

Mr. Maxwell is married and has three children. His wife is the former Anne E. Storie of Oshawa. The children are two daughters, Lynne 10, Mary Anne 6, and a son James Gordon 3.

Mr. Maxwell was pastor of Brockville United Church for two years prior to accepting the call to Peterborough. He had previously spent more than eight years as pastor of Cambray United Church, and prior to that was the pastor of Paisley United Church from 1940 to 1944.

Olmstead Starts Formosa Survey

TAIPEH, Formosa (Reuters)—Maj.-Gen. George Olmsted, director of U. S. foreign military assistance, today began a survey of Chinese Nationalist forces on Formosa before reporting on what the United States should do about increasing military aid to Chiang Kai-shek.

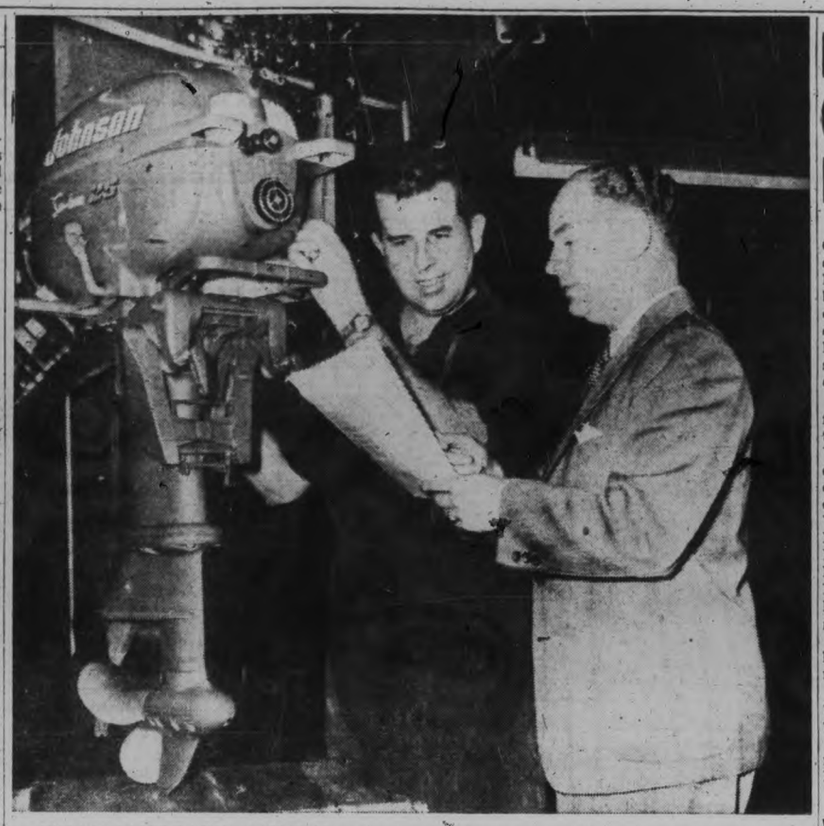
His mission to this island stronghold is regarded as of the utmost importance to future American policy on Formosa.

It is the first significant U. S. move since President Eisenhower announced that he was withdrawing the U. S. 7th fleet from its task of neutralizing Formosa, thereby freeing Chiang to attack the mainland.

The 7th fleet was ordered to stop preventing any Nationalist assault of the mainland in Eisenhower's "state-of-the-union" address last Monday. This cancelled instructions given by President Truman in 1950.

Though some units of the fleet have pulled out of Formosan waters, most are still thought to be on patrol. It is thought here that the new orders apply one way only—the fleet will still prevent any Communist attack on Formosa.

17 'Chute To Safety As Bomber Crashes



LONDON (AP)—Seventeen crew members parachuted safely out of a U. S. Air Force B-36 today just before their $3,000,000 giant intercontinental bomber crashed on the last few miles of a long flight from Texas.

The plane was en route from Carswell air force base, Fort Worth, Tex., in a flight with 16 other B-36s. The other 10-engined planes subsequently landed safely at the RAF base at Fairford.

The crippled B-36 flew for 30 miles after her crew members abandoned her and then plowed into farmland near Lacock, 150 miles south west of London. There were no civilian casualties or damage to property.

The B-36—big punch - packing plane of the U. S. Air Force — has a 230-foot wingspan and six piston engines and four jet engines. Its normal complement is 20 men. The plane can carry a bomb load of 10 tons and has a range of 10,000 miles.

There was no immediate explanation of the cause of the crash.

FIFTY OUTBOARD MOTORS were purchased by the Canadian Red Cross Society Toronto, upon receiving approval Friday afternoon from its national commissioner, Dr. W. S. Stanbury, for immediate use in flood-devastated areas in England and Europe. Outboard Marine employees worked overtime Friday evening to load 25 each of 25 and 10 horsepower long drive shaft units on transports for delivery to air cargo planes at Malton Airport. Transshipped at Montreal, some of the motors may already have arrived at their destination by tonight. At the packing end of the assembly line "Oke" Durkin, left, is shown above with company secretary-treasurer Bruce Payne who is also second vice-president of the Red Cross Association's Peterborough branch.—(Examiner Staff Photo).

Laborites Keep Two Issues Alive

LONDON (AP) — Two Labor MPs plan to keep the Formosan and Russian issues before Parliament next week.

Emrys Hughes will ask Prime Minister Churchill Monday a regularly-raised question:

What steps does Churchill propose to bring about a meeting with Premier Stalin in view of the Stalin statement in a written press interview recently that he is favorable to a meeting with heads of state to discuss the international situation?

Mont Follick will ask the first lord of the admiralty, J. P. L. Thomas, Wednesday whether Britain will propose to the United Nations security council that a combined United Nations fleet replace the U. S. 7th fleet "as a protection against further extension of the war" in the Formosa straits area.

President Eisenhower has announced the intention of the United States to "deneutralize" Formosa by withdrawing the 7th fleet from its role of blocking action either way across the 100-mile channel that separates Chinese Nationalist-held Formosa from the Chinese Communist mainland.

NEW YORK (AP) — Low clouds halted all flying at Idlewild airport this morning.

Urges Research Before Repairs

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Research by University of Western Ontario scientists should be the first part of a federal $126,000 harbor improvement program at Port Stanley, scheduled this year, Alex Jeffery, London MP, said today. "I'm not afraid to stick my neck out," he said, adding: "Almost everything they've done at Port Stanley has made things worse."

The port has harbor and erosion problems.

Mr. Jeffery said that some of the $126,000 listed for Port Stanley harbor improvement could be used "if necessary" for preliminary research by a university — the University of Western Ontario, if facilities are available.

He suggested a model of the harbor and coast-line should be made and subsequent improvements based on knowledge obtained from its study.

Mr. Jeffery said he was backed up by some of Port Stanley's older fishermen, men who know the coast and Lake Erie well, in his suggestion.

He said he had made strong recommendations to the Canadian government on his suggestion.

Erosion east of the harbor at Kettle Creek has damaged many lake - front properties. The harbor itself, steamshipmen say, is difficult to enter under some weather conditions. The governmental $126,000 is earmarked to help both conditions.

Flood Of Refugees "Colossal Tragedy"

BONN (AP) — Mayor Ernst Reuter of Berlin said today the flood of refugees from Communist-ruled East Germany has become a "colossal peace-time tragedy." He said free West Berlin will drown in refugees unless a new program to fly out 1,000 a day to West Germany is speedily put into operation.

Reuter told a press conference here that in January 25,000 anti-Communist refugees filled Berlin's shelters to overflowing.

"In February we expect another 30,000," he said, "and this is only the beginning of a mass movement whose ultimate gigantic proportions no one can foretell. We are in the midst of a colossal peace-time tragedy. If drastic action is not taken soon Berlin will sink into an insolvable situation."

Maurice Meade, 53, 887 Water Street, was fined $10, and $2.50 costs, or 10 days in jail in police court today when he pleaded guilty to a charge of consuming alcohol while under an interdiction.

Two Jewish Boys Disappear From Orphanage In Paris

PARIS (AP) — Two little Jewish boys, placed in a Roman Catholic orphanage during the war when their parents were fleeing from the German Gestapo, have disappeared and police today are pressing a search throughout Western France.

Catholic convents in the vicinity have been asked to give up the children, but deny having them.

The two children, Robert and Gerard Finaly, fled from Austria to France with their parents. In 1944 the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Finaly, alarmed by Gestapo raids on Jews in France, placed the children in an orphanage at La Tronche, in Alpine France. They had barely hidden the children when the parents were seized by the Gestapo and sent to a concentration camp, from which they never returned.

After the war a sister of Dr. Finaly, living in Israel, asked for the children, and then began a long series of lawsuits. The children had been baptized into the Catholic faith under direction of the head of the orphanage, Sister Brun.

The aunt of the children won the suit and the orphanage director was directed to return the children.

On Jan. 29, Sister Brun was ordered by the courts to turn over the children, now 10 and 11 years old, to their aunt but when the police went to St. Louis de Gonzague Institute, a Catholic school, the children had disappeared. Police have put up a guard on the Spanish frontier believing they may have been rushed toward Spain.

Bogart, Huston Hurt In Car Crash In Italy

NAPLES, Italy (Reuters)—Actor Humphrey Bogart entered hospital here today for a check-up after a car crash which cut his mouth and loosened two teeth Friday night. He had three stitches in a gash in his tongue.

Bogart and director John Huston were riding in the back seat last night when their driver swerved to miss an oncoming car and rammed a stone milepost. The impact threw Bogart against the door post. Huston was unhurt.

Both are here for location work on a new picture.

Asks Newspapers Do Better Job

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Newspapers must do a better job of explaining themselves to the public Lee Hills, national president of Sigma Delta Chi, told the Louisville chapter of the national journalistic fraternity Friday night.

"When we are unjustly under fire, let's come back with the facts," said Hills, who is executive editor of the Detroit Free Press and the Miami Herald. "Let's tell our side as fully as we let the other fellow tell his in our columns."

Hills told the newspaper men he does not think there is too much criticism of newspapers, but "not enough informed criticism."

"There is not enough examination of the source and validity of the criticism itself," he continued. "Some of this comes from disappointed and insincere politicians who turn their guns on newspapers when their records and logic leave them without other arguments."

The first party of settlers brought to Canada by Lord Selkirk landed on Prince Edward Island in 1803.

Relief Supplies From Canada Flow To Europe

TORONTO (CP)—Relief supplies are flowing from Canada to European flood victims, Red Cross officials said Friday.

A plane load that left Montreal included 1,500 blankets and 150 army mattresses. Another plane took more mattresses and a large quantity of shoes.

In addition, the Red Cross, buying and shipping the supplies on behalf of the national flood relief committee, has bought 5,000 pillows. It plans to send 3,000 large vacuum bottles to hold soup or hot drinks.

The Presbyterian Church in Canada donated $7,500 to overseas flood relief.

Across the country, preparations went forward for the collection of donations from Canadian citizens by organizations which will channel the gifts into the national fund. It has been announced that Canadians can help best by cash donations, rather than by giving clothing and supplies. Cash contributions ill be accepted at all branches of chartered banks in Canada, the Red Cross said.

However, the United Church of Canada is arranging to ship five tons of used clothing to The Netherlands. The church already has allocated $10,000 to flood relief.

The Canadian Red Cross has bought 50 outboard motors for shipment to Holland to be used for rescue work in the flood devastated areas. Half of them are 25-horsepower and the other half 10-horsepower.

Tug Strike Relaxes Grip On World's Largest Port

NEW YORK (AP) — The tugboat strike relaxed its grip on the world's largest port today amid signs strikers and employers are approaching agreement without need of government-proposed arbitration.

Representatives of both sides in the wage dispute said Friday night in separate statements that progress is being made in negotiations.

The prospects of a settlement in the wage and contract dispute came as the federal mediation service asked that the crippling strike, in its seventh day, be called off pending arbitration.

However, the government suggestion was put aside, at least temporarily, as a result of employer objections. The union, while expressing misgivings, had accepted the federal proposal.

3,500 INVOLVED

Involved in the dispute are 3,500 tugboat workers, members of the International Longshoremen's Association (AFL), and their employers, grouped in the Marine Towing and Transportation Employers Association.

Signs pointing to a possible agreement were not only reflected in the failure of the government arbitration plea but also in an ILA statement Friday night that settlement was near enough to permit the postponement of picketing.

There were reports that ILA officials also considered posting of pickets futile since the national labor relations board's New York office announced Friday night that it was ready to seek a federal court injunction to bar picketing under the Taft-Hartley Labor Act.

70 PER CENT TIE-UP

Picket lines of the tugboat men on Thursday had resulted in a tie-up of 75 per cent of the port of New York as non-striking AFL longshoremen refused to cross the lines.

Friday the situation was eased somewhat by a state Supreme Court order banning the pickets. Later, however, the state court's appellate division upset the earlier order.

Passenger and freight shipping companies, not involved in the dispute, started the court actions.

Several ships including the 83,000-ton Queen Mary have docked without the use of tugs. However, two piers were damaged.

Brantford Man Given 10 Years For Rape

TORONTO (CP)—Gordon Hottinger, 21, of Brantford Friday was sent to penitentiary for 10 years for raping a 21-year-old girl after a hotel room party last October.

Evidence was that the attack took place in the Don valley in east-central Toronto while Hottinger was driving the girl home. She is a railway office employee.

Couple Just Married Hurt In Auto Crash

TORONTO (CP)—The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lipshutz got off to a rough start Friday. Fifteen minutes after leaving the church with the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. John Poch of Oshawa, in Mr. Poch's new car, the couple was involved in a traffic accident.

Mrs. Lipshutz was taken to hospital and detained for X-rays of an injured hand.

Visits Jail and Stays

TORONTO (CP)—Arthur Cowan went to the Don jail Friday to arrange bail for a friend. Detective George Sellar thought Cowan was familiar looking. He went to the files and returned with an old warrant. Cowan now is in another cell, charged with $26 theft.

Believes Television Will Prove Boon To Canadian Dailies

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Managing editors of Canadian dailies from all across the country today got a sneak peek at what television will do to their towns and their newspapers — and most of it looked good.

Basil Walters, Chicago, executive editor of Knight Newspapers told the Canadian managing editors' conference here that TV, like radio stimulated newspaper reading, offered newspapers a great opportunity.

"Newscasting by radio or TV can never be a real liability to newspapers," he said. What they do is broaden the interest and demand of readers for background and allied stories in newspaper reports.

But this means a big shift in the character of U. S. dailies, Mr. Walter suggested. The trend is toward a brighter and more interesting editorial page — "one that has the impact of Page one" and more interpretation of the news.

TV has acquired this in two ways, he said. First because the TV set is in competition for the reader-viewer's time. Secondly because news breaks come on radio and TV.

MAY CHANGE IDEAS

"We may have to change our idea of local news because of TV," Mr. Walters said. "It takes the world scene and world figures and makes them bigger news than the man in the next block. "TV" he said, "is a great public forum, a nationwide town meeting."

He said he felt Canadian newspapers had a sounder tradition than U. S. papers to fit them into the television age, because Canadian readership has a greater interest in politics and world affairs than U. S. readers.

TV advertisers unless they use newspaper advertising do not get the greatest potential out of their TV dollars, he said. Statistics prove that much of the TV dollar is wasted by advertisers because people simply tune out the commercials which they resent as much as they do advertising on movie screens.

"The better the program the more the viewer regards advertisingas an intrusion," Mr. Walters said. The way for advertisers to overcome this difficulty is through using newspaper advertising of their sponsored shows. TV specializes in amusement.

Mr. Walters said the editorial pages of Canadian newspapers are far better than U. S. editorial pages. He said he felt the age of the great reporter and editorial writer was coming — and TV is helping it along.

TV Owners Urge Private Capital Get 'Go-Ahead'

TORONTO (CP)—A group of television-set owners in a 300-mile area of Ontario is organizing to urge that telecasting in Canada be opened to private interests.

The TV Owners' Association had 400 members a few weeks after it organized. A. A. Marshall, Toronto stock broker and chairman of the association, says the aim is to get 5,000 members.

"When we get them—and people are joining every day as a result of our newspaper advertisements—we plan to petition Ottawa," he said. "We hope to take the petition, to Prime Minister St. Laurent if need be, by March 1."

Special target of criticism are the CBC's TV shows. The CBC operates stations in Toronto and Montreal. Under present regulations private stations are not permitted in centres with a CBC station, although they may operate where the CBC does not plan to establish television stations.

URGE FREE COMPETITION

"The quality of CBC TV programs isn't as good, nor the choice as great, as it should be," says Mr. Marshall. "We feel the solution is government permission to set up stations freely. These stations should be permitted to channel programs into Canada from the United States at their own discretion."

The CBC stations can be picked up on sets up to 50 miles or so away from the transmitters. Throughout southern Ontario, TV sets can tune in on such U.S. points as Detroit, Cleveland, Buffalo, Erie, Rochester and Syracuse.

One of Toronto's first TV set owners, Mr. Marshall says persons from Campbellford, about 100 miles east of Toronto, to Sarnia, about 180 miles to the west, have joined the association. They were attracted by newspaper advertisements purchased by 10 stock brokers who founded the association. New members are charged $2 each to pay for further publicity.

REGULATING BODY

An advertising agency in Toronto has offered to publicize the association's activities for a fee of $1 a year.

The association wants to have TV regulated—but not by the CBC. It proposes instead a commission similar to the railway board which regulates all railways in Canada, publicly or privately owned.

Sponsorship by commercial organizations with similar objectives has been rejected by the association, says Mr. Marshall. "We want to show Ottawa that we represent only the wishes of the Canadian TV audience." Viewers, as well as owners, are admitted to membership.

The association also plans to investigate reports of exorbitant fees for set repairs and to demand action to cut down or eliminate avoidable interference.

Eight-Year Sentence

TORONTO (CP)—Kustaa Junnila, 42-year-old carpenter, was given an eight-year sentence Friday for manslaughter in the fatal stabbing last Aug. 30 of Lauri Kari. Evidence was that a fight started after Junnila refused to give Kari some beer. Junnila said the stabbing was accidental.

Crushed By Own Truck

OTTAWA (CP)—Francis Earl Wilson, 30-year-old Ottawa workman, was crushed to death Friday when his loaded gravel truck skidded and rolled over while climbing a steep grade at a stone quarry just east of the city. It is believed that Wilson tried to jump clear and was caught beneath the rolling truck.

Badly Burned In Blast

SARNIA (CP)—Badly burned over most of his body in a gasoline explosion Friday, Jerry Dorais, 50, a Sarnia garage proprietor, was reported in serious condition at Sarnia General Hospital Friday night. Dorais was "deglazing" cylinder walls on a car when sparks set off an explosion in a can of gasoline on the cowl of the car.

Simmons, Chief of Protocol, who administered the oath.

CANADIANS IN FRANCE—A group of Canadians with the RCAF assigned to Allied Air Forces Central Europe visit an historic site in Fontainebleau, France. Their guide, Guy Seraphin (third from left), is Paris-born but lived in Montreal for two years and now is with the French Air Force. The RCAF servicemen, all from Quebec, were conducted on an informal tour of the famous palace of Fontainebleau. They are crouched in the spot where Napoleon said goodbye to his men on the eve of his exile. Left to right: LAC. Mario A. St. Laurent, Hull; LAC. Gilles W. LuSignan, Quebec; Guy Seraphin; Cpl. Jean Louis Madran, Ste. Therese de Blainville; LAC. H. J. Roger Brassard, Montreal, and Sgt. Rene Chaput, Montreal.

RCAF Experiment In France Produces Model Relations

FONTAINEBLEAU, France (CP)—Canada's first experiment in peacetime stationing of troops on French soil is paying off not only in stepped-up Allied military potential but also in model community relations.

Here at headquarters of Allied Air Forces Central Europe mem-Air Forces Central Europe members of the RCAF national support group and their families have proved friendly guests.

Of its 76 officers and airmen, 21 are from Ontario, 12 from Quebec, 10 from Manitoba, eight from Alberta, eight from Nova Scotia, seven from British Columbia, five from Saskatchewan, three from New Brunswick and two from Newfoundland.

SIMPLE APPROACH

Almost without knowing it, Canada found a simple approach to the tricky, host-guest relationship coexistent with the build-up of Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers in Europe. It is in line with the thinking of top planners in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization who realized from the first what friction could result from throwing together men of widely differing cultures.

Briefly, the "open sesame" to greater understanding is this:

A host nation like France is more apt to trust the motives of an armed guest who goes home to his family every night, than one who has free time on his hands.

Moreover, the presence of large numbers of dependents — while causing a temporary housing headache—is insurance to the French that their tenant NATO partners will not likely pull up stakes hurriedly in the event of a hot war, leaving them ripe for occupation.

MANY ARE MARRIED

Of the 76 Canadian officers and airmen stationed at AAFCE's Camp Guynemer headquarters, 55 are married. All 55 have their families with them in the Fontainebleau-Avon area.

FO Edward A. Poitras, from Winnipeg, who commands the Canadian national support group here, likes to put it another way.

"When we encourage our boys to bring their families to France we indirectly give a vote of confidence to the entire NATO operation," he says.

"And here is another angle. There's no better way for nations to get to know each other than by taking a peek at one another's family life."

In that respect, the French-Canadians in the group have a distinct advantage over AAFCE's other English-speaking elements, the United States and Royal Air Forces.

"Life in France is much easier for us," says Poitras, one of 21 French-Canadians here. "We can find housing easily because we speak the language. We can shop in French stores just as we do back home. Adnwe get to know the French people working with us at AAFCE much better because of our ancestry."

HOLD IMPORTANT POSTS

All in all, the Canadians occupy a place of importance at AAFCE far out of proportion to their limited numbers.

Air Vice Marshal John L. Plant of Vancouver was appointed assistant chief of staff for logistics soon after he arrived at AAFCE in August, 1951.

Recently the top-ranking RCAF officer at AAFCE was made a deputy chief of staff. Logistics was elevated to a plane on par with administration and operations. It was a tacit recognition of the added significance of logistics and supply in a military situation where emphasis is on build-up rather than attack.

Canada is otherwise well represented at higher levels of command. Group Capt. Cavendish Carling-Kelly of Toronto heads manpower and organization; Group Capt. Edward C. Luke of Ottawa is chief of the infrastructure division of logistics; Group Capt. George H. Elms of Ontario is in plans and policies, and Wing Cmdr. Willfam H. Swetman of Toronto is in operations.

Lesser ranking RCAF officers are spread through supply, armament, communicdtions, intelligence and special services.

Most Canadians below the rank of officer at AAFCE are assigned to the headquarters communications centre. It is the seat of a $9,000,000 micro-relay system which will link the vitals of Allied air defence on the continent. When in operation, the 17-station hook-up will free AAFCE from dependency on commercial lines of communication.

Finds Tooth In Meal At Cafe; It's Her Own

HAMILTON (CP)—An indignant woman complained to a restaurant proprietor here that she had discovered a human tooth, with a gold cap, in her food.

The proprietor apologized and said there would be no charge for the food, but the woman reported the incident to police and demanded that the board of health be informed.

Next day, she telephoned inspector Howard Moreau to say the tooth was her own. She had only just discovered it was missing.

The inspector said she can have the tooth back if she pays $1.40 for the meal.

Sixteen Wounded Fly Home From War Zone

OTTAWA (CP)—Sixteen wounded veterans of the Korean war are en route home by plane, defence headquarters said Friday.

Judge's Formula Measures Drinks

BRAMPTON (CP)—Mr. Justice G. A. Gale gave a capsule formula Friday for gauging the degree of intoxication of drinking drivers.

Addressing the jury at the trial of George Kaitting, 23, who was convicte of manslaughter, Mr. Justice Gale gave the following direction:

"After one drink of whisky, it's not an offence under the criminal code, but civil negligence," he said. "After two whiskies, it's dangerous driving, after three or four drinks, the man is in a state of intoxication and is guilty of manslaughter in event of a fatality."

Kaitting was sentenced to two years determinate less a day and one year indeterminate in the Ontario reformatory.

Cavan Church WA Holds Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of Cavan WA was held at the home of Mrs. Milton Carr on Wednesday, at 2 p.m.

The president, Mrs. Newall, was in the chair. Two new members joined. The secretary, Mrs. Ken Syer, gave the minutes of the previous meeting, and some discussion followed about covering the tables in the basement of the church with oilcloth. As the WA has just completed the purchase of some damask tablecloth material, it was voted the committee in charge cut and make up the damask tablecloths, leaving the oilcloth covering till a later date.

The quilts which were quilted at Miss A. Tinney's were discussed and left till Miss Tinney was able to be present, the suggestion being made that they should be sold for $10 each.

Mrs. Ray Syer read the scripture lesson and the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Robinson's group for the program. Mrs. N. Braithwaite read a poem entitled "Unaware."

Mrs. C. Carley gave a reading and Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Snider gave a reading from the study book about customs of people in Angola. Mrs. Boyles read a letter from a missionary in South Arfica. A committee of three, Mrs. Bayles, Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. N. Braithwaite, were appointed to be responsible for programs for meetings in April, May and June. Mrs. Milton Carr sang a solo, accompanied by her son, Fraser.

It was decided there would be no meeting in March. The March meeting will be included in the Day of Prayer, February 20, at the home of Miss A. Tinney. Lunch was served by the hostess.

Young Woman Veterinarian Boon To Young Pet Owners

NEW YORK (CP)—A pretty Canadian veterinarian with a hospital on wheels is a boon to pet-owners of the younger set.

Dr. Cherry Anne Hooper of Victoria, since her mobile animal clinic started moving in October, 1951, has treated almost 2,000 sick animals and taught 2,300 youngsters how to care for and feed their pets. She has done everything from giving a regular manicure to a pet skunk to pulling the sore tooth of a baby alligator.

The only woman among six veterinarians at the Speyer Hospital, Dr. Hooper takes the mobile clinic out four afternoons a week. It is equipped with sterilizers, sink, water tank, X-ray, fluoroscoppe, refrigerator and all necessary medicines.

"They bring me cats, canaries, hamsters, pigeons, parakeets, goldfish and turtles," Dr. Hooper says. One worried child once brought her a horse with a cold.

EMERGENCY CALL

She recalls one day when she was called on an emergency and rushed out in the mobile clinic.

"Two boys and girl, all about eight or nine, had picked up a dog hit by a truck. They did a good job of bandaging it up but it needed surgery. Then I took it back to the hospital and kept it there two months. Those kids came every day and finally took it home. It was a real mutt, but how they loved it."

Every Wednesday afternoon, Dr. Hooper drives to the New York Institute for the Blind. There she looks after dogs being trained as companions for blind children, and teaches the children too.

INCREDIBLE PATIENCE

Their patience is incredible," she says. "And just like animals, these kids never whine or blame anyone for their plight. They've taught me a lot about handling dogs—and people."

Dr. Hooper's father, now retired, once ran a 150-acre farm in Victoria. While her father and two brothers were in the service during the war, she ran the farm herself. When she got out of high school she enlisted in the RCAF and worked three years in operations.

When she got out of the service, Dr. Hooper went to the University of British Columbia for a year and then to the University of Toronto veterinary school for four years.

Later, while interning at the New York State Veterinary College in Cornell, her professors recommended her to Speyer, where she came in August, 1951.

WAGE GAINS vs. WITCH HUNTS

INCREASED PURCHASING POWER AND JOB SECURITY FOR CGE EMPLOYEES AND FOR THE COMMUNITY OF PETERBOROUGH

The 3,600 production employees of CGE through their union, the UE, have presented their 1953 proposals for contract modification and are now in negotiations for improved wages and working conditions.

Following on a series of meetings of the union members, they have decided on the following major items of need as the basis for a 1953 contract with the company:

1. Reduction of the hours of work to 40 hours a week with maintenance of take-home pay.
2. Incorporation in the wage structure of the cost-of-living allowance.
3. A general wage increase of 20 cents an hour.
4. Elimination of a number of inequalities in the wage payment plan of CGE such as skilled female workers receiving less than a male sweeper, skilled workers of first class qualifications paid at 2nd, 3rd and 4th class rates, boys' rates for men's work, etc.
5. Improved paid vacation pay plan to give two weeks' vacation for three years' service, three weeks at ten years' service, and for the quarter century workers a four week paid vacation.
6. Increase shift bonus to the 10 per cent paid by GE-U.S.A.
7. Elimination of certain inequities in the seniority and in the grievance procedure.
8. A full health and welfare program giving weekly sick and accident benefit of at least 60 per cent of weekly pay, full hospital costs, full surgical and medical costs and fees—the full cost paid for by the company.
9. A pension minimum of $125.00 a month at age 65 (60 for women) after twenty-five years' service.

These proposals are of vital concern to CGE employees and their families.

The citizens of Peterborough generally have a vital stake in the outcome of these negotiations. Over One Million Dollars per year in extra purchasing power for the community — sharply reduced costs of maintenance of city's hospitals — greater job security for Peterborough workers — lowered costs to the city for upkeep of indigents and other forms of public assistance — these are but some of the community gains that can flow from successful negotiations by UE at CGE.

These gains are possible — but only if the CGE workers are united.

What more worthwhile public cause than to assure the successful outcome of these negotiations?

But an attempt is being made to interfere with the successful outcome of negotiations.

By whom? By self-seeking and unprincipled witch hunters — imported from the United States, with the full bag of scare techniques, hysteria mongering and red-baiting—bent on disrupting these negotiations.

For what purpose? To help CGE Workers? No! To enhance the personal and political power of a group of opportunists? Yes!

It is to their everlasting shame that a Peterborough weekly paper lends itself to this game of disruption at this crucial time for the CGE workers, who are the main customers of the very businessmen of Peterborough whose advertisements give this sheet its reason for existence — and profit.

REVIEW THE FACTS

The Peterborough Review, in its January 29th, 1953, issue, attempts to lay the ground work for, and in fact predicts, labour strife and raiding in our city.

This was done by running a reprint of a false and smearing article from the Readers Digest, written by Repesentative Charles J. Kersten, Republican Senator of U.S.A.

In a foreword to the false article, the Review predicts a raid on our union, UE, by the Company-built iue, and has predicted this raid will culminate in a vote at the CGE plant.

The Review did not tell the citizens of Peterborough the anti-labour record of the Readers Digest—the anti-labour record of Congressman Kersten.

Readers Digest is popularly supposed to be based on reprinting and boiling down original articles from other magazines. This particular article originated within the pages of Readers Digest. It is a planted article.

Let us look at what organized labour says about Readers Digest.

Some years ago an organization in the USA, The National Council of Teachers of English, did a thorough research job on Readers Digest. Their findings emphasized that the "Readers Digest is not in fact a digest at all." Many of the articles are originals written expressly for publication in the Readers Digest and for a specific purpose.

This purpose is perhaps best explained by the further findings of the National Council of Teachers, to wit, that Readers Digest has always followed a reactionary policy which tends to undermine labour and the trade union movement — the whole trade union movement.

Criticisms were also printed by the following organizations: Pennsylvania Labour News; AFL Typographical Union, Local 939; Las Vegas, Nevada, National Union Farmer; The New York Conference of the American Education Fellowship; Stars and Stripes; New Republic; CIO News and "Labour".

AND WHAT ABOUT THE AUTHOR

CHAS. J. KERSTEN

Kersten has voted for every anti-labour bill in the Congress during his tenure—against increased social security, against public housing, for increased rent, etc.

Kertsen has participated in many congressional witch hunts against UE and other unions without ever turning up any convictions against the union people being investigated. It is interesting that Kersten and his committee invariably turned up with great publicity at the crucial negotiation periods with their attacks on the unions.

Will the iue members among the salaried staff at C.G.E. benefit by this raiding and disruption? Certainly not! They too are in negotiations with the Company. Can they expect a decent settlement if the bargaining position of the production workers is weakened by these divisive tactics of American raiders?

Can any group of Peterborough workers expect to secure a fair deal in their negotiations if disruption injures the chance of C.G.E.-U.E. workers securing a proper settlement? Of course not.

Then let all citizens of Peterborough recognize this raiding at its true cost to them. Let us all, in this community, recognize the red-baiting job of iue leaders and the Review for what it is — to smash decent unionism.

We want no American style witch hunts or American labor raiders in Peterborough.

We call upon every worker and citizen of Peterborough to work for the unity of all CGE workers behind their negotiations.

We call upon all of them to denounce and reject these divisive tactics as injurious to CGE workers and their families, and as costly to the citizens of this community.

War Heroine's Daughter Becomes Successful Model

By MURIEL NARRAWAY

LONDON (CP)—A tall and slender honey blonde, with an engaging shyness, glided through the grey and silver salon and spectators watched with interest.

It was the first appearance as a top-flight fashion model of 18-year-old Lily Sansom, one of three daughters of war heroine Odette Churchill.

The occasion was the Coronation collection of Victor Stiebel, a South African designer favored by princess Margaret, and it had all the atmosphere of a big dress occasion—roses for the audience and a champagne toast to the Queen. With only two weeks' experience behind her, dark-eyed Miss Sansom perhaps felt something of the trepidation her mother experienced when first faced with German interrogation.

BLACK AND WHITE

In her debut, Miss Sansom wore a dress in white shantung horizontally striped with zebra splashes of black. The low neck, tiny waist and Nell Gwynn skirt were equally suited to the royal enclosure at Ascot race meetings or a garden party at Buckingham Palace.

She also modelled a black and green check organza evening dress with green and white striped panels at back and front, giving an Elizabethan effect.

Asked what her mother thought of her mannequin's job, Miss Sansom replied: "Not wildly enthusiastic."

Mrs. Churchill, a Frenchwoman now in her early 40s, was captured and tortured by the Germans while serving in France as a British agent. Her experiences were made the basis of a popular film, "Odette."

Two years ago she took a party of British girls to Canada on an exchange visit sponsored by Garfield Weston, Canadian-born biscuit millionaire.

Stiebel's show, part of the "Big Eleven" collections, comprised some 90 models covering all events of a social season from shopping in London's West End to attending a royal ball.

One example was a strapless rose satin gown with tiny cap-sleeved bolero trimmed with mink. This was worn by Helene Peret, a French model.

With her pink and cream complexion, smooth braided blonde hairstyle and petite figure, Helene's polished sophistication won applause each time she appeared. Mostly she wore the type of gown Stiebel often designed for Princess Margaret—and her measurements are similar.

Talk On Homes Feature Studio Meeting

Mr. Robert G. Calvert's address to the Women's Art Association Friday afternoon on the subject "Is the modern house better?" traced the types of houses in fashion from the first cottages built in Europe.

He said that the modern house and garden design is in a very evolutionary state. "Architects and furniture designers are still in the experimental stage. They are trying to go somewhere." President Mrs. Ford Turner later remarked that this was a typical statement regarding modern artists as brought out by a speaker last month.

Mr. Calvert, an architect by profession, and now working on home and garden planning for a Canadian magazine, feels sure that much of the modern furniture will fail by the wayside. "Designs which are really good, such as a Chippendale chair, will always be good," he assured the ladies.

It was pointed out that the modern home is showing a return to the older farm kitchen, re-including the kitchen in the living area of the house by gradually disappearing barriers or walls. He called the present kitchen design the "clinical kitchen" and feels that the ultimate in increased efficiency and reduced size has been reached.

The Romans had plumbing in their homes 2,000 years ago, he said, and then it was forgotten for a time. At present architects are fighting to have the bathrooms increased from the minimum of size to a usable five by seven foot room.

He said that the basement playroom and recreation room is not proving satisfactory because the children insist on being on the same floor as their mother. This was another reason for the living room - dining room - kitchen - together trend.

Speaking briefly of gardens, he said that plants are being selected for the architectural effect and for cost of maintenance, by modern home-makers.

"Sculpture Continental" (right) is also for small heads but is flattering to round faces. Hair is cut four to five inches all around, and style features smooth crown, brief back ruffl , and precise, refined ringlets near face. "Waved Continental" (centre) requires thick, strong hair, either well-permanented or naturally curly. Hair is brushed up and back with deep waves pressed into place. Length when down comes well below ears. Looks well on larger heads and softens angular facial contours. Modify height and width according to facial shape.

Mrs. D. F. McCarthy was named to convene the St. Patrick's tea assisted by Mrs. S. J. Houlihan. It is expected the tea will be held Sunday afternoon, March 15, in the social centre and the tea receipts in entirety will be donated to Our Lady of Missions.

Miss Agnes Grant announced an open meeting during Brotherhood Week and asked all members to be present. Miss Grant also briefly outlined the need of a social evening for foreign people in the parish and it was unanimously decided to hold such a get-together.

Mrs. Josephine Feeley moved that a donation be given to Right Reverend Jordan, Bishop of Prince Rupert, for mission work, and this was seconded by Mrs. Houlihan.

A note from the Sisters of St. Joseph thanked members on behalf of the residents of the House of Providence for the Christmas party, and also thanked Mrs. F. Guilfoyle for her music that was so much enjoyed. Mrs. Houlihan, welfare convener, reported 45 Christmas baskets were distributed to needy families and shut-ins, also that a small boy was fully clothed and fuel was supplied to a needy family.

Mrs. J. Lane read the minutes and Mrs. McCarthy read the treasury report. Miss Grant outlined the contributions per capita for the year and moved that all national, provincial and diocesan obligations be submitted. Also donations to the national budget, diocesan scholarship and Sisters of Service immigration fund be paid.

Mrs. Houlihan consented to carry on as rosary convener for February.

A HIKE in the newly fallen snow is like bringing new life to children during a dull winter day.

Real Magic And Mystery In The Snow For Children

By NANCY CLEAVER

When you were a child do you remember a poem in a reader about the snow, "softly, softly, falling"? We do, and we wish we could find it. Every time we watch the flakes coming down these three words echo in our memory.

Children love poetry. If you can, do look up Elinor Wylie's "Velvet Shoes" in Silver Pennies, a child's poetry anthology. This poem is a delightful one to read aloud. Its concluding verse is:

"We shall walk in velvet shoes;
Wherever we go
Silence will fall like dew
On white silence below.
We shall walk in the snow."

Perhaps your child wants to express his keen appreciation of the snow in his own words. Here are some rhyming lines a little girl wrote:

"The snow comes falling down in flakes,
All on the trees and on the lakes.
As we take our sleds and slide,
Over the drifts we gaily glide.
I like the snow it is so white!
It falls by day: it falls by night."

Painting is another medium of expression for emotions or a reflection of a child's activities. Provide your youngster with a big sheet of paper and paints or crayons and let him depict his own sleigh-riding or skating scene. His production will not be any great work of art—but he will have such fun doing it. Praise what you can in his picture and hang his "effort" on the kitchen or bedroom wall.

ENDLESS QUESTIONS

The little child has endless questions to ask about any natural phenomenon which fascinates him. "What is snow made of?", "Why does it fall down to the ground?", "Why are the snowflakes white?", "Does God ever make a giant Snowman?" The older boy or girl can be encouraged to look up information on any topic in a reference book, but here are simple snow facts for the younger child.

In summer we have raindrops falling from the clouds but in winter when it is colder, the moist air is formed into snow flakes. Snow falls to the ground, although the flakes are each so light, by a force or "pull" which is called gravitation. This force pulls anything in the air around the earth down to the surface of the world unless it is able to stay up by some special means like the propeller and wings of a plane.
